

WOODBURY TO SPEAK TO COLBY STUDENTS

Famous Lecturer to Speak on Ralph Waldo Emerson in College Chapel on May 25th.

It was during the Civil War that Ralph Waldo Emerson came to speak at Colby college. Not many people now living can remember that far back. Most people in Waterville today had not yet been born when Emerson was here.

Charles J. Woodbury claims that he is the only author and lecturer now living who knew Emerson, Thoreau, and the great Concord personalities. He was made a companion of that group for years. Mr. Woodbury's mission for years has been to win readers to Emerson's and Thoreau's literature by his charming revelations of these leaders as they lived at home.

Mr. Woodbury now lives in Oakland, Calif., but he has been for the past month or so on his way east, and will come to speak at Colby College, May 25th, at 7.30. He will speak in the College chapel. Admission is free.

Prof. Carl J. Weber of the English department, who has arranged for Mr. Woodbury's visit to Waterville, said in commenting on the approaching event that to meet a man who knew Emerson in the flesh was like Browning's meeting with a man who had seen Shelley. It was after such a meeting that Browning wrote:

"Ah, did you once see Shelley plain,
And did he stop and speak to you,
And did you speak to him again?
How strange it seems and new."

It is more than likely, it seems absolutely certain,—that this is the last time that Colby students will ever have the opportunity to listen to a man who was intimate with Ralph Waldo Emerson.

GLEE CLUBS HOLD

A meeting of the members of the Musical Clubs was held last Monday afternoon for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. The following are the men who will serve in 1926-27:

The first assistant manager, C. Joseph Cooke, '28, will also act as Secretary for the clubs.

A vote was taken at this meeting on the question of joining the new non-athletic council which is to be formed some time soon. The Clubs voted to support its formation and enter as one of the activities to be under its supervision.

"POWDER AND WIG"

A business meeting of Powder and Wig was held last Monday afternoon. The fifty dollars which was realized on the production of "Bobbette" was turned over to the Student Council for the Gym Fund. This is a good start for the Society and certainly demonstrates in a material way the value of the new organization to Colby.

At this meeting twelve bids for membership were issued to some of those taking part in "Bobbette." The membership of the society is restricted and the basis of election is ability shown in Powder and Wig productions.

TWIN DAUGHTERS OF COLBY

Professor and Mrs. Edward H. Perkins are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of two daughters, future students for Colby. Professor Perkins is a valuable member of the faculty of Colby and we hope that Mary Louise and Katherine will be valuable to the class of 1946 of Colby.

WEBER TO CONDUCT
HISTORICAL TOUR

Literary Pilgrimage To Be Made to Chief Art Centers of Europe—Six Capitals to be Visited.

After conducting parties of students to points of interest in Portland and elsewhere in the state, and after two literary pilgrimages conducted by him to Boston, Concord, and vicinity, Prof. Carl J. Weber, head of the English department of Colby college, will this summer conduct a literary and historical pilgrimage to Europe.

Sailing shortly after the college commencement, the party will visit the points of chief literary, artistic, and historical interest in most of the countries of western Europe, and return late in August.

The party which Prof. Weber will conduct will sail on the Cunarder "Antonia" from Montreal on June 19. Upon landing in Europe the pilgrims will follow the itinerary here given:

June 28 to July 4—Paris, Versailles etc., with visits to Rheims, and the chief battlefields of the World War.

July 5—Avignon.

July 6 to 7—Nice, Monte Carlo, Grand Corniche Drive.

July 8—Genoa, birthplace of Columbus.

July 9 to 14—The Eternal City, Rome.

July 15 to 18—Florence and Fiesole.

July 19 to 20—Venice and its Canals.

July 21—Milan, and the famous Cathedral.

July 22—Simplon route to Lake Geneva in Switzerland; the Castle of Chillon, and Montreux.

July 23—Bern, the famous Bear Pit, Interlaken.

July 24 to 25—Coach up the charming Lauterbrunnen Valley to Trummelbach Falls.

July 26—Motor through the famous Grimsel and Furka Passes to Lucerne.

July 27 to 28—Lucerne and Brunnen; William Tell Country.

Aug. 11—Oxford, the city of spires and colleges.

Aug. 12—The Shakespeare Country, Stratford, Warwick, Kenilworth.

Aug. 13—Chester, motor excursion into Wales.

Aug. 14—Sail on the Cunarder "Ascania" from Southampton.

Aug. 23—Due in Montreal.

There will be an optional extension of the tour to Scotland, by way of the Wordsworth Country in the English Lake District, Melrose and Dryburgh Abbeys, Abbotford, the home of Sir Walter Scott, Edinburgh, Glasgow, Stirling, and the Trossachs to Loch Lomond. Those who take this extension will sail on August 21 from Southampton on the Cunarder "Carmania," due in New York, August 20.

This pilgrimage is intended to correspond geographically to the Survey Course in Literature offered every year at the college by Prof. Weber. The tour includes visits to Canada, France, Monaco, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Holland, England, Wales, and Scotland. It includes visits to six capitals, the chief art centers, and some of the finest and most varied scenery to be found in Europe.

The whole trip has been planned with a view to economy without sacrifice of comfort and service. The business arrangements for the tour are being made by Dr. A. J. Armstrong, head of the English department in Baylor University.

Those who have already enrolled in the party come from various parts of the country. The sailing from Montreal and the return to the same neighborhood. The party is not convenient for persons resident in this part make this program especially confined to college students, but those who wish to enroll with the party must make immediate arrangements with Prof. Weber. The party now numbers 18.

TWO STATE SERIES BASEBALL
GAMES BOOST COLBY'S CHANCES

Blue and Gray Defeats Bates 9 to 3 Through Strong Pitching—Bowdoin Also Loses 8 to 5 Leaving Colby Undefeated In The State.

Colby 9, Bates 3.

The Colby baseball club laced the Bates aggregation last Wednesday afternoon to the tune of 9 to 3. The Blue and Gray outfit played a much better brand of baseball than the Bobcats and deserved the game by at least as much as the score indicates.

Anderson pitched a fine game allowing but eight scratched hits and fanned six of the Bates batters. "Andy" played a fine game on the field also, throwing out two men attempting to reach first via the bunt route.

On the other hand the Colby batters clouted Small for thirteen solid clouts, Fagerstrom leading with three safe hits. O'Brien nailed one for a homer.

Bates scored first in the initial inning on a liner to McDonald who slipped up allowing Small to reach first safely. Ray hit one sending Small to second, and Ouellette was safe on Peabody's error. With the bases loaded Parker sacrificed a fly and Small scored.

Colby scored in the second, Fagerstrom reaching first on Osgood's error and O'Brien clouted a long hit to deep center which went for a homer. Bates scored another run in the third.

Colby's big inning was the third when she pushed over four runs while the Bates crew presented "the comedy of errors." Smart laced out a pretty one base fly and McDonald bunted. Bates muffed up the play, and both men were safe. Third sack being uncovered Small took advantage of the occasion and reached there safely. McDonald reached second by the same method. Peabody beat out an infield hit and loaded the bases. Ev Fransen connected and scored Smart and MacDonald. Fagerstrom came through again and scored Peabody and Fransen. Thus ended the fifth frame.

Another run was added in the fifth by Fransen and more in the sixth by bunched hits and errors. Smart and Peabody scored in this frame.

Bates scored her final tally in eighth inning when Karkos walked, and C. Small hit one that had been able to run would have gone for a homer, but he contented himself with staying at second. This ended the scoring for the game.

Colby 8, Bowdoin 5.

By a sensational come back which pushed over five runs the Blue and Gray ball tossers snatched an apparent victory from the Brunswickians and stepped a notch nearer the state title.

Bowdoin scored first in the second when Urban was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and scored on MacGowan's double. Colby tied the score in the third, when O'Brien singled, stole second and tallied when Ranney muffed up McDonald's long hit to center field. In the sixth a single by MacGowan and sacrifice fly by Fransen gave both runners an opportunity and Colby was in the lead.

Bowdoin tied the score in their half on two bases on balls and a hit by Williams and took the lead in the eighth on MacLaughlin's single, a wild pitch and MacGowan's hit. With the score 5 to 3 and defeat staring the Blue and Gray collegians in the face, they came to bat in the ninth determined to win, took advantage of the Bowdoin miscues and bunched the hits, did not stop until they had scored five runs and turned defeat to victory.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 19, 1926.

The State Track Meet was held as usual last week, as usual Bowdoin won it,—and quite as usual Colby came in a poor fourth. Had there been a fifth we probably would have been fifth. Colby probably had an off day,—she seems to have had four of them in our recollection.

Far be it from us to try and analyze the situation, we have neither the criteria nor the ability to analyze it. But, even to the most unskilled observer, there is something radically wrong with the track situation in Colby. It may be that the Track Department is not adequately financed, at least they do not appear to be properly transported,—it may be that something else is the trouble. Whatever it is should be eliminated if possible.

To us, it does not appear that the track men train properly or continuously during the season. We may have the spirit to win football games, we may have the spirit to win baseball games, but we do not seem to have the spirit to win track meets.

Admittedly we have a wonderful track, and a wonderful coach. We fail to see where any criticism can justifiably be aimed at either the track itself or the track coach, but it takes more than some cinders and a famous coach to make a track team.

We do not mean this to be a wholesale indictment of anyone but merely to point out that which is only too evident,—that something is wrong with the Colby track team, and something should be done before another year and another fourth place rolls around.

Surely not a shadow of suspicion could be placed on this year's Junior Prom Committee, and nothing could have been more businesslike or more methodical than their conduct of the Prom. Yet, after the ball was over another Junior class found itself in the "hole," as a result of their Prom.

We wonder if Colby isn't stepping beyond its depth in this matter. After all we are not a rich man's college, nor can the average student pay the price which the Prom costs. Nor do they,—and therein "lies the rub" or deficit. They don't go because they can't afford to go, and we might just as well face the facts as they present themselves.

To come down to stark realism,—can Colby "throw" a dance which is worth the price of the Junior Prom? The dance halls in Waterville are not the palatial ballroom, available to some colleges. Our social system prevents a college dance lasting over five hours as an absolute maximum, our location makes the cost of importing famous and fashionable orchestras prohibitive, and as a result our "social event of the year" becomes a millstone around the necks of the persons concerned.

We do not criticize formal dances; in fact more of our dances should be formal, in our way of thinking. At any rate that is entirely beside the point.

However, it is quite apparent that there are few students in Colby who can pay upwards of two dollars an hour to dance (including all extras). Seriously we doubt if either the college or the city has the facilities whereby a dance worth that much could be put on, but that is nothing to our discredit. It is a fact, that is all, so why not come down to earth and enjoy ourselves in a manner which the average student can afford?

This week the college has the privilege of entertaining some two hundred and ninety men at the Annual Interscholastic Track Meet. These high school boys are to be housed with the various fraternities and fed at a central dining place to be announced later.

Every effort should be made on the part of the fraternities to give these boys a good welcome, and a good time while they are here. We should remember that many of these men are seeing Colby for the first time, and first impressions are often lasting. There is bound to be good college material among them, and whether or not they ever turn up again, as freshmen, will depend in some measure on how they are treated here.

A very salutary thing happened last Monday evening when the "Powder and Wig" presented the Student Council with fifty dollars from the proceeds of "Bobbette," for the Gymnasium Fund. We'll have a Gymnasium yet!

The Commencement Program is announced in another part of the paper. As many as possible of the underclassmen should plan to stay through the exercises. Then as never before does one realize that Colby is old Colby. The Juniors especially should plan to stay. There are far too many in the present Senior class who do not know what awaits them in the way of coronation.

LITERARY COLUMN

Katherine Brush has very aptly named her novel of college life "Glitter." It is as bright, gaudy and ephemeral as its title would indicate. The people are very young and very "emancipated." This is how one of them describes her philosophy: "I don't believe in God. Nor religion. Nor any hereafter. I put no more faith in the Bible than I would in a bed-time story! When I die I expect to be through, permanently and positively. Hence—carpe diem. I want to try everything once before I die—everything, however wicked. As a matter of fact what's wicked and what isn't? Who knows? Do you? Do the smug little men up in pulpits? And when I die, I want to die the way I've lived—spectacularly. I have a horror of boring people. Speaking of dying, I'd like to have this for an epitaph, "Here lies the body of one who never bored anybody."

(Of course, this is all very funny, very callow and very characteristic of twenty year old children. The clumsy, faltering, naivete of these "revolts" causes one to smile indulgently at them.)

Here is the author's description of a junior promenade: "Gowns of scarlet and green and orange and turquoise and cloth-of-gold, sophisticated gowns, blase gowns, wise, knowing, faintly wicked gowns. Swirl of rainbow colors streaked with black, whisper of a thousand pairs of shoes along the floor. Croon of jazz. Blended odor of flowers and whiskey and perfume and soap and cigarettes and damp powder and brilliantine—the typical odor, the 19th century odor."

This book will be very widely read. It is no more substantial than "The Plastic Age," but it is better written and has plenty of glamour.

BALLAD OF A COMMUTER.

A gypsy paused at my garden gate
 And gazed with never a smile
 At my angular beds and ordered walks
 And myself at work by the dial.

Then softly she sang a provocative lilt
 As she sat her down on a stile,
 And she looked at me from the depths
 Of her eyes

When she ended her song with a smile.
 Her eyes were black as her glossy hair
 And they burned with a somber glow.

In spite of her song, in spite of her smile,
 Her eyes gave presage of woe.
 Now my vines grow wild in a tangle,
 My garden's bleak and drear,
 I've lost my staid commuter's ways—
 My gipsy's a witch, I fear.

For I've followed her blithe in the sunshine

And I've trudged in autumn rain.
 I've left the peace of my garden walks
 To taste frustration's pain.

SPORTOLOG

The philosophy of athletics is the philosophy of life. Athletics at times seems a game, useless; life many times appears the same. But, in both, failure is but the preparation for greater victory. A former world's champion runner continued his athletic career for thirteen years solely to defeat every man who had ever beaten him. Refusing to admit another's superiority was the one reason for his success. Anyone missing athletics misses a miniature life. A man enters athletics intending to become a world's champion; few attain that ideal. Man begins life fancying the whole fabric which he desires to make, and, strive as he may, he realizes but a part. Like the Talipot palm tree which lives a lifetime to bloom but once and then, having gained the object of its existence, dies, so the man who engages in either the battle of life or of athletics gives his whole heart to some great achievement, and, having once realized it, is contented to have struggled, and is ready to leave the stage.

And who is to judge whether a man in becoming an athletic champion is not living as fully as he who builds a great name or a great fortune? We are a race of phantom chasers and what to some seems so frail is to the man engaged in its pursuit entirely real. During years which he may have worked toward that one end he seemed to live only a moment, but, when at last the aim is reached, in that moment of accomplishment he seems to live a lifetime. Athletic competition is not an unmeaning pastime; it is life. If those athletic victories of youth are not as much a part of life as the triumphs of age, why then should time that blots out everything of consequence preserve the bygone day of such a victory?

"What's the difference between a cross-eyed girl and a cross-eyed boy?"

"I don't know. What?"

"The cross-eyed boy has no sex appeal."

BOWDOIN BEARS
WIN TRACK MEET

Brunswick Collegians Are Again Victors in Annual Maine Intercollegiate Affair—Seekins Does Well For Colby.

Last Saturday, at Brunswick, Bowdoin again smothered its rivals in a State track meet, totaling 53½ points to 37 points netted by Bates, its closest rival. Maine, regarded in the Bowdoin camp as its most dangerous rival took third with 33½ points. Colby finished in the cellar with 11. Bates threatened at one time to take the meet through their work in the distance runs. The defeat of Mittelsdorf in both the 100 and 220 dashes furnished the big surprise of the day. The Blue and Gray flash after being set back a yard for the first false start he has ever made in competition, was headed by both Mostrum and Conner in the 100 and by Nostrum and Farrington in the 220. Conner beat the Colby star in the trial heat 100 yard dash but was nosed out of first position in the 220 trial.

Only one Maine intercollegiate record was smashed during the afternoon. Sager of Bates beat Emery of Maine in the javelin with a throw of 182 feet ½ inch. Later he set a new record with a toss of 182 feet and 9 inches. Cobb's record was 154 feet 5 inches.

Littlefield of Bowdoin took both the low and high hurdles as the dopsters had prophesied. Wills of Bates with a brilliant exhibition took first in the mile and later in the half mile race. Bates rolled up the points in the distance runs and at one time was but 2½ points behind the Polar Bear. Bowdoin salted the meet in the hammer throw, discus and pole vault.

Pillsbury and Loud netted eight points in the hammer throw. Snow three points in the discus and Kendall tied with Hobson of Maine in the pole vault.

The mile run was a fine race to watch. Sansone of Colby led the field for more than half the distance but was left behind by Wills of Bates, to finish second.

Jimmie Burdino ran a strong two mile but had not the final drive to stay with the Bates duo, Wardwell and Brown.

Seekins, Colby freshman, was one of the few Blue and Gray trackmen to place. He took second in the high jump won by Kendall of Bowdoin at 5 feet 10¼ inches, and third in the discus throw.

The day threatened to soak track and field but held off except for a slight drizzle. The four colleges were each represented by a band.

Wills of Bates in winning both the mile and the half mile displayed the most remarkable running ever seen in the Maine Intercollegiate. He is undoubtedly the greatest runner ever to win a race in the state meet.

The Colby men who scored in the meet did excellent work. There were five point winners headed by Mayo Seekins, the freshman star. From a slippery takeoff he jumped nearly 5 feet 10 inches to take second place and established a new Colby record. He also took third in the discus with a very good toss. George Mittelsdorf took third in both dashes, Sansone second in the mile and Brudno third in the two mile. The two latter both ran under the Colby record in their events but their times will not be tabulated as they were not official. Ken Smith did remarkably fine work to take third in the broad jump and came within a fraction of an inch of the Colby record.

The summary:

100 yard dash, won by Mostrum; Connor, second; Mittelsdorf, third. Time 10 seconds.

220 yard dash, won by Mostrum; Farrington, second; Mittelsdorf, third. Time 22 2-5 seconds.

Colby—Maine.

The Blue and Gray racquet wielders were victorious over Maine last Wednesday and succeeded in handing the University boys a 5 to 1 defeat. Capt. Macomber and Tattersall paired well in the doubles as did Knox and Nickerson and as a result won both sets of doubles. The Colby players were also victorious in the singles and but one match was lost. Capt. Macomber was well satisfied with the work of the team.

The summary:

Brown (M) defeated Macomber (C), 4-0, 8-6, 6-2.

Tattersall (C) defeated E. Knox (M), 6-0, 6-2.

Nickerson (C) defeated Webber, (M), 6-3, 6-1.

W. Knox (C) defeated Parker (M), 7-5, 6-4.

Macomber and Tattersall (C) defeated Brown and Webber (M), 3-6, 7-5, 6-2.

Nickerson and W. Knox (C) defeated E. Knox and Hammer (M) 2-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Colby—Bates.

The tennis team suffered its second setback of the season Friday when it was defeated by the Bates team by a score of 4 to 2. Superior playing on the part of Capt. Macomber paired with Tattersall resulted in a lory in the doubles. Capt. Macomber and Tattersall work well together and should be strong contenders for the state championships in doubles. Nickerson and Knox also worked well in the doubles and were victorious. All the singles won three sets but the Lewiston players won all four.

The summary:

Purinton (B) defeated Macomber, 6-4, 8-6, 6-1.

Gray (B) defeated Tattersall (C), 6-4, 1-0, 6-1.

Landman (B) defeated Nickerson (C), 6-2, 8-6, 6-2.

MacOren (B) defeated Cook (C), 8-6, 6-2, 6-3.

Macomber and Tattersall (C) defeated Purinton and Gray (B), 6-3, 6-0.

Nickerson and Knox (C) defeated Landman and MacOren (B), 6-2, 6-3.

WHAT THE CAT BROUGHT IN

Three out of the five members of the track team who scored points at Brunswick bettered the Colby records in their respective events, while a fourth came within a hair of doing so.

The trials in the morning were rather disappointing with Colby men missing qualification by the smallest possible margins. In the hurdles Newhall was so close that the judges took some time to decide whether or not he had qualified. In the broad jump Severy came within ¾ of an inch of making the grade. The Javelin saw Callaghan in seventh place with scant inches separating him from qualification. Captain Brown and Baker in the quarter mile both took fourth in their respective heats in which three men qualified.

Seekins was the Colby high point man of the meet with second in the high jump and third in the discus. In the former he set a new college record and in the latter came four feet from a new mark. He is a great competitor and rises to the occasion wherever circumstances make it necessary. With work he should be a great athlete.

Sansone may have lost the mile run, but those in the know believe that Wills could have beaten any college runner in the country last Saturday. It is not overstating the case to say that his performance at Brunswick was the greatest piece of running ever seen in the Maine Intercollegiate. He is one of the greatest runners who ever competed in this or any other college meets. His 4:21 2-5 on that terrible track at Bowdoin would easily have been 4:17 under decent conditions, a mark not far from the national intercollegiate record. As it was, that was the fastest mile run in the country this year.

The baseball team has certainly come through so far and the victory at Brunswick was sweet. The team played excellent ball at Bowdoin and deserves a lot of credit. The Bowdoin press correspondent may say that his college should have won easily but as far as we know no ball game is over until the last man is out.

The Maine Intercollegiate here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday will keep the tennis men busy this week. The men who won points in the meet at Brunswick are going to the New England championships at Cambridge this week and may score more points there than they did at Brunswick.

What Is A Life
Underwriter?

One who executes and delivers a life insurance policy. In other words, a person whose business it is to offer the known benefits of life insurance to individuals, to corporations, to partnerships, etc.

But further, the life underwriter is one who must convince those clients of the benefits offered. This means stimulating contact with human character, and with large affairs. Some underwriters prefer the game of character and deal mainly with individuals. Others prefer affairs; to them is open the great field of business insurance.

Furthermore, the business of life underwriting pays highly for initiative and ability.

And still more, the life underwriter offers to his client a commodity which has no risk in it, does not deteriorate, and adds no burden of mental worry. The life underwriter sells absolute security, the foundation of serenity of mind.

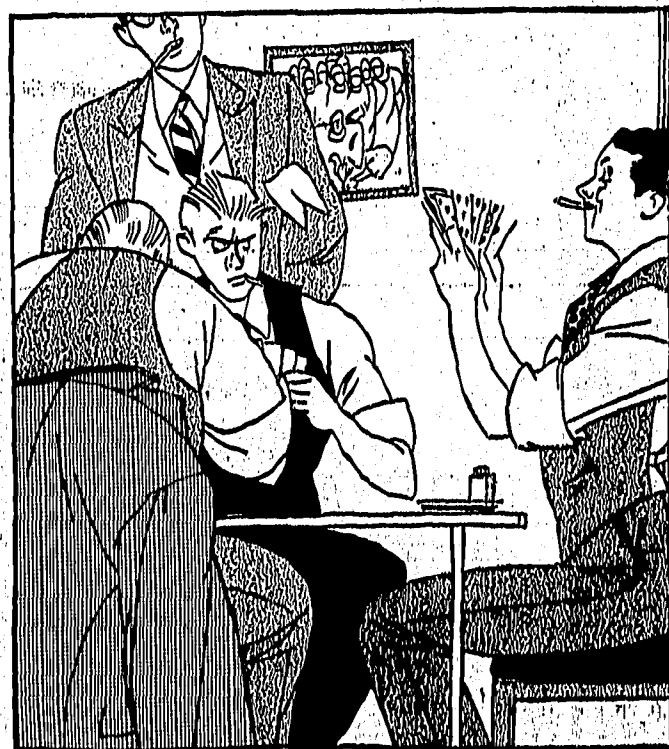

It is worth while to think these things over now and to remember them when, perhaps, you find yourself wrongly placed in whatever business you may have chosen.
