Mules Fell Bears To Lead Series STUDENTS VOTE FOR CARNIVAL QUEEN FEB. 6

Who Will She Be? All Girls Eligible

Four Will Be Attendants,
Five Others In Fashion Show

Have you decided who will be the 1940 Colby Winter Carnival Queen? Everybody has some girl in mind, the one girl who would be most fitting to take charge of the winter fun of the Colby Carnival. Who will she be? Everyone in the women's division is eligible for the honor. Everyone on the campus, men and women, will have a chance to vote for the Carnival Queen.

There will be a mass meeting of all students on Tuesday, February 6, for the purpose of reviewing carnival plans and to elect the Queen. At this meeting every student will be given one ballot on which he or she is to vote for three candidates. You will select the three Colby girls whom you think best qualified to rule the Carnival and place their names on your ballot. The girl receiving the highest number of votes will be elected Queen, the four girls receiving the next highest numbers of votes will be elected as the Queen's attendants and will participate with her in all the Queen's duties.

Fashion Show:

Besides the Queen and her four attendants, the five girls who will receive the next highest number of votes will also participate in a Fashion Show to be given during the Moccasin Dance. It will be a Fashion Show on ice, sponsored by the merchants of Waterville.

Hail the Queen:

The Queen will be announced in an impressive and startling ceremony at the Moccasin Dance. She will be officially crowned at the Carnival ball on the next night, Saturday, February 10. Saturday she will also preside at the skiing events on the Hill. She will be enthroned at the hockey game in the afternoon.

Besides lending her beautiful presence to all the major events of the Carnival, the Queen will also take an active part in awarding the prizes for the various competitions.

Johnson Reveals '40 Building Plans

"Will Include Interior
Work And 2 Dormitories"

In an interview with President Johnson Saturday, January 20, it was learned the building program of Mayflower Hill next summer would go on according to schedule.

"This work would include," President Johnson said, "the partial interior work on the four buildings now up—that is, work on plumbing, electrical, and other fittings. This will enable the concrete floors to be laid next winter. Also two new buildings will be built, both dormitories. In addition, some landscape work will be done, that is, the leveling of the athletic field and the planting of banks and terraces."

President Johnson said, that although the decision of the Building Committee was not final, it is hoped that this program for next summer can go through.

Opportunities for students to work out on the hill next summer, will be about the same as last year.

"War A Racket," Says Gen. Butler

Defense Of Bill Of Rights,
Homes, Alone Justify It

"War is a racket—there is no doubt about it," stated General Butler in his address to the patrons of the Colby Lecture Series at the new Senior High School auditorium, Monday evening, Jan. 22.

"There are only two reasons for thinking of going to war," said this soldier, scholar and public speaker extraordinary. "First, for the defense of our homes, women and children; second, for the defense of the Bill of Rights. Any other form of war is a racket."

General Butler gave a very stirring and interesting address, stating that the cause of war in Europe is now the same as it always has been; overcrowding of population and knowing everybody's business. "There have been 2600 wars since Christ, and there is no improvement. Most of these wars were idealistic in nature and the same is true today. They place war on moral grounds, but there is nothing moral about it—it is still a racket."

He stated that in this country it is only the people East of the Alleghenies who have the war jitters. "The mid-westerners remember the

Baseball Dance To Be Held On February 5

Club Boutelle Orchestra,
To Be Featured By Benefit

A gala post-exams "Dutch Treat Dance," sponsored by the baseball squad to help defray the expenses of the annual trip to North Carolina, will take place in the Alumnae Building on Monday evening, February 5, Captain Charles F. Maguire announced yesterday.

Music for the affair will be by Larry Fitton, newest king of the saxophone, and his Club Boutelle Orchestra. Featuring such stellar performers as Dick Johnson at the piano, Bomber Tom Huse on the drums, and Big Vic Lebednik on the slap bass, the orchestra is expected to put on one of the best shows of the winter season.

All the proceeds of the dance will go toward the expenses of the baseball squad which goes south in the spring. The athletic department naturally pays all expenses connected with travelling and playing, but the players have to contribute something out of their own pockets in order to spend a day or two at various points of interest along the way. The profits from the dance will ease the burden

Rimosukas Leads Scoring;
Cliff Came Is Spectacular

Colby's Mules took sole possession of first place in the state series hoop warfare last Saturday night as they cleanly defeated the University of Maine, 45-34. Coach Eddie Roundy's charges had the game well in hand from the starting whistle on, and showed their best brand of basketball so far this season.

Opening fast, the Mules ran up an early lead, holding the visitors to three points in the first eight minutes of the contest, and piling up a five basket advantage of 23-13 at the intermission.

Leading the Colby scorers again was Al Rimosukas, this time with 21 points. Cliff Came, sophomore forward, came through with the most spectacular baskets of the evening as he persistently dropped in one handed shots from well outside the foul circle for 13 points. Defensively, the Mules were strong as Oren Shiro and Vic Malins, in his last game for Colby, turned in fine performances. Shiro was outstanding as he intercepted pass after pass.

Colby's close guarding was exhibited by the fact that Leger, Maine center, was high scorer for the Pale Blue with only nine points.

The Mules now lead the state series pack with two victories and no defeats. Maine is second with a split record, and Bates in last place with no wins. Series battles will be resumed after mid-year examinations.

Women Act On New Constitution

Pass Art. VI Sect. 1.,
Art. VII, VIII, XII

At a mass meeting of the women's division on January 19, it was voted to reconsider Article VI, Section 1, on the Judicial Board, of the new constitution submitted by the Executive Board of the Women's Students' League.

At a former meeting this section was voted on after having been amended in several ways concerning the position and capacity of the Dean of Women. No group was able to get the two-thirds majority necessary and the only way out of the deadlock was to vote on it as originally stated. The motion to accept Article VI, Section 1, was then carried and the rest of the article was accepted without discussion.

Article VII on Meetings and Article VIII on Committees were also passed with very little discussion. The contents were largely the same as before with a few minor changes in wording. Articles IX, X, XI were the same as they had been so were not voted on.

Article XII on Class Elections were accepted as stated. It was proposed to amend the necessary 50% of the class for the right of petition in election to read 35% but the motion was defeated.

It was necessary to have several minor changes in the wording of the constitution to make it consistent throughout after various changes had Chapel Reorganization . . .

During the past few weeks there has been much more adverse criticism of the often criticized men's chapel. The grievances have taken various forms: some men have suggested that the Memorial Chapel is simply too small for all the men to sit down at once. This was definitely proved by the statistician who sat down as many times as he could each time in a different place. Others have suggested (with more or less truth) that the programs were not worth going to anyway and give as proof for their assertion that the faculty is not present, and, consequently, they do not see why they should attend if the faculty does not consider them worth attention.

It seemed to the average student that it is extremely incongruous to penalize students for non-attendance at a chapel which is not worth attending and in a room which is too small to seat all those who should attend.

This week some criticism is still extant, but the nucleus of reform measures which shows constructive thinking are beginning to reveal themselves about the campus. Both students and faculty are forming plans either for remedy or for complete reorganization of the assembly system. Perhaps the most meritorious of these plans comes from the faculty.

One of the faculty group suggests that the regular chapel period (from 10:00-10:25) be removed and that classes be set ahead one hour and ten minutes. Under this system classes would begin at nine-ten every day. The women's compulsory chapel would be held in Memorial Hall from 8:40 to 9:00 on Monday. There would be a voluntary religious chapel at the same time on Wednesday, and the men's chapel would be held at the same time on Friday. The men's chapel would be held in the Alumnae Building, where seats would be assigned.

Classes would proceed continuously (with the ten minute breaks) from nine-ten until five. The classes would be of the same length as at present, thus students having 11:25 classes now would, under the proposed system go at 12:10 and be released at 1:00.

Should this system be incorporated, it would be necessary for the Foss Hall dining room to be open from 12:00 until 2:00, serving cafeteria style. It has been suggested also that MEN AS WELL AS WOMEN could use the dining room of Foss Hall.

Should this aspect of the plan be carried out, the present unsatisfactory eating arrangements for the non-dining room fraternity house and the freshman boys' dormitories would be remedied to some extent.

There seems to be but one strong objection to this plan as it stands at present, and that is that those students who would have both 12:10 and 1:10 classes would miss dinner. But this is a point which could be readily revised.

Other suggestions have been less satisfactory in the opinion of the students. One of these is a chapel on the usual days at 12:00 to 12:15. Another suggests that there be combined compulsory assembly in the Alumnae Building at 4:30 on Sundays.

However, the shape of the final change has not yet solidified, all plans now proposed are in their embryonic stage and are awaiting further opinions and ideas from the student body.

Prizes For You . . .

Colby students have been invited through the Camera Club to participate in three photographic contests. Entry blanks and full information may be obtained from Joseph C. Smith, Publicity Office, Chemical Hall.

Vogue Magazine has announced a contest open only to college seniors, men and women. The top prizes consist of six months' employment on Vogue's photographic staff, and there are various other cash prizes and honorable mentions. The competition consists of making photographs on various subjects, announced monthly, such as: "an illustration for an article on college girl fashions."

The Bicknell Photo Service of Portland offers prizes of $25 and $15 in merchandise for amateur photographs. One hundred prints will be selected for public exhibition in the Hotel Eastland. Entries close February 28th.

The Packard Motor Car Company is holding a nationwide contest for amateur photographs showing the 1940 Packard (such as President Johnson's) in any scene or situation, with or without people. The prizes begin with five Packard cars, plus 74 cash prizes ranging from $500 down to $20, plus 150 silver and bronze medallions.

Exchange Bits . . .

(Adapted from Jerome Klein's BULL SESSION)

Item: This "liberation" affair they're having in Europe has had considerable effect here in America. Take for example, Le Mirage Editor Burton, of Texas Christian University. He dropped "2000 propaganda sheets" from a Taylor Cub "bomber" to remind students that they had better get their pictures made for their yearbook or else. This reminds one of the stunt that the Bowdoin Political Forum used to advertise its first meeting of the year. The Bowdoin aviator power-dived to lay his eggs of propaganda.

Item: TULANE: Rhythm was seen in a new light on this campus since the school hired a teacher to instruct the cheerleading boys how to inject "jive" into their vocal and physical gymnastics. We suggest that the "Progressive" read this item carefully and add this to his suggestions for the Colby cheerleaders.

Item: WILLIAMS: Stealing a march on New York City's attempt to make movies in the East, an embryo motion picture industry grows as the school prepares a cavalcade filmation of four years at Williams. Shades of Frank Merriwell at Colby! Here's another item for the author of "Colby Tomorrow?"

Item: WESTMINSTER COLLEGE: The reason for the uniform tidiness of co-ed's rooms can be traced to the new ruling that makes untidy rooms a domestic crime. A set number of demerits means a 48-hour stretch on the campus limits. Tidy rooms mean extra nights for dates. Attention Women's Division of Colby! We know that the demerit system for untidy rooms with subsequent "campus" is in effect in the Colby Women's Division, but how about some agitation for extra dates or late nights if you keep your room especially well picked up and dusted.

Item: NEBRASKA: Something new in college publications made its appearance here when a fashion edition of the Daily Nebraskan was sprayed with a mixture of perfume, rosewater and rum. Thus it literally "smelled." Time to say adieu.

This Collegiate World (ACP) . . .

NEW SLANG DEPARTMENT: These are the latest slang definitions developed by Ohio State University students:

Campus glamor boy—male with $5; campus glamor girl—co-ed with a late model car; dive—any place with a neon sign, an orchestra and a college boy; swing—organized disorganization; friend—anybody who will loan you money; acquaintance—anyone who had loaned you money; civilization—a collection of modern inconveniences.

CONTEST DEPARTMENT: In a bull-session argument, Lafayette College's Jack Hamilton bet he could walk 60 miles in 24 hours. He did—and collected nine bucks.

Colby Wins Hockey Title . . .

Sparked by the return of Tony Boldue, star left wing, the Colby hockey forces swept to an easy 9 to 1 victory over Bowdoin to take the Maine hockey championship at the Bowdoin rink last Wednesday.

The Mules proved themselves superior in every department of the game as Fortin and Boldue seemed to score at will and the Polar Bears were kept constantly on the defensive.

The Mules' flashy little center bolstered his scoring record with five goals and an assist while the injured Boldue drove in three of the goals and assisted in two others. Johnson, the third member of the high powered line, drove in the other score.

Bowdoin scored their one and only goal when Bonzagni put them out in front for a short lead early in the first period. From then on Fortin and Boldue took charge and by the end of the second period the score stood at Colby 8, Bowdoin 1.

Conch Millett's charges coasted through the third period content to protect their lead as Fortin drove in his fifth and final goal of the afternoon.

COLBY TOMORROW?

By THE PROGRESSIVE

There has been a trend in recent years at Colby to have organizations and elections lifted from the gutter of fraternity politics as much as possible. One group has yet to take that step, namely, the cheerleaders.

It is through no fault of their own that the cheerleaders are not organized. Nor can they be blamed for the manner in which their personnel is chosen. They acted logically in their choice of members last fall. The college, however, can be blamed for having no definite organization for such an important group.

Every fall as soon as school opens there should be a call for prospective cheerleaders. At this meeting cheers should be taught to those present, and then the candidates should have a week to practice present methods of leading and to develop cheers and methods of their own.

After that week is up another meeting should be held at which the candidates should perform before the coach. After all have shown their abilities, the coach should pick the team and the substitutes. No weight should be given to previous experience in checking the team. We want the best cheerleaders, not those with the most experience. Naturally a year's experience would stand a fellow or girl in good stead, but the experience as such should have no bearing in the coach's decision.

After the team has been chosen each fall, a captain of cheerleaders should be elected. He would naturally be responsible for the business of the organization. The captain might be appointed by the coach or might be elected by the cheerleaders. It might be considered advisable to elect the captain for the succeeding year at the end of a season.

As at present the cheerleaders should have charge of the mascot. They might well have a small fund provided for their use from the proposed addition to the student athletic tax, if that tax goes through.

Cheerleaders with two years of experience on the squad should be awarded cheerleaders varsity "C" sweaters, to stimulate interest in the sport and to reward members of the squad for their services.

Now is the time to do something about cheerleaders for next fall. We need a year-round cheerleaders' organization to stir up school spirit as well as to throw megaphones up in the air. Cheerleaders would add quite a bit to state series basketball games. Let the student council and the student government, or perhaps the athletic department directly, remedy the present lack of a system this spring, so that 1940-41 may be a banner year for Colby spirit.

Colby Quintet Are Victims Of A Smooth Passing Northeastern Five

A smooth passing, fast breaking Northeastern quintet took 41-36 lead over Colby in the Field House last Thursday night. Northeastern led the Mules all the way through the contest, holding a 26-11 half-time advantage. Colby's outfit didn't threaten until the closing three minutes of play when a final spurt brought them to within five points of the Huskies.

Listless efforts on the part of the Mules in the first half allowed Northeastern to forge ahead, but the second stanza saw more co-ordinated Colby efforts. Al Rimosukas tallied 10 points for Colby, six of them from the free throw line, as close guarding held him to two field goals. Pajonas, of the visitors, led the scoring for the night with 20 points.

Referees, Berg and Fisher. Time, 2-20's.

MULE KICKS

by JOE FRAME

Basketball:

I wish to mention the name of Vic Malins, a veritable giant in the art of back court play. Vic terminated his basketball career last Saturday night against Maine, and what a termination it was. Malins graduates at mid-years, and his absence will be keenly missed by the blue and gray.

Sophomores seem to be acquiring much of the spotlight this season especially Cliff Came and Oren Shiro. Sent into the game as a reserve, the lad from Bar Harbor really went to town. Employing a beautiful one hand push shot Came poured goal after goal through the mesh as a critical gathering of approximately 2000 fans looked on in bewilderment. He just couldn't miss. As one Maine man said after the game: "Who is 's Came guy? He surely 'came,' he saw, he conquered." By the way, Bates feels the same way about him.

Last, but by no means least, Al Rimosukas, high point scorer for the evening. When the gun barked finis, and the scorers had tallied the count, Al had 21 points. Not bad!

Malins' absence after mid-years will probably be taken care of by some aspiring Freshman. Lee, LaFleur, and Lomac seem to be just the boys to be promoted to the varsity squad. It isn't necessary to write more about them. Their deeds speak louder than words.

Hockey:

Northeastern came to Waterville last Friday, just defeated by Bowdoin, who had already been swamped by the Mule on two different occasions, and edged the host 5-3 in an overtime contest.

The Millettmen leaders of the New England Conference, were defeated. Dejected Colby faces surrounded the Front Street arena as the blue and gray battled vainly to protect a narrow 3-2 lead. Only seconds remained, fatal seconds. Half a minute to go and the death knell; a Husky puck punctured the netting, and the "bean towners" won in overtime.

Libby Announces Hallowell Finalists

Dr. Herbert C. Libby, professor of public speaking, has selected the following students to participate in the finals of the Hallowell Public Speaking contest: Robert Bruce, '40, Lorraine DesIsles, '43, William Finkel-dey, '43, Harry Hildebrandt, '43, Edwin Lake, '40, Sidney Rauch, '43, Alton Stevens, '43, William Tucker, '42, and Klaus Dreyer, '40. Dr. Libby stated that in all probability two more names will be added to the above list within the next week.

The general theme of the addresses prepared for the Hallowell contest is "Human Progress."

No date has been set for the final contest.

ECHO Reporters Visit Goodman

In the beautifully appointed Hunting Room of the Strand Theatre in Portland, Me., Benny Goodman, king of swing, graciously answered questions and posed for photographs for the representatives of college and local newspapers of the state last Sunday, January 21.

In reply to a question gleaned from a tip in Downbeat, Mr. Goodman flatly denied that Lionel Hampton, ace of the drums and the vibraharp, is to leave him soon and form a band of his own.

"Portland is the furthest north in Maine I have yet gone," said Mr. Goodman, but he added that he would like to return and tour the state in the summer time.

Benny Goodman is a man of medium height, quiet, unassuming, thick set. He has a ruddy complexion and a very pleasing and dignified manner of speaking. He reminded your ECHO reporter of Warren Pearl, '40.

When asked if he would consider playing at the Bates Freshman hop for $150, Mr. Goodman asked, "Including tips?"

The collegiate reporters present were more than slightly interested in Miss Muriel Winsor (get that name, Spence), featured dancer with the show. Miss Winsor is ex-Earl Carroll's and has recently returned from a tour of Europe. She said she was glad to be back home.

The managers of the Strand and Empires theaters, Mr. Young and Mr. Field, were very courteous and generous to the members of the press, providing all comforts in the Hunting Room and having us as their guests at the show in the evening.

Coca-Cola had to be good to get where it is... the drink that people the world over enjoy... winter... summer... every day in the year. Its clean, exhilarating taste brings a happy after-sense of complete refreshment that everybody welcomes.

Great God Frigid Besieged With Prayers, Threats

By Drano

The great god Frigid (who is the traditional keeper of the snows and ruler over the little ice devils who chuck snow-flakes down from the pearly gates to a wintry world) has been besieged with prayers, telegrams and threats sent by the Colby Winter Carnival committee.

If any of the appeals take effect the great god Frigid will be kind and the Colby campus will be literally flooded with those lovely crystal flakes which are so much in demand in time for the long-awaited Carnival week-end. The Carnival committee really feels that their prayers will be answered as they have all been good boys and girls through the whole year.

If, however, the Outing Club's optimism is justified and snow does come in decent quantities, Colby college will witness a Winter Carnival such as has never been seen before, because as present plans stand, every event is wider in scope than those at the record-breaking Carnival of last year.

During the annual mid-winter festival the campus will be decorated with snow-sculptures fashioned by the various fraternities and dormitories in many and various shapes. It was the figure of old King Frigid himself that won the prize for Lambda Chi Alpha last year. The award this year will be open to the whole college, men and women, and will not be limited to fraternity competition alone.

The weather will in no way influence this project, for if the snow is lacking, the Outing Club promises that they will be desperate enough to import some from Admiral Byrd.

But if that is all that the general public is expecting, the Outing Club says, "you aint seen nothing yet!" For among other activities listed are the Moccasin Dance, the gala Carnival Ball, intramural and interscholastic winter sports, skating parties, exhibition skating, hockey and basketball games, the Queen in all her pageantry, enough for everybody to have a fine time regardless of their interests.

The Outing Club earnestly solicits the prayers of the students in a sincere attempt to obtain snow, snow and more SNOW for that big week-end which is rapidly drawing near.

been inserted, so it was voted to give the Executive Board power to do this. It was also voted that the amendments go into effect in April when Student Government elections are held.

A corrected copy of the amended constitution of the Students' League will appear in the next issue of the ECHO.

A new activity, the Skating Club, has been formed under the leadership of Miss Duffy with Mr. Chenover assisting her. Students who have had previous practice in doing figures have been chosen and are seeking to improve their technique while learning the advance routine.

The members are: Barbara Kaighn, Jean Bridges, Lorraine DesIsles, Alta Gray, Gloria Goelitz, Jane Leighton, Eleanor Mitchell, Patricia Powers, Martha Rogers, Jane Russell.

The practices will be:
