Kay Herrick and Beulah Bennett Sing at Dance

A Student Council Gym Dance, and one of the best this year, was held at the Alumnae Building on Saturday, March 10. Cecil Hutchinson offered some fine music and everyone was given an unexpected treat when Kay Herrick and Beulah Bennett sang as a duet, "Tired of It All," and "Three Little Pigs." Miss Bennett also gave a solo, "Temptation." The patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Q. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. McCoy, Miss Corinne B. Van Norman, Edna M. Allen and Arthur C. Brown.

Sons and Daughters Given Annual Party

The Sons and Daughters of Colby held their annual banquet Monday, March 5, in the Alumnae Building. After a dinner, President Franklin W. Johnson gave his opening address in which he expressed his pleasure at having this annual affair. Following him there was a short period of speech making during which Dorothy Gould spoke "On Being a Daughter of Colby" and Jimmy Ross "On Being a Son of Colby."

Student Council Athletic Plan Ready for Trustees

At a meeting of the Student Council held Monday evening a plan was submitted to the council for the reorganization of the athletic and physical education departments of the college. This plan has been drawn up by a special committee which has for some time been working on the subject. The committee consists of E. W. Huckle, P. W. Stiegler, and G. T. Pugsley. The plan is to be forwarded to President Johnson and is to be brought up before the next meeting of the Board of Trustees.

The plan, in full, is as follows:

I. The President and Board of Trustees will be the final arbiters of this system. Their duties will be: (1) To appropriate the budget; (2) To select the personnel; (3) To control the department in a manner similar to that in which the other departments of the college are handled.

II. There will be a professor whose title will be that of Professor of the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics, Health, and Physical Education.

1. He is to be the executive officer of the President and the Board of Trustees.

2. He is to head the three divisions of the Department (Intercollegiate Athletics, Health, and Physical Education).

As such it will be his duty to: (a) Control the budgeting of the funds appropriated by the President and Board of Trustees so that they may be properly distributed throughout the separate units of the system. In doing this he is to be assisted by the Treasurer of the College. (b) Recommendation of personnel to the President and Board of Trustees. (c) Draw up schedules, contracts, selection of officials, and guarantees with the aid of coaches and managers. (d) Take the responsibility for the purchase and control of the equipment of both the intercollegiate and intermural teams with the aid of the coaches and the college physician. (e) Control the final granting of awards, as recommended by the Advisory Board. III. There will be an Advisory board.

Colby Delegates Return From Model League

The Model League of Nations, held last week at Harvard and Radcliffe, proved to be a great success. Through the proper cooperation of the students, the Model League became very much like the league at Geneva. The representatives forgot for the moment that they were students but were rather real delegates from the countries they represented. As a result many interesting and heated arguments took place.

The Colby delegates, Miss Catherine F. Wakefield, '34, and Mr. Frederick Shreiber, '34, represented Norway and Denmark. Miss Wakefield was appointed to the committee on the Reorganization of the League, which was perhaps the most important committee of the League. Mr. Shreiber represented Denmark on the Special Commission on German Refugees. It is interesting to know that Miss Betty Muther, former Colby student, presided over this committee. The committee succeeded in putting through several measures.

On Thursday evening, March 8, at the general session, Professor Manley O. Hudson of Harvard Law School gave an interesting address. On Friday the various committees met and conferred on the problems before them, and in the evening there was a dance at the Hotel Continental. On Saturday there were Council and Assembly sessions; the session in the morning being broadcast over station W. N. A. C.

It was through the magnanimity of the Student Council that the Colby delegates were able to make the trip.

Trials For Cross Country Debate Team Tomorrow

On Thursday afternoon, March 15, at 3.30 o'clock, the first of two trials will be held to determine the composition of the team to represent the College at the 10th national biennial Pi Kappa Delta Convention to be held in Lexington, Kentucky, on April 2-6. Contestants will come from the debate squad.

It is the wish of Professor Libby, who has charge of the squad, to send at least four Colby men to Lexington. This will allow two two-men teams, and will permit of more expert preparation for the debate tournaments to be held at the Convention. Over 500 delegates are expected to attend this convention, representing about 125 colleges. Colby has been a member of the national body for nearly 15 years, and in 1922 gained a great deal of favorable comment all over the country for the showing its teams made on their initial appearance before the convention. It is expected that this year, as usual, a debate will be held between Maine and California, "the East and the West," and letters to bring this about have already been exchanged between Professor Libby and Professor Nichols, the latter the coach at Redlands and, incidentally, the founder of the national society.

If present plans are carried out, the Colby debaters will make the trip by automobile, leaving on March 23 and returning immediately after the Eastern recess. The team will do some debating enroute. It is expected now that while in Kentucky the Colby team will meet Berea College, a college that Colby has debated on two previous occasions. The trip will include two days in Washington.

NOTICE

The Committee on Scholarships announces a meeting in the Chapel at 10.00 A. M. on Tuesday, March 20, of members of the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes who are interested in applying for scholarships under the new plan. The purpose of the meeting is to explain all details concerning applications and awards. Students should bear in mind that every upper-class scholarship for 1934-35 will be awarded before college opens in September on the basis of applications submitted in April. Applications will no longer be made in the fall. No excuse will be accepted for failure to file application on time. No plea of ignorance about the new regulations will be listened to. If a prospective applicant fails to attend the meeting on March 20, he must get the information as best he can.

There will be a very important meeting of NON-FRATERNITY men Friday at 1.00 P. M. in the Chapel.

ECHO To Conduct Poll In Chapel Friday

Friday morning The ECHO at the instigation of the Brown Daily Herald is to submit to a poll three propositions relative to student opinion towards steps that our nation could easily take in establishing international peace. This program is being submitted to college students throughout the United States for ratification. The program includes the following three points: 1. The immediate adherence of the United States to the covenant of the League of Nations. 2. Nationalization and international control of the sale and manufacture of armaments. 3. Severance of all commercial relations with belligerent nations (so far as compatible with the League covenant).

The students who are responsible for the poll have said, in connection with this three point program, "We have no false hopes that these measures will provide an absolute guarantee of peace, but we do believe that they will help to alleviate the present situation and present a foundation on which further peace efforts may be based." If given a mandate by the college students of America, the Brown Daily Herald will present this program to the national administration as a college program for immediate action.

Ballots on which the questions are to be printed will be distributed to the men's division during the Friday morning chapel period, and to the women's division on the following Monday. On March 26th the results are to be announced throughout the nation.

Colby Not to Enter Team in State Meet

Contrary to the story in this morning's Sentinel, Colby has not withdrawn as a member of the Maine State Intercollegiate Track Association. Colby will not enter a team in this year's state meet, but will send the team to the Eastern Intercollegiate meet to be held in Springfield the same day. Colby is still a member of the Maine Association.

Such colleges as the following are members of the Eastern Intercollegiate Association to which Colby has recently been admitted: Middlebury, Norwich, Vermont, Trinity, Conn. State, Mass. State, R. I. State, Amherst, Williams, and Wesleyan.

Waterville Alumni Hold First Annual Banquet

On Friday night, March 9, the Waterville Colby Alumni association held their first annual dinner at the Elmwood Hotel. This banquet was the first of a series of six to be held in different cities from here to Washington. President Franklin W. Johnson, who is to attend all of these banquets, was given an enthusiastic send-off.

The Alumni Association was honored to have as their guest of honor, Governor Louis J. Brann. In his speech, the governor expressed his pride in having President Johnson represent the State of Maine as well as our college during his tour. Mayor L. Eugene Thayer welcomed the governor and spoke about the good feeling which exists between the college and the city.

Dean Ninetta M. Rurnals spoke about the changing relations between the men and women of the college and showed that there was an increasing spirit of cooperation. Her quotations concerning the classical ideas of masculine superiority made her speech very amusing as well as interesting.

Doris Donnell, president of student government in the women's division and E. William Huckle, president of the men's student council, were the study body representatives at the banquet. Both gave speeches in behalf of the undergraduates.

G. Cecil Goddard, Colby alumni secretary, told of the work of the Alumni Council and mentioned several different activities that they have been

Dr. Morse To Speak in Chapel Friday

Dr. Marston Morse of the Harvard faculty will be the guest speaker at the men's chapel period, Friday, March 16.

This noted educator was born in Waterville, Maine, and graduated from Colby in the class of 1914. While here he won the state tennis championship. He served in the World War and received the French Croix de Guerre for valor. After the Great War Doctor Morse became a member of the faculty at Cornell University, then at Brown. Now he occupies a professor's chair in the department of mathematics at Harvard college. Doctor Morse is now one of the most outstanding men in the country in this field.

Veysey Second in IC4A Meet

Before a milling, capacity throng of 18,000, at the 8th Ave. Arena, in New York, Edwin "Cliff" Veysey, stellar sophomore trackster, again brought Colby's name to the forefront in national track circles by taking a second in the sensationally run 3000 metre race, at the 13th annual I. C. 4A Indoor Meet, last week. He finished 40 yards behind McKenna of Manhattan, who turned in the exceptionally good time of 8 minutes and 54.8 seconds, showing his heels to a pack of 24, including Vonzko of Penn.

This meet, the goal of every college track man, had contesting such men as Niblock of Bowdoin, Spitz of N. Y. U., and Brown of Yale, all of whom shattered records in their events. Unawed by the fact that such colleges as Manhattan, winners of the meet, Penn, M. I. T., Harvard, Yale, and N. Y. U., had sent their best and fleetest men to contend, Cliff Veysey once more proved his right to be known as one of the best tracksters ever to wear Colby's Blue and Gray in a national meet. He has lived up to the promise that he first showed when he broke a record to win Harvard's cross country jaunt, last fall, and which he has ably held up in the various indoor meets this winter. Coach Ryan has polished his style and given him invaluable experience against the country's best, all in a comparatively short time, so that it is not unreasonable to believe that Cliff will be even more flashy this spring and next year, with the near-championship form that he is currently exhibiting.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler recently stated that "the future of any international accord lies in the hands of the collegiate youth of the country," and he urged that, "they take the responsibility for the direction of public opinion." The Daily Herald of Brown University, in an attempt to carry out to the letter the sentiment expressed by Dr. Butler, is presenting a youth program to the colleges of the country. The program consists of three main points as outlined elsewhere in this paper. In submitting the three points to a poll, the ECHO urges that Colby students do their part in making this nation-wide expression of student opinion a success.

The American college student feels that the present world crisis can, to a great extent, be attributed to the failure of the United States to join the League of Nations. In 1919 it was trivial political prejudice that prevented the United States from becoming a member of this group. Today, it is to this prejudice, not to any fault in the League itself, that the organization has become ineffectual and inefficient as an instrument for the establishment of peace. For the effectual functioning of any world peace unit, it is absolutely necessary that none of the integral parts be missing. The League of Nations without the United States is and always will be as useless as an airplane with a missing wing.

The second point presented by the youth peace program is one which most of us can but little appreciate. However, if acquainted with the facts, we would see that it is the munition's manufacturer who has wrecked many disarmament conferences. We would see that in this country, as recent statistics reveal, as much as eighty per cent profit is realized on the sale of supplies to the army. Not only does our country purchase these instruments of death and destruction, but private individuals are, at the same time, amassing fortunes. It has often been stated that as long as people can profit by war, there is no hope of peace. The munitions ring must be destroyed by national and international control of the manufacture and sale of the tools of war.

The final point of the peace program is one to be adopted if war should break out in any of our neighboring European or Asiatic countries. In this point there is incorporated the complete severance of all commercial and financial relations with the belligerent powers in so far as it is in accord with the League Covenant. The United States is so situated that this move would be quite possible. When one considers the enormity of the cost of war as compared with the financial realization from foreign trade, we are impressed by the fact that such an action would not only be possible, but to the clear-minded individual it would appear highly plausible.

We wish to point out that it is youth and only youth who is to pay the price should a war engulf us. The plan which has been presented is by no means perfect, but it is quite workable. Should student opinion demand, the program will be presented to the national administration. If no action is taken to follow out the mandate, it would be absurd for the American government to expect the cooperation of the college youth should war arise and the occasion demand it.

Ye Gladiator Column

To the Editors of the ECHO:

I am one of those native individuals who believe that the Gladiator column is supposed to be a vehicle for the expression of student views. That is why I am making my second attempt to have these views printed so that the student body might learn the opinion not only of myself but of many others concerning Colby's very insignificant (supposedly student publication) ECHO.

Each and every student in Colby college pays two dollars a year for the publishing of the ECHO, sufficient I am sure for all expenses entailed in its publication. The cost to each student for a single copy of the ECHO is slightly less than eight cents, enough money for the publication of its four pages of print. Why then should the already meager paper be filled with advertisements. I hesitate to suggest that the editors are moved by the possibility of any pecuniary gains, when however week after week vital parts of the paper are purposefully omitted, no other reason suggests itself. In last Wednesday's edition of the ECHO (March 7, 1934) 265 of the 480 inches of print were taken up by advertisements. Surely there is more news vital to the student that needs publication.

I had to learn through the daily newspapers that there was a possibility of work starting on "The New Colby" in the spring. (Boston Globe.) This is entirely possible when we perceive the height of mediocrity and laziness of the ECHO staff as personified by last Wednesday's editorial. (March 7, 1934). The news of late has consisted for the most part of such important doings as sorority teas, initiations and the escapades of Colby's Frank Merriwell in Washington (whose personifications of political leaders is mere repetition of Professor Wilkinson's notes).

We do not begrudge the monetary gains made by the ECHO staff as they are duly entitled to such if their publication warrants it; rather we suggest that the paper be increased to six pages. In this manner more news-space will be available without cutting down their advertising revenue. Shall it become necessary for the students to take action or will the editors realize their folly and produce a better publication.

"Aladdin."

Note: The ECHO staff is publishing this recent announcement, since it was inopportune saved from its proper receptacle—the wastebasket. Gentlemen,

Dark clouds of secrecy envelop the plans for the frosh dance. So mysterious are the preparations that we, the publicity committee, are at a loss to know even the whereabouts of this gala affair, which will be in keeping with the usual high standards of the class of '37. Whether the fete will be held in the Sheraton Room of the Copley-Plaza or the well-known ballroom of the Barclay Club, it is safe to say that Ben Bernie will not play, as his most recent telegram states his inability to cancel conflicting contracts.

Nonetheless, plans are going forward (so they tell us) and prominently featured in these cabalistic goings-on are the Crystal Ballroom of the Castle Gardens and Colby's own natorial emporium, now extensively used to further terpsichorean art. As for the band, we assure you that there will be new faces behind the wailing saxes and the tittering zithers.

And so, throwing up our hands in despair, we three good men and blue, do, as solemnly as we can, attest that this aforementioned bal de danse will be held April 14th, just after the vacation, when all of you will be in the best of spirits, and thus in a condition to trib de lide fandassid id de balmy Sprig air.

Colby "Y's" Engage in Many Activities

On Friday at the men's chapel the officers of the Y. M. C. A. were elected for the ensuing year. The new officers are as follows: President, Deane L. Hodges; vice president, John J. Pullen; secretary, Kenneth A. Johnson; treasurer, Harold F. Brown. These officers will take office immediately after Easter vacation.

An Easter Vesper service will be held next Sunday afternoon at 4.00 P. M. in the college chapel. Music will be furnished by the Colby choir.

There are two more services to be held in the special series of Lenten services which the "Y" is sponsoring. On Wednesday, March 14, Reverend William A. Smith was the leader at the service which is one of a series of special Lenten services. The concluding service will be held on Wednesday, March 21. Reverend Harold Metzner will be the leader.

On Sunday, March 11, two deputations went forth from Colby. Muriel MacDougall spoke at the Methodist Church at North Vassalboro in the forenoon, at the Methodist Church in East Vassalboro in the afternoon. Leonard Helle went to the church at South Gardiner and spoke there.

The cast of "Ba Thane," the "Y" play given Sunday at Good Will follows:

Gordon Worth, William Jakeman, Virginia Worth, Marjorie Gould; Joan Worth, Janet Goodridge; Joe Fox, Robert Huzzey; Richard Ordway, Frederick Demers; Ba Thane, Willard Libby; Ma May, Pauline Walker. Miss Van Norman and Mary Small accompanied the group to Good Will. The play was coached by Miss Small and Louise Williams.

The next performance of "Ba Thane" will be given at Norridgewock on next Sunday evening, March 18, at 7.00 P. M.

Frosh Girls in "Y" Play

On Tuesday evening, March 20, the Y. W. C. A. presented as a project of the Freshman class, "Six Caps of Chocolate," under the direction of Ann Trimble. This one act play translated from the German by Edith V. B. Matthews, was given at a regular "Y" meeting, and the following cast did exceptionally well, each in portraying his own individual part: Janet Goodridge as the German girl, Adeline Von Lindau; Muriel Scribner as the New Englander, Dorothy Green; Marjorie Gould as the Bostonian, Hester Beacon; Mary Ewen as the New Yorker, Beatrix Van Kortlandt; Betty Wilkinson as the French girl, Jeanette Durand; and Helen Jevons as the transplanted Southern girl, Marion Lee. Others assisting in the production were: Kathryn Cobb, Catherine Winkler, Betty Woodsum, Sarah Cowan, and Luella Pinette.

Affirmative Side Wins Murray Prize Debate

The affirmative team consisting of Lawrence E. Dow, Edward J. Gurney and George V. Gilpatrick, won the annual Murray Prize Debate held in the chapel Monday evening.

The proposition advocated ratification by the United States of the proposed child labor amendment. The negative side of the argument was presented by a team consisting of Maurice Krinsky, Carroll W. Abbott, and Harold W. Hickey.

The presiding officer was Rev. George Merriam, '79, of Skowhegan, a classmate of the late George E. Murray of Lawrence, Mass., the donor of the prizes for this annual event. The board of judges was composed of Judge Charles W. Atchley, '03; Cyril M. Joly, '16; Lewis L. Levine, '16; and Basil B. Ames, '23.

The prizes were divided as follows: speakers on winning team, $25 each; speakers on losing side, $8.33 and 1-3 cents each.

The feature of the debate, if applause means anything, was the seeming rivalry between Ed Gurney, the last speaker on the affirmative and Harold Hickey, the concluding speaker of the negative. These two young men proved very valuable to their respective sides and each gained many important points.

three on the eighteenth hole to place himself in a play-off position with Cox. His iron shot left him a tricky 20 foot put. A twenty foot put for a thousand dollars! Willie took his time on that put, as well he might, but the little ball trickled past the little hole and the title went to Cox by a horse feather.

One week later foxy coxy stepped over to San Antonio and took that open tournament; and again by a single stroke! That single stroke was worth just $750 to the old master of the hit and run.

When we get into track the feathers pile up. Thousands and thousands of men can run a hundred yards in ten seconds but not one has ever cut one second off that time. Not one man has been clocked less than 4:07 for the mile, yet hundreds have traversed the distance in 4:14 and down.

George Spitz jumped into the air 6 feet 8 and one-half inches and won a unique position for himself at the top of the high jumper's world. Bill Graber vaulted into fame with 14 feet 4 and three-eighths record under his arm. Here a few scant inches separate the star from mere mediocrity.

On Saturday Keith Brown slipped over the 14 foot 4 inch mark for a new indoor pole vault record. He has topped the 14-foot mark just eight times in his life!

In horse racing the length of a dilated nostril often proves the deciding factor in the division of the spoils. The length of Equipoise's nose was worth more than nearly eighty thousand dollars to its owner, (or owner's owner). In by a horsefeather!

Bobbiac was right: "It's the little things that count."

Frosh Tracksters Defeat Hebron

The Colby frosh took over Hebron Academy in a thrilling track meet held in the Field House last Saturday afternoon by a score of 63-36. Captain Bill Deans equalled his own field house record in the 45 yard low hurdles and equalled the mark of 6 1-5 in the 45 yard highs, set by Doug Wheeler in 1931. Stan Washuk of the yearlings equals his own 300 mark of 35s. Smart of Hebron de-

Film Co. Commends Camera Club Movie

Favorable comment upon the Colby Camera Club's feature play "Frank Merriwell at Colby" has been received from the headquarters of the Agfa Anseo Corporation, film manufacturers, in New York.

A letter from the assistant manager is in part as follows: "We want to congratulate your photographers on the excellent way in which they have gone about this whole problem and have nothing but praise for your scenario writer for the clever ideas and worthwhile action that has been filmed into your picture story."

"Throughout the entire 1,000 feet, we could find only small parts here and there which can be criticised. We are sending along these comments in the hopes that they will help you improve your work, but the criticisms are certainly outweighed by the excellent results obtained on the major portion of the film."

"You have our sincere statement that it has been a long time since we have seen any better amateur production than this one and you have a right to feel very proud of it."

carrying on.

The closing speech of the evening was given by President Franklin Johnson, who spoke of the large number of students who come from Waterville, and of the active part those students play in the life of the college. He also pointed out what great opportunities are offered to the citizens of the city through the lectures and concerts sponsored by the college. He made it very clear that neither the city nor the college would be the same without each other.

The committee for the banquet consisted of Mr. J. Frank Goodrich, Mr. Robert Brown, and the President of the Waterville Colby Alumni Association, Mr. Ellsworth W. Millett, who presided over the meeting.

HORSE FEATHERS

It is interesting to note the magnitude often assumed by the playmate in sportdom.

The other day Wiffy Cox, Brooklyn's big-gun golfer (who puts like an amateur and, a rank one at that) turned in a sixty-nine to lead the Agua Caliente open. Wise guys said he would blow. "Sure the leader always blows," but Wiffy didn't. He workered steadily but returned a 69, 70, 71, and 72 to win first money of $1,500 on a record low total of 282. Right behind him came Willie Hunter who made a thrilling stab at a tie for first place. Willie needed a birdie

GOOD TASTE IS EVERYTHING

In cigarettes, too. So in making Lucky Strike cigarettes we use the finest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—and only the center leaves—they are the mildest, the smoothest. And every Lucky is so round, so firm, so fully packed—no loose ends.

Saturday at 1:30 P.M., Eastern Standard Time, over the radio and the screen of NBC, LUCKY STRIKE will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Opera, "Peter Ibbetson!"

Always the Finest Tobacco and only the Center Leaves

NOT the top leaves—they're underdeveloped—they are harsh!

The Cream of the Crop
"The mildest, smoothest tobacco"

NOT the bottom leaves—they're inferior in quality—coarse and always sandy!

THE PLOT THICKENS
By The Plotter

SHORT STORY: Those of you who saw "Icebound" will appreciate this tale. In the first act Erny Lary enters and displays a pair of real police handcuffs. Between the second and third acts, Bob Colomy, who took one of the leading parts, was fooling around with these handcuffs and snapped them on one wrist. A key was needed to take them off, and nobody had the key. The curtain was ready to rise and the backstage crew broke into a cold sweat. Colomy had to go on, but his part was not that of a convict—handcuffs would have changed Owen Davis' play considerably. They finally tucked the thing up Colomy's sleeve, and he was forced to play the act minus the use of one hand. After the performance, they dashed down to the police station and had the cumbersome things removed!

GYM DANCE: Beulah Bennett's Temptation and Kay Herrick's Little Piggy made the dance one of the best. Terri in red with Don Richardson... Wilma Stanley and Doc Abbott... Bill Logan and Babe White do the uptown lowdown... Lew Rush and the Spear girl, who doesn't seem to be listed in my files... she should be—reminds me of a fluffy kitten... Bright-eyed Mary Buss in a new dress, with the cadet... Coburn's Gerry Armister... The Dekes came in like a flock of penguins... Ralph Stowell and Natalie Gilley... the rather warming couple of Muriel Bailie and Larry Kane... bz White dancing with Fred Demers... also Ruth Malley, looking particularly sweet, with Barnes... Ralph Macdonald and Ruth Hodgdon... Red and Loretta again.

TRIANGLES (and it's these triangles that always get me in trouble): Steve Brodie would like to take out Ann Trimble, but I guess he'll have to wait for another track meet in New York or something... The Ken Raymond-Anita Thibault arm-in-arming started because of full moonlight nights, and in the meantime Spud Peabody and Monk Russell have fights over her... The following couple have been scanning this back page for three weeks now waiting for this item: Norm Taylor and Eleanor MacCarey have parted... maybe it's the Byron in his name that is making her go out with McLellan now... that was only printed for the interest of our Framingham and Newton Centre readers... More triangles... Hazel Wepfer (very cute) told Andy Mellen to go to the gym dance alone; said she'd see him there... she finally did show up, with Paul Palmer, after a movie date... but everything is all right again George Hunt wanted to borrow John Ward's car to take out John Ward's girl!... Stineford, Guiney, Bayniski, and Helie are all trying to bat in the Betty Wilkinson league (that isn't a triangle, it's a mob scene), but methinks the four of them will strike out (or is that a dirty crack?)... More and more do we see the name of Floyd Prince in Mary Ewen's date book—but Ben Liscomb took her to the gym dance... When his girl in Houlton wanted a cmmem, Jim Peabody sent her a 39c one with three films.

MY FOSSILITE SEC'Y WRITES: "What's the idea of two weeks without a column? Is it because of signs of Spring, exams, the musical comedy, or lack of space? Here's a note or two when you resume publication: Ruth Atchley is still burning because of that last item about her; but I know that it was supposed to be meant as a crack on the other one in the story and not Ruth... Betty Muther is engaged, did you know?... The Beach-Winchell combination is worrying me."

RANDOM NOTES TAKEN DOWN ON THE BACKS OF ENVELOPES: When Dr. Wilkinson lost the election, his two famous remarks were: "My head is bloody but unbowed," and, "It was different this year, both of the candidates could read and write"... Kny Wakefield reads puns, and at times assumes an Alice in Wonderland hairdress... Dean Runnals won't go to a play if there is shooting or murders in it... Dean Marviner collects first editions of Sinclair Lewis' books... The Bowdoin Orient notes with pleasure that George Foster will not be in the Colby line-up this year; what about our other aces-in-the-hole?... Betty Coyne is a grad of the fashionable Katharine Gibbs school... Owen Davis is writing another play in the same manner as "Icebound"—(even his best friends won't tell him)... The directors of the Colby concert series worry because they have to borrow a piano at every concert... they shouldn't—Symphony Hall in Boston doesn't own a piano...

"Who Killed Abie Levine?"—Maine's Weirdest murder—will soon appear in a detective magazine... Our faculty consider the Sunday New York Times a current events god, but what do you suppose they turn to first?—the rotogravure section, of course! To the Junior Prom committee: if you're looking for Mal Hallet, he is playing at an M. I. T. dance Friday night at the Boston Statler... The majority of Colby presidents were graduates of Brown University... Something the Sokolsky interviewers missed: he married a Chinese girl of the Hakka province.

THE FINALE: Do Donnell at Belfast for the week-end... Ruth Keller just returned from a long jaunt—all couched in secrecy... Mary Small directed "Ba Thane" at the Good Will school, but after arriving there, they found they had forgotten the costumes so they drove all the way back to Waterville to get them. The play was put on an hour late... Three co-eds want to know why George Mann doesn't take out any girls... King Clancy is still crazy about Polly Chase, his Cohasset girl who ran away with a saxophonist but has since returned... Edith Ellis is an inveterate movie goer... Foxy Fred Call is very much interested in Fairfield's Marie... Moe Cohen goes big for an Angel in New Haven... Fred Banzi has a girl at Framingham Teachers College (haven't we all?)... Freedman's haircut is the result of a two-bit wager—a silly asinine bit of folderol... A Colby seal cigarette case from Joan, in Florida, to Chet for his birthday... Sadie, the Salem bewitcher, writes those kind of letters to Rothblatt (who thinks he's a checker player)... Lewis Nightingale dining with Betty Mulkern... Have you been initiated into the Forbie seckscall?... Paul Harold is a tea drinker... They call Eddie Houghton Winnie's Bread Winner... Joey Stevens and Monk Russell seen in Foss Hall twice Monday... Peg Raymond has been blue for a week... When Dic Noyes fell asleep in class, one student whispered to the prof (who didn't hear it), "You wake him; you put him to sleep!"... There's a sweet girl at the bottom of this page.
