

Rossum's Universal Robots To March Tomorrow Night

Futuristic Costuming, Complicated Staging And Lighting, Feature Powder And Wig Play

Students! To arms! Lock your dormitory doors and windows! Rossum's Universal Robots are on march!

After many weeks of undercover work the C. I. I. S., (Colby International Intelligence Service), has come upon some amazing and startling facts. We have learned that at precisely 8:00 P. M., tomorrow evening, in the Alumnae Building, a mass attack will be made by the robots upon the humans in Colby. Every effort has been put forth by the higher-ups in the service to quell the coming rebellion. A telegraphic report from our Fuhrer has just come in. Hmmm-mmm! There is a ray of hope! By combining and massing the entire student force we may possibly put down the revolution. Our leader further states that it will be most opportune to meet in the Alumnae Building at 7:30 P. M., or 7:45 P. M., that is, to arrive before the robots. Further plans will be made on the spot, concerning our method of counter-attack. Remember mass action will save us! (Please buy tickets in advance).

Kidding aside, students, never has so much work been put into a single play as in R. U. R. Never before has a play been presented in which so much work has been done on costumes, furniture, scenery, sound effects and lighting. Futuristic costumes; tremendous stage-crews; complicated sound effects, and complex lighting. The Powder and Wig has worked many weeks upon a play which presented considerable difficulty. Successful managing, directing and above all, hard work, overcame this difficulty.

The following is a complete cast in order of appearance:

Harry Domin, General Manager of Rossum's Universal Robots.

Authority On French Affairs To Lecture Here M. Frederix, Author And Journalist Scheduled For Many Meetings

Prof. William J. Wilkinson announced today that final arrangements have been completed for the visit to Colby of M. Pierre Frederix, French author and journalist, who is lecturing in the United States under the auspices of the Institute of International Education.

M. Frederix will be in Waterville Thursday and Friday, March 9 and 10. At least five meetings are scheduled for the lecturer and as many different subjects are proposed for discussion. Thursday afternoon M. Frederix will be the guest of Le Cercle Francais, and in the evening there will be a public address open to all students in the chapel. Friday morning the classes in History 6 and Government 2 will have an opportunity to learn something about the French Political parties from one who has been close to them all his life. The International Relations Club hears the speaker Friday afternoon, and President Johnson is to hold open house for the faculty members to meet M. Frederix Friday evening.

M. Frederix has lectured once before in this country, visiting only the Southern colleges, however. His experience is very wide, he having served in the World War, and having since traveled throughout Europe and Asia as a correspondent for French periodicals.

Students are urged to take advantage of this unusual opportunity to learn something of French government as well as to get the French point of view on world problems.

EMBASSY BULL SESSIONS DISCUSS MORAL PROBLEMS

Women Speak On Exploiting Others, God And Marriage

By Olive Pullen

Bull sessions, stimulated by Embassy leaders, were held in the women's dormitories Monday night after dinner.

The Foss Hall group, led by Miss Edith Lerrigo, discussed a major problem of life at college "using" other people for selfish purposes. It was decided that it is just as ignoble to allow oneself to be exploited as it is to exploit others. Said Miss Lerrigo, and the Foss Hall girls agreed with her, "The greatest contribution you can make to the world is an integrated self."

The Boutelle and Foster House girls had a joint session under the guidance of Miss Leonette Warburton. The question, "what is God, and what does He mean to us?" was discussed. There was also some discourse on the subject of birth control.

D U And Tri Delt Attain High Scores In Scholarship

At the end of the first semester, a tabulation of the scholastic standing of the fraternities and sororities shows that Delta Upsilon has risen from eighth place at the end of the second semester, '37-'38, to first place. Delta Delta Delta leads the sororities, having been second last spring. Another remarkable point is the 6.7 difference in average between the all-sorority average and the average of the non-sorority women, while the all-fraternity average leads that of non-fraternity men by only 1.2.

Women's Staff Publishes Echo

An innovation was tried this week in the publication of the ECHO: the women on the staff have taken entire responsibility for the production of this paper on time. Sally Aldrich acted as Editor, Ruth Gould and Estelle Rogers as News Editors and Prudence Piper and Ruth Roberts as Make-up editors. The reason for this experiment was two-fold: a picked group of the men's staff is to put out the Waterville Sentinel in a few days, and the Editor-in-Chief, Wilson Piper, decided that the women on the staff should have some experience on the production angle of the paper. Therefore, for the excellent job which has been done by the women, without any experience whatsoever, we say "Thanks, and Congratulations!"

Colby Glee Club Presents Varied Musical Program

Co-ed Trio, Quartet Of '40 String Trio, Robert Carr Star In Concert Feb. 23

By Estelle Rogers

The combined musical clubs of Colby, under the direction of John White Thomas, gave a most enjoyable concert in the Alumnae Building on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

Several different combinations performed. The Colby Trio—a group of songsters consisting of June Saunders, Patricia Thomas, and Polly Pratt sang "Summertime," "The Girl in the Bonnet of Blue," and "Ferdinand." As an encore they sang "Ferdinand" again, requesting the audience to join them.

Mr. Robert Carr, accompanist, played several selections from Chopin on the piano, and as an encore, played a piece of his own composition, "In A Spanish Cloister," which showed the influence of Chopin.

The quartet of 1940, Conrad Swift, Buell Merrill, Halsey Frederick, and Spencer Winsor sang "Do Ye Ken John Peel," in rousing manner. Then they were joined by Miss Evelyn Short, contralto soloist. She sang, Noel Coward's latest song, "Mad About The Boy."

The men's chorus sang several songs alone, among them a Negro spiritual, "Humble," in which Halsey Frederick was the soloist. For variety in this star-studded program, the well-known instrumental trio, Elizabeth Solie, piano; Elizabeth Bavis, violin; and Eleanor Bavis, cello; played selections from Beethoven and Mendelssohn. The combined choruses sang several songs, among them "Procession Of The Sardar," "Dark Water," with solos by Bernard Burbank and Evelyn Short; "Turtle Dove" with a solo by Conrad Swift; and "We Have A Song To Sing, O;" from "Yeomen Of The Guard;" by Gilbert and Sullivan. The program was brought to a close by the singing of "Alma Mater," in which the audience joined.

The program was followed by a dance, with music by the White Mules.

Colby Debaters Hold First International Debate Here

Last night the Colby debaters participated in their first international debate of this year when representatives from St. Patrick's College of Ottawa were their guests.

The question debated was: Resolved that the United States should form an alliance with Great Britain.

Colby's team of Dwight Sargent, and Nathanael Guptill upheld the negative side very convincingly.

This afternoon at 4:30 Colby debated Providence College. Flint Taylor and Howard Miller represented Colby as they debated the proposition: Resolved: That the United States should cease spending government funds for stimulating business.

As the custom is in the East, no decision was given in either of these debates.

Dwight Sargent, Nathanael Guptill and Flint Taylor have been chosen to speak in the Murray prize debate which will be held in the near future. Three more men will be selected to make up two three-men teams.

Men Consider Moral Problems In Changing World

The first two days of the second annual Fraternity Embassy at Colby have been an overwhelming success. The theme "Moral Foundations in a Changing World," has been discussed in all its possible connecting subjects throughout the fraternity houses on the campus, for the past two nights. With still another night for discussions, the strings of thought will be gathered together, with emphasis on the theme as a whole.

The embassy really opened when the various house representatives met their leaders when they arrived on the "Streamliner," Monday afternoon. The embassy officially opened when the representatives and leaders met at four o'clock on Monday in the Alumnae Building to discuss plans and organization for the embassy. In this session, the leaders and fraternity representatives became more acquainted and at ease with each other. The first "Bull session" opened that night in the respective houses. The women representatives with their leaders were also present at the afternoon session, and served tea for the assembly. The women's discussion groups also got underway Monday evening.

Silver, Gold, Blue Decorate Annual Tri Delt Dance

Although cloudy outside, it was gay and colorful in the silver, gold, and blue hall of the Elmwood Hotel as the Tri Delt held their annual dinner dance last Saturday, Feb. 25. With streamers flying and feet moving swiftly and merrily over the floor, the many couples danced to the tunes of Cecil Hutchinson and his Royal Commanders with the theme song, "Star-dust," sung by Philip Ames, Mayor and Mrs. Paul Dundas, Professor and Mrs. Arthur Eustis, Miss Virginia Swallow, and Mr. Arthur Seepe were the chaperones. Mildred Van Valkenburg was chairman of the dance committee.

Leadbetter Explains Health Department To Sociology Class

Mr. George W. Leadbetter, Commissioner of Health and Welfare in the State of Maine, talked before Dr. Morrow's Sociology 6 class last Saturday morning at 9:00 A. M. He began his speech by telling of the organization and functioning of the Department of Health and Welfare.

Governor Gardiner arranged a survey which led to the elimination, in 1931, of some of the old departments and established some new ones, including the Department of Health and Welfare. Prior to that time, the Department of Health and the Department of Public Welfare were separate.

Mr. Leadbetter stated that there are nine divisions of the Bureau of Health and Welfare. They are as follows:

1. The work of the diagnostic laboratory, in connection with communicable diseases.
2. The division of sanitary engineering, which tests annually more than 10,000 water samples and 3,500 milk samples.
3. Public health nursing service, (Continued on page 6)

Colby Mules Bow To Maine In Furious Last Minute Attack

Black Bears Keep High Scoring Bus Burrill Down To Few Points

In a rough and tumble contest before a packed house last Friday night, University of Maine's fighting quintet waited until the last three minutes to unleash a furious attack that spelled defeat for the Colby Mules and gained the Black Bears the 1939 state series crown. The score was 53-44.

Paced by Lanky Ed Stanley, the Maine forces took advantage of a disorganized Colby defense to drop in seven goals from the floor in those hectic three minutes, and held Colby to one foul goal during that same period. Stanley scored 17 points, all but two of them in the second half, producing a scoring punch that Colby was not able to overcome.

The Mules started off well in the first half, piling up a lead rapidly. Peters, Rimosukas, and Burrill combined to give the home forces a 24-14 lead. During this first stanza, the Mules passed well and shot accurately, and looked like they would be able to take Maine. Coming back in the second half, however, the Bears were a rejuvenated outfit. Bating into Colby's lead all during the half, Maine finally pulled even when Dana Drew, a fine player all night, dropped in a field goal to make the score 43 all. From then on there was no stopping the Bear. Stanley culminated his

MULE-KICKS

By RALPH DELANO

Continuing our nominations for a Colby Athletes Hall of Fame:

Delta Kappa Epsilon

The oldest fraternity on the campus has had a long list of famous athletes, including the Peabody boys, and Bill Millett, and many others. The most famous, however, was Bill Meanix of the class of 1916. Meanix transferred from Colby to Harvard to get his degree, but the Blue and Grey can still claim him as loyal son. He shattered track records right and left while he attended Colby. He continued his success in track after he finished college. In 1920 Meanix was a member of the United States Olympic team which competed with other nations in the Olympic games at Antwerp. He held the world's record in the 440 yard low hurdles for many years until it was lowered by Thompson of Dartmouth in 1922. He was track coach at Tufts, and during his mentorship produced outstanding athletes for the Jumbos. At present he is connected with the school system in Boston.

Tau Delta Phi

The youngest fraternity on the campus comes next. The Tau Delts can boast of Hank Davidson as their outstanding athlete. Davidson graduated in the class of 1934. He played in hockey, baseball and football while in college, his stellar work being in the last two. He was one of Coach Eddie Roundy's dependable hurlers and doubled for duty in the outfield. He was an All-Maine end in football. In the 1934 Bowdoin-Colby game, Hank Davidson virtually turned the tide of battle by consistently blocking Bowdoin's attempts at kicks. It was that same game in which Davidson scored on a passing play they made up in the huddle. The Polar Bears were baffled and so was Eddie Roundy.

Kappa Delta Rho

Theron Stinchfield of the class of 1933, was one of Colby's finer track men and an all around athlete, besides. He won in the State meet two successive years, in his specialty which was heaving the javelin. He placed in the New England. He holds the present Colby javelin record with a heave of 186 feet, 1 1/4 inches, which he made in his junior year in college. He also holds the record for the twelve pound shot. Besides these achievements, he was an able pole vaulter, consistently scaling over 11 feet; and he could toss the 16 pound shot 40 feet. Stinchfield was out for track all four years of his college career, doing his best work in his junior year. His senior year was marred by sickness which cut down his well-founded hopes that he would better the records he had set up in his junior year.

The average Colby Varsity basketballer is a Sophomore, 20 years old, weighs 165 pounds and stands five feet, eleven inches.

- C -

The American Olympic five averaged 6 feet, 5 inches, with a 6 feet, 9 inch center. The Japanese team, smothered by this lanky crew that often kept the ball for ten minutes at a time, have demanded and received a 6 feet, 2 inch limit for the next games, a help to most other nations also.

Daggett Breaks Pole Vault Record

Last Saturday, Johnny Daggett cleared the soaring height of 12 feet, 9 inches in the pole vault event of the Colby-Maine track meet, breaking the Colby-Maine meet record, the Colby indoor record, and the Colby field house record. In fact, Coach Norman C. Perkins expressed his belief that maintaining representatives of Maine, Leonard, the defending state champion, and Weaver, by 12 feet 6 inches, John had the cross-bar set up another three inches and vaulted over it in beautiful style.

Burrill Leads Mules To Close Win Over Bates

Bobcats Rally At Half And Nearly Tie Score

With Buster Burrill leading the Mule attack with 15 points. Colby managed to stave off the Bates Bobcats at Lewiston last Wednesday evening, 46-43. With three minutes left to play, the Bates team with Woodbury doing most of the scoring, dropped in ten points to nearly eke out a win.

Colby led at halftime, 23-16, but was met by a determined Bates offense at the start of the second half. Led by Kenney and Woodbury, the Bobcats rapidly cut down the Mule lead.

Al Rimosukas and Mike Spina aided the Mule attack with 11 and 9 points, respectively.

beautiful playing with three field goals, and Bourgoin put in two more.

It was a brilliant victory for the Maine team and for their coach, youthful Hal Woodbury, who took Coach Kenyon's place in the middle of the season. Woodbury, former Maine star, has had control of the team since Kenyon's illness.

The largest factor in the Colby defeat was the fact that Maine was able to hold high scoring Bus Burrill down to few points. Guarding the Mule star closely, the Maine players removed a serious threat. Burrill scored nine points. Al Rimosukas and Gil Peters took top scoring honors for the home team, each putting in ten points.

Individual star for the Bears was Stanley, whose one handed shots won the game. Bourgoin, Drew and Wilson all helped to trim down the Maine first half deficit, and paved the way for Stanley's great exhibition in the final stages.

In a preliminary game, the Colby Jayvees managed to get a one basket victory over a hard-working Higgins Classical team, 51-49. Colby led at the half, 31-20, and the Higgins comeback just fell short in the final minute.

Try as we may, we find it well nigh impossible to keep in pace with the tempo of the modern scene. Contemporary history is only half reported, half written. One interpretation will not suffice. They are as varied and different as spectators are numerous. Some are more fortunate in having an opportunity to see more intimately and within a wider scope our dynamic civilization. Pierre Van Paassen has tried to give continuity to the human procession as it marches through the years. In his partially autobiographical account of "Days In Our Years" he has given this to us with a more significant emphasis on the biography of our generation.

More specific aspects of our cultural scene are contained in such a book as "Modern Works Of Art" in which are presented the works of such artists as Cezanne and van Gogh in painting; Maillol and Epstein in sculpture; and many other noted names in constructions, architecture and furniture. We may have ideas and form opinions of the culture of a people, a period, or a country; but only through art can we grasp anything like an adequate comprehension of their aspirations and realizations.

To turn nearer home we have only to read the title of George Fielding Eliot's new book "The Ramparts We Watch," to set everyone to speculating as to a possible invasion of America. Just what are the possibilities of an attack upon our country? And what defenses have we with which to meet such an attack? Most timely in such a discussion when war is increasingly imminent with every passing hour—"his bold and accurate book carries urgency and importance."

The prevailing advance opinion on marriage which prompted a questionnaire among the students on the advisability of a course in marriage at Colby has lead us to believe that marriage as an institution is weakening in its foundations. But Robert and Francis Brinkley a thoroughly modern young couple, hold the belief that marriage still has value of an unquestioned definiteness and permanence. "What Is Right With Marriage" is a straightforward statement. Once again a young couple affirm their faith in this basic institution.

It would be unfair indeed to suppose that this modern world has left us without the mystery and adventure that challenged such explorers as Columbus and Magellan so many years ago.

Vilhjalmer Stiffanssen claims that such may still be found in the "Unsolved Mysteries of the Arctic."

Escort Service Established On Buckeye Campus

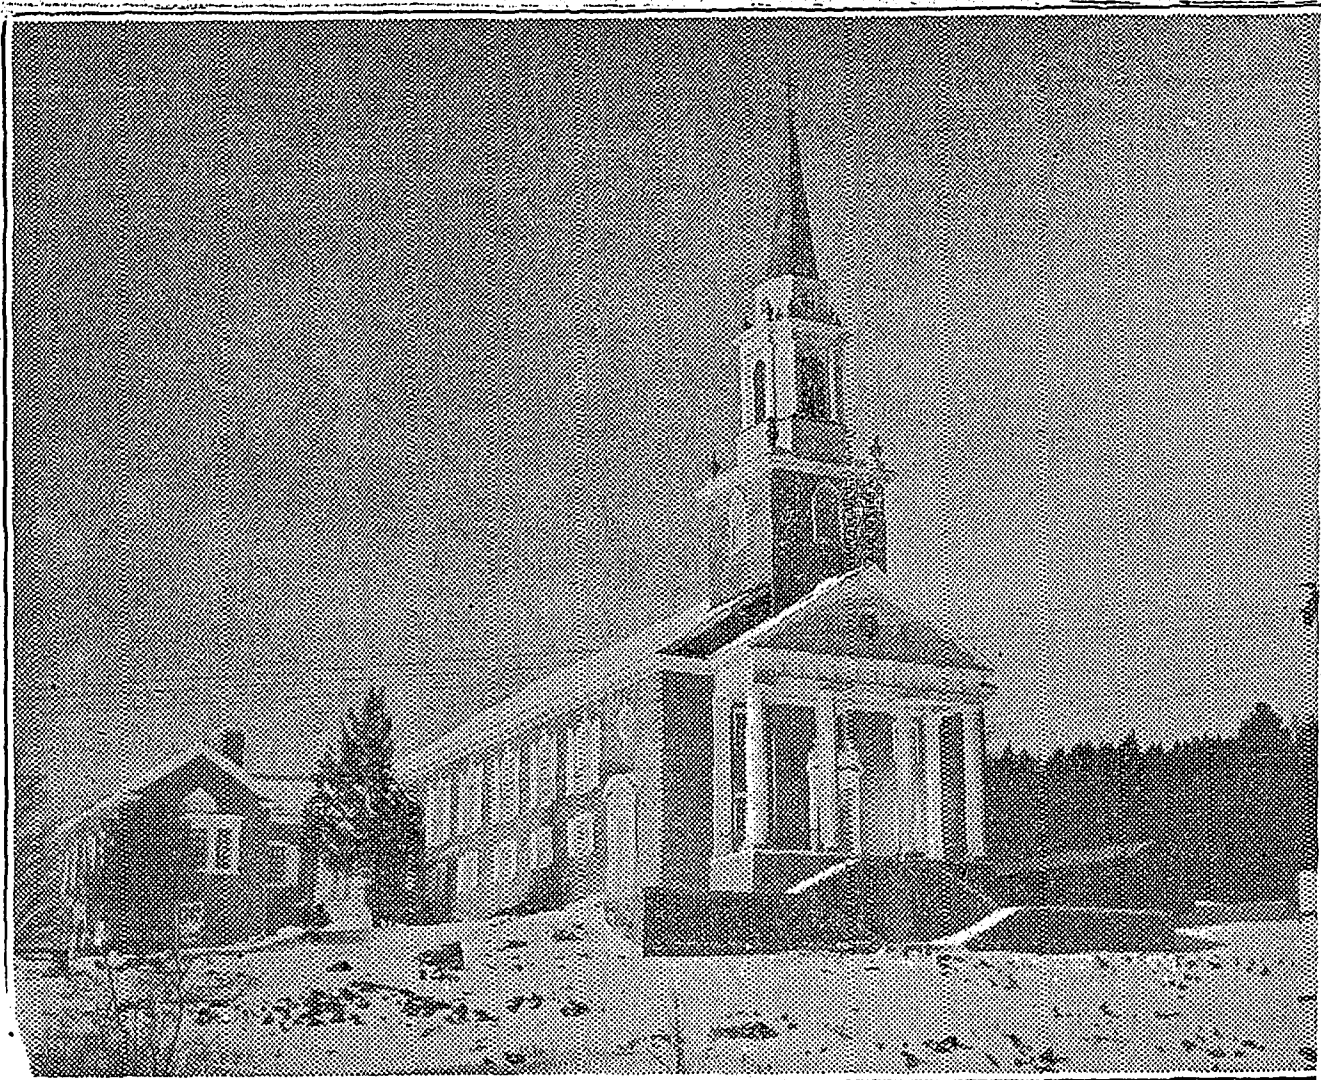

Columbus, O.—(ACP)—Yes, believe it or not, today's co-eds are in need of men to escort them to social and good-time functions.

Proof of the fact is a brand-new survey made by two Ohio State University students, J. W. Danner and Don Ziegler—proof that was so conclusive to them that they've announced the establishment of an escort service on the Buckeye campus.

Of the 213 girls questioned, 109 indicated they would "perhaps" patronize such a service, and 32 would definitely make use of it. More than three-fourths of them would use the service to get a date for a visiting friend, while half of them would patronize the services for themselves.

"Oddly enough, some of the most popular girls are among the most interested," Danner pointed out. "Part of the interest is created by the novelty of the idea, and part of it seems to arise from advantages we didn't even see ourselves until they were pointed out by some of the girls."

"At present Danner and Ziegler have 10 escorts engaged in the service. Prices are, in addition to the expenses of the date, 75 cents for afternoon, $1.50 evenings, $3 formal. Photographs of "esquires" will be furnished upon request.

LORIMER CHAPEL COMPLETED

With its pointed spire and stately steps, Lorimer Chapel looks down upon the present Colby Campus. It will still be the highest building on the New Campus. The exterior has been completed and the interior will be finished when the campus is ready for use.

Men's Chapel Hears Quartet Of 1940

Dean Marriner opened the men's assembly last Friday by speaking about the Fraternity Embassy. He emphasized the fact that pledges of all fraternities are also included in the embassy. All fraternity members were urged to attend the voluntary chapel meeting last Tuesday.

President Johnson introduced the Class of 1940 quartet who occupied the rest of the assembly with various vocal selections. The quartet, including Halsey Frederick, Conrad Swift, Buell Merrill, and Spencer Winsor, sang "Brothers in Song, Sing On," "Absent," "The Whiffenpoof's Song," "O' Man Noah," "Mandy Lee," "Colby March of Progress," and, as an encore, "Cocaine Bill."

McMichael Sees Hope For Future Of China

The most disagreeable weather of the year failed last Sunday to keep a good crowd from hearing Smiling Jack McMichael speak to the Forum on his recent experiences in China. Talking in the Congregational Church, Mr. McMichael succeeded in entertaining as well as informing his attentive audience.

Jack explained that although he was expected to return from China, where he has spent the last twelve months, with a long face and a downcast attitude, bemoaning the fate of the Chinese. And he saw enough to make him feel a little that way.

But, said Jack, there is something indomitable, something unconquerable, about the spirit of a Chinaman. Especially is this true in those who are attending the universities which have been forced to move far to the West, their campuses having been destroyed, their materials confiscated by the invading army. And so Jack McMichael felt that there is hope for China.

It may not come tomorrow, not even next year. But the pendulum is bound to swing. Every indication today in China points to this fact, both in occupied and in free territory. The Japanese militarists cannot control what they have conquered. Guerilla warfare and open defiance of the Jap regime are everywhere apparent.

The Japanese have supposedly occupied a large portion of Eastern China. Actually, however, they control only the railroads and large cities in these districts, and their government is helpless in the outlying areas. This job of subduing China is just too big for a country the size of Japan, said McMichael. And the day is not far off when a bigger and better China, a really unified nation, not a Japanese puppet state, will come out

Students Of Rutgers University Act After Discussion

New Brunswick, N. J.—(ACP)—Workers of the world, unite! With this slogan students of the Rutgers University economics of labor class took Professor Walter R. Peabody at his word and organized a union to put classroom discussion into practice. But the plan seems to have backfired on the innocent proposal of the instructor.

With a five-point program as their platform, the students demand optional exams, no classes after dance weekends, lecturers from outside the campus, abolition of taking the roll in class and the returning of all test papers within a week after tests.

Negotiations are proceeding slowly with the cooperation of the instructor. Student officers of the union hope that an agreement will be reached soon. They point out, rather casually, that the weapons of a union such as a strike, picketing and a boycott can be employed, if necessary.

Undergrad Faculties Succeed At Harvard

Cambridge, Mass.—(ACP)—Pointing the way to what may become a new system of United States education, Harvard University authorities have declared successful the experimental plan of training high school graduates by "undergraduate faculties."

Designed to aid high school graduates who cannot attend college, the nation's oldest university has created classes that are taught by students. Under the new system, 50 Boston high school alumni have followed college courses under the volunteer tutelage of 100 Harvard graduates, most of them honor men.

Classes in the unique course meet at night in the dormitory rooms of "faculty members." There they have relayed on to them the material that the "teachers" have learned in their college courses.

The "pickaback scholar" plan is being continued this semester, and has interested National Youth Administration officials, who are considering offering this work to college students who now receive government aid.

Besides learning in evening classes, the "pickaback scholars" watch experiments in the university's laboratories and have full use of the university's libraries.

Blazing youth on the Wheaton College campus have formed a new Red Heads Club.

47 Colleges Have Refugee Students

New York City—(ACP)—At least 47 colleges throughout the country have made plans for providing scholarships and living expenses for this academic term to European refugee students, it has been announced here by the newly-formed Intercollegiate Committee to Aid Student Refugees, a non-sectarian organization to extend and coordinate refugee work on the campuses.

In most instances college administrations have waived tuition fees while student-faculty committees have raised funds for room and board and living expenses.

The Intercollegiate Committee seeks to bring to this country only students of great ability whose achievements and personality put them on a level with Rhodes scholars. Selections are therefore based on exceptional academic records, well rounded interest in non-academic subjects, together with testimonials of excellent character.

THE COLLEGIATE REVIEW

(By Associated Collegiate Press) Seventy U. S. colleges and universities have provided scholarships for refugee students.

Two-thirds of Vermont's village communities are represented in the University of Vermont student body.

The University of Georgia has banned student hitch-hiking at night and has forbidden co-eds to hitch-hike at any time.

The University of Mississippi is the latest of the colleges to open a student-operated night club on its campus. A nickelodeon furnished the music for its opening night.

Of 333 University of Oklahoma co-eds answering a questionnaire, 313 checked "to make friends" as the reason for coming to college.

The earth is 13,900,000,000 years old, according to Dr. Alois F. Kovarik, Yale University physicist.

More than 40,000 of New York University's 200,000 alumni live in New York City.

Harvard University students are approximately two inches taller than the average undergraduate at mid-western universities.

Almost a million gallons of fuel oil are required to heat Mount Holyoke College buildings a year.

Exactly 544 of the 685 Federal Bureau of Investigation staff members have university degrees.

Purdue University is planning a summer school to train fraternity house mothers and counselors.

Of the 13,225 young people who registered with the NYA employment service in October, only one per cent were college graduates.

Co-ed Musical Trio Entertain In Chapel

The Women's Instrumental Trio composed of Elizabeth Bavis, violin, Eleanor Bavis, cello, and Elizabeth Solie, piano, played for the women's assembly on Monday morning, Feb. 27. The trio played the Allegro Movement of Mozart's G Minor Concerto and the Andante from Mendelssohn's Trio in D Minor.

Miss Ninetta Runnals also spoke on the Women's Embassy that is here this week and expressed the hope that the girls would all find it helpful to discuss their problems with experienced youth leaders. A complete program of all activities during the Women's Embassy was handed out to students.

Quotable Quotes

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"More complete service, more expert observation, clearer and more interesting reports are the ways that the newspaper strives to improve itself. Let the educator realize the value of this service and utilize it to the advantage of his students. He will have made an important contribution to our civilization if he can teach his students how to read a newspaper." New York University's Professor H. B. Rathbone believes that we should be taught how to use "the greatest educational force in society."

"Our young men may come out all right—probably they will but at college age they are still soft. For each new generation infancy is being prolonged a little more. The law of the survival of the fittest is more and more being suspended, both by government and by indulgent parents. The consequences are a little frightening." President Tyler Dennet of Williams College gives us a new slant on the growth of education.

"In the harmony of letters and the cooperation of the mind, it would be almost impossible to raise a war of hysteria. Hope for peace lies in the colleges, in the development of the mind." President William Mather Lewis, Lafayette College, believes educators should be affiliated with embassies and legations throughout the world.

Amherst College Has Pre-Marriage Forum

Of interest to Colby students who are seeking some type of marriage course is the first Pre-Marriage Forum of Amherst college, sponsored by the Amherst Christian Association, which will be opened this week with an address by Professor Erdman Harris, Religious Director of Lawrenceville Academy. Modeled after similar forums held at Vassar, Mt. Holyoke, and Wesleyan, the Amherst discussion will study the Pre-Marriage subject from the physiological, sociological, ethical, and spiritual aspects.

Future lecturers scheduled to address Amherst students during the series are Dr. Grace Loucks Elliott, Dr. Oliver Butterfield, and Dr. Richard Folsom.

The lecturers will address morning chapel meetings, and lead informal discussion groups in the afternoons.

Men Enlightened . . .

The men have been heard to remark in the fullness of their ignorance that the rules by which the women live are superfluous and silly, and that the governing board is under the iron thumb of faculty pressure. May we explain?

In the first place, the men don't seem to know anything about the subject. Some of the weird ideas which they hold as to the functions of Student Government in the Women's Division are ridiculously far-fetched.

The Executive Board is elected on a non-political basis. To put the matter briefly, no change or addition to the Student Government Constitution can be made without the two-thirds vote of the whole Women's Division and changes or additions to the by-laws such as those governing absences from dormitories and smoking, are discussed and voted upon by the Executive Board.

This board, elected, let us repeat, non-politically, has powers granted to it by the vote of the Women's Division as a whole. Its rules are carefully checked over once each year, and compared with the rules of other colleges, by a committee of its members, and changes are prescribed to the vote of the board when necessary. This is done independently of faculty assistance.

Board meetings are attended by eleven students and usually the faculty adviser, making a total of twelve equal votes. Faculty advice backed by seventeen years of experience is given in discussions among all the members. The president of the board presides over the meetings, and acts as spokesman for the group when decisions have been made; but she has no more power than any other of its members.

We recommend that anyone who wishes to speak out against Student Government first find out what he's talking about.

Congratulations, Colby Choir . . .

Thank you, John White Thomas and the Colby College Choir, for the excellent concert. And thank you, Colby students, for your almost unanimous support of this college activity. The enthusiasm which the students, faculty, and townspeople show for the work of the musical clubs indicates the value and popularity of the clubs more strongly every year.

YE GLADIATOR COLUMN

Dear Gladiator:

Spencer Winsor must be congratulated on his fine column in the ECHO this week. It really was a pleasure to see Mr. Winsor come out with the statement that "war is the probable outcome" of the new crisis brewing in Europe. While this prediction may not come true this spring, it seems quite probable that the long-awaited Second World War cannot be too far off in the future.

However, I would like to take issue with one of Mr. Winsor's statements. He believes that England is finished with its "appeasement" policy and has realized that she must pursue a stronger policy with respect to the totalitarian States. I do not think, that as long as Chamberlain remains in office, this policy can really go into effect.

Chamberlain went to Munich with the unofficial support of the President as conveyed to him by our ambassador, Mr. Kennedy. He knew at that time that the United States would back up England to the extent of sending everything but men to the Democracies in their fight against the dictators. Germany at that time was not as fully prepared for war as she is now and as she will be in future months. Japan is gradually withdrawing troops from China to prepare for the coming battle with Russia. Italy has almost completely finished mopping up in Spain and can now concentrate her forces in the Mediterranean. Germany is gradually increasing her oil reserves with oil from Russia and Roumania.

France has recently carried the torch against the dictators. She sent troops into French Somaliland in defiance of Mussolini. It seems as though England were now following France instead of the opposite being the case. England may still pursue a truly vital foreign policy but I believe that this return to real British Diplomacy can only be possible with the removal of Chamberlain. If Chamberlain goes, then we may see England once again determined to adhere to its treaties and obligations as did the England of 1914. Until then, we can only wait and hope for the best, knowing that the worst is yet to come. May England only see herself as others see her.

Sincerely,

Emanuel K. Frucht.

TODAY'S HISTORY

By SPENCER WINSOR

As Italians began to move from France and Corsica at the command of the Italian government, France sought in this move an answer to future French-Italian relations. Two reasons for the Italian move were given: (1) Italy soon expects to be at war with France; (2) Italy wishes to scare France into a belief that the agitation for Tunisia, Corsica and Nice will be backed up. If we believe the New Republic's editorials (that Hitler and Mussolini are trying to force another Munich), then we will accept the second explanation. If on the other hand, we take at face value the statements of Neville Chamberlain—to aid France if her vital interests are threatened, and that of Lord Halifax just last week—to resist "by force any threat to their (French) rights or independence. . .," and Daladier's determination to "stand firm in the face of all threats," then war is the only answer for dictators cannot back down and by the democracies own words they will not back down.

But the move of Italians to the Fatherland was only one part of the European political mystery. Finance and trade offered other problems. The Dutch Guilder continued to fall in the face of a rise in almost every other monetary unit, it was unexplained aside from the suggestion that it might be that the Holland Jews were removing capital slowly but steadily, fearing German pressure on the Dutch market.

Germany, in Hitler's words, "must export or die." Since Russia has refused to have anything to do with German goods, and Central Europe seems unable to furnish cash for them, and non-European countries are suspicious of the German barter system, England which can offer rich markets is on the spot. Should she relieve this economic pressure of a Reich which does not hesitate to threaten British with war? If England will not help, will Hitler be faced by economic collapse or the alternative, war, choose the alternative? Chamberlain steered a middle course, typically English, and typically conservative. A trade commission was sent to the Reich, and reports circulated that it would probably come home with new markets for English products. How ironic that England should now assist Germany in a crisis which is directly traceable to Germany's effort to keep up with England's vast arms rebuilding program.

Russia, who does not need to import, is the real director of Continental trade. Last week she intrigued usually-on-the-fence Poland a bid nearer to the Soviet by an advantageous trade agreement. The Soviet refused German trade and laughed when axis partners Germany and Italy quarrelled over the Russian oil surplus which had been promised to Italy three weeks before.

THIS COLLEGIATE WORLD

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

If they are nothing else, the 15 pledges of Alpha Tau Omega at the University of Missouri are ingenious. To protect recent assignment of pledge "duties" outside their fraternity house, they marched down to the city jail, asked (and received) lodging for the night.

The jailer claimed he meant no slur on their valor when he quartered them in the little used women's section of the "cooler."

University of Illinois males, a bit out-of-sorts over the many systems used to pick campus beauty queens, have devised a rating form they believe beats any used elsewhere. Their subjects are given points for the following: 2 points for a letter from the boy-friend at home; 5 points for a male phone call; 7 points for a long-distance phone call; 8 points for each week-end date; 10 points for a major dance bid; 35 points for the first fraternity dance bid; 35 points for the first fraternity pin acquired.

Under this system, you are really a queen if you can score 50 points in a week. Chief problem is to get the co-eds to give accurate reports on phone calls, letters, etc.

You have probably heard of the student who went to school several years and lost so many hours by cutting classes that he came out in the hole, but here is an authentic case in which the collegian actually broke even for one semester.

It seems that a Texas Technological College student enrolled for a total of 11 hours. Finding that his load was too heavy he dropped one of these. When the semester was over he had slunked nine more and received so many cuts that he lost the one he had passed. And so he was back where he started, even with the college!

Fraternity Men Have Superior Records In Scholarship

Maintaining the superior scholarship standing they have held for eight successive years, fraternity men in the United States in 1937-1938 increased by 60 per cent the margin by which they excelled non-fraternity men the previous year, it was announced this week at the completion of a survey made by the National Interfraternity Conference.

At Colby college, six of the eight fraternity chapters showed scholarship above the all men's average, and the fraternity index was above the all-men's index. The study also disclosed that Colby fraternity men improved in scholarship from 1936-37. Average chapter membership was 20. In the New England survey, 204 fraternity chapters had an average membership of 38.62.

The National Interfraternity Conference scholarship study covered 1930 chapters, composed of a total of 63,481 men, located on 170 campuses. The average chapter size the country over was 32.89. Not all educational institutions grade students, but the survey included all schools in which grades are available.

Asserting that poor scholarship among fraternity men is a myth that has been dispelled, Dr. Alvan E. Duerr, scholarship chairman of the Conference, stated that the showing is the more significant since during the half dozen years of the depression the scholastic record of student bodies as a whole has improved steadily. An improvement was recorded the past year in 52 per cent of the 170 institutions surveyed.

That scholarship conditions seem healthier among fraternity men in the larger institutions than in the smaller, unquestionable because the larger institutions have organized social life more effectively and are furnishing better guidance, was pointed out by Dr. Duerr: Fraternities at every university in the Big Ten Conference, with the exception of Iowa, either made a pronounced advancement in scholarship or maintained a healthy scholastic condition, he reported.

Miss Richardson, Colby Alumna, Praises Sociology Lecturers

Dr. Curtis Morrow has received the following interesting letter from Miss Sylvia Richardson, a Colby alumna, commending the series of lectures sponsored by the Sociology department. Miss Richardson is doing social work in Aroostook.

Dear Professor Morrow:

I noticed in the newspapers the other day that you are to have lectures in Sociology class for the next semester by people in the public welfare departments in Maine. I was certainly delighted to read it, as I know of how much value such lectures would have been to me, had I had them when I entered this work.

Of course I was also pleased to see that Miss Parrott and Mr. MacDonald of our department are to talk as I think they have done more to improve children's work in Maine than anyone else in the past few years. Of course I would think that! But I have certainly benefited a great deal by their training.

I'm hoping some of the best girls in the Sociology class will be taking the Personnel Board exams in the spring and will want to get into our department. I almost wrote you last spring to say that I thought there might be an opportunity for Colby girls but then I decided you might think I was telling you something you already knew about.

I hope the students will get a good idea of the welfare set up in Maine from the talks and will really remember it because I have decided that a very few and too few people know much about the State's affairs. I remember you used to tell us that, and of course I didn't realize how little I knew until I got into it. And I still know little.

Being in Aroostook is a grand experience, especially as we have a trained social worker as a supervisor now, and it's interesting to see changes for the better after two years. And as you always said, social changes come very slowly. I love the children's work, that is, particularly the committed children's work, and I hardly knew that there were State wards when I was in college.

Smyrna Mills, isn't in my territory but Squa Pan and the Oxbow are and I'm sure they are equal to all your remarks about Smyrna Mills!

I'm sure you will enjoy this story about transportation up here. I was in Presque Isle one day when the roads were terribly icy, and I had to go to Ashland, so I thought I'd try the train. I phoned the station and asked whether there was a train to Ashland. The man said, "Oh, yes, you leave here at 10:10 A. M., go to Squa Pan, stay over night and get to Ashland at 9:30 the next morning." As the distance is 27 miles, I decided to struggle over by car.

Sincerely,

Sylvia M. Richardson.

Interfaith Team Conducts Deputation Trips Last Sunday

The Interfaith team which is a part of the national effort to bring about understanding and brotherhood between Jews, Catholics, and Protestants began a series of deputation trips last Sunday. At Madison the team held a planned debate on "Freedom in a Democracy" before a large audience. Saturday afternoon, March 4, they will speak before the South China grange. Sunday afternoon, March 5, the team will conduct a similar service at the Methodist Church in Fairfield.

Because of weather conditions, "The Great Choice" was not presented at Fairfield last Sunday, but it will be presented for the first time in the Alumnae Building, Sunday evening, March 5, at 8:30, at the Forum program.

Alta Estabrook, '41, led the deputation service at the Young People's meeting of the First Baptist church of Oakland, last Sunday evening. Marilyn Ireland, '42, accompanied by Olive Savage, '41, was the soloist. Benon Topalian, '41, and Willard Smyth, '39, conducted the 7:00 service.

French Architecture Subject Of Strong's Illustrated Lecture

Members and friends of the Colby Federation of Arts were extremely fortunate Monday, Feb. 27 to hear another of their series of illustrated lectures. The lecture read by Professor Strong traced the development of French Architecture from Roman times to 1922. The views of Gothic and Romanesque churches were particularly attractive. The numerous allusions made the lecture of unusual interest to students of both French and History.

Among the water color drawings which were shown were several of unusual merit and interest. Numbers 7 and 18 are by a former Colby student. These paintings are as follows and will be on exhibition in the library.

The drawings include:

1. In this we are naked and raceless, Frances Hilderbrand, Battle Creek, Mich.
2. Sparkling Blues, Regina Marcotte, Belmont, Mass.

Colby J. V. Track Team To Meet Bridgton On Saturday

Next Saturday, March 4, Bridgton Academy's track team will come to Colby to compete with the Colby Junior Varsity track team in the Field House. The Colby team will be made up of freshmen and members of the varsity track squad who haven't earned letters yet. The freshman team, strengthened by Elder, Goffin, Foster and Gooch ought to give the boys from Bridgton a bit of real competition. The meet will start promptly at three o'clock.

Delta Upsilon Holds 87th Annual Banquet, Sargent, Toastmaster

Thursday night the Colby Chapter of Delta Upsilon fraternity held their eighty-seventh annual banquet in the Red Lounge of the Crescent Hotel. The banquet was unusual in the excellency of the speakers and in the presence of other than D. U. men.

Individualist Dwight Sargent was brilliant as toastmaster. Chapter President, Nathanael Guptill gave an inspiring challenge to the initiates to maintain the prestige and influence that D. U. has attained on the campus.

Former pledge captain Clifford Came spoke for the Neophytes, accepting the challenge and expressing their pleasure at the opportunity to join such a distinguished brotherhood.

Hugh A. Smith, principal of Colburn, spoke for the Alumni. He spoke of the prestige and power that D. U. has as a national fraternity and of the numerous famous men that are members.

The guest of honor and most distinguished speaker was President Franklin W. Johnson. President Johnson, although not a D. U. himself, complimented the Brotherhood upon their success in putting their ideals into practice. He also explained the plan for building fraternity houses on Mayflower Hill. President Johnson especially complimented Delta Upsilon for having taken the forward step of abolishing the less dignified forms of initiation. He said that D. U. was able to impress upon its members that they were joining a great and distinguished society without beating it into them.

The largest number of pledges to be initiated at one time in several years were: Ralph Delano, '40, Carl McGraw, '40, John Morrison, '40, Spencer Winsor, '40, Lawrence Berry, '41, Charles Huff, '41, Clifford Came, '42, Darold Hocking, '42, Edward Loring, '42, Gordon Richardson, '42, Walter Woodward, '42, Addison Steves, '42, and Harry Johnson, '42.

Tau Delta Phi Initiates Thirteen

Tau Alpha of Tau Delta Phi, held its annual initiation recently and the following thirteen pledges were initiated: David Brodie, '42, Robert Cohen, '42, Klaus Dreyer, '40, Emanuel Frucht, '42, Gerald Gilson, '42, Milton Hamilt, '42, Alvin Jolovitz, '42, Melvin Lock, '42, Saul Millstein, '42, Albert Newell, '42, Albert Schoenberger, '42, Robert Wit, '42, Eliot Young, '42.

On Sunday evening, at the Elmwood Hotel, the induction banquet, for the above pledges was held. This occasion also celebrated the sixth anniversary of Tau Delta Phi on the Colby campus.

The faculty members present were: Dr. William J. Wilkinson, Professor Hans C. Thory, Dr. Isaac J. Schoenberg and Professor Arthur G. Eustis.

Among the alumni who attended were: Julius Sussman, '19, founder of Gamma Phi Epsilon, out of which Colby's Tau Delta Phi grew, Herman Goffin, '16, chairman of committee in charge of the coming Fraser Night, Dr. Benjamin Wolman, Fred Sterns, '29, Leo Barron, '35, Ralph Nathanson, '34, and Arthur Levine, '38. Deke Lion Leaps To Championship

A rampant Deke lion roared to the fraternity basketball championship by subduing a supposedly potent Phi Delt aggregation by a lop-sided 55 to 27 score.

Starting fast and working like a well oiled machine the Deke juggernaut ravaged the enemy ranks into a state of submission as they rolled on to tally basket after basket. Paced by Young, the boys of the "burned house" led 19 to 8 as the half ended. Downie and Ames Go Wild

Soon after the gun renewed hostilities for the second half, the "Mutt and Jeff" of Potatoland, "Oneie" Ames and Farmer Downie, went to town. They rifled baskets from all angles, and when the smoke cleared, had netted 29 points between them.

The yeoman-like work of Beach and White on the defense was superb as they held the high scoring enemy forward wall to a scant 17 points.

The summary:

Dekes (55) (27) Phi Dels
Downie, rf 6 (1) 2 rf, East
Ames, lf 7 (2) 5 lf, Salisbury
Daggett lf 2
Young, c 5 (4) 1 (1) c, Reed
Beach, rg 2 2 rg, Stumpp
White, lg 2 3 lg, Cobb

A. T. O. Trims Tau Dels
The A. T. O. quintet finally came through to wind up the current fraternity basketball season with a victory over a stubborn Tau Delt team 27 to 20.

The game was close and hard fought all the way Bubar and Cotton, however, teamed up to garner 20 of the total points thus keeping their team from being the sole occupant of the cellar berth. Borovoy played well for the losers as he pierced the netting five times for 10 points.

Sawyer, Berry Lead, Basketball Scores

Sawyer of the Lambda Chi interfraternity basketball team lead the league in scoring this season with 93 points and Larry Berry of the D. U. five was runner-up with 88 points. The ten high scorers were as follows:

Sawyer, L. C. A.		42	9	93
Berry, D. U.		38	11	88
East, P. D. T.		38	6	82

Manuscripts And Melodies A New One For Your Bull Sessions

By KEN SCOTT

Random House, that New York publishing concern, which does so much to bring good books to the American public, at reasonable prices, has recently added two first-rate new titles to the Modern Library Giants. One of these added late in 1938 is James T. Farrell's, "Studs Lonigan," the other is an Anthology of the Philosophy of John Dewey, the noted American educator. The Dewey Anthology is entitled "Intelligence in the Modern World," and is provided with an excellent critical introduction by Joseph Ratner.

Recommending Farrell's "Studs Lonigan" may startle the unwary, since the book is a painfully realistic study of a young man's growth to manhood, with an almost too graphic emphasis on the more flamboyant experiences of adolescence. If people want to read something nice or pretty, they should not read "Studs Lonigan." If, on the other hand, they dare to face the tragic truth of what a sordid life may mean and what an undisciplined life can result in, "Studs Lonigan" is definitely their book. The old saying, "To the Pure in Mind, All Things Are Pure," bears particular emphasis in connection with Mr. Farrell's novel. Numerous people will consider it too coarse a novel for general circulation, but they should be reminded of the fact that literature is never coarse for its own sake, that life may be coarse but that the artist's interpretation of it must always be truthful.

Anthology Up-to-date

The Anthology of Dewey's Philosophy is a complete and up-to-date selection of representative material from Dewey's philosophy. It even includes extracts from his new book, "Logic," which is still in press. Mr. Ratner's introduction emphasizes a fact, which most of us already know, that Dewey's speculations touch on every important intellectual and cultural problem of today.

Both the books which we have mentioned can be secured from the Colby Bookstore or any other bookstore for $1.25 apiece.

CHOIR RECITAL

Generally speaking, most of us are pleased with the concert given by the Colby College Choir last Thursday evening. To be sure, the program was a bit long and so varied that it seemed to lack unity. The members of the choir were, on the whole, more effective than the instrumental soloists, though Mr. Carr is to be commended for his reading of Chopin. There is only one query that comes to mind; we wonder if it would be amiss another year to offer a shorter program with consistently better music throughout. Certainly, the choir has shown that it can sing pieces of more than average difficulty successfully. Why should they sing pieces which are mediocre and difficult when really good songs are no harder?

OUR MUSIC

A recent appropriation will enable the College to add quite a few records to what is now a good but scanty collection. The type and variety of the new classical records that may be bought depends upon the choice and wishes of you—the students.

Do you want the new records to be purchased in a specialized field? In other words, would you like the music library to complete its collection of all the music of one composer such as Beethoven, or would you rather have the college buy varied recordings? The recordings can't be bought without a definite plan, because it is useless to try to buy everything with the limited appropriation at the disposal of the Music Department. We might mention that the collection is particularly lacking in Russian and Modern music.

If you have any suggestions to make, Mr. Thomas will be glad to receive them personally or to have them sent to him through this column.

Campaign For Far Eastern Students Fund Opens

The campaign for funds for Far Eastern student relief will get under way this year at the beginning of next week. The quota throughout the colleges in the United States has been doubled from $25,000 last year to $50,000 for this year. Consequently the returns from the Colby students should be doubled. Last year Colby realized $100. $200 is not hard to imagine when there are over 600 students in Colby. If every student in Colby gave twenty-five cents to this fund, Colby could offer $150. This shouldn't be hard for any Colby student when it is remembered that five cents will give a Chinese student three meals, fifteen cents will give him a week's shelter, and one dollar will give him three weeks board or more. $200 will pay for room and board for a whole year for ten students.

ed their guest leaders to the rest of the students present. The women also presented their guest leaders at that time. Dean Marriner presided while Dr. Newton Fetter, chairman of the men leaders, spoke.

Although only indirectly connected with the embassy, the joint S. C. M. cabinet met with Edith Lerrigo to discuss pertinent matters of interest to the "Y," at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Alumnae Building.

At five-thirty, the student representatives, together with their embassy leaders, had supper at the Hollyhock House. President Johnson, Dean Marriner, Professor Newman, and the ministers from three Waterville churches, the Reverend Messrs. Metzner, Bromley, and Brush, were present at this gathering. These men spoke of the success of the Embassy and the interest taken in it. Dr. Newton Fetter presided. At seven o'clock, the leaders returned to their respective houses for the evening Bull Session which lasted far into the night.

- 9. The bureau of institutional service, which supervises the functioning of state institutions.

After Mr. Leadbetter had finished discussing these nine topics, he talked for the rest of the period on the provisions of the law relating to poor relief. He said that the state has had an increase in the number of paupers since the passing of a law stating that if a person is absent from a place of settlement for five years or more without pauper assistance, he loses his settlement in that town or city. If he has not gained settlement somewhere else, the state is liable for his support. The State of Maine spends about a million dollars a year for the support of state paupers.

Emphasis was placed upon having the right philosophy of conduct in boy-and-girl relationships. Another important subject talked about was the reconciliation of religion to science. The girls at Dutton and Mower houses talked with Mrs. Andrew Craig on the questions: Should one have a career after marriage? Is there a God? There was an almost even division of opinion on the advisability of a career after marriage, some of the girls being strongly for and some strongly against it. As for the second question, there was a tendency to doubt the existence of God, on the basis of there being a lack of scientific proof.

Mrs. Craig was asked by your ECHO reporter if she finds a great amount of religious scepticism in the different colleges she visits.

"I do find much scepticism," said Mrs. Craig, "but I don't believe there is as much now as there was when I went to school, just after the World War."
