Best Hockey Season In History Capped By 8-3 Brown Win

Yale Defeat Sole Loss

Mules Close Season With 3-1 Win Over Bates

Colby's 1935 edition of varsity hockey left here last Tuesday on its foreign invasion, and returned here with a successful story to tell. The trip started perfectly when the Millett team defeated Bowdoin in an overtime by 5 to 3. This victory made it three straight over the Polar Bears, and clinched the State Championship for Colby. Facing Yale the next night, the tired Mules met a 9-1 defeat at the hands of the Bulldog, but for the first two periods played on pretty even terms with their much bigger rivals. The last period found the Yale boys putting on the power plays with five men down the ice, and the Colby lads were considerably baffled by this high pressure attack.

On the following day the Mules played Williams on a rink covered with three inches of water, and emerged from the battle with a 1-1 tie. Under good weather conditions, the Colby team would have undoubtedly won by a large margin.

At Providence, the Blue and Gray sextet pulled a big surprise in defeating Brown by 8-3, after trailing at the end of the first period by 2-0. Providence fans acclaimed the Colby team as the best team to oppose the Brown aggregation this season. Rum Lemieux and Paganucci were the shining lights for Colby, with Pat Thompson doing a creditable job in the nets.

Last night the Mules captured the claws of the Bobcats by 3-1, to go through the season without a loss in State competition. This is a feat never before accomplished by any Maine college team. With a forward line as classy as any in New England hockey, the Colby team ranks high in the East as far as small college hockey is concerned. The Colby sextet has captured the championship for three straight years, and with the material which will be available next winter, the prospects are good for another Championship crew. Last night's game wound up the most successful season in Colby hockey history.

Sophomore Dance To Be Held April 13

Plans for the sophomore class dance are underway. The dance is scheduled for April 13, two weeks before the Junior prom. The various committees are at present engaged in negotiating for a dance orchestra which has not as yet appeared in this state. A nominal charge is to be placed on tickets to this gala affair.

Mrs. E. J. Colgan Sings at Men's Assembly

A musical program was rendered at the men's assembly, Friday, Feb. 15th, by Mrs. E. J. Colgan, assisted by Professor Strong at the piano. Following is the order of the program:

Standing in the Need of Prayer... Roddlek
Sapphische Ode... Brahms
Five Eyes... Gibbs
Sing Me a Song of a Hilltop Fair... Cox
The Answer (encore)...

Author Pullen Producing Masterpiece For Juniors

Current whisperings to the effect that there is going to be another Junior Prom play were confirmed yesterday by none other than the author, John J. Pullen. Mr. Pullen, it will be remembered, wrote the smash hit last year in collaboration with the dynamic Harold Plotkin. Mr. Pullen's new manuscript was unanimously approved by the Junior Prom Committee. Professor Rollins has kindly consented to act as the faculty adviser for the production and members of the Colby dramatic society will fill the cast. The play is to be a straight comedy and will probably be produced in the Waterville opera house. Those who have read the manuscript are ready to prophesy a hit that will eclipse the great musical success that packed the house last April.

The scant information that Mr. Pullen has thus far released for publication leaves much to the imagination. The play has a title that augurs well of a riotous comedy. He calls it "Morning at Seven." Into this theme Mr. Pullen has packed a cargo of gags and those who know will tell you that Pullen packs a pretty gag cargo.

The play will be one of the major attractions of the coming Junior Week-end which fills the date of April 26-28. Plans for the entire affair are in the hands of the Prom committee.

If past performances are a reliable indication it may be expected that "Morning at Seven" will live up to the precedent established by Pullen. Last year at this time Pullen and Plotkin had only begun to think of the possibilities of a Junior play. Their plans rounded into shape so late that it looked a little doubtful as to the chances of their getting the production ready in time. It was only through the organizing genius of Plotkin and the industry of Pullen and Mr. Thomas that the Muscicle finally appeared on time and in winning form. This year Pullen has his play ready for rehearsals long ahead of curtain time and with this time advantage he should be able to outshine the "Moon Madness" of '34. "Morning at Seven" is worth waiting for!

Dr. Dwight Bradley To Speak At Fourth Vespers

Dr. Dwight Bradley, chairman of the Boston Federation of Churches, is to speak at the Colby Vespers next Sunday night at 7.30 at the Baptist Church.

Dr. Bradley has until recently been the minister of the First Church Congregational in Newton Center. He has recently been called to the Chair of Applied Christianity at Andover-Newton Theological School, and is taking the Union Congregational Church in Boston.

Dr. Bradley will speak on "The Cry of Our Brother's Blood," an appropriate subject for Brotherhood Sunday. A musical quartet composed of college students will play for the vespers.

Slight Majority Of Students Against Entry To League

Digest Poll Completed

Vast Majority Favor Govern- ment Control Of Munitions

American university undergraduates voted a scant majority against the United States entering the League of Nations in The Literary Digest College Peace Poll, according to the final returns published in the last issue of the magazine.

Ballots were returned by 112,607 students in one hundred eighteen leading American colleges and universities. Of these 49.47 per cent. favored the United States' entry into the League of Nations, while 50.53 per cent. voted against it.

Queried as to whether the United States could stay out of another great war the student vote was more than 2 to 1 in the affirmative.

Asked "if the borders of the United States were invaded would you bear arms in defense of your country?" 83.54 per cent. of the students voted that they would, while 16.46 per cent. voted that they would not.

On the question of "would you bear arms for the United States in the invasion of the borders of another country?" 17.82 per cent. balloted affirmatively, while 82.18 per cent. voted negatively.

The undergraduates balloted nearly 5 to 1 for universal conscription of all resources of capital and labor to control profits in time of war.

By an overwhelming vote of more than 9 to 1 the students showed their advocacy of Government control of armament and munitions industries.

Voting 69,715 to 41,407, they voiced opposition to a national policy that a "navy and air-force second to none is a sound method of insuring us against being drawn into another great war."

The Literary Digest has been conducting this poll in cooperation with the Association of College Editors whose members are editors of campus publications.

Lucile Jones Talks On War Conference

Lucile Jones, in a vitally interesting Y. W. C. A. discussion group, last Tuesday night gave the background of the "Tenth Annual Conference on the Cause and Cure of War." She also described many world figures and personalities in their relation to the conference. Mrs. Roosevelt, Carrie Chapman Catt, Senator Nye, Parker Moon, Waldo Stevens, and Walter Van Kirk were among the driving spirits of this convention.

Aside from meeting these leaders in the atmosphere of the conference, the speaker was privileged to attend a tea at the White House, with Mrs. Roosevelt as hostess. A visit to the Senate where Senator Johnson was harangue proved very instructive, as well as the opportunity to sit in on the New Munitions Investigations.

The conclusions of the Conference were based upon nationalism, race prejudice, and capitalism as the three fundamental causes of war. The cure of these evils, as advocated by the group, lay in education and political action. The latter suggestion was made an actual fact through the slogan, "The World Court is the child of the Conference."

IMPORTANT

Next Tuesday, Feb. 26, in cooperation with the religious conference there will be a joint assembly in the Alumnae Building at 11.15. There will be no 11.15 classes. The assembly will take the place of the usual Monday and Friday assemblies.

Former Judge Pinansky To Speak Here Monday

Mr. Max L. Pinansky of Portland will spend a busy evening on the Colby campus Monday next. Mr. Pinansky will speak early in the evening to the Public Discussion Group which meets from 7 to 8.30 in the college chapel. This meeting is open to the entire student body. He will then address the Cosmopolitan Club of which society he is an honorary member at a place to be announced later.

Mr. Pinansky is one of the outstanding lawyers of the state. He is a former judge of the Portland municipal court. At present he is state senator from Cumberland county. The former judge is a graduate of Harvard. He obtained his A. B. degree from the undergraduate school and received his legal training at Harvard Law.

Cast For Dramatic Art Play Is Chosen

The cast for the production "The White-Headed Boy" to be offered by the dramatic art class early in April has been chosen. "The White-Headed Boy" is a character as true for our own city as for London or Dublin. He is a universal problem and a universal character limited to neither denomination or color. To witness this play is "to see ourselves as others see us." Scenery will be remodeled and repainted to suit the needs of this production. The time of the play is in the present, making it impossible to make use of costumes of a by-gone period. A cast of excellent actors has been chosen; they are as follows in their respective roles:

Mrs. Georgehegan	Virginia Swallow
George	John J. Pullen
Peter	Willard Dunn
Kate	Amy Thompson
Jane	Kay Caswell
Baby	Helen Kelly
Denis	Edward Gurney
Donough Brosau	Alvin Vose
John Duffy	Maurice Cohen
Della Duffy	Ruth Millett
Hannah	Avis Merritt
Aunt Ellen	Agnes Carlyle

The following members of the class have been chosen to act on the following committees:

Design: George Crosby, Lysbeth Winchell.

Lighting: Fred Banzi.

Stage: Harold Kimball, Clarence Morrill.

Properties: Helen Curtis, Reba Jose.

The date for production has been set for April 11, Thursday evening, at the Alumnae Building.

Professor Cecil A. Rollins is coaching and supervising the work of production.

TRYOUTS FOR JUNIOR WEEK-END SHOW

Tryouts for the Junior Week-End Play, "Morning at Seven," will be held in the chapel from 3.30 to 5.30 on Thursday.

"Y" Sponsors Team

Joint Assembly, Student, and Public Forums On Large Program

Of great interest to the college and the city of Waterville, is the coming to the college campus of a deputation team consisting of three speakers representing the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths, this coming week, Tuesday, Feb. 26. The conference comes to Colby college under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and through the cooperative efforts of a conference committee composed of President Johnson, Professor Herbert L. Newman, Laurance A. Dow, '35, Maurice Krinsky, '35, and John Dolan, '36.

This deputation team consisting of Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, Ph. D., a chairman, Director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians in New York City; Rabbi Beryl D. Cohen, of Temple Israel, Boston, Mass., and Rev. M. J. Ahern, S. J., of Weston College, Weston, Mass. These men will be at the college all during the day and evening of February 26.

The conference committee has laid out the following program for the team:

A general student assembly in the morning at 11.15, at which time the regular 11.15 classes will be omitted. The assembly will be held in the Alumnae Building, Dean Marriner presiding, when all three speakers will deliver short talks.

A noon luncheon will follow at 12.30 o'clock at the Elmwood Hotel, for faculty, student religious leaders, local clergymen, and interested citizens. It is urged at this time that those students who desire to attend this luncheon, should immediately communicate with Messrs. Dolan, Krinsky, or Dow, or Professor Newman, as a limited number of reservations are available. The luncheon will be 75 cents for students. At this luncheon, brief remarks will be forthcoming from invited clergymen and the guests will listen to a short talk by each of the members of the deputation team.

At 4 P. M. an informal Student Forum will be held in the Y. W. C. A. room at the Alumnae Building under the guidance of Messrs. Dow, Krinsky and Dolan, when the three guest speakers will answer students' questions and problems pertaining to religion and present day religious thinking.

Debate Team Prepares For Cross Country Trip

Last evening the first debating meeting of the current season was held at the home of Professor Herbert C. Libby where plans were made for the cross-country trip to be made by the squad of three men who will represent Colby college in Wisconsin the latter part of March. The subject of munitions manufacture and sale will be the topic under discussion this year.

Monday noon members of the squad debated on the "New Deal" before members of the Rotary Club at their regular meeting at the Elmwood Hotel. The team to make the trip will be shortly chosen.

Blue and Gray Tracksters Turn In Fine Work at University Club Meet

Veysey in Record Mile

Marshall's Best Leap To Date Wins High Jump

Veysey, running the mile in the record equalling time of 4:25 2-5, and Marshall, topping the list of class B jumpers, were the outstanding Colby entries in the University Club track meet last Saturday. Colby finished in fifth place behind R. I., Amherst, Williams, and Springfield in that order. Other Colby men who placed were: Merrick, fourth in weight throw; LaFleur, sixth in weight throw; DeVeber, fifth in the mile; and Washuk, sixth in the broad jump.

Marshall's leap of 5 ft. 11 3-8 in. is his best jump to date and was the best there was in class B at the meet. Incidentally, there were only two class A jumpers who cleared the bar at a higher mark. With this improvement over his former mark, Marshall seems headed toward the Colby record which stands at 6 ft. 1 in.

Although primarily a distance runner, Veysey tied the record time clocked last year in the mile. Veysey's running was so far superior to that of his competitors that he completely lapped them once.

Track Team Will Hook With Bates

Veysey and Marshall Should Garner Points

The outcome of the dual track meet with Bates at Lewiston next Friday is unpredictable. Norm Perkins' men are confident of their superiority in the field events, but the Bates runners may prove to be too strong for the Blue and Gray. From the results of the University Club meet of last Saturday, Cliff Veysey may be expected to take a first in the mile and two mile. Bob Marshall should win a first in the high jump and place in the pole vault. Merrick should place in the hammer throw; DeVeber in the two mile; Washuk in the broad jump; Goodrich and Washuk in the 40 yard dash; and LaFleur in the shot put.

A list of the events follows: 40 yard dash; 300 yard run; 600 yard run; 1000 yard run; mile; two miles; 45 yard hurdles; broad jump; high jump; pole vault; discus throw; shot put; 33 pound weight.

PARKS' DINER

THE MULE KICKS

By Jerry Ryan

Colby's varsity teams continued their winning ways last week as the hockey and track teams turned in their best showings of the season to date. The pucksters started the surge by walloping Bowdoin last Tuesday afternoon. On Wednesday evening the Millettmen met Yale in the objective game on the schedule. After holding the Bulldogs, who have only been beaten this season by the University of Toronto, to a 1-0 score in the first period, the Blue and Gray warriors weakened and the game ended 9-1 with Yale on the long end of the count. Williams was tied 1-1 in a game played in soft ice and water. Then came the surprise of the New England collegiate hockey season—Colby 8, Brown 3, the most notable victory in years for a Colby athletic team. Capt. "Hocker" Ross and his aides completely outclassed the Brown team which had suffered defeats only at the hands of Harvard and Boston College this year.

—C—

The University Club Games brought out the fact that Colby will be nobody's pushover on the cinders this year. Cliff Veysey showed the way with a record—tying 4:25 1-5 mile performance. This is the fastest indoor mile ever turned in by a Blue and Gray representative. Herby DeVeber placed fifth in this same event. Bob Marshall jumped 5 ft. 11 3-8 inches, the highest that he has ever done in his life, to capture premier high jump honors. Johnny Merrick surprised with a fourth in the 35 pound weight event. Stan Washuk, making his first appearance in fast company, qualified in the 50 yard dash and placed sixth in the broad jump.

—C—

The most important events on the sport calendar this week are two track meets and two basketball games. The results of the Freshman-South Portland High cinder meet will probably be known by the time this issue comes off the press. The frosh hoop outfit met Kents Hill on the latter's court this afternoon. On Friday they will journey to Hebron to meet the preppers in that town. The final and most important event of the week will take place Friday afternoon in the Bates Field House in the form of a Bates-Colby indoor track dual. Cliff Veysey, Bob Marshall, and Rolly Nadeau will make strong bids to win individual events for Colby; while Tony Kishon, Larry Johnson, Lou Meagher, Bernie Marcus, and Bill Luokko will probably be outstanding for Bates.

—C—

Campus Notes: Look at this list of ineligible athletes for the remainder of the second semester: Joe Bishop, Bud Hilton, Sol Fuller, Nim Dow, Pete Evers, Johnny Hines, Eino Kivi, Duey Shongood, Ralph Stowell, Tom Yadwinski, Con Cadorette, Gus Garcelon, Tom Heal, Paul Landry, and Rex Tarbell. Of this number Garcelon and Cadorette come under the transfer ruling . . . In the U. C. Games Cliff lapped five competitors and won by almost a lap; therefore it would not have been improbable that he could have shaded 4.20 with competition . . . This set of indoor games will probably be done away with due to lack of gate receipts . . . Joel Marsh of Maine turned in the outstanding performance of the meet with a 1.58 4-5 half.

Veysey's Impressive Record Told in Article Written By Joseph Smith

Record Mile at University Club Meet Latest Exploit

Once more has Cliff Veysey turned in a performance worthy of a champion. At the recent University Club meet which was so highly successful to the small team of the Blue and Gray, Cliff ran a record equalling mile with no competition to spur him on. The ECHO staff considers it appropriate at this time to print a story about Veysey's impressive string of victories which appeared in the recent Colby Alumnus. The article was written by Joseph Smith.

The finishes of fourteen different races since E. Cliff Veysey entered Colby college in the fall of 1932 stamp him as an outstanding candidate for Olympic Games competition in 1936.

With his ability steadily improving Cliff has his eye on at least one national championship before he graduates from Colby in 1936. Up to date, his greatest achievement was not a win, but a second place garnered on November 19 in the National Intercollegiate Cross Country Run at Van Courtland Park, New York. With the cream of the nation's hill-and-dalers in the race, only one man, a senior at University of Michigan, was able to nose out the star from the little Maine college. Last year, he placed third in this event, this year second, and next year he is determined to move up the final notch.

Veysey's running mate is Herbert W. DeVeber of Newburyport, Mass., also a junior, who has finished well up in every race. In the national intercollegiate run this fall, DeVeber finished in 25th place out of a field of 135 men, just beating out Gene Venske, the Pennsylvania star.

During his freshman year, Veysey was ineligible for intercollegiate competition, and so had to content himself with winning the Patriot's Day eight mile road race at Portland, and the Flag Day road race at Waterville. On August 10, he placed second in a 10 mile run in Boston against many of the best marathon runners in the East.

As a sophomore, he went down to Harvard and won their annual invitation road race of 4 1/2 miles, setting a new course record which still holds.

Later in the National Intercollegiate Run, he placed third, competing after a strenuous drive from Maine and an automobile accident had left him in far from perfect condition.

The indoor track season gave Veysey valuable experience, although the distances were too short for him to appear at his best. In the University Club meet at Boston he placed third in the mile run, and second in the same event in the Boston Athletic Association meet. At the 104A Indoor Meet in New York, he won second honors in the 3,000 meter run.

Last spring, he won both the mile and two mile runs for Colby in the dual meet against University of Vermont, and followed this by polishing off the same two events in the Eastern Intercollegiate Meet at Worcester, Mass., against the track men of 10 colleges. His time for the mile was 4:28 2-5, showing that he has been developing speed for the shorter distance. On the following Saturday at Springfield, Mass., Veysey won the New England Intercollegiate two-mile run with the fast time of 9:47.

In other amateur races last spring and summer, he won the Patriot's Day eight mile race at Portland, the Flag Day eight mile race at Waterville, and placed second in the July 4th six mile run at Concord, N. H.

This fall, Veysey's record has been monotonously impressive. In the triangular cross-country meet against Bates and Northeastern, at Bates, he came in first. In the triangular meet against Bates and Maine at Orono, he came in first. In the dual meet between Maine and Colby at Orono, he came in first. In the New England intercollegiate meet at Boston, he came in first. Not until the final race, the National Intercollegiate Cross Country Run, referred to above, did Veysey have to yield the palm to another runner.

With two years of training under "Mike" Ryan, former Colby track coach, behind him, and coming along steadily under Norman C. Perkins, the present track mentor, "Veysey of Colby" is a name to watch for in the world of track athletics.

were returned," The Literary Digest states in its columns, "the highest percentage of returns ever obtained in a Literary Digest poll. The heavy returns indicate the interest which has been aroused in the colleges by the Peace Ballot.

"In view of the reputation for accuracy which The Literary Digest polls have established with smaller percentage of returns, it is safe to say that the results of the College Peace Poll portray an accurate cross-section of opinion in American colleges.

"In answer to the question, 'Do you believe that a national policy of an American Navy and Air-Force second to none is a sound method of insuring us against being drawn into another great war?' only the following eighteen colleges voted 'Yes:'

"Alabama, Arkansas, Auburn, Boston College, Florida, Fordham, Georgia, Louisiana State, Maryland, North Carolina State, Nevada, Purdue, St. Stanislaus, South Carolina, Tennessee, Tennessee Tech., Tulane, and the University of Detroit.

"It will be noted, that, with the exception of South Carolina, all the colleges which supported 'An American Navy and Air-Force second to none,' also voted against entry into the League of Nations.

"The League of Nations received a favorable majority in fifty-five colleges; an unfavorable vote in sixty-three. In analysis of the list of those colleges which opposed entry into the League of Nations, it is fair to draw these conclusions:

"In general, those colleges which have well established reputations for liberal educational policies, are the colleges in which a majority of undergraduates voted in favor of entry into the League of Nations.

"All women's colleges voted in favor of entry into the League. All the Catholic colleges on the list opposed entry.

"It is interesting to note that in the 'Cotton South,' where economic internationalism is synonymous with economic security, with few exceptions the colleges voted against entry into the League of Nations.

"These colleges in the Middle West advocated entry into the League: De Pauw, Emporia, Hendrix, Iowa, Kansas State, Michigan, Oberlin, Ohio, St. Louis, Washington University, and Wisconsin."

INTERFAITH GROUP

At 5.30 the deputation team will be the guests of three groups, Rabbi Cohon being entertained by the Tau Delta Phi Fraternity at dinner, Rev. Ahern by the Colby Newman Club, and Dr. Clinchy will be the guest of the Colby Christian Associations: Foss Hall.

A general Public Forum will be held in the evening at 8 o'clock sharp, in the College Chapel, at which occasion Professor Newman will introduce Dr. Clinchy to the public and the college community. Dr. Clinchy will in turn take charge of the evening's program.

It is the earnest desire and hope of the conference committee that each and every person will do all in his power to attend all events possible, as the team is eager to be of help to any student, faculty member or local resident.

It is well at this time that we give a brief account of these men, who are coming to our campus, as they have acquired much in the way of a reputation as a deputating group.

Following are the biographical sketches:

Reverend Ahern

The Reverend Michael J. Ahern, S. J., A. M., S. T. D., was graduated from Saint Francis Xavier's College in New York City in 1896. He made his studies as a Jesuit in the colleges of the Society of Maryland. He made four years of theological studies at the University of Innsbruck in Austria from 1907 to 1911. He was ordained priest in 1910. He taught chemistry and geology at Canisius College, Buffalo, St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia, and Holy Cross College. From 1919 to 1923 he was President of Canisius College. Since 1926 he has been Professor of Geology and Anthropology at Weston College, Weston, Massachusetts, the Jesuit Seminary for New England. In 1929 he organized the Catholic Truth Period, a weekly radio broadcast over the Yankee Network of New England, to which work he was appointed by Cardinal O'Connell. He has been active in many seminars in New England under the National Conference of Jews and Christians.

Rabbi Cohon

Rabbi Beryl D. Cohon is a graduate of the University of Illinois, B. A. degree; ordained as rabbi, Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati, 1925.

Rabbi, Temple Beth-El, Pensacola, Florida, 1926-27; Rabbi B'er Chayim, Cumberland, Maryland, 1927-29; for the past five years, Associate rabbi, Temple Israel, Boston. Lecturer in Judaism and Old Testament, Boston University; author of "Introduction to Judaism" and "Ethics of the Rabbi."

Reverend E. R. Clinchy

Everett Ross Clinchy, a Presbyterian minister, followed a period of graduate study at Yale and Columbia in religion, social science and education, with service at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Connecticut, as minister of the college church.

While at Wesleyan, Dr. Clinchy arranged two intercollegiate parleys on education, a parley on war, and an intercollegiate symposium on religion—the first of their kind in their respective fields. Leaving Wesleyan to become Director of the National Conference of Jews and Christians, he in 1929 planned and carried out the Columbia Seminar on "The Relations of Roman Catholics, Jews and Protestants," the beginning of a long series of seminars and conferences held throughout the nation.

"All In The Name of God" is a book by Dr. Clinchy on American intergroup relations: a John Day Co. publication, 1934.

Kappa Delta Rho Holds
Annual Initiation

Kappa Delta Rho fraternity held its annual initiation, Tuesday, February 19. Frank Mellen of Rocky Hill, Conn.; Edville G. Lemoine of Kennebunk; Douglas Dunning of Brownville; James Lewis of Foxboro, Mass., and Clevis O. Lavery of Troy, N. H., were initiated.

Following the initiation a banquet was held at the Elmwood Hotel at which Irving R. Gammon presided as toastmaster. Ralph S. Williams spoke for the seniors; Frank Mellen, for the freshmen; James R. Stineford, for the juniors; Wilfred Combella, for the sophomores; Leonard Helie, for the alumni; and Dr. Thomas B. Ashcraft and Professor Euclid Helie, for the faculty.

ECHO To Poll Student Opinion . . .

INCREASINGLY are college papers throughout the country attempting to find out what undergraduates opinion is on subjects of vital interest. Very shortly the ECHO will conduct a poll in chapel, to find out the tenor of Colby thought on contemporary subjects. This poll will be different from the usual ballot in that we will list a variety of items dealing not only with the usual subject of war and peace, national and international questions, but in addition there will be listed items which are of local interest. One of the questions which will surely be included will be on what sort of an economic system you, a student in Colby, would like to live under, our present competitive society of a cooperative, better known as a socialistic society.

Not only will the entire undergraduate opinion be polled both in the men and women's division but answers of the faculty will be recorded. It will be interesting to note which group will prove to be the more liberal. In many colleges where similar polls have been conducted a more liberal trend has been discovered in the faculty.

In order that intelligent answers will be recorded the entire ballot will be published in the ECHO before it is submitted to vote. If there are any pressing questions which you would like to see balloted upon, the ECHO staff will be glad to consider their insertion in the ballot.

Why Not a Definite Period for Oracle Photos?

EVERY year the hue and cry is heard about campus concerning Oracle settings for photos. Students either forget or refuse to appear to avoid a cut from classes. The Oracle editors assert that often as many as three appointments are made before the photo of a particular group is finally taken.

A solution to this problem has been found and put into practice in some colleges. Namely the setting aside of a period of two or three days devoted entirely to the taking of year book pictures. Such an arrangement is clearly convenient to every party concerned. It saves the year book editors a prodigious amount of wasted effort, the students unwarranted cuts, the professors inconvenience. Even the forgotten man, the photographer benefits.

The author has heard a prominent official of the college quote favorably upon this method of dealing with year book photographs. It is to be hoped that the administration will put such a system into practice next year.

It might be an excellent project for the Student Council to promote.

Dr. Bovie Conducting Research at Colby

Thursday evening, Feb. 14, Dr. William T. Bovie lectured on "Biophysics" under the auspices of Chi Gamma Sigma, the Physical Society, at Shannon Physics Building. Dr. Bovie gave an account of some of his experiments in the field which includes both Biology and Physics.

Dr. Bovie received his A. B. at Michigan in 1908 and his Ph. D. at Harvard in 1914. Since that time, he has taught at Albion, Antioch, Harvard and Northwestern Medical. From 1921 to the present time he has been engaged in independent research on the biological effects of rays. He has just recently moved his laboratory from Bar Harbor, Maine, to this college and intends to resume his research here.

The oldest university in South America is the University of San Marcos, in Lima, Peru, founded in 1551.

Library Recommends Books Pertinent to Religious Conference

In "Adventurous Religion," Dr. Fosdick says "the number of those to whom religious intolerance seems a barbarian survival is on the increase. The ascendancy of this new way of thinking will mark an unprecedented era in mankind's religious life."

The coming to Colby of the Jewish-Christian team of Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, Rabbi Beryl D. Cohon and Rev. M. J. Ahern on February 26, should mark a new chapter in student thinking. It is an event worth preparing for and worth following up in individual and group thinking. The newly formed Colby Council of Religion recommends the following books which will be on display at the library. Mr. Ibbotson is cooperating by ordering several new books that will bring our thinking up-to-date on this important development in American life—the attempt of the Catholic, Protestant and Jew to appreciate each others viewpoints.

Excellent books of a general nature are:

"Adventurous Religion" by Harry Emerson Fosdick, chapter on Tolerance, p. 215.

"March of Faith," by W. E. Garrison, chapter on "Roman Catholicism in America" p. 197 and "Protestant Unity and the Federal Council" p. 215. This book was published in 1933 and is the story of religion in America since 1865. Mr. Garrison sees religion as a way of harmonizing all politics, sciences, art, education, literature and the like—in the pursuit of higher ends.

"My Idea of God" edited by Joseph Fort Newton. This is a symposium in which Jew and Gentile, Catholic and Protestant, Modernist and Fundamentalist, Christian Scientist and Quaker, Humanist and Mystic tell us frankly and intimately, not why believe in God but in what terms they think of God who is "both the mystery and meaning of life."

"Religion in Our Times" by Gaius Glenn Atkins.

Of particular interest to the campus is the recent book "All in the Name of God" by Dr. Clinchy who will head this visiting team of speakers. He depicts racial prejudices and religious cruelty in full action in the United States. In reviewing this book the "Intercollegian" says "The very fact that the story can be told quietly and honestly proclaims the coming of better days. The man who is incapable of seeing this republic as a nation in which Jews and Catholics and Protestants live together in friendship and trust has missed the essential meanings in our democracy. Dr. Clinchy's book makes it easier to believe in a Republic of Great Believers, who understand and trust each other in spite of all their differences."

Of specialized interest are: "The Catholic Church in Action" by Michael Williams.

"The Catholic and Protestant Mind" by Moehlan.

"As the Modern Jew Sees Jesus" by Ernest Tractner. This book is a revelation of sanity and clear thinking and ought not to be missed.

"The Making of the Modern Jew" by Milton Steinberg.

"How Odd of God" by Lewis Browne. The title is based on the little couplet "How odd of God to choose the Jew"

President Johnson recommends this book enthusiastically.

"Jews and the World Ferment" by Basil Mathews. This is the latest book by this keen student of world affairs.

We are fortunate in having in our magazine rack "The Catholic World," a monthly magazine of "General science and literature" published by the Paulist Fathers.

If you want to keep abreast of the vanguard of liberal Protestantism glance into "The Christian Century." It has a distinguished staff of contributing editors including men like Fred Eastman, Reinold Niebuhr and Kirby Page and staff correspondents all over the United States and important thought centers of the world.

Ye Gladiator Column

Letters in the Gladiator Column are expressions of opinion by individual contributors to that column and the editor assumes no responsibility for any statements, allusions, or assertions made in them. The column is a free-for-all and student contributions are solicited.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding the ECHO editors wish to make clear the fact that it is the policy of the ECHO as, it is with ALL newspapers, that no unsigned letters will be printed in this column. A pen name, of course, may be added if the author of a letter does not care to have his name appear in print. Two unsigned letters were received this week. They have been linotyped and will be printed as soon as the authors have made themselves known.

Dear Gladiator:

What is the matter with the organizations on this campus? You'd think this was a four year's picnic and not a preparation for citizenship. One of the biggest questions we'll have to face soon is another World War. And who's doing anything to prevent it? I came here two years ago with hopes of working in an active Peace Society such as other colleges have. Even little places you never heard of have more back bone than Colby. Heaven knows enough societies are cluttering up the place; what with International and Cosmopolitan, and Boardman clubs. No wonder they give a Sarah Hedman prize to the people who get into the sort of organizations there are around here. They might be the United Society of Course-Crabbbers for all the good they do! There was a girl who spoke here this year, Betty Muther, who had more pep than all these pow-wows put together. Here's hoping for some peace action with a bite to it!

"Pacandi Causa."

Dear Gladiator:

It is an oft expressed wish that editors of college papers confine themselves to local problems or in lieu of this to constructive criticism of national problems if they need must go afield. It is so easy to sit down and type out an editorial that is derogatory in nature particularly on the much discussed capitalistic system.

The single editorial in the Colby ECHO of February 13, 1935, went on at great length to bemoan the present state of the Capitalistic System, it stated that "the competitive system is doomed, out of date and unworkable." It went on to say that perhaps a form of socialism should be adopted and the competitive system be "tossed overboard."

The above is the total amount constructive criticism presented.

"To cite but one illustration of the vicious circle of the competitive system there is the automotive industry. * * * A job that paid four dollars labor costs in '29 pays fifteen, yes fifteen cents, now. And this is true not only in the automotive industry but practically ALL OTHERS AS WELL." Holy shades of Gen. Johnson—page Mr. Richberg.

I am wondering just how to reconcile the nightmarish picture presented by the editor of the Colby ECHO and the one presented by the editor of the New York Times. The New York Times is admittedly a conservative newspaper and this particular editorial bases its report on the figures given by the Federal Reserve Board. This editorial in the New York Times points out that employment in the automotive industry last September was at 80.9% of the 1923-25 level and production in the industry at 56%. These same indices in September, 1929, showed employment at 113.1 and production at 136. On the basis of these indices a decline of nearly 60% in production at the end of the five year period was accompanied by a decline of only 20% in employment. This result is in a large part accounted for by part time employment. But the decline in pay-rolls at the end of the period, of 55%, was still less than the decline in production.

Thus we have two conflicting arguments presented, one by the Editor of the New York Times and the other by the Editor of the Colby ECHO.

It is by this comparison that I arrived at the conclusion stated in my first paragraph, namely, that editors of college papers confine themselves to local problems or in lieu of this to constructive criticism of national questions if they needs must go afield.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS

Last week-end two deputation teams went forth from Colby to neighboring churches. Hayden Wright and Kenneth Johnson spoke at the morning service of the Second Baptist Church in Waterville, while Catherine Laughton and Lucile Jones were the evening speakers at the same church. The other deputation team, consisting of Laura May Tolman, Alice Manley, and Irene Rockwood, journeyed to the church of Reverend Catir, a Colby student, in Madison. On Saturday evening a social was conducted, while the team also took charge of the young people's meeting and the regular evening service on Sunday. At the latter service Miss Manley and Miss Rockwood spoke in Indian costume.

Y. W. Discusses Plans At Second Retreat

The second Y. W. C. A. retreat of the year was held in the Alumnae Building, Tuesday evening, Feb. 12. At this meeting reports were made on the success of the Americanization Project which is under the direction of the Social Service Committee. Lucille Pinette has secured the names of many foreign-speaking women desiring to gain knowledge of English, and several of the college women are already teaching these people through the method described by Miss Buck-

The Syrian School is to continue under the direction of Reba Jose.

Another social service project headed by Helen Jevons, is devised for entertaining the elderly ladies at Sunset Home.

Anne Trimble, chairman of the committee on Religious Drama, announced that plans were already under way for "The Great Choice," a war drama.

The Vesper Services are to be held monthly in the town churches under the supervision of Agnes Carlyle, chairman of this committee.

The program committee which has already brought such interesting people as Betty Muther and Miss Bucklin to Colby, is planning an even more extensive program. The Tuesday night discussion groups are still to be a part of the Y program, while plans for the annual Y banquet and the awarding of the Runnals Cup are being considered.

The Little Maqua Conference to be held at Colby Junior College and the Colby delegates to this convention were mentioned.

CENTER LEAVES GIVE YOU THE MILDEST SMOKE

I give you the mildest smoke, the best-tasting smoke. You wonder what makes me different. I'll tell you. It's center leaves. I spurn the little, sticky, top leaves... so bitter to the taste. I scorn the coarse bottom leaves, so harsh and unappetizing. I am careful of your friendship, for I am made only of the mild, fragrant, expensive center leaves.

PIPING IN THE SNOW

Who is the co-ord in the upper right window of Foss Hall who casts wistful glances at the Phi Delta house? . . . Almost everyone has some pet aversion, and Don Larkin seems to have stumbled over the aversion supreme while waiting for his date to make up . . . and you should have got a look-see at Dot Cunningham in her orange ski suit with Moe on Mayflower Hill . . . Sorry Moe, but he who plays in the open will be seen . . . Cooked up on the spur of an inspired moment, the phidelts staged an Ed Wynn party last week . . . Stoney as the fire chief, of course . . . Twenty-eight dates in a row is quite a record, Brownie, but we know a guy who has you blushing . . . he can count his by the months! . . . Helen Wade being plenty rushed by the A. T. Monk Russell spent Friday eve at Providence . . . among other things the Brown cheering section rooted for the Mule puck wallopers . . . that's good sportsmanship as could be well afforded in Maine college circles . . . Rita Carey's heart certainly is Ed Smith's . . . he's living in her very homestead . . . then there's Dot Trainor and her stale candy dates . . . 'Member the picture of Betty and Mary Herd that appeared in a Portland Sunday paper? . . . Nadeau cut it out with the utmost of care and used it to adorn his room . . . and as a subtle remark said he preferred brunettes, but we know different . . . Harry Hollis' new library collection certainly has the boys excited . . . John Merrick's choice of Boston's theatres isn't all we would hope for . . . Brownstein and Moe Cohen, roommates, have suddenly become Browning fanatics . . . If anyone has "accidentally" run off with that Oracle reading on the inside of the cover, "To Llewelyn from Walt," it belongs to Gus in the chem lab . . . 'Ja-never notice how the fairer sex wear their corsages on the mornings after the formals . . . Bob Moore and his townie don't miss many of the K. P. dances in town . . . His fair one won the free ducat for admission for tomorrow nite . . . We all ought to have sore fundaments from kicking ourselves and for a reason that should make us blush . . . with an Alma Mater as singable as Colby's and no one knows it to speak of . . .

Likewise Hazel Wefer with a new escort in the person of Frosh MacGregor . . . and we know why she didn't take old faithful, Bill . . . Al Val again playing in a commendable manner . . . incidentally that all-collegiate medley of his goes over big and does a job at setting the dancers in circles . . . and again the cynosure of all eyes was petite Mary Herd with Winslow's John MacDonald . . . Ralph Peabody and Old Orchard's Betty McLeod . . . should I add all the Sunday morning remarks at Scrib's, Betty? . . . Ruth Mailey an example of grace and poise . . . Emma Small and the other member of the perfect couple, Bob Blake . . . Priscilla Cram wearing a lovely rose corsage with Jimmy Glover on the arm . . . Jim gets more kick out of dancing than a dozen Ted Shawns . . . Jeanette Benn and Harry Hollis . . . it's far from the first time . . .

Kay Watson and her "most" steady town boy friend . . . woe to the dark, secretive lover, Kay, what a licking he's taking . . . so with the swiftness of a gazelle next week will be here with another colyum by . . .
