OPENING SHOT FIRED IN DEVELOPMENT FUND $500,000 DRIVE A SUCCESS

College Pledges Hundred Per Cent Backing In Twelve Short Hours
of Canvassing

A one hundred per cent subscription to the Colby College $500,000 Development Fund by the men of the Colby student body was reported last night at ten o'clock by John S. Davidson, '31, of Omaha, Neb., chairman of the student drive committee. Mr. Davidson announced that the total enrollment of the men's division had been canvassed and the hundred per cent subscription secured in the space of twelve hours.

Teams representing the various fraternities and the non-fraternity group began the canvassing of the student body yesterday morning under the leadership of the two division leaders: John E. Walker, '29, of Winthrop, Mass., and Charles W. Jordan, '29, of Auburn, Mass. action that led to the thoroughly successful student drive was first secured by the program put on by the Development Fund Committee in the college chapel at 9.30. At that time, although subscriptions were already pouring in, from all the teams, three fraternities the Alpha Tau Omega, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and the Phi Delta Theta announced one hundred per cent pledging of their membership. During the day the soliciting of the subscriptions went on apace until at ten o'clock last night Chairman Davidson was able to announce a one hundred per cent backing by the student body.

The loyal backing and intense interest shown by the students in the opening of the drive for the $500,000 for the development of Colby is the first shot fired in the drive that will extend all over the east and as far west as Omaha, Neb. This support will undoubtedly be followed with added enthusiasm as the campaign is carried to the alumni of Boston on Monday and so on to Hartford, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Chicago, and Omaha during the next two weeks.

The committees representing the various fraternity groups in the drive are made up as follows: Division leader, Charles W. Jordan; Lambda Chi Alpha, Harold D. Phippen, '30, Islesford; William R. Wyman, '29, Fairfield; Arthur H. Snyder, '29, Portland; Alpha Tau Omega, Gordon M. Johnson, '30, Houlton; Norman Palmer, '30, Hinkleley; John H. Lee, '30, Portland; Zeta Psi, Charles A. Cowing, '29, West Springfield, Mass.; William N. Crabtree, '32, Dover-Foxcroft; Allen Turner, '31, Mothuen, Mass.; Delta Kappa Epsilon, Carroll J. Cooke, '29, Meriden, Conn.; Edward F. Hayde, '31, White Plains, N. Y.; Donald E. Allison, West Medway, Mass.; Franklin B. Dexter, '29, Mattapoisett, Mass.; Non-fraternity, Richard P. Hodson, '29, South Thomaston; Floyd Mason, '29, Bethel.

KAPPA PHI AND DELTA SIG HOLD MEETING

Clyde E. Russell, principal of Winslow High, was the speaker at a joint meeting of the college educational societies of the men's and women's divisions held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms of the Alumnae Building, Wednesday evening. The members of Kappa Phi Kappa, national educational fraternity, were guests of Delta Sigma Chi, the women's education society.

Mr. Russell, taking as his subject, "The Problems of Secondary School Administration," said that the ultimate product of the school should be the normal, healthy, happy individual instead of the abnormal and over-brilliant type. He discussed the various phases of the problems of classroom surroundings, personality of the teacher, and disciplinary methods. At the close of the talk the meeting was open for discussion, at which time many of the members of the two societies took the opportunity of asking Mr. Russell's advice on questions pertinent to them as prospective teachers.

After the meeting the members of the women's society served light refreshments in the new gymnasium hall.

Annual K. D. R. Formal Dance Held Friday.

Fifty couples attended the annual spring formal dance of Xi Chapter of Kappa Delta Rho fraternity which was held Friday evening from 8 until 1 o'clock in the fraternity house on Elm street.

Hundreds of balloons of red, blue, pink, yellow and green hues were hung from the ceilings and doors, and suspended from the walls, adding colorfully to the evening's entertainment. Novel programs, corsages of flowers which were given out to the lady guests, and an elimination dance number with a box of chocolates for the prize couple, were among the attractions of the evening. The music for fourteen dances and two extras was furnished by John Fogg and His Doctors of Rhythm.

The patrons and patronesses were Dean Nettie M. Runnals, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Ashcraft, Professor and Mrs. Euclid Hall, Arthur M. Otman, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Cadwallader. The committee of the fraternity in charge of the dance was composed of Robert W. Stewart, '31, Hudson, Mass., chairman; E. Richard Benson, '29, Bethel, Conn.; and Richard J. Race, '29, of Guilford.

ECHO BOARD HOLDS ANNUAL BANQUET

Colgan, Hall and Brown Are Speakers at Yearly
Formal Affair

The second annual formal banquet of the Colby ECHO association was held at the Elmwood Hotel, Saturday evening, May 11, at seven-thirty o'clock. Fifty members and guests of the ECHO were present.

After a chicken dinner had been served, Ernest E. Miller, '29, retiring editor-in-chief and toastmaster of the evening, spoke briefly to the members of the board in acknowledgment of their cooperation throughout the year and wishing the new staff the success enjoyed by this year's board. He then introduced G. Cecil Goddard who also spoke of the splendid work done by this year's ECHO, especially in aid of the $500,000 Development Fund project. He told of the enlargement of the number of subscriptions from one thousand to over two thousand to reach nearly every alumnus of the college.

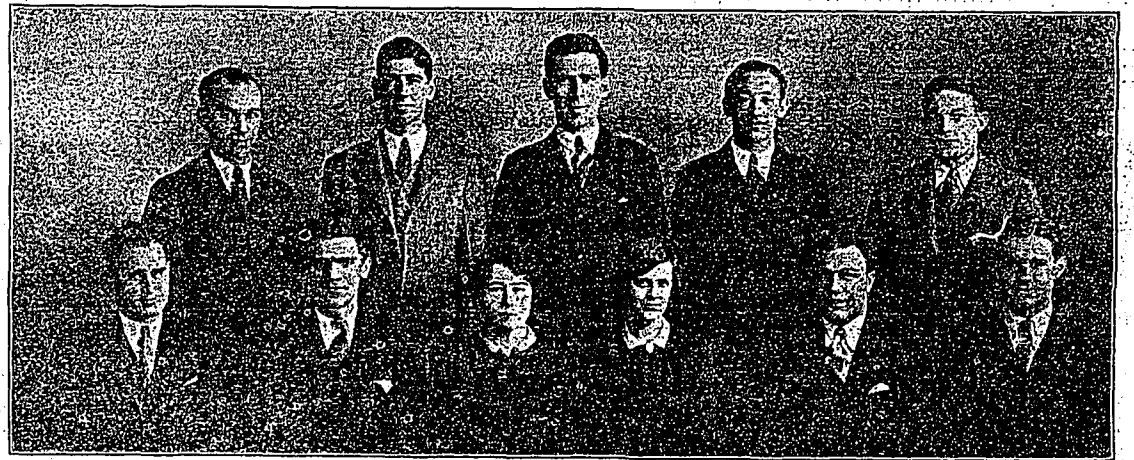

Professor Edward J. Colgan was the next speaker. Professor Colgan announced that he has made his decision to stay on the Colby faculty instead of accepting the very tempting offer of a much larger institution which has been seeking his services for several months. Professor Colgan said that he does not regard his decision as a sacrifice but as an opportunity for a larger service. There is no excuse for a Colby inferiority complex and the students should get any such conception out of their systems. He predicted large success to the Development Fund project and a big future for Colby.

Toastmaster Miller introduced Theodore Nelson, '30, of Newport, R. I., the new editor-in-chief of the ECHO. Nelson briefly told of the development and improvement of the ECHO during the last two or three years and promised to try to uphold the high standard of journalistic achievement set by this year's board.

Dr. Curtis H. Morrow, the faculty financial adviser of the ECHO, was the next speaker. He commended the ECHO of 1929 especially in its editorial supervision. Harking back to the old days of the Colby ECHO he described the 1892 sheet in a humorous manner. Pauline Bakeman, '30, of Peabody, Mass., the editor-elect of the women's division, was then introduced and she read a speech prepared by Lucile Whitcomb, '29, of Farmington, the retiring women's editor, after which she made a few comments of her own in behalf of the women's board.

Oliver L. Hall, '93, editor of the Bangor Commercial, was next introduced as the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Hall told a series of humorous anecdotes connected with his work in the field of journalism. When he attended Colby he was editor of the ECHO and following his graduation he became editor of the Waterville Sentinel, succeeding Gen. Herbert M. Lord. He has been on (Continued on page 4)

JUNIOR WEEK END COMMITTEE GIVES OUT PROGRAM FOR EXERCISES OF CLASS OF NINETEEN-THIRTY

JUNIOR WEEK-END COMMITTEE

--Plan to have Chaser
After Junior Prom

Hugh Pendexter, the well-known historical novelist, will speak at the Junior Class Day exercises to be held in the Colby chapel on Friday, May 17, at 1.30 P. M. Mr. Pendexter, regarded by English critics as one of the best contemporary writers, has had a wide journalistic experience as well as eighteen years of literary writing.

The complete program for the Junior Week-end is as follows: Friday, May 17, Ivy Day Program at the Colby chapel. Prayer by Mark Garabedian; awarding of gifts by Barbara C. Libby and Charles W. Weaver, Jr.; oration by Albert C. Palmer; planting of Ivy by Junior class presidents, Pauline Bakeman and Andrew C. Klusick. The planting of the ivy will follow the address by Mr. Pendexter.

WHITE MULE TO APPEAR AGAIN AS COLBY COMIC

Will Be On Sale At State
Track Meet and on Newstands

The White Mule, Colby's comic magazine, is coming back. According to an announcement made by the present staff, a spring issue will be on sale Saturday, May 18th, at the State Track Meet, and on the newstands downtown at twenty-five cents a copy.

This number is a rejuvenation issue, being the first to be published since the fall of 1927. This issue is somewhat of an experiment and an attempt to put the magazine back on a respectable basis. It is also the aim of the new White Mule board to afford an outlet in print for the literary talent of the student body. If the experimental issue is a success in that the response of the student body demands its continuance, elections will be held next year and a regular White Mule board organized. It will then be issued three times during the college year.

The present White Mule board which is undertaking this spring issue is composed of: Editor, A. Frank Giuffra, '30, Brooklyn, N. Y.; business manager, Deane R. Quinton, '30, Waterville; art editor, Henry O. MacCracken, '31, Waterville; and circulation manager, Charles W. Weaver, '30, Kittery.

Concert Guarantors Elect Board For 1930

At a meeting of the guarantors of the Ruth Webb concert Tuesday in the college chapel, the executive board to serve for 1929-30 was elected as follows: Edgar B. McKay, '30, Waterville; Isa Putnam, '30, Danforth; Eleanor Rogers, '32, Haverhill, Mass.; Richard E. Cummings, '32, Newton Center, Mass.; Mary Waggatt, '30, Rockland; and John Webb, '31, Brockton, Mass.

The meeting was well attended and plans were enthusiastically discussed for next year's program. Early indications are that the performance's next year will inaugurate many new ventures. An attempt will probably be made to secure the services of Ruth Webb for the initial concert, and many of the leading figures of both American and European concert stages are being considered.

Mr. Pendexter will give his address in the college chapel instead of at the Opera House, as was first announced. Z. P. A. Frank Giuffra, Brooklyn, N. Y., P. D. T.; Chandler B. Mosher, Howard, Mass., K. D. R.; John H. Lee, Portland, A. T. O.; Wendell H. Thornton, Rockland, D. U.; George L. Walsh, Millinocket, T. K. N.; and John H. Wisnoski, Ware, Mass., Non-Frat.

The dance orchestra, Roman's Pennsylvanians, is considered one of the best in the state. The dance order will consist of 14 dances and four extras. For the Prom chaser dance at the Alumnae Building, the Royal Troubadours of Waterville will furnish the music.

The patrons and patronesses for the Junior Prom are as follows: Dr. and Mrs. George F. Parmenter; Prof. and Mrs. Lester F. Weeks; Prof. and Mrs. C. Harry Edwards; and Miss Corinne B. Van Norman.

For the Junior Prom chaser, May 18: Dean Nettie M. Runnals, Miss Corinne B. Van Norman, Coach and Mrs. Michael J. Ryan, and Prof. and Mrs. Herbert C. Libby.

Pi Gam To Hold Initiation Banquet

The annual initiation and banquet of the Maine Alpha chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the national social science scholarship society, will be held at the Messalonskee Inn, tonight, at six-thirty. Present members of the Colby chapter and alumni will be present. Professor Ernest C. Marriner, chairman of the executive committee, will be the principal speaker. Other speakers will include: Ernest E. Miller, '29, of Bethel, Conn., president of the chapter, Dr. Curtis H. Morrow of the economics and sociology department, Virginia Dudley, '29, of Houlton, and Nathaniel L. Silowitz, '29, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Elsie Lewis Wins Mary Carver Prize

The Mary L. Carver prize poem for 1929 was written by Elsie H. Lewis, '29, of Lynn, Mass. The contest was opened to the students last year for the first time, Anne H. Goodwin winning the prize of fifty dollars. Any woman of Colby college may enter the contest and there is no restriction concerning the subject or verse form save that the poem shall consist of no less than fourteen lines nor more than three hundred. The selection of the prize poem is made by a board of judges outside of the college. This year twenty-three poems were submitted, all being of good quality for college students. The poem of Miss Lewis, "To Swinburne," is a thoughtful piece of writing showing a decided talent on the part of its author. Miss Lewis has always been an outstanding student of English as well as a participant in many other activities, her latest office being that of president of Student Government. She is graduating in June to return as secretary to the Dean of Women in the fall. Below is the poem which was awarded the Mary L. Carver Prize.

To Swinburne.
You sing of Prosperine, not Christ,
and gods
Not God inspire your verse, The Nazarene
Has made your world a dreary place,
a moan
Uncompromising universe of elods, Whence man escapes, and couched beneath the sods
Sleeps on, a sleep eternal and sereno.

And that is all, you think, no Light
unseen Enwraps the soul. The Gospels are but frauds,
Deluding man to seek a life beyond
The grave. It may be that a dream-less sleep
Induced by popples' deadly wine may soothe
The soul grown tired of life, but an ageless bond
Joins me to Him. My spirits upward leap.
And death but leads me nearer to the Truth.

Prof. Weeks Speaks To Chi Epsilon Mu Club

Professor Lester F. Weeks was the speaker at a meeting of the Chi Epsilon Mu, chemical society, held in Chemical Hall, Friday, May 10, at 4.30 P. M.

Professor Weeks took as his subject "The Formation of Matter" and explained the Lewis' Langmuir theory of the origin of matter.

There will be no meeting of the society this Friday because of the holiday, but on Friday, May 24, the annual election of officers of Chi Epsilon Mu for 1929-30, will be held. It is urged that all members be present.

SENIOR CLASS DAY SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED

According to an announcement recently made by the faculty committee in charge of the commencement program Lowell P. Leland of Sangerville, Chester E. Morrow, of Mountain View, N. H., and Lucy E. Chapin, of Greenfield, Mass., will be the speakers for the Senior Class Day Exercises to be held during the morning of Saturday, June 15.

The class day speakers are chosen from those in the Senior class who have maintained the highest scholastic averages for their four years work. All three of the speakers received the Phi Beta Kappa honors after the first semester this year. Morrow and Leland have been active in variety debating and are members of Pi Kappa Delta, the national forensic society.

It is the aim of the new ECHO Board to maintain the high standards that have been set by the retiring staff.

"WE WANT A NEW GYM."

The ball is rolling. The Drive is under way. Every man in college has contributed his share towards the Development Fund that will make Colby a realization of the dreams of those who love her. It has been suggested that a large white mule be marked off in sections on Coburn Hall, each section representing a part of the $500,000 to be raised. As the pledges are made the sections will be painted in, until the Colby mule is resplendent in its rejuvenation. PAINT THE MULE.

SOME MORE ABOUT COLBY SPIRIT.

When Professor Colgan announced his decision to remain on the Colby faculty at the ECHO banquet Saturday evening, he stated that he does not regard the move as a personal sacrifice so much as an opportunity for a large service. His single objection to Colby is the attitude of defeatism, the inferiority complex characteristic of some of the students which results in an infectious lagging college spirit.

Kant says, "We are what we think we are." Most of the students are confident of the success of the Development Fund. The shadow of pessimism has almost entirely disappeared. But there must be explicit faith in the Colby of the future and there must be a revival of the real Colby spirit—and real college spirit is not necessarily the rah-rah, horn-blowing, banner-waving type.

College spirit may be defined as that background of ideals and attitudes towards one's Alma Mater which is the dominating and directing force behind one's acts with respect to her. Even this definition is not complete, for in college spirit is an indefinable something which cannot be summed up in any iron-clad definition.

It requires the student to enter into the college life and to play, not "crab" the game. It not only involves him but those around him and his contacts with them.

It includes the furthering of the efforts and aims of those representing the college. It tends to weld the student body into one integral unit without hindering any individual initiative. It is the giver of directions to one's college acts.

In summary, it is the spirit in the class-room, in fraternity or dormitory life, and on the athletic field which exemplifies LET'S GO, COLBY.

PROFESSOR OF GEOLOGY.

A Sonnet.

The mountains quake, and boiling lava rains,
Epeiric seas invade the desert lands,
The highest peaks are shrunk to penneplains
And forests find their graves in drifting sands.
The winged dragon and the dinosaur
In Jurassic splendor rule the warm moras.
A geologic day they strut and are
Foredoomed to abdicate their power, and pass.

The kingling, Man, a tiny sceptre wins
And waves it in a short, pretentious rule.
His passing, when an Age or two unspins,
But faintly ripples time's unbottomed pool.
Bewildered, he must cede the shifting stage
To nobler actors in a nobler age.

CAMPUS NOTES.

Did you hear about the freshman who, answering the questionnaire concerning health given to the Colby class of 1932, said that he had suffered from "spinal mental jitus?"

Spring is here. A senior rushed into the book store yesterday and said, "Cecil, let me cut a cross-word puzzle out of your paper—I must have something to do in class!"

Doctor Taylor announced in class that no woman can be a goddess in short skirts. The college misogynist adds truculently, "Nor in any other garb, now-a-days."

Since the very fine production given by the Jitney Players at the Silver Theater Monday night, the campus resounds with such terrific oaths as "Stop my vitals!" "Strike me speechless!" "Split my windpipe!" It was a rare entertainment, by the way, and we hope to see the Jitney Players again.

SPRING COMES FOR THE CO-ED.

The drill of silver April rain
Is pleasant to our hearing—
The wistful flowers are lifting heads
In every woodland clearing.

The fragrance of the April night
O'erwhelms Foss Hall in billows,
But drab, archaic rules forbid
Our dancing at The Willows!

Dear Gladiator:

Since the accomplishment of his immediate purpose last Fall that fire-eating son of the Romans, Polonius, seems to have passed into a state of blissful decadence, leaving to us lesser querulous spirits the lesser task of finding fault in our system of things.

But, wherefore? In our enlightened state of enthusiastic support and ambition for the college, traditions and practices—heavy in their accumulation of years—with which we were once content to comply, or at least to tolerate, have become irksome in their ridiculousness, and positively harmful in their influences.

I speak specifically of "that travesty on democracy—student self-government" in its only "effective" phase: the regulation of the social activities of the college. Perhaps the term regulation is overdrawn. At best it (the Student Council, since I am more familiar with this branch) can but hopefully, timidly, anxiously suggest a measure. Then, by the practice proven best, it entrusts it to its most ingratiating and diplomatic member, who by dint of overstatement and compromise wrings from the generous and sympathetic member of the faculty at whose mercy he happens to be—characteristically—an extra fifteen minutes for the dance, so that the frail co-ed may actually stay out until a quarter of eleven instead of the usual ten-thirty. How very daring! And this is "Student Self-government!"

As its latest concrete example, the action of the Student Council in relation to the customary "prom-chasers" may justly be held as characteristic. Despite the fact that small, congenial, informal house-parties are obviously the best and most delightful form of social function to follow a prom, the faculty committee on social functions has, it seems, acquired an aversion to such chasers. In order to coerce and embarrass the fraternities it was at first ordained that an orchestra should be prerequisite; then, it appears, the royal sanction was wholly withdrawn. One wonders what possible justification their action might have.

As a consequence in place of the usual little parties of close friends, as a chaser to the prom there will be held a general dance of the same type, but of an inferior order. What a substitute! And what a shining example of student government.

A healthy community is characterized by an interest in its own welfare. Are we to again sink in to the morass of indifference which has once engrossed us? Shades of the good Polonius!

LAKEWOOD PLAYERS OPEN SEASON NEXT MONDAY.

Fine Cast Assembled for "Pomeroy's Past."

The Lakewood Players start their season next Monday night by presenting "Pomeroy's Past" with a cast including several Maine favorites and well known players who have not heretofore appeared in this state. The Lakewood opening, which is now something of a gala annual event, will be attended by a representative audience from all sections of Maine including Portland, Bangor, Lewiston, Auburn, Rockland, Augusta and Waterville. Governor and Mrs. William Tudor Gardiner are expected as honored guests at the first performance and at a dinner for Maine newspapermen and women which will be given in the Inn prior to the theatre.

"Pomeroy's Past" is one of the truly delightful successes of recent Broadway seasons. Its author is Clare Kummer, who has written, among other things, such well known plays as "Rollo's Wild Oats," "Good Gracious Annabelle," and "A Successful Calamity." Miss Kummer's short stories frequently appear in The Saturday Evening Post, and she is noted for her brilliant dialogue and for her aptness at characterization. Her plays sparkle with wit and are genuine in appeal. "Pomeroy's Past" is her most entertaining contribution to the American drama. It ran a full season at the Longacre Theatre, New York, with Ernest Truex and Laura Hope Crews in two of the principal roles.

Houston Richards is a product of New England, and has, in fact, appeared in his native territory during most of his career. Those who follow Boston theatrical events closely may remember that Richards, then playing with the Boston Stock Company at the St. James Theater, was selected by Arthur Hammerstein for the role of Hard-Boiled Herman in "Rose-Marie," and stepped from the dramatic stage to overnight success in musical comedy. Boston and New York critics acclaimed it as one of the most sensational transitions in the history of the stage, for, prior to his opening at the Shubert Theatre in "Rose Marie" on only four days' notice, Richards had never appeared in musical comedy. During the long run of "Rose Marie" in Boston and other cities Richards scored heavily and he now has a long contract under the Hammerstein management. He is coming to Lakewood for the summer to spend a few weeks on the dramatic stage before returning to another musical piece.

Ohio, "The State of Presidents," contributes a native daughter this season to The Lakewood Players. Although she is but a short time out of school, she has, in two years of intensive dramatic training under the management of A. H. Woods and Edgar Solwyn, brought herself into considerable prominence, and Kathryn March is considered one of the important "finds" of a hectic Broadway season.

BROWN IN FINE FORM AS COLBY WINS FROM MAINE

Team Plays Smoothly Behind Great Hurling of Portsider

The Colby balltossers grabbed off the State Series game played at Orono, Saturday, 5 to 2, in a game that was featured by the good hurling of Bob Brown, Colby's portsider twirler. The outcome looked doubtful when he walked the first man to face him and then Wescott socked out a homer. But these two runs were all that Maine gathered during the afternoon. The only time that the Mules were threatened was in the 7th with two men on and none down, but Brown sent the next three to the bench on strikeouts. He fanned eleven men during the entire contest.

The first inning flash of Maine is about all that can be said about their side. Colby got one run in the second on a triple by Klusick who was batted in by Heddericg. Another came in the second on errors by True and a sacrifice play. The game moved along smoothly and without much excitement until the big 7th when the Mules had their big inning. Brown was safe on a boot by True, Roberts got a scratch, Deetjen sacrificed, Lovett hit to Elliott who cleverly held everyone on while he ran down Brown between third and home. Tierney then drove a hot one to Buzzell who let it go through for a home run, scoring three runs.

TENNIS TEAM WINS EASILY FROM BATES

Taking all but one match, the Colby tennis team won its first start against Bates on the local courts, Saturday afternoon, by a 5 to 1 count. Bujol was the only Garnet man to win his match, defeating Delaware in a close contest. In spite of the one-sided score some good tennis was played and most of the matches were hard fought. Captain Tattersall of Colby encountered some stiff opposition from Jacobs but finally won the set 6-7. The Bates man went to pieces in the second set and allowed his opponent to win a love set. Bob Allen had the least trouble of the Colby team in disposing of Richardson in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1. Delaware of Colby won the first set of his match but Bujol came from behind to take the next two sets and the match, 2-6, 6-4, 7-5. A freshman, Moore, showed up well in defeating Lightman 7-5, 6-3.

COLBY LOSES SERIES TILT TO BOWDOIN BY SCORE OF 6 TO 4

Ninth Inning Rally Wins For Brunswick Collegians

GAME PLAYED IN WIND

Playing in the most disagreeable of baseball conditions with the wind high and the temperature low, the varsity baseball nine went down to defeat at the hands of the Bowdoin Bears 6 to 4 on Wednesday afternoon. The stickwork of Lovett was the big thrill of the game. On his first trip to the plate he slammed out a long, low hit that cleared the left field fence, good for a home run. The second time up he crashed through with another that rolled under the fence at the end of the first base foul line. Since no ground rules have been made the homer was allowed. The high wind and cold wreaked havoc with the hitherto fine errorless game of the Mules. Six mistakes occurred to make the total errors so far this season, seven.

The batting rally by Bowdoin in the ninth put the lid on the game as far as the Bears were concerned. The score was tied at four all until Whittier came to bat and laced out the ball for a two bagger. Chalmers was hit by Brown. Lincoln fled out. Thompson walked and a moment later Crimmins laced out a single upon which both Whittier and Chalmers scored. Try as they would the Roundymen couldn't seem to find the ball in their half of the inning and the game ended with the score 6 to 4.

Ferguson's pitching was not up to its usual form and was nicked for six hits. The wind and cold bothered his control considerably.

BATES SHADES COLBY IN EXTRA INNING BASEBALL GAME

Bobcat Wins Weird Contest in Last Half of Twelfth

In a State Series game played in Lewiston, Monday afternoon, the Bates baseball team defeated the Roundy coached nine 6 to 5 in a weird contest that lasted twelve innings. It was one of the most unusual games played on the Bates field with both sides making good and bad plays along with constant protesting over the umpiring.

Bates won after one man was gone in the 12th. With Gilman on first base, Flaherty, Garnet star, slashed a line drive into center field. Roberts misjudged it in the wind and it rolled to the fence while Gilman scored the winning run.

Errors enabled each team to score at the start. Colby broke the tie with a three run rally in the sixth. Tierney walked. Then a series of Bates errors, along with passed balls and Klusick's hot single to third, enabled three Colby men to score.

Two hits and an error gave Bates one of the runs back for a 4 to 2 score, but Colby came back with another tally in the 7th for a 5 to 2 lead. In that inning Roberts and Deetjen singled, Lovett made a sacrifice and Roberts scored on Plager's boot. Bates tied in the eighth. Cascadden opened with a double. Walks were issued to Turner and Sole. Two infield plays produced as many runs, errors helping, and the tying run crossed the plate.

Both teams got men on bases in the overtime. In the last of the ninth Marston, Cascadden and Turner, first men up, singled, but Brown replaced Ferguson on the mound and kept Bates from scoring since two were thrown out at the plate and the third man grounded out.

NORTHEASTERN WINS CLOSE TRACK DUEL

Records Fly By The Boards As Visiting Team Takes Meet

The Northeastern University Track team pinned a 72 to 63 defeat on Colby in a meet on Seaverns Field, Saturday afternoon which was closely contested throughout and which was not decided until the visitors took first and second in the javelin throw, the final event, giving them a wide margin of victory.

High class performances were in order all through the afternoon with a warm sun aiding the athletes and bringing out a large number of track followers. Three Colby records were broken in the course of the afternoon. Christensen broke his own record in the discus throw with a heave of 129 feet 10 inches which broke the mark the freshman established earlier this spring by nearly two feet. Martin and Lundell of Northeastern cleared the bar in the pole vault at 11 feet 3 inches to break the Colby record, while Charlie Jordan of Auburn equalled the old Colby record of 11 feet. In the javelin throw all three winning throws beat the old Colby record.

The outstanding performers in the meet were Pollard, Giles, Steinhoff, and Brown of Colby and Jellison of Northeastern with eight points each. 100 yard dash: Won by Giles, Colby; second, Brown, Colby; third, So-bey, Northeastern. Time, 10 sec.

STATE TRACK MEET TO BE HELD HERE

Colby Will Be Strong In Dashes, Hurdles and Jumps

On Saturday, May 18, the Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet will be held on Seaverns Field. The four Maine colleges, Bowdoin, Bates, Colby, and University of Maine, will meet in competition. The probable outcome of the meet is still very much up in the air, though the dopsters seem to favor Maine's taking first place. This team is especially strong in the field events and should take enough points in the latter to nose out the rest of the competition for the lead.

The other places are very much in doubt with Colby, Bowdoin, and Bates all bidding for honors. The Ryan coached team, though without the services of its star performer, Larry Robinson, will no doubt render a good account of itself in the dashes, in which it is very strong. Sprague, Giles, and Brown should all be good for points in the sprints. Bill Steinhoff ought to clean up in the hurdles since he has led the field in that event during his last two times under competition. Capt. Seekins should place, if not win, in the high jump. Walker and Shaw should be good for points in the broad jump. Charlie Jordan may be good for a third in the pole vault though both Maine and Bates are well represented in that event. Sprague, because of his excellent showing in the Northeastern meet, should place in the javelin. Dexter and Lunt are about on a par with the representatives from the other colleges in the hammer throw and may be able to place in that event. Colby stands a good chance in the discus for a second or a third with Christensen and Pollard bidding for a place. Maine is strong in the latter and will probably win. Colby's chances in the runs are slim except in the 880 in which both Rivkin and Potter should be good for places. In the quarter mile, mile, and two mile, however, the White Mule team does not stand much of a chance and may not be able to place at all. All in all the Colby collegians stand an equal chance with Bowdoin and Bates and should take a second or a third in the meet.

ECHO BOARD.

gaged in journalistic work all his life and his vivid account of actual experience was of great interest to the group. His criticism of the ECHO was most favorable and complimentary.

Harold D. Phippen, '30, of Islesford, the newly elected business manager, and John I. Pagan, '30, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the newly chosen managing editor, both spoke briefly for their departments. The last speaker of the evening was Charles S. Brown, director of the Development Fund project, who spoke highly of the services rendered by the ECHO which will help greatly in raising the money in the active drive beginning the 15th. He said that wherever he goes on his campaign work throughout the country he finds that the Colby ECHO has preceded him and the work is made easier for him in interesting outsiders in the college. The ECHO, he said, is the best means of advertising that Colby has and its high journalistic standard speaks well for the college.

University Women Entertain Seniors

The Waterville branch of the American Association of University Women entertained the members of the senior class at the home of Mrs. Edward Risley on College avenue, Monday evening at eight o'clock. An informal social hour was enjoyed and also a brief program. Mrs. George F. Parmenter, president of the organization, welcomed the women of the class of nineteen twenty-nine and explained the purpose of the American Association of University Women, urging each senior to affiliate with a chapter next year if she has the opportunity. Miss Totman gave a reading, "Ashes of Roses," which was followed by the singing of class and Colby songs. Refreshments of tea and cake were served.

COLBY ELIMINATED IN STATE TENNIS PLAY

The State Tennis tournament was all over as far as Colby was concerned by Tuesday afternoon when the Bowdoin doubles team of Jensen and Altenburg defeated Tattersall and Allen of Colby, 6-4, 6-4. This defeat put all of the local racquet men out as Moore and Delaware were beaten by Parker and Jacobs respectively in the early stages of the singles and Tattersall lost his first-round match to Soley of Bowdoin in the biggest upset of the day. The Colby number two men, Allen, was successful in winning his first match from Lightman of Bates but was defeated by Abbot of Bowdoin in his next match.

It was generally expected that Captain Tattersall would retain his laurels that he won last year as the Maine Intercollegiate singles champion. There was also a strong possibility that Allen would come through as runner-up but Soley and Abbot played superior tennis and deserved to win. Tattersall was especially off form in his match with Soley. His net game was his worst failing and it was there that he met defeat. Soley played a much better brand of tennis than was expected of him and had the erstwhile champion dashing back and forth continually from base-line to net and it was on Tattersall's mistakes that the Bowdoin man took the match in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4.

In his match with Abbot, Allen was also below his best form and lacked the stamina necessary to compete with his opponent's quick returns. Abbot played an incessant chopping game that Allen was unable to solve and these two facts gave the visitors the two most important matches.

In the other second-round match Jensen of Bowdoin put out his teammate, Parker, by the score of 6-4, 6-4.

A third-round match was played with Jacobs of Bates beating Abbot of Bowdoin in a close, well-played match. The Bowdoin representative was unable to cope with Jacobs in the serving department and his old chop lost some of its effect. The first set was hard fought and resulted in a 9-7 win for Jacobs and the second set also went into extra games before the Bates man won, 7-5.

The singles crown will be fought out at Brunswick with Jacobs playing the winner of the Soley-Jensen tussle. The doubles championship will be played for between two Bowdoin duets. Jensen and Altenburg will play Soley and Parker with the odds favoring the latter pair.

The summary:
First round (singles) Tattersall (C) bye, Soley (Bo) bye.

Parker (Bo) defeated Moore (C), 7-0, 6-3, 6-3.

Jensen (Bo) defeated Bujol (B), 7-5, 6-0.

Abbot (Bo) defeated Richardson (B), 6-1, 6-3.

Jacobs (B) defeated Delaware (C), 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Allen (C) defeated Lightman (B), 6-4, 6-2.

Doubles:
Soley-Parker (Bo) defeated Richardson-Lightman (B), 6-2, 6-2.

At the business which followed a supper, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Dr. Florence E. Dunn; vice president, Mrs. Carl J. Friday, May 17—Pep program by the Athletic Department.

Monday, May 20—Rev. Harold Metzner, of the Waterville Methodist Church.

Wednesday, May 22—Meeting under the direction of the Student Committee of the $500,000 Development Fund. Rev. George Wolstenholm of Bath, speaker.

Y. W. C. A.

Those who attended the Y. W. C. A. meeting Tuesday evening had their knowledge of the Bible severely tested by a game of Bible baseball. The players were divided into two sides with Neta Riley and Ruth Daggett as captains. Muriel MacDougal was pitcher, asking questions about the Bible, and Helen Chase was umpire, deciding whether or not the answers were correct. A wrong answer counted as a strike, while a correct answer took the one who gave it to first base. If the next persons to be questioned answered correctly the first moved to second base, then to third, and finally back to the home base with a score.

Such questions as "Where was Paul stoned?" and "What man named his wife?" were asked. Neta Riley's side won the game by a score of 18 to 8.
