TWELVE COLBY MEN TO ATTEND THE MAINE COLLEGE ECONOMIC CONFERENCE

Will Discuss Possibilities of Maine State Industry

Twelve Colby men, mostly residents of Maine, will participate in the College Economic Conference which will be held at Augusta on Friday and Saturday of this week in the interests of Maine industries with the object of interesting college men in remaining in Maine after graduation. Patterned after the conference held in Bangor last spring the two-day meeting will be used as a means of bringing to light the possibilities in Maine industrial and commercial fields and will be addressed by some of the most prominent industrial specialists in the New England area.

The Colby delegation has been coached in the preparation of the speeches which will be delivered in the Senate Chamber of the State House at Augusta, by Dr. Curtis H. Morrow, head of the department of economics, and sociology, and Professor Arthur G. Eustis of the business administration department. The topics dealt with by the college delegations will include agriculture, industry, recreation, and marketing. Similar delegations of college men from each of the other Maine institutions will treat the same subjects. The groups are subdivided into smaller groups of three under a speaker-chairman who will deliver the report of his subject, making four student speakers from each college.

The Colby men who will represent the college at this conference, which is arranged by the Maine Development Commission under the chairmanship of Clarence Stetson, are as follows: Agriculture, Horace P. Maxey, '29, of Rockland; S. Curtis Blakeslee, '30, of Troy, N. Y.; Edgar B. McKay, '30, of Winslow; Industry, (Continued on page 4)

Echo Board Members Business Meeting

A meeting of the ECHO Board was held in the French room of Chemical hall at 3.00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, at which the work of the year was discussed and planned.

Because of the need of additional help in getting out the 1000 extra copies used in the Development Fund project every week it was voted to create the new office of Special Circulation Manager. Francis W. Juggins, '31, of Winthrop, Mass., was elected to fill this position.

A committee was chosen to make preparations for the annual ECHO Board banquet to be held early in May. The following members were elected: Norris W. Potter, '20, of Tallington, Mass.; Harold D. Phippen, '30, of Islesford; Margaret P. Hale, '30, of Caribou; and Pauline Blakeslee, '30, of Penobscot, Mass.

NOTED SPEAKERS ON INSTITUTE PROGRAM

Plans Made To Reach Every Colby College Student

An intensive international program, including such eminent authorities on international affairs as Professor Kenneth Latourette of Yale University and Mrs. George H. Huntington of Robert College, Constantinople, has been planned by the joint committee of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. groups to be carried out on Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, March 17, 18, 19. The international institute is the first ever attempted by the college "Y" organizations and promises to be something bigger, more out of the ordinary than has ever been arranged by these groups before. In a three-day program it is planned to reach every student of Colby and as many of the Waterville citizens as possible through the churches, service clubs, other organizations, mass meetings, luncheons, and individual class lectures where professors cooperate voluntarily.

The program has been arranged through the New England Committee of the Student Y. M. C. A. associations with the local direction of Dr. Curtis H. Morrow of the economics department; Dean Nettie M. Runnals, Professor Herbert L. Newman, and Ernest E. Miller, '29.

Prof. Kenneth S. Latourette, one of the principal speakers on the program, has had a remarkably broad experience in educational work, both in the United States and in the Orient. His academic record is: B. S., Linfield College, 1904; B. A., Yale, 1908; M. A., Yale, 1907; and Ph. D., (Continued on page 4)

COLBY TO DEBATE MASS. AGGIES FRIDAY

Colby will debate Massachusetts Agricultural College in the first intercollegiate debate on the season's schedule on Friday evening at 7.30 in the chapel. Colby will uphold the negative of the official Pi Kappa Delta proposition for the year "Resolved, that the Present Jury System Should Be Abolished."

The team will be composed of Lemuel K. Lord, '29, of Pittsfield; Harold F. Lamaine, '31, of Kennebunk; and F. Donald Poulin, '31, of Fairfield. Lord has had three years' experience in intercollegiate debating and is this year president of Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensic society. Lamaine and Poulin are debating for the first time in intercollegiate contest, but have had considerable experience in public speaking, Lamaine having won first place in last year's Lyford contest, and Poulin having taken a place in the contest two years ago.

Y., from 1891-1909; associate secretary of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations of North America, 1909-15; professor of homiletics and president of Rochester Theological Seminary since 1915. ### PLANS MADE FOR ANNUAL UNDERGRADUATE BANQUET

Plans are well underway for the Undergraduate Banquet which is to be held at Foss Hall, Wednesday, March 13.

The sororities have voted to give up their meetings on that night in order that the affair may be in the spirit of an undivided Colby and along the lines of a sorority banquet. Town girls as well as girls living in the dormitories are to attend.

Janet Chase, '28, is to officiate as toastmistress. The classes have elected the following speakers: Florence Young, '20; Maxine Hoyt, '30; Louise Mulligan, '31; and Hildred Nelson, '32.

Sophomore Girls Dance In Alumnae Building

The second dance to be held in the Alumnae Building was given by the Sophomore girls on Saturday evening, March 2. The committees under the general charge of Alice F. Linscott, '31, arranged a very attractive program after the manner of John Held, Jr., featuring the various Greek letter societies of the college. The decorations, devised by the committee under the chairmanship of Stephanie Benn, cleverly carried out the general plan. Confetti and streamers were features of the dancing, and bridge playing was enjoyed at the same time in the social room. Hood's Merry-makers furnished the music.

In the receiving line were Miss Doris M. Spencer, president of the Sophomore class; Mr. Charles M. Giles; Dean Nettie M. Runnals; Miss Florence E. Dunn; Miss Corinne B. Van Norman; Prof. and Mrs. Edward J. Colgan; and Prof. and Mrs. Lester F. Weeks.

MORE SIGNS OF PROGRESS.

One of the most promising features of the task confronting the directors of the $500,000 Development Fund Committee is the loyal and whole-hearted support which they are receiving at the hands of the daily press. The support and cooperation of every son of Colby is rightfully expected and demanded as the discharge of a duty owed his Alma Mater; the task of the committee is almost hopeless without it. But what is just as important is the approval and aid of those not directly connected with the college, and when that is forthcoming it is sure proof that the work of the Committee will result in ultimate success.

Particularly gratifying to the directors of the Development Committee is the favorable attitude which the press has taken toward their selection of Committee members. It is indicative of the wisdom of their choice, and clearly shows that the public's backing Colby in its endeavor to be of higher and greater service to the generations to come. In regard to the selection of Walter S. Wyman as vice chairman of the general committee, the Kennebec Journal comments editorially:

"That Colby College has been and is a source of inspiration to loyalty, has long been recognized. The effort to raise funds with which to meet the pressing needs of an enlargement and improvement of its physical plant calls attention to that loyalty. To that recognition of a most worthy cause may be ascribed the willingness of such men as George Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post, General Lord of National Budget fame, who will be chairman, Prof. Shailer Mathews and George Otis Smith to aid in raising the funds. Nor is such recognition limited to the alumni. Prominent among those who have seen and appreciated the constructive work of this institution is W. S. Wyman, whose success in varied managerial capacities is so often demonstrated. He would help and can very materially. There is occasion for pride as well as generosity, not only among the alumni but throughout, that Colby College has by merit of service acquired such a hold on those whom it has so faithfully served indirectly as well as directly over the years."

And along the same line the Waterville Sentinel says:

"Acceptance by Walter S. Wyman of an appointment as vice chairman of the general committee in charge of the raising of the Colby Development Funds adds a great deal of strength to a committee already notable for its distinguished names. It is particularly pleasing to all friends of the college because it ties up such wide and varied outside business and industrial interests in the work. This makes the committee representative of the state as well as the college and widens the appeal tremendously."

"Waterville is really the home town of Mr. Wyman, although Oakland can claim him as a native son. But he fitted for college at Auburn and the most important years of his business life were spent here. It was here that his first big business, the Central Maine Power Company, got its start and where he won his spurs as one of the great industrial builders of the country. It is natural, therefore, that he should be willing to help his old home town college as a part of his program for the benefit of the state as a whole, and it is Colby's good fortune that circumstances make this possible.

"In this drive old Colby is getting geared to a pretty powerful machine whose speed and power may make some of the old timers a bit dizzy but it is a fate that has been brought upon her by her years of modest and efficient work that has produced good men and won for her some powerful friends. So she just wants to hang onto her old bonnet and accept the good gifts the gods bestow."

Such comments as these show which way the wind of public opinion is blowing, and forecast a straight route and plain sailing. Colby is geared to a powerful machine, and what's more, she's going somewhere. The future is bright with promise.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL SCHEDULE.

Although the completion of the new gymnasium postponed the basketball season to a later date than was planned, the girls are now entering the sport with great enthusiasm. Practices have been going on each day at 4.30 for nearly two weeks.

A schedule which goes into effect Wednesday, March 6, is as follows: Monday at 4.30, Senior-Junior team versus Sophomores (Div. A); Tuesday at 3.30, Sophomores (Div. B) versus Freshmen (Div. A); Wednesday at 4.30, Juniors (Div. B) versus Freshmen (Div. B); Thursday at 3.45, Senior-Junior versus Juniors (Div. B); Thursday at 4.30, Freshmen (Div. A) versus Freshmen (Div. B); Friday at 4.30, Sophomores (Div. A) versus Sophomores (Div. B); Saturday at 1.45 and 2.30, Interclass Basketball games. This schedule will give everyone an opportunity to have at least the two practices a week required of those on the teams.

Limited Sum Available For College Lectures

The faculty committee in charge of the program of lectures and addresses that have been offered in an organized series this year to college audiences is endeavoring now to secure as the next public lecturer Senator William H. Borah. Dr. Herbert C. Libby, chairman of the committee, gave out the following statement yesterday in connection with the work of the committee:

"The total sum available for public lecturers this year is $200. Because of this limited amount of money it has been necessary to charge a small sum for admission, and the hope of the committee has been that it might keep a revolving fund in the treasury until at least the last number of the series is reached. It has not been the simplest thing in the world to meet the many expenses incident to the visit of a lecturer to the college and have a sufficient sum left in the treasury to warrant another engagement. This will explain why the committee has not deemed it prudent to spend the full amount of its appropriations on some artist that might appeal to a few and not to the many.

"Strong effort is being made to secure as the next public lecturer Hon. William E. Borah, of Idaho, one of the leading figures today in the Senate of the United States. In a letter to the chairman of the committee he expressed doubt of his ability to fill an engagement in Maine just at this time, but he has since promised to give the matter further consideration. The suggestion has been made that the committee secure a well-known pianist for a future attraction, and this suggestion may be acted upon.

"Looking ahead to another year, the chairman of the committee is making a canvass of all citizens who have been supporting the present series of public lecturers to determine what support would be given the committee in its engagement of the world-famous actor, Edward H. Sothern. If the support is found to be generous, a contract will be signed. To bring Mr. Sothern to Waterville and to Colby would be something of an achievement."

MRS. WHITE ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Clarence H. White entertained the women's division during the chapel hour Tuesday with a very pleasing musical program. She read an introductory paper, explaining the principles and trend of modern music as compared with that of the earlier composers, and explained that one of the greatest differences is the lack of tonality in modern music.

Mrs. White stated clearly that the three elements necessary for all good music are rhythm, the very heart-beat; melody, its delightful tone; and harmony, the beauty of sound. She also spoke of the very modern arrangement of scale, which includes tones named for the first twelve letters of the alphabet instead of the usual seven.

She illustrated her talk by playing short selections from the music of four nations, namely, the music of Debussy, Cyril Scott, Nathaniel Bett, and the work of a modern Finnish composer.

WOMEN'S CHAPEL.

Dean Rannals announces the speakers for the women's chapel for the coming week:

Thursday, March 7. The speaker will be Rev. Leopold H. R. Hass of the Waterville Baptist Church.

Saturday, March 9. Lowell Q. Haynes, assistant professor of Psychology.

Tuesday, March 12. Edward H. Perkins, professor of Geology.

Generating Brain Power

BRAIN power, not horsepower, is the chief operating requirement of the electrical industry.

This requirement must be continuously anticipated to provide leaders for the future. Accordingly, each year, more than 400 picked college graduates come to the General Electric Company for a post-graduate course in electrical science.

With a faculty including inventors and engineers of international distinction, something more than electrical knowledge is imparted to these young men. Here they also find inspiration which prepares them for leadership in this electrical age.

You will see this monogram on the powerful motors of an electric locomotive and on the convenience outlet where you plug in a floor lamp—always and everywhere it is a safe guide to electrical quality and dependability.

Thornton Stars For Colby In Close Game At Orono

The Colby Independents, handicapped by lack of practice and the fact that they were playing on a larger floor than that on which they are accustomed to play, staged a garish finish and defeated the University of Maine 32 to 30 at Orono, Saturday night, in the most thrilling game seen at the State University this season.

In the first half the two teams battled on even terms and when the whistle ended hostilities they were tied at 11 all. Early in the second half Maine tallied twice to make it 15 to 11. Coach Roundy then substituted his starting lineup which put the White Mules back in the running. With but fifteen seconds to play the teams were tied at 30 all. Glazier took a long shot which went wide but Thornton followed up under the basket, looped the ball through the net just as the final gun sounded.

Thornton was high point man of the contest with 14 while Klusick played well on the defense. Sylvester and Hebert played well for Maine.

The Colby team showed up well in view of the fact that they have only been playing together as an aggregation for a few weeks. The big floor did not bother the Blue and Gray basketballers as Maine was playing a man for man defense and the offense was slow to form.

Coach Roundy used the following two lineups, each one playing intact: Forwards, Langley and Wisnoski; backs, Glazier and Klusick; center, Thornton; forwards, Clough and Arber; backs, Deetjen and Grady; center, Tierney.

Kappa Delta Rho defeated Delta Kappa Epsilon 35 to 24 in a rough game played Friday afternoon in the college gymnasium. Both teams started out fast and it appeared at the half that the Dokes would win. During the second half, however, the Kappa Deltas staged a comeback due to their fast passing and accurate shooting. Blakoslee and Slocum were the stars for the winners with 12 and 11 points respectively. Good of the Dokes was high scorer for his team with 11 points.

Alpha Tau Omega defeated Phi Delta Theta 51 to 12 in a fast game in the Interfraternity Basketball league, Monday evening. In the opening minutes of play the two teams battled on even terms and at the quarter the Tau's had only a slight edge. The second period the winners forged ahead in the face of a stubborn Phi Delta defense and at the half were leading 19 to 12. In the second half A. T. O. piled up 32 points while their opponents were held scoreless. A large number of students witnessed the battle between the traditional rivals.

Davis was high point man of the contest with a total of 22. The floor-work of Tierney and Langley was a big factor in the Tau's offense. Ferguson played well in the back court for the Phi Deltas while Arnold and Grady worked best on the floor.

Varsity Track Men Train for Last Meet

Fail to Score in Nationals Against Leading College Stars

The Colby track squad, which competed in the last intercollegiate meet of the indoor season at the N. I. C. A. A. Meet held in New York City last Saturday, is now preparing for the annual interfraternity meet for the Upsilon Beta cup which will be held next week. This is one of the most important and closely contested intramural meets of the season and gives Coach Ryan his final opportunity to get a line on available material for the varsity track squad before the opening of the outdoor season.

The Colby team did not score at the big intercollegiate meet but the performances of the men was very satisfactory and the lack of points in the Colby column was due to the high quality of the competition rather than to inability on the part of the contestants.

In the 35-pound weight throw, in which a heave of 42 feet took a place last year, Dexter threw 46 feet 1 1/2 inches for what looked like a sure fifth place but was beaten on the final throw by one and one-half inches. Eight men were left in the high jump at six feet and although Seekins failed to clear the bar he was beaten only by three-quarters of an inch.

Brown and Sprague in the 70 yard dash turned in satisfactory performances but were outclassed in the fast field in which they found themselves entered. Both drew hard heats and did not reach the semi-finals.

Colby track teams, under the guidance of Coach Michael J. Ryan, have made an enviable record in the meets of the Intercollegiate Association of Amateur Athletes of America since 1922. In a recapitulation of the points scored by each of the forty competing colleges Colby stands fifteenth with a total of 16 points. These points represent scores in competition with the best track men in the world, since the cream of the American collegiate world is entered in this meet each year.

The list of the colleges which have scored more points than Colby in the last eight years reads like a tabulation of the large colleges and universities of the country who have made features of their track teams during that period. No small college has scored more points than Colby. Bowdoin with 12 1/2 is in seventeenth place while Maine never scored and Bates scored for the first time this year.

The tabulation of points as printed on the program of the meet this year is as follows:

U. of P., 141.76; Cornell, 140; Georgetown, 123.928; Harvard, 114.741; Yale, 102; Dartmouth, 100.178; Princeton, 89.75; Penn State, 87; Boston College, 60; Syracuse, 35.50; Columbia, 35; Holy Cross, 23; New York University, 20; Brown, 19.50; COLBY, 16; Amherst, 14.611; Bowdoin, 12.50; Lafayette, 12.111; Union, 10; Johns Hopkins, 7.111; M. ## COLBY DELEGATES AT N. E. CONFERENCE

Poland Spring Scene Of Combined "Y" Group Meetings

Seven members of the college Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations represented Colby at the New England College Conference held at Poland Springs, March 1, 2 and 3. The delegates from the Y. M. C. A. were Willard E. Alexander, '31, Saxtons River, Vt.; Gordon A. Speedie, '31, Winchester, Mass.; Wallace W. Meyer, '30, Brooklyn, N. Y.; and Charles S. Martin, '30, South Portland. The representatives from the Y. W. C. A. included Alice Paul, '29, Fort Fairfield; Helen A. Chase, '30, Houlton; and Eleanor G. Butler, '29, Portland.

The conference, which was attended by nearly 200 delegates from all the Maine colleges as well as from Harvard, Yale, Brown, New Hampshire, Smith, Vassar, Wellesley, Wheaton, was formally opened Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock with a banquet in the Mansion House. At the conclusion of the dinner the delegates gathered in several discussion groups which met in various parts of the building. After an elapse of an hour the entire delegation assembled again in Ricker Inn where short reports were given by one member of each discussion group. This meeting concluded the business for the day.

Saturday morning Dr. William Gilkey of Chicago gave an interesting lecture on the poem "John Brown's Body." The afternoon was given over entirely to sports and other forms of recreation. Hiking, skiing, and snow-shoeing were enjoyed by many of the delegates. Plans for a business meeting to be held that evening were abandoned after the fatal accident which occurred in the afternoon, and instead Dr. Gilkey conducted a short and very impressive service in the chapel.

The Sunday morning service was held in Ricker Inn at 9.30 o'clock. From 11.00 to 11.30 the discussion groups, which had previously convened on Friday evening, again met and continued their discussions. The conference was concluded with a short meeting in Ricker Inn from 12.30 to 12 o'clock.

Yale, 1909. For a year he traveled for the Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, and for several years was a member of the staff of Yale in China at Changsha, Hunan, China. He returned to the United States and became a member of the history department of Reed College, 1914-1916, and at Dennison University 1916-1921. Since 1921 he has been a member of the Yale Divinity School, where he is now Professor of Missions and Oriental History.

Professor Latourette is the author of "The Development of China," "The Development of Japan," "The History of the Early Relations between the United States and China, 1784-1844," "The Christian Basis of World Democracy," and "A History of Christian Missions in China," and is a frequent contributor to many periodicals. He is a member of the

MRS. GEORGE H. HUNTINGTON.

Committee of Reference and Counsel of the Foreign Missions Boards of North America, of the International Missionary Council, of the Board of Managers of the Board of Education of the Northern Baptist Convention, and the Committee on the Promotion of Chinese Studies recently appointed by the American Council of Learned Societies. He is also a member of the American Historical Association and of the North China Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society.

Mrs. George H. Huntington, the other speaker of prominence at the Institute, is the wife of Dr. Huntington, president of Robert College, Constantinople, and a sister of Bayard Dodge, president of the American University of Beirut. Mrs. Huntington is one of the best-known hostesses in Constantinople and has entertained Turkish women in the old days of the harem and in the days of Republican freedom. She lived in Constantinople during the period of the World War and did much to help the refugees who flooded that city immediately after the war.

In the twelve years of her life in Constantinople, Mrs. Huntington has been active in the promotion of American organizations there, the Y. W. C. A., relief work, the American Hospitals, the colleges and mission schools. As a result of her work and interests, Mrs. Huntington has had an opportunity to witness the emancipation of Turkish women during the transition of Turkey from an Oriental despotism to a modern government.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Huntington are speaking in the interests of the $15,000,000 endowment fund for the six American colleges in the Near East during their stay in the United States. These colleges are: American University of Beirut, Robert College, Constantinople Women's College, International College of Smyrna, Sofia American Schools, and Athens College, Greece.

The Shah of Persia, who resided in Beirut before he ascended the throne, is extremely interested in the American University of Beirut and has appealed to President Bayard Dodge for assistance in establishing a modern elementary educational system in his country. King Feisal of Iraq for several years has been sending students to be trained at the University for government posts. King Fud of Egypt, the Queen Dowager Marie of Roumania, King Boris of Bulgaria, and other rulers are staunch supporters of these colleges. Mustapha Kemal Pasha, president of the Turkish Republic, and his Prime Minister, Ismet Pasha, are both interested in the American colleges in Turkey, the latter having a brother in the senior class of Robert College. The sons and daughters of many Turkish deputies, provincial governors and diplomats are enrolled in the two Constantinople colleges, Robert College for men and the Constantinople Women's College.

Dr. Charles G. Cumming, at present professor of the Old Testament at the Bangor Theological Seminary, will be the third speaker of prominence at the Institute. Dr. Cumming was for five years a missionary in the West Indies and from his wide experience has stored a fund of knowledge that will make him exceptionally interesting to the Colby audiences.

The complete program for the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. Institute is as follows: Sunday, March 17, the Institute speakers will visit the churches of the city, Dr. Latourette, at the First Baptist; Mrs. Huntington, at the Congregational; and Dr. Cumming, at the Methodist Episcopal. At 2.00 o'clock there will be a meeting of the Boardman Missionary Society in the Alumnae Building. Sunday evening at 6.15 there will be a Young People's mass meeting at the First Baptist Church, with Mrs. Huntington as the speaker, followed at 7.30 by a union service and mass meeting held at the City Opera House, Professor E. C. Marriner, presiding, and Dr. Latourette, the speaker of the evening. In Fairfield, Dr. Cumming will conduct a union service of the churches at the Fairfield Baptist Church.

On Monday morning at 8.45 Dr. Cumming will speak at the Coburn chapel exercises. Dr. Latourette will address the regular Colby men's chapel, while Mrs. Huntington at the same time will address the women's chapel to be held in the Alumnae Building. Dr. Latourette will speak at the Rotary Club luncheon at 12.15. At 4.00 Mrs. Huntington will lead a Y. W. C. A. cabinet meeting to be held in the Alumnae Building, and Dr. Latourette will conduct a Y. M. C. A. cabinet meeting in the Memorial Hall chapel. Dr. Cumming will speak at the Kiwanis Club dinner to be held at 6.15. At 7.30 a meeting of the Waterville branch of the American Association of University women in the Alumnae Building will be addressed by Mrs. Huntington. At 7.30 Dr. Latourette will speak at a student mass meeting for men and women will be held in the chapel.

Tuesday morning from 9.35 to 10.25 men's chapel will be held in Memorial Hall, Mrs. Huntington, speaking, and the regular women's chapel will be held in the Alumnae Building, Dr. Latourette, speaking. At 11.20 Mrs. Huntington will speak at Oak Grove Seminary. At 12.30 there will be a faculty luncheon and reception in the Elmwood Hotel. At 3.30 will be held a closing student mass meeting for men and women in the Colby Chapel.

Kappa Epsilon fraternities. Professor Herbert S. Philbrick graduated in the class of 1897, and is counted among Colby's most successful sons. After graduating from Colby he taught in the Calais High school, first as sub-master and then as principal, from which school he went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Completing his course in that institution he engaged in mechanical engineering, which profession he has followed since. He designed the pie plate machinery and laid out the new mill for the Keyes Fibre Company of Fairfield, and was also draughtsman and engineer of the Lombard Log Hauler Co., making the working drawings and organizing the manufacturing plant. In 1907 he became Assistant Professor of Mechanical Engineering in the University of Missouri, and in 1912, Professor of Engineering in North Western University, a position he has since held with distinction.

During 1910-20 Prof. Philbrick was on leave of absence in order to take charge of the Chicago properties and interests of John S. Henry C. and Howard Phipps. In this capacity he was manager of the Kenwood Manufacturing District and directed the construction of several large factories and also developed the Healy Industrial District. During the next year he served as chairman of the Chicago section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and as chairman of the committee which arranged and conducted the spring meeting of the society in 1921. Since 1918 he has been consulting engineer for the city of Evanston, Ill., on water works and general engineering problems. He is a trustee of the First Baptist church of Evanston, Ill., a member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education, and of the Association of University Professors. He is well known in the engineering field as the author of various technical papers and articles.

COLBY DELEGATION ATTENDS N. Y. MEETING

A delegation representing the Development Fund Committee of the College left for New York, Sunday afternoon, to attend the New York Alumni Association Banquet held in the Astor Hotel, last evening. The banquet is one of a series of Alumni Association meetings that are taking place all over the country in the interest of the $500,000 Development Fund project. Charles S. Brown, of Augusta, Director of the Development Fund; Hon. Herbert E. Wadsworth, '92, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the College; Professor Ernest C. Marriner, '13, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the College; and Ernest E. Miller, '29, editor-in-chief of the ECHO and Secretary to the Director of the Development Fund Committee, form the delegation making the trip.

After the banquet Mr. Carlson of the architectural firm of Carlson and Coolidge gave an illustrated lecture, showing gymnasiums and indoor fields similar to the plans of the proposed new Colby gymnasium and indoor field. President-elect Franklin W. Johnson of the college was one of the principal speakers in the postprandial.

INTER-RELATIONS CLUB.

The regular bi-weekly meeting of the International Relations Club was held in the history room at Recitation Hall last Monday evening. Fifteen members of the society were present to enter into the discussion which was led by Dr. Henry B. Hall, head of the history department.

The evening's discussion centered around the question of what constitute proper and adequate definitions of the popular terms "internationalism," "nationalism," and "imperialism." Arguments condemning and upholding the policy of intervention by larger nations in the affairs of smaller neighbors were advanced by several members of the group, after which the meeting was thrown open to general comment.

It was agreed to hold the next meeting at the same place next Monday evening instead of waiting until the following week. The subject of the next discussion will be "Mexico."
