Trustees Consider Plan To Abolish B. S. Degree

Dramatic Art Play Enjoyed

Last Thursday evening the Dramatic Art Class presented Captain Applejack, their final performance of the year under the direction of Professor Cecil A. Rollins. The large number of people who attended were more than pleased with the fine acting that was evidenced by the members of the Dramatic Art Class.

The play, an Arabian Nights' Adventure, was given in three acts. The first act, the adventure; the second, the dream; and the third, the romance.

Many favorites of Waterville audiences participated in the presentation, Peter Mills, who played the leading and title role, portrayed excellent characterizations in the two parts he represented. Miss Sybil Wolman, the heroine, Miss Norma Fuller, and Nathan Alpers are to be congratulated in their pleasing portrayal of their characters.

Francis Flaherty, Ruth Atchley, Harold Plotkin, and Helen Silberberg showed remarkable talent in parts that were excellently suited to them.

Howard Small Wins Lyford Contest

Last Friday, May 5, 84 students from secondary schools of Maine, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts competed in the 24th annual Lyford Prize Speaking contest.

Preliminary speaking was held in the afternoon in college classrooms. The speakers were divided into five groups. Students of public speaking classes and debaters judged these groups, and selected the three best men in each group to compete in the final contest held in the evening in the college chapel.

Howard Small of Corinna Union Academy won the first prize of fifty dollars with the selection, At the Grave of the Unknown Soldier, by Harding. The second prize of twenty-five dollars and the third prize of fifteen dollars were divided between Edward Segal of Worcester, Mass. High School, and Robert Kurson of Bangor High School. Fourth prize was won by Willard Libby, son of Professor Herbert Libby. Mr. Libby represented Colburn Classical Institute.

The judges at the final contest were: Hon. Donald Partridge, former Congressman from Maine, Norway; Dr. George Morrill, '79, Skowhegan; Professor Frederick Fassett, '23, faculty of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.

Maqua Student Conference

The annual Maqua Student Conference will be held this year June 17-24 at the State Y. M. C. A. camp at Winthrop, Me. Several fine leaders are scheduled to be present. Here is an opportunity for any who wish to spend a profitable week on the shores of Lake Umbagog. The Colby Y. W. C. A. hopes to send several representatives. Will any who are interested please see Lois Crowell for further information about the conference.

In the announcement of courses for 1933-34 a proposed plan is forwarded by the Administration which will do away with the Bachelor of Science degree at Colby college. The plan is now being considered by the Board of Trustees. If it meets with their approval it will be a regularly incorporated feature of the Administrative Rules.

Under the proposed plan the Bachelor of Arts degree will be conferred upon all students who complete certain specified requirements. These requirements are fully stated in the new Announcement of Courses. They do away altogether with most of the courses which are at present compulsory. Science requirements would be fulfilled by taking two year courses from the following: Biology, Chemistry, Geology, Mathematics, and Physics. A Social Science requirement is also suggested which would compel every student to select two year courses from Business Administration, Economics and Sociology, Education and Psychology, History and Political Science, Philosophy, or Religion.

The language requirements would also be subject to some revision. For graduation a reading knowledge of either French or German, and one additional year of either French or German will be necessary. The plan also proposes that English Literature or Classical Literature be made compulsory courses.

There are several other changes and newly introduced legislations which can be procured at the Registrar's Office. They are fully outlined in the Announcement of Courses which can be procured at the Registrar's Office.

18 Join Chi Gam

Chi Gamma Theta, the sophomore honorary society, has selected its new members from the freshman class. The new members, chosen three from each sorority are: Katherine E. Caswell, Ruth C. Richardson, Lois K. Lund, Katherine L. Harvey, Dorothy W. Gould, Caroline L. Williams, Anita L. Thibault, Elizabeth S. Thompson, Dorothy S. Cunningham, Eleanor O. Daland, B. Arlene Hayes, Phyllis W. Carroll, Saxon P. Lurvey, Helen K. deRochemont, Annabelle E. White, Hyacinth H. Batchelder, Dorothy S. Tozier and Theresa J. Henderson.

The initiation, in charge of Ruth H. Thorne, '35, president, began Tuesday, and consisted in the wearing of frank costumes and carrying out the duties of a "slave." In the evening the initiates were ordered to serve a supper to the active members.

Through Thursday the initiation will continue, climaxed by a picnic Thursday evening attended by both the active members and the initiates.

Chi Omega

Last Saturday evening, May 6, the members of Chi Omega sorority gave a formal buffet supper dance at the Augusta House. The music was furnished by a college band. The members of the committee in charge of the dance were Mary J. Palmer, '33, Doris A. Donnell, '34, Ruth O. Koller, '35, and Natalie Gilroy, '36. The patrons and patronesses were Dean Ninetta M. Rumsals, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth W. Millett, and Mrs. George A. Johnson.

Prof. Libby Announces Change In Course

Announcement is made by Professor Libby, of the department of public speaking, that the work of the course listed in the catalogue as 9-10, will for the coming year be radically changed. The change is occasioned largely by the demand for students capable of giving instruction in public speaking in our high schools and academies. The course will be open to all students of both divisions who have completed English Composition, and no other course in the department need be taken as a pre-requisite.

Announcement is also made that several members of the faculty of the Curry School of Expression, Boston, will give a series of lectures and recitals before the class in the way of preparing the students for further work that they may do for professional careers.

The aim of the course is three-fold: 1. To train students in the technique of expression work with special emphasis upon voice culture.

2. To train students in the work of interpreting English prose, poetry, and drama that they may be equipped to give public programs.

3. To lay the foundation for professional work in public speaking by a closer cooperation with the faculties of Schools of Expression.

While faculty members of other schools will be invited to address members of this class, the Curry School of Expression, Boston, has already entered into arrangement with the Department to have several members of its staff give a series of lectures and recitals before the class during the academic year of 1933-1934.

Goodwin Contest Tomorrow Night

The annual Goodwin Prize Speaking Contest, made possible by Mrs. Matie E. Goodwin, of Skowhegan, and given in memory of her husband, Hon. Forrest Goodwin, of the class of 1887, is to be held on Thursday evening, May 11, 7.30 o'clock, in the College chapel.

Contestants this year number 12 in all, and are as follows: Leon A. Bradbury, '33, Bridgewater; John R. Curtis, '33, Waterville; Horace P. Daggett, '33, Waterville; Bertrand W. Hayward, '33, Bridgewater, Mass.; James E. Poulin, Jr., '33, Waterville; William M. Wilson, '33, Framingham, Mass.; Robert F. Allen, '34, Waterville; William H. Millett, '34, Springfield, Vt.; Sumner P. Mills, Jr., '34, Farmington; Arthur W. Stetson, Jr., '34, Waterville; Theophile S. Krawiec, '35, Central Falls, R. I.; John J. Pullon, '35, Amity.

Four prizes, fifty, twenty-five, fifteen, and ten dollars each, will be awarded to the four students ranking highest.

Y. M. C. A. CALENDAR

Tuesday, May 16, Cabinet Meeting. Wednesday, May 17, President Johnson speaking in the chapel.

An appropriate Mother's Day program was offered at the combined men's and women's chapel this morning. Malcolm Wilson presided while Marguerite deRochemont read the scripture and prayer. Mr. John White Thomas, director of music at Colby, sang Mother O'Mine. The program was under the auspices of the college Christian Associations.

WOMEN'S CHAPEL

Regular chapel for the women's division was held Monday morning, May 8. Mr. Philip S. Bither, instructor, spoke on the American Fellowship Exchange, its purpose and benefits. He stated that there are 347 exchange fellows studying in foreign countries this year. His talk emphasized the importance of languages to the cultural side of our college curriculum.

NOTICE

Bishop McCarthy of the Catholic Diocese of Maine will be the speaker at the men's assembly, Friday morning.

GYM DANCE FRIDAY

This Friday evening, the Student Council, availing itself of an open date, will run a post-season gym dance. Cecil Hutchinson and his Royal Commanders will play.

Spring Formals

Dates of the fraternity spring formals have been announced as follows: Friday, May 19. Theta Kappa Nu and Zeta Psi.

Friday, May 26. Tau Delta Phi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Phi Delta Theta.

Saturday, May 27. Delta Upsilon. Monday, May 29. Kappa Delta Rho and Alpha Tau Omega.

Thursday, June 1. Lambda Chi Alpha.

Rebecca Chester And Catherine Wakefield Take English Prizes

The Mary Low Carver prize for 1933 has just been awarded to Rebecca M. Chester, '33, for her poem "The Search." This prize, founded by Mary Low Carver, the first woman graduate of Colby College, is given annually for the best poem submitted by a member of the women's division. The form of the winning poem is not limited and "The Search" consists of six quatrains. The story of the poet seeking stars is told in an easy, swift, pleasing style. This is the first time that Miss Chester has exhibited her talent along literary lines, her extracurricular activities being chiefly along dramatic lines. She appeared as Mrs. Midget in the Powder and Wig play "Outward Bound" and is to have the lead in the Commencement play "The Truth About Blayds." In 1932 the prize was won by Ruth Nadeau, '32, and in 1931 by Eleanor H. Rogers, '32.

The Solomon Gallert prize paper for 1933 is "The Anglo-Saxon Philosophy in Beowulf and Thomas Hardy," an essay by Catherine F. Wakefield, '34. Miss Wakefield was born in China and first showed literary promise in the eighth grade by capturing the prize in a high school contest. She is a transfer to Colby this year from Radcliffe where she was president of the Poetry Club. Last year the Solomon Gallert prize was awarded to Barbara Sherman, '32.

Press Club Hears Frederick Fassett, '23

Frederick G. Fassett, Jr., Colby graduate in the class of '23 and now instructor of English composition and history at M. I. T., was guest speaker before a meeting of the Press Club last Saturday morning. Mr. Fassett was also the joint editor of two recently published books on English composition.

Mr. Fassett discussed the English side of journalism. He took as his theme "style" and "the machine." By style he did not mean "saying the right things in the right places," but a sure, vigorous, competent mode of expression. The machine, he explained, is this gigantic civilization and its progress through the centuries, in which we can trace the evolution of the English language.

"Like the architecture of our country," said Mr. Fassett, "English is on the road for simplification. The non-invasive absolute will become obsolete; one adjective will suffice where three or four were formerly used. How far this simplification will go, we don't know, but we see it inevitably ahead."

SORRY.

The story in last week's ECHO about the State Track meet was partly in error. The story should have been attributed to the Waterville Sentinel. The ECHO wishes at this time to make this correction.

SENIORS.

There will be an important meeting of all Senior men, Thursday, at 1 o'clock in the Chapel. Plan to be present.

1. At least a three-minute excerpt of an address delivered by some well-known public speaker in comparatively recent years, shall be given before judges on the evening of May 16.

2. Contestants shall be ranked on the basis of 100 points, and the judges will take into account interpretation, appearance, and pronunciation.

3. The six students ranking highest shall be selected to take part in the final speaking on a date to be selected.

4. Prizes shall be awarded as follows: $10 to the student ranking highest in the final speaking; $5 to the student ranking next to the highest.

Women.

1. At least a three-minute excerpt of a reading (not declamation) taken from the works of some author of recent years, shall be given before judges at 4.30 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, May 16, College chapel.

2. Contestants shall be ranked on the basis of 100 points, and the judges shall take into account interpretation, appearance, and pronunciation.

3. The six students ranking highest shall be selected to take part in the final speaking on a date to be named.

4. A first prize of $10 will be awarded, and a second prize of $5, to the students ranking first place and second place with the judges.

B. Hamlin (Freshmen) Reading:

All members of the Freshman Class, both divisions, have the privilege of participating in the annual Hamlin Reading, on Tuesday, May 16, College chapel. The following rules shall govern this preliminary speaking:

Men.

1. At least a three-minute excerpt of an address delivered by some well-known public speaker in comparatively recent years, shall be given before a board of judges at 7.30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, May 16, College chapel.

2. Contestants shall be ranked on the basis of 100 points, and the judges shall take into account interpretation, appearance, pronunciation.

3. The six students ranking highest shall be appointed to take part in the final program on a date to be selected.

4. A first prize of $10, and a second of $5 shall be awarded to the students ranking first and second.

Women.

1. At least a three-minute excerpt of a reading (not declamation) taken from the works of some author of recent years shall be given before a board of judges on the afternoon of May 16, 4.30 o'clock, College chapel.

2. Contestants shall be ranked on the basis of 100 points, and interpretation, appearance, and pronunciation considered.

The 37th annual Maine State Track Meet will be held Friday and Saturday on Seaverns Field, this year's event promises to be one of the most closely contested meets in the history of the association.

This is a high-caliber meet, and is one of the most brilliant in the country. It has been held every year since its inauguration in 1895, except during the War years of 1917 and 1918, when it was suspended. Meets were resumed in 1919, but Colby was not represented by a team until 1920.

To date, Bowdoin has won 22 times; Maine 12; Bates 1; and Colby has yet to win its first State Meet. The total points scored by each college thus far, are as follows: Bowdoin, 1852 1-6; Maine, 1423 1-2; Bates, 795 1-2; Colby, 450 2-3.

This year the battle for top honors looks to be a close one between Bowdoin and Maine, with the victor winning by a slight margin. The team which "gets the breaks" will win. Maine has a very well-balanced team, and has power in all events, while Bowdoin is strong in seven or eight of the fifteen events, but will be represented by such high class performers in these, that it will score heavily. The dashes, hurdles, high and broad jumps, and the shot put are Bowdoin's strong events, with such stars as McLaughlin, Good, Allen, Niblock, Adams and Larsen carrying the burden.

Bates has several very fine athletes including Adams in the 220 and quarter mile; Sheridan in the quarter mile; Lary in the half mile; and Jellison in the mile or two mile. In the field events, Eeller in the discus throw and high jump, and Clark in the weight events, should score for Bates.

The showing of the Bates runners is very apt to determine the outcome of the meet. If they cut in heavily in the point scoring, they will hurt Maine and improve Bowdoin's chances. If they do not come up to expectation in the runs, Maine's chances seem good. Bates does not seem to have enough balance or power to seriously threaten Bowdoin or Maine for first place.

According to Coach "Mike" Ryan, circumstances over which we have no control have greatly reduced Colby's scoring power. Such indignities as affect Veysey, Springer and Saul Fuller, and the retiring from college of Tom Fuller, have robbed us of the services of a quartet of our potential point winners. The sickness which lay low Captain Theron Stinchfield this winter, has reduced his efficiency in the javelin throw below his last year's standard, and the unfortunate accident sustained by Kimball, when he broke his ankle last winter has eliminated sure points for Colby in the pole vault. Nevertheless, we will be represented by a group of faithful, hard-working boys, who, although inexperienced in a high class championship meet of this kind, are in good condition and will be in there fighting to gain whatever points possible.

Coach Ryan is not anticipating any more than our usual quota of points, but he would not be surprised if our boys rose to the occasion and made an unexpected showing. Our best scoring prospects are: Jenkins in the dashes; Bevin and Hunt in the half-mile or mile; Hilton in the mile or two mile; Stinchfield in the javelin; and O'Halloran or Rhoades in the hammer.

With favorable weather, Coach Ryan believes that several records are apt to be made. Some of them are: the broad jump by Adams of Bowdoin; the high and low hurdles by McLaughlin or Good of Bowdoin; the high jump by Adams or McLaughlin of Bowdoin; the quarter mile by Arnold Adams of Bates; the 100 and 220 yard dashes by McLaughlin of Bowdoin; and the shot put by Niblock of Bowdoin, or Alley of Maine.

3. The six students ranking highest will be appointed to the final program.

4. A first prize of $10 and a second of $5 shall be awarded to the students ranking first and second.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 10, 1933

WHERE does our $27.00 a year Student Activities Fee go? That is a question that has been in the minds of Colby students recently. The fee includes: Athletic Association, $15.00; ECHO, $2.00; Oracle, $5.00; Y. M. C. A., $2.00; White Mule, $1.00; Debating, $1.00; Class Dues, $1.00; Total, $27.00.

First the $15.00 fee to the Athletic Association.

All men students, upon registration, become members of the Athletic Association. This provision was made so many years ago no one knows the exact date, but it was "some time before the war." Each spring the student body elects, by ballot, a president, a senior, a senior representative, and a secretary, a junior. The alumni also have representation on the council, chosen each June. The President of the College appoints faculty members. The Athletic Council, of the above listed members, draws up the schedules and approves them and also the budgets for the various sports. The Athletic Council is the working head of the Athletic Association.

It is the common belief on the campus that football carries all other sports. This is not true. The income from football is approximately $8,000.00. The total expenses, including equipment, traveling expenses, medical treatment and services and all incidentals amount to almost $8,000. Hockey has a deficit of $500.00 a year, track $1,500.00, tennis $200.00, baseball $800.00, and freshman football $250.00. The total deficit will be over $3,000.00 for next year as the activities are now planned.

The income from the student Athletic Association fee is about $5,700.00, but $4,800.00 of that goes to pay coaches salaries, leaving $900.00 to make up a $3,000.00 deficit. To balance the athletic budget athletics will have to be cut down.

The whole athletic program could be greatly improved if the college paid all the coaches salaries. This would mean that all athletics would be placed under the Department of Physical Education, a separate department of the college. This plan has recently been adopted by several colleges through the country, Bates being the only Maine college to take such a forward step. In the recent survey of the Maine Colleges Bates made a more favorable showing than Colby, in regard to the proportion of students to faculty, because the coaches are included in the faculty of Bates College. Although this might seem like an insignificant item a favorable showing in such matters does much to add to the prestige of a college.

If Colby could adopt such a plan athletics could be expanded or else the Athletic Association fee could be reduced. But at present, if Colby, is to continue its present standard of athletic competition the athletic tax can not be reduced.

The $15.00 a year fee admits students to all home games. A complete list of all such games follows, for the present year.

Football: 3 games, varsity, 3 freshmen games, 1 state series game; Hockey: 4 varsity games; Track: Fall, 1 class meet, 1 interfraternity meet; Winter: 6 freshmen meets, Druid cup interfraternity relay races, U. B. interfraternity meet; Spring: Druid interfraternity meet, 1 class meet, 1 freshman meet; Baseball: 6 varsity games, 4 junior varsity games; Tennis: 2 dual meets, State meet; Golf: 2 dual meets, State tournament.

The state track meet is not included because it is run by a separate organization, the Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Association. This meet is self supporting. All the colleges in Maine belong to this association, Colby, being only one of four members can not allow its student body any more privileges than are allowed to the student body of the other three colleges. Therefore Colby students will have to pay $1.00 for a ticket to the meet.

The student pays each year $2.00 for the ECHO. If this fee is reduced the only way the paper could continue would be to increase the advertising, which would be undesirable. The ECHO is the only means of expressing student opinion. If the fee were abolished entirely the ECHO could no longer be published.

The Oracle receives $5.00 a year from each student. If the fee were reduced the Oracle would have to be less elaborate, a change which would be desirable, particularly during the present business depression.

The fee paid the Y. M. C. A. is used for such fine purposes and is so widely distributed that no change is necessary. This $2.00 is the best investment the students make each year.

Debating receives $1.00 a year. This is necessary if Colby is to continue in the future as it has in the past. No guarantees are received or paid, so all entertainment and traveling expenses must be paid out of the fee collected from the students. The expenses of the cross country trip, which gives such excellent publicity to the college, are also paid out of the fee. If debating is to continue this fee must remain, and it is indeed desirable that debating should remain a major extra curricular activity.

The class dues of $1.00 could well be reduced.

Last year the fraternities voted to pay $1.00 for the White Mule. No non fraternity man had a vote, but nevertheless $1.00 is on the student activities fee now. The White Mule, by its very nature, should not be sponsored by the college as a whole, but should be published privately by a few interested students. As a private venture it could be run as the editors saw fit, with little restraint, as they could not injure the name of the college.

All these fees will be brought before the entire student body for approval in the near future. Each should be considered carefully by all men and an intellectual conclusion reached.

In the future any fifty students, by petitioning the Student Council can have any or all the items on the list voted on by the entire student body. Any new organization wishing to add its fee to the Student Activities tax will have to receive the approval of the Student Council and a faculty committee, before the fee will be voted on by the student body for final approval. This machinery will give the student the right to determine how much it shall be taxed for activities and how these fees shall be distributed.

There can be no drastic reduction until the athletic fee can be reduced and the only logical way that can be done is to have the Department of Physical Education extended to include all athletics, thereby having the coaches salaries paid by the college. Such a system would work to the advantage of the college and of the students.

Maine Edges Colby 4-3

Maine kept its record clean in the race for the Maine Intercollegiate Baseball Championship last week by winning from Colby on Seaverns Field Saturday by a 4-3 score. It was hardly a pitcher's battle, because the game was decided by errors and not by the work of the moundsmen.

Last week we went to press just as the fourth inning was being played in the game with Bates and so were able to carry an account of the game to that point only. It was weird ball game in which the score jumped back and forth with first Colby on the long end with a healthy margin and then Bates coming from behind to take the lead.

OFFICIALS IN 37th ANNUAL MAINE INTERCOLLEGIATE TRACK MEET

Golf Team Beats Maine

A four man Colby golf machine ran through a U. of M. outfit on Tuesday afternoon at the Waterville Country Club. They piled up a one-sided 5 to 1 score to place themselves in undisputed first place in the Maine intercollegiate tournament.

Jack Leddy, state champion and Maine captain, was the only visitor to win. Leddy eked out a 2 to 1 victory over Charlie Tyson. "Doc" Abbott clicked off a snappy 76 to win from G. L. Cobb 6 and 5.

Ernest Roderick put on a burst of pressure to cut down W. L. Emerson 3 and 1. Ben Liscumb had little trouble in stopping R. G. Adams 7 and 6.

The golfers will meet Bowdoin here on Saturday and Maine at Orono on Monday.

The summary:

J. Leddy (M) beat C. Tyson 2 and 1. C. Abbott (C) beat G. L. Cobb 6 and 5. Abbott and Tyson (C) beat Leddy and Cobb best ball.

E. Roderick (C) beat W. Emerson 3 and 1. W. Liscumb (C) beat R. Adams 7 and 6. Roderick and Liscumb beat Emerson and Adams best ball.

SPORT MILLE

—by Pete Mills

At Lewiston yesterday the baseball team appears to have set up a record for itself in the number of errors. Thus far this season it has been painful to look at the box score and read the figures showing anywhere from five to ten or fifteen errors in the error column. With only two charged against the team it seems that things must be tightening up.

This week-end will find Waterville and Colby playing host to the colleges of Maine while the state meet is being run off on Seaverns Field. This event comes but once in the career of any Colby student as the meet comes here but once in four years and to miss this spectacle is to miss one of the great events in the sporting life of the college. Take any four small colleges in the country and show us faster records being set, keen competition and better all round good sportsmanship.

run. Veysey, although at present ineligible, is undoubtedly the most capable distance runner in the state. He negotiated the two miles in nine minutes forty and two-fifths seconds. This time is only four and three-fifths seconds short of the state record in this event. The former Colby record was held by Jimmy Brudno, '27, of Newburyport, Mass.

Mules Beat Bates 5-2

With George Foster out for revenge for the slip up in his work a week ago and with the Colby batters swinging into seven timely hits the ball team collected a 5 to 2 victory over Bates at Lewiston yesterday.

Colby scored twice in the first inning when Darling walked two men, Geer hit safely and Sherman muffed a fly, following which Brown drew another pass to force in the second run.

Foster's mound work was of the best kind, letting Bates down with but six hits, three of them coming in the first inning of the game. In that inning Merrill homered driving in one run ahead of him.

SUPPOSE YOU TELL ME WHY YOU SMOKE GRANGER

"WELL, it's like this. Back in the old days, when men wore high hats and frock coats, they had plenty of time to think things out, and they had sense, too. They used to sit down on a log and take the time to whittle their tobacco from a plug, to be sure of having a cool smoke.

"In those days, a man named Wellman, right here in Quincy, Ill., made about the best tobacco you could get. He knew how to keep the flavor fine and mellow.

"Well, sir, the people who make this Granger Rough Cut acquired Mr. Wellman's method, and they must have known how the old boys used to whittle their tobacco to make it smoke cool. Yes, sir, this Granger is the real stuff. The same mellowness and fine flavor that Wellman used to hand out to his friends. And it's whittled into big shaggy flakes all ready for the pipe. 'Rough Cut' they call it—'cut rough to smoke cool' is the best way I can describe it.

The Granger pouch keeps the tobacco fresh

"Regardless of price, Granger is about the best pipe tobacco I ever smoked. That's why I smoke it, and that's why they call it America's Pipe Tobacco, sir."

Now we wanted to sell Granger for 10¢. It was just a question of how to do it for the price. So we pack Granger in a sensible foil pouch instead of an expensive package, knowing that a man can't smoke the package. We give smokers this good

GRANGER tobacco in a common-sense pouch for 10¢.

GRANGER has not been on sale very long, but it has grown to be a popular smoke. And there is this much about it—we have yet to know of a man who started to smoke it, who didn't keep on. Folks seem to like it.

The Weekly Tabloid

Stude Saves Moll From Gangster Gat

To The Tune Of Guy
Steve Fells A Guy

Old Orchard, Satday nite: The water splashed gently against the sides of the pier stretching out into the Atlantic at this famous seaside resort. Inside the dimly lighted ballroom, couples were swaying to the "sweetest music this side of heaven." It was a perfect night. It was a perfect night for love, for romance. But wait, this is supposed to be a tabloid story.

It was (heh, heh, heh,—the Shadow) a perfect night for a molder.

At about eleven of the clock, Colby's delegation to the festivities, Ted Taylor, Carl Foster, Jimmy Ross, Joey Stevens, Tom Hickey, and our blushing, shy little violet of a hero, Bob "Steve" Brodie of Amsterdarn, N. Y., went out to snatch puffs from quarter cigars (they had already smoked the other three-quarters). Suddenly two shots rang out into the night. Steve, who was nearest to the spot where the jets of flame were seen, hurriedly stuffed the rest of a hamburger he was eating into his pocket, gave up his search for the queen, and made a flying tackle for the fellow with the gat. But not before the fiend had croaked one guy, and had almost done away with a moll. The latter has our hero, Steve, to thank for saving her life. When the coppers arrived, Steve slunk off unknown and undiscovered to where Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians were still playing that haunting oriental tune, "Bhudda, can youse spare a dime?"

In an exclusive interview, Steve modestly said, "I was born of poor but honest parents. While still young I acquired a taste for spinach..." And so on far into the night did our shy hero discourse on his prowess and conquests. But I will not bore you with the gruesome details.

What a night! More people killed! More necks broken! More darn fun!

COYMUUGERS: A view of the party in the Augusta House by the Chi Omegas... Mary Buss in black and white looking very smart... with Emmett... Ginny Parsons with the N. Y. b. f. that I told you about... but minus his gifts... Grace Morrison wearing pale blue organdie and Bob Robertson's gardenias... Cleo Tuttle in a charming original creation... with Ken Raymond... Betty Freeman as beautiful as ever—in white lace... Alice Morse gowned in Nile green and rhinestones... with Wally Peacock... Do Donnell and Vic—she wore a brown and orange heavy crepe... Ruth Keller... stunning... with Myron... and in the receiving line, Ralph Anderson the guest of Ginny Haight who looked very sophisticated wearing a gown of ashes of roses with a darker belt and puffed sleeves... Good music.

LOVE & SPRING are week-ending it here a lot... with interesting side-lights... Goofy Geer taking Miss Foster's place in M. L... When is Bill Terry going to hand out cigars?... John English doesn't know enough to get off trains... McCracken raising hell in the Fiddler's room, and being shoved under the showers... Personal nomination for the sweetest co-ed smile: Gerry Colbath's... Ed Rick and Bob Estes dropped a couple of cents in the Zeta house rum Monte... Louise Smith writes the drama thesis in Skowhegan 'to concentrate'...

Prof. Kleinholz: I say, Mr. Larkin, didn't you miss my class the week-end of the Jr. Prom?
Don: Not at all, professor, not at all.

NAMES MAKE NEWS: On the Bar Harbor Geology trip: A tch's sunburn... Harold Brown's duck call... Kitty Hilton and Ruth Handley got losted... the girl who was "not the typical bolsterous cocksure sort of freshmen, but one of the meek retiring ultra-quiet kind" wore white jod-purs... and Betty Thompson's tight jod-purs... And Bob Gilpatrick went pleasure riding to the coast—because Emma Small was already there... doing Satnite... CHATTER: Willard Jones of the home town up to see Terri Carlyle... Jimmy Ross rides with the Chi O's... Foster House girls are up in arms because Moo Krinsky calls four times a day and speaks to Dot Cunningham 20 minutes each time... and the girls lose dates

Will Tiny Stone and Ed Gurney tell us where they were Satnite?... Squeeze Taylor and Bobby Howard seen burning up the highways on a motorcycle... Woody Peabody looking for a Jersey heffar which broke loose during the Maine game. What a coincidence!... Add New Romances: The latest king, Em. Gilpatrick... Bertha Lewis angry because I failed to make mention of the fact that her burning for Mr. Shaw has gone fooy... Shaw seen lately with Kay Caswell down by the Mslnskee... Joey Stevens trying to slide into the Balle league again?... Schumacher and the Panther Woman a persistent pairing... Geo. Hunt arm-in-arming it with a little French gal... Norm Taylor and Billy MacCarey also twing it... LaCrosse phoning a garage after the accident: "Will you please send help? I've turned turtle..." Garageman: "Wrong number. You want the aquarium."

HITHER AND YON: To those who wondered about that J-Week-End write-up here last week: for a lot of people, it was just a big blank... Open house chaser by-line: Let's go up and I'll show you my collection of pennants... Kay, Ruth, and Ellie to Portland over the wk-end... And at a bathing party: Kitty Rollins & Paul Stiegler (whom they call Addalire because his initials are P. S.), Wilma Stanley & Ralph Peabody, Ann Trimble & Bud Hilton... and only the girls dared go in... Don Rhoades' brief case being held for ransom; it will be returned if that hat and Phi Beta key are offered... and why does he carry a toothbrush in the case... and how much does Dot Harlow know about it?... Hank Davidson and El Diggie that it was J-Week, not J-Wk-end!... ask Ruth & Harriet... Student Council dance Friday night... Len Helie (who will soon write a poem about "20,000 Leagues Under A Georgia Daisy Chain Gang in Sing Sing") having words with a state cop... Chet Clark has invited Wahmita Guell up for the k triangle dance... Joe O'Toole fixes up a girl for you if you buy a corsage from him... Twiddle Rogerson gets a great kick out of trying to wake Terri on his way to breakfast... Put Parker still Skows it... Floyd Haskell is asked to a dance in Augusta with the understanding that there be no celebrating... Did I ever tell you that June Wight was nice?... should've... They're calling Tom Libby "nigger"... The Dean quoted the Plotter's Column of last fall when he gave the statistics on campus romances in chapel... Professor Kelley received a layette with the note, "Congratulations on the twins"... from the playful younger profs... During the chasers, the sign in front of that house next to KDR was almost moved to Finch's lawn... Vernon Bolster growing a mush... Nomination of those most interested in Colby's social life: Prof. & Mrs. McCoy... Steve Rogers is trying hard to win the golf set that the boys told him he would get if he broke par... and Jack Locke can't understand how a baseball team can make 27 put-outs... That tradition that says that the Boardman Willows is the spot for college romancing seems to have passed out... Full moon these nights... ah, well...

CUT ROPE MADE WHOLE AGAIN

EVER BEEN INTERESTED IN MAGIC?
FUNNY YOU SHOULD MENTION IT. I SAW A WONDERFUL MAGIC STUNT LAST NIGHT. FACT IS, I TOOK PART IN IT.

THE FAMOUS ROPE TRICK
ROPE ABOUT TO BE CUT

YOU NOW SEE, GENTLEMEN, THAT I HAVE CUT THE ROPE IN TWO.
OK. IT'S CUT.

YOU SEE THAT IT'S THE SAME AS BEFORE I CUT IT.

ROPE RESTORED

I NEVER DID FIGURE OUT HOW HE DID IT. HE SURE FOOLED ME!
IT'S SIMPLE IF YOU KNOW THE TRICK.

THE CUT ROPE TRICK
THIS IS THE LOOP THAT HE CUTS.
MAGICIAN SHOWS HAND EMPTY—
BUT HAS SMALL LOOP OF ROPE CONCEALED BEHIND FIRST AND SECOND FINGERS OF LEFT HAND—

HOW ABOUT A SMOKE, DOC?
NOT ONE OF THOSE. I LIKE MY VOICE

AREN'T THEY THE MILDEST CIGARETTES?
NO—JUST THE FLATTEST. CAMELS ARE MILD AND THEY TASTE GOOD, TOO. I PRESCRIBE A CAMEL FOR YOU.

YOU'RE THE DOCTOR.

M-M-M, WHAT A SMOKE! IT'S ME FOR CAMELS FROM NOW ON.

YOU'LL LIKE THOSE COSTLIER TOBACCOS MORE AND MORE ALL THE TIME.

It's more fun to know

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. They are milder, easy on the throat... a better smoke. It's the tobacco that counts.
