Ted Shawn Dance Team To Give Last Concert Next Tuesday CURTAIN READY TO RISE ON "MORNING AT SEVEN"

Second Varsity Show Shapes Up As Another Hit

Queen To Be Presented Loving Cup

by R. William

The second student-produced Junior Week-end Varsity show is ready for the curtain call. If ever there was an exciting moment in the life of a bored and blase playwright it is the critical moments before the curtain goes up on the premiere of his brain child. It is at this time that the fruits of his labors are to be exposed to the mercies of a cruel public. If his work pleases the whims of that gallery of first nighters the playwright is assured of a just reward. If his work displeases he is as good as ruined. Let us bear, then, with producer Pullen. The last tell-tale dress rehearsals have been run off and Mr. Pullen has his "Morning at Seven" ready for the greedy eyes of the drama starved audience which will fill the Opera House tomorrow evening. An incident which was a cause for no little concern on the part of producer Pullen was the temporary loss of a voice. It seems that Wilma Stanley, who plays an important role, suddenly discovered that she was no longer able to utter the ordinary vocal sounds expected of an actress. An investigation disclosed a rather disconcerting case of laryngitis. The best authorities on the subject, however, feel that Miss

RUSHING PLAN AWAITS FATHERLY APPROVAL

Last evening the Student Council passed another deferred rushing plan. The new plan is a revised version of the one turned down by the fraternities recently. The plan will be submitted to the various fraternities for their approval this evening. It is hoped that at last Colby fraternities will take a long awaited forward step and approve the deferred rushing plan.

Remarkable Team Is Famous The Country Over

Will Be Highlight Of Concert Series

One of the outstanding entertainment groups in the United States at the present time will come to Colby next week when famous Ted Shawn and his six men dancers perform in the Alumnae Building at eight-fifteen o'clock on Tuesday evening, April 30.

Comments of a wide-flung press give a fleeting glimpse of the popularity of the Shawn group:

"Shawn is one of the leaders without whose insurgency the dance might not have developed to its present high status."—New York Times.

"A remarkable performance . . . a miracle of art."—Toronto Saturday Night.

"Shawn returned last night to the Brooklyn Academy of Music and again proved himself an innovator . . . the feminine element was not missed and in its absence the dance seemed to take on a new point of view."—Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

"Last evening was a triumph indeed for Ted Shawn and his ideal of an all male dance program."—Boston Traveler.

The program will be one of variety and balance including many of the major themes that dancers have ex-

"Morning At 7" Starts Brilliant 1935 Festivities

Prom Friday; Sports, Chasers Saturday

by R. William

Never before in her history has Colby College contemplated so brilliant a program for her Junior Week-end. Under the industrious management of a highly efficient committee every item of the huge undertaking has been carefully planned and executed. The result has been a schedule of social innovations which far exceeds all previous programs. From the design of the buck-skin programs to the tone of its sophisticated dance orchestra the Promenade of the class of '36 exceeds its predecessors in every department.

Patrons of the Prom will revel in the music of the Meyer Davis' Copley Plaza band. The hall is to be decorated in a manner to give the effect of a sea-deck atmosphere. These decoration plans have been drawn up by a professional designing concern in Boston, and represents the ultimate in decorating skill. There are three features of this Promenade which in themselves distinguish this event from others: the quality of the music at this affair will be unprecedented, the atmosphere enchanting, and the

IMPORTANT MEETING OF ENTIRE SENIOR CLASS

There will be an important meeting of the entire Senior Class, both men and women, tomorrow morning, in the chapel during chapel period. Every member is urgently requested to attend. The purpose will be to elect class day speakers and other officers connected with graduation.

President Larry Dow also has asked that it be announced that all orders for commencement programs and invitations must be in the hands of the class representatives by Monday, April 29.

All applications for 1935-36 scholarships, including the new Kling scholarships, as well as the general awards, must be presented not later than May 1, 1935.

State Series Opens Here Saturday; Bowdoin To Furnish Opposition

Mules Will Be Hard Pressed To Defend Title

The Blue and Gray baseball nine will open its 1935 State Championship defense on Seavern's Field, Saturday afternoon, when the Roundymen encounter Lin Wells' Bowdoin Polar Bear nine in the State series opener. The mules have already played Maine and Bowdoin this season, but these were exhibitions and had no bearing on the state series outcome.

Last year our boys went through the series with only one defeat, that a 7-5 setback at the hands of the powerful Bates nine. This year it looks like an entirely different story and the going will not be as easy. Bates, Bowdoin and Maine all have unusually strong teams and will give the Mules a battle for top honors.

In Saturday's game it is expected that Coach Roundy will start the veteran Al Farnham in the box. This selection is not positive, but Al has always been a hard nut for the Bowdoin batters to crack and is just as good as ever this year. He is one of the craftiest hurlers in the state and possesses all kinds of "stuff." Art Brown will be on the receiving end of the battery.

The usual infield of Jack Sheehan, first base; Charlie Geer, second base; Rum Lemieux, shortstop; and Capt. Dick Sawyer, third base, will take the field against the Brunswick collegians. This is one of the classiest units ever to represent the Blue and Gray on the diamond and they are looking better and better every day.

"Hocker" Ross will be in left field as usual, with Ray Farnham in center, and Ralph Peabody in right. Charlie Caddoo, Tom Yadwinski, and Danny Ayotte are also due to get a chance in the pasture before the game is over.

Tennis and Golf Teams Practice

Golf Crew Will Meet Bowdoin Saturday

The golf and tennis squads have not had much of a chance to do any outdoor work, but "Doc" Abbott and Jimmy Ross, captains of the respective teams, have been keeping their mates busy and have got in an afternoon of practice at every possible chance.

The links outfit will start out in their quest for a second consecutive State Championship Saturday afternoon when they meet Bowdoin at Brunswick. The system of play has been changed this year whereby the results of every match will count toward the state title.

Captain "Doc" Abbott, Ernie Rodrick, Bob William, Johnny Reynolds, and Noyes Ervin are the five veterans who will see action; while another man who is yet to be selected, will probably complete the team.

The tennis team will have a coach for the first time in history in the person of Don Smith, assistant librarian, who was Colby's leading singles player in 1932. Don knows the game from A to Z and should go a long way toward making a successful season possible.

Captain Ross, Izzy Rothblatt, and Pete Allen saw action on the varsity last spring and should pull down positions again this year. Frank Barnes and Freddy Demers have been members of the varsity squad for two years and will be in the thick of the fight for positions.

Among the new men who are looking impressive are: Joe Antan, Price Tozier, Walter Rideout, and Jimmy LaChance.

The Alaskan Agricultural College and School of Mines has increased its enrollment from six to 120 students in 11 years.

Track Team To Meet Vermont

The varsity track season will get underway Saturday afternoon when the strong University of Vermont cinder cluster invades Waterville for the second time in two years. Last year Colby took the measure of the visitors by a sizeable point margin, but according to reports Vermont is much stronger this year and the Mules will have their troubles.

Delfausse, a powerful sprinter, Jesukwicz, pole vaulter and broad jumper, Levine, distance man, and Cook, weight ace, will undoubtedly be among the visiting stars well worth watching.

Colby will look to Ed Buyniski, Cecil Daggett, and Stan Washuk for points in the dashes. Rolly Nadeau and Johnny Dolan are expected to come through in the hurdles. Bob Turbyne and Paul Merrick are shaping up well in the 440. Hal Davis and Bill Pritham are the most likely point getters in the half mile. Cliff Veysey and Herbie DeVeber should clean up their share of points in the mile and two mile. Washuk and Dolan should score in the broad jump. Bob Marshall is the outstanding high jumper on the squad, and together with Carl Reed, will look out for honors in the pole vault. Bob Estes and Whit Wright are likely to score in the javelin. Johnny Merrick, Kerm LaFleur, and Carl Hodges will be the Blue and Gray representatives in the shot, discus and hammer events.

Several Colby boys are apt to threaten the college marks in their respective events if they receive sufficient competition. Ed Buyniski may get down around the 220 mark of 21 4-5 if he is pressed. Rolly Nadeau and Johnny Dolan are capable of coming close to the 120 yard high hurdle record of 15 4-5. Cliff Veysey has a good chance to crack both the mile and the two mile records. The former mark of 4.23 is held by Charlie Sansone, while Cliff holds the two mile record of 9.35 3-5. The pole vault record of 11.4 held by Dick Kimball, of last year's team, is likely to fall as Marshall and Reed will be pressed by Jesukwicz.

Football Squad Practicing Daily

Spring football has been resumed at Colby once more after a three day lay-off. Last week several outdoor sessions were held on the Freshman field where the candidates were divided into two groups, one for the backfield men and the other for the line aspirants. Larry Dow, captain of last year's team, has been giving the new linemen many valuable pointers on line play as well as supplying the veterans with necessary knowledge to become finished performers in the future. Coaches Roundy and Millett have been drilling the many backfield men on passing and in running off a number of new plays.

Many veterans are engaged in other activities this spring but there has been an abundant supply of new material which should aid Colby in being represented by a championship team next fall. If the interest does not slacken any more than it has the past few days these few weeks of drill should prove very valuable. It is hoped that a scrimmage may be held at the conclusion of these sessions if there are enough men remaining. Tiny Stone and Steve Young, two

TENNIS NOTICE
As soon as possible the tennis courts will be ready for student use. The courts adjoining Courn Hall will be reserved for the varsity tennis squad practice from 4 to 6 o'clock daily.

GOLF PLAYERS
Prof. Loebs wishes to announce that golf rates at the Abenauqui Golf Club until June 15 for Colby College students in both divisions will be $3.00. This is very reasonable and Colby students will also be able to secure summer membership for $10. Physical Education credit will be given to all those students who take out membership and elect golf as their spring activity.

veterans, are the leading tackles on the squads, who may receive much competition from Bob Winslow, Charlie Dolan and Cliff Nelson. The battle for the guard berths will undoubtedly be waged between the experienced Tut Thompson and Paul Harold, and the local boys, Paul Landry and Bill Carter. John MacDonald and George Bonner are two centers who show much promise.

Pete Evers, despite his troublesome left arm which was broken last fall, is fighting hard to regain a wing position next fall, and he is receiving much competition from Jimmy Flynn, Paul Windsor and Ned Sparkes. The large number of backfield men who are practicing daily are Twiddle Rogerson, Charlie MacGregor, Norm Walker, Arn Green, Harry Hollis, Ed Shuman and Cal Butler.

Junior Varsity Plays Tomorrow

Coach Bill Millett's J. V. outfit will meet Waterville High tomorrow afternoon on the high school grounds. The junior varsity squad has always proved to be a capable training ground for the development of future Mule baseball stars and special emphasis will be placed on the seconds this year. Games with M. C. I., Bridgton, and Kent's Hill have been lined up for this aspiring group of ball players.

Bob Hunter and Tony Demarinis are due to divide the pitching with Johnny Pullen behind the plate. Bud McGown will be at first, Val Duff on second, Larry Haynes at short, Curt Layton at the "hot corner," while Fred Emery, Roy Young, and Bob Sparkes are likely to appear in the outfield.

THE MULE KICKS
By Jerry Ryan

Sport followers are looking to the State Meet revival which is to be held at Lewiston on May 11 with renewed interest. This meet is one of the oldest in the country and the performances turned in yearly compare favorably with those of the best meets in the country. Several years ago "Dink" Templeton, noted Stanford track coach, stated that the competition in this state meet was the closest in the country and he also said a team of combined Maine college track athletes could hold their own with any group in the country.

When representatives of the four Maine colleges met in Augusta a year ago and decided that it would not be advisable to run a State Meet last spring because of a disagreement concerning the status of a couple of Bates athletes, people began to wonder what would become of track in this state. Several schemes were proposed to bring the Maine colleges together again, such as an open A. A. U. Meet, but the clamor for a revival of the State Meet was so great that its renewal seemed almost inevitable when the athletic authorities from the four Maine colleges met in Augusta last winter. The difficulties were COLLEGIATE BILLIARD CHAMPIONS—The University of Wisconsin's billiard squad captured the fourth annual intercollegiate cue tournament from the strongest field that to date has competed. Purdue finished a close second, with the defending titlists, Michigan State, never a serious factor. The tourney was held under the auspices of the Association of College Unions. smoothed over and Maine cinder followers are due to see the most exciting State Meet in history on May 11.

The race for the first leg on the Alden C. Sprague Memorial Trophy is getting closer and closer with each succeeding fraternity contest. Alpha Tau Omega was leading at the end of the winter season by 40 points with Zeta Psi in runner-up position and Delta Kappa Epsilon in third spot. However, when one looks at the numbers of Zetes on the varsity track team and the number of Dekes on the varsity baseball nine, it seems probable that the leader's margin will be cut into considerably by the end of the school year.

Just a word about Alden C. Sprague, in whose memory this trophy is being given. He was a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity and graduated in the class of 1929. While in college he was extremely popular among his fellow students and served on several class committees. He was one of the leading track athletes in college, excelling in the 100, 220, 440, and javelin throw. He had marks of 10 1-5 and 22 4-5 for the "century" and "furlong," could do the quarter in 52 and a fraction, and for a time held the Colby record in the javelin with a mark of 158 feet and a fraction. Shortly after his graduation he was taken ill and died of septic poisoning. Because of his outstanding achievements, his classmates proposed this trophy in his honor. At the 10th class reunion in 1939 the trophy will be presented permanently to that fraternity which has won the yearly competition the greater number of times.

COLLEGE NOTES—With the number of former college stars who are being tried out by the major leagues this spring, it looks as though the collegiate diamonds are becoming the training grounds for the future Babe Ruths and Walter Johnsons. . . . Larry Johnson and Tony Kishon of Bates should figure in the weight events at the Penn Relays; while Phil Good and Howie Niblock of Bowdoin will also compete in individual events. Maine's two mile relay team is also entered. If Kishon has been tossing the 16 pound ball as good as the papers claim, he should get first place, while Johnson is good for a second or a third. Good should place in the 120 yard high hurdles and has an even chance to win. Niblock should place in the shot, and Maine's relay quartet should also crash into the scoring column. . . . Adam Walsh is instilling plenty of spirit down at Bowdoin with his frank attitude, but here's hoping that the Mules will continue to prove a nemesis to the Polar Bear's State Championship aspirations.

Fred Borries, Navy's famed grid star, is the holder of the largest number of "N stars" ever won by a midshipman. The star insignia is presented to athletes who take part in athletic contests against the Army which have been won by the Navy.

The Champs Lose To Maine Nine

In a slow opening game last Saturday the Maine Bear trounced Colby's White Mules to the tune of 5 to 1. A combination of ineffective pitching and no hitting contributed to the downfall of the "champs" in their first debut.

The one bright spot in the entire contest came in the third inning when, after Rom Lemieux tapped out a single, Charlie Geer, chunky second baseman unlimbered his long ash and socked out a booming triple. This incidentally started the scoring of the game. Unfortunately the Mules stopped scoring at this juncture and left that highly important duty up to the boys from Orono who gladly obliged.

Al Farnham looked good on the mound for three innings but in the fourth and fifth the Maine batters began to solve his delivery. Cole who succeeded him had even less luck. Freshman Berrie who was the last of the Mule hurlers did a creditable job.

York Herald Tribune. Of late he has gained considerable publicity because of his prominence in the controversy over the N. R. A. code clause bearing on the freedom of the press. Also the morning assembly will hear Colonel Robert T. McCormick of Chicago, editor and publisher of the Chicago Tribune. Colonel McCormick's presence will lend especial significance to the occasion since he is the chairman of the committee on the freedom of the press of the Newspaper Publishers Association. Mr. McCormick was commissioned colonel in the Field Artillery because of his brilliant service in the World War. He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for bravery in action. The Chicago publisher is an author of no mean ability. He has published recently a biography, "Ulysses S. Grant, The Great Soldier of America."

Following the special convocation at 11 o'clock at which time honorary degrees will be conferred, the visiting of the program will bring primitive and folk themes, varying from a Shawn solo of "Invocation To The Thunderbird" to a cowboy version of "Turkey In The Straw." The program will close with a group of religious dances, including three Negro spirituals. Tickets for the concert, the last in the series of Colby concerts for 1934-1935, will sell for $1.25 to the public at the Lewis Music Company. Students of Colby may obtain tickets at a dollar.

Born in Kansas City, Missouri, Ted Shawn had an ambition to become a minister. After attending the University of Denver, paralysis from a severe attack of diphtheria set in, making the ministry impossible. He started dancing, first as a way of gaining strength and later as a career. While studying in New York he met and married Ruth St. Denis who became his dancing partner in the famous Denishawn dances. It was in Boston in 1933 that he first used an all-male company. The success of the attempt led him to give a course in dancing at the Y. M. C. A. college in Springfield, Mass., for men alone. This group toured successfully in America proving the truth of a Boston Transcript press comment: "No monotony in an evening of dance in which no woman shared left the reviewer wondering whether an ensemble of the more sensuous sex could achieve a dance evening so varied and sustained."

Now Ted Shawn trains his men in an old farmhouse nestled in the hills of Western Massachusetts just beyond Jacob's ladder. Here, in an atmosphere of solitude, the company spends its summer months practicing the art of graceful living.

ing statement regarding the reasons for the special convocation: "There is a critical need today for reaffirming the American principle of free speech and a free press."

"In looking over the horizons, we can observe a disturbing trend towards absolutism as a form of government. The Fascists, Nazis, Communists and demagogues of all brands can obtain their power and maintain their thrones only by a complete subjection of the newspapers in their countries."

"While we may not as yet feel any serious threat in this country, there are many who believe that now is the time to emphasize the ideal of a free press as our best insurance against dictatorship. Colby College, which nurtured Elijah Parish Lovejoy, America's martyr to this cause, seems to be an eminently fitting place for such a convocation."

Alumni Meetings Are Being Held

During the week, there are scheduled four Colby alumni meetings. The first of these, a joint meeting, was held last evening at the Strong Hotel in Strong, Me. Theodore R. Hodgkins, '25, was master of ceremonies. President Johnson, Dean Runnals, Dean Marriner, Cecil Goddard, and a group of students attended this get together.

On Thursday, a stag meeting will be held in Portland, Hartford, Conn., will be the scene of a stag dinner on Friday. The following evening, there will be a joint meeting in Providence, R. I.

Final Open House Held Sunday Night

The last open house of this year was held at the Alumnae Building last Sunday night. The weather no longer requires us to stay indoors, and our interests are turned toward outside activities. We wish at this time to express our gratitude to the faculty members and their wives for their willingness to cooperate, and their generosity. Without their assistance it would not have been possible to make available to the students these enjoyable evenings.

Plans for next year are already being made, and the Y. W. C. A. hopes to offer the students more Sunday evening programs with new games and means of enjoyment.

Dr. Melvin Jacobs, University of Washington anthropologist, is making phonograph records to preserve the vanishing languages of Pacific coast Indians.

Press Meeting . . .

THE special convocation of the college on May 18 devoted to a discussion of the freedom of the press and exercises in memory of Elijah Parish Lovejoy will undoubtedly be one of the premier events in the history of Colby. Already two of the foremost newspapermen in the world have accepted invitations to speak, Howard Davis of the New York Herald Tribune and Colonel McCormick of the great Chicago Tribune. Invitations have been extended to newspaper editors and publishers the nation over. Many will accept.

Colby is sponsoring a meeting especially significant in view of the temper of the times regarding the newspaper field, the world over. Never in the history of the world has there been such ruthless use of the press as at the present time. No country, it is probably safe to say, is receiving news wholly free from coloring. Some peoples of course, are reading newspapers censored entirely by the respective governments.

A major part of the success of the meeting at Colby will be due to Hon. Bainbridge Colby, trustee of the college and a man well-known and respected throughout the nation. Mr. Colby's close association with the American press will influence many distinguished journalists to regard the meeting as one worth coming far to attend.

The college cannot help receiving a large amount of worthwhile publicity from the convocation. Not only will the press accounts be numerous and far reaching but a part of the meeting may be broadcast as well. There has been no definite announcement as to this latter but should the program be on nation-wide or even regional hook-up it will certainly be a red-letter day in the history of Colby.

Campus Landscaping . . .

NOW that the spring of the year is here and the time for landscaping and improving grounds is upon us it is more than fitting to raise the question of the appearance of the campus. It is quite obvious that much could be done to make our grounds more beautiful. There was an excuse two or three years back for suspending improvements since it appeared as though we might be situated on Mayflower Hill before many seasons rolled by. But that excuse is no more. We have not given up hope of Mayflower Hill but it is plain that years will pass before the plans become reality.

In the meantime why not improve our own surroundings. Ivy creeping up the bare sides of Recitation, Chemical, Coburn, and other buildings would improve their looks immeasurably. Hedges along the walks would also lend an academic and venerable air to the old campus. Even a flower bed or two is not inconceivable. Then too there may be possibilities and truth in the assertion that atmosphere will produce a feeling of pride and ambition in the students' hearts.

It would be well worth the while of the administration to consider such improvement seriously.

Fellowship Forum To Discuss Fraternities

In keeping with its avowed policy of striking while the iron is hot the Fellowship Forum next Sunday evening will throw open for general discussion the problem of fraternities and sororities. This problem is not new but it is apparent that its importance cannot be overlooked. The Forum has been waiting for an opportune time to devote at least one meeting to a discussion of the worth of our Greek letter organizations and now that Dean Marriner has expressed himself and student feeling has been aroused for and against the present system the time is ripe for a general airing of the whole problem. The purpose of the discussion will be constructive and several speakers will be presented to briefly express their own opinions following which the meeting will be turned over to a wide-open discussion. The speakers will include representatives of the faculty, administration, alumni, and student body. Here is an opportunity to instigate a movement that may be the salvation of Colby's fraternities and sororities. The meeting begins at 6:30 sharp and the place is the First Baptist Church.

THETA KAPPA NU NOT TO HOLD CHASER

Theta Kappa Nu regrets to announce that due to inadequate facilities for dancing it will not be able to entertain the students of Colby at the Chapter house during Junior Week-End with a house dance, as has been its custom for the past few years. We sincerely hope that we may have the honor of your presence next year.

Brainard E. Caverly, Jr., Sec.

A course in modern history will be conducted at Smith College this year by Dr. Hans Kohn, doctor juris of the University of Prague.

The two burglars who had been going from college campus to college campus in the central and northwest—the Rocky Mountain universities—breaking into fraternity and sorority houses, were finally captured at the University of Oregon, and confessed to their escapades. Large sums of money and valuables were recovered.

STILL PRE-PROMING . . .

Men of Colby everywhere—we are gathered here today not to sit in idle ease amongst the flowers already blooming, but to struggle ever onward and upward, to do battle with the evil and the vis-chus—yes, anything viscious that will prevent us from knocking the fid off the Junior festivities by taking in the play at the Opera House tomorrow night. . . saw Clancy and William in a brief chitchattery t'other evg., and it seems as tho there might be a few ducats left for those who are the quickest to purchase . . . and a few of us will get it when we warm to watch out for the rapid fire the nite of the Prom . . . critics of repute will be in the audience . . . which should please members of the cast . . . Governor Brann will definitely oblige by his presence . . . the event seems to have joy in store unprecedented . . .

—C—

DOT AND DASH DATA . . .

Don't tell us it is true that wedding bells have tolled in our ranks . . . 'Midst news that is always welcome to collect dust in our files are thisas and thatas concerning the hanging of pins . . . the new one to report this week comes as a real surprise and very unexpected to say the least . . . 'tis John MacNamara's that is hanging as added accoutrement on Ruth Corrigan's dress front . . . and probably to make the party a success in toto, George Bonner slipped a ring on Carmen Pelletier's finger . . . both lucky girls are townies . . . Phil Groesbeck will stop, sigh deeply, and go to any length in a discourse over the perfectness of the blonde student whom he met on a jaunt to Oak Grove shortly ago . . . says she's a ringer for Ginger Rogers, who, incidentally, would rate a vote in anybody's league . . . Leon Sarin in the role of host to a galpal who is to be up this week-end . . . ditto Markson with Manelis's sis . . . Among the twioing parties of late Edythe Silverman and Mike Eisenfeld are stand-outs as a strolling couple . . .

—C—

ADD LIFE'S LITTLE HORRORS . . .

Got a sudden idea a few moments ago for something that should be included in next week's column . . . would chronicle it as "The Most Unimportant Stories of the Week," and they would include primarily anything written by Ima Wanderer, the vagabond who would never think of hitch-hiking a ride . . . a perfect example of a guy piping who would do much better if he stuck to subjects about which he was at least poorly informed . . . "an empty barrel has a sound peculiarly its own." . . .

Now back to some doit . . . Andy Mellen's rapid try to rekindle old fires at the Dutton House gives any scribe material for scribing . . . Betcha "Buffy" Simon has a sore fundament from kicking himself for the liberal amount of clumsiness he displayed in falling out of his canoe and right into the frigid waters of Messalonskee stream . . . all of which really happened the other Sunday . . . Be it ever so embaring and embarrassing, Clarence "Curly" Staples, who had heretofore been an exponent of the straight hair fad, lo and behold turned up last Thurs. morn with a wave atop his physiognomy that certainly appeared like the work of a professional wave setter . . . heered he spent the whole day wetting it down . . . have'nt seen Dot Smith as yet to inquire of her which style she likes the better . . .

—C—

OOP!!! . . .

Sure am hoping that by this time things have been ironed out and settled in the triangle of Pat Thorne, Freddie Poulin, and Bob Smith . . . Likewise in the affairs of Larry Sullivan, Frannie Burns, and Tink Johnson . . . One that brings joy to the heart runs this way . . . Hugh Travers and Babs Peiser seem to have the makings of a hugh romance on their hands . . . If you'll pardon me, I'd like to jot down a note to a pal throu this medium . . . hello, Mark Berry . . . That beam of happiness is still noticeable on vanSlyke's countenance on account of the telegram he received from Peggy, who lives in Boston's heart, Easter morn . . . Joe Brogden will be up to go proming with Peg Henderson . . . Fran Perkins will be escorted by a Soph of two years ago, Ed Rick, whom some of us will remember . . . As well expect and hope to see Bill Chapman arming Ellen Dignam to the door . . . A short note and here tiz—George Davis and Jim Guiney dancing over last week-end in Boston . . . Which brings to mind the one about Stebbins and Paul Merrick "tenting" at Hallowell's "Tent" . . . After which the fade act is done and we'll be seein' ya . . .

FOURTH JUNIOR WEEK-END

whole-hearted support of the student body is a thing to heartily commend. With music, atmosphere and good cheer no Prom can go wrong.

To proceed with the program, the participants in the Junior Week-end activities will have the pleasure of witnessing the revival of hostilities 'twixt the Colby and Bowdoin ball teams on Saturday afternoon. On Saturday evening the traditional open house chasers will be run off as a finishing flourish to a gala Week-end.

Those who have been tardy in procuring tickets to either the Prom or the play "Morning at Seven" may still procure a few remaining bids from Charlie Geer or other members of the Prom committee.

Stanley will be in condition to go on the night of the show.

Among the celebrities who will be present in the audience on the night of the premiere is a man who is the outstanding figure in the summer theatre movement. His name is Herbert L. Swett and is best known for his guidance of the great summer theatre institution at Lakewood. Mr. Swett has been at the helm of the Lakewood theatre for the past 25 years and his attendance at "Morning at Seven" presages a performance of that play in the famous Lakewood theatre.

Plans for a regal first-night set-up have been satisfactorily concluded and the playgoers will have the opportunity of hearing from many of the celebrities over the loud speaker apparatus.

Another feature of the evening will be the presentation of a beautiful loving cup to the Queen of the Prom. It is the plan of the committee to have as the guest of honor, Governor Brann. If he is able to accept the invitation he will present the cup. Thus there is every indication that this is to be a milestone in the history of Waterville theatricals.

(There are still several tickets available at this writing).

"Sure, enjoy yourself," said Jim. "It's a ding good cigarette."

I was working way late at the office one night and ran out of cigarettes. When Jim the watchman came through I tackled him for a smoke.

"Sure," says Jim, and he handed over a pack of Chesterfields. "Go ahead, Mr. Kent, take three or four."

Jim said he'd smoked a lot of cigarettes in his time, but he'd put Chesterfield up in front of any of 'em when it came to taste.

... "and they ain't a bit strong either," is the way Jim put it.

That was the first Chesterfield I ever smoked. And I'm right there with him, too, when he says it's a ding good cigarette.

Interesting—how people find out about Chesterfield
