TO INSTALL BOWDOIN CHAPTER OF A. T. O.

Will be Third Chapter of Fraternity in State of Maine

A large number of the active members of the Maine Gamma Alpha or Colby College Chapter of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity with participate in the initiation and ceremonies which will install the Bowdoin College Chapter of Phi Delta Psi, a local fraternity, as the Maine Delta Omega Chapter of Alpha Tau Omega. These ceremonies will be held at the Brunswick Chapter House on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of this week.

This new chapter of Alpha Tau Omega will be the third in the state of Maine, as the fraternity has chapters at Colby and the University of Maine at the present time. It will be the ninth chapter of the fraternity in New England.

Approximately seventy-two members of the active chapter and alumni of the Phi Delta Psi fraternity will be initiated into Alpha Tau Omega. Friday and Saturday will be occupied with initiations and the installation of the new officers. These will be in charge of delegations from Colby, Maine, Dartmouth, University of New Hampshire, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Tufts, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, and Brown University. Leo G. Shesong, Colby '13, Chief of Province IV, will have charge of the initiation and installation.

On Sunday the members of the Delta Omega Chapter will be hosts to the members of Alpha Tau Omega at a banquet to be held at the Eastland Hotel in Portland. All undergraduate members of the fraternity and alumni are invited to attend. It is anticipated that a large number of the alumni of the Colby Chapter as well as many of the undergraduates will be present both at the installation and banquet.

Discuss Distribution of New Personnel Questionnaires to Freshmen

In connection with a desire of President-elect Johnson to build up an efficient personnel administrative office at Colby, a conference of Junior delegates from each fraternity met with Professor Ernest C. Marriner at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the President's office, Chemical Hall, to consult with him about the distribution of personnel questionnaires which will be given out to all members of the Junior class to be filled out by them for college records.

The questionnaires are similar in form to those filled out by the freshmen last fall. The records will be especially designed to help students find desirable employment after graduation. Such a system is in use with beneficial results to both the college and the graduates at Dartmouth, Wesleyan and Bowdoin, and Colby is JUNIOR CON

Wage Uphill Battle To Keep Lead in State Series Standing

A battling Colby nine waged an uphill fight to beat out the Bowdoin ball tossers 5 to 1 in the opening game between the two colleges played in Brunswick on Friday afternoon. The game was played on a soggy field as a result of the previous day's rain but this did not seem to affect the speed of the contest which was very fast.

Bowdoin scored its lone tally in the second inning. With one man out Rose made a clean hit to right field. He was advanced on a sacrifice by Crimmins and scored on a single by Leech to center field. Roberts made a clean peg home but Rose scored before Hedderieg could tag him.

Colby did not score until the sixth when Lovett drew a base on balls and Tierney sacrificed. Niziolek was thrown out at first. Then Klusick pounded the ball for two bases. Thornton and Hedderieg singled and before the excitement was over Lovett and Klusick had scored.

The big time for the Mules came in the ninth. Deetjen signed following which Roberts went out on a fly. Braman dropped Lovett's fly, Tierney drew a pass, and the bases were full. Niziolek also walked and Deetjen came home. Souther missed out on Klusick's bingle and Lovett scored. Crimmins threw wild to Lincoln and Tierney came home for the last tally of the game.

This win puts the Colby nine in the lead in the State Series league and from the excellent work of the past two games the prospects of holding that position are the best possible.

REVIEW YEAR'S WORK OF COLBY Y. M. C. A.

Members of Cabinet Hear Reports of Committee Chairmen

The year's work of the retiring officers of the college Y. M. C. A. was reviewed at a meeting of the "Y" cabinet held in Hedman Hall at 1.00 o'clock, Saturday afternoon. At the meeting, presided over by Mark R. Shibles, '29, of Belfast, president of the organization, reports of the officers and committee chairmen were read and approved.

Mark H. Garabedian, '29, of Cambridge, Mass., reporting for the deputation committee, said that thirty-one college men and women had participated in the deputation work of the joint Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. programs, as follows: Frederick R. Knox, Ernest E. Miller, David F. Kronquist, Charles G. Corso, Mark S. Kingsley, Harold E. Clark, Richard D. Cummings, Neal D. Bousfield, Chester E. Merrow, Bertrand Downey, Lucius Y. Lobdell, Norman D. Palmer, Wendell H. Thornton, John W. Miner, Sterling C. Ryder, Mark H. Garabedian, Professor C. Harry Edwards, and Professor Herbert L. Newman. A total of fourteen trips were made to the following places: Skowhegan, China, Hebron, Farmington, Dover-Foxcroft, Augusta, Fairfield, Higgins, Richmond, Coburn, Getchell Street Baptist Church, and the French Baptist Church of Waterville. Besides this work the deputation committee has cooperated in supplying pulpits in Bingham, Skowhegan, Richmond, Hartland, and Pittsfield.

Wendell H. Thornton, '30, of Rockland, chairman of the Campus Relations committee, reported the care of the "Y" room, the Freshman Reception, the Freshman Hike, Go-to-Church Sunday, the installation of "Y" First Aid kits in the dormitories, the care of sick students on the campus, the various conferences held, and other matters of the "Y" activity on the campus. He stated that this year the "Y" has been more of a college center than any other year and has been most active in its campus relations.

DINNER HELD BY CAPITAL ALUMNI

Much Enthusiasm Shown For Development Project

Another demonstration of enthusiasm for Dr. Franklin Winslow Johnson and an organization of forces to get behind the Development Fund campaign were features of a dinner in Washington, D. C., last Friday night at which Colby men in Washington fell in line with those of other cities in the movement for a new and better Colby.

Alumni of the Capital welcomed Dr. Johnson at the New Willard Hotel as the guests of Ex-Senator Herbert E. Wadsworth, and the dinner was attended by some fifteen residents of the District as the key men in the campaign plans there. Mr. Wadsworth outlined the history of the development idea and introduced General Herbert M. Lord, U. S. Director of the Bureau of the Budget and chairman of the general campaign committee, who presided.

General Lord at once put the meeting on a working basis. He reviewed for the gathering the remarkable record the college has made in a variety of fields in the last century, and declared that the time had come when Colby's service could be multiplied many times if her sons took advantage of the great opportunity which the new presidency and the growing enthusiasm of alumni everywhere now presented.

The spirit of General Lord's statement was immediately caught up in the speech of Dr. Johnson, who placed before the diners the picture of Colby's struggle, her wise and often heroic administration under President Roberts and his associates, and her present situation, which needed only the foresight and enthusiasm of Colby graduates, the student body and residents and friends of Maine to capitalize for a great future.

Charles S. Brown, director of the campaign, then told the gathering the story of the campaign plans to date, and the manner in which Boston, Hartford, New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other centers were taking hold of the development project. One of the impressive features of Mr. (Continued on page 4)

Count Von Luckner To Speak In Waterville

Count Felix Von Luckner, one of the most dashing and romantic figures of the World War, and one of the bravest of the sea captains who harassed Allied shipping during the eventful years from 1914-18, is coming to Waterville, Thursday, May 9, to lecture under the auspices of the George N. Bourque Post of the American Legion. The Legion invites college attendance at this lecture.

Count Von Luckner is a member of an old and famous military family, a descendant of a marshal of France. He had run away to sea as a boy and then served seven years before the mast under an assumed name as a common jack-tar, suffering beatings, starvation, shipwreck and other hardships that the sea visits upon its children. A part of this time he sailed on American and British ships.

There will be a meeting of the Druids, Junior honorary society, at the Kappa Delta Rho House, Friday evening, May 3, at 7.30 P. M. All members are urged to be present as important business will be taken up.

GIVE REPORT OF BOSTON CONFERENCE

Prof. E. C. Marriner And Norman Palmer, '30 Are Colby Delegates

Professor Ernest C. Marriner and Norman C. Palmer, '30, of Hinkley, were the Colby delegates to the Sixth Personnel Conference of the Department of Education and Vocation of the University Club, Boston, which was held last Thursday and Friday, April 25 and 26, under the supervision of Stanley C. Lary, director of the department.

The student body of the college were represented at this conference by Mr. Palmer, who has made the following report to the ECHO:

"There were twenty-three junior delegates in attendance, representing every college and university in New England, with the exception of Boston University and Dartmouth. Many faculty representatives and business executives also attended.

"The opening session on Thursday morning was devoted to a discussion of the opportunities which the chain store offers to college graduates.

The speakers were F. W. Buxton, advertising manager of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., New England division, who spoke on the subject, 'Sales—What Price Success?' and A. D. Chubbuck, comptroller of the W. T. Grant Co., who took as his topic, 'Scaling the Heights of Finance.' Both of the authorities outlined the opportunities for securing positions and promotion in the great chain stores with which they were connected, with special emphasis on the prospects of advancement for college-trained men. Both men stated that personal incentive is encouraged in their organizations by allowing the managers of the stores to share in the profits which they are instrumental in earning.

"The speaker at the luncheon on Friday was N. E. Peterson, industrial statistician for the First National Bank of Boston, who discussed 'Industrial New England Dissected.' By a survey of conditions throughout the United States he showed that the apparent industrial decline of New England (Continued on page 4)

Twelve Initiated By Kappa Alpha Society

Twelve new members were duly initiated into Kappa Alpha, senior honorary society, by activities lasting from Thursday to Saturday, April 27. Thursday evening the initiates prepared a "feed" for active members in Alumnae Hall. Friday found the "slave-drivers" and their charges enjoying dinner at the Chinese restaurant while the final banquet was held at Fort Halifax Inn, Saturday evening. The secret initiation took place in an old barn in Fairfield but appropriate costumes were worn and stunts performed beginning Thursday morning.

The initiates were all members of the present junior class and two were chosen from each sorority. They were: Mary Wagsatt, Rockland, and Jean Macdonald, Waterville, Chi Omega; Elizabeth Bottomley, Pittsfield, and Thelma Snow, Atkinson, Alpha Delta Pi; Isa Putnam, Danforth, and Eleanor Hathaway, Columbia Falls, Sigma Kappa; Pauline Brill, East Waterboro, and Mina Higgins, Dennysville, Phi Mu; Mildred Pond, Houlton, and Edith Woodward, Boothbay Harbor, Alpha Sigma Delta; Virginia Christie, Fort Fairfield, and Carol Hill, Fort Fairfield, Delta Delta Delta; Barbara Milliken, Corinna, and Ruth Young, Camden, Non-Sorority.

CHI EPSILON MU.

The regular weekly meeting of Chi Epsilon Mu, chemical society, was held in the chemistry lecture room of Chemical Hall, last Friday afternoon at 4.30.

Gilman S. Hooper, '20, of Danvers, Mass., was the speaker of the occasion, taking as his subject, 'The Utilization of Waste Products of Corn.' He mentioned especially the making of paper and wall-board from the waste material.

At this meeting it was voted to offer an annual prize of ten dollars to the college applicant obtaining the highest grade in the Colby entrance examination in Chemistry.

SPRING FORMAL DANCE HELD BY PHI DELTS

Novel Setting Helps To Make Affair Enjoyable

Approximately fifty couples were present at the annual spring formal dance of the Maine Alpha chapter of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, which was held at Elks Hall, last Friday evening. Hood's Merry-makers of Waterville furnished the music for the occasion, and dancing was enjoyed from 8 to 1 A. M.

The setting for the dance was an original one, being a graveyard appropriately called the Phi Delt Bone Yard. The walls were covered with black paper, which very effectively set off the white tombstones placed at intervals around the walls. The inscriptions on the stones, however, differed from the customary sentimental verses, being witty epigrams about fictitious characters. Many gruesome sights were prevalent around the hall, and human bones rattled in perfect time to the snappy music of the orchestra. Notwithstanding the background, the affair proved to be far from dead.

In the receiving line were: Professor and Mrs. Edward J. Colgan, Dean Nettie Runnals, Professor George B. Viles, Dr. and Mrs. John G. Towne, Mrs. George Weed, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Roundy.

Saturday evening a very enjoyable chaser was held at the chapter house

CHAPEL PROGRAMS

Among the speakers listed on the chapel program for the coming week as announced by Professor T. B.

PROF. JULIAN D. TAYLOR.

Ashercraft, chapel officer, are: Professor Julian D. Taylor, Taylor Professor of Latin Language and Literature, and dean of all New England college professors; Mr. Stacy B. Southworth, principal of Thayer Academy, South Braintree, Mass.; and Rev. Hilda Ives of Portland.

Professor Ashercraft writes in a letter to the ECHO as follows: "As chapel officer, I want to make a special appeal to the men of the college to make these last weeks of the college year a climax in attendance and spirit. We are going to have the best programs it is possible to provide.

"The announcements in this issue of the ECHO are very attractive. Professor Taylor is breaking a silence of sixty years standing. Many times he has been invited to speak; he now accepts heartily. Every man, faculty and student, should hear Dr. Taylor."

Mr. Stacy B. Southworth who will speak on Monday, May 6, is a widely known educator and at present is head of the Thayer Academy of South Braintree, Mass. Mr. Southworth is a well-known radio speaker and an authority on Abraham Lincoln on which subject he has lectured widely. He is also well known among the Rotary Clubs of New England, and he is to speak on the same day before the Waterville Rotary Club.

The chapel program for the coming week as announced by Professor Thomas B. Ashercraft, chapel officer, is as follows:

PROFESSOR COLGAN.

Occasionally a topic mentioned in the Gladiator Column of this paper merits some comment in this column. Such comment seems entirely appropriate in connection with the much discussed rumor that Professor Edward J. Colgan is resigning, has resigned, or ought for his own interests to resign.

It cannot be doubted that it is to Colby's advantage to keep Professor Colgan on the faculty. It is certain that student opinion is behind the movement to keep him. If his opportunity to go elsewhere is particularly attractive to him, and the sacrifice involved in staying here is too great to be expected of a man, he certainly should not be detained for sentimental reasons.

In all justice to Professor Colgan it should be borne in mind that it is too much to ask a man to give up his own advancement for very intangible and immaterial recompense. He is needed in the education department at Colby; the students want him to remain—there is no doubt of that; and many alumni protest against losing him. It seems to be a matter that is largely in the professor's hands to decide.

Some of the letters that have appeared in the Gladiator column show rather poor reasoning. One by "Teacher, '28" last week hinted that Colby was considering spending large sums of money for equipment while she allowed her best professors to leave. Well, in the first place Colby isn't a heavily endowed college—at present. Professors' salaries sometimes reach a maximum and one that is not as high as the maximum set by larger institutions. It would be rather ill judgment to boost one man's salary above that of others and above the means of the college because he had better positions in the nature of promotion offered him elsewhere. The Development Fund now under way may eventually make larger salaries possible. But trustees have enough uncommon sense to make the college live within its income until the funds are available.

And there was something said about filling the chairs of those vacating professors with "inferior instructors." The "one lesson" that we have had has been pointed out. Certainly no inferior instructors were secured to fill the chair Dr. Wilkinson left. Concerning instructors generally, the passage in quotes below is applicable.

"A third sign of life is the fact that the college has never had a more carefully selected faculty than at present. We have been making steady progress toward the possession of the best faculty our funds will provide. Especially in the quality of instructors for Freshmen the college is showing unquestionable vitality. Seven new men were added to the faculty this fall, not one of whom was appointed without the most conscientious scrutiny and comparison."

In summary: we want Professor Colgan to stay but the decision is his. Colby must live within her present means until she is financially reinforced. But let it not be hinted that she now stands in any way inferior,

Y. M. C. A.

A proposal that will confront the men's division when it ballots for the Y. M. C. A. officers for the coming year on Friday will be that of the appointing of a commission to study student organizations in other colleges that occupy approximately the same field that the "Y" weakly undertakes to cover at present. A favorable vote will mean that the newly elected officers will select this commission and consider its report. Perhaps some more progressive organization than the Y. M. C. A. will function advantageously on the campus. It's worth looking into.

It wouldn't be a bad idea to look over the list of nominations for office.

Thanks are again due Professor C. Harry Edwards, this time for his sponsoring of the inter-fraternity baseball league. He has come to the front with an activity that furnishes a large number of students an opportunity to engage in some form of competitive sport. There is every reason to believe that a baseball league will be as successful as the interfraternity soccer league organized last fall. These are forms of sport thoroughly in accord with the health program that is planned for the time when the new men's gymnasium will be ready for occupation.

It has ever been "Doc's" desire to interest students in some form of physical activity that will benefit them after college as well as during their four years on the Colby campus. It is his very difficult task to interest men in themselves primarily, and in the sport secondarily. But paradoxically enough it has been necessary to promote the secondary aim first in order to secure any degree of interest in the primary aim.

Doc does not seek to drive men. His great task is to make men take their P. T. as something in which they must inject the element of "self." It is subjective interest that is needed in order to justify the giving of any physical training courses in college. These fraternity leagues, although they are probably not the ideal way of meeting out individual doses of physical exercise, stimulate a competitive interest that helps to put across the primary aim. More power to Doc and success to his proposal!

FAIR AUDIENCE SEES
JITNEY PLAYERS

An audience of about three hundred, made up for the most part of college people, attended the performance of the Jitney Players, presenting Sheridan's "A Trip to Scarborough," at the Silver Theater, Monday evening. The company, which came to Waterville under the auspices of "The Masque" and "Powder and Wig," the men's and women's dramatic societies of the college, is experiencing its first winter tour, after six successful summer seasons in New England and adjacent states.

Y. W. C. A.

Professor Everett Strong gave another of his much appreciated programs at the Y. W. C. A. meeting Tuesday night. His program was as follows: Romance by Schuman, Cradle Song by Brahms (arranged by Percy Grainger), Prelude in D flat by Chopin, another of Schuman's, the Prophet Bird, Lotus Land by Cyril Scott, and Spring Song by Grieg.

REVIEW OF YEAR'S WORK.

Ernest E. Miller, '20, of Bethel, Conn., chairman of the International Relations Committee, reported the International Institute of speakers as the major activity of his committee. At a conference of delegates from northern New England colleges held under the auspices of the New England "Y" Council last November in Boston it was decided that a list of speakers should be secured and that the New England office should act as a sort of a booking agent for the colleges.

The institute idea was adopted immediately by the Colby committees, the Y. W. C. A. working in conjunction with the Y. M. committee. The executive committee was headed by Ernest E. Miller, the program committee, by Dean Nettie M. Runnals, the entertainment committee, by Professor Herbert L. Newman, and the publicity committee, by Ernest E. Miller. The speakers secured were Dr. Kenneth S. Latourette, of Yale University Divinity School, Mrs. Huntington of Robert College, Constantinople, and Dr. Cumming of the Bangor Theological Institute. The Institute began on Sunday, March 17, and continued until the 19th. The total estimated attendance at twenty-five meetings held in connection with the Institute amounted to 3161.

Miller said that the work of the committee connected with the institute could not have been more perfect. "Dean Runnals, Dr. Morrow, and Professor Newman were the most congenial committeemen that I can ever hope to work with. And the student members measured up in every sense of the word. The mechanics of the institute were the smoothest that one could desire. Everyone did his assigned duty with promptness and willingness. Superb is the only suitable word to be used in describing the function of the whole institute committee."

Miller recommended that, should the "Y" contemplate another institute for the coming year, speakers of speaking ability and some caliber of thought be signed up at once. It was found true in the experiment past that men who are in demand are often booked a year in advance. "These are the men, by all means, that should be secured."

Sterling C. Ryder, '29, of Portland, chairman of the Program Committee of the "Y," submitted the following report. "The first speaker of the year was Dr. Artman of Chicago. Since then a bi-weekly program has been put on in which some of the most interesting speakers in the state have taken part, including Dr. Finnie of Lewiston; Dr. Melzner of Orono, now pastor of the M. E. Church in Waterville; Mr. Clarence C. Stetson, chairman of the Maine Development Commission and president of the Bangor Chamber of Commerce; Dr. E. C. Whittemore of Waterville; Dr. William R. Wood of Augusta; Dr. Drew T. Harthorn, principal of Coburn Classical Institute; Mr. John Choate of Waterville, State Commander of the American Legion.

In addition to these speakers, Mrs. Hilda Ives, of Portland has been secured to speak on May 8th, with a mother's day message for the college men.

In conjunction with the Colby Y. W. C. A. we have put on two very interesting vespers services which have been well attended by students and citizens of Waterville. The first of these programs was entirely musical while the other was given over largely to an interesting talk by President E. C. Herrick of Newton Theological Institute.

Franklyn P. Adams, '30, of Belfast, reporting for the committee in charge of raising money for the Y. M. C. A., by means of subscription books sent out to alumni and friends of the college reported that the book canvass to date had brought in $171 and that more was to be expected.

ELECTRICITY—

the modern prospector

A STOUT heart; a burro laden with pick, shovel, and the bare necessities of life; and the prospector was ready for the gold rush—Sutter's Mill, the Pike's Peak country, Cripple Creek, Klondyke. A scattered trail of half-worked claims marked his sacrifices.

To-day mining is a business, with electricity replacing wasteful brawn in mine and mill.

The deep mine, with electric lights, hoists, and locomotives; the surface mine with huge electric shovels scooping up tons of ore in a single bite; the concentrating mill with its batteries of electrically driven machines; the steel mill with its constant electric heat—here are but a few of electricity's contributions to the mineral industries.

So in every industry, electricity increases production and cuts costs. It is the modern prospector, leading the way into wider fields and tapping undeveloped resources—that we may enjoy a finer civilization and a richer, fuller life.

You will find this monogram on powerful motors that drive heavy mining machinery and on tiny motors that drive sewing machines. Both in industry and in the home it is the mark of an organization that is dedicated to electrical progress.

PHI DELTS VICTORS IN DRUID CUP MEET

Two Colby Records Broken As Trackmen Compete In Annual Clash

Phi Delta Theta displaced Delta Kappa Epsilon as Track and Field champion of Colby college by winning the annual Interfraternity meet on Seaverns Field, Saturday afternoon, thereby taking possession of the Druids Cup. The score was Phi Delta Theta 39; Delta Kappa Epsilon 23; Lambda Chi Alpha 19; Zeta Psi 14; Alpha Tau Omega 13; Delta Upsilon 13; Kappa Delta Rho 9; Non-Fraternity 5.

The meet was one of the best in years, performances in nearly every event being high class. Two Colby records went by the board when Larry Robinson of Phi Delta Theta leaped 23 feet in the broad jump, displacing 21 feet 3 1-3 inch jump made by Frank Nardini back in 1914 and when Christensen of Zeta Psi hurled the discus 127 feet 11 1/2 inches to wipe out the record of 124 feet 7 inches made by Tom Joyce in 1916. Robinson's jump also bettered the State record of 22 feet 9 3/4 inches made by Pat French of University of Maine in 1915.

The battle for individual honors was a hectic one with seven men being in the running. Larry Robinson and Alden Sprague topped the field with thirteen each by virtue of two firsts and second. Steinhoff, a new man uncovered by Coach Ryan took ten points by outfooting the field in both hurdle races in good time. Charlie Giles of Phi Delta Theta and Snub Pollard of Alpha Tau Omega each scored nine points by taking a first, a second and a third. Don Christie and Captain Mayo A. Seekins scored eight and seven respectively.

The broad jumping was the best seen here in years. Not only did Robinson break the old record but so did Johnny Walker of Zeta Psi who came within an inch of twenty-two feet and Bernard Shaw with a leap of 21 feet 1 inch was only two inches behind the old record.

The competition in the sprints was very close between Giles, Sprague and Brown. Hurlburt came from behind to win the quarter mile fifty yards from the tape and the time turned in by Rivkin in the half mile exceeded any ever made by a Colby man except Charlie Sansone, the record holder.

The summary:
120 yard high hurdles: Won by Steinhoff, Phi Delta Theta; second, Robinson, Phi Delta Theta; third, Seekins, Delta Kappa Epsilon. Time 17 sec.

100 yard dash: Won by Sprague, Delta Upsilon; second, Giles, Phi Delta Theta; third, Brown, Lambda Chi Alpha. Time 10 1-5 sec.

One mile run: Won by Christie, Lambda Chi Alpha; second, Caddoo, Lambda Chi Alpha; third, Clement, Alpha Tau Omega. Time 4 min. 54 4-5 sec.

440 yard run: Won by Hurlburt, Kappa Delta Rho; second, Good, Delta Kappa Epsilon; third, Acierno, Phi Delta Theta. Time 53 3-5 sec.

220 yard low hurdles: Won by Steinhoff, Phi Delta Theta; second, Wheeler, Kappa Delta Rho; third, Benson, Kappa Delta Rho. Time 26 4-5 sec.

220 yard dash: Won by Giles, Phi Delta Theta; second, Sprague, Delta Upsilon; third, Brown, Lambda Chi Alpha. Time 23 sec.

Two mile run: Won by Batson, Lambda Chi Alpha; second, Christie, Lambda Chi Alpha; third, Farnham, Lambda Chi Alpha. Time 10 min. 54 2-5 sec.

880 yard run: Won by Rivkin, Non-Fraternity; second, Pottor, Alpha Tau Omega; third, Good, Delta Kappa Epsilon. Time 2 min. 2 sec.

Pole vault: Won by Jordan, Delta Kappa Epsilon, 10 ft. 6 in.; second, Twadello, Zeta Psi, 10 ft.; third, Abbott, Zeta Psi, 8 ft. 6 in.

Hammer throw: Won by Lunt, Phi Delta Theta, 123 ft. 4 1/2 in.; second, F. Dexter, Delta Kappa Epsilon, 121 ft. 7 1/2 in.; third, W. Dexter, Delta Kappa Epsilon, 111 ft. 6 in.

Shot put: Won by Pollard, Alpha Tau Omega, 38 ft. 1/2 in.; second, F.

Big Seventh Inning Allows Preppers to Cinch Victory

The Hebron Academy baseball team got in a big seventh inning on Seaverns Field last Saturday afternoon, to defeat the Freshmen 4 to 1 in a game which was featured by smart baseball on the part of both teams.

Taylor on the mound for the Freshmen was effective except in the big seventh when Hebron scored three runs. McNamara played a brilliant game in the field for the frosh and scored the only run for his team when he tallied in the first inning. Osborne hit well for Hebron while Mitchell held the frosh hitless in the four innings that he worked on the mound.

BOSTON COLLEGE HERE SATURDAY FOR MEET

The Colby track and field athletes will enter the first intercollegiate competition of the season on Seaverns Field, Saturday afternoon when they meet Boston College in a dual meet at 2 P. M. In this meet the pupils of Coach Ryan will meet one of the strongest teams to come to Seaverns Field in recent years and the competition is sure to be of a very high class.

The performances of the Colby athletes in the interfraternity meet last week were very satisfactory. The fact that two records which have been of long standing fall in this competition gives proof of the high class performances which were in order. There is a great deal of doubt, however, whether all of the athletes who showed up well in the meet will be available for intercollegiate competition. The scholastic standing of some of them is in doubt and they must clear up certain matters if they are to be available for Saturday.

Boston College has a strong track team. They have a long tradition of successful track teams and their men are known all over the country. The large student body from which the team is picked assures the fact that the team which will show on Seaverns Field, Saturday afternoon will be one well able to uphold the great track traditions of the Hub institution. At the head of these athletes will be Coach Jack Ryder, B. A. A. and Olympic Coach, who has an enviable record as a developer of champions. The visitors will be strong in the sprints and middle distances. They will have with them the versatile Wilczewski who has been burning up the board tracks this winter and who will probably show in seven or eight events on Seaverns Field, Saturday.

If Coach Ryan is able to use his full strength in the competition this week his team will give Boston College a hard battle and will stand an even chance of being returned the winner. The final score will be close and the meet should be as thrilling to the spectator as those of two years ago which the Blue and Gray track athletes won by the slender margin of one point. If one or more men are forced to the sidelines by inability this week the chances of a Colby victory will be very slight although Coach Ryan will have his men battling for every available point.

The track squad have worked hard in preparation for this and the coming meets and deserves the support of every undergraduate of Colby. They have worked during the biting cold of winter on the board track while their more fortunate opponents enjoyed indoor playing fields. Although handicapped by cold, rain, and snow this spring they have worked hard to bring themselves to the peak for the spring competition. The renovations which are being made on Seaverns Field, which will greatly aid the track squad when they are completed, have further hindered their work in that they have been forced to use makeshift circles, pits, etc., in their early training.

The work of Robinson and Christenson who shattered Colby records on Seaverns Field, last Saturday, has eclipsed the work of the other athletes but not because of any lack of other good performances. In the broad jump Walker broke the previous college record by seven inches. He has worked hard for four years and this year seems to be in for the best performances of his entire career. Given a little warm weather in the next few weeks and the Colby veteran will be a factor in the State and New England meets.

Caddoo, another man new to the squad this year, showed well last Saturday. He is strong, has a nice stride, and with a little aggression will place in the coming competitions. Steinhoff, another freshman turned in a remarkable performance in winning both of the hurdle events. He has been coming along rapidly this spring and with more experience should show well in intercollegiate competition. Ryder was cheated of a victory in the 440 low hurdles last Saturday when he fell over the final hurdle, which was painted black and was nearly invisible. Rivkin and Hurlburt showed well in the middle distances. The former has worked hard for four years. He has been a consistent performer in the past, and this year seems to have come into his own. He went well last winter in the indoor competition and this spring should continue the good work which he started on the boards. Hurlburt, a junior, has come forward rapidly in the last few weeks and should be in for a good season.

VARSITY BASEBALL SQUAD ON SPRING TRIP

Yesterday the Varsity baseball team left on the trip that will take them through several of the New England states. They will be gone four or five days and during that time will play Brown, Rhode Island State, Connecticut Aggies, and Newport.

The prospects of a successful trip are good since the team has played excellent ball so far this year. They did not play Brown and Conn. Aggies last year so nothing much can be ventured about the outcome of these games. However, Brown was on the losing end of its contest with Holy Cross last week by the close score of 3 to 2; so a difficult game can be anticipated. In the R. I. State game last year the Mules subjected their opponents to their only defeat of the entire season and needless to say they expect to repeat the performance this time. They lost to Newport, but in view of the good team this year, they are counting on winning from the sailors.

An unexpected substitution was made at the last minute of the men to go on the trip. Clough, utility infielder, was reported ill and so McNamara, second baseman on the Freshman team, was delegated to go in his place. The other men to go on the trip are: Niziolok, Tiernoy, Klusik, Deaton, Thornton, Roberts, Lovett, Karkos, Hoderleg, McKeen, Mansfield, Brown and Ferguson.

BOSTON CONFERENCE.

land is but a part of a general decline in industry which has affected every portion of the country except the North Central States. He stated that New England should not be discouraged and that it should avoid any form of industrial inferiority complex.

"At the afternoon conference S. B. Montgomery, assistant manufacturing manager of Bird & Son, Inc., stated that in his opinion the college failed to provide an education in the true sense of the word. 'Education' he pointed out comes from the Latin verb 'e-duco' which means to lead out; but that in his opinion most colleges were merely 'pouring in.' Less than one-quarter of all college graduates stand a chance of getting over $5000 a year according to Mr. Montgomery.

"Morris A. Black, president of the Lindner Company of Cleveland, Ohio, speaking on the subject, 'Merchants of Tomorrow,' said that a college education is not an advantage but an opportunity.

"The informal dinner at 6.30 in the evening was presided over by Nathaniel W. Emerson, president of the University Club. After tracing the origin and growth of the Department of Education and Vocation under the direction of Mr. Lary, he introduced as speakers Clifford S. Anderson, counsel for the Norton Co., of Worcester, Mass., and Dr. James L. McConaughy, president of Wesleyan University, probably the two ablest and most brilliant speakers of the conference. Both men discussed 'Business and the College,' Anderson from an industrial and President McConaughy from an academic viewpoint.

"Friday morning the juniors from the New England Colleges were in charge of the session. The general topic discussed was, 'An Undergraduate's View of the Purpose and Value of College Training,' and the presiding officer was William E. Arnstein, the junior representative from Yale. The four speakers were: R. W. Wilson of Amherst; J. W. Riley of Bowdoin; R. H. Sharp of Harvard; and J. W. Juckett of Norwich University.

"The luncheon which followed the morning session was confined to the members of the department of education and vocation, the general committee of the department, the college council, the alumni advisory council, and the council of business executives. The topic discussed was the 'Coordination of College Personnel Work of the Department of Education and Vocation,' the speakers being Attorney Ellis Spear of Boston and Professor Carl V. Woodbury of Norwich University.

"The final session of the conference was devoted first to a discussion of the opportunities for college men in the field of engineering and finally to a survey of the Federal service as a field for college trained men. The first two speakers, who spoke on the subject, 'Laying the Corner Stone—Engineering,' were D. S. Beyer, vice president of the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., of Boston and J. A. Hunnewell, president of the Lowell Electric Light Corporation. The second speaker, Mr. Hunnewell, stated that in his opinion the essential characteristics which a man just entering business must possess are intellect, personality, and executive capacity.

"The last two speakers of the conference, who discussed the general subject, 'In Government Service,' were Ismar Baruch, assistant to the Chief Examiner of the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., and H. A. Sweetser, manager of the Boston office of the Bureau of Domestic and Foreign Commerce."

DINNER HELD.

Brown's report was his disclosure of the interest he is finding among non-graduates who see Colby only from the standpoint of its educational opportunities and its possibilities as a good public investment for men of large means.

Others who spoke were Dr. Edward B. Mathews, Professor of Geology at Johns Hopkins' University and State Geologist for Maryland; Congressman John E. Nelson and Dr. Donald S. Knowlton. A variety of plans for immediate action by the Washington group were suggested, and General Lord made the first move for organization by the appointment of a committee composed of Dr. Knowlton, chairman, and Messrs. Ernest G. Walker, George Otis Smith, Fred W. Newcombe, and Everett G. Holt.

Mr. Smith, chief of the U. S. Geological Survey, was absent on a trip to the West Coast, but his utmost cooperation is assured the Washington committee. Other outstanding Colby men at the Capital who were absent but sent their pledges of support were Dr. Clarke Blance, Haven Metcalf, and Dr. Howard Arthur Tribou. The full list of those present at the dinner follows:

in connection with the personnel administration conferences of the University Club, Boston, one of which he attended last week.

The Junior delegates at the meeting were: Donald E. Allison, of West Medway, Mass., D. K. E.; A. Frank Giuffra, of Brooklyn, N. Y., P. D. T.; Edgar B. McKay, of Waterville, D. U.; Norman D. Palmer, of Hineckley, A. T. O.; George G. Henry, of Ashfield, Mass., L. C. A.; Theodore Nelson, of Newport, R. I., K. D. R.; and Chester F. Condon, of Shrewsbury, Mass., T. K. N.

In the receiving line Saturday evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Colgan, Professor George B. Viles, and Miss Corinne Van Norman.

The activities of the week-end were in charge of a committee consisting of: George F. Grady, '20, chairman, New Haven, Conn., A. Frank Giuffra, '30, Brooklyn, N. Y., Henry O. MacCracken, '31, Waterville, and Glenn B. Lawrence, '32, Bellows Falls, Vt.

SOCCER MANAGERS FOR HEALTH LEAGUE CHOSEN

At the regular meeting of the Colby Health League held in the Alumni Building, Wednesday, April 24, the following soccer managers were elected: Senior, Pauline Waugh; Junior, Helen Hobbs; Sophomore, Doris Spencer; Freshman, Ruth Ramsdell.

The soccer season has been greatly delayed on account of the unfavorable weather conditions but prospects for a successful season now begin to look favorable. With the regular spring tennis season eliminated because of the work being done on the courts, many more candidates than usual are out for soccer. If the field continues to be in good condition there will doubtless be a schedule of interclass games.

DEPUTATION TEAMS ACTIVE SUNDAY.

Two deputation teams were sent to Augusta and Hallowell, Sunday, under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A. Fred R. Knox, '31, Ruth E. Ramsdell, '32, and Mary E. Allen, '31, constituted the team which took charge of the Sunday morning service at the Baptist Church of Hallowell.

Mark H. Garabedian, '30, Charles G. Corse, '32, and Richard Cummings, '32, made up the second team which was sponsored and entertained by the Young People's Society of the South Parish Congregational Church of Augusta.

The team was entertained at a social Saturday night. At the Sunday morning service, held under the direction of the Y. P. Society, Garabedian preached on "Playing the Game." In the afternoon, the deputation held a mass meeting of the Young People's groups of all the Augusta churches. Corse spoke on "Unselfishness, the Basis of a Christian Life," and Cummings followed with a talk on "Letting Yourself Out."

These two deputations make a total of 14 trips that the Colby Y. M. C. A. has officiated this year.
