

RHOADES SPEAKS
ON REPUBLICANISM

Points Out There Must Be Political Unity --- Briefly
Traces History of Party.

In the college chapel last Thursday evening Marion N. Rhoades, '27, of Belfast, spoke on the subject, "The Republican Party," as the third of the public addresses by members of the advanced public speaking class. The lecture was very ably presented and showed a very thorough knowledge of the history and principles of the "Grand Old Party."

Rhoades pointed out that there must be political unity as well as political team work in order to preserve the well-being of our country, since our whole scheme of government is laid upon the basis of partisan principles. "A party will not be able to carry out its platform unless there is unity among its various office-holders and, therefore, if a candidate pledges himself to further party principles, it is the duty of every member of that party to vote for him. Party rivalry, he went on to say, is beneficial, since inefficient officials cannot continue to hold office for any length of time.

He also showed that interest in political parties is wanting; indeed, that many people at the present time do not even take the trouble to go to the polls. He stated that as a consequence there must be a revival of interest in our political system as well as in partisan policies. Although Rhoades explained that he was a Republican for three reasons: namely, inherited partisanship, partisan environment, and the fact that this party has in its theory its own political ideals; he stated that any Democrat might just as rightly and fitly say "almost" the same thing of his party.

After briefly tracing the history of the party, Rhoades sketched the careers of some of the great men who have contributed to his success in governmental affairs. Abraham Lincoln, he thought, was the greatest Republican, with Theodore Roosevelt second in importance and influence. Other men whom he named that have been prominent in the party were: Hannibal Hamlin, Thomas B. Reed, Benjamin Harrison, James A. Garfield, James G. Blaine, William McKinley, Henry Cabot Lodge, William H. Taft, Frye, Hale, Boutelle, Burleigh, Beedy, Hinds, Nelson Dingley and Seth Milliken.

The Republican party although commonly termed "stand-pat," as the speaker said, has supported many progressive measures of both state and national importance. In this connection he cited the Civil War which he termed a conflict between the Republican North and the Democratic South. It has been a Republican principle also to oppose entangling alliances with European powers. The most recent achievement of the party, he claimed, has been the tax reduction effected by the present Congress.

In commenting on the Republican leaders of today, Rhoades lauded the work of President Coolidge. Vice President Dawes, he said, is a very different type from President Coolidge. While the President thinks his problems through, nevertheless, he reserves his decision; the Vice President, on the other hand, acts quickly and with fiery enthusiasm. Some of his prompt and vehement orations have shocked the conservative element in the Senate.

Senator Borah and Senator Albert J. Beveridge were also mentioned as being very prominent and influential Republicans of the present day. Rhoades also praised Herbert M. Lord, Colby, '84, the Director of the United States Budget. The speech closed with an appeal that all citizens choose their party affiliations sanely and thoughtfully.

Other lectures in this series will be given in the near future.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA MEETS

Kappa Phi Kappa, the educational honorary society, met last Friday evening in Coburn Hall. A petition to grant a charter to a chapter at the University of Pittsburg was passed upon as was also a petition from the University of Rochester. It was voted to hold a special meeting Tuesday evening for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. After this there took place a long discussion, led by Professor Colgan, on the educational system among the preparatory schools of France.

PROMINENT COLBY GRADUATE
OF THE CLASS OF 1890 DIES

Dana Warren Hall, Eminent Publisher And A Trustee of The College, Expires In Chicago---Was a Member of Phi Beta Kappa--A Classmate Of President Roberts

DANA WARREN HALL, '90.

On April 23 occurred the death of one of Colby's most devoted friends, Dana Warren Hall of the class of '90. For many years Mr. Hall had been a trustee of the college and as such had used his influence and never-ceasing energy to further its interest. In all its activities he showed his zeal; he responded to its calls; he was its trusted, loyal friend. He was an alumnus of whom Colby college may well feel proud.

Dana Warren Hall was born in East Dixfield, Me., April 4, 1866. He attended Wilton Academy, Coburn Classical Institute, entering Colby college in 1886. He was a good student, by dint of hard work attaining the Phi Beta Kappa, took part in much extra-curricula activities, and held the good will of the student body. From 1890-94 he was principal of Skowhegan high school. During this period he served in the Bureau of Awards at the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago. In 1894 Mr. Hall started on his long and successful career with Ginn & Co. by becoming a general agent. Promotion followed rapidly until, in 1909, he was taken into the firm and made managing partner, the position which he held up to his death.

Mr. Hall's entire life was characterized by a determination to do the best and only the best. His success as a student, as a teacher and as a business man was based, not only upon a keen intellect, but upon industry, perseverance and thoroughness. Mr. Hall's life might well be taken as an example of what constancy can do for those who have the grit to "stick to it."

GIRLS HOLD ANNUAL GYM MEET ON FIELD

Program Includes Interpretive
Dances and Gymnastic Exhibitions --- Many Prizes Awarded.

The Colby girls' annual gymnasium meet was held Saturday afternoon, April 24, on Foss Hall athletic field.

The first event on the program was class marching. The freshmen won first place; the seniors, second; and the sophomores, third. Each class gave interpretive dances. The four dances given were, "There Was an Old Man," "The Waves," "Irish Tilt," and "Cracoviae." Each class gave exhibitions in gymnastics.

Numerous stunts and races pleased immensely. The sophomores cleverly arranged themselves in a perfect pyramid. The "dives" done by Misses Doris Grosbeck, '29, Alice Jewett, '29, Annie Goodwin, '29, and Lillian Morse, '29, were a pleasing spectacle. Sophomores and freshmen gave a frog dance, which was greatly enjoyed by the onlookers. Three nimble girls, Misses Emily Randall, '28, Leonora Hall, '27, and Doris Grosbeck, '29, gracefully turned into "cartwheels." The hand-stand was a hard feat. This was done by Misses Hester Fifield, '29, Martha Allen, '29, Miriam Rice, '27, Harriet Towle, '28, Ruth MacEvoy, '27, Emily Randall, '28, and Myra Stone, '28. The Esquimo roll done by Misses Myra Stone, '28, Emily Randall, '27, Annie Goodwin, '29, and Lora Neal, '29, was much commented on by wondering spectators. Misses Harriet Towle, Doris Grosbeck, Ellen Hoyt, Ruth MacEvoy, and Esther Parker entertained with a wicket walk. The sophomores and freshmen pleased with a leap-frog relay race and merry-go-round.

Class songs and cheers followed the races and stunts. Miss Christine Booth, '29, president of the Health

PI GAMMA MU HAS
ANNUAL ELECTION

National Honor Society In Social Science Fills Slate of Officers for Next Year
---Banquet is Planned.

The Colby Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the national Social Science Honor Society, held a meeting in the economics room in Recitation Hall this afternoon at 2.30. The meeting was for the purpose of electing officers. A nominating committee composed of Edward Merrill, '25, Marguerite Albert, '26, and Leslie Knight, '26, brought in a slate of officers to be voted on.

The society consists now of 22 members who have fulfilled the requirement of a rank of 85 or better in 21 semester hours of the Social Sciences. There will be an opportunity in June for the election of new members who will have completed the necessary 21 hours by then.

The chapter will probably hold a banquet at the Elmwood some time in the near future for the installation of the new officers and for the charter members of the organization.

Pi Gamma Mu was started as a Social Science Honor Society in 1924. At the present time it has a roll of about 800 Faculty Members and 3000 Student Members. The Colby Chapter is known as the Alpha Chapter of Maine. The requirements for admission this year have been a grade of 85 or better in 21 semester hours of the Social Sciences. Due to the change in requirements for a major subject starting next year, however, 24 semester hours with a grade of 85 or better will be necessary for candidacy after this year.

LYFORD CONTEST TO BE HELD IN MAY

Prep. Schools to Compete at Colby for Seventeenth Time---Thirty Schools Entered to Date.

The 17th annual Lyford Inter-scholastic Prize Speaking Contest to be held under the auspices of Colby College on the afternoon and evening of May 7, promises to be fully as large in number of schools represented and in number of contestants as in any previous year. Up to April 17 the following schools had requested application blanks:

North High School, Worcester, Mass.; Leavitt Institute, Waterboro high school, Dalton high school, Dalton, Mass.; Jordan high school, Malden high school, Malden, Mass.; High School of Commerce, Worcester, Mass.; Bangor high school, Cony high school, Kingfield high school, Good Will high school, Strong high school, Coburn Classical Institute, Bridgton high school, Carmel high school, Waterville high school, Winthrop high school, Easthampton high school, Easthampton, Mass.; Hebron Academy, Higgins Classical Institute, Maine Central Institute, Milo high school, Skowhegan high school, Newport high school, Traip Academy, Clinton high school, Foxcroft Academy, Richmond high school, Canton high school, Sanford high school, a total of 30 schools. Although the exact number of contestants coming from each school is not yet known, it is certain that there will be over 50 preparatory school boys in attendance.

Committees of the undergraduates of the college will presently be appointed to see that the Lyford speakers are given a good time while guests of the college. It is probable that a banquet will be held for them at 6 o'clock on Friday.

HENRY CRANE TO SPEAK

Dr. Henry Crane of Malden, Mass., the well known student lecturer, is to be at Colby on May 6 and 7. He will speak at a mass meeting of the Student Body, Thursday night at 7.30, and again at chapel Friday morning. He is a speaker of fine ability and of dynamic force. He has spoken at the boys' conference of the state and also at student gatherings. Many who have heard him will be glad of the opportunity to hear him again. These meetings are under the joint auspices of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A's.

COLBY DEFEATS U. OF M. IN ANNUAL EXHIBITION GAME

Blue And Gray Baseball Team Take Over
The University Of Maine Nine In The Opening Clash Of The Season.

The Colby ball tossers won their first start of the season last Saturday by taking the University of Maine under the wing for the score of 7 to 1. Heavy hitting on the part of the Colby team featured the contest with the work of the home pitchers who held the Pale Blue batsmen to four hits another salient point.

Anderson, starting his first college game, did remarkably well and the opponents made only three hits on him in five innings. He has a peculiar side arm delivery which puzzled the opposing stickmen and although he has no remarkable amount of speed was very effective. He was accorded fine support by the remainder of the team and this developed his confidence.

The Colby team played an errorless game and made several very diff-cult stops, to keep their record clean. Maine made two errors which were marked up by their infielders who did not give any of their three pitchers the support which he needed. The outfield played well and made no errors, with the work of Hackett at center field spectacular.

At the start of the game Maine looked dangerous but Anderson came through with the bases full and retired the last man via the strike-out route, the single run scored in this first inning being their only score.

Colby came to the plate in the first inning and far outdid their opponents, scoring four runs in this initial stanza.

Keith, starting his first varsity game, did a good day's work behind the stick and made a hit in addition to catching a good game.

Trainer who went in for Anderson in the sixth looked even better than his predecessor and allowed but one bingle in the three sessions which he pitched. McGowan at first, MacDonald, at second, O'Brien at short, (Continued on Page 3)

STUDENT COUNCIL
APPROVES BALLOT

Men Are Requested to Ballot on Prohibition Question---Results to be Reported to National Federation

The National Student Federation of America of which Colby college is a member plans to use Prohibition as a topic of discussion in the Michigan Conference next December. In order that this discussion may be fruitful though no political action is contemplated—it is necessary that undergraduate opinion be summarized in advance. The Harvard Liberal Club has volunteered to collect, on behalf of the Federation, all available statistics, and Mr. Lewis Fox, the Federation's President, has accepted their offer.

Only with the cooperation of the student bodies of the institutions which are members of the Federation can this work be done successfully.

It is necessary for them to know, first, whether the various student bodies favor present prohibition laws, modification, or repeal; then, they are anxious to know why the individual students vote as they do. Only by collecting the reasons underlying votes, can figures be interpreted when it comes to drawing up a report for the Federation.

Naturally the Harvard Liberal Club cannot send ballots in sufficient quantities from Cambridge to supply all the colleges of the United States so the Echo has agreed to lend its assistance to the Federation by printing a detachable ballot which the students may fill out as their conscience dictates. The ballots should be given to Paul Edmunds, '26, the Student Council representative to the Federation. Mr. Edmunds has agreed to handle the matter and will see that they are forwarded to the proper authorities.

The Student Council is most anxious to cooperate with the Federation in this matter and strongly urge that the students take the time to properly fill out these ballots and hand them to their Student Council representative who in turn will deliver them to Mr. Edmunds.

The ballot will be found elsewhere in the paper and is self explanatory.

LIBBY SELECTS SPEAKERS

The following students who are members of the class known as "Public Speaking 6" have been selected to take part in the annual Hallowell Prize Speaking Contest to be held the last of this month or the very first days of May.

F. P. Adams, '28, C. E. Callaghan, '28, C. E. Foote, '28, C. E. Hale, '27, A. B. Levine, '28, C. P. Nelson, '28, S. P. Parker, '28, L. C. Varnam, '26, R. Sullivan, '28, L. C. Varnam, '26.

The prizes are four in number, $50, $25, $15, $10, totaling $100, and are the gift of Judge F. M. Hallowell, '77, formerly of Kearney, Nebraska. Judge Hallowell has recently returned to Maine and it is expected that this year he will preside at the annual contest.

SOPHOMORES HOLD
GYMNASIUM DANCE

The Sophomore class of the women's division held its first annual dance in the college gymnasium on Saturday evening, April 24. The affair was largely attended, there being about one hundred couples present. Music was furnished by Babe Harrington's orchestra for a program of fourteen dances. In the receiving line were: President and Mrs. A. J. Roberts, Dean Nettie M. Runnels, Prof. and Mrs. C. H. Edwards, Prof. and Mrs. C. A. Rollins, Miss Corinne B. Van Norman, Miss Marion Jacobs, president of the class of 1928, and Elmer E. Fagerstrom. The dance orders were very cleverly designed by Ruth Hutchins, '28, and were the cause of much favorable comment. Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served at intermission. To those in charge of the dance goes much credit for the successful and enjoyable affair which they sponsored. The general committee was headed by Marion Jacobs. Other chairman were: Ruth Hutchins, favors; Myra Stone, decorations; Harriet Towle, music; and Helen Wyman, refreshments.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1926.

The newly formed "Powder and Wig" dramatic society is deserving of the highest commendation of the student body for their very altruistic stand on the new Gym Fund. This society is planning to put on a "musical revue" next month, the entire proceeds above expenses to be donated to the Gym Fund. The entire student body should turn out for this production. That is not only the "spirit that wins football games," but also the spirit which builds gymnasiums.

The pledges to the Gymnasium Fund are due on Friday next. The way the men "come through" in cashing in on their pledges will probably make a firm and lasting impression on the Board of Trustees. If we "crash through" and redeem our pledges 100%, they will realize we have the "will to win" and as a result they will probably reach a favorable decision in June on finding ways and means of building a new gym. If we fail to "come through" and redeem our pledges on time, it would have been far better from everyone's point of view if we had never started a drive at all. Colby men have never yet failed to "make the grade" at the crucial moment,—so let's not start now.

The "win" over Maine last Saturday augers well for a successful baseball season. With the material we have at hand, there is no reason why we should not have a championship in the sport this spring. Providing, of course, the student body stands solidly behind the team in person as well as in heart! Of course we all want them to win, but the only way of effectually telling them so is to get out there and do it from the stands.

Everybody out for a championship team!

During the past week there has been a movement underway to create a so-called "Non-Athletic Council" to be modeled after the already existing Athletic Council.

The whole matter is still in its embryonic stages and full details are not yet ready for publication. But it is not too soon for the students to be doing a little earnest thinking on the matter.

We all know the workings of the Athletic Council and this is being used as the model under consideration. This has been at times a bit irksome in regards to finances, but economy is the road to wealth and the Athletic Council is the only thing that put athletics on its feet financially, in Colby.

We all know that there have been too many thinly veiled financial scandals in the non-athletic organizations of the college in the past, and unfortunately these have been on the increase of late, with more and more flagrancy.

It's about time that some nominal honorary recognition should be given to the men who labor hard and long in these organizations. It is also about time that, in justice to the student body, who in the final analysis must either foot the bills or pass them on to a long suffering Alma Mater, these annual "rake-offs" in the non-athletic organizations should cease.

The proposed Non-Athletic Council is designed to have a central treasurer who will meet all bills by check and yet keep the funds of the various individual organizations separate. It is also planned to have the affairs of each organization submitted to an exhaustive audit at the close of their respective functions every year.

Nothing could be simpler nor anything fairer to the student body as a whole, who are supporting these organizations. The men who are connected with these activities are deserving of some honorary recognition for the effort expended, but the time should soon come when these men cease to value their labor at so much per hour or day.

A "Non-Athletic Council" seems to be the only logical manner of clearing up the matter so let's have one. Either that or let's establish a trades union and at least make the annual "gypping" standard all around.

LITERARY COLUMN

Nearly a dozen new books have been added to the library since the Easter vacation. Among these are "The Microbe Hunters," "Odtas," and "The Hounds of Spring."

For three centuries, since the time of Leeuwenhoek, a quiet but valiant little army of men has been fighting microbes. In dingy laboratories, in death houses, in hospitals, in tropic forests, they have patiently battled with those sub-visible little beasts, some of them only one twenty-five thousandths of an inch long, that year after year have swept millions from the earth. In "Microbe Hunters," Paul de Kruif has given us the thrilling story of these passionate investigators who at last found the cause and cure of such scourges as cholera, malaria, tuberculosis, syphilis, consumption and diphtheria.

Scientists might find fault with this book but it is, nevertheless, wholly fascinating. Its vernacular is boisterous and sometimes flippant, but it brings science to the layman in an unforgettable way. De Kruif has done for a book of science what Maupassant and others have done for biography—made it vivid, intimate and beautiful. This De Kruif, by the way, is the same doctor who collaborated with Sinclair Lewis and gave the scientific verisimilitude in "Arrowsmith."

A novel by Masefield is bound to be popular with those who like a good adventure yarn. "Odtas" has plenty of blood, danger and alarms. Built on the slimmest of plots, it engages the reader's unflagging interest.

"The Hounds of Spring," by Sylvia Thompson, is a beautifully written love story of after-the-war days. Colin, Zina, John and Wendy are impossibly fine, cultured patricians. One has a wistful desire to know such people as these, but one doubts if any really exist.

F. Scott Fitzgerald has given his latest book the provocative title "All The Sad Young Men." And sad young people they are. Despite their money, liberty and education, they can't find anything solid in life. Seeking for the blue bird, they dash feverishly from night club to night club, buy racing automobiles, speculate in real estate, and seek in divers esoteric ways to distill a few real joys from their youth. In some of the stories it is hinted that the sad young men may turn for happiness and beauty to those somewhat neglected virtues, charity, abstinence, sincerity and sane living. "The Rich Boy" and "The Adjuster" are the best of these stories. Nobody but Fitzgerald could have written them. He has an inimitable knack for describing love, gin and adolescence.

I fear the years that sear and lime,
The awful truth of truth.

TRACK EVENTSDekes Take Third Leg of Interfraternity Meet by a Large Margin.

The Dekes took another hitch in the interfraternity title belt last Wednesday when they scored 29 points for the day's work. The Phi Deltas added 23 to their score and boosted themselves into third position in the race. The Zetes still retain second place with a total of 44 points.

The meet was one of the finest of the year and brought forth some excellent competition.

Phi Delta Theta won the most important race of the day when their relay team took the college relay championship. Mittelsdorf running first for his team turned over an imposing lead to Towne who, in turn sent Mathers away with as much to spare. Alpha Tau Omega through the work of Hunt on the first leg had gained second place on the first relay and Peacock and Brown left their other opponents and narrowed the race to the two teams—Phi Delta and A. T. O. Sansone of the former started the final leg with thirty yards on Baker of A. T. O. who cut the distance to about eight although he could not close the gap.

Seekins of the Deke team again proved the mainstay of that aggregation and scored 13 points.

The races were all good with Severy and Mittelsdorf fighting it out for first in the 65 yard dash which the latter won. In the hurdles Seekins took over Newhall of Lambda Chi but only after a real race. The 50 yard three legged race looked like a church picnic event but when the diamond dust had settled Mittelsdorf and Mathers of Phi Delta Theta wore the broadest grins and split the five points between them. Goode of the Dekes won the novice half after a spectacular race with Moxham of the Phi Deltas running very well to take the three point position. Sansone of the Phi Deltas took the mile easily after narrowing the field down to Brudno and Sullivan and looked very good in his victory. Sullivan finished second, with Brudno in third place. Fourcade hitched his way to the walking championship after a hard race with Abbot of Zeta Psi his chief contender. Seekins won the discus, Bagnall, the hammer, and Getchell of A. T. O. the shot. The latter also took three points in the hammer. A new luminary was discovered in the javelin when Charlie Cowing, Zeta freshman, took the event. Snow of the Zetes won the pole vault. Severy of the Lancers took the broad jump with a respectable hop and may get into the final scoring in this Spring's meets.

FOOTBALL CANDIDATES
START SPRING TRAINING

Colby's 1926 football season got underway Tuesday afternoon on the Freshman field. All the candidates not engaged in other active varsity sports gathered at the field for the first day's practice of the spring course.

Coach Roundy plans to give the men light work at first increasing until the practice conforms with the plans he has outlined for the development of the system to be followed next fall. A session will be held each day for the next three weeks. Captain Tom O'Donnell, assisted by Caulfield and Tufts, will have charge of the fundamentals and the conditioning of the men.

Many of the players who will be candidates in the fall are now engaged in other sports. Among these are Drummond, Heal, Bagnall, Seekins and Peacock.

1929 TRACK MEN
WIN DUAL MEETFreshmen Defeat Waterville
High School Team in Closely Contested Events.

The freshman track men did an excellent afternoon's work last Saturday when they made successful use of the tomahawk on the Waterville high team. Waterville offered the men some very good competition during the meet, but did not have the numbers or the experience to win. Seekins of the freshe squad was high point man of the day with a first and two seconds for a total of eleven points. Barry of the same team was next up for honors by virtue of victories in the hurdles and the quarter.

Charlie Giles won the hundred for the fresh after leading the entire distance to finish with about six yards to spare, a really remarkable performance. Seekins was in second place to beat Shaw of Waterville.

The quarter was a great race with Hunt of the fresh in first place when the last corner was reached only to tie up in the stretch where Barry took the lead and won in a heart breaking finish.

In the half Parkin of Waterville did very fine work to win. At the end of the first lap he took the van and made tracks to finish with a respectable distance to spare. Lines and Moxham of the freshman team were the other scorers.

The best race of the day was the mile in which Pooler of the high school ran very well to take the laurels. He waited until the proper time to make his bid and in a heady race he started his drive with 200 yards to go and galloped away from the bunch, winning decisively. Lines placed second in this race also.

The hurdle race was won by Barry only after a hard battle. Donovan of the visitors was in the lead over the next to the last hurdle but broke his stride and was passed by Barry and Seekins who finished in that order with Donovan third.

The pole vault resulted in a tie between Potter of the freshman team and Hersey of the high school with the other point split also. Seekins won the shot put and had over two feet to spare when the next best throw was made by Prohovitch of the Colby team. Donovan added another point when he came within two inches of Prohovitch to take third place.

The summary:
100 yard dash: won by Giles, Colby; second, Seekins, Colby; third, Shaw, W. H. S. Time 10 4-5 seconds.
440 yard run: won by Barry, Colby; second, Hunt, Colby; third, McLeary, W. H. S. Time 58 1-5 seconds.
880 yard run: won by Parkin, Waterville; second, Lines, Colby; third, Moxham, Colby. Time 2 minutes, 12 1-5 seconds.
One mile run: won by Pooler, Waterville; second, Lines, Colby; third, Wilshire, W. H. S. Time 4 minutes, 51 1-5 seconds.
120 yard low hurdles: won by Barry, Colby; second, Seekins, Colby; third, Donovan, W. H. S. Time 15 seconds.
Pole vault: tie between Potter, Colby, and Hersey, W. H. S., 8 feet, 0 inches; third, tie between Locke, Colby, and Sleepex, W. H. S., 8 feet, 6 inches.
Putting 12 pound shot: won by Seekins, Colby, 41 feet, 5 inches; second, Prohovitch, Colby, 38 feet, 0 inches; third, Donovan, W. H. S., 38 feet, 7 inches.

COLBY DEFEATS U. OF M.

and Smart on the last sack all played very good ball and with the exception of Smart who was on a dull corner, accepted several difficult chances, making every one good. McGowan patting the pill for two bases on one of his trips to the plate and looks as good as over.

In the outfield the men did excellent work both in their positions and at bat. Captain Peabody attempted to hide one in the gutter on Shannon but was allowed only two bases due to a ground rule, otherwise the hit would have been good for a round trip. Callaghan at center field also sunk a double into left field.

One of the sensational features of the game was the three sack wallon delivered by Erickson when he slapped the apple for three bases. He was sent in to hit for Anderson in the sixth and with but one opportunity at bat hit the ball over first and gathered his three sacks.

Marr who substituted for Smart when the game was half gone made two hits out of as many times up and looked good.

The game was a decisive victory and the men did very fine work considering the amount of outdoor work which they have had this year. This lack of outside practice hurt Maine's chances as the game was their first real outdoor workout this season.

Are You Going
Into the Bond
Business?

There is a cycle of fashion not only for the hats college men wear but for the line of work into which they go.

But your job has to fit your head as well as your hat, for it has to fit your state of mind.

Like your hat also, your job needs to fit your purse.

Therefore, why not choose one that brings not only satisfaction in service but in financial return.

Selling life insurance is one of the few modern businesses that does just this.

It takes:

Intelligence, Zest and Ability

It gives:

Liberty of action, the philosophic satisfaction of selling future security and present serenity to living people, and a response, immediate and tangible, in monetary as well as mental reward.

WHAT THE CAT BROUGHT IN

The ball club certainly looked good in the opener and with more outdoor work should improve a hundred per cent.

The final events of the track meet will be contested after the championship season and will settle the aspirations of the various frats.

The first Spring football session and those which followed showed that the interest in that game never dies. Tom O'Donnell has been doing a good job with the candidates and they have learned a lot about the Colby system.

The standing of the fraternities in the track meet is as follows with today's events not counted in the total: D. K. E., 59; Zeta, 44 1/2; Phi Delta, 36; A. T. O., 32 1-6; D. U., 18; Lancers, 16 1-6; L. C. A., 14 1-6; Non-Frat, 12; and Alpha, 11.

Seekins and Barry looked good in the Waterville High-Cony freshman meet last Saturday and are good material for Coach Ryan.

Erickson pulled himself into the spotlight last Saturday when he made a triple on his only opportunity, a pinch hit.

Anderson and Trainer did certainly look good against Maine with the former being the surprise of the game.

Captain Peabody started in right where he left off and with a few more days like that should prove a fine leader and a good example.

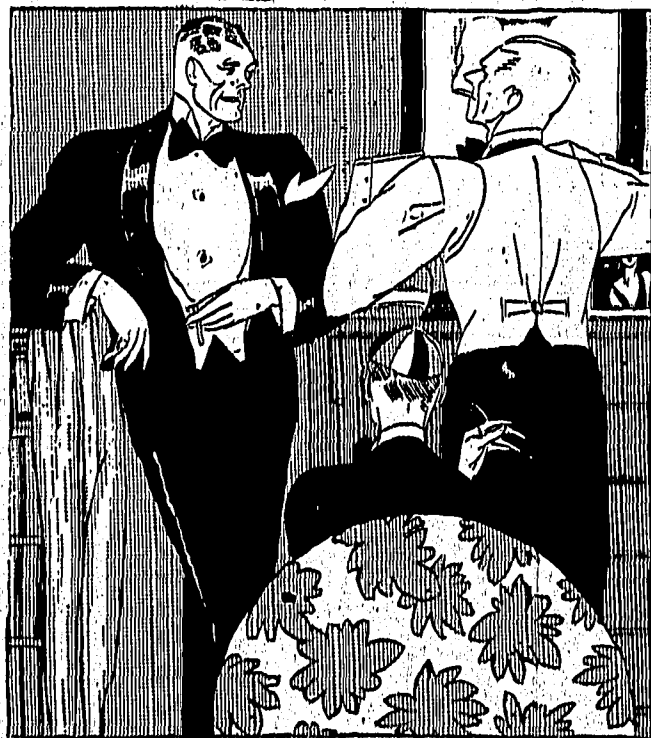

Coach Ryan has his troubles with the men from whom he must build his team. A high hurdler who has speed enough to score and a low hurdler who has form enough to count are among the lost items which he must replace.

Tennis has been far from an idle sport during the past week as Captain Macomber has had the men out every day with practice on the courts possible with continued warm weather.

Springfield disappointed the track team when they found it impossible to visit Seaverns' field this week. This leaves the Colby schedule bang up with as difficult a collection of opponents as could possibly be gathered.

The Penn relays were not without Maine representatives as Kendall of Bowdoin scored in the high jump going over at six one and a fraction. Bates won her annual victory in the one mile college relay also.

DELTA CHI HOLD MEETING

Professor Cecil A. Rollins of the English department of Colby, was the speaker at the Delta Sigma Chi meeting on Friday evening, April 23. His talk on "Drama in the High School" was most interesting as well as beneficial. He spoke of the school of the theatre, and gave a great deal of good sound advice on coaching dramatics in the high schools. At the conclusion of his address, Professor Rollins told some interesting facts about "Make-up" and with the assistance of Mrs. Rollins gave several demonstrations of dramatic make-up which were greatly enjoyed by everyone present.

DRAMATIC CLUB REHEARSES

Powder and Wig is rapidly putting the various scenes of their first annual show together. The cast has been rehearsing two and three times a week since the 10th of the month and by the time the curtain rises on the opening scene of the play, a finished production will greet the audience.

All musical arrangements for the show are in the capable hands of Richard P. Staunton and Albert W. Wassell, and the Midnight Sons of Colby will play a prominent part both in the pit and on the stage.

During the past week all men playing women's parts in the production were measured by the costumers, and if clothes make the woman these men will surely make charming comedians.
