

BARBARA SHERMAN IS POPULAR "PHI BETA"Has Been Prominent In Student Affairs

As she smilingly, briskly, cuts her way across campus one would hardly realize that here was a girl who had achieved high scholastic honors, popularity, and had skillfully managed all the various activities which had been her responsibility. But such a girl is Barbara Sherman.

Composed, charming and with a delicious sense of humor, Barbara began her ascent to the position of one of the outstanding seniors of the women's division of Colby at Yarmouth High School, Yarmouth, Mass. Here Barbara was president of her class for three years, graduating as one of the three highest scholastically. At Barnstable High School, where she took a post graduate course, Barb was asked to join the Sigma Alpha Society, usually not open to post graduates, and with the membership determined by rank and popularity.

At Colby Barb pitched right in and took on more than her share of the burden of extra-curricular activities. She has been on the Colbiana Board for four years, worked on the ECHO for two years, was president of Chi Gamma Theta, been an eager participant in Le Cercle Francaise and of which she is now secretary, represented Student Government in the Conference at Jackson last year, worked on Chapel committees for two years, has been secretary, treasurer, and president of Panhellenic, has been elected to Phi Sigma Iota, was chairman of this year's Colby Night, has done some very splendid investigation for the Faculty-Student Committee, and even in her sophomore year won the Colbiana Short Story contest.

And yet, with all these outside interests no one was surprised when at mid-years, Barb was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. It seems that the busiest people are usually the ones who do things well and Barb is indeed among this list.

Then, to crown her accomplishments and to add prestige for Colby, Barbara has been awarded a fellowship for study next year at the University of Toulouse at Toulouse, France. This is the Franco-American Fellowship of 8000 francs and covers a term which begins in November and ends in July. Barb intends to go probably in August and travel in order to get accustomed to the language.

"How can one girl accomplish so much?" groans the undergraduate. But to understand one has only to know Barbara, whose glowing personality and splendid character has won the friendship and admiration of us all.

DRAMATIC ART CLASS
TO PRESENT PLAYS"In The Zone," And "The Trysting Place" Chosen

A novel innovation which will be of interest to dramatically minded students is to be instituted by the members of the Dramatic Art Class in the near future. Two one-act plays are to be presented which will be entirely in the charge of members of this class. One of these is, "In The Zone," by Eugene O'Neill. The cast of this play is to be composed wholly of men. It has for a setting a tramp steamer in the time of the War. Not only is the play itself a masterpiece, but it presents remarkable opportunities for acting.

The second play is one written by Booth Tarkington, "The Trysting Place." The cast is made up of both men and women. The students in charge of the production of the plays have announced that the try-outs are to be held in Chemical Hall on Thursday and Friday afternoons. Anyone interested in dramatics is requested to try for a part. Those who get the parts will receive credit towards admission to the Powder and Wig, men's dramatic club, and the Masque which is the women's dramatic society.

NOTE OF APOLOGY.

The ECHO wishes at this time to apologize to the Colby College Library department and "other sufferers" for publishing in last week's ECHO an article of library notes dating back to a composition date of Dec. 10, 1931.

TWO COLBY GRADUATES
WRITE SELECTED BOOKSList Compiled For College
Libraries

Books by two graduates of Colby college have been selected for "List of Books for College Libraries," by Charles B. Shaw, compiled for the Advisory Group on College Libraries of the Carnegie Corporation, and published by the American Library Association. The list, selected with the aid of some 200 specialists in different fields, comprises a minimum book collection for a four-year liberal arts college library.

The books are "English and American Philosophy," "Morals in Review," "Religious Conception of the World," "Student's History of Philosophy," and "What is Truth," by Arthur K. Rogers, of the class of 1891, and "Contributions of Science to Religion," "Faith of Modernism," "French Revolution," "Guide to Study of Christian Religion," "History of New Testament Times in Palestine," "Jesus on Social Institutions," "Life of Christ," "Social Teaching of Jesus," "Spiritual Interpretation of History," by Shailer Mathews, of the class of 1884, dean of the Divinity School of the University of Chicago. Of these books, Rogers' "Student's History of Philosophy" and Mathews' "French Revolution" were also chosen for Hester's "Books for Junior Colleges" issued by the same publisher. As in the Shaw list, titles in the Hester list are grouped according to subject and represent those books which were considered absolutely essential to supplement instruction in the courses offered.

"French Revolution" is one of the books starred for first purchase in the Hester list.

PROFESSOR PERKINS
TALKS ON CLIMATESun Spot Theory Is Discussed
Interestingly

In men's chapel on Friday morning, Professor Perkins addressed the men's division concerning climate. Professor Perkins explained two existing theories of the recent mild winter. He devoted special attention to the sun spot theory which connects the frequency of sun spots with the mildness and severity of our weather. He also explained briefly the way by which we receive our rain, describing its relation to the cyclones and anticyclones that travel across the country. In conclusion he told of one theory which explains cyclones as originating in Greenland and traveling across the Hudson Bay. Then they enter the continent of North America on the west coast and travel across the country.

The men of Colby are indeed fortunate in having in their midst a lecturer who is not only interesting but also a nationally recognized authority in his own field. Professor Perkins is without doubt one of the most enjoyable chapel speakers of the year.

FRATERNITIES TO HOLD
SPRING FORMAL DANCESFour Houses Will Hold
Affairs on May 27

Now that the women of the college have satisfied their social desires by throwing their numerous sorority and class dances, the men are to have a chance. The dates of the annual spring formal of the various fraternities have just been announced. The season opens with the Lambda Chi Alpha formal which is to be held at Castle Gardens on the twenty-second of April. On May thirteenth three more formals will take place. The D. K. E.'s will hold their dance in the clubhouse at Lakewood, and the Zeta Psi's will hold forth in the Lakewood Inn. The same night will see the Theta Kappa formal in the Elmwood Hotel. The other four fraternity dances are all coming off on the twenty-seventh of May. The A. T. O.'s will go to Lakewood, the Phi Delta's to the Waterville Country Club, and the K. D. R.'s will have theirs at their house. As yet the D. U.'s are uncertain where their dance is to be held.

COACHING SCHOOL TO BE CONDUCTED HERE"Gus" Dorais Will Instruct In Football

This summer will see an innovation at Colby. Under the direction of Coaches Roundy and Millett a School for Coaches in football and basketball will be held.

Great care was taken in choosing the instructors. After a great deal of work, one of the country's greatest coaches was obtained, "Gus" Dorais, All-American quarterback of Notre Dame, one of football's greatest forward passers, and a part of that great Rockne-Dorais combination of the famous 1913 Notre Dame team.

Dorais will give in minutest detail the famed Notre Dame system with his own variations and adaptations as used by his teams at Gonzaga and Detroit so successfully.

In basketball the instructor will be "Charlie" Caldwell, three-letter man at Princeton and one of her finest athletes. His teams at Williams college where he is now coaching have won for him wide recognition. Working with the leading systems plus his own original ideas Coach Caldwell has developed a system of play that is both practical and successful.

The program will consist of five days of intensive work with classes every day from 8.15 A. M. to 12.15 P. M., and in the afternoon, 1.30 to 5.30. A large group is expected and plans are being made in town to accommodate them.

CROSS-COUNTRY DEBATERS
TO RETURN FROM TRAVELSDebated Through Midwest
And South

Colby's cross-country debating team which includes Harold F. Lemoine, '32, Robert J. Finch, '33, and Martin Sorenson, '32, will arrive back in Waterville this evening after a debating trip which took them as far as Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Letters have been received from the boys telling of the outstanding events of their trip. On April 5, they went to Berea, Kentucky, where they debated the team of Berea University. Next, the Colby team defeated the University of Cincinnati on April 6, and went on to Pittsburg the following day.

That evening Colby debated the University of Pittsburg and then left for Washington where the boys arrived the next morning. For three days they saw the sights of Washington and were entertained by Congressman Nelson, of the class of 1898, and his son. The team was taken through the Capitol and the Senate by Ernest G. Walker, of the class of 1890, during the stay in the city and met many prominent figures there.

While in Washington, the boys witnessed the parade of the World War veterans and the formal presentation of petitions before the Capitol asking for the granting of a bonus. Congressman Nelson took the debaters to the White House and introduced them to the President.

Monday evening the three Colby men met the College of the City of New York and last evening, New York University. Tonight, after a three-weeks trip, the debaters return with an enviable record of debating victories over their western opponents.

Debating News.

The debating squad engaged in a dual debate with Maine on Wednesday of this week. The Colby affirmative team made up of Edward Gurney and Sumner P. Mills, Jr., met a negative team from Maine in the College Chapel while a Colby negative team composed of George Hunt and Arthur Stetson journeyed to Bangor to debate with Maine before the Rotary Club. The question discussed was the one on Centralized Control worded above.

Martin Sorenson, Harold Lemoine, and Robert Finch, have issued a challenge to any three Colby debaters. The afore-mentioned three wish to uphold the affirmative side of the question. Resolved: That Congress should enact legislation providing for Centralized Control of Industry.

PHI BETA KAPPA
SOCIETY IN ANNUAL
INITIATION BANQUETTwo Women Initiated;
Speakers Good

The Phi Beta Kappa society of Colby college held its annual initiation and banquet at the Elmwood Hotel on Thursday, April 7. The two initiates, of the class of 1932, were the Misses Barbara A. Sherman of Yarmouth, Mass., and Evelyn L. Johnson, of Caribou. Both students have been active participants in college affairs and recently Miss Sherman was selected for a year's study in the Sorbonne, France. She is a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority and Miss Johnson is affiliated with the Phi Mu chapter.

After the initiation dinner was served, following which Professor W. N. Breckenridge, president of Beta Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, introduced the speakers of the evening. The theme of the speeches was a line from William Wordsworth, "Can any good come out of Nazareth?" This was applied to the occasion in the sense, "Can any good in scholarship come out of Colby?" Professor Lester F. Weeks demonstrated for the affirmative from the scientific viewpoint with a talk on the extensive research which he has carried on in Chemistry with the facilities offered by Colby.

Professor Carl J. Weber then discussed the topic from a literary standpoint, using as examples some letters he found in the Colby Library which he used to settle a wide-spread literary dispute. This shows how varied are the opportunities here in this phase.

The third and last speaker to be introduced was Professor William J. Wilkinson, who viewed the matter from an historical stand. He pointed out the excellent facilities offered by the college for advanced history students. These talks were enlightening for many, who did not appreciate the really fine equipment furnished for graduate study.

REPLICA IS NOW ON EXHIBITION HEREIs Noted For Historical Accuracy

Due to the ingenuity and painstaking labor of Miss Adelaide Pearson who collected, modeled, remodeled and assembled diminutive metal figures, a replica of the Roman Triumph is now on exhibition at the college library. It is a great privilege to be permitted to see such a work of merit wherein the most minute detail of intricate craftsmanship is observed. An identical exhibition is at present being displayed at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

The replica is not only notable for artistic value; it accurately demonstrates the historian's version of the conquering hero of Rome, progressing towards a triumphal arch—an alabaster copy of the Arch of Constantine—go the two-inch figures: Victors, standard bearers, senators, knights, a charioteer, heralds, trained bears led by a slave, spoils heaped in a cart dragged by two stalwart oxen, an elephant, cows led by an Ethiopian, prisoners of war, and bringing up the rear a chariot in which a leisurely looking gentleman—the Emperor no doubt—half sits, half reclines, surveying with utmost complacency the victorious march. Altogether, there are about seventy-five figures in the replica, not including those which make up the background. In the background a miniature statuette, scales for the weighing of the loot, a fountain, composed of a hat-pin button, a bit of silver wire, and plastic wood, are in keeping with the rest of the piece which is well worth seeing.

NOTICE.

"Junior Week-End" Treasure Hunt starts Friday afternoon at 2.30 from Mayflower Hill. Cars may be used where they CAN be used. Detachable coupons must be presented to the starter. Let's have everybody after the "well-worth-your-while" prize.

PHYLLIS HAMLIN IS CHOSEN PROM QUEENTreasure Hunt, Open House
And Sports to Feature

Miss Phyllis Hamlin was elected by the Junior Class of men as the most beautiful Colby girl with the nicest personality to preside over the Junior Promenade as Queen. Miss Hamlin, "Babe" to her friends, is a senior from Milo, Maine, and is popular with all the undergraduates. When Miss Hamlin's picture appears in the newspapers of the country tonight and tomorrow, probably for the first time in its history, Milo, Maine, will be put on the map.

Every college has its big social event of the year: at Dartmouth, it is the Winter Carnival; at Harvard, it is the Hasty Pudding Ball; at Washington and Lee, it is the Fancy Dress Ball; and here at Colby, it is the Junior Week-End, which is being revived this year in glorious fashion. The class officers, President Tom Foley, Vice President Perry Wortman, and Treasurer Carroll Pooler, have arranged an interesting list of events.

Treasure Hunt.

On Friday afternoon, the festivities will be ushered in with a novel treasure hunt starting at half past three from the gym. Autos will be used to chase the elusive treasure, and a prompt ticket must be shown for entry. All entries are to be in by Thursday night. The winner will be presented a prize during the evening dance. Malsch, Bryan, and Strode make up the Hunt committee.

Radio Interview.

At 6.15 during the program of the Colby News Reporter and the Colby Collegians over WLBZ, Carleton D. Brown, than which there is none whither as an announcer, will interview Miss Hamlin. This program will undoubtedly be one of the most interesting ever presented from the Waterville studio. The Colby Collegians is a crack ten piece band under the direction of Cecil Hutchinson, and they play at dancing parties all over the state. Continuity for the Colby News Reporter is written by the Plotter and announced by Len Helie.

Plans are now under way to repeat this program direct from the new Augusta station, WRDO, later that evening.

Junior Promenade.

Friday night, the big event of the week-end will take place. Let's all make this artificial sentiment that is drifting about the campus inspired by Spring become real and join the merry-makers as the captivating synecopation of Lloyd Raffel's Georgians tempt dancers at the formal Junior Prom. There will be dancing from eight-thirty until one in the morning, and during the program the Queen will be presented with a handsome silver loving cup. The gym will be tastefully and tunelessly decorated by a committee composed of H. Franklin Williams, H. Frederick Chase, E. Malcolm Anderson, H. Edwin Watson, and D. Stewart Carr. Muted saxophones are calling you to sway in rhythmic motion with the social strata of Colby.

Track and Baseball.

Saturday afternoon at 2 P. M., Coach Ryan will stage an interfraternity track meet on Soavens Field. There will be ten events ranging from short dashes to shot puts. Those appearing in tuxedos direct from the Prom will not be admitted. Coach Roundy is preparing an informal baseball game also for the afternoon, to inaugurate the outdoor season.

Open House Chasers.

Have you ever been in New York City at night and felt a sudden urge to "do the town up right?" If so, you made the rounds of the Central Park Casino, Roosevelt Grill, Conno's Inn, and the Senglade. Far be it from us to compare fraternity houses to Harlem night clubs, although there are those who would contend that the comparison is all too logical, but nevertheless, a similar opportunity to (Continued on Page 4)

THE SAGE OF THE CASCO SPEAKS FOR RUSSIA.

In the light of former Governor Percival P. Baxter's recent attack on Maine colleges because of their friendly attitude towards the Russian experiment in government and economics, the following article which appeared in the New York Times on April 8th is, to say the least, amusing. The account of Mr. Baxter's extended investigation of Soviet Russia proceeds as follows:

Former Governor Percival P. Baxter of Maine and Henry Clay Wright of Bath, Me., have just completed a 7,000-mile trip of thirty-four days' duration through the Soviet Union under the auspices of the Soviet tourist bureau.

Telling of their experience, Mr. Baxter said:

"The journey was immensely impressive not only on account of the diversity of scenes and people, but because of the evidences of energy, enthusiasm and constructive work.

"The moral and material rebirth are not confined to Moscow and the other big cities. Way off on the edge of Asia there was the same fury of building and the same drive toward new life.

"We traveled in great comfort, spending our days in seeing the chief points of interest. Every one talked freely and, far from wishing to conceal anything, seemed anxious to show all that would heighten the contrast between the old and the new.

"We saw no signs of distress among the population at any point, though the stations everywhere were crowded and people were traveling in great numbers. The enthusiasm of the people we met and their confidence in their ability to accomplish their plans were most striking and indubitably genuine.

"The able minds that are conducting this vast enterprise do not neglect small details. The work being done for women and children is no less impressive than the hygienic and educational campaigns for adults as well as youngsters. And when you see the new port being built at the edge of Lake Balkash, where a year ago was desert, or the biggest agricultural machine factory in Europe on the outskirts of Sverdlovsk, where a year ago was virgin forest, you get an idea of what the Five-Year Plan means."

LIBERAL CLUB WILL AID IN RELIEF WORK

Brit Webster Makes Appeal For Clothing

Due to depressed conditions in the coal industry, thousands of people in Kentucky and West Virginia are suffering from lack of food, clothing, etc. In addition to a large number of unemployed, many miners have been locked out of the mines for the crime of opposing thug rule and starvation wages.

We believe that there are many students in college who will be willing to give some article of clothing which they can not use or are willing to give for the help of these people. Whether you have sympathy or not for the various strikes please consider the large number of dependents who are in want as well as many who are unemployed. These people come from among the purest white stock in America and have been brought up to believe that America is a land of opportunity and democracy.

One generous member of the Liberal Club has offered to pay freight charges for clothing that we collect. A student in each fraternity house has agreed to receive clothing from the members of his fraternity and Miss Gwendolyn Marden will receive the clothing from the women's division. We will gratefully receive contributions from the faculty also.

All clothing received will be packed and sent to a responsible committee, several of which are acting in the relief work. Please help!

FRESHMAN FROLIC,

The innovation of a freshman dance should be an established institution on the calendar of social affairs at Colby. The Freshman Frolic held in the Alumni Building, Saturday night, April 9th, was a dance any class would have been proud to have staged. Approximately eighty couples danced to music furnished by Smith's Serenaders, and admired the clever drawings and green and white color scheme with which the gymnasium was decorated. The atmosphere was one of great merriment.

The chairman of the dance committee from both the men's and women's divisions of the freshman class, who worked hard to make the dance a success were: Mary M. Small, Raymond W. Farnham, Kathryn A. Herrick, Wilma Stanley, Morris Cohen, and Joseph T. Orlowski. The general chairman was Dana W. Jaquith.

The patrons and patronesses of the evening were: President and Mrs. Franklin W. Johnson, Dean and Mrs. Ernest C. Marriner, Professor and Mrs. Arthur G. Eustis, and Dean Ninetta M. Runnals.

WILLIAM L. DODGE, '06 DIES IN NEW JERSEY

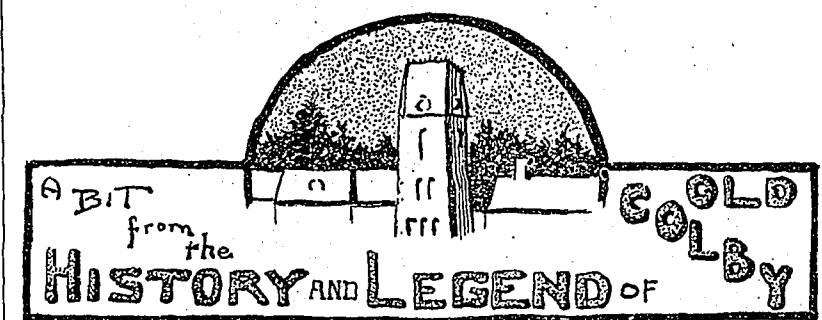

Was Prominent Graduate And Maine Visitor

News was received here Monday of the death of William L. Dodge, which occurred at his home in Maplewood, N. J., Thursday evening, April 7. Mr. Dodge was a native of Clinton, the son of the late Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Dodge, the father being pastor of the Gethsemane Baptist Church for many years.

Mr. Dodge was a graduate of Colby college in the class of 1900. He married Loretta Pollock, a former Waterville girl, who with two children survive him.

He had made his home in Maplewood for a number of years. Upon leaving college, Mr. Dodge entered the employ of the Bell Telephone Co., in the engineering department. He was in charge of important installation work up to a year ago when his health compelled him to cease work. He would have completed 25 years of service with the Bell company next month and would have been eligible for retirement on a pension. He was 47 years of age.

On the day of his death, he and Mrs. Dodge returned from an automobile trip to a neighboring city. Soon after he went to the basement

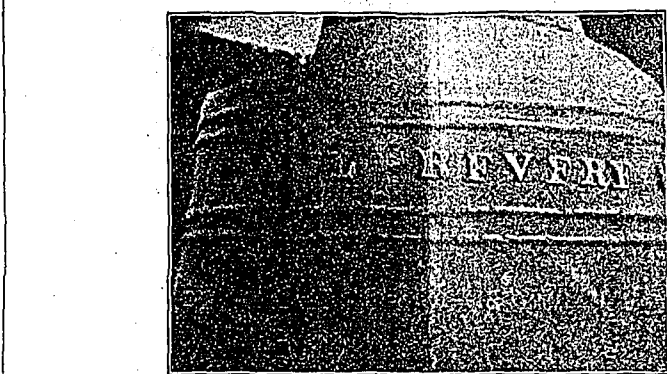

With Patriot's Day coming next Tuesday, it is fitting that we mention an old Colby institution that is closely connected with the hero of this holiday, Paul Revere. The institution referred to is the old College Bell, which has on its side the following: Paul Revere and Co., 1824.

In days past, the old bell did not have the pleasant time that it has now. In those days it had to awaken the students in time for a five o'clock chapel every morning, and, of course, summon them to classes. It was customary in those days to steal the clapper from the bell and then not go to chapel, turn up at classes at least a half-hour late and, of course, blame it upon the bell's not ringing. Then there was the incident of the mysterious ringing one night. No one was in the chapel, the bell rope did not move, yet at intervals the bell would peal forth into the night. Several explanations were offered but it was not until the next morning that the matter was cleared. It was then found that the secret of the whole affair was simply this. Some one had attached a strong cord to the clapper and from a nearby building kept the bell ringing through the night.

Our bell was a great traveler in its younger days. Now its age is beginning to tell and it much prefers to stay in its belfry and reminisce on the days gone by. The longest trip our bell took started in quite an inauspicious manner when it was taken to Augusta one winter's night. From here it was shipped to the sophomore class at Harvard, and incidentally the charges were to be paid by the Cantabrigians. The Harvard men with their famed indifference did not greet the bell cordially but rather repacked it and sent it on to the University of Virginia, also C. O. D. Here the bell met with true Southern hospitality. The Virginians were greatly pleased with their visitor and decided that it should proceed with its traveling. Back into its crate, and again on its way, this time to: Her Gracious Majesty, Victoria, Queen, Defender, etc. Windsor Castle, England, C. O. D.

All the time that the bell had been visiting the college officials had been of his home to attend the furnace, and upon his return upstairs suffered a heart attack, death resulting very quickly.

Mr. Dodge had many friends in Waterville, and nearly every summer came to Maine with his family to visit friends and relatives in this city and Clinton. He was a member of several engineering societies and of the Pioneers, a telephone company organization. He was a charter member of Company H, 2nd Maine Infantry, when it was reorganized in Waterville in 1903 and was a non-commissioned officer for several years. He was a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The funeral was held at Maplewood.

was one of those extremely cold ones, it has to be, otherwise this story is impossible. To return to the story. We find on this night a group of students forming a bucket brigade to the tower wherein is housed our hero. They are working in haste, trying to fill the inverted bell with water so that it will freeze and not ring in the morning. Their work completed they quietly started for the stairs, when—slosh—splash and the bell is overturned and the joke is on the joker.

One could recount innumerable stories of the old bell. Many would like to know how the clapper found built into South College in 1875 got there. Then there is the disappearance of the clapper under "Ben Butler's" guidance.

"Chef" Weymouth has a story that is connected with the old bell. This happened when "Chef" was a local police officer. He was talking to a well dressed, white-haired gentleman at the railroad station. The man said, "I know where an old clapper to that bell is located now, down on the river bank. If I had twenty minutes I would get it for you."

The train came along at that time, however, and the old clapper is still somewhere down on the river bank. It is over one hundred years since the old bell first called students to classes. It has grown old with the college but its ringing is still to be heard summoning everyone to class. Its clanging has been a signal for classes and has told of victories. May it continue to do so on our new campus.

WHAT THEN?

A COLLEGE TRAINING is of marked advantage in solving the problem of how to live, but what are you going to do about solving the problem of how to make a living?

If you do not plan to teach, sell bonds, or offer unskilled service in a market in which the demand is for skilled service, would it not be advisable for you to learn to do some one thing particularly well? In brief, having learned how to live, learn how to make a living.

If you contemplate fitting yourself for a business career after graduating from college, select the branch of business administration which appeals to you and specialize accordingly. You should be able to decide whether you prefer to specialize in buying, publicity, selling, traffic management, credits, or accounting and finance.

The Bentley School is the largest professional school in the United States which is devoted exclusively to training men to become specialists in accounting and finance.

Nationally-known corporations engaged in manufacturing, public service, foreign trade, chain-store merchandising, banking, and insurance, send representatives to this school each year to select men from the senior class to develop in their organizations. Completion of our training requires two years of thirty-nine weeks each. Tuition, $235 a year.

Living accommodations in fraternity houses, dormitories, and private homes, at reasonable rates.

If interested, send for a catalog. You will not be annoyed with follow-up letters. Please mention your college paper.

SPORTS

The country is full of ex-football stars who have taken up wrestling. There are so many of them it seems to be the natural thing for a football player to do after the college or university has given him a diploma. In looking over the stars who have played on Colby teams in the past few years we find that most of them have become coaches and as yet we have found none in the mat game.

It was found that "Red" Lee, captain of 1929 team, is following in the footsteps of the Westbrook youth who, in pre-grapefruit days, attended the University of Maine. Red is now crooning over the radio several times a week. After teaching school all day long over in Winslow he hurries to the studio and sets feminine hearts aflutter as he breathes melody after melody into the mike.

We are bound to take exceptions to the statement made by an editorial writer in the leading article of last week's edition which dealt with the tennis situation. The writer is disturbed because tennis has been made to suffer because of the "excess cost of a hockey and football team." Not being familiar with the finances of either sport referred to, it would be impossible to disprove the "excess" clause, but last fall Colby played two State Series games here on the home field and the crowds were not small ones. We have been told that the season is bound to be a success, financially speaking, when a majority of the series games are played here on Seaverns Field and this year was no exception in spite of the fact that a large amount of equipment was purchased.

Hockey, of course, did not bring in the same monetary returns, but the tennis enthusiast cannot complain about hockey when the team had to travel two miles to an outside rink each day for practice. The results of the season seem to justify any expenditures which were made for hockey. Can the tennis players give as good an account for their last year's efforts?

As for tennis suffering because of football and hockey, we can only say that the reverse is the case. Football revenue in the long run exceeds expenditures and the surplus is turned over to other sports, tennis included. Tennis men cannot blame hockey and football for their cut. Perhaps it would be better to look for someone to thank for the sweaters which they received last year.

That gold watch which Paul Stiegler has strapped to his wrist is the reward given him for winning out in the 175 pound class at the K. of C. amateur boxing tournament held in Lewiston last Friday evening. It looks as though there is a fistic future for this rugged Long Islander.

"Hambone" Hallinger also went to the tournament being entered in the 118 pound class. He did not fare as well as Stiegler, but showed some good boxing ability. The feminine part of the crowd was all behind him and some of them even wept when he was pitted against a larger opponent.

This week will find both the track and baseball squads going through all of their regular workouts on Seaverns Field. Probably there never has been a season with any greater rewards than this as far as the track men are concerned—the Olympic Association sending four of them to the Olympics for the summer.

The situation in baseball is peculiar. There are three men of first rate ability after practically every position. At this stage of the campaign the coach can tell pretty well who is going to make the grade and who is not, but this year the entire squad bids well to play. Another week of practice should make the line-up for the Maine game a little more definite.

Cony Wins Track Meet.

Last Friday evening in the Field House, Cony High School of Augusta repeated its victory of last year by scoring seventy-five points to win the Kennebec valley indoor track championship for 1932. Waterville High finished second with seventeen points.

Crosby High of Belfast would have given the winners a good battle if their points had been counted, but not being in the league they were not allowed to compete for the cup.

Leo, of Cony, was the outstanding performer gathering in first places in the forty yard dash and in the three hundred besides a third in the high jump. Hichborn, of Crosby, sent the shot out there for a distance of forty-three feet and two inches which was more than the Kennebec valley champion could put it. This same Hichborn jumped twenty feet and five inches in the broad jump thus beating the best of the river boys in that event.

Cony High School in winning this meet has now two legs toward winning the H. R. Dunham trophy which must be won three times for permanent possession.

A compulsory mass meeting for the women's division was held during chapel period, Saturday, April 9, 1932. Two amendments as follows were voted upon: That a compulsory mass meeting should not be held in the fall for the purpose of reading the constitution of the student body; and that it is not necessary that a house chairman be from the senior class or from the next highest class but may be any student capable of fulfilling the position.

Louise C. Smith was elected delegate from the student body to attend the Student Government Conference held at Jackson College, April 14, 15, 16. Anna Elizabeth Swanton will represent the Student Government Board at the conference.

The Plot Thickens

JUNIOR WEEK-END: Starts Friday... great list of events... smooth dances... sporting games... don't miss the greatest social event of the year.

● PORTRAIT OF TOM FOLEY: President of the Junior Class... Born within 15 miles of Harvard but the folks sent him to Colby because they got a peek at the Brighton apartment that he and another fellow had... he's a good class prexy, but he never wears garters... gets drunk on 30% beer, the big sissy... has a contagious smile and one of the best liked men on the campus... he can do with a football what Mr. Heinz can do with pickles... he shoots an eighty in golf and then starts on the second nine holes... he thinks an optimist is a guy who opens a pint in a crowd and saves the cork... he's an expert at Jig-Saw puzzles and his favorite song is "Yes sir, She's My Babe"... A nice King for the Queen, is what I'm trying to tell you... He'll steal anybody's toothpaste, and he's worked on ice-teams in the summer... He gave me three type-written sheets as a statement to the press, but it all boils down to this: "Attend the Junior Week-End!!!"

● FROSH FROLIC: Well, it took the freshmen to show the gang how to run a dance... in the green and white background, the frosh staged a gala affair... Jake Jaquith doffed his "heavies" to act as big shot... Moe Cohen with the assistance of Elsie Maunders was responsible for a big "Welcome Frosh" sign, which somehow left us "uppers" out cold... Jo-Jo Orlovski did a great job on the lighting effects... The cartoons, especially the one of "Ah! Foss Hall," were very well done... Seen Thru The Heat Waves: Reba Jose and George Hunt... Wilma Stanley looking very demure and lovable... the cute couple, Felix Patch and Madeline Higgins dancing below the crowd... Larry Gray shoving a pin into Phil Phillips... to the dismay of Ann Martel... Levallee and Ray Goldstein gliding to "Love, You Funny Thing"... the far away Helen Bell... Schumacher was the new "skulp" on Gauthier's belt... Ludwig & Haley very quiet while "Too Many Tears" was being played... Rita sleeping on Eddie Smith's neck... Funny bits of conversation heard while dancing: "Try my shoulder"... "I have a weakness for whistling"... "Lookit the corner dancing by the campus lovers"... "How about tomorrow night?"... "Let's sit out the next one!"... Hallinger got thru the departing crowd by yelling, "Make way for a woman with a baby in her arms!"

With a low bow to O. O., we present a few Juniors in a skit titled:

BY THESE SHALL YE KNOW THEM

Herb Bryan—the Jaw-jaw accent; Carleton Brown—the Uncle Dudley smile; Horace Daggett—the jutting chin; Bishop Davan—deep set eyes; Bob Violette—Loretta; Carl Foster—the handsomest guy; Rog Draper—another Mr. Colby; Bert Hayward—stormy petrel of the stage; Zook Helie—the yeast-eating poet; Jesse James—the Providence cowboy; Otto Knauff—that voice; Jack Locke—distinctive running stride; Irv Malach—master of terseness; Carroll Pooler—a red-headed complex; Don Rhoades—that briefcase; Dave Sherman—the Lombardo authority, and a new tux; John Skinner—gritty on the track; Mal Stratton—that slave bracelet; Wally Terry—the new mush (on a bet), and spotted white flannels; Bob Walker—a beautiful marcel; Mal Wilson—the wonder on the runners; Perry Wortman—the Hooper-up chemical affinity guy; Harry Williams—curly hair and Brookline accent.

THE PAUSE THAT REFRESHES: All I have to do now to write a column is sit on my front porch and have the couples yell out their names as they walk Messalonskee-ward... and Rowdy Dow, the old Messalonskee mud horse, tried to get a pair of rubber boots at the fire sale... Oh, the grass will soon be green, dear!!... A new club has been formed, evidently to keep me posted on campus activities of the subtle sort... it is called the Juicy Bit Club and Gelly Gellerson is president... they hash over all the juicy things that happen to Colbyites, and if I don't get a copy of the minutes each week, I'll raise hell!!... The personnel includes the Bridges sisters, Keough, Barker, and Louise Smith... The initiation was held last Wed. nite... Evelyn Brackley seen walking home from church... Ev Stapleton scared by a Baptist mouse... Kay Holmes and Mim Walker worked pretty hard to start Ted Taylor's Ford, parked on the Foss Hall lawn by the Phi Delt... Corde Putnam and Betty Muther special guests of the Augusta House... Keough calling a life guard at the Augusta "Y"... W. Kelly took five Possilites riding Sunday aft... The Foss fire whistle found the girls in such an array of wearing apparel that even I, the hardened columnist, blushed... ah... again an Eng. prof said "had spoke"... A Colby Alumnus, Merle Crowell, former editor of the American Magazine, selected as president of Radio City, in N. Y... Larry Gray entertained the chief of police in Hedman Mon. aft... "Legs" Anderson claims distinction of taking the first canoe out... He's wrong... it was Ted Taylor and I... taken from The Mailbox, and quoted verbatim:

Dear Plotter:

Very truly yours,
Stude.
Answer: Ha, so you can't take it?

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS.

Mrs. Lucin Ames Mond spoke before the International Relations Club on Monday evening, April 11, 1932. Her address was followed by questions and discussion. The chief interest centered around the present situation in Manchuria and Shanghai; and the possibilities of war involving Russia. Mr. G. G. Wilson, a distinguished authority on international law at Harvard, is to speak under the auspices of the International Relations Club of the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday evening May 10, 1932.

PROFESSOR MORSE ADDRESSED GROUP

Is One of Colby's Outstanding Graduates In His Field

Friday evening Professor Harold Morse of Harvard college addressed the Physics society in the lecture room at Shannon Hall on "The Geometrical Aspects of the Theory of Relativity." The lecture was exceptionally well attended, and a crowd of sixty physicists and mathematicians, ranging from freshmen to college professors, turned out to hear Professor Morse. He spent considerable time explaining the Euclidian, non-Euclidian, and Hyperbolic forms of geometry. Some parts of the talk were easily understood by the average student, while others were very complicated.

Professor Morse is without doubt one of Colby's most noted living graduates. He has become famous all over the country for his research work in the field of mathematics. It was announced Friday night that he has been made the first honorary member of the Physics society, Chi Gamma Sigma.

He has recently received an invitation to address the International Mathematical Congress in Zurich, Switzerland, next fall. Professor Morse has been asked to speak particularly on a new theory of the Calculus of Variations originated and developed by him during the last eight years. This theory has aroused considerable interest both in this country and in Europe.

Last summer, while in Waterville, Professor Morse worked on a book which was written and published at the invitation of the American Mathematical Society. The material of this book was presented in brief at the summer meeting of the Society at the University of Minnesota.

It is indeed a rare privilege as well as an equally rare opportunity for Colby students to listen to an address by this man—a man of Colby.

JUNIOR WEEK-END.

make the rounds of frat houses in the spirit of hot-cha and hey-hey will be in the air; and as Mayor Walker said to Seabury, "It's de spirit what counts."

Every fraternity will keep open house, and dancing couples may come and go as they please. It is hoped drab town of Waterville will be offered. True, it may be that you only hear Cab Calloway and Guy Lombardo by electrical transcription, but the fact that every couple will have visited all the houses before curfew rings, and remember, there may be softer lounges and cozier corners in the next house.

Two more committees to be mentioned are the Refreshment committee of which Mal Wilson has charge, and the committee on Publicity headed by Carleton Brown, assisted by Hal Plotkin.

You'll recall some pleasant event for each year that you are at Colby, and if you attend the JUNIOR WEEK-END, that is what you'll remember as the bright spot of 1932.

Banquet and Installation of Officers.

The annual banquet of the Y. W. C. A. was held at Foss Hall on April the twelfth, and this year it was informal.

All the women were invited and nearly all of them were present. The menu consisted of: Chicken Pie, Mashed Potato, Peas, Yeast Rolls, Cranberry Sauce, Apple Pie a la mode, Coffee and Nuts.

A blue candle burned brightly on each table, beside which lay a blue and white program, and near which a blue nut cup was set. Throughout the banquet the presence of the candle, the symbol of the Y. W. C. A., was seen and felt, since it was the theme of all of the speeches.

Muriel J. MacDougall, '31, was the toastmistress, and the speeches were as follows: "Tallow," Gwendolyn G. Mardin, '32, retiring president; "Candle," Evelyn L. Johnson, '32, student representative; "Wick," Kathryn A. Herrick, '35, president of freshman cabinet; "Flame," Marguerite de Rochemont, '33, incoming president; and "Holder," Professor Newman, guest speaker. Guests present were Professor and Mrs. Newman, and the Dean's mother, Mrs. Runnals of Dover-Foxcroft, Maine.

After the banquet, the new officers were installed in the Y. W. C. A. room, in the Alumnae Building. Those retiring were: President, Gwendolyn G. Mardin, '32, Portland; vice president, Marguerite de Rochemont, '33, Rockland; secretary, Mary L. Buss, '34, Central Falls, R. I.; and treasurer, Estelle P. Taylor, '32, Harmony. The officers installed were: President, Marguerite de Rochemont, '33, Rockland; vice president, Louise S. Williams, '34, Dover, N. H.; secretary, Anna C. Trimble, '35, Milltown, N. B.; and treasurer, Evelyn A. Brackley, '33, Strong.
