Men's Glee Club To Compete in Contest For N. E. Colleges

Contest at Portland

Portland Alumni To Banquet Colby Songsters

On Friday evening, March 1, the Colby College Glee Club will compete in the New England Glee Club Contest to be held in the City Hall at Portland. In this contest at least twelve colleges, representing various parts of New England, will be entered. Colby college, entering a club of nineteen men under the direction of Harold Brown, will probably in number have the smallest representation. The other colleges, of which Amherst, M. I. T. and Wesleyan appear the most formidable, are planning to enter teams of maximum personnel, thirty members.

Each glee club is to sing two special numbers of different character and mood, as well as be prepared to render the following: "Star Spangled Banner," "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," "March of the Peers," and "Down Among the Dead Men." The Colby Glee Club for its special numbers has chosen "Ave Maria," by Tschalkowsky and "Ezekiel Saw De Wheel" by Burleigh. Winners of the first three places in this New England contest are eligible to compete in the Semi-National Contest to be held in Pittsburgh, March 12.

Before the contest at Portland the Colby Glee Club will be tendered a banquet by the Colby Alumni Association of Portland. Following the evening performances a dance will be given at the Falmouth Hotel for all the glee clubs. The contest is sponsored by Bowdoin College, and three judges having no affiliation with any of the competing colleges will decide upon the three winners.

For the past three weeks the Colby Glee Club has been practicing diligently under the direction of John Thomas, whose reputation for developing glee clubs of harmony and pianissimo tones is well established throughout the state. The Colby Club, although smaller in size than the others, is hopeful of producing the quality necessary to place among the first three. It is through the generosity of the college that the glee club is able to enter this New England Glee Club contest.

Bolshevism Topic of Study Group Friday

Professor William J. Wilkinson, whose presentation of Nationalism was warmly debated two weeks ago at the first meeting of the Boardman study group, will present the topic of Bolshevism at the second meeting, on Friday, March 1, at 6.45 in the "Y" room of the Alumnae Building. Students may be prepared to participate in this discussion by reading and discussing under competent Basil Mathews' The Clash of World Forces.

As has been previously stated, this study group proposes, through reading and discussion under competent leadership a brief but informative volume, to consider religion in the realistic light of the political and economic issues of the world today.

With the intention of lifting the discussions above the usual "bull-session" level, this group has agreed to read a book as an extra-curricula activity.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

Next Friday evening at 7.45, in the social room of the Alumnae Building Alfred Beerbaum, '38, will address the International Relations Club. The subject of his talk will be "In Defense of Germany." Beerbaum lived in Germany for sixteen years.

Delegates To Attend Model League Assembly

The Model League of Nations Assembly, which will be composed of delegates from practically all the colleges of New England, will meet this year at Mount Holyoke, on March 8 and 9. Plans are already well under way, under the direction of the following officers: President, John Bliss, of Williams; Vice president, Lucy Prescott, of Radcliffe; Secretary-general, Robert Keith, of Amherst; treasurer, Fredela Keyes, of Smith; local arrangements directors, Alice Fitzgerald, of Mount Holyoke, and Donald LeBarre, of Amherst; and publicity director, Billie Billings of Mount Holyoke.

The list of questions to be discussed is as follows: Regional Pacts, Sanctions, Control of Propaganda, Non-Tariff Trade Barriers, Control of Munitions, and Control of Terrorist Activities. The problem of Sanctions and of Regional Pacts is receiving wide-spread attention at the present time. The situation in the Chaco and in the Far East has illustrated the need of developing some means of international pressure to operate for peaceful arbitration. The question of Propaganda has greater implications than are at first apparent. Propaganda has played a conspicuous role in the history of the world. It admittedly was one of the greatest factors which operated to delay the recognition of Russia by the United States. More recently, the dispute over the radio station which was erected on the border-line between Germany and Austria, and which continued to broadcast propaganda in favor of the Nazi regime, has attracted international attention. One committee of the Assembly will discuss

by Bob William

No sooner had the news that Producer Pullen had written a new play escaped when he was besieged by all sorts of talent for parts. With his cold analytical and practiced eye, producer Pullen separated the wheat from the chaff and began to formulate a record breaking cast. Mr. Pullen said he was gratified at the enthusiastic turnout and felt somewhat like Mr. Roosevelt when the gold clause decision reached him.

The aspirants for parts in this clever comedy ranged all the way from little boys in short pants to big girls in long tresses. Swashbuckling youths green from the country and gangling damsels trailing dreams of glory danced attendance on Mr. Pullen at his offices. It was no task at all for a man of Pullen's experience to draw the histrionic gold from the crude raw recruits. In one short session he all but filled the cast. One character, however, has him baffled and he is casting about at his wit's

FACULTY-FIRESIDE GROUP

Dean Runnals will talk to the next Student-Faculty Fireside meeting to be held at President Johnson's home Tuesday, March 5, at 7.30. Her topic will be "Mathematics and Religion."

Lauga-Laus Trio In Second Concert Thursday, March 7

All Excellent Musicians

Trio Consists of Violin, Bassoon and Piano

The second concert of the Colby Concert Series of 1935 will take place in the Alumnae Building on Thursday evening, March 7th. The Lauga-Laus Trio, consisting of violin, bassoon and piano, will play a diversified program which should appeal to every music lover. The unusual combination of these three instruments, each one played by an eminent musician, makes this concert a musical treat to look forward to.

Norbert Lauga is one of the most prominent members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, occupying the second stand of first violins, a position second only to concert master. Born in France, he entered the Paris Conservatory at the age of ten, where he won first prize in solfeggio and two first prizes in violin. He is that rarest of combinations—a good orchestral musician and a talented soloist. From 1920 until 1928 he appeared in concerts in Paris and throughout Europe. In the season of 1928 he received another honor from the Paris Conservatory, and the same year he joined the Boston Symphony Orchestra. During the past seven years he has been soloist with many orchestral organizations, has appeared in numerous solo recitals, and critics acclaim him a most valuable contribution to the chamber music of this country.

By popular demand two well-known members of the faculty are wanted to stage a debate on the New Deal before the Public Discussion Group. Who are they? Obviously none other than analytical, fact amasser "Skeets" Eustis and the smooth expounder of information "Brecky" Breckenridge. Such a verbal tilt between these two economics professors who hold right and left opinions of the New Deal would undoubtedly pack the chapel. The ECHO understands that these men have been approached by Dr. Herbert C. Libby in regard to just such a debate. The students who have heard of the proposed debate have expressed such keen interest that the ECHO thought it a duty to point out this sincere demand to the gentlemen concerned. Thus below are listed a few representative members of the college who earnestly desire that Professors Eustis and Breckenridge appear in chapel some Monday night in the future.

Kipke of Michigan To Close Lecture Series

The final lecture in the Colby Lecture Course will be given by Harry George Kipke, head football coach of the University of Michigan, on Friday evening, March 8. Subject of the address is "Backstage During a Football Game," with moving pictures.

A brief biographical sketch of Mr. Kipke follows:

Harry G. Kipke was born March 26, 1900, at Lansing, Michigan. He graduated from Lansing high school in 1920. While a student at Lansing high school, Coach Kipke participated in football, baseball, basketball and track, winning four letters in football, four in baseball, four in basketball, and one letter in track.

He was graduated by the University of Michigan with the Bachelor of Arts degree in June, 1924. While a student at Michigan he won three M's in football, three in baseball and three in basketball, one of Michigan's few outstanding nine-letter men.

He was chosen All-American halfback by the late Walter Camp in 1922 and has been named by many critics as an all-time All-American halfback.

After his graduation from Michigan, Kipke became assistant coach of football and head coach of baseball at the University of Missouri. In the fall of 1925, he returned to Michigan as assistant coach, aiding in the development of Michigan's football, basketball and baseball teams in 1925, 1926 and 1927. In the fall of 1928, he was selected as head coach of football at Michigan State College and one year later, in 1929, he returned to Michigan as head coach of football, his present position.

During the 1929 season he won five games, lost three, tied one. In 1930, 1931, 1932, and 1933 seasons Michigan was champion of the Big Ten Conference. During the seasons of 1932 and 1933 they were recognized as the National Champions through the Dickinson Rating System.

Profs. Libby and Morrow Get Rubbers at Auction

Last Wednesday evening, the Faculty of Colby college held their annual Ladies' Night at the Congregational church. Following the dinner, the guests assembled in the nursery to play some games under the direction of Professor Thory. It seems that there was scheduled for the evening's entertainment a White Elephant Auction. Dr. Ashcraft, the mathematics mentor, was unanimously chosen to be Auctioneer, which role he played to perfection. Professor Weeks was elected clerk. Possibly the Colby students might receive keen delight from perusing Professor Weeks' records; that is if he has not already destroyed the damaging testimony. If the clerk's records were accurately kept, one could find proof of some keenly fought contests. A pair of rubbers was the but of one of them. Professors Libby and Morrow were bidding and each was determined to win the rubbers, cost

Magoun To Address Seniors on Methods of Job Application

Personnel Bureau Sponsor

Three Meetings Scheduled for Friday and Saturday

Professor F. Alexander Magoun, Professor of Humanities at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will appear before the senior class in a series of programs arranged for Friday and Saturday, March 1-2. Professor Magoun is brought here through the sponsorship of the Colby Personnel Bureau. The object of the series is to give our graduating students, shortly to apply for positions, a keener insight into what should be expected of them in the written and personal application for a position.

The program is to be divided into three major parts. Friday afternoon at 3.20 Champlin Hall Professor Magoun will discuss the various aspects of the writing of a letter of application, the procedure, stationary and ink, to whom it should be addressed, and the content.

In the evening at 7.30 the seniors will meet again at the same place at which time a group of selected seniors will be interviewed by a business executive of one of our larger power companies and a school superintendent. Professor Magoun will discuss the procedure employed by the interviewers and interviewees at the conclusion of this meeting. The purpose is to acquaint the audience with what actually takes place in an interview.

Saturday morning at 10.00 A. M. in 14 Chemical Hall the concluding meeting will be held at which time a team of freshmen will interview two seniors for a position. At the conclusion of this interview between the students Professor Magoun will summarize the three meetings and will give what might be termed a "post mortem" talk.

19 Orators To Compete in Goodwin Semi-Finals

Fifty members of the men's division took part in the preliminary speaking for the Goodwin Prizes on Tuesday afternoon, February 19. In addition to the spoken excerpt which was given by each speaker, fifty addresses of not less than 1200 words were offered in competition. All the addresses dealt with a phase of the general subject "A Man's Value to Society."

Judged on the basis of delivery and written address, the following 19 students have been selected to take part in the semi-finals which will be held on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 5. Ten students will be selected to take part in the final speaking which will be held on Monday evening, April 8:

Joel Allen, '36, Waterville; Harold F. Brown, '35, Waterville; Arthur O. Brown, '36, Wakefield, Mass.; William M. Clark, '36, Schenectady, N. Y.; Philip E. Coleman, '38, Brewer; John P. Dolan, '36, Portland; Willard H. Dunn, '36, Gardiner; Edward J. Gurney, '35, Waterville; Floyd M. Haskell, '36, Houlton; John R. Haskell, '37, Houlton; Harold W. Hickey, '36, Turner; Melvin G. Higgins, '35, Mapleton; Robert D. Hussey, '37, Waterville; Dana W. Jaquith, '35, Peaks Island; Martin M. O'Donnell, '35, Norwood, Mass.; Joseph L. Packard, '37, Houlton; John J. Pullen, '35, Amity; Carl E. Reed, '35, Amity; Asa H. Roach, '36, Smyrna Mills.

Blue and Gray Track Team To Meet Bowdoin's Array of Stars Wednesday

Records Likely To Fall

Bill Soule, Phil Good, and
Howie Niblock Men
To Watch

Field House and even state track records are destined to be broken left and right next Wednesday afternoon when Bowdoin's great track squad comes to Waterville to meet the Mule cindersmen in the first varsity dual meet ever held in the field house. Bowdoin is very strong as shown by the fact that they only lost the Class A Championships in the University Club Games by five points, finishing second to Harvard. In this meet Harvard's margin of victory was decided by Emil Dubiel, great pole vaulter, who wanted to go to Bowdoin, but was unable to fill the entrance requirements.

In Bill Soule Bowdoin has one of the finest dash men in the East. Bill will be favored to take the 40 and will probably equal the record of 4.3-5 in this event. Stan Washuk, Cecil Daggett, and Rolly Nadeau will be Colby's leading entrants in this event.

Phil Good and Billy Owen will probably take the measure of the sensational Nadeau in the 45 yard high hurdles. Both of the Bowdoin boys have been doing six seconds all season and Phil recently equalled the World's Record of 5.4-5 in the high timbers. Nadeau, however, may come through and edge Owen for second honors.

Stan Washuk and Nadeau will face a fast field in the 300, but it is probable that they will place. Good will probably compete in this event and if he does a new record will probably be in order as he has done 32.4-5. Gardiner Maxy will be another leading Polar Bear entrant in this race.

Dick Grey and Yale Marvin will face Paul Merrick and Bill Pritham in the 600. The two Colby entrants did very well in the Bates meet and have been improving steadily ever since. Marvin and Grey should hit the tape in around 1.17.

In the 1000 "Ditto" Bond, former Deering high ace, will be the leading Bowdoin competitor although it is probable that Dick Grey will also compete in this event. Bond has done 2.25 and should give Cliff a good race.

Cliff Veysey will have to step it all the way to take Bob Porter of the Mageemen in the mile. Bob did 4.28 in the University Club Games and is just beginning to find himself. If Cliff is pressed it is possible that a 4.25 mile will result.

Elmer Hutchinson faces his old cross country rivals, Veysey and Herby DeVeber in the two mile. This should prove to be one of the most exciting races of the day and a new record is in sight.

Bob Marshall and Brackett may be able to finish first and second in the high jump for Colby if they keep up their present rate of jumping. Howie Niblock, giant shot put artist, is the leading competitor in this event and it is probable that the narrow Colby pit will not be much to his liking.

Bill Soule and Stan Washuk will fight it out for first honors in the broad jump with Bob Neumer also figured to place for Colby. The pole vault should develop into a battle between Carl Reed and Marshall of Colby and Billy Crowell and Dave Rideout of Bowdoin.

Colby's chances in the weight events rest on the shoulders of Kerm LaFleur and Johnny Merrick. LaFleur will toss the discus and put the shot; while Merrick will heave the weight. LaFleur should place in his events; Merrick has it in him to win the 35 pound weight and with the rest of the week to practice in he may show great improvement. Niblock and Snow have been shoving the shot out for Bowdoin all winter; while Gil Harrison is the leading 35 pound weight man. Niblock has done 50 feet with the shot; Snow 44; and Harrison has done 48 with the weight.

Herbert Wadsworth Fetes Puck Team

Colby's most successful hockey season was brought to a close Monday evening when the state-champion Mule pucksters were feted at the Augusta House by Herbert Elijah Wadsworth, '92, prominent Colby alumnus.

Mr. Wadsworth presided as toast-master and introduced as guest speakers Coach Ellsworth "Bill" Millett, Edward Roundy, popular Colby coach, Athletic Director Gilbert F. Loeb, Captain "Hocker" Ross, Manager "Don" Weiss, Hawley Russell, and Robert Sparkes. Mr. Wadsworth and Coach Millett were presented gifts by Captain Ross in behalf of the squad.

Bobcats Trounce Mules in Track

Colby's track team spent Washington's Birthday at Lewiston in a track meet with Bates. Although the Mules were beaten by a 71 1/2 to 45 1/2 score, several Colby men turned in good performances. Cliff Veysey was second high scorer of the meet by virtue of first places in the mile, two mile, 1000 yard runs. Nadeau, sporting varsity colors for the first time, placed second in the 40 yard dash and the 45 yard high hurdles.

It was rather a record afternoon as two Bates indoor records were equaled and one was smashed. Kishon of Bates set a new 35 pound weight record with a throw of 53.2 feet. Keller and Purinton of Bates equaled records in the 40 yard dash and 45 yard high hurdles respectively.

In the one and two mile runs H. Veysey and Herb DeVeber placed second respectively. Marshall did a fine piece of work in the high jump and pole vault, tying for first in the former event and placing second in the latter.

Washuk, Merrick, Pritham, Reed, Brackett, and LaFleur also added points to the final Colby score.

Since he started playing football in high school, Red Grange, Illinois' famous "77," has scored more than 1,400 points on the gridiron. This is believed to be the world's record.

THE MULE KICKS

By Jerry Ryan

The 1935 hockey season, without a doubt the most successful ice season in Colby history, was brought to a close officially at the Augusta House, Monday evening, with a banquet given to the squad by Hon. Herbert E. Wadsworth, former Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Mr. Wadsworth has long been a staunch Colby sport follower and I believe that he is Colby's most loyal alumnus as far as interest in athletics is concerned. His generosity in making this banquet possible is certainly appreciated by the squad and college officials.

— C —

Mr. Wadsworth spoke first and gave an interesting account of the bull-fighting which he witnessed on a recent trip to Mexico. Coach Millett obliged with a brief address in which he praised the spirit of the entire squad and particularly paid tribute to Captain "Hocker" Ross, Al Paganucci, Rum Lemieux, "Monk" Russell, and Ned Sparkes. He stated that "Hocker" will go down in Colby athletic annals as one of the greatest captains of all time. Captain Ross spoke on behalf of the squad and predicted another State Championship next year and concluded by saying that he has never worked under a better leader than Bill. Professor Loeb, Coach Roundy, Ned Sparkes, Don Weiss, Monk Russell and Doctor Hardy were the other speakers.

— C —

Cliff Veysey turned in a Bill Bonthron stunt in winning three races in the Bates dual meet. Cliff won the 1000, mile, and two mile in fast times. If the great Colby junior keeps up his present rate, he should be able to make the grade on the 1936 Olympic Team. The Bowdoin distance runners will furnish Cliff plenty of opposition next Wednesday afternoon in the field house. Bob Porter has turned in a 4.28 mile and will probably press Cliff to the limit.

— C —

Track fans will have the opportunity to watch the greatest group of cinder performers ever to show here next Wednesday afternoon in the Field House when Coach Johnny Magee brings his strong Bowdoin cluster to Waterville. Phil Good, co-holder of the World's record in the 45 yard high hurdles will bear watching in the timber-topping events. Howie Niblock of the Polar Bears is one of the outstanding shot putters in the country. Bill Soule is one of the best sprinters in the East. Vale Marvin should turn in a fast 600.

— C —

College Notes: The hockey situation down at Bates does not look so hot according to reports. The ice sport does not pay and there is much agitation to supplant hockey by basketball as a varsity sport. Golf is also going to be dropped by the Lewiston institution.

Zetes Favorites in Greek Meet

The annual indoor inter-fraternity track championships will be held in the field house Saturday afternoon, with the weight events getting underway at 1 o'clock sharp and the track events starting at 2.30. This meet should prove to be by far the outstanding meet of the current season to date and some of the college records will probably go by the boards. Entries have to be in by 5.00 o'clock Thursday evening so that Coach Perkins will have time to arrange the heats for the short races. Keen competition is looked for in each event.

The events to be contested are: 40 yard dash, 45 yard high hurdles, 45 yard low hurdles, 300 yard run, 600 yard run, 1000 yard run, mile run, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, discus, 16 pound shot, 35 pound weight, and relay race. Two novice events will also be contested, 40 yard dash and 440 yard run. The two novice events will be open to all those competitors who have not scored a point in intercollegiate competition and have not won a first place in a freshman track meet.

The fraternity scoring the most points will receive a beautiful loving cup, but the results of this meet will not go toward the all-year point trophy.

Zeta Psi appears to have the best balanced cinder aggregation with such performers as Cliff and Hollis Veysey, Stan Washuk, Ed Goodrich, Paul Merrick, Hal Davis, John Merrick, Steve Young, and Bill Jakeman as representatives.

Lambda Chi Alpha looms up as a prospective champion with such performers as Herby DeVeber, Hal Hickey, Reg Humphrey, Pete Allen, Bill Pritham, Rolly Nadeau, Kerm LaFleur, Carl Hodges, Frank Baker and George Toothaker.

Other outstanding performers of the meet will be Bob Marshall of Kappa Delta Rho, Johnny Dolan, Delta Kappa Epsilon, George Vose, Kappa Delta Rho, Twiddle Rogerson, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Tom VanSlyke, Alpha Tau Omega, Norm Brackett, Delta Upsilon, Carl Reed, Delta Upsilon, and Sol Fuller, Non-Frat.

It is expected that Rolly Nadeau will go after the records in the 45 yard low and high hurdle events. Cliff Veysey will probably set up new marks in the 1000 and mile. Bob Marshall hopes to create new standards in the high jump and pole vault.

Title Prospects Good in Baseball

As the baseball season draws near, in the Field House cage there is to be heard the thud of balls being batted out and of balls being caught on the bounce as the 1935 edition of Colby's twice successive State Champion Baseball team begins its more strenuous indoor workouts, with all signs pointing to a third scalp by the end of the season to hang in their belt. Led by Scrubby Sawyer, for three years the guardian of the hot corner, Colby is able to put on the field a complete veteran team since Jim Peabody was the only regular to graduate, although this year's ineligible list has Pete Evers and Nim Dow unable to perform, no mean loss to the team.

The uniforms were issued Monday, while the B squad has been working out for about two weeks, and the A squad only since the early part of this week. While it is too early to tell definitely, the three scrub pitching candidates most promising so far include Bob Hunter, Berrie and Lefty Cole, who was forced to leave school last year, but seems not to have forgotten any of his curves. Brownie, regular receiver for two years will have to step a bit with MacGregor on his heels, trying out for Brownie's berth. Tuesday was the first official session with the war bludgeons and there was nothing of moment to report, except a few long ones hit out to the neophytes in the cage.

All the prospects are of a club on the winning trail, all season, with another State Championship at the end of the wars. The line-up should be something like this, judging from last season's stellar aggregation. Rum Lemieux, at short, Goofy Geer at the keystone sack, Junie Sheehan guarding first base, and Captain Sawyer at the hot corner, looks like a pretty tight infield. The other berths are open for all comers with the exception of Brownie behind the bat. There are several good hurlers including Farnham, while the outfielders include Ray Farnham, Ayotte, Ralph Peabody. The greatest need of the Roundymen is a pitcher to take the place of Jim Peabody, whose remarkable hurling record last year, with that fifteen strikeout game included, will not be shortly forgotten around Seaverns Field.

The critic of the Boston Globe wrote after a recent appearance, "Mr. Lauga's playing was distinguished by his remarkably fine musicianship. Too few violinists have his sensitive feeling for the line of a melody, for phrasing for the subtleties of dynamics. He produced a tone of exquisite quality, with variety of color and intensity. A musician of very high rank, he is also a violinist with a notable if not a phenomenal technique. Only a mere handful of concert violinists out of the innumerable aspirants who throng to our concert halls can afford a listener, primarily interested in music, a pleasure comparable to that to be derived from Mr. Lauga's playing."

Abdon Laus, although his instrument is comparatively unknown, has been named one of the ten "stars" of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Mr. Laus started his career at the age of eleven, as saxophone soloist with a French Band in Paris. He graduated with honors from the Paris Conservatory in 1910, choosing the bassoon as his major instrument. After playing under Weingartner, Monteaux, and many other famous European conductors, he came to America in 1918 with the French Military Band. His unusual musicianship was at once recognized and he was signed with the Boston Symphony, where he has occupied the chair of first bassoon since.

He is one of the country's premier exponents of the finer qualities of the bassoon, and is largely responsible for the induction and acceptance of the bassoon as a solo instrument. In 1925 Mr. Laus was awarded the "Palme Academique" by the French Government as "Chevalier d'Academie" for his teaching and his musical interpretation.

Marion Tirrell-Wyman, pianist and accompanist of the trio, is an artist of fine accomplishments. She plays the piano for many of the outstanding chamber organizations composed of members of the Boston Symphony, founded and directs the Melrose Institute of Fine Arts, and is a member of the faculty of the Symphony Studios.

A program by these three eminent musicians is a musical treat, not only for the fine technique and quality of the music, but because of the unusual combination of instruments.

MORE ABOUT

end for a Colby student capable of handling the part of one, Rita Bronson. Rita is described as "a society girl bent on the capture of a desirable male to relieve the fainance of an otherwise aimless existence. She is impetuous and has a violent temper. She is very beautiful—and knows it. She holds a strong dominion over the scion of a well-to-do Boston family, chiefly by virtue of a powerful sex-appeal." If you have such a person among your acquaintances Mr. Pullen begs that you refer them to him.

For those whose curiosity is killing them a sniff of the comedy's intoxicating essence is to be had in the foregoing paragraph.

The play opens with Bill Cortland, scion of a wealthy family, comfortably established in the gutter. From the gutter he is suddenly hoisted by his expulsion from college, the wrath of his parents, the arrival of his tempestuous girl friend, and the necessity of proving his worth in order to meet the terms of a legacy. Almost before he knows it, he finds himself whisked to Aroostook county, Maine, far, far from cocktail parties and the bright lights, and scheduled for a summer of potato growing on a farm controlled by his father. He is accompanied by his hard-boiled roommate and an agricultural student, who majored in "soy beans" at the university. In Aroostook a girl next door, a pig, an old gentleman with a jug of applejack, and the release of the inhibitions of Panner, the agricultural student, all combine to raise havoc with Bill's potato growing. Fights, complexes, and catastrophes develop . . . the cruel hand of Fate seems on the point of slapping young William back into the gutter . . . and each morning the sun (so Bill thinks!) comes promptly up at seven to witness strange and hilarious doings.

PROFS. LIBBY AND MORROW

what it may. We know not whether their determination was actuated by pride or necessity, but whatever it was, Auctioneer Ashcraft was forced to stop the bidding at sixty-five cents as he feared that the unnatural conditions would result in some terrible catastrophe. Each was given one rubber as a reward for their tenacity.

Both Mrs. Johnson and Professor Ashcraft (what's this, the auctioneer entering the bidding?) have a candlestick on their mantelpiece now. Not only has Mrs. Johnson a candlestick, but also a jar of marmalade which she is sharing with Professor Strong.

A true benevolent nature was manifested by three of the fair sex at the auction. Fran Perkins, Lillian Evans, and Mary Thayer pooled their resources and bought a bonnet which they presented to Professor Warren to protect his head in these cold, windy days to come.

Space forbids the relating of any more items of interest. It would not be a surprise if this auction became a weekly affair with the Faculty, so great was their enjoyment at their latest party.

Phi Mu To Hold

Dance Saturday

On Saturday night Phi Mu will give you an opportunity to turn back the wheels of time to that period more than fourscore and seven years ago that witnessed the birth of a nation. Then, at Elks Hall you may sway to the rhythm of Al Val's Colonials in an atmosphere reminiscent of swishing polkas and the dainty minuet.

Senior Dance To Be Supper Affair

The annual Senior Women's Dance in the form of a supper dance will take place in the Alumnae Building on March 9 to the rhythmic strains of Al Val and his music makers. Chaperoning the affair will be Mr. Norman D. Palmer and Miss Edna G. Worzell and Professor and Mrs. Arthur G. Eustis.

Last year 30,757 students borrowed $3,418,000 from loan funds maintained in 531 colleges and universities.

Placement Bureau Program . . .

THE program which the Personnel Bureau is planning for the Seniors under the direction of Professor Magoun of M. I. T. should prove of no little value to a vast majority of the class of '35 who will be seeking employment very shortly. It will be remembered that Professor Magoun appeared at college some weeks ago on the Lecture Series. He made a more than favorable impression to those who heard him. Especially to a small group who stayed to meet him personally after the lecture. To this small group he went into some detail answering questions on how to apply for positions, what characteristics are needed for different types of vocations, how to choose an occupation. He impressed his audience as a man who knew what he was talking about.

Professor Magoun is one of the countries foremost authorities on this subject of personnel work which is becoming of such increasing importance. He conducts classes regularly at M. I. T. on this subject of seeking employment. Tech has always been a leader in the personnel field in the colleges maintaining what is perhaps the most efficient placement bureau in the country.

Colby, realizing the need for a placement service, established the Placement Bureau this past year. The bringing of Professor Magoun is a part of its program to help Colby seniors to obtain employment.

Interfaith Conference A Success . . .

THE Interfaith Conference of yesterday constituted a milestone in the activities of the college religious groups. It reached numbers of students who have taken at best but a passing interest in matters of a religious nature and provoked a good bit of really, deep thought on the whole subject of group differences. The number of students who remained after the evening meeting in the chapel and asked questions of these men directly, and the heavy discussion in fraternity houses was evidence of the appreciation displayed by the student body.

The evening meeting was undoubtedly the most successful of all. Before a capacity audience in the college chapel the three speakers really put "their subject across." The unique conversational style of speaking and the frequent bits of humor, especially from the Irish wit of Father Ahern, drew a fine response from the audience.

A great deal of credit is due to Professor Newman and his student committee for this outstanding activity of this college year.

About These A's and F's . . .

WHEREVER Colby students are gathered, whether it is in the library or at the Foss Hall dining table or in the class room, one topic of conversation is supreme. It absorbs the attention of students and professors alike. It journeys far and wide to students' homes, from southern California to the northern part of Maine. That topic is marks. Ever since the steady flow of student-traffic to the Registrar's office in Chemical, marks has been the topic of the day. Some students are so pleased that they saturate their conversations with boastful accounts of their successes. Others are in the "wish-they-had-studied more" mood, and they mope about mourning the passing of the first semester. Still others are a bit peeved, pretending to be angry at their professors and jealous of their colleagues who have fared better than they. Whatever kind of student we may be, let us all give ourselves a treatment of common sense in regard to this vital matter of marks. Let us take one dose of self-criticism, analyzing our weaknesses and admitting them. Let us take one dose of concentration upon the present semester, with no regrets in regard to the past. Finally, let us take one dose of the philosophy which maintains that college life is a matter of well-rounded activity, and not of so many A's and B's.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS

On Sunday, February 24, the Fellowship Deputation Team, composed of Maurice Krinsky, John Dolan, Sol Fuller, and Walter Rideout, traveled to Hartland where they took part in three services. In the morning they spoke at the Hartland Methodist church; in the afternoon they were the speakers at the St. Albans Union Church, and in the evening they appeared before the Somerset County Youth Conference on the theme, "Building Better Human Relations."

C

On February 22, George Crosby and Richard Follett entertained at the Men's Brotherhood of the Friends Church at East Vassalboro. Crosby gave slides of his experiences in Labrador with the MacMillan Expedition. Follett played several piano solos.

C

On Sunday, February 24, Alice Manley and Irene Rockwood spoke at the services of the Second Baptist Church in Waterville. They were the third deputation team to speak there in recent weeks.

C

The second meeting of the newly formed Colby Council on Religion will be held on March 5 at 4 o'clock in the history seminar room. The purpose of the Council is to coordinate the work of the four religious associations on the Colby campus. All members should be present at this meeting.

Tau Delts Fete Drs. Wilkinson and Morrow

Professor William J. Wilkinson and Professor Curtis H. Morrow were the guests of Tau Delta Phi fraternity at dinner Sunday evening, February 24.

Following the dinner the two faculty members and the members of the fraternity joined in an informal discussion of current topics.

Professor Walter N. Breckenridge and Professor Alfred K. Chapman will be the dinner guests of the fraternity on Sunday, March 3.

Cast Chosen For C. A.'s Play "The Great Choice"

If our country were to enter into a war with some foreign power next month, what would be your personal reaction? Would you put duty to your country above all Christian ethics and fight? Or would you be a conscientious objector? "The Great Choice" which the Y. W. and Y. M. drama groups will present at the Methodist church, Sunday evening, March 17, strikingly places this problem of war before us. Placed in the hypothetical setting of the next war, the play presents the method in which the younger generation faces the question. With an international conflict looming disturbingly on the turbulent horizon of the world, "The Great Choice" should have distinct incentive as well as formative effect on our thought. Rehearsals are well under way with an experienced cast and this timely bit of well-written drama should be one of the outstanding presentations of the college year.

The cast in order of appearance is: Paula _____ Helen Kelley
Anne Goodman _____ Betty Wilkinson
Isabel Goodman _____ Genevieve Spear
Thomas Kruger _____ Harold Kimball
Miss Lee _____ Adele Bosko
A Lieutenant _____ Fred Demers
Herman Kruger _____ Carl Reed
Rev. Dr. Robert Thompson _____ John Dolan

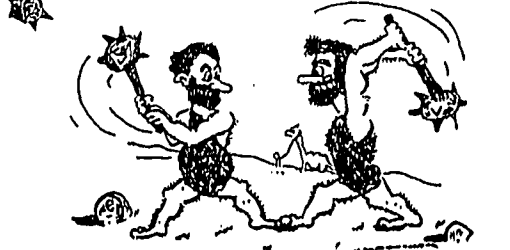

The play is under the joint direction of Ann Trimble and Bob Colomy.

L. C. A. Gives Party To Mr. and Mrs. Worthen

Last Saturday evening the Lambda Chi sponsored a victrola party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Worthen, whose marriage had just been revealed. As soon as the young couple entered, a circle was formed to the tune of "Mr. and Mrs. Is the Name." Then Mr. Worthen proudly introduced his very attractive wife to the couples on the floor. During the course of the evening the prevailing madness was to give electric shocks, since the air was heavily charged. The slightest contact with either another person or the radiator would effect a shock. However, the feature of the evening was at exactly 9:15 when all the fraternity brothers lit their cigars so generously donated by Mr. Worthen.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Hall and Miss Worzel.

Ye Gladiator Column

Letters in the Gladiator Column are expressions of opinion by individual contributors to that column and the editor assumes no responsibility for any statements, allusions, or assertions made in them. The column is a free-for-all and student contributions are solicited.

Dear Gladiator:

Colby college is considered an institution of quality. As a rule, it does its part to live up to that standard. However, there are certain influences on the campus which, it seems to me, are doing their part to lower that standard. One of them is the "White Mule," a collection of crude jokes, and paragraphs which for the most part are better off unread.

The other influence at which I have heard a great many brickbats thrown is the Schemer Column, which needs no identification. It caters only to the baser desires of the student body. It makes statements half-cooked about people who would much rather—at least, I think most of them would—have their private affairs remain private. If the column were merely funny, it would be pardonable, but when it makes unjust and almost unfounded statements which could easily ruin friendships, it is going much too far. I know of a few statements of that nature which it has made. Fortunately, as far as I know, those friendships are still intact, but it is no fault of the Schemer that they are.

I propose that a vote be taken among the students concerning the continuation, abandonment, or modification of the column. If I am not mistaken, the column would be given quite a rub. It would be interesting to see comments on this phase of Campus life in the Gladiator in the near future.

Signed,
A Casual Reader.

Rough and Loose

The wave of acceptance which greeted the original showing of the reversible Harris tweed and Gabardine topcoat is again beating this all-weather apparel definitely back into an important position in every campus wardrobe. After its first appearance at an eastern college football stadium, the reversible topcoat mounted to a position of supreme importance for campus wear. Then its widespread use caused it to be abandoned by those who like to think that they dress a little differently than does the average collegian. This was followed, of course, by a general falling off in its popularity. Now, however, both groups are coming to realize its extreme practicability (even for rainy weather), and it is again THE thing to wear.

DELEGATES TO

the moot problem of the Control of Munitions. In view of the additional appropriations recently granted to the Nye Commission, and the moves on the part of Great Britain and Italy to conduct similar investigations, as well as the world-wide interest in the munitions "racket," the work of this committee looms—as one of the most timely on the League's program. The agenda of the committee of the Control of Terrorist Activities will be centered largely about the terrorist activities in connection with the Hungarian-Yugoslavian dispute following the assassination of King Alexander.

It has been tentatively decided that the Council of the Model League, which will also meet at Mount Holyoke, will discuss the subject of Japan's resignation from the League of Nations, since the two-year period which must elapse between the notice of withdrawal and the actual withdrawal comes to an end on March 27 of this year. A consideration of the Italian-Abyssinian dispute may also be a part of the Council's program.

This year, for the first time, there will also be a model session of the Governing Body of the International Labor Office, in recognition of the fact that the United States is now a member. The topic for discussion is the Forty-Hour Week plan, which is of special interest in view of the wide-spread debate in this country at the present time over hours of labor. This meeting which will be presided over by Victor Kramer, of Harvard, will be broadcast over a nation-wide hook-up.

For some years the Colby International Relations Club has been represented at the Model League sessions, and it is hoped that the Club will be able to send several delegates this year. Each college will represent some member-state of the League of Nations; Colby has been chosen to represent Spain, which is a member of both the Assembly and the Council. Any students of either division of the college who would be interested in attending the coming sessions of the Model League, or who wish further information regarding the topics to be discussed, are asked to consult Dr. Wilkinson, Mr. Palmer, or Don Richardson.
