Thomas Richner To Visit Colby

Thomas Richner, noted musician and authority on Mozart, will conduct the Colby Symphony Orchestra on April 29, in the Women's Union at 8:00 p.m. The following day, April 30, Richner will give an organ recital in Lorimer Chapel at 8:00 p.m.

Born in Pennsylvania, Richner began his study of the piano at an early age. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of West Virginia, and continued his studies at Columbia University where he received his master's and doctorate's degrees. At present he is a member of the faculty at Columbia.

Richner is the recipient of such honors as Naumburg, the MacDowell, and the New York State Federation awards. He has given concerts extensively in the United States and Europe.

Pianist, organist, musicologist, and educator, Richner has established himself as an authority on Mozart. He is author of "Orientation for Interpreting Mozart's Piano Sonatas", published by the Teachers College at Columbia. In Europe he is engaged for annual concert tours in England, France, Austria, Holland, and the Scandinavian country. His all-Mozart concert in Vienna won for him the whole-hearted admiration of critics and public.

Dr. Theo Cieplik, distinguished Viennese musical authority, wrote, "You can take out of the enclosed reviews of the important news papers 'Wiener Kurier' and 'Wettresse' that the impression the artist made in Vienna was an extraordinary one. I can say I think it to be the first time that an American artist has made his debut with Mozart and was able to impress both the newspapers and the audience; perhaps you know that the Austrians think Mozart to be their own domain".

Cadets Compete in Speaking Contest

The Republic Aviation Speaking Contest, open to all Air Science IV Cadets, will be held on Monday, March 12, at 2:30 in the Whitney Room at Robert's Union. This is not to be a public speaking contest in the traditional sense. Rather, the principal objective is to identify the Air Science III cadet who makes the most effective presentation on an air power subject from the viewpoint of projecting ideas and gaining acceptance of his subject matter. In effect, it offers a laboratory in which the adequateness of communication is measured by the degree to which the speaker's ideas are put across, and the effectiveness of those ideas in depicting the air power story.

The two contestants competing for the award are Cadet Captain Arthur Engdahl, speaking on "Manpower for Airpower", and Cadet 1st Lt. Brion Olsen, speaking on "The Sky's the Limit". The award is a sterling silver identification bracelet with an accompanying certificate signed by the president of Republic Aviation Corporation.

The judges for these fifteen to twenty minute speeches are Col. [Name] and [Name].

Jack Levine, Academic Convocation Artist

Jack Levine Named Convocation Artist

An exhibition of paintings by Jack Levine will be shown as part of the Academic Convocation from April 10 to 13. Mr. Levine will also speak concerning "The Re-discovery of the Individual through the Liberal Arts", the theme of the Convocation.

Mr. Levine, an outstanding American expressionist, portrays subject matter about which he feels most keenly. During the forties, he dealt mostly with social injustices, although lately his subjects have been more general. He works in oil, tempera, casein, and gouache, achieving a rich surface and color effects. He has retained his individuality in style and subject matter in a period when American art is largely abstract. Some of the pictures to be exhibited are "Homage to Boston", "City Lights", "The Humanist", "King Asa", and "King Saul".

Artist Levine was born in Boston, Massachusetts, in 1915. At the age of 14 he became a student and protégé of Dr. Denman Ross of the Fogg Art Museum. In 1942 he entered the Armed Forces where he served in the U. S. Army Engineer Corps until his discharge as a Technical Sergeant in 1945. Although he has lived in New York City since his discharge he has traveled extensively in Europe and lived in Rome for a year.

He has lectured and instructed at various schools, including the school of the Cleveland Museum, the Skowhegan School of Painting and Sculpture, and the Art Institute of Chicago. He has presented one-man shows at the Downtown Gallery in New York City in 1938 and 1943, the Museum of Modern Art in 1944, Mirski Gallery, Boston in 1950, and the Whitney Museum of American Art in New York City.

Some of the awards Mr. Levine has received are a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1946-47, American Academy of Arts and Letters award, 1946, and a Fulbright Fellowship in 1950. He is represented in the Boston Museum, the Brooklyn Museum, Fogg Art Museum, Whitney Museum, Art Institute of Chicago, Columbus Art Gallery, the Metropolitan Museum, the Museum of Modern Art, and several universities including Arizona, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Kansas, and Oklahoma. He is

English Dept. To Award Prizes In Annual Contest

Annually the English Department offers two prizes for excellence in poetry or any type of prose. This year a special prize is also being given to a student in the Men's Division for a poem of merit.

The Mary Low Carver prize consists of $50 offered for a poem of merit. The donor of the prize requested the stipulation of limiting the contest to women students. No restrictions of subject or length of composition are imposed, but the poem must be submitted as an original, without any corrections.

Students in either division are eligible for the $25 prize offered for prose by the Solomon Gallert contest. Prose is interpreted as essay, fiction, drama, or biography and may be of any length on any subject. There must be no assistance, either in first draft or revision.

A special prize of $20 will be awarded to a student in the Men's Division for a poem of merit. The same qualifications also apply regarding length, subject and originality.

In all contests each contestant must submit three neatly typed copies of each manuscript, two of which may be carbon copies, if legible. Each manuscript must carry a pen-name but not the real name of the author. The author's real name and his or her pen-name are to be submitted in sealed envelopes with the manuscripts. A contestant may submit more than one composition.

Manuscripts may be given to any member of the English department staff, or may be turned in at Professor Chapman's office in Johnson Hall. No manuscript will be accepted after 1:00 p.m., Wednesday, April 4. The judges chosen are not from among the faculty.

Students may receive permission from their English instructors to offer the same composition in prose or verse for both regular class assignments and the contests. If per-

T V Adult Education Rated As A Success

Mr. Macomber, the director of the TV adult-education program which was initiated two weeks ago, feels confident as to the eventual success of the TV courses, and is pleased with the results that have been shown so far.

At the present time there are about 100 persons enrolled in one or another of the three programs. 30% of these are signed up for the full credit program, recognized for teacher credit by the states of New Hampshire, Maine and Vermont. Over 50% have sent in for the syllabus and home assignments. Those persons follow the lectures but do not receive credit or take exams. The remaining group has expressed interest in the series, but do not take active part in it.

Mr. Macomber has received over 200 letters from persons who enjoy the lectures and who wish to express appreciation for providing a chance to receive a kind of education that would otherwise be unavailable to them. The hope has been expressed that the courses will continue in the future, and Mr. Macomber himself said that next year they will attempt to provide courses with a less highly scientific nature, so as to appeal to a greater percentage of the public.

Tuition Costs To Increase By $75

Colby College announced recently an increase of $75.00 in college charges effective next September. This will bring Colby's tuition to $800. The college is dropping a $25 general fee, currently in effect.

The new revenue will be used to help meet the higher cost of college services, to provide higher faculty salaries, and needed additions to the staff.

Financial aid grants will be increased in the same proportion as the increase in charges.

Letter to Editors

Last year the word seemed to be, "why isn't the tow running at the Colby Slope?" The Outing Club took most of the blame, even though it was not fully their fault. Since there were so many complaints about skiing at Colby, a few individuals got together and organized the Ski Club whose main purpose would be to run the tow at the slope and also create interest by sponsoring trips to various ski areas.

It seems that the efforts of these individuals has been wasted. The largest number of skiers at the slope at one time was twenty and the average number ranged around six, which hardly makes it worth while for the individuals to maintain and run the tow.

The club also has sponsored two trips to Sugarloaf Mountain where only a handful of people signed up.

The question I'm coming to: is it worth while to have skiing at Colby, a college which has the same conditions as Middlebury, Colby Jr., Dartmouth, U. N. H., etc., or should we just have skiing on the Chapel slope? The college has spent a long time trying to acquire the land for the present slope, and many hours of work have been spent preparing the slope itself and getting the tow ready for operation by students.

Throughout the year I have seen many faults with the functioning of the tow, such as the rope being too heavy, no transportation, and the slope not being in the best condition, but you are going to run into these problems where ever you go.

The club had ideas of switching the tow around for numerous reasons this spring but as things look now, there would be no sense if the interest were not increased.

The club feels not that they might just as well abandon the whole idea of skiing and not have the tow run next year. If there are any suggestions which can help the Ski Club, I wish they could be submitted to the club or to the Editors of the Echo. Next weekend will be the last weekend of the season and if there is snow, the tow will run. LET'S

AFROTC Rifle Team Winner In Area Meet

For the second consecutive year Colby missed being one of the first ten teams in the country by only 8 points. The men shooting on the team were: Brian Stompe, captain; Bob Adams, Pete Greene, Stan Armstrong and Claude Acierno.

Colby's second team placed 13th in the area. The men shooting on this team were Ed White, Roy Dow, Kevin Connolly, Bill Byers, and Paul Price.

Next year plans are being made to incorporate AFROTC Rifle Team into a varsity sport, so that Colby shall be able to compete with other colleges having varsity rifle teams.

Kohn Cites Russian American Contrast

At the second Gabrielson lecture, Hans Kohn, professor at the Institute for Advanced Studies, Princeton University, spoke on "Is Our Russian Policy Succeeding?"

In his lecture Professor Kohn referred the students to a significant quote in Democracy in America by Alexis de Tocqueville, citing the contrast and similarities between Russia and America. The quote is as follows:

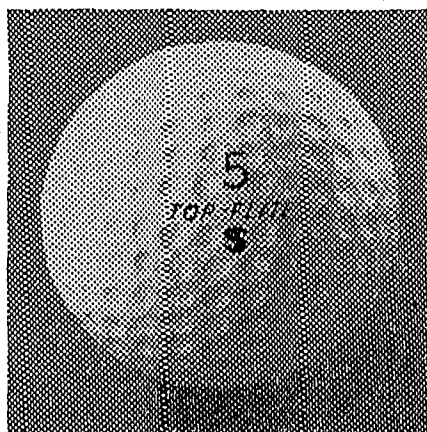

"There are at the present time two great nations in the world, which started from different points, but seem to tend towards the same end. I allude to the Russians and the Americans. Both of them have grown up unnoticed; and while the attention of mankind was directed elsewhere, they have suddenly placed themselves in the front rank among the nations, and the world learned of their existence and their greatness at almost the same time.

"All other nations seem to have nearly reached their natural limits, and they have only to maintain their power; but these are still in the act of growth. All the others have stopped, or continue to advance with extreme difficulty; these alone are proceeding with ease and celerity along a path to which no limit can be perceived. The American struggles against the obstacles that nature opposes to him; the adversaries of the Russian by the sword. The Anglo-American relies upon personal interest to accomplish his ends and gives free scope to the unguided strength and common sense of the people; the Russian centers all the authority of society in a single arm. The principal instrument of the former is freedom; of the latter, servitude. Their starting point is different and their courses are not the same; yet each of them seems marked out by the will of Heaven to sway the destinies of half the globe."

Women's Union Director Was Medical Technician

The pleasant new face seen around the Women's Union these days is that of Miss Louise Turner Flanders, new Union Director here. Replacing Mrs. MacDonald, who has resigned for reasons of health, Miss Flanders was introduced to the women students by Dean Tompkins at a tea in the Union last Friday afternoon. At the same tea, the students presented the retiring director, Mrs. MacDonald, with a sterling silver candy dish in token of their appreciation for all she has done for them this year.

Miss Flanders, an affable native of South Berwick, Maine, is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire. She has done professional work in medical technology and has been an assistant professor of medical technology at the Medical College of Virginia, Richmond, Virginia. Her most recent position was as Technical Director of the School of Medical Technology at the afore-mentioned college.

Library Exhibits Latest in Prints

At present there is in the Library an exhibition of several contemporary prints. These works were selected for display from a larger collection shown recently in Portland. They are the efforts of artists throughout the country and exemplify the present trend toward print making, embodying the principles of etchings, woodcut, silk screen printing and lithography.

The exhibit has been chosen from the works of dilettantes as well as professionals and can be seen here at Colby until March 7.

1928 Silent Epic Shown March 14

On Wednesday evening, March 14, in the Averill Auditorium will be shown one of the all time greats in motion picture history, THE DAYS THAT SHOOK THE WORLD. This silent film, directed by the outstanding Russian director, Sergei Eisenstein, was released in 1928. It is the re-creation of a turning point in modern history; the Russian Revolution of 1917, the ideas behind it and the progress of history. It portrays the conflicting plans and ambitions during the European war, the Kerensky regime, and the final ten days after eight months of indecision. As cinema technique, it is considered one of the outstanding motion pictures of all time, and an immense influence on film-making everywhere.

At the time of its release the NEW YORKER called it "possibly the most distinguished picture in the history of the cinema; it is the art of the cinema." Continued on Page Six

Channing-Murray Hosts Dr. Bixler

A small, informal meeting was held by the Channing-Murray group on Sunday afternoon, March 4th in the Smith Lounge to hear and discuss with President Bixler the subject of humanism and liberalism. Reverend Donald MacMillan, Universalist minister from Waterville, members of Channing-Murray, as well as others from the student and faculty bodies were present for the discussion.

Dr. Bixler initiated the meeting by defining the terms humanism and liberalism, stating that terms such as these usually arise in history from a revolt against authority; the authority in this case being the strict Calvinism instituted in the sixteenth century. Humanism is basically two things, according to Dr. Bixler: the study of the classical, hence rational, civilizations of people such as the Greeks, and the belief in Christ not as a divine being but as a human. Humanism is contained in liberalism; however, there is more than humanity in liberalism. Liberalism is that philosophy which appeals to the free, unprejudiced mind, hence a man can be a liberal and believe in a divine being or a man can be a liberal and be a humanist.

Dr. Bixler tied in liberalism with the first aspect of humanism with the architectural structure of our campus. First, he says, there is a Greek influence, illustrated by the portico construction of the buildings; this shows that a classical or rational attitude is taken at the college, thus it is humanistic to a certain extent. Secondly, as the classical or rational attitude is one of free thought, there is also a sense of liberalism here at Colby. It is illustrated by the library and chapel locations. The library or intellectual center of life is, as it should be according to Greek tradition, in the center of the campus, and the chapel, which is the symbol of the Jude-Christian tradition, is on higher ground, blending in with the general architectural pattern so as not to give the impression of a religious authority, but still that impression of playing a significant part in the life of the campus.

Italian Folk Musicale Featured At Bixlers

Last Sunday evening, Colby students and faculty enjoyed an evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Bixler, at one of their traditional musical evenings. The program of Italian Folk Music was presented by Dr. Comparetti, the result of his study in Italy last year. A group of four singers, Anne Jefferson, Debbie Robson, Liz Walker, and Bobbie Barnes sang 12 folk songs representative of different parts of Italy. The program ended with the playing of Tchaikovsky's Capriccio Italiane, a work based on folk tunes of Italy.

Dr. Bixler's musical evenings were started by he and Mrs. Bixler soon after their arrival at Colby. The intent was to give students an opportunity to come to their home, this enabling the Bixlers to meet and become acquainted with students on an informal basis. The musicals are held the first Sunday of every month.

During the first part of the evening, a program is presented either by Dr. Bixler or a faculty member, usually a member of the music department, and occasionally an outsider. This program is then followed by refreshments and discussion. The evening is usually ended by singing songs around the piano, accompanied by a guitar. An evening last year featured Mr. Re and the Colby String Quartet, presenting the first two movements of a string quartet written by Mr. Re. In the past such well known people as Stanley Chapple, former conductor of the British Broadcasting System Symphony Orchestra and conductor

Questions followed this discourse by the President. Several interesting points on such men as Albert Schweitzer, John Dewey, and Benjamin Franklin and the way in which they might be classified as humanists were brought out. Also, the theories of the Neo-Orthodox philosophers and their revolt against liberalism was discussed briefly.

There is a game not yet introduced at Colby — at least not yet played in a scientific way — a game in considerable favor at other colleges, which is 'as good in point of exercise as baseball, namely, football. As a game it is quite scientific, can be played by more at a time, does not require so much skill, and is not so dangerous as baseball.

I. No gentleman shall be allowed to sit on the steps of any of the ladies' dormitories longer than ten minutes. No sitting is allowed after six o'clock.

II. No lady shall leave the hall door with uncovered head. For any distance under ten feet a straw hat shall be worn, between ten and twenty feet a tam o'shanta, for any distance over twenty feet, a shawl.

III. No lady shall be allowed to walk with more than two gentlemen on the same day.

A funny fit seized one of the college boys in a barber shop down street, a short time ago. Thinking he recognized a college "bummer" in the chair he reached over and gently tweaked his nose. Some 190 pounds of flesh and about six feet of form slowly rising from a recumbent position convinced him of his mistake. Man begins in French, Quelque, — collegian, breaking in and gesticulating wildly, tout de suite — si'l vous plait — pardonnez-moi, — do you smoke? He took, the thing was settled.

Meet Your Campus

An amazingly large turnover in members has brought new sounds and many new faces to the Colbyettes this year. Regulars and substitutes according to parts are: first sopranos: Ann Jefferson, director, Flemington, N. J.; Norma Williamson, publicity manager, Weehawken, N. J.; Cindy Allerton, Arlington, Va.; and Willie McDonald, Southbridge, Mass.; second sopranos: Marion Woodsome, Shelburne Falls, Mass.; Deborah Robson, Newton Highlands, Mass.; Susan Record, Nashua, N. H.; first altos, Barbara Klein, White Plains, N. Y.; Andria Peacock, West Hartford, Conn.; and Patricia Black, White Plains, N. Y.; Second Altos: Barbara Preston, Cheverly, Maryland; Janet Kimball, Portland, Maine; Bess Atkinson, Bradford, Pa.; and Ann Segrave, Port Washington, N. Y.

radios, lights and other electrical appliances. Thus, by tuning your radio dial to 600 the signal is "picked up" and comes through the radio as does any other broadcasting stations.

Equipment of the type used in this circuit cannot be bought on the present commercial market. If we wished to have it custom made there are several companies to do it. However, their estimates run from $1,000 to $7,500. With a five hundred dollar budget we cannot buy very much custom equipment. Therefore almost all of our equipment has been designed and built by Colby students and the faculty with the aid of Mr. Sutherland of WTVL.

As is easily seen the technical problems which arise from this type of circuit are tremendous and that is where the majority of the time consuming trouble has originated. But, at present, we have test operating a signal which reaches the library, Johnson, Averill, East and West Dormitories. On Saturday, March 2, WHMB was on the air broadcasting for nearly three hours, and many of the students who heard the program said it came over loud and clear.

Thus, we have almost all of our major problems licked. In a short while we shall complete the circuit by installing the remaining equipment in Roberts Union and Louise Coburn, enabling the whole campus to tune in on our broadcasts.

I hope this information answers the questions raised in the aforementioned letter and clarifies our present position to the student body.

Radio Colby has been working for a radio station since 1950. It has taken a long while and a great deal of hard work, but the day of actuality is almost here. So keep your dials tuned to 600, and very soon you shall hear the student owned, new and traditional material and hope to please you all very soon.

Letter to Editors

Dear Editor:

In regard to the letter to the editor published last week about 'this joke called Colby College Radio Station', I should like to point out a few pertinent facts to the "initial signing author", and to the student body at large.

Last year WHMB received $250 from Student Government and a matching sum from President Bixler, which brought our total budget to $500. With this money we intended to and have built a radio broadcasting station with studios located in 4B of the Vet's Apartments. So far our transmitting facilities extend to the library and dormitories located in the quadrangle area. In the very near future they shall be extended to cover the entire campus.

Perhaps at this point an explanation of the transmission system should be explained. Due to the regulations of the Federal Communications Commission we cannot operate a radio station in the ordinary sense (i.e. by beaming radio waves through the air). Therefore, we had to devise a method by which the radio signal could reach the desired areas of the campus, but not radiate more than 250 feet (FCC ruling). After a great deal of research, planning and deliberation, Professor Brown, Head of the Physics Department; Mr. Don Sutherland, Chief Engineer of WTVL; Pete Vloches, Chief Engineer of WHMB; and I decided on a wired-wireless, closed circuit transmission system. This works as follows: from our studio we send out through rented telephone lines a signal which is transmitted to three central locations on campus — Roberts Union, Miller Library and Louise Coburn Hall. At these points electronic equipment takes the signal and sends it thru the power lines which feed the campus. These are the same power lines which supply the electricity for your

Singing with nine regular voices again this year, the Colbyettes have lost one first soprano and the second altos have gained one. Working with new and old songs, the repertoire has been enlarged extensively. "The Boy Next Door," arranged by Peter Merrill, and "Autumn Leaves," arranged by our own Babs Klein, are the new numbers by Colby arrangers. To these new numbers may be added "Sentimental Journey," Peter Piper, "Riddle Song," and come-backs are "Basin Street," and "Who."

Something else new has been added to the Colbyettes in the form of new blue jumpers. These were christened on Winter Carnival Sunday and will be a part of many concerts to come, although the past traditional black and white outfits have not been excluded entirely.

The year has been busy with many first semester appearances on and off Mayflower Hill. The highlight of the year so far was the Colbyette-Colby Eight concert on Sunday afternoon of Winter Carnival week-end, one of the few opportunities to sing for the whole student body.

Other traditional appearances were the Freshman Banquet, Parents' Weekend, Homecoming (both the Alumni dinner and the Homecoming Dance), and the Women's Christmas Dinner. This semester's appearances on the Hill, have been and will be the Panhellenic Dance and the Alpha Delta Pi Bridge Party. Off the campus there have been several occasions; most recently, on Sunday, February 26, the Baptist church in China, Maine, gave a fine reception to the group. This was a new experience for the Colbyettes.

Always ready with a song, the Colbyettes are working on still more new and traditional material and hope to please you all very soon.

Dr. Cary: Senior Banquet Speaker

On Thursday, March 15, the Senior Banquet will be held in the Hurd Room of Roberts Union. The dinner is free for all members of the senior class. Following the dinner there will be a short class meeting and an address by Dr. Richard Cary. This annual banquet, the culmination of four years of college, is one of the highlights of the senior year. Hope to see all you seniors there!

What's At The Flicks?

By Stan Moger

Would you like to go on a picnic? A brilliant cast topped by William Holden with Kim Novak and co-starring Rosalind Russell as Rosemary transforms William Inge's Pulitzer Prize Play, "PICNIC" into a dynamically powerful motion picture, already hailed as one of the year's outstanding films. The Columbia Picture, which has its local premiere Friday at the State Theatre CinemaScope and color by Technicolor, also features Betty Field, Susan Starsberg and Cliff Robertson. Directed by Joshua Logan, whose stage credits include "Mister Roberts" and "South Pacific," "PICNIC" is a magnificent romance compounded out of the universal elements of life itself. In "PICNIC," Holden appears as a stranger who drifts to a small Kansas town in search of a college friend from whom he hopes to obtain a job. He is a former football hero now close to thirty, desperately realizing he must settle down, to belong somewhere, and soon. His meeting with lovely Kim Novak takes place amid an electric tension; they are unaware of their immediate attraction for each other. Kim only knows that she is even less certain she wants to wed wealthy Cliff Robertson, Holden's ex-roommate and benefactor, even though she is being pushed into it by her mother, Betty Field. Holden joins the party at the community's annual Labor Day picnic, as the "date" for Kim's teen-age sister, Susan Starsberg. With them also are Rosalind Russell who boards at the girls' home, and her "boy-friend," Arthur O'Connell, the unromantic shopkeeper whose attentions are desperately welcomed by the frustrated school-teacher. It is the picnic, with its community-wide excitement and its lusty release of inhibitions, that heightens the memorable drama of the film. For one week at the State Sunday. This is one you shouldn't miss! . . . "NEVER SAY GOODBY" starring Rock Hudson and Cornell Borchers at the Haines, Sunday thru Wednesday. A U-I flick . . . Thursday-Saturday at the Haines: "RED SUNDOWN" starring Rory Calhoun and Martha Hyer is the top half of the double bill, the other half being "DANGER IS MY BEAT" . . . Sunday and Monday Walt Disney's "DAVY CROCKETT, KING OF THE WILD FRONTIER," starring Fess Parker and Buddy Ebsen comes to the Opera House with "ARIZONA SHEEPDOG," a Walt Disney True-Life Adventure . . . Tuesday-Wednesday brings "THE GIRL IN THE RED VELVET SWING" to the Opera House screen starring Joan Collins and Ray Milland. Rounding out the double bill is "BIG COMBO," the Cornell Wilde-Richard Conte starrer . . . Abbott and Costello return in their first pic "BUCK PRIVATES" and another oldie "IN SOCIETY." For Abbott and Costello fans . . . Well, this is Stan Moger flicking out until next week.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The following is a report of the Student Government meetings of February 27 and March 5.

February 27 — The Men's Judiciary Board announced that it has set a new precedent for parking violations on campus. A warning will be issued for the fourth traffic ticket and a two week automobile suspension will be enforced for each ticket after four.

The agenda was read for the Maine Intercollegiate Student Government Conference which will be held on this campus during the weekend of March 10 and 11. Both President Bixler and Governor Muskie have been invited to speak. Panel discussions and general discussions groups on current topics affecting the student and his role as a citizen are planned.

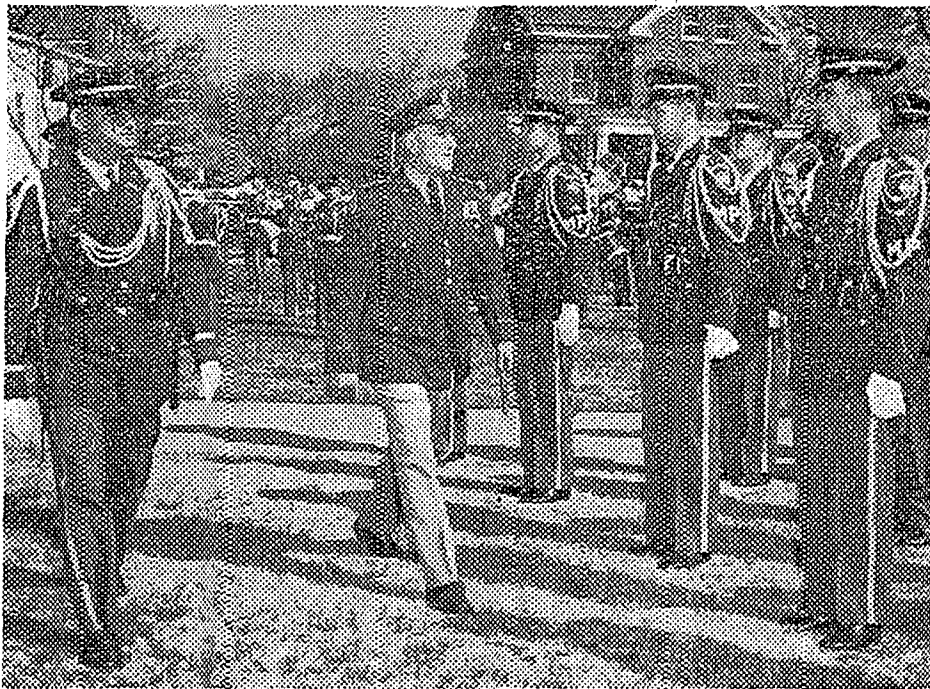

The constitution of a new campus organization was read and approved. The Colby Youth Association is a group that plans to work with service clubs in the Waterville area, providing leaders and coaches for Boys' Club Activities as well as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and Hi-Y clubs. Their intention is to better town relationships and to provide a systematized way of aiding Colby students who are interested in working with Waterville youth groups.

Congratulations to Jackie Huebsch for her splendid work in instituting a new mail system in the women's dorms.

The Student Government is asking Radio Colby for a progress report due to the fact that it appropriated a large sum of money to them last year and, as yet, no results have been shown.

New representatives on Student Government are Don Kennedy, of KDR, John Martin and Ron Ras-

W. G. Wyman Promoted To Four Star General

Fort Monroe, Va., March 1 - General of the Artillery Center and eral Willard G. Wyman today assumed command of Continental Army Guided Missiles School at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Replacing Major General John H. Hinds who retired yesterday is Major General Ralph M. Osborne who becomes Assistant Chief of Staff for Development and Test. General Osborne attended Newport News schools. His mother, Mrs. H. T. of the Army Wilber M. Brucker Osborne, lives at 5105 Huntington Avenue, Newport News.

Wearing a new fourth star, General Wyman flew into Fort Monroe this morning and was welcomed by a 17 gun salute and an honor guard. Earlier, in Washington, Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker pinned the insignia of a full general on General Wyman's shoulders in a brief ceremony in the office of the Army Chief of Staff General Maxwell D. Taylor.

Two other general officers assumed new duties this morning at CONARC. Newly promoted from major general, Lieutenant General Edward al E. W. Ridings, assistant chief of staff G-3 (training); Major General Osborne, assistant chief of staff development and test, and Brigadier General B. A. Holtzworth, assistant previously assigned as Commanding

mussen, LXA, and Mike Goodman,

March 5 — Jay Smith, station manager of Radio Colby, has submitted a progress report to Student Government as well as an answer in the Letter to the Editor column.

A request was made by Forrest
Barnes, president of the Glee Club, for a $500 loan to help finance their trip to Town Hall during the spring vacation. The estimated cost of the trip is $1750, including hotel and meal bills. In order to meet these expenses $500 would have to be borrowed from Student Government. The motion was made and passed to appropriate the $500, with the stipulation that the loan be paid back by the end of this semester.

The Student Government constitution requires that there should be one representative for every 45 students. Since the members of the new fraternity live scattered thruout the men's dorms they are represented in this way. However, they have been granted a seat in Stu G, and when they are officially recognized will be extended voting privilege.

A suggestion thrown out for further consideration was that Stu G sponsor a big name band, like Ray Anthony, to give a concert this spring. More details will be given upon further investigation.

Don't forget the Maine Intercollegiate Association tomorrow afternoon and Sunday.

The Republican Corner

The political picture has been altered considerably by the president's decision to run again. In general, the Republican political situation was greatly improved, that of the Democrats greatly weakened.

Democratic candidates will be fighting for their party's presidential nomination until the July convention, but Republicans will be united, thus not as contradictory in their attacks upon the Democrats. For instance, Stevenson states that Eisenhower's health will be a major issue in the coming campaign, but Kefauver states that the health question will not be a major issue in the coming campaign.

Republican chances of gaining control of Congress are very much improved. There are many congressional seats which both Democrats and Republicans list as doubtful, but with a popular figure like Ike leading the Republican ticket the scales may be tipped in favor of the Republican candidate.

The South is disgruntled over the administration's stand on civil rights. Eisenhower will not capture any Southern states this time — neither will the Democratic candidate. Watch for a Dixiecrat revolt.

Many old time Democrats, who intended to run against anything but an Eisenhower ticket, will let some more naive party member run against a possible landslide of Republican votes.

The Republican vice-presidential spot will take on added significance because of the health issue. Nixon is considered, by many Republicans, to be vulnerable to Democratic attacks; he may be dropped for someone with fewer political scars.

Republicans should win easily in '56. A recent Gallup poll shows that Eisenhower has the warm approval of 76 percent of the voting public. Naturally, with the possibility of a Democratic mud slinging campaign, many will be beguiled into changing their minds, but the Eisenhower record speaks for itself, four years of progress, prosperity, and (can you believe it?) peace.

Band Festival To Have Maine's Best

The Colby College Band is again making plans for the fifth annual Maine College Band Festival to be held at Colby on April 21. You will notice that this date is in April, not in March, as the Campus Calendar states.

The band will number approximately one hundred musicians that have been selected from the best players in the Maine College bands. This year, for the first time, Gorham State Teachers College will be represented in the band also.

This year's program promises to be even better than last years. Some of the selections the band will play are "Oklahoma," "Egmont Overture," "English Folk Song Suite," by R. Vaughn Williams, Leroy Anderson's "Irish Washerwoman," and many other fine band compositions.

The students from the other colleges will arrive at Colby on April 19 for rehearsals, and they will again be housed in the Colby dormitories.

This festival has come to be one of the leading events concerning the Maine Colleges every year, and those of you who attended last years concert are able to testify as to the caliber of musicianship involved. There will be music to please all tastes, from classical to novelty numbers.

For the first time, the concert this year will have special scenery, under the supervision of Mike Hurwitz, who has done similar work in summer theaters.

The chairman of this year's concert is Gary Poor, and those assisting him are Roberta Santora, John Baxter, Walter Foster, Alfred Fearing, Fred Hammond, and Flint Moger.

The Democrat's Corner

Democratic Foreign Policy and Republican Ineptness

Since the Eisenhower "Business Administration" took over, we have seen our country undergo an amazing transition. We have seen our Government lose prestige and power throughout the world.

Dulles, Eisenhower, McCarthy, Jenner, and Knowland went all over the country in the fall of 1952, denouncing the Truman-Acheson foreign policy.

However, since the Republican Administration came into power, no attempt has been made to change the Truman-Acheson policy. But they did make one change. They administer it in a sorry fashion. They have administered it in such a blundering way that we now have fewer friends in the world than we ever had in the history of the United States.

Daring Democratic Innovations

The following list of actions and programs well show the pattern of what was done in the re-creation of a balancing power to the power of the Soviet system.

The British loan of 1946; the checking of Soviet penetration of Iran, 1945-46; the support of Turkey against Soviet attempts to gain a foothold in the Straits, 1946; the assumption of the burdens which the British could no longer carry in helping Greece and Turkey maintain their independence, 1947; the joint action with the nations of Europe through the Marshall Plan to restore them to health and vitality, 1947 - 50; the assurance in two hemispheres that "an attack against one is an attack against all," 1947 - 49; the defeat of the blockade of Berlin, 1948 - 49; the restoration of economic life and the return to the company of free nations of Germany and Japan, 1949 - 51; the steps to make NATO an effective instrument of military defense, 1950 - 52; the effort by the Point Four program to bring help to the underdeveloped areas and the new nations in their struggle for improvement for their people and stability for their national life, 1949 - 52; the expansion of our own military strength and defense and that of our allies, 1950 - 52; the military opposition to aggression in Korea through the United Nations, 1950 - 52.

The heart of the real achievement lies, in the boldness, the imagination, the creativeness of the thinking, and perhaps most of all in the sustained will which the Democrats in charge maintained and communicated to the country.

Republican Ineptness

Let us consider as an act of Republican leadership the announcement by the Secretary of State in January 1954 of the policy of instant retaliation. This act made our allies believe that, whatever Washington might think of its own interest, it was not giving much consideration to theirs. This was something of a stunner to our friends. Apparently some pretty basic policy decisions had been made unilaterally in Washington. All in all the announcement produced in our friends and our allies agitation, doubts, fears, and a loss of confidence in our leadership. (Of course, it was diluted by a series of interpretations from Republicans, mostly contradictory. Confusion grew.)

Lack of Leadership

Neither the people of America nor the peoples of friendly nations know, from the welter of conflicting statements by Republicans in the executive branch and Republicans in the legislative branch, who is speaking for this nation on international affairs. But the unfriendly nations do see clearly that in this confusion the Republican leaders do not know what they are doing or where they are going. And the Reds are taking full advantage of it.

We must be aware of Republican publicists and apologists who brazenly hail defeats as victories and embarrassing compromises as achievements.

The years since 1952 in American foreign policy are not notable for the quality of ideas generated. Policy has coasted on the momentum of past Democratic initiative.

NOTE: Donald E. Nicoll, Executive Secretary of the Maine Democratic Party, will be a guest of the Citizenship Clearing House, Mon., March 12, 1956. All those interested in this organization are cordially invited.

MULE KICKS

Now that the winter sports season has come to a conclusion on the Hill, let's take a look at the highlights of the past season and a glance at future prospects for the varsity basketball team.

The White Mules finished their hoop season in much the same way they have disappointed most prognosticators, by bowing to a poor Springfield, Mass. quintet. During the past campaign Colby had the bulk of a team which finished with an impressive record the year before. Somehow the Mules could never get rolling in high gear. They opened this season by bowing to Yale University and then bounced back to turn all State Series foes until they ran into a tartar at Lewiston. It was here that they dropped their first Series game over the past three campaigns.

The boys gave a good account of themselves against top notch competition like Seton Hall, Dartmouth, Connecticut and Amherst. Against the four major colleges, Colby posted two wins and three close losses, never dropping any game by more than 10 points. Finally, coming up against weaker teams, like Bates, Springfield, and Maine, Coach Williams boys fell prey or just barely escaped the decision.

Some bright results this year were keynoted by Capt. Bobby Bruns' record breaking 37 point performance against Vermont University. Another highlight was the capturing of the sixth State Series by Colby. Earlier this year the Mules showed well in the New England Tournament, finishing second to the University of Connecticut, a team they defeated later in the season. Junior Charlie Twigg was the team's leading scorer, followed by Bob Bruns and Bobbie Raymond. "Rube" Rice's fine showing toward the end of the season earned him respect throughout the League.

Next year, Coach Williams will have a small but speedy, fine shooting array from the freshman squad, headed by Bob Kilty, Paul Neri, and Al Rogan. Ernie Caruso, a real scrapper, may be the dark-horse in next year's plans.

PLAYER OF THE WEEK . . .

This week, the award goes to a duo of outstanding seniors, viz. "Rube" Rice and Charlie Morrissey.

"Rube" came along well towards the end of the season and he caught everyone's attention with his eye opening drives in the past few games. He played the type of ball Coach Williams knew he was capable of, excelling against Bowdoin, Bates, and Springfield.

Capt. Charlie Morrissey closed out his fine career with Coach Kelley's hockey team by tallying four goals against Bowdoin last Saturday. Charlie was the most consistent player on the squad and was also their chief goal-getter. Hats off to Charlie Morrissey, "Rube" Rice, and the graduating seniors who are too numerous to mention; that includes Capt. Buddy Bates, and under-rated skier who has missed the attention of many fans and, I'm sorry to say, yours truly.

Next week, a review of the past hockey and skiing campaigns.

Colby Nine Readies For Southern Trip

The Colby College Baseball team is getting itself ready for the southern trip which is during spring vacation. The Mules will leave the 23rd and will play their first game with Catholic University on the 26th. In consecutive days, the Mules will play Georgetown University, Quantico Marines, Villanova University, Princeton University, West Point, and will end the trip by played Upsala College on April 2. The Mules will be facing some strong opponents, but the outlook this year looks very good. Coach John Wilkin has the makings of a good team this year and, if there are very few injuries, Colby could have a great season. Wilkin will have the following men on his squad for the southern trip: Pel Brown, Ed Lagorero, Jim Jamieson, Bill Haggett, Warren Judd, George Denneen, and John Edes, pitchers; Ronnie Staples, Captain John Jubinski, and George Pierce, catchers; Don Rice, Charlie Morrissey, Don Dunbar, and Barney Boole, infielders; and Neil Stinneford, and Will LaVerdiere, outfielders.

The team with the exception of Rice, Judd, Dunbar, and Edes have been working out in the fieldhouse since the first of February. The first game after the spring trip will be an exhibition game with Bowdoin on April 17th at Brunswick.

$600 Hockey Nets Donated to Arena

A recent addition to the Alford Ice Arena are a pair of Professional Art Ross hockey nets, donated by an interested friend. These nets, valued at about $600, are named after their designer, a famous hockey player of years back. They are so constructed that, when the puck goes in, it supposedly cannot come out again. With the installation of these nets, Colby is on a par with all professional ice rinks, which use them as standard equipment.

but not without a good fight from the second place juniors. They do it every year! Members of the team captained by Denny Lyons were Janine King, Ginny Graves, Barbara Nardozzi, Ann Steigler, and Babbs Fallings.

Dot Greenman and Jo Raffay were elected as representatives from Colby to the Athletic Federation of College Women Conference to be held at Jackson College in Boston.

At the National Women's Officials rating session held at Colby Feb. 25, Intramural ratings were given to Cindy Garner, Jackie Hueback, Jane Mills, and Mary Story; an Associate rating to Ginny Graves, and a Local rating to Shirley Transue. Congratulations, gals.

It's just about time to be thinking of summer work, especially if it is in camp work, so keep your eye on the athletic bulletin board, and if you see anything interesting, drop in to see Mr. McKee, in the Placement Office.

In the season's final game, Jack Kelley's Colby Mules notched their fifth victory, four of which were against the hard-luck Bowdoin Polar Bears. This victory, the first varsity win at Alford Arena since its dedication in December, brought Colby's winning streak over Bowdoin to seven consecutive games including this year's two freshman contests.

Gymnasts 76 Colby Five 64

The Springfield Gymnasts overcame a late Colby surge in the second half, to defeat them 76-64. The Maroons led by six-foot nine inch Ronnie Clark got away to a quick start early in the 1st half, maintained the lead until Colby went ahead 50 to 48 half way through the second half. Springfield offered a good defense and this, coupled with Colby's poor shooting, lead to a Springfield lead of 38-30 at halftime. The Springfield club, from all indications, looked as if they going to run away from the Mules, but a second half comeback almost pulled it out for Colby. The Mules were down 52-50 with ten minutes to play and they were hitting. Clark hit on a couple to make the score 56-50, then Bruns, after making it 56-52, drove in for a basket and was fouled. At this point, the tide was turned, gave Bruns a one and one foul shot. He had made the basket, but the officials didn't count it and Colby could never catch up. The home forces lengthened its lead with three quick baskets and the game ended with Colby down 76-64. The Mules finished their season with a 13 win-13 loss record. It was the final game for Bob Raymond, Dave Van Allen, Justin Cross, Don Rice, Bob Bruns, and Don Dunbar, who was unable to make the trip because of illness.

Charlie Twigg led the Mules with 15 points, while Dave Van Allen had 12. Clark had 22 and was followed by Paul Orogan with 17.

Although this year's record wasn't as good as last years', the Mules played a somewhat tougher schedule and lost some close games. The State Series Trophy will still be on display at the fieldhouse and it is hoped that it will be there for years to come. I don't think it would fit in at any other of the state institutions.

These seniors formed the nucleus of Colby's basketball team for the last three seasons and their overall record was 41 wins and 35 losses. Monday night the winter sports

Bowdoin opened the scoring after only 1:10 of the first period, but Captain Charlie Morrissey, assisted by Guy Vigue, roared back with the equalizer less than two minutes later at 2:58. This give and take pattern continued with Bowdoin scoring at 6:37, Bishop scoring for Colby, assisted by Vollmer and Wey at 8:03, and Bowdoin snapping two more in at 11:35 and 14:15. The remainder of the period was laden with penalties, Bowdoin collecting three and Colby receiving only one.

Charlie Brown opened the second period scoring on passes from Vigue and Vollmer at 5:25. Bowdoin, however, fought back hard and scored again at 8:15, boosting the score to a 5-3 count. Scoring the second of his four goals for the evening, Charlie Morrissey whipped in a pass from Harry Wey at 12:20, closing out the scoring in the second period.

Opening the third period as if they were shot from a cannon, the Mules, with Charlie Morrissey doing the honors, scoring the tying goal, knotting the score at five all. Only two minutes later, at 5:05, with Guy Vigue in the penalty box, Charlie Brown snatched the puck in center ice, outskating the dumfounded Bowdoin defense, and put his second tally of the evening past goalie Pete Rigby. At 9:50, with Bowdoin a man shy, Captain Morrissey scored his fourth and final goal of the night on a beautiful pass out from Skip Hall, putting the game on ice for the Mules. The final Bowdoin score came only a split-second before the game-ending siren, while Guy Vigue was sitting out a penalty. The Mules outshot the Bruins 85 to 24.

Playing their farewell hockey game for Colby College were Captain Charlie Morrissey, Harry Wey, Don Vollmer, and Charlie Brown. Injured first string goaltender Pete Bogren, who last saw action in the Northeastern game, was forced to watch the past three games from the sidelines. Rumor has it that Rote may recover in time to see action against the Colby Alumni this Saturday.

Winning the opening and closing games of the season, with three more wins scattered throughout, the Varsity Mules did much better than the expected winless season predicted for them.
