Paul Gates, '24 Wins Harvard Prize

It was announced last week at Harvard University that the David A. Wells prize in economics is to be awarded to Paul Gates, a member of the faculty of Bucknell University.

Mr. Gates is a graduate of Colby College in the class of 1924. He obtained his A. M. at Clark University the following year, and in 1930 he received his Ph. D. at Harvard University.

The prize, a cash award of $500, is awarded annually to a student or recent graduate of Harvard University for the best thesis embodying the results of original investigation in Economics. The subject of Gates' thesis was "The Illinois Central Railroad and its Colonization Work."

Y.M.C.A. Retreat This Week-End

The Colby Y. M. C. A. cabinet will hold a retreat at the Augusta "Y" over the week-end of May 20-21. The group is to leave the college at 1.30 Saturday afternoon. The subject for the afternoon's discussion, which is to be led by Brooke Anderson of Brown University, will be "The Place of a Christian on a College Campus." In the evening Edward Gurney, Jr., president of the Colby "Y," will speak on "The Place of a Christian Association on the Colby Campus." Brooke Anderson is again to lead a discussion Sunday morning. His topic at this time will be "The Place of Religion in the Life of the College Man." At 1.30 Sunday afternoon a cabinet business meeting is scheduled. All the committees will report on the plans made thus far this year, and new plans will be formulated.

All the facilities of the Augusta "Y," including bowling alleys, pool tables, swimming pool, and kitchen and dormitory privileges, are to be at the disposal of the men. The retreat will close at 4.00 P. M. on Sunday.

Scoring in twelve of the fifteen events and producing in one of them a new state champion, the University of Maine track outfit outscored Bowdoin, Bates and Colby on Seaverns Field, Saturday morning and afternoon to win the 37th annual Championship Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet. The point summary gave Maine 58, Bowdoin 47 1/2, Bates 22 1/2, and Colby 7.

In spite of rain and a fairly wet track one record was broken and another equaled as the Pale Blue of Orono shot out to kick the dope bucket into the discard. The new record goes to Freeman Webb of Maine who, after winning the pole vault at 11 feet 6 inches, went on to establish the mark of 12 feet 3 3/4 inches, to smash the former mark of 12 feet 2 1/2 inches which he held jointly with Hathaway, another Orono product. Phil Good of Bowdoin, running his first state intercollegiate meet, went over the high hurdles in 15 1-5 seconds to equal the state record set many years ago by Carl Ring of Maine.

Captain Theron Stinchfield was the only Colby first place winner, heaving the javelin 180 feet. Estes won third in this event and Bud Hilton won third in the mile run.

The summary:
Finals.
Pole vault—Won by Webb, (M); second, tie between Pope (Ba) and Hayve (M). Height 12 ft. 3 3/4 in. (new state record.)

Mile run—Won by K. Black, (M); second, Malloy (Ba); third, Hilton (C). Time, 4 min. 35 2-5 sec.
440 yard run—Won by Adams (Ba); second, Moulton (M); third, Gray, (Bo). Time, 49 2-5 sec.

Winifred White and Francis Barnes On Concert Board

On May 6, in the largest vote ever cast for the election of new members to the Concert Board, Winifred White, '36, and Francis Barnes, '36, were elected to fill the vacancies left by the two senior members.

A banquet for all members of the board was held on May 8 at the Wishing Well Tea Room. Those attending were Professor and Mrs. Everett F. Strong, Rebecca Chester, '33, Kathryn Herriek, '35, George Putnam, '34, David Sherman, '33, Francis Smith, '34, John Webb, '33, Barbara Z. White, '34, and Winifred White, '36. In appreciation of the vast amount of work and interest that he has put into the three concerts, Professor Strong was presented a pair of engraved desk shears.

At a meeting of the Women's Glee Club, held during the past week, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Portia M. Pondleton, '34, of Waterville; Manager, Edna F. Bailey, '36, of Staop Falls; and Librarian, Beth P. Pondleton, '35, also of Waterville.

MASS MEETING TONIGHT AT 8 P. M.

There will be a mass meeting of the entire men's division tonight in Chapel at 8.00 P. M. Representatives of all activities to be voted on Thursday are asked to be present to answer questions in this open forum, in order to better acquaint the students with the importance of retaining or discarding all items now on the fee.

Professor Edwards will preside.

Pi Gamma Mu Hold Banquet

Pi Gamma Mu, the National Social Science Honor Society, held its eighth annual banquet at the Elmwood Hotel, Tuesday, May 9, 1933.

Following an informal reception the members enjoyed a bountiful steak dinner. Walter L. Dignam then described the aims of the society to the neophytes. The new members who were initiated into Pi Gamma Mu were: Francis W. Allen, '34, Marian G. Archer, '33, Selwyn I. Braudy, '34, Edward W. Cragin, '34, Doris A. Donnell, '34, Hamilton B. Grant, '34, Ralph Nathanson, '34, Virginia L. Parsons, '33, and R. Leon Williams, '33. Vesta L. Alden, secretary-treasurer, presented the slate of officers for the coming year, as it had been prepared by the nominating committee. The following officers were chosen: Francis W. Allen, president; Edward W. Cragin, vice president; Doris A. Donnell, secretary-treasurer. The chairman of the committee on arrangements for the banquet was Mary G. Palmer, vice president for the past year.

The feature of the evening was the address by the Hon. John E. Nelson, L. L. D. He was a graduate of Colby in the class of '98 and was the former representative from Maine at the National Congress. Mr. Nelson spoke of the present economic and social conditions of the country. He said that we are passing through a period of great change and that it is through the new evolutionary experiments that slowly and gradually this country will escape the dread conditions of the present. He expressed a strong belief that in the future there would be a period of greater prosperity and betterment than we have known previously. In closing he read a paragraph of a letter written to him by Senator White of Maine. This letter written from Washington was of the same optimistic spirit. At the conclusion of the speech an honorary membership into Pi Gamma Mu was conferred upon Mr. Nelson

Two Colby Graduates Join Faculty Next Year

The Administration has announced the addition of two Colby graduates to the faculty to take effect next year.

Miss Jane Belcher, '32, is to join the faculty as an instructor in Biology, Zoology, and Embryology. Miss Belcher has been doing graduate work in Zoology at Columbia University for the past year. She is to take the place of Mr. Kleinholz.

Mr. Norman Palmer, '30, has recently been working for a degree at Yale University. He is to act as an instructor in the department of Business Administration, and in the department of History and Political Science. He is to teach courses in Political Science, English History, Business Administration, Advertising and Statistics.

Chi Gam On Rampage

The campus was enlivened last Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday by the appearance of Chi Gamma Theta initiates who each day wore different costumes. Carleton D. Brown, '33, took pictures of the group which undoubtedly will grace future Oracles!

After giving a circus Thursday afternoon for the active members, the freshmen were led to the banks of the Messalonskee for the initiation picnic. The traditional hot dogs, chocolate doughnuts, and ginger ale were enjoyed as all gathered around the fire. Finally the new members and old returned home equals once more.

by Mr. Dignam. Mr. Nelson then conducted an open forum at which many questions of national importance were discussed.

A national officer of the organization was present at this excellent meeting of Pi Gamma Mu, Dr. Curtis H. Morrow, Chancellor of the Northeast Region. Mr. Morrow was accompanied by Mrs. Morrow. Others present included President Franklin W. Johnson, Dr. W. J. Wilkinson, Professor A. G. Eustis, and Professor W. N. Breckenridge.

Men To Vote On Activities Tomorrow

The recent agitation concerning the Student Activities Fee in the men's division has resulted in a decision reached by joint action of the college administration and the student council to take a student ballot on the question. The polls will be open from 9.00 A. M. to 12 M. on Thursday, May 18, in the south corridor of Memorial Hall. Every student of the men's division is entitled to vote, and a check list will be used. The items appearing on the ballot have the approval of the Faculty Committee on Student Activities. The amount for each item is the same as in the present fee. It is probable that, in several instances, the organizations represented will voluntarily reduce their items by at least twenty-five per cent. They wish, however, to reserve the right to collect the full amount. All items approved by majority vote of those students who cast ballots will be placed in next year's fee; all items not approved by majority vote will be omitted from the fee. In addition to the six items to be voted upon, the ballot will contain two important questions concerning future action regarding the fee. One provides for revision or elimination of items as need arises; the other provides for the introduction of new items.

Elsewhere in this issue is a specimen ballot.

Lib Swanton Chosen Queen of May Day

Annual Event To Include Presentation of Milton's "Comus" Saturday

Hail to the Queen! Miss A. Elizabeth Swanton, adding another distinction to her all ready long list, has been accorded the honor of presiding over the May Day Festivities, scheduled to take place the evening of May 20. "Lib," popular Senior and ex-president of Student Government, who was recently awarded Miss Runnals' Citizenship Cup, will be crowned at the presentation of Milton's "Comus," an out-of-doors performance sponsored and staged by the Junior Class.

She has selected the following of her classmates as attendants: Maid of honor, Louise C. Smith, Washington, D. C.

Ladies-in-Waiting: Mary G. Palmer, Hineley; Geraldine L. Colbath, Fairfield; Evelyn R. Stapleton, Wilmington, Vt.; Lois E. Dean, Westboro, Mass.; Ethel D. Bragg, Fairfield; Katherine P. Holmes, Calais; Mary L. Smith, Masardis; and Bertha E. Lewis, Lynn, Mass.

Her small flower girl, crown-bearer, and train-bearers will be Dorothy Johnson, Ellanore M. Edwards, Dicky Marriner, and Donald T. Ewards, all of Waterville.

Following the coronation, the Queen and her court will be guests of honor at the Junior play, in charge of Ruth E. White. Bleachers are being erected on the field in back of Foss Hall, and rehearsals of "Comus" are held daily. The play is replete with interesting dialogue, rollicking dances, and colorful costumes, which provide a true May-day atmosphere. If the weather is clear on Saturday evening, the field will be a vivid spot, the likes of which are seldom seen in staid New England.

ECHO ELECTIONS

The annual elections for the Board of the Colby ECHO will be held Tuesday, May 23, at 4.00 P. M. in Chemical Hall.

Everyone whose name is on the present staff is required to be present.

Mr. Rhoades led the service, while two selections were rendered by a quartet composed of the other members of the team. Professor Lowell Q. Haynes is the pastor of this church.

Next Sunday, May 21, two deputation teams will go forth from Colby to neighboring towns. A team composed of Donald H. Rhoades, Ruth V. Handley, and Ruth Pineo will journey to the Baptist Church in Fairfield. The other team led by Miss Muriel MacDougall will travel to Good Will.

Fellowship Forum

Sunday, May 14, the Fellowship Forum ended its first and successful season with a picnic at the quarry. The party arrived at the quarry about six P. M., and cooked hot dogs and sang until sunset. Miss Evans, Mr. Colton, Mr. Smith, Mr. Manning, and Mr. Kleinholz joined the party later. About forty were present in all.

Mr. William Millett, '34, head of the social committee, was in charge of the arrangements for the picnic, assisted by Miss Muriel F. Walker, '34, Miss Ruth Stubbs, '34, and Mr. Bertram Ojute, '33.

Peter Mills Wins Goodwin Contest

The twenty-third annual contest was held Thursday evening, May 11, 1933, in the Colby Chapel. These addresses were to cover the topic "The American Nation," and were to be of ten minutes duration.

Peter Mills, '34, was the winner. His topic was entitled "Youth and World Peace." Second place went to Leon Bradbury, '33. Third place fell to John Pullen, '33. Fourth prize went to Horace Daggett, '33.

This contest was extremely well attended by the students and local people. The presiding officer was Professor Helie. The board of judges: Mr. William Woodbury, Skowhegan, Mr. Hugh Smith, '20, Coburn, Miss Margaret Totman, '19, Fairfield.

A. together with the young people's groups of Waterville Churches. President Franklin W. Johnson is to be the speaker. Music will be furnished by a vesper choir from the Colby Glee Club. Robert E. Jenkins, '36, is in charge of all arrangements; Harold F. Brown, '35, will arrange transportation for anyone who desires it. This is the first service of its kind to be held in Waterville, and it is hoped that a precedent for future years will be established. The committee have chosen this beautiful place for the service as one that will be in harmony with the theme of the meeting.

Gym Dance

Last Friday evening, May 12, the Student Council held a very enjoyable post-season gym dance in the Alumnae Building. Music was furnished by Cecil Hutchinson and his Royal Commanders. In the receiving line were: Miss Muriel J. MacDougall, Miss Lillian E. Evans, Mr. Lewis H. Kleinholz, Mr. Charles Manning, and Mr. Henry Davidson, '34, Student Council Representative.

Women's Chapel

Mrs. Floyd C. Freeman was the speaker at women's chapel on Monday, May 15. She spoke on India. The theme of her talk was the light, color, mystery, and drama in that country, in comparison to the caste system. She closed with the words, "When two of the East wake up, India will come into its own, and we will see her as the brightest jewel in the crown." Mrs. Freeman's talk was most enjoyable, and her pleasing personality and excellent voice held the interest of all those present.

New Proposal for Student Council . . .

THE present commotion on campus in regard to the Student Activities Fees reveals a weakness in the Student Council. The Council, supposedly representing the student body, found it necessary to call in representatives of student activities to explain the expenditures of the students' fees. The Student Council, in the future, will have the right to pass on, or reject, additional fees before they are presented to the student body for final approval. Such powers should not be given to an Interfraternity Council. The present organization should be more representative. Two officers who could, to advantage, be placed on the Student Council are the President of the Athletic Association and the Editor of the ECHO. These men need not vote on fraternity matters, in that way no one fraternity would have more than one vote on fraternity policies. But much of the business of the Student Council deals, either directly, or indirectly, with athletics. The presence of the head of the student athletic organization would do much to add prestige to such actions.

The ECHO is the organ for student expression and should have its hand on the pulse of student activities. Further, it could serve well to inform the student body on matters that have been, in the past, misunderstood, more because of ignorance than anything else. The ECHO could better serve the student body if it had a representative at the center of student activity.

The Student Council could vote on the matter at its next meeting, before elections, and decide it on the merit of the question and not on the personalities involved. Such a step would be in the right direction for the formation of a more representative Student Council.

Cuts, Cuts, Cuts . . .

"It isn't fair! We can limit our own cuts. The present system is prep-schoolish. Unlimited cuts would not affect our scholastic standing—we can take care of that. Aren't we old enough by this time?"

That is the question: Are we old enough? There has been much complaint directed toward the limited cut system, the idea back of it all being that Colby students have enough responsibility and common sense to limit (or no to limit) their own cuts, without effect on scholarship.

We college students consider ourselves pretty strong, with plenty of resistance to temptations ("a superfluity of ego in our cosmos," to quote a certain professor), but it takes a deal of mental power to drive ourselves into a class-room when there is nothing but a weak, rationalizing conscience pitting against warm, lazy weather and an out-of-door victrola. Common sense in most of us takes a back seat at this point, (especially on those balmy days when the porch rail is a far more inviting object about which to drape our feet than a class-room chair), and considerable prodding is necessary to get us up and doing. What could be a better prodder than a democratic cut system based upon merit? Those who raise their voices most conspicuously are generally those whose marks are too low to merit many cuts; whereupon we must add that if these were allowed unlimited cuts, their marks would doubtless drop faster than mercury set on ice on a warm day. Sad, but true.

Besides serving as a sythetic conscious for spring-fever-ridden idlers, such a system has been known to act as stimulus for the achievement of better marks. Better marks mean more cuts—and whether we feel the need of impressing the folks or the faculty with our intelligence, the dream, however lowly, of more and merrier cuts is not to be forgotten as a cause of increased effort among many of us less aspiring students.

Several New England colleges permit no unexcused cuts whatever. Let us now appreciate our blessings.

World's Fair in Chi . . .

"Go West, young man, go West." In Chicago, this summer, will be held the World's Fair. This is an opportunity for people all over the world to see a "century of progress." Students from everywhere will flock to this center. It will be years before such marvels of our day will again be found within such limited bounds. It affords an excellent opportunity for college students, otherwise idle, to learn more about the world about them.

Ye Gladiator Column

Letters in the Gladiator Column are expressions of opinion by individual contributors to that column and the editor assumes no responsibility for any statements, allusions, or assertions made in them. The column is a free-for-all and student contributions are solicited.

Dear Monsieur Editor,

A condition of affairs seems to exist on the campus worthy of the attention of the entire student body. The situation is a common occurrence at one of the women's dormitories and is the source of much unfavorable comment. By those directly affected by the matter, it is thought that something ought to be done.

When it becomes necessary for a person in charge of a college dormitory to greet her "charges" as they return after an evening "out," it is certainly a sad state of affairs. If a friendly greeting is intended, at least it would seem that out of common courtesy to the girl and her escort, the greeting might be deferred until after the girl gets inside the door.

Those who know say that night after night, several Colby girls meet humiliation because of this practice. From a sane point of view there is no need for any person to remain at any door and welcome (?) any college girl who has been out to any movies. If a girl is unable to say goodnight to the boy-friend in a proper manner, she shouldn't be allowed to go out at all. When it becomes common practice for Colby undergraduates to tolerate an impossible state of affairs, it is high time to protest.

Hopefully yours,
Francois.

Dear Gladiator:

We're just wondering: did the faculty eat jumping beans for breakfast or did the missionary situation suddenly become acute the other day when the men had popular music on their chapel program?

Whatever it was, we women just wish it would happen some day for our chapel. Because, you know, Glad, we're really awfully frivolous—I mean we actually are—and we'd listen to practically anything improving for months if we could have just one weenty-teensy little Champlin program. After the time last year that we had one, we were simply crazy enough to think the program committee had been rejuvenated or something. Can you imagine that? And we thought we might be going to have another snappy program or two just to relieve the monotony—we actually got that idea somehow!

But after all, Glad, that goes to show what a stupid, uncalculating herd we women are. Because it seems that there must be a helpful program every week—so when we do break down and go, there'll be something uplifting to make us realize what utter reprobates we've been all these weeks we've cut. People wonder why we do go to chapel so seldom. Well Gladiator, you'll see what a positively irrational type we are when we come right out and say that we are bored with the monotony. Can you fancy anything so silly? People think we started out realizing this, and getting a lot out of chapel, but as you can see, we don't realize much about anything now, except that if they'd let us have a change once in a while, we'd be positively asinine enough (I mean we actually would), to appreciate the old kind afterward. Aren't we just too silly?

Equitably yours,
Adeline.

Maria Lenochova, last year's transfer student from Czechoslovakia and now in her home land, told in a recent letter of the hardships existent in her own country.

"The other day," she said, "there was a fire. And when the rests were examined after the fire, there were found several corpses of people who did not have any house to live in and who had to live in such terrible dwellings. And it happened close to our capital, Prague. And upon the streets you can see many poor people looking for a bit of dirty food upon the ground or in the waste-paper baskets. There were never so many beggars in our country as there are now."

Maria also spoke of her difficulty in getting an appointment for the state examinations, being obliged to wait over since her return from America until the present May. She explained that it takes everybody a few months to prepare for the examinations and many students do not pass them because there is an over-production of students so that the professors make those exams as hard and difficult as they can.

Answering Sentinel Sports Editor . . .

The statements made Tuesday morning in the Waterville Sentinel's sport page concerning Colby track athletics are such that an answer should be forthcoming from the college publication at least. The lengthy statements are concluded by the following which is based entirely upon the fact that Colby has not gone out to "get" athletes, "Look at it as you may and we'll still contend that Colby is years behind the times so far as track work is concerned."

The fact that Phil Good who happens to be the son of a Colby graduate went to Bowdoin is attributed by the Waterville writer to the fact that Bowdoin was a leader in track athletics. It is inferred that he would not come to Colby because we had no great track prospects. Now the reasons for attending Bowdoin are probably best known to Phil Good himself, but it is entirely probable that there was a great deal of weight attached to the fact that he had won a $500.00 scholarship at Bowdoin. This scholarship was won in competition with students, not athletes, from various parts of Maine and it came to Mr. Good because he was able to surpass them all in writing a scholarly examination. As a student of outstanding ability Phil Good might have won one of the six scholarships awarded at Colby to Maine secondary school graduates entering the college, but one of those would have amounted to $200.00 and in these days a matter of $300.00 is a lot to consider.

According to the Sentinel, Colby should either subsidize track as a varsity sport or drop it as far as inter-collegiate competition is concerned. Her track men should be bought and paid for according to them and if we carry that out what would Colby be but a low class zinger college? It is claimed that the colleges with which we compete use methods unknown here at Colby in order to secure their athletes, but it is not for us to say. If that is the case it does not prove that Colby should use the same methods even though we do fail to win state meets.

There are men interested in Colby track teams who resent the Sentinel statement that track has been a failure. One of them made this remark within our hearing, "We do have track strength. Our football team has never beaten Brown, but we have taken them over in track." If we read Mike Ryan's article in the recent issue of the "White Mule" we can appreciate Colby's work in this branch of athletics. Merely because Colby happens to be situated so that it competes once a year in one of the fastest track meets in the land and is returned a loser year after year there is no reason to cry out for athletic scholarships and third degree work on every prospective athlete in New England.

We agree with Mike Ryan when he says: "Contrary to prevailing opinion, Track and Field sport is very strong at Colby and our record over a period of fifteen years is remarkable in spite of many handicaps and difficulties which we have had to overcome."

When it comes to our standing here in Maine we are admittedly weak, but we are traveling in the fastest company in the East and even so our records would not be so bad if you pitted us against any of the colleges in dual competition. Colby has lost but five dual meets in fifteen years and there have been an average of two per year in that period.

Pat French, a former University of Maine athlete and present coach at Lewiston High School gave an interesting talk to the sports writers of the Maine college newspapers gathered at the Elmwood at lunch last Saturday. Pat thinks that the college men of today are more interested in social activities than in athletics. He said that when he was in college a man would be whistled at if seen supporting a co-ed on his arm, but today a man is out of place without one.

Back in the old days when men were men and women were a nuisance 44 Maine men were arrested in one box car in the Waterville freight yards as they hopped out to attend a State Series ball game with Colby being played here the next day. They were thrown into jail and the local jug witnessed a never-to-be-forgotten serenade until the town became aroused and Prexy Roberts came down in the early hours of morning and bailed out the entire crew.

Maine Beats Colby 5-4

The old Maine jinx popped up again Monday afternoon with Colby dropping a four run lead in the seventh inning to lose, 5 to 4. Ralph Peabody held the Maine outfit hitless for six innings while his mates piled up a safe lead of four runs. Maine's "lucky seventh" saw them rolling up three markers, and single runs in the 8th and 9th eked out a win for the University.

They Satisfy

.. all you could ask for!

Just two words...

Yes, I have heard about two words; and now and then three words—but "They Satisfy" means "To gratify fully."
Why do these two words "they satisfy" fit Chesterfields? Because Chesterfield Cigarettes are milder. Because Chesterfield Cigarettes taste better.
Chesterfield's way of blending and cross-blending fine Turkish and Domestic tobaccos brings out better flavor and aroma.
