

Promenade Friday Evening Ushers In Brilliant Junior Week-End

"Captain Applejack" To Be Given May 4

"Captain Applejack," the three act play now in process of rehearsal, will be given Thursday evening, May 4, in the Alumnae Building. Professor Cecil A. Rollins is directing the Dramatic Art Class in this, its latest and last production of the year.

Peter Mills, '34, takes the title part in the play, a character who changes from a sedate and retired personage into that of a blustering pirate chief, Captain Applejack. In the third act, Ambrose Applejohn decides that adventure is not entirely to his liking; as Kipling has said, "You never can tell till you've tried it—and then you are like to be wrong." Pete ably executes his long and difficult role and adds one more laurel to his list of dramatic attainments—a list which includes "The Romancers," "In the Zone," "The Monkey's Paw," and "The Romantic Young Lady"—all college productions.

Miss Sybil Wolman, another figure well known to Colby audiences, plays the heroine, Poppy Faire. Her unassuming, winsome rendition in the first act, her rougher cabin-boy role in the second act, and the climax of required love in the third act will bring delight to the audience because of the variety of characterizations.

The other members of the cast are all familiar with Colby's acting stage. Miss Norma Fuller plays the part of Anna Valeska, another difficult bit, for in the three acts she plays as many roles: a Russian dancer, a captive from a Spanish brigantine, and finally a thief known as Whitey Gladys, the moll. Francis Flaherty takes the part of Mr. Pengard. Sunk is one of the most able and versatile actors in the Workshop class.

Miss Helen Silberberg, as Mrs. Pengard, has a character that easily fits into her dramatic make-up. Nathan Alpers plays Ivan Borolsky, a character that changes like the other parts: this one from a murderous crook to that of a pirate mate with mutiny in his heart and blood on his caress. The supporting cast is as follows: Lush—Leon Bradbury, Mrs. Whatcombe—Ruth Atchley, Palmer—Miss Ross, Dennet—Ford Grant, Johnnie Jason—Harold Plotkin.

The play will be one well worth seeing. It compares favorably with the other superb performances that the class in Dramatic Art has given. The scenery, costuming, and lighting effects are all intricate and clever—most of the details never before attempted in the college.

Tickets will be on sale shortly.

Commencement Play Cast Chosen

The cast for the Commencement Play, entitled "The Truth About Blayds," by A. A. Milne, has been chosen by Professor Cecil A. Rollins, who will coach the presentation. The play itself is one of particular appeal, and the cast is one which includes some of the most experienced and best actors in Colby. The following students have been honored by being chosen from the large number of contestants who tried out for the privilege to take part in the Commencement play which is one of the chief features of the Colby Commencement activities:

Bertrand W. Hayward, '33—A. L. Royce.
Rebecca M. Chester, '33—Isabel Blayds.
John A. Webb, '33—William Conway.
Francis Flaherty, '33—Oliver Blayds.
Mary M. Small, '35—Marion Blayds-Conway.
Ruth H. Atchley, '33—Septima Blayds-Conway.
Myron L. Johnson, '35—Oliver Blayds-Conway.
Anna G. Hannagan, '33—Parsons, the maid.

Cliff Veysey Wins Grind Cops Portland Marathon

Edwin "Cliff" Veysey, freshman from New Sharon, won the Portland Boys' Club eight mile marathon last Wednesday in the very good time of 42:33 4-5. He eclipsed the old record of 44:7 1-5 set in 1931 by taking the lead at the opening gun, and crossing the finish a half mile before his nearest competitor. This was by no means a new experience for Cliff, as may be seen from the following record of his past accomplishments.

George Hodgkins, a Colby graduate who coaches track at New Sharon, started Veysey's running career. Two years ago in June, Cliff ran his first

Hallowell Prize Contest Tomorrow

The annual Hallowell Prize Speaking contest will be held in the College Chapel, Thursday evening, April 27, at 7:30 o'clock. The following students, all members of the class in Public Speaking 5-6, are to deliver addresses in competition for the one hundred dollars offered in cash prizes:

Richmond Nathaniel Noyes, '35, Arthur Wilson Stetson, Jr., '34, Alvin Lombard Vose, '35, Vernon Lloyd Bolster, '33, Louis Percy Prognalski, '34, John James Pullen, '35, William Henry Millett, '34, Irving Martin Malsch, '33, Elbridge Baker Ross, Jr., '35, Stanley Charles Jekanoski, '33, Ralph Nathanson, '34, John Robert Curtis, '33.

Kappa Alpha Chooses New Members

Kappa Alpha, the senior honorary society, formed to promote friendship between sorority and non-sorority girls, selected its new members from the junior class. The new members, chosen two from each sorority and two non-sorority girls, are: Mary Ellen Hodgdon, Evelyn M. Kelley, Elizabeth C. Dyson, Ruth V. Hardley, Harriet W. Pense, Rebecca Penniman, Dorothy D. Higgins, S. Madelyn Higgins, Elizabeth E. Gurney, Marian L. Ross, Ruth Z. White, and Catherine F. Wakefield.

Last Saturday at a meeting in the Alumnae Building the acceptances of the initiates were received and orders were given to them. Each initiate was required to wear a yellow dress and wear her hair down her back, tied in a red ribbon. She had to carry peanuts and gum to offer to the senior members whenever she met them, and by speech and actions show herself very inferior to them.

On Monday night, in the Alumnae Building, the initiates gave a banquet and entertainment to the senior members. Each initiate had to prepare food that her Kappa Alpha mother specially ordered. Initiation was held and the officers elected for next year were: President, Ruth Z. White; secretary and treasurer, S. Madelyn Higgins.

Wednesday evening a banquet for all members was held at the "Wishing Well" Ten Room. Katherine L. Holmes introduced the speakers, Miss Ninetta M. Runnels, a member of Kappa Alpha, addressed the group,

Colby To Play Bowdoin in Baseball Saturday

Letter to the Editor

To the Editor:
May I use your column to say something to the Colby student body?

As Mr. Goddard and myself have been visiting various prep schools in Maine this spring, we have been impressed with one very pleasant thing. There seems to be a general opinion that Colby is a friendly place. School teams which competed with our Freshmen in football and track, went back to their institutions telling of the hospitality they enjoyed at Colby. Most of them had also visited other colleges and were favorably impressed with Colby in comparison. As nearly as we could gather, the schoolboys felt that the Colby students were not trying to "put on airs" or act sophisticated. There was a genuinely friendly atmosphere about the place. This to my mind, speaks highly for our college and the student body deserves credit for maintaining this atmosphere.

I was prompted to mention this because of the fact that on Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6, some 75 to 100 secondary school boys participating in the Lyford Prize Speaking Contest, will be our guests. There is every reason why they should receive the same favorable impression of Colby. Their welcome does not have to be of the forced "back-slapping" type, but a courteous attention to their wants and a friendly interest in themselves and their affairs will go far towards making their visit to Colby a happy one.

Joseph C. Smith.

Murray Debate Monday Night

On Monday evening, May 1, the annual Murray Prize Debate will be held in the College Chapel. The question to be debated is that of the value of the jury system to reach the ends of justice. The speakers include Donald Milton Bither, '34, Theophile Stanley Krawiec, '35, and Horace Purinton Daggett, '33, upholding the negative, and Stanley Chester Hersey, '33, John Warren Hunt, '35, and Martin T. Storms, '34, upholding the affirmative. The prizes, aggregating $100, will be awarded at the conclusion of the debate.

White Mule Tomorrow

Tonight the fifth issue of the Colby White Mule comes off the press. This Junior Prom Number contains the usual number of jokes, and features the Week-End and the Junior Class in articles, stories, and poetry. A full page picture of the Queen of the Prom lends charm to the book.

Pres. Johnson To Speak At Forum

The guest speaker of the Student Fellowship Forum for this coming Sunday afternoon will be the President of Colby College, Franklin W. Johnson. President Johnson will, as is customary, answer student questions on all phases of his subject which will be the College President's View of Religion. Since the church forms the very backbone of Colby's existence, this topic should be of intense interest to most members of her student body.

The exact treatment of the many religious problems that come up in the course of the college year must, indeed, be a source of deep thought to those in charge of our scholastic destiny. It will be most interesting to hear how contact with those problems has affected the viewpoint of our Prexy.

The Student Forum meets regularly each Sunday night at six-thirty in the fireplace room of the Methodist Church. The entire student body are considered to be members of the group and are earnestly invited to attend the next few meetings before the closing of the college year!

Last Sunday Professor Libby's discourse on the home problems of the college student was so well received by a large, enthusiastic group that the discussion and question asking had to be carried over for an extra period of fifteen minutes or so and was only abandoned finally upon the promise of the professor to grant interviews in the rear future to all those whose questions were not satisfactorily answered.

The program committee has high hopes of obtaining the services of Miss Terry Carlyle, talented young actress of Outward Bound, for some meeting soon. She should attract all who witnessed her previous performance as well as their friends who must have listened to her praises since that performance. Since the forum has already nearly burst its confines on previous occasions, Miss Carlyle's presentation should necessitate moving out into the limitless outdoors to accommodate the throngs of her admirers.

Mr. Bither Speaks at German Club

On Tuesday evening, April 11, the first German Club meeting since Easter was held. It was conducted informally. Mr. Philip S. Bither, '30, related many very interesting anecdotes about his stay in Germany, and about the customs there. He also showed pictures of the places and people.

Miss Peg Raymond To Be Presented Queen Cup At Dance

Colby's biggest social week-end begins Friday. The Junior Class of the college, through its committee, has arranged a program unexcelled in any previous year. Despite the depression, not taking into account gold standards, forgetting the lack of beer in Maine, the attending couples will long remember Junior Week-End as their most brilliant college event.

The Promenade on Friday evening at nine o'clock opens the two day program, but many are planning dinners at nearby restaurants preceding the dance. The dance itself will feature the

Press Club Hears Roland Patten

Roland T. Patten, editor of the Presque Isle Star Herald, former owner and publisher of the Skowhegan Independent Reporter, and for thirty years prominent in Maine newspaper circles, was the guest speaker before a meeting of the Press Club last Thursday. The meeting was the second of which has been held since the Easter vacation.

Mr. Patten, long famous for his editorials which have been read from the Atlantic ocean to the Rocky Mountains, is recognized as one of Maine's most outstanding journalists. His address concerned the place which a country newspaper plays in the life of the nation.

Illustrating his address with many interesting personal experiences, Mr. Patten pointed out the marked differences between metropolitan daily newspapers and country publications. He claimed that any community of more than 3000 persons without a weekly newspaper was in a sad state of affairs. He went on to say that in his opinion, the newspaper business is the most interesting profession in the world.

"Honesty is as essential to success, in the newspaper business," said Mr. Patten, "as much if not more, than in any other business of which I know. The public is quick to condemn an untruthful reporter of newspaper and every care should be exercised to tell nothing but absolute truths in any news story."

During baseball games at Seaverns Field, the Athletic Department would appreciate it if all spectators would remain in the grandstand rather than attempting to view the game from the first or third base lines.

Professor Edwards wishes to thank those who so kindly cooperated with him in his respect at yesterday's game.

TO PLAY AT PROM FRIDAY

famous Leo Hannon and His Musical Bellhops whose band will furnish the dance music until one in the morning.

The decorations, in a smart color scheme of black and white, will be the most elaborate ever attempted in the Alumnae Building. One of the dances will be a balloon dance in which a thousand varied colored balloons will come gliding down from "out of nowhere."

During the evening, the Queen of the Prom will be presented with a handsome loving cup. This year, the Junior Class has selected Miss Peg Raymond, '34, to preside over the affair as Queen. Miss Raymond, whose picture is now appearing in newspapers all over the country, is a brunette, and comes from Arrostook County—Colby's own "prep school."

On Saturday, the baseball team opens its Maine State Series games, playing host to Bowdoin College. The team will return tomorrow from a swing through New England, and are ripe now to show their wares to a Colby grandstand. The game begins at 2:30 o'clock, and all week-end guests are admitted free. A good game is promised, and with a holiday crowd cheering them, the Colby team will be spurred on to great efforts.

Saturday evening, the only fraternity open house chasers of the year will be held. Each frat house will have dancing and refreshments. The idea of the chasers is to have every couple dash around and visit all the houses before the evening is over. This is one of the most enjoyable parts of the program. The girls in party dresses and the men in sport outfits, every fraternity will play host to the couples—open house, a gala spirit, smart dance tunes by Ben Bernie, Guy Lombardo, Cab Calloway, even if they come to you by electrical transcription—all lend an air of gay abandon.

On another page of this issue are listed a partial list of the one hundred and twenty-five couples who will attend the Week-End. It is not too late to secure your bid; any member of the committee will have a ticket for you.

Last Student Council Gym Dance Gala Affair

When Cecil Hutchinson and his Royal Commanders played the last dreamy waltz in the Alumnae Building, Saturday evening, they played the swan song of the 1933 Student Council dances. An unusually large portion of the student body turned out for the affair, which wound up the winter season in a royal way. True to form, Student Council made a notable success of the year's last gym dance.

Guests were received by Carroll Pooler, '33, Miss Corinne B. Van Norman, Miss Lillian Evans, and Mr. Cullen B. Colton.

UPSILON BETA.
An important meeting of the Upsilon Beta society will be held Thursday, April 27. Bursar Penbody wishes all houses represented. Initiation and Track Cup will be discussed.

MEN'S ASSEMBLY COMES TO LIFE

The program which was presented last Friday in the weekly assembly of the men's division was probably the most heartily received and the most popular of any during this year. Fred Champlin played the piano in such a manner that every Colby man present felt his legs tingle and upon several occasions the assemblage broke out with a "hey nonny nonny and a hot-cha-cha," or fell in with the words of "Shuffle Off To Buffalo."

Perhaps it is not in keeping with the hallowed past to suggest that what we need is more and louder jazz in the assembly programs, but the falling off in attendance and the utter disregard for the compulsory attendance ruling makes it obvious that the Friday morning gatherings do not appeal to the students. And for that matter, it is not a difficult task to count the professors who drape themselves over the seats on the platform.

While we are on the subject it might be well to inquire of the Powers that be, as to the feasibility of singing "Alma Mater" occasionally if not at every assembly. It might be embarrassing at first, because there are very few Colby students who know the song of their college, but they are willing and they will learn it and know it as they know the Marching Song, if you will but give them the opportunity to sing it at least now and then.

WHERE WILL WE GET OUR "THREE AND TWO?"

Next fall when Colby students return for the academic year of 1933-34 there will be flowing in the Pine Tree State that beverage which has lately been placed on tap in many states—that is, providing the delays necessitated by a referendum do not hold up its coming. For us, it is more or less of a moot question, but we wonder whether or not there will be regulations regarding the collegiate consumption of beer. Of course, you can get plenty of eight and nine per cent stuff almost within a stone's throw of the campus now, but when the three and two-tenths per cent beer becomes legal there will be a lot of "breaths" on the campus and even in the classrooms and these won't be confined to Monday mornings either.

Two newspaper men tested the beer being sold in Massachusetts the other day and after putting twenty-four bottles of the suds "down the hatch" they decried the fact that it had no kick, so, if that be true, there will be a little to fear from drunkenness here at Colby even though the air may be a bit sharp at times. The next thing is, where will our three and two come from? Suggestions have been forthcoming from bull sessions at the various houses, but there seems to be quite a lot of sentiment in favor of having Scrib dispense the beverage from his store, that being a grocery store, and thus legally qualified to perform that service to the thirsty public. Anyway the ECHO nominates Scrib as Beer Baron of Colby for the college year 1933-34.

"Pure water is the best of gifts that man to man can bring. But who am I that I should have the best of anything? Let princes revel at the pump, let peers with ponds make free, Whiskey or wine, or even beer, is good enough for me."

Northfield Conference

Plans are already being formulated for the Northfield Student Conference which is to be held this year at Camp Becket-in-the-Berkshires from June 12 to 20. Here is a splendid opportunity to enjoy a week's vacation amidst some of the most outstanding student leaders in this section of the country. The program of the Conference will be devoted to discussing many of our present social problems and will seek to infuse a deeper insight into the possibilities of human life. The camp is situated in a marvelous spot in the Berkshires on the edge of a beautiful lake, the highest body of its size in the Berkshires. The cost for meals and sleeping accommodations is exceedingly low this year, there having been a reduction of practically 50% over previous years.

VEYSEY'S RECORD
BREAKING STRIDE

It is an old story how Cliff Veysey completely outclassed the field in the eight mile run at Portland a week ago, but it is entirely appropriate to speak a word of praise for his fine spirit in facing competition. There are several things which a runner needs, according to the coaches, and among these are natural ability and an indomitable will to win, or intestinal fortitude, or just plain guts. Perhaps the competition was lacking at Portland, but Veysey's spirit was there all the same even though there was no one capable of forcing him to the limit.

—C—

Everyone was proud to read the news that a Colby man had smashed the record and few realized that he was not running under the name of the college, but that is the case. When the State Meet comes here in a few weeks, Cliff, who could probably romp away with the mile and two mile, will be forced to stand there with itching legs while the others who are more fortunate in landing good grades take their places by the starter.

—C—

If a student is good enough to remain in the college and pay his bills, why should he not be allowed to benefit from the student activity tax to the extent of representing the college if he happens to be of use to a particular activity? He pays for the privilege, yet it is denied him, because of it still perfectly eligible to pay the low marks and at the same time he fees.

—C—

BASEBALL STARTS
ON THE WRONG FOOT

Coming down from the northland the Colby baseball team found the atmosphere around Boston a little too warm or something and failed to click while in the field. The initial encounter was with Boston University and even though the men collected 14 hits, there were 15, yes fifteen, errors marked down against the team while in the field and it is no wonder that B. U. won the game, 13 to 10.

—C—

NORTHEASTERN & TUFTS

The game with Northeastern Monday found Colby still booting the ball around running up a total of four errors and trailing by a 6 to 0 score. Tuesday the team faced Tufts and everything went well to the third inning and then Tufts scored three runs. Perhaps it was just as well that it rained and the game was called at that time.

—C—

REAL GAMES AHEAD

In spite of this sloppy start we expect that the Colby team will come down through the series with a position very near the top if not in the sunberth itself. This is not mere optimism, because we have every reason to believe that the fielding of the club will improve greatly in the next few weeks and the potentialities of the team's heavy artillery are such that it will be a team to be respected while at bat.

race at the University of Maine's interscholastic meet. He won the mile run in 4:40. He did not compete again until last April, but practiced by himself for a ten mile race. He entered the ten mile Cathedral race in Boston, and with a handicap of 5:30, took second place in the time of 56 minutes.

Returning, "Cliff" trained himself for the mile. At the University of Maine interscholastic meet last June, he set a new mile record of 4:36 1-5. The following week at Bates College, he established another mile record of 4:36. On the same day, he made a new mark of 2:5 in the half mile.

"Dan" Shanahan, another Colby man, promoted three days of racing at Madison last June. On the first day, "Cliff" ran the two mile race in 9:21. The second day saw him win the three mile race in 20 minutes. The last race was five miles long. "Cliff" won this, covering the first mile in 4:24.

The following week, Veysey won the nine mile Flagg Day run at Waterville in 49 minutes. He will enter again this year, and hopes to cut his time to 47 minutes. At the Waterville fair ground, he won the five mile race, and defeated the favorites from several schools.

The next Saturday he travelled to Pawtucket, R. I., to run the twenty-six mile marathon. He was disqualified because of an injured knee. In the ten mile run at Lynn, Mass., he placed sixth, in the time of 58 minutes, running under a handicap.

L.C.A. Wins
Druid CupOnly 1-4 Point Ahead of K. D. R.

Saturday afternoon in an almost seething gale, Colby track aspirants were engaging in the first competitive outdoor meet of the year. It was the interfraternity meet with the Druid Cup the prize.

The closeness of the battle was hardly expected, but after the final event was over it was found that the Lambda Chi Alpha's had a 1/4 point margin over Kappa Delta Rho. The Lambda Chi's were taxed to their utmost in repeating their last year's performance. Zeta Psi was third with 27 points, and Delta Kappa Epsilon followed close behind them with 23 3/4. The others placed in the following order: Phi Delta Theta, 8 points; Delta Upsilon, 6 1/2; Non-Fraternities, 5; Tau Delta Phi, 4 1/4; Alpha Tau Omega, 3 1/4; and Theta Kappa Nu, 1.

The wind prevented any startling results and in all probability caused many upsets. The great race of the day was between Bud Hilton and Ab Bevin in the mile—neck and neck to the tape with Hilton crossing a shade in the lead. Bud also pulled down a second in the two mile event. He was led by Cliff Veysey, whom no one in this vicinity seems to be able to touch. Ed Buyniski dropped a bombshell by grabbing on to second place in both of the dashes.

Harry Williams, L. C. A., took the honors for points by capturing 20 1/2 of his team's 43 3/4 markers. Harry won first place in the quarter mile, two-twenty, and low hurdles; was tied for first in the high jump and placed second in the high hurdles. Captain Stinchfield, K. D. R., and John Dolan, D. K. E., were next in line for point scoring honors. "Stin" placed first in the javelin and pole vault and second in the shot put. His javelin throw of Franklin County sent him down to Harvard to compete in the Olympic tryouts. "Cliff" had tonsillitis and could not run. At Somerville, R. I., he overcame a 5:15 handicap in a ten mile marathon to win second place.

154 feet 10 inches, while nowhere near his usual standard was probably the most creditable performance of the day. Dolan won a first in the broad jump and high hurdles, third in the low hurdles, and fourth in the hundred. The only other man scoring over ten points was Roger Rhoades, K. D. R. and weight heavier extraordinary, who won first in the discus and hammer and also took third place in the shot put for a total of 12 points.

The summary follows:

TURKISH TOBACCO

comes to this country in bales.
The leaves are small and tightly packed. Each bale contains about 40,000 leaves.

DOMESTIC TOBACCO

is stored in huge wooden hogsheads. Each hogshead contains about 1000 pounds of tobacco.

A flavor that neither possesses alone

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco—Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.

THE PLOT THICKENS

By The Plotter

The Inside Stuff

Photo shows President Hank Davidson and the Queen driving to the Prom in their chariot. The crowds you see milling around the old plug are only a few of the couples who will attend the Junior festivities.

Everything is set for a week-end that will be without a peer. Frankly, the number of couples attending far out ran the expectations of the committee. From present indications there will be over 125 couples engaging in the festivities. Watch Colby go Park Avenue with swallow-tails at the Prom.

With the Social Register a sort of Plotter's Column turned "400," it won't be necessary to elaborate to any extent about the couples who will attend. It was hard enough work making that up. We'll complete it next week.

ON THE INSIDE: There is a soph plot afoot to keep the Queen from attending the Prom. The White Mule—out in the morning—is dedicated to the Junior Class. Ginny Parsons receives undies from her ardent N. Y. artist boy-friend. Boy, can some people intermission! At the gym dance last Sat. Amy Thompson dancing to "Shuffle Off to Buffalo." Know the rest of the words? Messalonskee Melodrammers; Barnes and Lund play "peas porridge hot" on the banks. We wish to warn Bill Millett that the footbridge railing is an unsafe place for his fiancée to sit and enjoy the moonlight. It seems that Ed Gurney could find something more romantic than Shakespeare to recite to Terry Carlyle on those same banks. I guess Em Gilpatrick and Twiddle Rogerson could tell some thrilling stories about the Messalonskee on Patriots evening if they were so minded. When Emma Small has cold feet, Bob Gilpatrick lacks technique. Kay Herrick visited a U. of M. friend the other week-end. Ervin and Barnes are great buddies these days. Sug Porter and Isabelle Dillon visiting here. The Dokes have lost a blue roadster. Jerry Foster looked nice in blue at the gym dance. Len Libby of "Hearts Aflame" fame haunting Turcotte's and Evelyn Cox admits "he's her steady." Kay Wakefield had orchids at the Phi Beta banquet. Personal nomination for the most beautiful hair in college—Betty Freeman. The Duoba sisters driving about considerably this week-end and is Pat having a key made for Joe Orłowski? One of my sec'y's says that nude sun bathing is taking place on the Foss Hall roof. Quick Togi, my autogiro! Don't get excited, Phidels, they won't be out in today's rain. De Donnell in Belfast with Vic over the week-end. Leonard Hunt, Sigma Nu from Maine visited Ruth Shesong. Eleanor Bridges looked nice at the gym dance. Girls who begin a conversation while dancing saying "How did you like the exam this morning?" burn me up. Zeserson's by-line while dancing is, "Doesn't it make you dreamy, this music?" Horses. I'd say something about these haircuts around here, but last year the ECHO lost some barber advertising because of Plotter wise-cracks. Irv Tuttle once reported his car stolen, and the leaned out Lois Dean's window & Cordee said in a business-like tone—Get away from that car—but the person just hicced and kept on trying to start it—so they got the night watchman—(a very useful (?) person, cause the man asked him to see if the car lights were on & he did!)—then thoughtfully took the license plate numbers in case the car were stolen—then they called the police & came and took him away.

Foster House Entertains

On Monday evening at nine o'clock Miss Inetta M. Runnals received a printed card stating: "Foster House calling on Dean Runnals." At Foss Hall door she was met by a liveried footman (Helen deRochemont) who escorted her to a waiting car. The chauffeur (not James but Tommy) drove her to Foster house door. There she was met by Phyllis Jones and Charlotte Howland, two charming maids. They removed her wraps and ushered her into the parlor where the rest of the house was gathered.

Coffee and sandwiches were served following the social hour which contained both humorous anecdotes and spooky stories.

"Y" Teams Visit Surrounding Towns

The Colby "Y" sent out two deputations Sunday, April 23. The Union Church at Freedom was visited Sunday evening by a team composed of Dorothy Gould, '36, George Hunt, '34, Ruth Millett, '36, and Leon Williams, '33. The men were the speakers; the women sang. There was only the one service. The pastor of this Freedom church is Rev. Preston Pennell, former Colby student, and the organist is Frank Fuller, '33.

Brainard Caverly, Reginald Humphrey, Leon Palmer and John Rideout, all of '36, conducted several services at the Baptist church in Clinton. They Kill Jesus," in the evening. Mr. Rideout spoke on "War Prevention" in the morning. Mr. Caverly on "Anger" at the Young Peoples' Meeting, and Mr. Palmer on "Why Did They Kill Jesus," in the evening. Mr. Caverly led the hymns at the evening service.
