Bright Lights

Members of the cast of Lost With You, a musical created by Katie Monteleone '18 and Josua Lutian '18, gather onstage at the Ripley-Grier Studios in New York City. The musical was workshopped with Broadway professionals in January before being staged at Colby in February. Monteleone and Lutian met singing a cappella as first years and discovered they shared a love of musical theater. The musical follows a family as members navigate difficult relationships.

Rivalry and Revelry

Colby players Jack Burton '17, J.P. Schuhlen '20, and Phil Klitirinos '18 celebrate after Klitirinos scored in the Mules' dramatic 5-4 victory over Bowdoin Dec. 3. After a 2-1 Colby win in Brunswick the previous night, Colby rallied from a 3-1 deficit, scoring the go-ahead goal midway through the third period. The Mules then weathered the Polar Bears' three-man advantage to come away with the victory in the storied rivalry.

MOMENTUM

Colby is on the move. Downtown revitalization, unprecedented interest from the best high school students, transformative gifts to expand programs—the College is progressing at a pace not seen since the campus was relocated to Mayflower Hill. None of this would happen without the Colby community. Your support allows the College to set and achieve ambitious goals, ensuring a Colby education for the most qualified and deserving students.
