COLBY TRACK TEAM WINS TWO VICTORIES

Beats Middlebury 72 to 63
And Swamps University of Vermont

With Larry Robinson and Doug Wheeler setting the pace, the Colby track and field team came through with two victories in two days on its Vermont trip, topping Middlebury on Friday 72 to 63 and swamping the University of Vermont on Saturday by the score of 99 2-3 to 35 1-3. Coach Ryan produced an exceptionally strong squad and Colby apparently has its strongest team in several seasons. The Blue and Gray was especially strong in the weight events, taking every point save one against Middlebury and winning three out of four firsts in the weights against Vermont.

Some fine performances were brought out in the course of the two days of competition. Doug Wheeler, Colby's best hurdler for quite some time, came through with four first places, winning his two first places in both hurdle events against both teams. His outstanding performance was Saturday when the Mule timber topper skinned over the high fences in 15 4-5 seconds, tying the Colby record set by Weise in 1924. The new rule made last year will discount Wheeler's achievement somewhat because he knocked over a hurdle and the record can not be recognized. Robinson accounted for no less than twenty-eight points, leading the Colby scorers for the two days. Larry won his specialty, the high jump, on both days, won the shot put against Middlebury, took third in the high hurdles against Middlebury, won the broad jump at Vermont, placed third in the shot there, and took second in both hurdles.

Cy Perkins had the unique distinction of being a record holder for the brief space of a single day. He heaved the ball 148 feet 10 1-8 inches Friday to break Lunt's record, set last year. But George Sprague came through Saturday with a tremendous heave of 161 feet 6 1-2 inches, Perkins placing third.

Captain Tom Trewoy turned in a creditable performance on the trip, winning the javelin against Middlebury and tying for second in the pole vault. Saturday the Colby leader again won the javelin with a throw of over 175 feet and placed second in the pole vault. Harry Williams ran (Continued on page 3)

COLBY AND MAINE TIE FOR LEAD IN BASEBALL

Several Outstanding Contests
Played Last Week

Last week's games in the Maine State Baseball League resulted in one dramatic change in the standing: Maine rose from third place to a tie with Colby for the lead. During the week Maine won three games, one from each of her rivals, and since Colby lost both to the University and Bowdoin after beating Bates, Maine and Colby are tied with a percentage of .600.

The two outstanding contests of the week were both Colby games. Wednesday's victory over Bates, 1 to 0, was featured by the sparkling pitching of Wayne Roberts and the splendid support given him by the infield. Then last Saturday came the best game of the season, even though the Mules did lose, 5 to 4.

This game, played against Bowdoin at Brunswick, went fourteen innings and Colby's individual star was again Roberts. The latter pitched the whole game and got himself out of tough spots remarkably well. "Red" Lovett also came through, hitting a long triple in the ninth which enabled Colby to force the game into extra innings.

Maine's rapid rise in the standing shows that she has at last hit her stride and all signs point to a great struggle between her and Colby in their next game, which falls a week from Saturday.

The Standing
Teams	Won	Lost	Pct.
Colby	8	2	.800
U. of M.	8	2	.800
Bowdoin	8	3	.727
Bates	1	8	.111

FORTY-FIFTH NORTHFIELD STUDENT CONFERENCE TO MEET JUNE 10 TO 18

Event Will Take Place At Eaglebrook Lodge
In Deerfield

The forty-fifth Northfield Student Summer Conference will meet this year on June 10-18 at Eaglebrook Lodge in Deerfield, Mass., which is three miles from Greenfield. The change of meeting place for this year was made necessary because of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Mt. Herman School.

Eaglebrook Lodge is a school for small boys located on a wooded hill commanding a marvelous view across the Deerfield Valley to the Berkshires. At Conference time the mountain laurel of which there is an abundance everywhere, is in full bloom. There is adequate athletic equipment including tennis courts, playing fields, and an indoor swimming pool. The setting is ideal for the type of recreation and fellowship which characterizes this Conference.

The first student conference in this country was called forty-five years ago at Northfield under the leadership of Dwight L. Moody. The Northfield conference is, therefore, in a very special sense, the source of the Student Christian Movement throughout the world. The Conference is now conducted by the New England Field Council which represents the Student Christian Associations of the New England colleges and various other allied groups.

The theme, "The Way of Jesus in the Modern World," epitomizes the thought of the committee for the Conference. The existence of a Student Christian Movement will be ultimately justified by what it has to say and do about the Way of Jesus in relation to the actual condition of man. "The condition of man at the present time is being drastically influenced, and will no doubt in the future be even more drastically influenced by external forces issuing from the new technical civilization which is forming, whose ultimate sanctions are the necessities of industrial production rather than the ethics or spiritual values derived from the Christian faith. This civilization is rapidly becoming world-wide in its organization. It has a common technique, a common fund of ideas and a common strategy to achieve its ends."

As much cannot be said for the Christian forces. The result is that we are failing to a large extent to supply the intellectual and spiritual resources which mankind desperately needs. Northfield looks forward to awakening the intelligence and to arousing the conscience of men in the New England colleges who will join forces with thoughtful students in all

Foley Named Junior President

At a meeting of the class of 1933, held Monday afternoon Thomas J. Foley of Boston, Mass., was elected president of the class for next year. Perry G. Wortman of Greenville, was elected as vice president, and the secretary-treasurer will be Carroll E. Pooler of Waterville.

All three are outstanding men, Foley being a member of the football squad and of the A. T. O. fraternity. Wortman is an exceptional student, a member of the ECHO board and of the L. C. A. fraternity. Pooler is a member of the "Midnight Sons of Colby" Orchestra, and of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Brogden Chosen To Lead Class of 1934

Joseph P. Brogden of Providence, R. I., was chosen to lead the class of 1934, at its annual election of officers for next year. Henry Davidson of New Haven, Conn., was elected to the vice presidency and Arnold S. Penbody of Houlton will be the new secretary-treasurer. All three officers are outstanding members of the freshman class, Brogden being a star hockey and baseball player and a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Davidson is one of the best athletes in college, making his mark in football last fall, starting on the basketball court this winter and at the present time a varsity pitcher on the baseball nine. Penbody is expected to be a great asset to the football and basketball teams next season and has a reputation as a pitcher. Penbody is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

parts of the world in laying down the lines along which the great spiritual advances of the future may be expected to take place.

Some of the best-known Conference leaders are: Morgan Noyes, Conference Chairman, who has been a familiar figure at Northfield Conferences since his student days in the Yale delegation, and is now pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Brooklyn, New York, and teaches at Union Seminary; Norman Thomas, the leader of the socialist forces of America, the author of a recent book entitled, "America's Way Out"; Reinhold Niebuhr, an outstanding leader of religious thought among students today; G. Sherwood Eddy, world traveler and student of international affairs; F. R. Berry, of Balliol College, Oxford, England; Sidney Lovett, of Boston, Chairman of the New England Student Committee. The list of group counselors will include Leslie Glenn, E. Fay Campbell, Brooks Stabler, Daniel Bliss, Newton Fetter, Thomas Harris, Carl Herron, John Bennett, and others.

Any person interested in the Conference and desiring further details should communicate with Professor H. L. Newman or Harold F. Lemoine, chairman of the Conference committee.

SPRING NUMBER OF THE WHITE MULE TO BE READY SOON

Promises To Be A Very Interesting Issue

Within the week the Spring number of the White Mule will probably be off the press. This issue promises to be even better than the February Gay Nineties Number. The Mule is greatly indebted to several students for contributions of humorous content which will appear in this number. The issue will contain some very good features. One of them which should be of particular interest to the Co-ed division is the carefully compiled budget for the well-dressed female executed by a group of Paris "leading designers." This article will certainly solve the clothes problem for the average woman and even the out of the ordinary woman. The Janzenized cover is the work of Miss Norma L. Fuller, '33. It is exceptionally attractive and adds distinction to the magazine.

Credit is due to the following for the success of this issue: Thompson D. Grant, '32, Editor; Bernard H. Porter, '32, Art Editor; Merton L. Curtis, '31, Business Manager. Several new members of the staff who have done excellent work are: Paul Feldman, '34; Carroll Pooler, '33; and Eunice Foye, '31.

The issue will be on sale at Welch's Professional Variety Shop, and Cook's. Paul Feldman will take care of the supply for the men's division and Eunice Foye will serve the women's division.

AFFIRMATIVE WIN 22ND ANNUAL MURRAY DEBATE

L. B. Starbuck, L. F. Ross
And L. A. Bradbury on Winning Team

The 22nd Annual Murray Prize Debate was won by the affirmative team composed of Leroy Borchers Starbuck, '32; Leo Fletcher Ross, '32; and Leon Alvah Bradbury, '33, in Colby chapel, Monday evening. The negative speakers, Dana Maxwell Simmons, '31; Jasper Munroe Foster, '31; and Donald Hosea Rhoades, '33, lost a unanimous decision handed down by the board of judges composed of Judge Charles Wilson Atchley, class of 1903; Principal Clyde Edwin Russell, class of 1922; and Cyril Matthew Joly, Esq., class of 1916. The presiding officer was Dr. George Goodwin Averill, a trustee of Colby college. The timekeepers were Harold Frank Lemoine, '32, president of Pi Kappa Delta, and Robert James Finch, '33, manager of debate and member of Pi Kappa Delta.

The argument, "Resolved, That the principles of government upheld by Mahatma Gandhi should be approved," was capably supported by the affirmative speakers. The rebuttal of the last speaker, Leon Alvah Bradbury, was a particularly convincing piece of work. Among the arguments presented for recognition of Gandhi's plans were,

"India has the right to independence—because of the innumerable grievances against tyrannical British rule. Let us mention them. In the first place England stepped in when India was temporarily disabled and robbed her of her freedom. She has forced India to bear huge exports—which wastes sixty per cent of the national budget. Another grievance is the Rowlett act which provided that trial by jury should be abolished and placed inquisitorial power in the hands of Government officials."

"Following this came the bloody Amritsar Massacre in which 379 Indians were killed and 1200 wounded, a defenseless slaughter—and the House of Lords defended General Ayre's action—after India had sent 1,200,000 men overseas to support Great Britain in the World War!"

These were a few of the strong arguments presented.

By virtue of this victory the winning team divides $75.00 and the negative, $25.00.

UNDERGRADUATES FORM NEW CLUB AT COLBY

Members Chosen to Represent Different Nations of World

A new club has been organized among the undergraduates at Colby college which is destined to play a most important part in the educational and social life of the college. A suitable name is yet to be found for the newest of Colby clubs, but its membership suggests the scope of its organization. It is inter-racial in character, comprising as it does representatives of the more than 20 nationalities to be found among the members of the men's division. These representatives may be either foreign born students or students whose parents or grand parents were foreign born.

The immediate organization of the new club was undertaken by Francis William Juggins, Jr., of the class of 1931, and he has been assisted in his efforts by Prof. Herbert C. Libby, as faculty adviser. An organization meeting was held on Monday evening at the close of the Murray prize debate at the home of Professor and Mrs. Libby at which fourteen students, representing thirteen nationalities became charter members of the club. An adjourned meeting is to be held May 21 at which time fourteen additional men will be admitted to membership, the idea being to enlarge the membership until at least two representatives of each race shall be included in the club.

As stated in its constitution the purpose of the club shall be "to bring about a better understanding among the undergraduates of the college belonging to various races," and this is to be accomplished largely by means of carefully prepared programs of an educational and social character. Meetings are to be held twice each month, and the membership is to be (Continued on page 4)

COLBY ECHO PICKS WINNERS OF EVENTS IN THE ANNUAL STATE TRACK MEET

Bates First, Maine Second, Colby Third, And Bowdoin Fourth, Is Prophet's Conclusion

Bates first, Maine second, Colby third and Bowdoin fourth. This is the Colby ECHO prediction for the annual state track and field meet to be held Saturday at the University of Maine.

After careful thought and due deliberation the ECHO prophet arrived at the following more or less definite conclusions as to the winners of the fifteen events:

In the 100 yard dash Knox of Bates looks like the winner. His 10 flat against Northeastern last Saturday is the best mark turned in thus far among sprinters of the four colleges in the State. White of Maine looks like a second and Martin of Colby should grab a third.

Knox again in the 220 yard dash is the likely winner, with the same men placing in order as in the century.

The Garnet will probably clean up in the 440 yard dash with Adams the winner. Harry Williams has been coming along and may take a third from Bates.

Of course no one denies Ossie Chapman his win in the half-mile with the probability quite strong that he will break the state record for the distance. Mank of Maine and Lord of Bates will fight it out for second and third with the Maine man having the edge.

Wally Viles, bespectled Bates flash, will capture the mile run with little difficulty. If Chapman runs he will probably take an easy second with Booth of Maine third.

Making its record six victories out of all six running events, Bates should win the two mile run. Norman Whitten placed third to the great Richardson-Lindsey duo last year and has it in him to win the event this year. But both Gunning and Brooks of Maine, as well as Furtwengler of Bates will give him competition.

In the hurdle events Colby should win at least one first place, quite possibly two. Watch that 120 yard high hurdle event. It should be nip and tuck with Stanwood, lanky Bowdoin flash and Colby's Wheeler fighting it out to the last inch. Wheeler has been coming along splendidly all year

Honorary Society Holds Banquet

The preliminary banquet of Chi Gamma Theta, honorary society, was given by the Sophomores for the upper class women, Tuesday, May 5. Six Freshmen, one representative being chosen from each sorority, took part at the banquet.

Saturday, Sunday and Monday bids were given out to the following Freshmen: Rosamond F. Barker, Lois H. Crowell, and Mildred E. Keogh, from Sigma Kappa; E. Virginia Haight, Doris A. Donnell, and Mary L. Buss, from Chi Omega; Muriel F. Walker, Eleanor L. Wheelwright, and Ellen G. Dignam, from Delta Delta Delta; Adelaide E. Jordan, and Annie M. Tuck, from Alpha Delta Pi; Elizabeth H. Weeks, Barbara I. Southard, and Gretta E. Murray, from Phi Mu; Virginia L. Parsons, E. Josephine Porter, and Constance Gousse, from Alpha Sigma Delta.

On Tuesday, May 12, the initiates were under the command of the sophomores. The informal initiation and banquet was held today while the picnic and final initiation is planned for tomorrow.

Student Government Serve Tea To Guests

On Saturday afternoon, May 7, the Women's Student Government Association served tea at the Alumnae Building in honor of the future Freshmen women, class of '35. About twenty guests were present from near-by high schools.

In the receiving line were Donn Ninetta M. Runnals, Mrs. Franklin W. Johnson, Marjorie J. Van Horn, '32, president of the Students' League, Gwendolyn G. Mardin, '32, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Barbara A. Sherman, '32, president of the Pan-Hellenic Council.

Agnes M. Ginn, '31, poured, and Doris A. Donnell, '34, Ella C. Gray, '33, Marion L. Clark, '33, and Evelyn L. Johnson, '32, members of the Executive Board, served, under the chairmanship of Elizabeth A. Swanton, '33, vice president of the Student Government Association.

and will just about reach his peak Saturday. Robinson of Colby and MacLaughlin of Bowdoin will fight it out for third.

In the low hurdle more sure of his first with MacLaughlin furnishing the competition and Stanwood third. Knox again in the broad jump although Robinson, though still handicapped with a bad back will give him something to worry about. Chase of Maine and Johnson of Bowdoin will make strong bids for places here.

Larry should take the high jump if he is at all in form. Bates has little to offer here but Stanwood will be right in there as will Branch and Chase, both of Maine.

The pole vault will be another fine event with some excellent talent available. Appleton of Bowdoin looks like the best but Meagher and Dill of Bates have a nearly equal chance of taking the event. Webb of Maine will make it all the more interesting.

The javelin should go to Colby if Tommy Trewoy can get off his best heave. Jensen of Maine, if not the winner, will place second and Stinchfield of Colby can be counted upon for a third.

The shot put looks like a Maine win with Webber being the man. Pollard of Colby and Larsen of Bowdoin will be up there for the other two places with Folgelman of Bates not being at all out of the running.

Snubber Pollard will fight it out with Webber and Curtis of Maine for first in the discus with the pale blue men having a slight edge on the Colby weight heaver.

Del Galbraith of Bowdoin, with Sprague and Perkins of Colby will take the three places in the hammer if all goes according to our hope but just who will place where is the mystery. Galbraith is the more likely winner with Sprague and Perkins finishing second and third respectively.

Of course it is quite futile to predict the outcome of the meet with any degree of accuracy but it is always interesting to make predictions in order to see how wrong they turn out to be.

SENIOR CLASS DAY SPEAKERS SELECTED

Final Vote on Condon Medal
To Be Taken At Last Chapel

At a recent meeting of the senior class, the class speakers and other officers were elected. The Condon Medal, the gift of Randall J. Condon, '88, which is awarded to the member of the senior class who by a vote of the members of the class and with the approval of the faculty is deemed to have been the best college citizen, has not as yet been given as the vote resulted in a tie between Miss Muriel J. MacDougall of St. Albans, N. Y., and Wallace A. Donovan of Waterville. The final vote will take place at the seniors' last chapel on May 28th. Last year the medal was awarded to John Henry Lee of Portland.

Permanent secretaries of the class were chosen by both divisions. William C. Martin of Somerville, Mass., was chosen from the men's division and Miss Alona S. Bean from the women's division. The guest of honor will be Mr. Condon, the donor of the medal.

For the last chapel speaker the class chose Henry Hillon of Dartmouth College with Professor William J. Wilkinson as alternate.

The following men will be class day speakers: Oranion, George F. Sprague of Danforth; Awarding of the Honors, F. Donald Poulin of Fairfield; Parting Address, John S. Davidson, of Omaha, Neb.

In the women's division the following selections were made: Awarding of the Honors, Miss Marjorie H. Dearborn of Bath; Class Ode, Miss Barbara Hamlin of Milos; Class Will, Miss Vivian Russell of Augusta; Class Poem, Gertrude L. Snowden of Stonington.

Lucius V. Lobdell of Hartland, Vt., was chosen as class chaplain while Leo F. Brackett of Belgrade Lakes was chosen as Class Marshal.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 13, 1931.

With all of the recent and natural great amount of interest that is being taken in plans for the new Colby it would be well to stop and ask for a moment just who is the most deeply concerned with and affected by what plans are being made. Is it the trustees? We think not. Of course they are vitally interested in what is being planned for the Colby of the future in its new location but they are not the most concerned. Is it the faculty? No, although they have shown an absorbing interest in all of the new projects. Is it the alumni of the college? No again. True it is that they are enthused and have expressed willingness to aid in every manner possible.

The answer to the question is inevitable. It is the STUDENT BODY of Colby that is most affected by the plans for the new Colby. And quite logically so. Colleges are not operated for the alumni, nor for the faculty or administrative body. Colleges are run for STUDENTS.

Now if it is true, and we are quite certain that it is, that the students of the college are the most important body to consider in drawing plans for the new college buildings and the new campus, why is it that the students are being kept quite in the dark as to what is being done? Of course we realize that the capacity of the average student to absorb all of the intricate details involved is insufficient. But perhaps there may be found in the college a student or two who could represent the student body at these meetings where plans are mapped out and even offer helpful suggestions at not too frequent intervals. When the faculty representatives are giving their opinions as to what such and such a building should look like or how large this department should be, isn't it at least feasible that a student could give his own small opinion?

Perhaps it is the fault of the students themselves for not evidencing more whole-hearted interest in affairs that are taking place for them primarily. Certainly no one now in college is likely to attend college on Mayflower Hill but the likes and dislikes of students change little in the brief space of five years or so and the students now in college, it seems, should have some voice in what is being planned for their younger brothers who will come to the new Colby within the next decade.

So while we do not wish to appear ungrateful and unappreciative of the fine work that is being done and the glorious college that is in the making for us and those to come, we do feel that there should be a student presence and voice in the meetings which take place frequently to discuss plans for the new college. Faculty-Student cooperation in the college of the future is a goal worth striving for, both from the students' viewpoint and from the viewpoint of administration. Here is an excellent opportunity for a beginning.

Literary Column

A QUESTION.

Your eyes and lips to me make no appeal,
Nor does my heart to you belong.
Your presence fails to charm me or to cause
An outburst of rich lyric song.

But yet in you I find what I desire,
Devotion and companionship.
And satisfaction in that, come what may.
It's me you'll love and worship.

So while I love not with a burning fire,
Of passion, which might soon be spent,
Have I not cause to look for happiness
And years of quiet, sane content?
E. R. S., '32.

AN ANSWER.

No lips of passion, nor, nor soulful eyes
That might be mine inspire you
You say, and tell me that you love me not,
No matter what I say or do.

At all your strange confessions, dear,
I smile.
I'm glad you feel the love I give.
(He doesn't see that it's for me he builds
The life that he aspires to live.)

If you can tell the world you're proud
I'm yours,
And show that what you say is meant,
I'll give you all the happiness you ask
And in that find my own content.
M. H. D., '31.

FEAR.

I am shattered and torn by fear.
I live but I cannot feel
The ugly shadows of darkness near
And things that are not true are not real.
Fear is the child of loneliness
Darkness the curse of the free
And what can I know of happiness
While fears encompass me?
Phil Alston, '32.

VICTUS.

I never worry, dream or plan
Of things that are to be.
For I have firm conviction that
Fate will decide for me.
Fate has in store my well-mapped life,
Which bit by bit, I'll see,
But never shall I know just what
Fate has in store for me.
I may rise high in my small world,
Then drop to the abyss,
Why, when, or how I do not know;
For Fate decides all this.

So why should I, each day and year,
Make plans for what's to be?
When deep down in my heart I'm sure
Fate will decide for me.
E. R. S., '32.

On Other Campuses.

In 1925 the Sigma Nu's and the Phi Delta's at the University of Florida embarked on a long football rivalry. They signed a 99-year contract calling for one game each fall.

Out at the University of Washington they have found that the average college man spends about $29 a year on his "looks." A tube of shaving cream every five weeks amounts to $3.50 a year. Razor blades come to $5, shaving lotion $3.50, talcum powder $2 and haircuts and occasional shampoos to $15.

The student senate at Franklin and Marshall threw out the results of the first fresh election held on that campus this year. It seems that there were 103 freshmen eligible to vote and 140 ballots were turned in.

Ye Gladiator Column

Letters in the Gladiator Column are expressions of opinion by individual contributors to that column and the editor assumes no responsibility for any statements, allusions, or assertions made in them. The column is a free-for-all and student contributions are solicited.

Dear Editor:

As an average Colby student, compelled against my wishes to attend chapel exercises so many times per semester at risk of diploma else, I have a few suggestions for chapel exercises I should like to promulgate through your columns.

Colby has a musician of unusual talent and whose ability is very generally recognized and appreciated. I refer of course to Professor Strong. I should appreciate the privilege of hearing him play some morning in chapel, and I should be still more highly gratified if he didn't confine his playing to music of too classical a nature. I am plebian in my musical tastes, as is most of the student body.

Colby has a physics department with two very able men in charge. I should deem it most fitting if either one of these gentlemen should discuss in plain terms, or should I say as plain as possible terms, Einstein's theory of Relativity. I should enjoy an explanation of the quantum theory; of the experiments carried on by Michaelson and Morley. These are subjects beyond most of us, but of very general interest.

Colby has one of the most distinguished natural scientists in the east on her faculty. I refer to Dr. Perkins. Dr. Perkins is an authority not only on his own subject but on many kindred subjects. I regret that seemingly I must leave Colby without hearing his talk on birds. Dr. Perkins has been in rather wide demand this winter as a lecturer. I can think of no place more fitting for him to discuss the geology of Maine (outside of classroom, of course) than the rotunda of the Colby chapel.

Professor Chester is offering a course in Evolution, what would be more to the point than to have him address the student body on this subject. I wonder why Professor Chester isn't a Lamarckian, or is he? Professor Weeks of the Chemistry department has done work abroad (in the geology departments) on radio activity. What is this all about?

I am an A. B. student, I cannot take courses under all these gentlemen, but am I to be turned away from Colby this spring, denied the privileges that should be mine because I am to be a Bachelor of Arts?

Sincerely yours,

A. B., '31.

P. S.—Don't forget Doc Marriner has a little talk on words.

Wheeler Next Year's Senior President

At the annual election for next year's senior class officers Douglass Hewitt Wheeler of Millinocket was chosen to lead the class of 1932 for next year. Parker Arnold Dority of Blaine was elected vice president and Donald Linwood Christie of Milo was elected to the office of secretary-treasurer.

Wheeler is an outstanding man in the class of '32, being probably the best hurdler in the state and a recent winner of four first places on the Vermont trip. Wheeler is also president of the Druids, junior honorary society and a popular man around the campus. Wheeler is a member of the Kappa Delta Rho fraternity.

Dority is a strong man in interfraternity sports and a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

Christie is a member of the track team, excelling in the distance runs. Christie is affiliated with the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Great Interest In Photo Collection

Interest in the collection of photographic prints that have been on display in the library has been considerable, since they were placed on the bulletin boards last Thursday. This collection of prints is the first attempt of the Colby Camera Club to bring a worthwhile collection of photographs to Colby. The purpose of the enterprise is to show just what a camera will do when conditions are correct.

Other than student interest, a number of interested people from the city have taken the opportunity of viewing the collection. All comments have been very favorable concerning the display.

It is interesting to note that an authority on art stated on seeing the showing that to his knowledge, there had never been a single collection of photographs in Maine that was of as good a general quality as the Colby exhibit. The some fifty points that are being left in the library until next Wednesday represent the cream of a collection of 113 prints sent to the Camera Club.

It is expected that similar collection of photographs will be shown in the college from time to time.

ROBERTS PITCHES
COLBY TO WINTake Bates Over 1 to 0 In Fast Game

Last Wednesday Wayne Roberts pitched Colby to a 1 to 0 win in the Mules' first conflict with Bates. Without doubt it was the best game which state fans have seen this year, and one of the best they have seen for many years.

It was clearly a pitcher's battle between Roberts and Millett, freshman hurler for Bates, with Roberts pitching the better game. Wayne sent ten Bates men to the bench by the strike-out route, and allowed only four scattered hits. Only two Bates men managed to reach second and they were both left stranded there.

The Colby tally came in the fourth inning, McNamara, first man up, flied out. Lovett connected with a hit over second, that went for a double, and he came home with the lone score as Ferguson singled over second.

Colby threatened again in the fifth with the sacks loaded and only one out. Charlie Heddericg led off with a single and went to second on Davan's sacrifice. Plumer lined one to short, and Toomey tried to get Charlie at third but couldn't do it, so both were safe. Roberts hit to Millett, who tried to catch Charlie off third, but this also failed, so the Mules had three men on and only one out. Nothing came of it, however, as Heddericg was forced out at home on McNamara's grounder, and Lovett was thrown out at first.

After this neither side threatened until the ninth, when Bates got a man on second with one away. He was still there when the game ended, as the next man flied out and Flynn fanned.

The only error of the game was chalked down against Paddy Davan, who aside from this played great ball. Bates pulled a couple of double plays, and both teams fielded excellently. The game was played in less than an hour and a half, which is almost record time.

of the matches were hard fought and the outcome in doubt right up to the last minute. Captain Allen of Colby and Captain Jacobs of Bates put on an excellent display of tennis, the Garnet netsman winning only after a desperate struggle to down the determined Colby leader. Smith won his match from Wood of Bates, and Taylor, sensational freshman player turned in a brilliant two set win over Lightman, a Bates veteran. The doubles matches were also split, Allen and Smith barely losing to Jacobs and Wood while the Taylor-Finch team came through to win from Antine and Lightman.

The summary:

Singles.

Jacobs of Bates defeated Allen of Colby 3-6, 6-0, 8-6.

Smith of Colby defeated Wood of Bates 6-3, 1-6, 8-6.

Taylor of Colby defeated Lightman of Bates 6-1, 10-8.

Antine of Bates defeated Finch of Colby 4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Doubles.

Wood and Jacobs of Bates defeated Smith and Allen of Colby 6-3, 3-6, 8-6.

Taylor and Finch of Colby defeated Antine and Lightman of Bates 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

BOWDOIN TRIMS COLBY MULES
IN FOURTEEN INNINGS

A home run by "Sonny" Dwyer of Bowdoin and triples by Ben Shute of Bowdoin and Lovett of Colby, with men on bases, enlivened the 14-inning contest between the Polar Bears of Bowdoin and the White Mules of Colby, which Bowdoin won 5 to 4 on Pickard Field last Saturday afternoon.

Colby had scored on battery errors in the opening inning. Shute's triple in the fourth and Dwyer's homer in the fifth gave Bowdoin two tallies in each inning and the lead. Bunched hits in the seventh and Lovett's triple in the ninth enabled Colby to tie the score. A sacrifice by Dwyer and a long drive to right field by Rose, after Whittier had taken first on a single, enabled Bowdoin to score the winning run in the 14th.

Soft Ball League

Leadership in the interfraternity soft-ball championship race, now past the halfway mark, remains unchanged after last week's play, with the Zeta Psi in first place with six wins and no losses. As the result of their games last week, the Non-Frats, the A. T. O.'s and the K. D. R.'s are in a deadlock for second place, each team having twice as many wins as losses.

The best game of the week and perhaps of the whole year was played between the D. U.'s and the Deques last Thursday. The lead in this game rocked back and forth between the two clubs until the seventh inning when the score was deadlocked. The game went into extra innings and the first of the ninth the D. U.'s eked out one run to take the lead. The Deques came back with vengeance in their half of the inning and with one out and a man on base, Jim Ponbody hit a long fly over the center-fielder's head and right into the hands of a spectator. The D. U.'s claimed interference, the Deques a home run and the umpire, bewildered, had Jim take his raps all over again. Jim singled this time, the base runner was held on third, and the next batter hit into a double play, allowing the D. U.'s to win the hard fought battle.

This week's games will make a definite change in the standing of the

AMONG THE GREEKS

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON.

Brother Bean, '05, of Somerville, Mass., was a visitor at the chapter house one day last week.

John L'Ecluse, Harvey Evans, and John Davidson spent a week-end recently at Bar Harbor. Brother Evans took a short dip in the ocean and found the water rather frigid.

"Shorty" McCoy brought home a string of trout Sunday evening, the result of a successful fishing trip in Albion.

"Kid" Lovett and "Andy" Karkos are becoming tennis aspirants. They are expected to come through in the tournament which is going to take place in the near future on the Frost Street Court.

The Dekes are again this year sponsoring the Grammar School Baseball League. "Shorty" McCoy is coaching the Myrtle Street School which won the championship last year, and shows every indication of duplicating the feat this spring. "Ted" Taylor has the South Grammar School well in hand and has, thus far, won two games he has played. Raphael Obadijah Jehosaphat Wissel Maher has charge of the North Grammar School. For some reason or other "Jim's" team has not been as successful as the preceding two. We hope, however, that he will soon install a little of the well-known Colby spirit in his boys and come through with flying colors.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA.

At the last meeting which was held on Wednesday of last week, four pledges were initiated into the order. This was the fourth initiation of the year. The initiates are Leon Alvah Bradbury, '33, of Bridgewater, Joseph Ward Brodgen, '34, of North Providence, R. I., Emil Neils Iverson, '34, of Portland and John Francis Sullivan, '34, of North Lakeville, Mass.

Brother Loring was stricken the latter part of the week with tonsillitis and is at present convalescing in the guest room.

From now until the second semester of next year, the destiny of the house is to be guided by Brother McNeil who was elected Worthy Master at the last meeting.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA.

The Lambda Chi Alpha house was rather a quiet spot on the campus this week-end as six of the brothers were away on the track trip. In fact a visitor would have found the place veritably deserted, for not only were the track men away but Father "Barney" Estey, our inveterate radio fan and house debater was in Harmony enjoying the company of his bouncing daughter. Mr. Estey is one of the well known L. C. A. debating squad and much interest attends his weekly debates with Brother Roderick Farnham.

The house will again be vacated in the near future as all but five or six of the men are to attend the Maine game, the rest plan to give the Gorman school girls a "break" by attending the Spring formal there.

The idea of an honor system is a live question among the colleges of the land today and much interest has been created by the local experiment along those lines. This noble experiment is being carried on by two of the staunchest Lambda Chi men, the only ones on the campus who were willing to take this risk for the benefit of the institution. These two men are Donald M. Christie, '32, and Maxwell D. Ward, '32. Just a short time ago they combined to form the L. C. A. Candy Co., which they decided should be run on the honor system idea. Thus far the company has been very successful, so much so in fact that they are now advertising a new stock for sale. This has been so far a very valuable experiment, to Christie and Ward, and the house is beginning to have some faith in the stability of the business.

THETA KAPPA NU.

Brother Merle Ryder, '31, made an extended tour of Southern Maine over the week-end. The principal cities included in his itinerary were Portland and Lewiston. At the latter metropolis, Brother Ryder conferred with several big business men and announces that following graduation he may consent to head a nationwide merger of chain stores.

As a result of a recent contest held in the house, "Red" Cole, '33, now holds the record for bouncing a tennis ball, having batted the white sphere with his hand for 9213 consecutive times. This is probably a world record.

Hardened criminals are blanching with fear and it is reported that, even in Chicago, gangland is strengthening its defenses following the great vice expose begun this week by Brothers "Sherlock" Strode and "Philo" Snow. "Sherlock" first became suspicious of the activities of two "magazine salesmen" who visited the house Sunday night and, accompanied by "Philo," succeeded in placing them in the toils of the law, from which toils they will probably emerge with great difficulty.

ROBERTS HALL.

We, the payers of rent for rooms in ROBERTS HALL, suggest that "Bozo Joe" pay a fee for the space occupied by himself during this semester at Foss Hall. "Bozo" has been Marvelling around the campus, the library and other places so much that we are rarely favored with his presence here in our own fair ROBERTS HALL.

Besides being the home of great baseball players, superb wrestlers, invincible boxers and expert mechanics (See Stewart & Logan) ROBERTS HALL now comes to the foreground as the residence of stellar track men. Of course we have in our midst Captain Bevin of the Freshman track team and incidentally the winner of the mile in the dual meet with Vermont last week, but we are now referring to those favored ones who have the good fortune to learn how to run under the tutelage of Professor Edwards. In the finals of the fifty yard dash which was run off this week, we have "Speed" Parker, "Flash" Stetson, "Lightning" Hickey and "Paddock" Pullen all emerging as the fastest men with Parker leading the field.

CHI OMEGA.

Xi Beta Chapter of Chi Omega fraternity at the University of Maine held their initiation banquet May 6, at the Bangor House. Beta Chapter sent as delegates Jane C. Belcher, Norma L. Fuller, Estelle P. Taylor, Nancy C. Nivison, and Doris A. Donnell. The girls left Colby in the afternoon in Nancy Nivison's roadster and returned after the banquet that night. Xi Beta's banquet was very successful and the delegates fully appreciated the opportunity of being there and meeting their members.

PHI MU.

Pauline D. Russell, '32, will attend the National Convention of Phi Mu which is to be held at the Broadmoor Hotel, Colorado Springs, June 22-27.

ALPHA DELTA PI.

Ella Gray, '33, is the official delegate of Alpha Delta Chapter of Colby college to the annual convention which is being held this year at Lake Louise, Canada.

Barbara Sherman, '32, attended the Intercollegiate Student Council Conference, at Boston University and Ethel MacDougall, '32, was the delegate to the Spring Formal of Rho Chapter at Boston University.

The engagement of Mildred McCann, '27, to Wesley Mardon has been announced. The wedding date has been set for June 13.

Susan Stevens, '28, who is now teaching in Monson, and Lucy Chapin, '29, who is teaching in East Hartford, Conn., visited old friends here and were entertained by their sorority sisters.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA.

Kappa Phi Kappa will hold a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Professor Colgan. The occasion is the annual strawberry festival, and a one hundred per cent attendance is desired.

CHI EPSILON MU.

A meeting of Chi Epsilon Mu, honorary chemical society, was held last Friday evening in Chemical Hall. Halsted H. Jenkins, vice president of the society, presided and gave the members an interesting talk on Bohr's theory of atomic structure, followed by a discussion. It was decided to hold a meeting Friday evening, May 22, at which time Dr. Parmenter will give a short talk on the proposed chemical building for the new campus. Two or three papers will be read by members, followed by a discussion. It is planned to invite members of the advanced chemistry courses to this meeting.

Miss Spencer Is Chosen May Queen

Doris M. Spencer, president of the class of 1931, was chosen by the popular vote of the women's division as May Queen yesterday afternoon.

The coronation will take place the evening of May 23, when the May Day play, "The Tempest," will be presented in the queen's honor by the junior class. Miss Spencer will select from her class a maid of honor, her ladies in waiting, flower girls, and pages.

The plans for the May Day festivities are being carried on with great enthusiasm. Rehearsals for the play point to a successful production. Recent appointments to stage management are as follows: Properties, Winifred E. Hammett; costumes, Jean S. Wellington; prompting, Martha L. Hamilton.

Music and Poetry At Y. W. Meeting

The Y. W. C. A. meeting of this week consisted of music and poetry reading by Dorothy Dingwall, '33, and Muriel J. MacDougall, '31. Miss MacDougall's readings were for the most part translations of foreign poetry: Chinese, "Woman," "The Lonely Wife," and "The Recruiting Sergeant;" Japanese, "I Have Got Her," and "Mikata No Sami;" Indian, "Champa Flower," and "Sympathy;" Sanskrit, "Peace;" and on immigration, "On Birth of a Son." Miss Dingwall's solo was "A Hindu Lullaby."

WOMEN'S CHAPEL.

of two classes, active and honorary. Students who met to become charter members include Francis William Juggins, Jr., '31, and John S. Davidson, '31, representing the United States; Thomas J. Hodkiewicz, '31, representing Poland; Gilbert A. Silveira, Jr., '33, representing Portugal; Thomas J. Foley, '33, representing Ireland; Robert M. MacGregor, '34, representing Scotland; James Blok, '32, representing The Netherlands; Harro Wurtz, '32, representing Germany; Joseph E. Yuknis, '31, representing Lithuania; John C. Malliaros, '33, representing Greece; Raymond E. Shibley, '33, representing Syria; Merle C. Ryder, '31, representing Canada; Christo C. Nasse, '32, representing Albania, and Martin Sorenson, '32, representing Iceland.

Officers elected at the first meeting were Francis W. Juggins, Jr., president; Thomas J. Foley, first vice president; Harro Wurtz, second vice president; John S. Davidson, secretary; Merle C. Ryder, treasurer; Thomas J. Hodkiewicz, Joseph E. Yuknis, and Harold F. Lemoine were named members of the executive committee to serve with the officers ex-officio.

Unique as the club is in respect to its membership and purpose and with the additional feature of having eventually among its honorary members men of outstanding importance, it is bound to attract interest and to accomplish much of lasting worth to the college.

Women Revise Rushing Rules

The Panhellenic Association of the women's division has made several revisions in the rushing rules to be in use next fall. While some rules have been removed, others have been added, and some have been radically altered. Nevertheless the Panhellenic policy of the college remains as it has been in the past.

The chief alteration is the removal of the two weeks period of silence between fraternity girls and freshmen which has heretofore been the custom. In place of this, from September 23 to October 5 there is to be a week during which there shall be no rushing and no talk of sororities. Two major offenses have been added to the present list in connection with this rule, namely: (1) Discussion of sororities during the week of no rushing; (2) Being with a freshman off campus during the week of no rushing.

On October 5 the two weeks period of closed rushing will prevail as it has for the past two years. Each sorority will have a large party and a small party. The expense of the small party is to be limited, as it was last year, to fifty cents apiece. The amount allowed for the big party is $1.25 apiece. All sororities are to pass in to the Panhellenic Council a record of the amounts they have spent.

The rules which concern freshmen are primarily unchanged, except that there shall be no retraction of the preferential bid list once it has been submitted to the office of the Dean. For the benefit of the freshmen, information about each sorority is to be published in the Panhellenic booklet which will be issued very soon.
