Robert Jackson '22 Wins Mayoralty in Election

Goddard, Morrill Among Colbyites Who Win Offices

Sons of Colby had their share of glory in the recent city elections when no less than six graduates were elected to offices of mayor, alderman, and councilman.

Robert Jackson of the class of '22 won the mayoralty as the Republican standard bearer in a smashing victory for the G. O. P. Alumnus Jackson deserves a great deal of credit for the huge plurality of 1148 which he amassed in spite of these lean days for the Republicans. Mr. Jackson by virtue of his election, is the first Republican in eight years to hold the office of chief executive of the city. Professor Herbert Libby was the last Republican mayor.

Walter Heath, '17, and Prince Drummond, '15, captured alderman seats in wards three and four.

Three Colby men were elected to seats on the city council. "Skipper" Morrill "stood on his past record" which must have been unquestionable as the amiable politician has no trouble in retaining his office. A newcomer this year in politics is none other than G. Cecil Goddard, smiling Alumni Secretary who had no trouble in winning a councilman's seat. Goddard was active in support of the mayor's campaign as well.

George F. Terry of the class of '22 also was elected to the council.

Speakers For Coburn Contest Are Chosen

The following students, women's division, have been chosen from a preliminary speaking contest, to take part in the annual Coburn Prize Speaking Contest to be held in the College Chapel on the evening of Monday, March 18:

Jeanette Elizabeth Benn, '36, Waterville; Agnes Cooper Carlyle, '36, West Roxbury, Mass.; Mary Elizabeth Fairbanks, '37, Houlton; Janet Priscilla Goodridge, '37, Westbrook; Dorothy Wall Goodwin, '37, Waterville; Dorothy Florence Herd, '35, Waterville; Muriel Stella Scribner, '37, Newport; Amy Harriet Thompson, '37, Waterville; Bertha Almyra Whittaker, '35, Queens Village, N. Y.

Colby To Send Delegation To Model League

Colby will send five delegates to the Model League Convention which meets at Mt. Holyoke this year. The students are Robert William, Jean-Pierre Masse, Robert Turbyne, Lucile Jones, and Catharine Wakefield who graduated last year. The Student Council will finance the trip for the Colby delegation.

The students will leave Thursday in order to be present at the opening session which convenes Friday morning at 11.30. Various special committees will convene in the evening and Saturday morning. The final meeting will be a general session of the whole League Saturday afternoon at 2.00 P. M. At this time the general assembly will adopt the report of the Council. The League convention will terminate with a dance in the evening.

The women delegates will be entertained at Mt. Holyoke. The men will stay at Amherst.

The principal speaker at the convention will be Dr. Otto Nathan, a German exiled professor who is now in the department of economics at Princeton.

Glee Clubs To Give Public Concert Soon

On Tuesday evening, March 19th, Colby students and the citizens of Waterville will have an opportunity to hear the finest, most varied musical program ever presented by a group of Colby students. The combined men's and women's musical clubs have been rehearsing for about four months now under the direction of John W. Thomas in preparation for this Waterville concert and several others which will follow it in other cities.

For many years the Glee Clubs have given an annual concert in the Alumnae Building, but this year the City Opera House has been engaged for the affair. Along with this change in location there also comes a great change in the nature of the concert itself. Instead of just the singing of of Negro spirituals, and the third of several numbers in the conventional, stilted manner, this year's concert is to be considerably varied with

Miss Foster To Talk

Miss Grace R. Foster will discuss the revolutionary spirit in the Orient at the third session of group discussions of the Clash of World Forces sponsored by the Boardman Society. The group will meet in the "Y" room of the Alumnae Building, Friday, March 8, at 6.45 P. M.

FACULTY-FIRESIDE

The meeting next Tuesday of the Faculty-Fireside Group has been postponed.

Treatment of Applications Is Humorous

4 Seniors Interviewed By Executive and Principal

In the first conference of its nature ever held at Colby, Professor Magoun of the Humanities Department of M. I. T. appeared before the Seniors in three meetings last Friday and Saturday. Professor Magoun was brought to the college by the Colby Personnel Bureau, an organization established within the past year for the purpose of helping Colby students obtain employment upon graduation.

Professor Magoun's object was twofold, namely to point out the essentials of a good letter of application, and what to expect and how to conduct oneself in an interview. He conducted the three meetings in a practical, laboratory method in order that they might be most effective.

In the first meeting of Friday afternoon Professor Magoun dealt with the letters of application. In preparation for this, members of classes in business and education wrote letters of application to mythical employers. Before the Seniors in the History Room in Recitation he read these letters to Fran Perkins, his "borrowed" secretary and proceeded to point out practically the errors in each one. At times the occasion resembled a three ring circus as the witty visitor enlarged upon humorous mistakes in the letters. A personal touch here and there added to the deep interest, when listeners were able to detect who was the author of a particular letter. At the termination of the practical demonstration

English Prizes Now Open To Competition

The Mary L. Carver Prize and the Solomon Gallert Prize, the two annual awards of the English department are now open to competition. The contests will close at noon on March 22. No manuscript received after that time will be considered. Poems or essays may be handed to any member of the English faculty at any time prior to the closing hour.

The Mary L. Carver Prize of fifty dollars is offered to the student in the women's division for the best original poem of merit. No limitation is placed upon the form or nature of the poems submitted. Poems should be at least fourteen lines and not over 300 lines. Previous prize-winning poems are printed on the following pages.

The Solomon Gallert Prize of twenty-five dollars is offered to the student of either division for the best original English essay of merit. No restriction is placed as to subject or treatment; and while no length is specified, it is suggested that 3000 words would be suitable. For the purposes of this prize-offer, the word essay will be understood to include article, report, or book-review.

In both contests, three typewritten copies of each poem or essay should be submitted, signed with a pen-name the key to which should be submitted in a sealed envelope with the manuscripts. No poem or essay submitted as a part of regular classroom work may be submitted in either contest.

Kipke To Lecture Friday; Concert Tomorrow Night

Second Concert Brings Lauga- Laus Trio Here

The second concert of the Colby Concert Series will be held in the Alumnae Building on Thursday evening with the Lauga-Laus Trio as the attraction. This trio, featuring the unusual combination of piano, violin, and bassoon, is certain to be one of the finest musical groups ever to perform before a Colby audience. Abdon Laus and Norbert Lauga are first chair men in the Boston Symphony Orchestra, while Miss Wyman is a finished pianist and accompanist. The program is as follows:

L'Ausoniene	Couperin
Les Moissonneurs	Couperin
The Trio
Impromptu	Faure
May Night	Palmgren
Concert Etude	Macdowell
Miss Wyman
First Concerto for Bassoon	Eugene Bourdeau

Pullen Selects Cast For "Morning at Seven"

By R. William

Casting time has come and gone, and already rehearsals are underway for the 1935 Junior Week Show, "Morning at Seven." For the most part, the dramatic talent of Powder and Wig filled the bill, but two or three "finds" turned up who may burst into stardom when the curtain goes up on the evening of April 25.

The cast and their tag lines run as follows:

William Cortland	Robert Colomy
"The trouble with me is that I wasn't brought up right. They didn't give me enough Horatio Alger books to read."
Mr. Horace Cortland	Fred Banzi
"I'm tired of financing one long continual wildgoose chase."
Mrs. Horace Cortland	Mary Small

Deputation Team To Kent's Hill, Hebron

Edward J. Gurney, '35, Ralph A. Macdonald, '37, Harold W. Hickey, '36, and Cliff Veysey, '36, will travel to Kent's Hill and Hebron academies, as members of the Y. M. C. A. Deputation Team, Friday noon. This team is going at the invitation of these schools, to take part in the program of their religious organizations. They will answer questions regarding college life.

The team will visit Kent's Hill Friday afternoon and take charge of the

Gov. Brann To Attend Banquet For Famed Coach

The Colby Lecture Series for 1934-35 will close Friday evening of this week with the lecture of Harry Kipke, head coach of football at the University of Michigan. The subject of the famed mentor's address will be "Backstage During a Football Game." An added feature of the lecture will be motion pictures of grid scenes to illustrate the talk more fully.

Professor Libby is planning a royal entertainment for the distinguished visitor of the college. Before the lecture Mr. Kipke will be entertained at a dinner at the Elmwood Hotel. Members of the athletic department, of the faculty, and prominent citizens in the city will fete the guest of honor.

Governor Brann has accepted an invitation to attend the banquet and will introduce Mr. Kipke at the lecture. President Johnson will preside.

Kipke is one of the youngest prominent coaches in the country. He graduated from Michigan but a little more than ten years ago in 1924. He is one of the greatest athletes ever produced at Michigan, winning nine letters in the three major sports of football, baseball, and basketball.

In 1922 he was chosen All-American halfback by that greatest figure of the gridiron world, the late Walter Camp. He has been named by many sports writers as an all-time All-American.

His rise in the coaching profession has been meteoric. He began his career at the University of Missouri where he was an assistant for a year. He then returned to Michigan, then went to Michigan State in 1928 as head football coach, and finally in 1929 he returned to his alma mater as head coach of football.

For four seasons through '30-'33 Michigan ruled the Big Ten. In 1932 and 1933 his teams received the highest possible national honor, namely National Champion.

Lambda Chi's Edge Zetes By Four Points In Interfraternity Meet

Record Smashed

New Records By Veysey in Mile and Nadeau in Hurdles

Lambda Chi Alpha emerged on the heavy end of the score in the annual interfraternity track meet held on March 2 in the field house. The final event ended with a tally of 58 points for the Lambda Chi's, 54 for the Zetes, and 15 for the Dekes. The K. D. R.'s came in for fourth place with three points, and the A. T. O.'s and D. U.'s pulled in for a tie with two each.

Colby's Veysey, probably through force of habit, smashed the field house record in the mile. Cliff trotted it in 4 min. 27 4-5 seconds. Nadeau polished up two new records, 6 seconds flat in the 45 yard high hurdles and 5 1-5 seconds in the low hurdles. Daggett, another flashy performer, equaled the field house record of 4.3 seconds in the 40 yard dash. The most exciting event was the pole vault, on which the entire meet depended. In the last round each of the three contestants, Rogerson, Toothaker and H. Veysey, failed twice at the ten foot marker and cleared the bar on the third try.

Outing Club Has Proven Successful

Colby's youngest, and in many respects most unique, student organization, the Colby Outing Club, is now winding up the first season of its existence. In the short space of a single semester, this ambitious society has become a powerful factor in making the student body Winter Sports conscious.

Its most noticeable achievement was the acquisition and furnishing of the cabin on Mayflower Hill. It required a tremendous amount of effort to get possession of the old farmhouse and still more work to find money to purchase modern snow sport equipment. The initial fund of $200 was obtained through the generosity of the Oracle and ECHO. The cabin, once an unkept, deserted building has been converted into a livable clubhouse which students, singly and in groups, may use as their winter-sports headquarters. The addition of cooking utensils, chairs, and rugs, and the installation of an electric lighting system makes the place seem more homelike. In addition, the club purchased ten pairs of skis, two toboggans, a bobsled, and ski-scooters, which have been placed at the disposal of the entire student body.

That the house has become popular with the college is attested by the fact that over 125 students have signed the register, and Tau Delta Phi, Sigma Kappa, and Chi Gamma Sigma, are among the organizations that have already taken advantage of the facilities offered to hold informal meetings and suppers.

The club is not satisfied to rest on its achievements of the past year, however, but is making even more ambitious plans for next year. If enough student interest is shown next winter, the club will revive the Winter Carnival, which was discontinued several years ago. If more funds materialize, a toboggan slide and possibly a ski jump will be constructed on Mayflower Hill.

The organization realizes that there is still a great deal of room for improvement in the farmhouse, and some of the members are dreaming about turning it into a cabin that every Colby student will be proud of. There are two fireplaces which can be developed, and it would not be a very difficult job to combine two of the small rooms into one large, comfortable room, with a fireplace at one end, and finished in tasteful Colonial style.

Those who have used its facilities are agreed that the Colby Outing Club has made an extremely strong beginning, and that with the proper kind of support, it can be developed into an organization equal to others of its kind in various colleges of the East.

THE MULE KICKS

By Jerry Ryan

With the hockey season over, it is about time for an All-Maine selection to appear in this column. The team this year would have four Colby players and two from Bates on the first string line-up. Second rating includes players from each of the three Maine colleges.

All-Maine for 1935:

Right defense, Jack Sheehan, Colby.

Goal, Carl Heldman, Bates.

Spares—Hannigan, Colby, Mills, Bowdoin, and Rancourt, Colby; forward line: Lawrence, Bowdoin, and LaChance, Colby defense; Steer, Bowdoin, goal.

— C —

The performances of Rolly Nadeau of Lambda Chi Alpha, Cliff Veysey of Zeta Psi, and Cecil Daggett of Delta Kappa Epsilon, were nothing short of sensational in the inter-fraternity track meet last Saturday afternoon. Nadeau broke the college records in both the 45 yard low and high hurdle events with times of 5 1-5 and 6 seconds, respectively. If Rolly can do as well this evening the great Phil Good is going to have a battle on his hands. Daggett equalled the college dash record of 4 3-5 in the 40. If Daggett can get a faster start, he will probably become one of the best indoor dash performers in Maine college circles.

— C —

Veysey's performance was undoubtedly the most sensational of the three. Running without any competition whatever, Cliff turned the field house banks for a 4.27 4-5 mile, this being the second fastest time that he has ever turned in. With some competition there is no doubt but that Cliff will better 4.20 this year: that is if he keeps up his present improvement.

— C —

A record attendance is expected at the First Baptist Church Friday evening when Harry Kipke, famous University of Michigan football mentor, makes his initial bow as a speaker to a Waterville audience. Students should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear this noted grid authority give a few interesting sidelights concerning the king of American collegiate sports.

— C —

College notes—Bowdoin's football history has taken a step forward with the appointment of Adam Walsh, old Notre Dame star, as head coach for next season. Many football fans in this section were pulling for Bill Mansfield to get the berth. However, it is rumored that Bill will leave the confines of this state as a schoolboy mentor.

Winslow Defeats Frosh Hoopsters

The frosh hoop team wound up its first basketball season in history in the Winslow High gym Tuesday evening by dropping a 33-28 thriller to the perennial Maine Schoolboy Champions. The game was close all the way and the yearlings were coming fast at the whistle. In losing to the Mansfielders, the first year club closed their season with six wins and six losses.

Larry Haynes and Rex Tarbell were the frosh stars in the closing rush, but they failed to get enough support to turn in a win. "Chink" Poirier and Freddy Savasuk were the outstanding Winslow scorers; while Laurier Poulin, scrappy little guard, played as good a game at his position as has ever been seen in the high school gym.

PULLEN SELECTS CAST

"Why can't you associate with young men like that nice Ernest Van Lagner?"

Rita Bronson-----Wilma Stanley

"Five years is a long time . . ."

Marcus Holman-----Harold Kimball

"A grunt like me ain't got no business wit' love and romance."

Percy H. Panner-----Asa Roach

"I never touch spirituous liquors of any sort."

Mary Bell-----Ann Trimble

"I hope I haven't made you gunshy or anything."

Old Richard Bell-----Carl Reed

"All the Bell wimmin have had W. C. T. U. instincts."

Mrs. Gallagher-----Virginia Swallow

"I've a horror of broken bones!"

Mr. Green-----Alvin Vose

Young Richard Bell----- (not chosen)

The Pig----- (not chosen)

The cast, for the most part, is c and experienced in the ways of th stage. Robert Colomy, playing the lead, has trod the boards with professional finesse. Ann Trimble is remembered for her work in the Workshop plays last year. Carl Reed, who starred in "Icebound," promises a superb characterization of Old Richard Bell. Asa Roach, scheduled to play the solemn Percy Panner, is a find on the part of the producer. Having a fine stage presence and comic sense, he should panic the paying customers on the night of April 25. Harold Kimball, who played the tough guy in "The Killer," has a similar part in this production. Mary Small, of "Quality Street," and Fred Banzi, that gentleman with the remarkable voice who created a sensation in "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," will play the irate parents. Wilma Stanley made her debut in the Junior Week-End Show of last year, "Moon Madness."

Virginia Swallow is expected to turn in a finished characterization of Mrs. Gallagher. Alvin Vose has a part that is both brief and dramatic. The Pig has not been cast as yet but will be right there with the goods on the night of the performance.

GLEE CLUBS

scenery, lighting effects, novelties, solos and many original arrangements in the style of such leading arrangers as Frank Black and Fred Waring.

The main grouping of the concert consists of three parts, the first being of religious compositions, the second Modern, popular music arranged as only Mr. Thomas can do it. Each group will have a staging and lighting arrangement of its own, designed and executed by members of the combined clubs. Costuming will also play an important part in the effectiveness of several of the numbers.

More detailed information concerning the gala production will appear in next week's edition of the ECHO, but for now let it be known that just a few of the outstanding attractions will be specialties by the Tri-Tones and the Colby Male Quartet, a medley of "Sun" numbers for chorus and xylophone, an intricate arrangement of "Deep River" for violin solo with accompaniment by a humming chorus, and some tap dancing by a talented member of the women's division. You'll find out more next week!!

MAGOUN CONFERENCE

Professor Magoun summarized his criticisms in a constructive explanation of the form and content of a letter of application.

The second meeting Friday evening was devoted to the subject of interviews. Again a practical demonstration was employed to give interest and emphasis to the subject. First the principal of Winslow High School, Mr. Russell, interviewed Avis Merritt and Barbara Howard who were in the roles of aspirants to a teacher's position. Then Mr. Williams of Augusta, vice president of the Central Maine Power Co., interviewed Larry Dow and Ronny Williams who were seeking the position of accountant. At the conclusion Professor Magoun pointed out the important phases of an interview in the seeking of a position.

The last meeting, held in the Chemical lecture room Saturday morning witnessed teams of Senior men and women interviewing freshmen women who were applying for the position as clerk in the Registrar's office. The interviewing teams were composed of Misses Duerr and Jordan and Messrs. Ludwig and Worthing. The applicants were Misses Deeny, Adams, Mallett, and Thibodeau.

At the conclusion of the student interviews Professor Magoun himself interviewed Miss Deeny whom he considered as having made the best interview.

Students were very favorably impressed with this conference arranged by the Personnel Bureau because of the practical and interesting manner in which Professor Magoun presented his material. Such a conference might well be included as a permanent feature of the Bureau's program.

DEPUTATION TEAM

Friday afternoon assembly. They will meet two of the debating societies Friday night, and a special day is being planned for them Saturday. They will go to Hebron Sunday noon, to take charge of a Y. M. C. A. meeting Sunday night, staying for the chapel period Monday morning.

Mr. Gurney will speak from a general point of view as he is a member of the debating team, and many other organizations which make up the college life here at Colby. Harold Hickley, also a member of the debating team will tell about the cross-country debating trip last year, while Cliff Veysey will tell of his experiences as a long-distance runner. To add variety to these meetings, Mr. MacDonald will sing a number of vocal solos.

This is one of the highlights in the program which our Y. M. C. A. has planned in regard to work with the preparatory schools. The Y. M. C. A. is looking forward to instituting a method in which students, who plan to go to college from preparatory schools may gain an insight to the problems that they will face as freshmen in college. It is hoped that the experiences which our incoming freshman classes have had will be useful in working out these problems. This deputation team will determine the reaction of the preparatory schools toward our assistance.

Chi O's Take Alpha Deltas in Basketball

On Saturday afternoon, with much excitement and a spirit of friendly rivalry, the Alpha Deltas met the Chi O's in their first encounter of the new series of the inter-sorority basketball games. Enthusiasm waxed high when at the halves the Alpha Deltas were leading with 10-7, then with fast playing on the part of both teams the second half was concluded with a score of 17-12 in favor of the Chi Omegas.

Playing on the Alpha Delt team were Arlene Hayes, '35, Betty McLeod, '38, Avis Merritt, '35, Myra Mallett, '38, Muriel Scribner, '37, and Phyllis Carroll, '38; while their opponents, the Chi O's, were represented by Ann White, '36, Amy Thompson, '36, Betty Herd, '38, Nat Gilley, '36, Ann Trimble, '35, and Margie Gould, '37.

It is for the promotion of inter-sorority good feeling that these hoop contests have been planned. The winners are to play each other for the grand championship. May the best team win!

In Answer To "Gladiator Capitalist" . . .

IN this article the editor departs from the orthodox method of editorial comment and takes up the controversy between the Gladiator Capitalist speaking in behalf of his colleague the editor of the New York Times, Mr. Adolph Ochs or better one of his hired henchmen, and the humble journalist the editor of the ECHO. In order to thoroughly understand this difference of opinion that the intent of this editorial may be wholly clear a little back reading is recommended in the 16th and 17th issues of the ECHO.

At the outset I submit that our friend the Capitalist was a bit severe in his treatment of the argument in the editorial. He claimed that it offered no constructive criticism other than an assertion that our present economic system should be abandoned despite the fact that the editorial contained definite facts furnished by boards of experts of the U. S. government.

But what stands out most concerning the missles of the Capitalist is that very fact of which he accused the editor, he has answered none of the arguments against and has offered none in defense of competitive system. The poverty in his line of reasoning is all too apparent. He mentioned nothing at all concerning the main contest of the editorial that there is "abundance" in this country, enough raw materials, factories, and man power to furnish a high standard of living for all, and that the competitive system has never been able, and undoubtedly never will be able, to utilize this abundance with even a fair degree of success. He also naively skipped over that grave evil of moderate economics, the ever decreasing age at which industry will hire men. He said nothing concerning technological unemployment which provided for a million and a half unemployed even in the most prosperous year in the history of our country, 1929.

He offered one and only one argument quoting figures used by "the editor of the N. Y. Times" concerning the employment in the automotive industry which seemingly put a rather nasty hole in my argument. But did it? He admits himself that his figures are colored because they include part time employment which accounts for the unduly high index figure for employment. He then offers his payroll argument to make up for this weakness. In short he sought to prove that payrolls had not declined as much as had production during the depression years. Which all proved exactly nothing for payrolls were maintained because of but one reason—government, in the form of Hoover's plea to maintain wages and later the N. R. A. But even more than that the whole thing had not the remotest bearing on the potentialities of this country in the nature of a high standard of living for all.

But aside from all this I feel there is a still greater issue involved. The "capitalist" holds his view as I do mine doubtless with utter sincerity and both of us can produce facts and figures to defend our different opinions. But the issue at stake is his evident hostility that a college editor should be commenting on a subject which occupies the minds of millions of Americans from brilliant educators to humble laborers. Of course he says constructive national criticism. Whether he means criticism which is completely laudatory or whether he means that my arguments were wholly unsound I do not know. I merely offer the fact that the gist of thought in the editorial follows upon lines upheld by numbers of others including not a few of Mr. Roosevelt's colleagues.

What a sorry world this would be if college students were not thinking and voicing their opinions on subjects which vitally affect the well being of them and their fellowmen. If there were no ideas, no criticisms, no opinions there would be but little progress along any lines. College students of today will be the economic and political leaders of tomorrow. If they will sit back and do nothing to correct the present competitive society there will continue to be depression, unemployment and poverty in ever-increasing severity. Only thinking and voiced thinking will provide for constructive action. Increasing numbers of our readers are coming to believe that some form of collective society is the solution to improving our country.

Glee Club Competes in Portland Contest

Last Friday evening Colby was for the first time represented in a New England College Glee Club Association contest. The contest was held in the City Hall Auditorium in Portland, under the sponsorship of the Portland Men's Singing Club. The ten following colleges contested: Colby, Bowdoin, Wesleyan, Amherst, Williams, Clark University, Rhode Island State, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, University of New Hampshire, and the University of Vermont. Wesleyan was chosen for first place.

Colby should be indeed grateful to John Thomas for having trained and put into the field a Colby Men's Club. Last Friday when our men arrived in Portland the Colby Alumni showed their appreciation by giving the men a dinner at Boone's restaurant. Harold Brown, '35, did a noteworthy job as conductor of our club. It was all a new experience for Colby and we are proud of our 19 men who went down there and competed with nine clubs, each of which had 30 men. Our men were as follows: Harold Brown, '35, Alvin Vose, '35, Henry Thomas, '35, James Ross, '36, Francis Barnes, '36, Leslie Brown, '36, Solomon Fuller, '36, Ray Fournier, '36, James Stineford, '36, Andy Mellen, '36, Bernard Stallard, '37, Pete Allen, '37, Edmund Barnard, '37, Alfred Wheeler, '37, Felix Gondola, '37, Ralph Macdonald, '37, Robert Gilray, '38, William Carter, '38, and Fred Emery, '38.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS

Last Sunday a deputation team consisting of Lucile Jones, Joyce Perry, Catherine Laughton, and Deane Hodges traveled to Belfast where they had charge of the evening service at the Baptist Church. Miss Jones led the devotions, while Miss Perry furnished the music. The other two members of the team spoke on the subject, "Peace."

Last Tuesday evening at 7.30 there was held at President Johnson's home the third of the Student-Faculty Fireside meetings. Dean Runnals gave a most interesting talk on "Mathematics and Religion." Following Dean Runnals' talk, a discussion was held. A good sized group of students attended.

Phi Delta Theta To Hold Initiation

Phi Delta Theta will hold its annual initiation banquet this evening, March 6, at the chapter house. President Kenneth F. Mills of the Maine Alpha chapter will preside as toastmaster. The guests of honor will be Dr. John G. Towne, retired past house adviser of the chapter who will be presented a charm by President Mills in behalf of the fraternity; Dr. Charles Towne, present house adviser of the chapter, who succeeded Dr. John Towne; and prominent local alumni. Whitney Wright heads the committee in charge of the affair.

Alpha Delta Pi Holds Initiation

At 4.00 o'clock on Thursday, February 28th, at their sorority rooms the following girls were initiated into the Alpha Delta chapter of Alpha Delta Pi: Maxine L. Knapp, '36; Ruth S. Hodgdon, '37; Helen W. Lewis, '38; and Marjorie F. Rollins, '38. Following the initiation, the initiates, pledges, and active members were entertained by Mrs. Wesley Marden at tea in her home on 15 Harold street.

The theme of the initiation banquet, which took place in the Elmwood Hotel at 6.00 o'clock, was based upon the black diamond, the sorority pin. The principal address of the evening was given by the guest speaker and national president of the sorority, Mrs. Joseph Hubbard. The other speakers were: Miss Helen Chase, '31, toastmistress; Avis E. Merritt, '35; Edna M. Allen, '36; Cornelia Bigelow, '37; and Helen W. Lewis, '38, each representing the respective classes. Mrs. Everett F. Strong spoke on behalf of the patronesses, while B. Arlene Hayes concluded the program with president's address.

Delta Delta Delta Hold Initiation

Following the initiation of Barbara A. Knowlton, '38 of Waterville and Barbara R. Peiser of Ridgewood, New Jersey, the members of Delta Delta Delta sorority attended the annual banquet held at the Wishing Well, Monday, March 4th. Eleanor L. Wheelwright, '34, presided as toastmistress, introducing as speakers Dorothy E. Washburn for the seniors; Beulah B. Fenderson for the juniors; Hazel E. Wepfer, sophomore; Barbara A. Knowlton, freshman; Kathryn A. Herrick, President; Audrey Bishop, Alpha Kappa delegate from the University of Maine; Helen S. Strong for the alumnae and Dean Ninetta M. Runnals. A most impressive Stars and Crescent ceremony in which Lorinda O. Eustis, A. K. alumna, Betty S. Thompson, '36, and Barbara E. Hutcheon, '37, participated concluded the banquet.

Beerbaum Has Faith in Hitler's Policies

Mr. Alfred Walter Beerbaum of Waterbury, Conn., 19 Roberts Hall, spoke on Germany before the International Relations Club last Friday evening. Mr. Beerbaum must be complimented for his coolness under fire. Ticklish as his subject was, he succeeded in presenting the German point of view and his sincerity and honesty did much to soften his hearers' feelings on the subject of the radicalism that has characterized recent German activities. It was Beerbaum's genuine sincerity that proved to be his most effective instrument in bringing his partially prejudiced audience to heel. His launching of this startling conviction in the face of the storm of anti-Nazi sentiment current in America was little short of dramatic.

Mr. Beerbaum has implicit faith in the policies of Hitler and cited several instances of the success that this policy has already realized. One of the features of the evening was the spirited debate that ensued between Beerbaum the German exponent, and Jean Pierre Masse, the French representative. Mr. Masse will have to contend with Beerbaum's criticisms when the former addresses the next meeting of the I. R. C.

The salient points of Beerbaum's talk had to deal with the German spirit and her desire to expand politically and economically to achieve her former status among the great powers of the world. Though some of his views were incompatible with established sentiment, his passive and a most naive treatment of his subject endeared the speaker to his audience.

Phi Mu Holds Annual Dance

Stately black and white figures of colonial days furnished the keynote for Phi Mu's annual dance. Mingling with these never-to-be forgotten characters, were clever silhouettes of the sorority members.

Harmonizing with this atmosphere of powdered wigs and hoops, were Al Val and his Colonials.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair were Professor and Mrs. Cecil Rollins, Mr. Galbraith, and Mr. Palmer.

CHITCHATTERY . . .
To start the ball rolling we had Groesbeck in the receiving line at the Nurses' Ball . . . In the roll of being an old predictionist, Bill Close is going to invite a nifty high-schoolite to the Junior Prom . . . ya'd better hurry, Bill, because Dick Noyes has been seeing her quite what we'd call often of late and probably has the same idea cocted away in the back of his head . . . by the way, Dick, did you wire Boston to tell Jeannette whether you were coming or not? . . . It would certainly be embarrassing for the co-ord who registered as Mrs. Springer recently if the story should not . . . Here's one for the records—Dick Peterson was overwhelmingly chosen as the best looking boy in the senior class the year he graduated from Lynn Classical . . . A casual observer relays the one about seeing Tom Fuller with his feminine friend in Lewiston last week-end . . . Leo Barron invited Dick Ball along to complete the group of a funsome foursome recently . . . both were that surprised when they sauntered up to the lunching table and the two babes whipped up orders for a couple of sirloins . . . both got nipped to the tune of a sugary bit . . .

PHI MU . . .
Everyone admiring the silhouettes which hung all around on the walls and the dance orders which were likewise as clever . . . Louise Weeks looked particularly nice . . . Betty McLeod very much enjoying herself with Wendall Anderson . . . Among the duos who just couldn't part from each other, Heinie Kammandel and Betty Mann were noticeable . . . ditto Dot Washburn and George Bonner . . . we hear Dot wasn't so pleased when "Buggy" went to the Alpha Delt with someone else . . . Ot Greeley's likeable sister Olive with Fred Demers . . . Brunette Mary Herd whirling about with Fred Emery . . . Among the girls who offered a sight for sore eyes—Anna Stobie . . . incidently has a huge romance on her hands . . . "Lemty" Tolman with the man from Bangor . . . Kitty Rollins another picture . . . Congeniality plus between Prof. Galbraith and Julie Haskell . . . Portia Pendleton and Babe White among the grads back for another whirl . . . surprise couplet in the persons of Ruth Keller and Pete Evers . . . their togetherness has been, on the up-grade ever since—it looks like a "natural" . . . George Burt-Betty Mann and Don Richardson-Nita Thibault a foursome one can always plan on seeing . . . Some thought Wes Evans and Hazel Wepfer were "in the fog" at the dance but she says no, that they were in the midst of a big discussion . . . but we retort back with the trite one—over what? . . .

SCHEMER'S MAGIC CRYSTAL . . .
New taudelt outfits for apparel during hell week worth a chuckle . . . Art Wein wants to be in, and Grace Wheeler desirous of being kept out of the colyum . . . but both were studying for an exam in the chapel at a time not so many hours ago, so both get their monikers chronicled without any further ado . . . some one stole Jack Hains' 72-hr. embryos when he wasn't on the lookout . . . Margaret Duerr in an enjoyable week-end with her Dartmouth admirer . . . Helen deRochemont and Lefty Cole inseparable during class hours, but 20 minutes only had to elapse after their parting to other day when she offed to the movies with Ed Shuman . . . Be it ever so embaring and embarrassing if they were caught, nevertheless four of our fair co-ords crashed the State Theatre the other day . . . When Tiny Stone and Beulah Fender-son get together there's war . . . Diogenes Hanscomb, Dr. Bovie's assistant, is performing as the moniker suggests—is going all about Getchell St. in his search for an honest woman . . .
