

Colby

Colby Quarterly

---

Volume 23
Issue 1 March

Article 9

---

March 1987

Announcements and Comments

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.colby.edu/cq>

---

Recommended Citation

Colby Library Quarterly, Volume 23, no.1, March 1987

This Front Matter is brought to you for free and open access by Digital Commons @ Colby. It has been accepted for inclusion in Colby Quarterly by an authorized editor of Digital Commons @ Colby.

Announcements and Comments

THE PICTURES on the covers are of sculptures by William Zorach (1887–1966) in the permanent collection of the Colby Museum of Art. On the front cover is a recent acquisition, “Kiddy Kar,” 1930, pink granite, 20½” x 13¼” x 8¼”, a gift of Dahlov and Adolph Ipcar. On the back cover is “Sarah, 1963,” granite, height 9⅞”, a gift of Dahlov Ipcar and Tessim Zorach.

CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS ISSUE

BARBARA A. JOHNS is Associate Professor of English at Marygrove College, Detroit, Michigan. She has published two other essays on spinsterhood and the American literary imagination.

PHILIP G. TERRIE is Associate Professor of English and American Studies at Bowling Green State University, has published Forever Wild: Environmental Aesthetics and the Adirondack Forest Preserve (1985) and is at work on a study of romantic wilderness travel narratives.

ALICE HALL PETRY is Associate Professor of English at Rhode Island School of Design, has written frequently on American Fiction and will soon publish a book on the short fiction of George Washington Cable. In 1985 she was a Fulbright Scholar in Brazil.

SUZANNE EDWARDS is an Associate Professor of English at The Citadel, Charleston, South Carolina. She has published essays on Browning and Arnold and is at work on a book on Dickens.

PAUL MCCARTHY is Professor of English at Kansas State University and has also taught at the universities of Alabama, North Dakota, Idaho and Texas. He has written extensively about Melville and the American Renaissance, published a book on John Steinbeck (1980) and is at work on a study on insanity in Melville’s fiction.