Historic Season

Ally Corbett '21 works the ball out of the backfield for the Mules in their game against the Williams College Ephs this past Oct. 5. Ranked at number 17 in the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA) Poll, the 2019 Mules broke Colby records as the highest-ranking NFHCA team in the program's history, making it to the NESCAC conference playoffs. Senior captain Georgia Cassidy was also named to the All-NESCAC first team and was selected for the NFHCA 2019 All-Star game.

Ambitious Trek

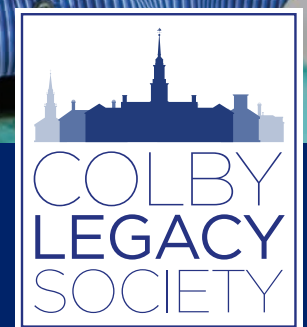

Sihang Chen '20, an environmental science major and data science minor, participates in the annual Environmental Studies Career Trek to New York City, sponsored by Ted Wolff '86 and Mimi Sotiriou Raygorodetsky '98. With the help of DavisConnects, this year's trek brought 25 eager Colby students to New York for two-and-a-half days of alumni networking, mock interviews, site visits, environmental law information sessions, and an environmental law and career panel.

“Colby is the place where I first discovered my potential. I want to ensure that future students can do the same, which is why Colby is a beneficiary of my retirement account. It’s a simple and impactful way of paying it forward to the place that means so much to me.”

—Trustee Coy Dailey '01,
New York, N.Y.
