

ZETA PSI LEADS IN INDOOR TRACK MEET

Secure Twenty-seven Points
In First Round of The Interfrat Event

DEKES SECOND

Second Round of Contest Will Be Held Today With Keen Competition In Every Event.

With twenty-seven points to its credit, the Zeta Psi indoor track team, defending champions and present holders of the Upsilon Beta cup, came out on top in the first round of the annual interfraternity meet held last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

The Delta Kappa Epsilon outfit, with Seekins and Hayde as shining lights, were the nearest competitors of the Zetas, with 20 points. The Dekes, runners-up to the winners last year, are far in the rear this year with only seven units to their credit.

Charlie Sansone's win in the 600, Charlie Towne's second place in the mile and a half run, and Deane Quinton's third in the 600-yard race pulled the Phi Deltas into third place with nine points. The Ryder brothers were the only Lancers to score points but their eight counters were enough to nose out the Delta Upsilon and Lambda Chi who secured seven units each.

The Alpha Tau Omega team scored five, Kappa Delta Rho, four; and the Non-Frats, three.

Johnnie Walker, versatile performer and leader of the Zeta aggregation, was high man in the individual scoring column, taking two first and a second for a total of 13 points.

Seekins, Deke leader and high jumper of ability, was true to old form and boosted his team's total with 11 points by winning the standing high jump, and the shot put. He also took third place in the standing broad jump.

"Sid" Snow scored eight markers to take third place in individual scores. He dropped his crown, won last year in the rope climb, to Abbott, but crashed through to a win in the potato race.

The last round of the meet started this afternoon and will continue tomorrow with the final event being run off Friday afternoon. The team having the highest number of points at the end of the meet will take possession.

STUDENT LEAGUE VOTES TO ACCEPT NEW RULES

Late Amendments To Appear in Student Handbook.

The Student League of the Women's Division has unanimously voted to accept changes and amendments to the regulations of the league, which were recently proposed.

Under the new regulations, juniors and seniors will have permission to be absent from the dormitory until 10 p. m., except on Saturday nights when the time is extended until 10.30 p. m. This is fifteen minutes more than the present rules allow. Beginning with next year for the present freshman class and the year after the sophomores and the two underclasses can be absent from the dormitory only until 9.30, except on Saturday nights when they shall be in at 10 p. m.

Only one permission a week will be given for moving pictures and that shall come on Thursday night. Sorority banquets will not count as late permissions, and girls who are in nights may attend these banquets if they wish to make up double time. Standing permission is to be granted for parties with men, and for riding to and from dances with men.

These and some other minor changes will be printed in the Student's Handbook next year. It has not been definitely decided when the new rule will go into effect.

CHI EPSILON MU MEETING.

There will be a meeting of Chi Epsilon Mu on Friday afternoon at 4.30 in Chemical Hall. This will be the regular business meeting of the month. All members are expected to respond to roll call with a chemical current event. The Chemical Library is open at all hours of the day.

NOTICE

All members of the college who wish to secure extra copies of THE ORACLE in June must place their orders in the hands of the business manager, LeRoy M. Johnston, for same before April 15th. There will be no other extra copies available in June.

Council Report

The Student Council voted to buy a new switch for the bulletin board at its weekly meeting held last Monday night.

This switch is a much needed article as the last one has been out of commission for some time. As a result the bulletin board has been utterly useless after dark. This, however, the Student Council promises to remedy at once.

Several other matters of more importance were brought up at this meeting but were withheld pending further developments.

PHI BETA KAPPA TO HOLD CONVENTION

Colby to Be Host to Maine
Delegates From All
Four Colleges

MEETING AT CHAPEL

Will Discuss Possible Methods of Encouraging Scholarship in the State of Maine.

A conference of all the Maine chapters of Phi Beta Kappa will be held in the college chapel tomorrow afternoon at 2.45, the purpose of which is to discuss possible methods of encouraging scholarship in the state of Maine. Similar district conferences will be held this month or next all over the United States, the expenses of which, up to a total of $5000, Mr. John D. Rockefeller has offered to defray.

Delegates from Colby, Bowdoin, Bates, and the University of Maine, will be present, and the State of Maine Association of Phi Beta Kappa whose secretariat is in Portland has also been invited to be represented. The delegates to the conference are especially charged with the matter of discussion of a tentative plan presented by the scholarship committee of the National Council of Phi Beta Kappa.

This plan proposes the offering of Phi Beta Kappa medals to high school and preparatory school seniors for high standards of scholarship. Secondly, it proposes offering a scholarship trophy to be awarded to that college whose freshmen, or freshmen and sophomores, maintain the highest ranks over a period of years. It further proposes the appointment of a district Phi Beta Kappa Fellow or Scholar, and also the awarding of a Phi Beta Kappa gold medal for an outstanding piece of educational or literary work by a graduate member of the society of at least ten years standing.

Other plans of encouraging scholarship in the state may also be proposed and discussed. The recommendations of the state conferences will be forwarded to the New York office of the society.

The delegates to the conference are as follows: Alpha Chapter at Bowdoin, organized in 1825, Governor Ralph O. Brewster, President of the Chapter, and Professor Stanley P. Chase, Secretary of the Chapter; Beta Chapter at Colby, organized in 1896, Professor Florence E. Dunn, President of the Chapter, Professor Clarence H. White, Vice President of the Chapter, Professor Carl J. Weber, Secretary of the Chapter, and Professor Ernest C. Professor Edwards Recovering Nicely From His Operation

Will Probably Leave Hospital During Latter Part of the Week.

"How is 'Doc' Edwards?" has been an often-asked question around the campus and especially in the gymnasium during the last few days. And the answer has been quite reassuring for aside from the customary "resting comfortably" report from the Sisters Hospital where the popular Colby athletic director is recovering from a minor operation, verified reports indicate that Professor Edwards is "out of the woods" and well on the road to recovery.

A rather uncommon form of poisoning which first became noticeable last Wednesday morning resulted in the removal of Professor Edwards to the hospital where he submitted to an operation. Timeliness of action was a large factor in the apparent success of the operation.

Nothing definite is known as to when Professor Edwards will be allowed to leave the hospital but indications are that it will be the latter part of this week.

Miss Florence Hale Speaks to Y. W. C. A.

Miss Florence Hale of the Maine Department of Education, spoke at Y. W. C. A. meeting at Foss Hall, Monday evening. Miss Hale has traveled extensively in this country in connection with educational problems and drew many illustrations from her own experiences.

She spoke especially of youth and its problems, and said that all through history youth has been disparaged by older generations. Civilization has continued to climb to higher levels and today youth has its ideals and ambitions supported by opportunities far exceeding those of any other generation. That young people are often neglected is not to be denied but after contacts with life this neglect is modified and leaves its mark in poise and self confidence. Lindbergh is the outstanding example of the present generation. His determination and firm belief in a goal to be won led him to prepare for and face dangers never before successfully conquered.

Miss Hale also spoke of the place women hold in the affairs of a country. For decades women have struggled for equal rights and even today the struggle is not ended. Nevertheless in educational circles women hold some of the most responsible positions. This field is to be considered as one where great service may be rendered. For upon the spreading of constructive knowledge depends much of a nation's strength.

Four Hundred and Fifty- eight Votes Cast in Echo Campaign

CONDUCTED FRIDAY

Colby Alumnus Second Choice of Student Body—Faculty Receives
Sixty-Seven Votes.

That the students favor an alumnus of some other college for the next president of Colby, was revealed by the straw vote conducted by the ECHO board last Friday.

The results also showed that the second choice a Colby graduate not a member of the faculty, while a minority favored the election of a faculty member.

Of the 458 votes that were cast, 303 favored an alumnus of some college other than Colby, and 88 recommended a graduate of this college. The remaining 67 ballots were divided among various members of the faculty.

Two hundred and sixty-two of the ballots were cast by members of the men's division and one hundred and ninety-six by the women. Of the men's ballots, those favoring an alumnus of some college other than Colby numbered 185, those desiring a faculty member numbered 43, while 34 expressed themselves as being in favor of a graduate of Colby. In the women's division there were 118 votes favoring a graduate of another college, 54 voted for a Colby alumnus, and 24 cast their ballots for a member of the faculty.

The ballots cast represent about seventy per cent of the entire student body. The average is considerably higher in the women's division than in the men's. This can probably be explained by the fact that the women had a special ballot box in Foss Hall, while the men were obliged to vote in Memorial Hall.

Summary of the returns:

	Men	Women	Total
Total for a Faculty member	43	24	67
Alumnus of Colby	34	54	88
Alumnus of another college	185	118	303
Grand total	262	196	458

READING FOR HONORS.

Some of Colby's professors are showing a growing volume of interest in the introduction of reading for honors here.

The suggestion of such a plan as the one which has been tried out successfully at Swarthmore College is an indication of the progressive ideas and plans which are held by many of our modern educators. It must not be supposed, however, that this movement is one peculiar to Colby. On the contrary it is an echo of a conviction that has been growing upon many of our educators for the last five years that the present system of education is tending toward such a degree of specialization which more and more retards the development of genius in any line of human endeavor. It is hoped that this new method will allow more freedom in studying, and hence, to the conscientious student, will present a wider and greater field in which to seek information about the subject in which he is interested.

Briefly, the reading for honors plan is as follows: At the end of the sophomore or junior year a number of students, usually only those who are high rankers, are allowed to choose the subject in which they shall read for honors during the next two years. During that time they are not required to attend any classes or lectures. They master their material themselves and in their own way. Meeting with three or four professors in a discussion group once or twice a week for a four hour session is customary. At the end of the year a comprehensive examination on the entire subject studied is required.

Although it has been pointed out with a great deal of truth that this system is rather dangerous in that it offers opportunities for a two-year loaf to the lazy, still the progressive educators are equally firm in their conviction that it offers illimitable opportunities for complete mastery of a subject to the conscientious worker who is intent on getting the most out of his education. And after all these are the only students who would be given the chance to read for honors.

It remains for a progressive Colby to step to the front in giving this plan a trial.

D. F. K.

FROZEN OUT.

It is suspected that the large number of "incompletes" given out last semester were due to the fact that the profs made a good many "outside" reading assignments and the weather was too cold or otherwise inclement to do them.

OPINION.

Incidentally it may be noticed that about seventy per cent of the student body possess "one of those abstruse abstractions called an 'opinion.'" The straw vote, however, showed that there were five of that moronic group known as practical jokers abroad on the campus.

Ye Gladiator Column

Dear Gladiator:—

Most of us have considerable sympathy with "A Fellow Crab's" complaint about required courses. When, like the present writer, one has received "D" in a required freshman course and later receives "A" in two elective courses in the same subject, he wonders by what miracle he has ever made such improvement.

There is something to be said for "a series of four courses in each of four subjects," but not everything. The old idea of a liberal education—something about everything and everything about something—is not dead. In fact the tendency in most colleges today is restriction rather than expansion of the elective system. The plan of election by groups, now used at M. I. T., has much to commend it. The thoughtless following of the line of least resistance is bad enough under our present system. Required courses are all that save it from chaotic nonsense.

But as to the instruction of required courses—ay, there's the rub. Would you invert the pyramid and put advanced courses in lesser trained hands? Or would you have only experienced men of professional rank denying altogether the chance of young men to begin college teaching at Colby? Admittedly the strength of a certain first year course in our college lies in the fact that it is conducted by the head of the department. But in that course all the students can be assembled in a single section which meets for two lectures each week. Such a procedure is impossible in English and Mathematics—those courses in which the large number of Freshman failures occur. It is our humble opinion that the esteemed faculty would themselves like a solution of this problem—a solution that cannot be reduced to what the debaters call the argumentum ad absurdum.

Com N. Cents.

Dear Gladiator:—

The Student Council has arranged for an intercollegiate basketball game between the University of Maine and a team chosen from the Colby Interfraternity League. This is but a sample of what it has accomplished during the past year. Yet we have no recollection of any activity whatsoever that has been fostered by the so-called honorary societies. If the Student Council would withdraw recognition of these organizations it would supply one more proof of its usefulness to Colby College. If it is unwilling to take such a step at once, at least it can withdraw recognition of those organizations which at the end of the year can show nothing to their favor.

Yours,
P. Knuckle.

The quantity of food each individual eats, students included, is surprising. We literally shovel tons of food into our delicate stomachs. In a lifetime of 70 years a man eats: Thirty oxen, 100 cows, 200 sheep, 30 pigs, 34,000 eggs, 4½ tons of bread, and still he dies hungry.

PHI BETA KAPPA CONVENTION.

1923, Professor John H. Ashworth, President of the Chapter, Librarian Raymond L. Walkley, Secretary of the Chapter.

The annual initiation banquet of the Colby Chapter will take place tomorrow at 8 p. m., at the Hotel Elmwood. At the post-prandial, the chairman of which will be Professor Florence E. Dunn, delegates from the other chapters will bring short greetings from their colleges, and announcements will be made regarding the plans of the Colby Chapter for the future and reviewing the events and accomplishments of the past year.

At 8 p. m. a public recognition meeting will be held in the First Congregational Church at which Governor Brewster will be the principal speaker. The public is invited to attend this meeting without charge. The four members elected to the society from the class of 1928, Ruth E. Williams, Harriet E. Towle, Ella L. Vinal, and Arthur B. Levine, will be initiated at this public meeting. Music will be furnished by Abbot E. Smith, a member of the Colby chapter and the 1928 Maine Rhodes Scholar to Oxford University.

The main speech of the evening will be Governor Brewster's address on the subject, "Scholars and Politics." This subject is timely and appropriate, and the officers of the Colby Chapter feel pleased at having been able to secure as their chief speaker the president of the Bowdoin Chapter, Governor Brewster.

Literary Column

"The Sun Also Rises," which can be had at the college library, is the story of a drunken daughter of the English aristocracy, a newspaper writer wrecked by the war, a wealthy pugilist and a Spanish bull-fighter. The author is Ernest Hemingway, an amateur treader, a semi-professional boxer, an expert skier and a writer of excellent short stories somewhat after the manner of DeMaupassant. With marvelous word economy, he spins a sophisticated tale of love in Paris and Spain. His characters belong to that group of which Gertrude Stein once said, "You are a lost generation."

"Teetallow," previously reviewed in this column, has been dramatized by its author and David Wallace. The resulting play, "Rope," has been having a big run at the Biltmore Theater with Ben Smith playing the gangling young hero, Abner Teetallow.

SONNET OF RENUNCIATION.

Life is this: a dozen flaming dawns,
A handful of quick-dying tender flowers,
A thoughtful stroll or two on dewy lawns,
A few wittily talkative gay hours.
It is one or two friends, a light, swift love
And sober moods, too, in the evening dim
When comes from some imagined choir above
A psalm, a canticle, a vesper hymn.
Life is built of transient, shadowy things;
We can not know but still we blindly grope.
Our codes and modes are maddest visionings,
Our hearts are racked and wrung by hope.
Come, friends, and dream with us a pleasant day
Till we, like wind-cracked leaves, are swept away.

N. P.

ODE TO AN EARTHWORM.

(Composed in Biology Lab.)
Thou grim, segmented creature,
Most efficacious bait,
How long we sit and ponder
O'er thy figure elongate!

With hesitating scalpel,
Thy worthy form we rend it,
And if we cleave thy pharynx
No mortal hand can mend it.

At last thine epidermis,
Pinned far from side to side,
Reveals thy stately organs—
'Twas to teach us that you died.

O humble, lowly earthworm!
Life's lamp for thee is out;
E'er and anon be thankful
Thou didst not feed a trout.

D. U. VICTORIOUS IN FASTEST GAME OF YEAR

Non-Frat Has Poor Eye For Basket-Game Won In Closing Minutes

A fast travelling basketball outfit representing the Non-Fraternity group made a strong bid for a share of championship honors last evening when, led by Sprague and Wisnoski, it outscored the league leading Delta Upsilon quintet in the first two periods of play and held it to a 14 to 14 tie at the three quarter mark only to lose out in the last minutes of play after Klusick and Thornton scored winning points.

The final score, 26 to 16, is hardly representative of the comparative strength of the two teams. For three full periods and part of the last, the two teams battled neck and neck with neither having more than a two point advantage at any time. Klusick, Thornton and Clough pulled the game out of the fire shortly before the closing whistle when they scored in quick succession to build up a substantial lead.

The win gives the D. U.'s a firmer grip on the Interfraternity League Championship with a clean slate in the loss column and two games left to play.

The game was witnessed by a good sized audience made up of students from both divisions of the college. Callaghan handled the whistle and did good work.

PHI DELTA THETA WINS EASILY FROM ZETA PSI

With a well balanced team the Phi Deltas came back with a vengeance after two defeats in succession and scored heavily to defeat the Zeta Psi basketballers 51 to 23 in a game played last night before the D. U.-Non-Frat encounter.

The winners took the lead from the start and were not headed during the contest. There were no individual stars of the tilt, each team presenting a fine working outfit with the Phi Deltas having the edge on caging the leather.

Torn Caulfield handled the game well and kept it running along smooth and fast.

K. D. R. Ends Season With Fast Victory

The Kappa Delta Rho basketballers got away to a good start to lead the Lambda Chi outfit all the way and win by a 42 to 24 score in a game played Saturday afternoon.

Stewart, at center for the winners, and Thurlow, playing a forward position found the hoop with regularity and dropped in six floor-goals each. Wyman, a new man in the lineup of the losing quintet, scintillated at center and scored seven points. Hannifen and Hines both played their usual game.

Lancers Win Easy Game From Zeta Psi

Caulfield, Knofski and McKeen sank the leather with apparent ease to give the Lancers Club a 46 to 25 victory over the Zeta Psi quintet last Friday afternoon.

The winners built up a 13 point lead in the first half and although Simmons and Snow flashed for the Zetas the Lancers added eight points to the margin in the last half of the contest.

Lambda Chi Swamped By Non-Frat Outfit

With Wisnoski scoring 27 points and Glazier and Sprague giving fine exhibitions in guard positions the Non-Frat combination came out victors by a 53 to 7 score in a league game with the Lambda Chi Alpha outfit last week.

The 27 counters tallied by Wisnoski displaces the record of 21 points held jointly by Callaghan and Caulfield.

The winners took the lead from the opening whistle and were never headed during the contest. They had a fast passing attack and put up an impenetrable defense to hold their opponents down to the least number of points scored by any team this year in league play.

Slosek and Dietch played well and each scored enough points to win the game, alone. McLaughlin was the best man for the losers.

D. U.'s Trim Dekes In Hard, Fast Game

Although the score at the half-way mark stood 14 to 12 in its favor the Delta Upsilon league leading quintet struck its stride and turned a fast travelling team of Delta Kappa Epsilon basket-tossers back 35 to 18 in a thrilling encounter last week.

The going looked pretty tough for a time for the winners and the old dope bucket caroused as if due for a spill but "Cracker" Thornton, "Sailor" MacDonald, Klusick and Nizolek supported it and held it upright by building up a safe lead.

Cooke, Fourcade, and Donovan worked well together in the first half of the game but were stopped in the last periods of play.

Non-Frats Nose Out Phi Delt Hoopsters

The Phi Deltas, winners of Interfraternity Championship honors last year, received their second defeat of the season last Tuesday night when the fast travelling Non-Frat outfit took their measure with a 23 to 20 win in a hard and fast played game.

In winning, the victors displayed fine team work, and scoring honors were evenly distributed. Glazier and Sprague played their usual stellar game in guard positions and the former brought his teammates from behind in the closing minutes of play with two floor goals to give them a two point lead. Slosek caged a free throw shortly before the closing whistle to put the game in the Frigid-aire.

"Swede" Hansen, who played a flashy game with the Colby team in the encounter with Maine, played a great game for the losers.

New Club Being Organized at Colby

An International Relations Club sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace is now being organized at Colby. This club is open to all members of both divisions who are interested in International Affairs and European Politics.

The Carnegie Endowment has organized similar clubs in most of the leading colleges throughout the country. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, is the president of the national organization while Dr. William J. Wilkinson, Professor of History, will be the faculty advisor of the local club. Anyone interested is invited to attend the next meeting which will be held in the English room of Chemical Hall the first part of next week. The exact time will be posted on the bulletin board. There will be no dues or fees whatsoever, as literature and speakers are furnished free of charge by the Endowment.

A meeting was held last Monday night and a committee was formed for the purpose of drawing up a constitution and by-laws and for nominating the club officers. Several current topics of interest were also discussed at this time. The committee appointed consists of: Douglas C. Grearson, '28, of Calais, chairman; William B. Downey, '30, of Wellesley, Mass.; and Lucy Chapin, '29, of Greenfield, Mass.

D. U. TRIMS ZETES AND ARE BOWLING CHAMPS

Delta Upsilon clinched the championship in the Colby Interfraternity Bowling League by taking three points from Zeta Psi yesterday afternoon at the Elm City Alleys. Zeta Psi is now in second place with Non-Fraternity third. The competition has been keen all the season with the winner of the silver loving cup, offered by the management of the alleys, in doubt up until yesterday.

The Non-Frat team came along strong in its last two matches and took seven out of a possible eight points. Grant, a mainstay all season, equalled Cobb's single string record of 129 by crashing through with a strike and a spare in his last box of the season. The Non-Frats also set up a new team single record with a total of 514.

JACK ROGERS WINS FIRST BOUT FROM TED BONNEAU

In his first professional boxing venture held at the Eddie Polo Boxing Club last Thursday night, Jack Rogers, '29, won a newspaper decision over Ted Bonneau of Lewiston. Rogers, who was a member of last fall's football team, gained a comfortable margin of victory by his speedy attack. This bout was the main bout on the card and was witnessed by nearly 400 fans, among whom were many college men.

Jack's debut was impressive, and with more experience his rise in the professional boxing game is certain. He showed all the qualities of a good boxer with an aggressive spirit and a clever defence.

At the first bell the boxers came to the center with a rush and then the gloves flew. In the opening exchange they traded toe-to-toe on an even basis. Jack took the second round by sharp work with his left. Bonneau forced the fight in the third, putting Jack on the defence. The fourth was even, but Jack came out in the fifth determined to whip his man. It looked bad for Bonneau as Jack streamed rights and lefts to his face. The sixth round found Jack hitting Bonneau with everything he had.

At present Jack is keeping fit and waiting for answers to his challenge to all fighters in his class throughout the state of Maine.
