Large Audience Listens To Adler In First Concert

Plays Own Composition

Parodies On Merry Widow Waltz Liked Best

Last evening a large and appreciative audience of Colby students and townspeople welcomed a new performer to the Colby Concert Series. Mr. Laurence Adler, pianist, presented a program of sufficient variability to meet the tastes of his audience, introducing works of composers familiar to most, including the ever excellent and interesting Chopin, and three works of his own composition or arrangement. The last numbers mentioned met with especial approval and gave indication of genuine understanding and ability of the composer.

The audience was rather slow in warming up to the pianist, but showed enthusiasm and a friendly spirit as the program drew to a close. The parodies on the "Merry Widow Waltz" of Adler's own concoction pleased the audience, drawing thunderous applause. The parodies were interpretation of how different composers might have written the famous Waltz and of how Sousa's band played it.

The program:

Passacaglia	Rasphigi
Sarabande	Lully
Two Mazurkas	Chopin
Valse	Chopin
Three Preludes	Chopin
Etude	Scriabin
Excerpt from Piano Concerto No. II	Rachmaninoff
Malaguena	Albeniz
Granada	Albeniz
Cordova	Albeniz
Tango	Adler
Spanish Fantasy	Adler

Encores

Valse des Fleurs from "Nutcracker Suite" Tchaikowsky

Oracle Plans Novel Changes in '35 Issue

Plans for the 1935 Oracle are well under way. A capable staff headed by Eugene McAlary, of the class of 1935, have many new ideas which will undoubtedly result in a bigger and better year-book. Radical changes are planned in the set up of the book; an original cover effect will be introduced unlike any of those used in previous years. Bi-colored plated are to be made use of as much as possible in the make-up of the college annual. Although there have always been many pictures in previous years still more are to be added in this forthcoming edition. The publication date has been set as the latter part of May.

The remainder of the staff consists of Walter Worthing, '35, Managing Editor; Leo Haggarty, '35, Business Manager; John-Paul Hines, '36, Assistant Business Manager; James Ross, '36, Assistant Editor; and Bettina Wellington, '35, Women's Editor.

ORCHESTRA

There will be a very important rehearsal of the Orchestra, Sunday, at 2.15 sharp at the Alumnae Building.

IMPORTANT

Applications for the Alumni Council student loans must be filed with the Alumni Secretary, G. Cecil Goddard by noon Friday, February 8. The committee granting the loans will meet Friday afternoon and pass upon awards. Students receiving aid will be notified by mail February 9. $1200 is available for these loans.

Glee Club To Compete In Contest at Portland

On March 1, the Colby Glee Club will travel to the Portland City Hall to compete with colleges only from New England. Although there is expected to be very close competition in that the other colleges will bring larger groups, the quality of Colby's smaller group will and should deserve a prize. The first three winners are invited to participate in the national contest to be held at Pittsburgh on March 15. Therefore, by virtue of a prize Colby should qualify to measure strides with colleges of national repute. With constant practice and willing cooperation Colby stands a very favorable chance to place among the first three.

Not only will the glee club blend voices in competition, but they also will sway to the lilting melodies of a dance band at some prominent hotel. This period of enjoyment will take place from 10 P. M. to 2 A. M.

Attendance will weigh very heavily in determining the men who will represent Colby at Portland.

Murray Debaters Will Argue On New Deal

The annual Murray Prize Debate will be held on Monday evening, February 11, in the College Chapel. The proposition for discussion is: Resolved, that the New Deal merits approval.

The affirmative will be upheld by Harold F. Brown, '35, Harold Hurwitz, '37, and Kenneth F. Mills, '35. The negative will be upheld by Melvin G. Higgins, '35, Robert D. Hussey, '37, and Dana W. Jaquith, '35. The alternates are Willard H. Dunn, '36, and Percy H. Willette, '37.

The preliminary speaking for the Coburn Prize Contest is to be held in the College Chapel on Wednesday afternoon, 3.30 o'clock, February 13.

Belyea Grid Manager; Yell Leaders Appointed

Alden Belyea has been selected as the varsity football manager for next fall. Belyea is a junior from Waterville and a member of Kappa Delta Rho fraternity. Arnold Small of Cornish, a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon, has been chosen as his first assistant; while Frank Mellen of Rocky Hill, Conn., was selected for advancement from among the group of freshman managers. Frank is pledged Kappa Delta Rho.

Bob Hunter of East Walpole, Mass., and Heinie Kammandel of Edgewood, R. I., will lead the Colby cheering sections next season, succeeding Ed Gurney and Ken Mills.

SPORTS CABIN

Lucile Jones Attends Washington Conference

As a delegate for the Y. W. C. A., Lucile Jones, '36, was selected to go to the Tenth Annual Conference on "The Cause and Cure of War" which was held in the Hall of Nations of the Hotel Washington in Washington, D. C., from January 22-28.

Miss Jones has been active throughout her college career in other organizations beside the Y. W. C. A., of which she is the vice president. She was a delegate to the Maqua conferences, and is now a member of the Maqua Council. Interested in social service she has accomplished much here in the city; and by her interest in any advances for the cause of Peace, she has proven herself the worthy delegate to such a conference.

The conference itself, under the auspices of nation-wide organizations, gave a full and vital program with the aim of analyzing and studying from every angle the cost of peace. Attacking the root of the problem, it had as its objectives the ways of building effective peace machinery, of reducing the war machinery, and of obtaining guaranteed security against war for every nation. Such fine speakers as Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Senator Nye, led up to the climax of the conference, a National Round Table and Group Discussion.

The delegates were entertained at a reception given for them at the White House.

ANOTHER GYM SHUFFLE
Immediately following the Frosh-Cony High track meet in the Field House, Saturday afternoon, there will be another in the series of afternoon dances. Thus far these dances have been going over in a big way, but could be much better if more of the co-eds would avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy themselves for a couple of hours.

Camera Club Plans Snow Hike Saturday

There will be a snow hike for members of the Colby Camera Club next Saturday afternoon. Students will meet at the Outing Clubhouse on Mayflower Hill by three o'clock and spend the time until sunset making photographs of snow scenes and winter sports. Although some ski equipment will be available out there, any members who can bring skis or snowshoes are urged to do so in order that there will be enough to go around. Afterwards, a picnic supper will be served in the clubhouse.

Since it will be necessary to know the number who will be present, all women students who intend to go should speak to Laura May Tolman, '36, and men should notify Sheldon R. Rudnick, '36.

The last meeting of the Camera Club was held on January 11 in the Carleton D. Brown Studio. Mr. Brown and Ford A. Grant, '34, demonstrated the process of studio portraiture from the loading of the plate holder to the final print. The members spoke of this as one of the most instructive meetings of the year.

Prof. Newman To Talk At Fireside Discussion

The first of a series of four Fireside Discussion Groups on religious subjects will be held at the home of Professor Morrow, West Court, on Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Professor Newman will lead the discussion; his subject will be "The Problem of God." For the convenience of the host and hostess slips are now being circulated among the fraternities to get the names of students who wish to attend. These meetings are intended to fill a long felt need—discussion between students and faculty members on the problems of present day religion. All students interested in religious problems should take advantage of this fine opportunity.

The first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet for the second semester will be held next Friday at 3.30 in the "Y" Room. All members of the cabinet should be present at this time.

ORACLE PRIZES

Students are reminded of the following prizes offered for snapshots used in the 1935 Oracle:

1. Two dollars to the student who has the greatest number of photographs used.
2. One dollar for the funniest picture.
3. One dollar for the best informal picture of a faculty member.
4. One dollar for the most unusual campus view.

Photographs for this competition should be given to Joseph C. Smith, Publicity Office, room 29, Chemical Hall. Mr. Smith will number the prints and keep the names of the contributors so that the pictures will be judged anonymously by the Oracle editors.

Lemieux Leads Puck Team To 6-3 Win Over Polar Bears

Paganucci Scores Two

Lemieux Rings Up Four Goals Unassisted

The Mule puck pushers again behaved like champions yesterday afternoon and took Bowdoin into camp to the tune of six to three. Despite the loss of the services of Russell and Sheehan and the return to the Bowdoin lineup of Captain Pete Mills who has been ineligible, Colby had no trouble in annexing the first win of the second semester.

Rum Lemieux, assisted by smiling Al Paganucci bore the brunt of the Mule attack. Lemieux scored no less than four goals, all unassisted, a performance nearly amounting to defeating Bowdoin singlehanded. Paganucci scored the other two counters.

Colby, or better Lemieux began scoring right at the outset pushing the puck past Steer at 1.40. This was the sole counter in the opening period. The second session honors were all even both teams scoring two goals, Paganucci being credited with both Colby markers.

The third period found Lemieux out for blood and playing hockey like a fool. Before the gun had sounded he had pushed three past the Bowdoin goalie. What had been a fairly even contest was no more.

Pete Mills was outstanding for Bowdoin in his '35 debut. Don Robitaille was in the nets for Colby in place of Tut Thompson.

Three freshmen donned skates for the varsity in their premier encounter. Jimmy LaChance played the entire game at right defense, and Walker and Davenport saw service as defense and center.

The summary:

Progress Along Peace Lines . . .

If the present assertive movements of sizeable proportions denouncing war and fostering peace may be taken for any criteria it would seem to indicate that there is some hope for definite action along that line in this country and abroad. Perhaps the eyes of the nation are focused predominately upon the Senate arms investigation. People are at last waking up to the fact that there is a good deal more to war than shouldering a gun, falling in behind the band, and "saving the world for democracy." If the government will summon the courage to harness these powerful traffickers in death one of the largest obstacles in peace will have been removed.

But the most gratifying of these peace movements has been from the student angle. Student opinion in this country has often been charged with lack of aggressiveness but this charge has been completely shattered in the past few months. Peace polls in the various colleges have revealed an amazing pacifistic trend. The poll on the merits of compulsory military training conducted by Collegiate Digest indicated an overwhelming sentiment against this phase of our education. The poll which is now being taken by the colleges through the Literary Digest will undoubtedly reveal that Mars is an extremely unpopular individual with American students. The fact that the California students who took their case of expulsion for refusing to submit to compulsory military training to the Supreme Court shows that students are aggressively fighting the forces for war.

At present there have been a series of several short radio talks by leading undergraduates denouncing the agencies for war and sounding the note for peace. They have expressed forcibly the sentiments of the vast majority of students throughout the country.

It is most gratifying to note that other peoples are likewise impressed by the importance of the peace movement. No less a man than Viscount Cecil in England is now engaged in heading a project of obtaining the opinion of all citizens in England over 18 years of age on vital questions concerning war and peace. He has said that early returns have indicated an overwhelming sentiment for peace and aggressive action to gain peace. In spite of ominous signs throughout our restless globe Lord Cecil sounds a note of optimism. He thinks that when the great masses of the people in all countries passionately desire peace that the chances for getting it are favorable.

Inter-Denominational Conference To Be Held

Of great interest to the College and the community in general is the coming to the college campus of three speakers representing the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths. This conference comes to Colby under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and through the cooperative efforts of a conference committee composed of President Johnson, Professor H. L. Newman, Laurence A. Dow, '35, Maurice Krinsky, '35, and John Dolan, '36.

A deputation team consisting of Mr. Everett R. Clinchy, Ph. D., as chairman, who is Director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians in New York City; Rabbi Beryl D. Cohon, of Temple Israel, Boston, Mass., and Rev. M. J. Ahearn, S. J., of Weston College, Weston, Mass., will be at the college all during the day and night of February 26.

The conference committee has laid out the following tentative program which may be subject to some slight revision.

A general student assembly in the morning, with all three speakers delivering short talks; a noon luncheon at the Elmwood Hotel at 12.30 o'clock, for faculty, student religious leaders, and local clergymen; at 4 P. M., an informal student forum in the chapel under the guidance of Messrs. Dolan, Dow and Krinsky, at which time the three guest speakers will answer students' questions and problems of religion; at 5.30 the deputation team will be the guests of three groups, Rabbi Cohon being entertained at dinner by the Tau Delta Phi Fraternity, Rev. Ahearn by the Newman Club of Colby College, and Mr. Clinchy will be the guest of the Women's Division at their dinner.

A general public lecture will be held in the evening at 8 o'clock in the College Chapel, at which time Professor Newman will introduce Mr. Clinchy to the public and college community, who will in turn take charge of the evening's program.

troubles. He said that people are apt to expect too much of regulation and to hunt out the weak spots in regulatory agencies. A contrast of present and past conditions under regulation reveals that much has been accomplished. "Deficiency in character is the chief indictment of regulation," Dr. Smith accused.

Contrary to popular opinion the chairman of the board claimed that there was less chance of a career in public service under the New Deal than formerly. He based his assertion on the tremendous growth of the spoils system in the capital. "But one out of 19 enter service today under the civil service. There are more positions available but of extremely uncertain tenure. We are becoming a nation of office holders. Most of the new employees are warming chairs in mortal fear that others may be chosen to warm them."

Dr. Smith denounced the Quoddy electrical project in no uncertain terms. He admitted it had engineering merit, that the construction of the great tidal dam was possible. But he was not so lenient toward its economic possibilities. Like many others he sees no adequate market for the power to be manufactured. In a bit of irony directed against government projects he said, "It is as good as a lot of other government undertakings."

Ricker Defeated By Frosh 23-19

Pullen Scores 10 Points

The Frosh court artists left Aroostook with their reputations unscathed by virtue of a 23 to 19 win over Ricker Classical last evening. This game completed a two game invasion which began with a 25-22 triumph over Houlton High.

Johnny Pullen treated his fellow potato diggers in a manner not at all becoming when he scored ten points to lead the yearlings. Larry Haynes at right guard was also a thorn in the upstaters side scoring six points.

Dobbins playing left forward for the preppers was but a point behind Pullen dropping nine points through the nets.

The Frosh will return today. The next game will be played here February 13 with Hebron Academy as opponent.

Frosh Meet Cony In Track Sat. P.M.

Frosh Lose Merrick, Brackett and Green

Eager to uphold their reputation after taking Bridgton into camp, the yearling tracksters are primed and ready to tackle Cony High in the field house on Saturday. This time, however, they will be handicapped through the loss of the services of Merrick, Brackett, and Green, all of whom proved instrumental in winning prep school contest. Of this trio Merrick will go to Boston as a member of the varsity relay team which is entered in the B. A. A. games, while Brackett and Green have been forced by a transfer rule to consider their freshman competition as a closed chapter in their track activities.

Nadeau is expected to capture a couple of first places in hurdle competition since he proved himself a master in that department against Bridgton. He will also carry the Colby colors in the jumps as the mainstay now that Brackett has become classified as a sophomore because of a year's preparation for Colby at Ricker Junior College. Hodges, having shown much improvement in heaving the shot, is also regarded as a favorite to cop that event. Another outstanding performer who is the favorite in the 1000 meter race, and is also slated to break the tape in fast time.

With the exception of the pole vault, this second indoor meet of the season will include the usual events. This event will be omitted because Cony can not enter a contestant. One of the field contests will start at 1.30, but the running is scheduled to begin at 2 P. M. on Saturday. After the meet there will be dancing in the gym.

THE MULE KICKS

By Jerry Ryan

Those 1935 and 1936 football schedules which were released by "Bill" Millett last week are certainly the "goods." Providence College, Amherst, and University of Vermont are the new faces on next year's slate. They take the places formerly occupied by Northeastern, Lowell Textile, and Coast Guard Academy. In putting these three games on the schedule, Colby will be faced with the task of meeting faster competition. Coach Eddie Roundy will have better material next fall and is picking no "soft spots." Providence College inflicted a smashing defeat on Boston College last fall and this fact alone speaks well of the type of competition that Colby's 1935 team will face. The Tufts, Providence, Maine, and Bates games will be played at home.

— C —

In 1936 Middlebury takes the place of Amherst and Brown University is added, making an eight game schedule. Home games are with Middlebury and Vermont. For the first time in years the White Mules will play a game after the conclusion of the State Series; that being with Brown. It has been whispered around that Brown wanted a warm-up contest prior to their annual Thanksgiving feast with Colgate, but they can be assured that no matter whether their eleven is superior to ours, the game will be far from a warm-up for anyone concerned. In fact if all the present sophomores stay in college until 1936, there will be eight wearers of the "C" available and this is not even taking into consideration those who will become members of the team between now and the fall of '36.

— C —

If the crowds that pack the inadequate seating capacity at the gym for the Frosh games are any indication, it looks as though Colby and the city of Waterville would be able to support a varsity basketball team without much trouble. Basketball furnishes plenty of action for the hoop fans and then the possibility of stepping around with some of Colby's fairest after the game is an added attraction.

— C —

The ineligibility jinx will probably snatch away its usual share of athletes from the various athletic teams, but let's hope it don't cripple them too badly. Louie Rancourt and Eino Kivi are two of the most prominent athletes under the scholastic ban at present and surely everyone would like to see them eligible to perform once more for respective teams. But after all, isn't it entirely up to the student himself? Colby's eligibility code is not too stringent for the person of average mentality.

— C —

We noted last week that little Clarkson University tripped up Dartmouth, reputedly one of the strongest collegiate puck teams in the country, in as thrilling a hockey game as has been seen on a college rink this winter. If Clarkson can do this to Dartmouth, it wouldn't be too optimistic to say that Colby has a chance to take Yale. In this game Colby has everything to gain and not much, if anything, in the way of prestige to lose. A great opportunity is knocking at the door of the Blue and Gray ice-birds—and opportunity knocks but once.

— C —

Campus notes—Another tea dance affair is to be held following the Cony High-Frosh track meet on the 9th. . . . Some of the most prominent Bay State scribes are predicting that Cliff will be quite apt to spring a surprise in the Leo Larivee two mile at the B. A. A. Games—we hope that their forecast will be accurate.

Colby Sends Six To B.A.A. Games

Veysey is Best Hope

Colby's delegation to the annual B. A. A. Games will be a relay team composed of Washuk, Goodrich, Yawinski, and Paul Merrick; Cliff Veysey, two-miler; and Bob Marshall, high jumper. These men with Coach day to pit their skill against the cream of the collegiate tracksters.

The relay quartet is composed wholly of inexperienced men who, however, have had good records in dashes. Sol Fuller, the only veteran of last year's baton passers has been declared ineligible, necessitating the Perkins will travel to Boston on Friday drafting of Merrick from the Frosh outfit. Although not expected to turn in record time, this combination should shape up well.

Veysey has his past record in his favor as he matches strides with class A runners, and he is favored to place "in the money." Marshall faces stiff competition in the person of George Spitz, national high jump champ, who is capable of doing 6 feet 7 inches. Marshall has thus far failed to get over the 6 foot mark, but he has shown good promise when pressed and may come through with much better than that.

Frosh Basketball Defeat Houlton

Score 25-22

The Frosh emerged victorious from the first game of their Houlton trip by defeating Houlton High by a 25-22 score in one of the most exciting contests seen in the Aroostook County metropolis this season. The Mule yearlings overcame a three point lead in the final canto to pull the game from the fire.

At the end of the first period the score was even at 5-5. The half found the schoolboys commanding the situation 17-12. At the end of the third period the first year team had closed the gap, but the schoolboys were still leading 21-18.

Some fine playing by Heinie Kammandel and Larry Haynes featured the last period attack. Bosse and

Frosh Basketball Down Waterville

The Frosh basketball team turned in its second victory of the season last Saturday afternoon in the gym by defeating Waterville High to the tune of 37 to 26. More accurate passing and shooting was the deciding factor in the Frosh's favor.

The local schoolboys went into a 7-6 lead in the first period, but the first year team led 19-17 at the half. In the third period with Gene Williams and Johnny Pullen leading the way, the Roundymen gained a commanding lead and were still on a wild scoring spree when the final whistle blew.

The Schemer Speaks

Sees All, Hears All, Tells All

WHY I NEVER JOINED A SORORITY

1. I wanted to think for myself and not be led around by a bunch of sisters.
2. I never went in for women's organizations at home.
3. I didn't want a lot of fraternity boys calling me at night.
4. I had never danced with a man in my life and I didn't want to start.
5. I hated the thought of dormitory and having to crawl over a lot of sisters to get to bed.
6. I didn't like the idea of rooming with one girl for a whole semester.
7. I don't look well in sleeveless, low-cut gowns.
8. I am a male.

SO MANY ITEMS . . .

'Ja see as where the observation of Kay Franklin, Lil Stinchfield, Helen Curtis, and Jane Montgomery was so keen that all four have been rewarded with a new pair of hosiery all their very own? . . . guessed which of a bunch of pairs had been dunked a certain number of times—or something like that . . . probably by way of setting a good example, Prof. Weeks has been made a Deacon at a local church . . . A wild rumor blew in here a few moments ago which runs this way: Seems as though Yokel Hersey would like very much to have again the ring he had two years ago at Kent's Hill and which he pinned on the finger of a brunette passing fancy . . . the gel off's and gets married, Hersey's ring and all . . . so now he tries with every mail to get the ring back but the false gal doesn't even give an answer . . . Miss Van Norman sent a co-ord to shoo a stranger off the Foss Hall skating surface t'other day . . . imagine her embarrassment when she found out that it was Prof. Weber enjoying the Dutch roll for the first time in many a moon . . . Mike Eissenfeld took out Gladys Wein on his first nite back . . . And two nights later he was seen promenading with Ginny Moore . . . And since then another date unmentionable . . . A great start Mike! . . . Actually saw a pin hung in the gym . . . 'twas offered by an A. T. O. to keep Fran Perkins' dress cotched while she partook of the dance . . . McAlary had to abandon a mid-year exam to fight that big fire downtown last week . . .

LIMBS' LABOR LOST . . .

It concerns Moore, Speare, and Garcelon . . . all were invited to Speare's fireside over the week-end . . . on the way back, passing a small town with a small skating rink on which skated a small but real blonde, they paused . . . they even donned their skates . . . Moore asked the petite one for a skate and she blushed and consented . . . while the pair conversed leisurely about this and about that at some place on the frozen surface, an honest-to-goodness kidnap scene, to Moore's mind, was enacted . . . with all curtains drawn, the car sped from township to township, but the law is mighty . . . and in one township Moore's head flew against the side of the kidnap vehicle and one of the curtains whipped up . . . a copper saw and the car stopped . . . Moore swore he never saw the two before in his life so Speare and Garcelon were pinched for pulling a Hauptmann . . . both Medico's sons, the wires buzzed and a little medical influence convinced the chief that two sons of Colby who had got Colby night mixed on their calendar ought to go free any way you want to look at it . . . so the threesome came to Waterville early enough but too late to register . . . and the moral of this tale, my chillun, is never to play with fire 'cause if ya do you're liable to set one . . . then how's McAlary ever gonna take an exam . . . Mary Ewen back again . . . looking better than ever . . . And a brand new roomer at Mower House . . . Ann Shea is the name and what past she packs . . . she has been to Duke and Johns Hopkins . . . vacationed in Canada . . . lived in London and Paris, and at present writes to Baltimore for her allowance . . . Call 1009 between 7 and 9.

COLUMN STUFF . . .

We know of many broken hearts since LaCrosse's departure for Harvard . . . We watched with gusto the entrance of Betty Mann and Terri Carlyle into the men's infirmary . . . in to see Heimie Kammandel and Tom Yadwinski . . . Fred Oleson is junior-leagueing . . . Cozy-man Sheehan was caught red-handed t'other nite . . . took a wee bit of a skate with Barbara Peiser and then topped it off with a hot toddy for two at Scrib's . . . Ruth Keller in picture form in front of Bradbury's . . . Bill Meppen two-timing Alice Manley with a fifteen-yr. older in town . . . and we wonder yet if Muriel Bailie knows of Whit Wright's frequent dates with Delores Audet, attractive counter-girl at the Professional Shop . . . and to top it off with a third party, might
