Parties To Contend for Student Support In Annual Stu G Election

Active Party

The Active Party has as its slate: president, Gary Hagerman; vice president, Ed Tomey; secretary, Barbara Hunter; and treasurer, Keet Arnett.

The Active Party would like to enlarge the program of the present Student Government, making it a stronger organization. This can partially be achieved by an analysis and revision of the constitution; ambiguous points could be cleared up. Perhaps a penalty for non attendance can be enforced. Student Government should be the central body on campus and the leader in campus activities and projects.

We feel that more information should be made available to the student body. This could be accomplished by retaining the "Echo" article and through the representatives and then by having Student Government publish a monthly newsletter to be circulated among the students at large. This letter

Bryan To Speak At College Supper

Bill Bryan, Director of Admissions, will be the principal speaker at the All-College Supper to be held Wednesday, March 19, at 5:30 in the Field House. Mr. Bryan replaces humorist Al Capp who is unable to attend due to illness.

The announcement and installation of Student Government is included in the program of the annual event, sponsored by Blue Key and Cap and Gown. The Colbyettes and Colby Eight are scheduled to sing.

Stu G Elections To Be Held Monday Outside of the Spa

Voting for Student Government officers will take place on Monday, March 17, from 9 to 5 outside the Spa.

At the same time the students will vote upon the Student Government's plan for foreign students. By this plan Colby students and administration will be able to finance a greater number of foreign students than at present.

Concerning the importance of Student Government elections, President Archie Twitchell said: "Since the officers of Student Government hold the most responsible and significant elected positions on campus, the candidates deserve the serious consideration and vote of every student. Without the enthusiastic support of all the students, the Student Government cannot be a strong organization. As it is in your interest I urge you all to vote for the candidate of your choice. VOTE."

Fair and Skits To Highlight Drive For $2000 Goal

Campus Chest, now well under way with the sale of yellow tags in the Spa, is still far from the goal of $2,000. Tonight students and faculty can find many kinds of entertainment at the Campus Chest Fair in the Women's Union. Each fraternity, sorority, and club will have its own booth. Except for the perennial booths such as the auctioning of the Phi Delta House, they will be new and different this year. Here will be various types of entertainment, prizes, and even some refreshments. All the proceeds from these booths will go to Campus Chest.

Saturday night will offer a new form of entertainment. Instead of the Varsity Show which has been held in the past years, the Campus Chest Committee, headed by Judy Allen, '60 and Reed Thompson, '59, has stumbled upon a new idea. Combinations of two or three organizations will give skits in the fraternity houses at alternating times during the evening. Each group has been allowed half an hour, beginning at 7:30 in the following order: 7:30 to 8:00, D.U., Cap and Gown, and Blue Key; 8:00 to 8:30 Beta Chi, Delta Delta Delta, and "Oracle" in Roberts' Union; 8:30 to 9:00 ATO and Chi Omega, also Sigma Theta Psi, Colbyettes, and Camera Club in Roberts' Union; 9:00 to 9:30 Zeta Psi and Sigma Kappa; 9:30 to 10:00 Lambda Chi, Colby Eight and SCA; 10:00 to 10:30 KDR, Outing Club, and Powder and Wig; 10:30 to Messianism, the religious belief that a redeemer will come who will end the present order of things either universally or for a particular group and will institute a new order of justice and happiness, will be discussed by Dr. Warner Stark, Averill lecturer, on March 20. His topic will be "Social Messianism, An Attempt at Fusion of Humanitarianism and Science."

Stark to Lecture On March 20th

Messianic ideas have arisen in widely scattered religions under various forms and names. Two aspects of messianic doctrine are narrow messianism which aims at a fundamental betterment of a national political situation, and universal messianism which embraces the whole of mankind in its salva-

The philosophy of the Reconstruction Party is based upon optimistic revitalization of the Colby family, a family which the party believes should change from its present parent child relationship to one of mature understanding. The party believes the Colby student is ready to grow, and with his growth would come increased school spirit and democratic selfleadership by the student body as a whole.

The platform of the Reconstruction Party is two-fold. Its long-range program includes a complete revivification of the now murky honor system question covering both the academic and social aspects of campus life. If the student body chooses to live under an honor system, the party, with the help of the student body, will do all within its power to resolve, among other issues, the present liquor problem.

The second major plan of the Reconstruction Party is to institute

Reactivation Party

The platform of the Reactivation Party is not one of radical changes, nor is it one of conservative changes. What Tony Ruvo, Bob Kopchans, Jean Smith, and Bob Keltie are interested in are important changes. There are several outstanding weaknesses on campus which everyone talks about, but no one seems to want to do anything about. None of the items of our platforms which will be listed are empty thoughts or irrational notions. Each one has been looked into and placed on our platform only after we were sure that we could alter the given situation.

Our platform is not only representative of the ideas of the four members of our party, but has been compiled from the feeling of the

The Unique Party platform consists of five planks. A brief outline of these planks is as follows: First, the formation of a co-ordination committee which will be a representative group to act in a mediating capacity between the administration and the student body. Secondly, the establishment of an identification card system which would facilitate both the students and the college in social, athletic and academic areas (these cards will not include age). Thirdly, an extensive examination of an academic honor system. Fourthly, the establishment of a new meal ticket at Roberts' Union whereby payment would be for 14 meals rather than the present 21. And, in the fifth place, a re-evaluation of the social program for freshmen (in the case of deferred rushing) and non-affiliated students. This is the Unique platform which supports the idea that an improve-

"Bring A Friend"

In the space of a few days a change of attitude seems to have become evident. The "revival of spirit," as witnessed by the student response to Winter Carnival and the Bates game and culminating most recently in the overwhelming support of the "South Pacific" production, appears to have dwindled. Perhaps this spirit hasn't lessened any, but simply did not manifest itself on the occasion of the Student Government assembly.

The fact that the elections are earlier this year may have caused much of what seemed to be a lack of interest in the future of Student Government. It is not necessary to enumerate the various activities and events which have occurred during the first five weeks of the semester. All have seemed to overshadow the elections with which we suddenly find ourselves confronted.

The poor attendance at Monday's assembly (it has been estimated that less than 200 voters were present out of a possible 1100) was on some measure due to mandatory classes, labs, and various other appointments. Nevertheless, this could not have accounted for the absence of over 80 per cent of the student body. The significance of elections should have compensated for the change in the time of the assembly and merited more support than the students gave the various candidates in their one formal presentation of platforms.

Whatever the causes of the apparent lack of interest shown on Monday may have been, we hope that it was not an indication of what will occur on Monday at the polls. At this time four people will be selected to positions of great significance and responsibility. Their efforts and decisions upon election will profoundly affect the immediate and distant future of Colby. A large turnout on Monday will be of encouragement to these people and will indicate a genuine interest on the part of the voters in the future of their college. Vote on Monday, and "bring a friend."

Your Money's Worth

This is Campus Chest weekend at Colby, and a successful one is predicted. The varied activities should induce the students to contribute and to reach our goal of $2,000.

The funds to which these proceeds are donated are of educational importance. Stu G scholarships are supported completely by Campus Chest and remain on campus. The Newman Fund is used in cases of student emergency. The National Negro Scholarship Fund and World University Service both have a wider scope. For instance, 5000 of 7000 students who fled Hungary were provided with shelter, food, clothing, and books by WUS. This is the only time that solicitations for charity are allowed on campus.

These charities, and not the pleasure of a social weekend are the real reason for Campus Chest. Must we feel that we are getting something for our nickels, dimes, and infrequent quarters? Should the significance of Campus Chest be buried in a flurry of crepe paper, balloons, and entertainment? Our evening's enjoyment may mean another student's education. All this is, in the words of one college's campaign slogan, "to us so little — to them so much."

Musical Show Deemed Success By Eager Audience

by Don Mordecai

In the months before last weekend's production of "South Pacific," it had become something of a truism that through hell or high water, nothing but the kingdom come could stop the show from being at least a financial success. Implicit in this statement was that it would be a financial success only because of the advance enthusiasm, and in no way would the production have to stand on its own artistic merits.

And the show was a complete success, financially. But much to the surprise of the cool few who predicted a technical failure, the musical was also quite successful by and because of itself.

Artistic success can be judged validly from two sets of standards. A critic can look for every detail of the production for flaws, or can accept the total effect of the presentation for his criticism. In the case of "South Pacific," either method could be used, but the first would be mere babbling under the onslaught of united opinion.

There were flaws. The music wasn't so strong as it could have been; Wilma Lyman as Ensign Nellie Forbush didn't project her voice as far as she could have; the lighting was uneven in places, and so on. But so what? Nellie's voice did not need to project, everybody knew all the songs anyway, and more people were watching her and being captivated by her engaging personality than were listening to her sing.

Any of the flaws, compared with the effect of the total production were irrelevant. From the very start of the play, the audience fell in love with Nellie, and it seems that most of them still are! Scarcely less enthusiasm was shown for Dean Strider, whose masterful characterization of Emile de Beque was a very important factor toward producing an "enchanted evening." It was around the combination of these two that the show revolved, or more exactly, spun.

Bloody Mary, vividly lived on the stage by Betty Lou Nyman, and Joe Cable, whose role Mark Brown made his own, were just as they should have been. Betty Lou was "Bloody Mary," with all that the name connotes. Cable's role was somewhat more tender than Mary's and was interpreted quite effectively.

The high points of the show were generally those scenes in which some high, and a great deal of low, comedy spouted from the person of

Letter to Editor

March 4, 1958

To the Editor:

The importance of student support of our teams was never better demonstrated than last Friday night in the crucial basketball game with Bates. The cheers and strong backing given the team on that occasion made a significant contribution to our win. Again and again in athletic events it is enthusiasm of this type that tips the scales in favor of victory.

On behalf of the team and our athletic department may I express appreciation for the great turnout at the championship game and the continuous encouragement which was given.

May I also add my hope that our students will continue to back all Colby teams with similar effectiveness.

CAMPUS COMMENT

By DIANE SRAFTON

Student Government and Women's Student League plan to discuss the merits and disadvantages of the social and academic honor systems.

Women's Student League has been conducting such discussions at the past few meetings, and plans to continue them for as long a time as is deemed necessary. Some of the problems presented in the social honor system will now be described.

1. How will Colby define its social honor system and is it a "true" honor system?
2. How will Colby educate the student body to adopt such a system?
3. How will Colby orient new students toward such a system?
4. Is it necessary to revise or drop the demerit system in order to come closer to the "true" social honor system?
5. Are Colby women acquiring an "honor spirit" or losing initiative to gain one?

There is no answer for any of these questions at present, mainly because the social honor system at Colby is still in its earliest stages of development.

In answering the above questions, student opinion and beliefs from all aspects must be taken into consideration, as an honor system is a largely democratic thing. For example, question one constitutes a good deal of debatable material. General opinion states that Colby women are not really under a social honor system or in any case a "true" one, because a "real" honor system would leave a student entirely responsible for any action she took, based on her beliefs and standards of honor. However, this idea is contradicted by the fact that all honor systems have to begin somewhere and work gradually to their goal. Perhaps our present system is a good transition from the old system to the "true" social honor system. Some suggest that the present system should not be called "honor" but "Colby" system, to be changed back to "honor" later on when we more completely reach the goal. The newly named system would then be recognized as a more individual one, in which the wording in itself would aid in its understanding. An honor system individually fits the school to which it belongs.

The answers to questions two and three pose further problems which are likely to be solved with time under a social honor system. Orientation and education of students is a self-perpetuating mechanism of an honor system. To insure the effectiveness and the survival of the system, it is necessary that every member of the community be indoctrinated willingly into the principles and technical aspects of the system. She must be shown exactly what her responsibilities are. At the same time she should be made aware of the privileges and advantages to be derived from the system. To create in the new student a feeling for the "honor spirit" and a desire to uphold it, she must realize that her contribution contributes to the maintenance of the system, thus to the welfare of the group as a whole, and also to the development of personally desirable attributes such as integrity, honesty, and justice.

Education of students to an understanding of the social honor system involves a type of public relations. In a sense, the representatives of the system, both the officially elected and the unofficial participants, are faced with the problems of advertising the values in which they believe. Convinced that they have a worthwhile product to sell, they seek the best ways of influencing their public. The initial sale to freshman must be followed up by continual resale to assure a steady reliable market to counteract lassitude, disillusion, and rebellion.

The central problem in education is communication. The most important emphasis should be placed on the newcomer. But they are usually quite plastic, eager and enthusiastic to cooperate with every phase of college life. An extensive orientation program can convert most of them to the "honorable" way of thinking. A problem arises with dissenters. Prior to registration all students should be informed that Colby women have a social honor system. But this does not always prevent the intrusion of the students who refuse to accept the system. There is always also the sophomore attitude of extreme independence which may manifest itself in nonconformity with rules. Various other difficulties arise with the uncooperative student, most of which face the women's side of campus at present.

As for revising or dropping the demerit system, no decisions have been made as yet. Methods of revision have been presented and are now in the discussion stage. One group feels that the present demerit system needs revision because of the conception that demerits are provided as an "allowance" which is the wrong attitude to take. Another school of opinion advocated the policy of "laissez-faire" for a few years to give the system a chance to work. The step to drop such a system from the rules has not been seriously considered because it is generally felt that adequate punishment for infraction of these rules cannot be dealt with otherwise in this stage.

It was concluded at Simmons College at the Honor Conference held on February 22 that one of the most important parts of an honor system is the "honor spirit" behind it. In order to have such a spirit in a school, it is necessary to have the wholehearted support of the student body — respect for the system, the college, the student

Four Seniors Nominated For Condon Medal

Four seniors have been nominated for the 1958 Condon Medal. They are Bruce Blanchard, Mary Ellen Chase, Doug Davidson, and Fran Wren Raymond. This award is given each year to the member of the senior class of either sex who, by vote of his classmates and the approval of the faculty, is deemed to have been the best college citizen.

Bruce Blanchard is president of Lambda Chi Alpha, vice president of Student Government, and president of Blue Key. He was chairman of the Interim Committee and president of his freshman class. A chapel usher, he also served as president of his sophomore and treasurer of his junior classes. He was on the hazing committee, was chairman of the junior advisors, and played varsity baseball.

Mary Ellen Chase, a member of Sigma Kappa, was a member of the Freshman Honor Committee, the Student Lecture Committee, and "Echo." She was a member of Women's Student League for three years, serving on the Judicial Board and as corresponding secretary. Last year she was a junior advisor and worked on Student Government. A member of Phi Sigma Iota, national honor society for Romance languages, she is a chapel usher and has worked on Hangout.

President of I.F.C. and Delta Upsilon for two semesters, Doug Davidson belongs to the Arnold Air Society and the Forensic Society of which he is also president. He was outstanding R.O.T.C. cadet his sophomore year and won the Murray Debating Prize in 1956. He has served on Winter Carnival, Military Ball, and Campus Chest committees, and is treasurer of Hangout. A junior advisor, he also worked with Radio Colby, Student Government, and played varsity tennis.

Fran Wren Raymond was president of Women's Student League this year after belonging for three years. In her junior year she was

Applications for financial aid for the year 1958-59 are now available in the offices of the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women.

All students interested in filing applications are urged to pick up the forms in the deans' offices before spring recess. Applications should be returned to the respective deans ON OR BEFORE APRIL 11. Detailed information about the kinds of financial aid available may be obtained in the deans offices.

Students are reminded that all financial aid grants are made on the basis of one year and that applications for aid must be filed annually.

Library Exhibit On Architecture

The exhibit in the library has been loaned to Colby through the cooperation of the Maine branch of the American Institute of Architecture and its president, Mr. Phillip A. Galtz of Auburn, Maine. Mr. Miller has chosen these particular examples as those he considers to be most interesting to Colby students.

This exhibit is composed of prize-winning selections from three of the AIA competitions in the past three years. They were chosen by the AIA board as outstanding examples of recent American architecture.

class secretary, a junior advisor, and a member of the Social Committee. She is a member of Delta Delta Delta, and freshman year served on dorm council and the Freshman Interim Committee.

Only one-third of the senior boys and two-thirds of the senior girls wrote out nominations for Condon Medal. All seniors are urged to vote in the final elections which will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, March 18 and 19, outside the Spa.

Annual Institute Meets March 21

The Seventh Annual Institute for Maine Industry will be held March 21 and 22 at Colby College. John H. McGowan, general manager of Wyandotte Worsted Company, is general chairman of this year's Institute, which is sponsored by the college in cooperation with eight industrial organizations.

Three featured speakers will highlight the two day program. Opening the event Friday evening will be the former dean of the College of Law at Notre Dame University, Clarence E. Manion, who will speak on the subject "Management of Freedom." Dr. Paul Pigors, professor of industrial relations at MIT will talk on "Three Ways to Better Communications." Concluding the meeting will be the executive vice president of the Econometric Institute, Inc., John McKnight, who will discuss "The Outlook for Maine Industry."

Glee Club Travels Through the East During Recess

On March 20, Colby's Concert Choir, under the direction of Mr. Peter Re, will leave for its annual spring tour.

Travelling by bus, the group will give its first performance at Central High School in Stoneham, Mass. This is the Travelling Glee Club's first appearance in Stoneham. Friday, the 21st, the glee club will sing at the Rhode Island School of Design in Providence, where they have sung once before.

The recital will take place at Carnegie Hall in New York City on Saturday the 23. This is the third time that the group has included New York on its agenda. Previously, they have had concerts in Town Hall and at Marymount College in New York City.

The last performance will be given at the William Penn Charter School in Philadelphia. This is the first occasion on which the group has travelled beyond New York.

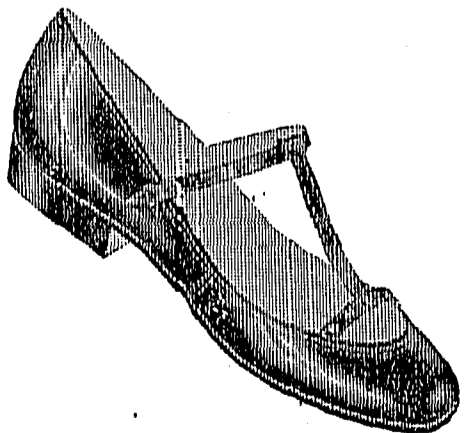

Basically the same in each city, the program will include Beethoven's "Hallelujah Chorus" from the "Mount of Olives," Monteverdi's "Othello," Poulenc's "Mass," Hans Leo Hassler's "I Leave Thee Love," Clement Jannequin's "Le Chant des Oiseaux," Thomas Vautour's "Mother, I Will Have A Husband," Brahms' "Lovesong Waltzes," Gail Kubik's "American Folk Song Sketches," Mr. Re's "Colbiana," and will come to a close with "Jubilant Song," written by Norman Dello Joie, a personal friend of Mr. Re's.

Harlow Shapley, Noted Scientist, Averill Lecturer

"Galaxies and What They Do To Us" will be the topic for the Averill lecture on April 11 by Dr. Harlow Shapley. Dr. Shapley born in Nashville, Missouri, received his education at Carthage Academy, Virginia and at the University of Missouri where he received his A.B., A.M., and Ph.D. degrees.

From 1914-1921 Dr. Shapley was on the staff of the Mount Wilson Observatory in Pasadena, California, and from 1921-1952 he was director of the Harvard College Observatory in Cambridge, Massachusetts. Since then he has been the lecturer on cosmography at Harvard.

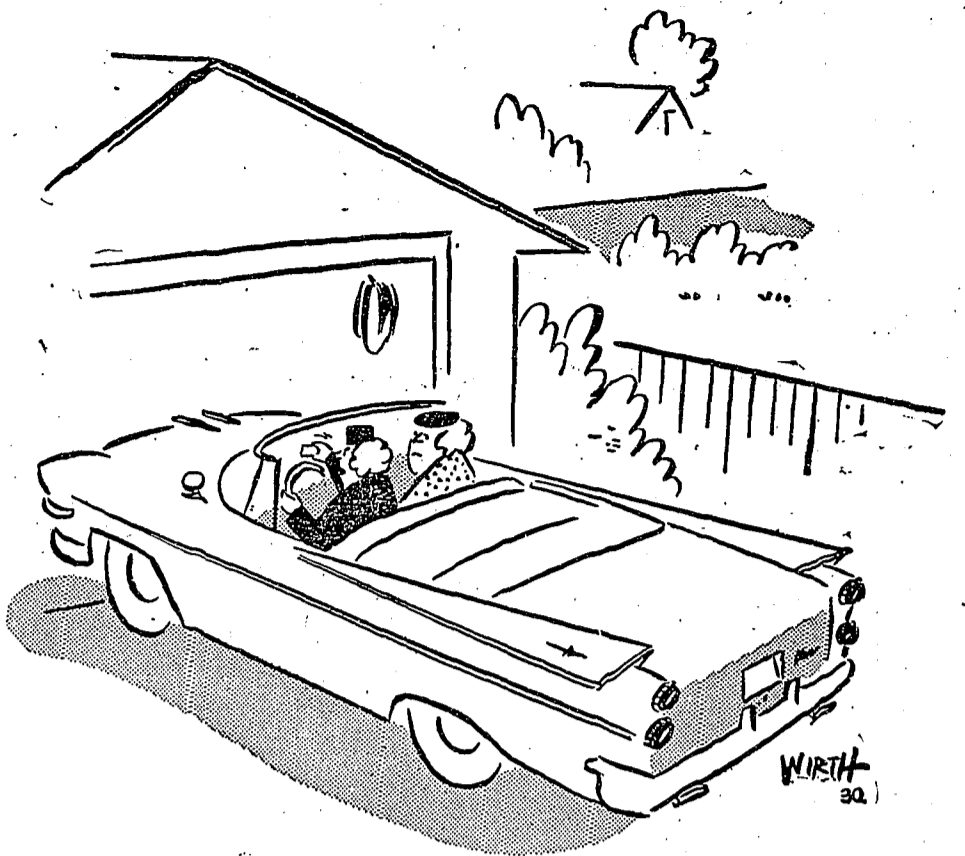

Dr. Shapley has received worldwide recognition for his many discoveries and articles dealing with astronomy. He has received honorary degrees from 15 universities including those of Honolulu, Mexico, Toronto, Copenhagen, Princeton, and Harvard. He has been made Honorary Foreign Member of the national academies of 10 foreign countries and has been awarded medals and prizes by the Vatican, India, Mexico, England and France. Dr. Shapley is also a trustee at various institutions in the eastern part of the United States. The holding of the office of president in eight nation-wide scientific organizations has also been awarded to him. These organizations include the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Science Clubs of America, the Society of the Sigma Xi, the American Astronomical Society, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Dr. Shapley's lectureships include Halley (Oxford), Sigma Xi (Yale and Oberlin), C.R.B. (Belgian Universities).

Among Dr. Shapley's publications are half a dozen books and more than 200 technical scientific articles, chiefly in the field of astronomy. Significant ones include two monographs on "Star Clusters" and "The Inner Metagalaxy," three anthologies on "Climatic Changes," "Readings in the Physical Sciences," and "A Treasury of Science," a series of 19 articles on "The Colors and Magnitudes in Stellar Clusters" (1915-1921); a series of 17 papers on "The Star Clouds of Magellan" (1950-1955); and a study of the bearing of current cosmic discoveries on the problems of human destiny (1955).

CLASS CANCELLATION

No classes will be held on Tuesday, April 8, due to comprehensive examinations for seniors. The library will remain open to all students during the day.

Tri Deltas Offering Easter Record Hop Two Scholarships Is Planned By The COC for April 5th

Delta Delta Delta has announced the beginning of its local scholarship competition. This year two $100 scholarships will be awarded to worthy Colby women. All Colby women are eligible to apply.

Applicants will be judged on the following qualifications: financial need, scholarship, activities, future ideas of vocation aspirations, and number of children in the family going to college or graduate school. Last year's awards went to Marcia Griggs and Joan King.

Application blanks may be obtained from Gail Bowers, 319 Foss Hall. The deadline for completion of applications is April 4. The winners will be announced at the Recognition Assembly, April 14.

Frosh Hockey Team Sets Undefeated Skein

The freshman hockey team ran to their first hockey season in history by trouncing their opposition in 12 straight games. No game was particularly close with not one of the opposition coming within three goals of the frosh.

The first game was with Belmont High School which the frosh helped themselves to an 11-3 win. They duplicated their goal output of 11 against Lewiston High School while holding them down to 2. Dixfield was shut out, 12-0, while Bowdoin fell prey 5-1. St. Dominic's came out on the bottom in two straight, losing 5-2 and 8-0. Bridgton Academy was bombed, 13-1, and Hebron fought to a 4-1 loss. Melrose High School and Bowdoin bowed to the powerful frosh, 13-1 and 10-3, respectively. The team finished with two more shut-outs, 8-0 and 6-0, against St. Dom's and Notre Dame High School.

The team rolled to their 12 wins on 105 goals, while holding their opponents to 14. Goalie Dave Seddon allowed only 12 goals in his 12 games. Sandy Boardman was high scorer with his line mates Richie Johnson and John McGuire second and third.

Cote, Cohen, Chapin To Head Colby Teams

Waterville, March 10 . . . The annual winter sports banquet honored many Colby athletes and coaches here, tonight. Don Cote was elected captain of the 1958-1959 hockey squad, while Lloyd Cohen was selected as captain-elect of the hoop team. Bill Chapin became next year's ski captain. Gilbert "Mike" Loebbs, master of ceremonies, led off the ceremony after the dinner in Roberts Union.

Captains Larry Cudmore, Howie Cates, and Doug Miller gave brief talks along with Coaches Lee Williams, John Kelley, John Winkin, and John Coons. President Bixler and Dean Strider were guest speakers and spoke for a short while on education.

The "most valuable" awards went to Captain Cudmore in basketball, Captain-elect Cote in hockey, and Captain Doug Miller in skiing. The most improved puckster was Jim Fox, while Tony Ruvo garnered the same honor in basketball.

Variety of Courses Offered by Adult Education Series

Colby College's adult education program began this week featuring evening courses in eight fields. The series is being offered for its cultural aspects, for the personal enjoyment of people in the vicinity, and for teachers who may use the credit toward certificate requirements. The courses have been approved by the State Department of Education for those teachers who hold standard or professional certificates.

Topics included in this series are "A Sociological Appraisal of Popular Culture," which is a study of the effects of the press, radio, television, and the movies on the individual and his society. The lecturer is Mr. Frederick A. Geib. "Comparative Economic Systems" with Mr. Robert F. Barlow is a comparison of capitalism, socialism, and totalitarianism in the economies of the United States, United Kingdom, and the U.S.S.R.

"America As Seen Through Her 20th Century Literature" with Mr. John J. Iorio is a study of major American writers in important social, political, and religious issues of the American civilization. "Culture and Background of the Middle East" offers discussions, reports, and interpretations of the Turkish and Arabic words by the instructor, Mrs. Kate C. Seelye, who has spent several years in this part of the world. "Basic Music Theory" deals with the rudiments of music and will teach easier sight singing and sight reading. Mr. Peter J. Re is the instructor for this course.

Mr. Norman Smith is conducting a course in "Mental Hygiene in the Classroom," which is primarily for the classroom teacher. "The Evolution of the Diplomatic Method" presents a survey of the developments in diplomacy of Greece and Former Somerset High School coach, John Simpson, to succeed John Coons as member of athletic staff.

Airett To Discuss American Edu. For Tues. Lecture

"The Future of American Education" will be considered at the Gabrielson lecture on Tuesday, April 1, at 4:00 in Averill Auditorium by William G. Airett. Mr. Airett was formerly education editor of the "New York Herald Tribune," and is now executive associate on the staff responsible for maintaining interest in the field of education of the Carnegie Endow-

Rome, the Italian and French systems, and the transition from the "old" diplomacy to the "new" diplomacy in the 20th century. The lecturer for this course is Mr. C. J. Borschneider. Mrs. Emily Brady is the instructor for a course in "The Spanish Language." Special emphasis is placed on conversation besides vocabulary building and simple readings.

New Coach To Augment Staff

The head coach of football at Somerset (Mass.) High School, John B. Simpson, has been appointed to the athletic staff at Colby. President J. Seelye Bixler announced yesterday.

The 33 year old married Marine Corps veteran replaces John Hamilton Coons as football line coach and head coach of track. Coons, at the close of the current college year, is returning to the faculty of his alma mater, Springfield College.

Former tackle on the grid teams of Boston University, from which he graduated in 1950, Simpson has been football coach and director of physical education and athletics at Somerset since 1952. He also handled track for a period at the high school.

During seven grid campaigns, his teams won 38 games, lost nine, tied two and captured four Narragansett League championships (1952-1955). Last fall Somerset had a 4-4-1 record.

Simpson was vice president of his class at B.U.; president of the Student Council; and manager of varsity hockey. He was selected for the "Man of the Year" School of Education Award and was recipient of the Service Key presented to the

Frosh Hoopsters Romp For 15 Straight Wins

The Colby freshman basketball team finished its season with three overwhelming victories to make complete one of the most successful seasons in Colby hoop history. The 15 straight victories gave Coach John Winkin the amazing total of 31 consecutive hoop wins and a frosh basketball record over his four years of 59 wins and 4 losses. In all sports during his career as a Mule mentor, he has compiled the astounding record of 116 triumphs, 29 setbacks, and 4 ties.

The current season began with an easy romp over Charleston Air Force Base, 76-47. Belmont High School proved a very even match for most of the game, but succumbed 65-62. Waterville Boy's Club and Husson College could not approach the frosh and became the third and fourth victims. Maine Central Institute, led by the phenomenal Skip Chapelle, lost a squeaker, 60-57. The next six games were all ones of Colby dominance with the closest victim 17 points away. Westbrook, Nichols Junior College, U. of Maine at Portland, Bar Harbor, MOI, and Waterville fell into this category. Finally, in a surprisingly close game against the only freshman team on the schedule, Colby defeated Bowdoin, 70-69. The final three games were merely an anti-climax. Charlie Swenson was outstanding on offense. He led the team in rebounding with 250 and scoring with 231. He also led the regulars in field goal percentage, although Howie Gibbons and Wayne Westbrook shot better than he. John Kelley was second in both rebounds and scoring, while Bob Burke was third in both departments. Dave Berquist shot an astounding 92 per cent from the foul line in his 25 attempts. Sharp shooters from the team will aid future varsity teams. Seven players, Swenson, Kelley, Berquist, Cal Pingree, Gibbons, Westbrook, and Bruce Jones all shot over 40 per cent from the floor. Five players, Swenson, Kelley, Burke, Berquist, and Jones hit for better than 70 per cent from the charity line.

He received his master's degree in 1954 from B.U. From 1942-1945, Simpson served with the marines and was recalled for an additional year during the Korean conflict.

He prepared for college at Brookline (Mass.) High where he played football, track, and baseball.

Joan King, '58 and Judith Sessler, '60 were awarded national ratings in basketball officiating on Saturday, March 8. The rating session was held at Lou Barker Junior High School in Augusta. Miss Anita Ramsdell, chairman of the Central Maine Board, was in charge of the session. Miss Paula Drake, chairman of basketball, conducted the floor tests. Miss Amy Thompson of Waterville High School and Mrs. Alma Burgess were the other two judges.

Local ratings were awarded to Janice Larrabee, '59 and Judith Neumann, '61. All of these girls are authorized to officiate outside games. Ratings are good for two years.

Intra-mural ratings are held by the following: Cynthia Gardner, Jane Mills, Alice Stebbins, Pat Walker, and Mary Storey.

Sophomore hoopster Ed Marchetti was the only Mule to be elected to the All-Maine first team. However, all types of precedents were set when Larry Cudmore, Lloyd Cohen, Leon Nelson, and Tony Ruvo made honorable mention all-state. The other first stringers were Seavey and Coyne of Maine, Burke of Bates, and Stover of Bowdoin. Dore of Maine, Callendar of Bates, and Willey of Bowdoin made the honorable mention team. The Maine coaches did the voting.

a new social system which will insure an accelerated social life throughout the year. The party proposes to add a fee to the regular activity fee of ten dollars. This would create a social fund of $12,000. With this fund, $9,000 could be appropriated equally to Homecoming, Winter Carnival, and Powder and Wig. With the remaining $3,000, $1,000 each could be given to the Student Government Movie Committee, the Men's Union and Women's Union Committees. These last two groups may use the money throughout the year for smaller events during periods of social lag. Such a program would insure excellent big weekends and would eliminate the risk of losing money. Each student would be given a social card which would entitle him to any event without cost.

Plans proposed for immediate installation next year are increased co-educational eating, men's dining hall cards covering one week at a time rather than the present semester contractual system, redecoration of the men's dining hall, and a "policy" for men to wear coats and ties to dinner.

Other plans include the establishment by student government of a committee to help veterans and married couples locate off-campus homes and facilities, and to aid them throughout the year should occasion arise. Also the party would like to see Student Government support the Colby "C" Club to increase spirit at athletic events and a consideration of the proposal to have men as well as women cheerleaders. Also the party would like to see hazing strengthened and revival of freshman-sophomore rivalry.

The Reconstruction Party would consider it a privilege to serve you. When you vote next Monday, consider its candidates: Robert Brolli for president, Robert Neilson for vice president, Nancy Little for secretary, and Mark Brown for treasurer.

would include a statement of current projects of the Council, proposals being considered, and the work being done by the committees such as Student-Faculty and N.S.A. a very active and worthwhile national organization. Students would be encouraged to come to Student Government meetings to express their ideas and views. If students know what is being discussed, they might be more interested in attending weekly meetings.

Our present system of representation does not include all the groups necessary to have Student Government in the position of a strong body and working force to which other groups may look for leadership and guidance. The Active Party would like to have the president of each of the three upper classes included in the Council plus the Chairman of the Freshman Interim Committee and one other elected freshman representative. All fraternities on campus and the girls' dorms would still send representatives. Also, the four sororities would each have a representative. To gain increased infiltration of programs and purposes, representatives from "Echo," Hangout, religious organizations, COC, and "C" Club would be voting members of the Council. We feel that the representatives would then be able to carry information back to active groups on campus and in turn would be able to speak for these organizations.

The Active Party would like to revise the present election system in order to eliminate much of the needless discrepancies in proposals, objectives, and methods. We propose the following plan: Early in the second semester nominations for the new Student Government offices would be made at a regular Student Government meeting. Anyone present would be able to nominate. Then the Student Council would vote on the names brought up. The three highest for each office would receive the nominations. The presidential candidates could then form their respective platforms. Either speeches could be given by the candidates or a panel discussion held where the student body would be free to ask questions regarding plans and policies. The students at large would then vote for one of the three for each of the four offices, the winners being the new officers for the following year.

This system would leave the ultimate decision to the students, but it would place the initial choice of the candidates with the Council. We feel that this latter group is the best qualified to judge the capabilities and qualities of possible candidates.

The Active Party is seeking to give you a strong Student Government through strong and effective leadership. We ask you to give us the opportunity to achieve this.

ment in Student Government will produce an improvement in Colby as a whole. Although these programs are truly unique to Colby, there are, nevertheless, well established programs at many colleges and universities throughout New England.

The Unique Party has for its candidates: Edward Goldberg for president, Donald "Skeeter" Megathlin for vice president, Judith Colbath for secretary, and Paul LaVerdiere for treasurer. Ed, a junior from Newton Centre, Massachusetts is a member of Tau Delta Phi. He has served as vice president of Tau Delta twice and this year is rush chairman, as a member of the Inter-Fraternity Council, as a junior advisor, treasurer and now president of Hillel, and as business manager of the "Echo" staff. He is also co-chairman of the 1958 Faces and Places.

"Skeeter" Megathlin is from Walpole, Massachusetts. He has served this year as vice president of Delta Kappa Epsilon. A member of the varsity hockey team for the past two years, "Skeeter" also played tennis his first two years. He has worked on the sports staff of the "Echo," and is on the 1958 Faces and Places Committee.

Judy Colbath is from Concord, New Hampshire, and a member of Chi Omega. She has served this year as a member of Women's Student League and the Panhellenic Council. As a member of the Editorial Board and the reporting staff of the "Echo," she has also acted as secretary of the Women's Judicial Board. A dorm sub-head, she is the present editor of the Women's Handbook.

Paul LaVerdiere, treasurer of Delta Kappa Epsilon, comes from Waterville. A business major, he is a member of the Newman Club. Prior to coming to Colby, Paul attended Fordham University in New York.

Delta Delta Delta 50th Anniversary Feted At Supper

Last evening, March 13, at 5:30, Delta Delta Delta sorority celebrated their "Golden Anniversary" with a formal banquet in the Hurd Room at Roberts' Union.

Presiding as guest speaker was Dean Marriner, whose wife is a Tri-Delt. As his subject he spoke on Colby College in 1908, the year Delta Delta Delta was founded at Colby. Also among the guests were Dean Seamen, Dean and Mrs. Nickerson, President and Mrs. Bixler, Miss Thayer, and Mrs. Marriner.

The members of Delta Delta Delta presented President Bixler with a letter informing him of his gift, a painting which Jack Levine is painting especially for the sorority. Though he won't be able to begin work on the painting for two or three weeks, because he is now busy with another project, Mr. Levine

Through his efforts, Mr. Burgess is responsible directly or indirectly for the large number of Choate boys now at Colby. The 17 Choate graduates now at Colby comprise the second largest group on campus from any one secondary school.

Mr. Burgess is head of the lower school, a teacher of social sciences, and head baseball coach at Choate. A graduate of Choate where he was president of the student government he was graduated from Harvard in 1942.

government and the student body under it. An honor system is individual in every school that practices it and through this practice, criticism, and discussion, the school with support from its students will find the best of these systems to call for the attitude of responsibility in every participant.

The academic honor system will be discussed in Student Government in the near future. The main problem here is to ascertain whether or not the majority of Colby students and faculty are ready or willing to work under such a system. The problems of administering an academic honor system then become similar to those of the social in varying degrees. Student Government reports will state the results of these discussions.

"South Pacific" Was Success; Nets $735 Profit

The success of "South Pacific" was due not only to the excellent performance by the cast and the great response by the students, but also through a financial gain. "South Pacific" took in $2,235, $1,500 of which was used for bills, leaving a profit of $735. Approximately 1600 to 1700 people attended altogether. Each night brought a larger crowd, about 450 Wednesday, 550 Thursday, and over 725 on Saturday night. The response from the town of Waterville was excellent and there were calls for tickets from as far away as Portland.

Dr. Suss commented briefly that he found the event "encouraging, rewarding, and gratifying." He expressed delight with the enthusiasm on the part of the cast and the tremendous support from the public. "South Pacific" was for him better than any past experience in the theatre.

MUSICAL PRODUCTION

Wayne Fillback in sequences such as the "Bloody Mary" and the "There is Nothing Like a Dame" numbers.

But the scenes which will be remembered longest are the ones in which Nellie shone: "I'm In Love With A Wonderful Guy," "Honey Bun," and, of course, the very effective climax number, with Emile and the children, the final reprise of "Dites Moi."

The choruses, although quite effective, were hardly necessary. The audience found itself joining in on most of the numbers, and was quite in empathy with the action and the mood of the show.

Dr. Suss did an admirable job in keeping the hundred odd students (and members of the faculty) more or less under control, and in a final analysis Colby's production of "South Pacific" was probably as good as any such presentation could be under our cramped working conditions and rehearsal time. Every member of the audience seemed to be having a great time, and what more can be asked of a musical comedy?

FAIR & SKITS

11:00 Tau Delt, Cheerleaders, and Hillel; 11:00 to 11:30 Phi Delt and Alpha Delta Pi; and 11:30 to 12:00 DKE, Hangout, and "Echo." Under this system one can go to any or all of the skits. Each fraternity house will be open during the entire evening even though skits will be going on in other houses.

The proceeds of the Campus Chest Drive will go to four organizations. The first is the World University Service. Their work consists of such services as helping 7000 Hungarian students cross the Austrian border last year. These students were fed, housed, clothed, given medical care, education, and books by the WUS. The Newman Fund is money which is put aside for students, who due to an emergency situation may need financial aid. The Student Government Scholarship Fund is for scholarships which are given on a purely academic basis. The last organization is the National Negro Scholarship Fund.

Another phase of Campus Chest is the Faculty Show which will be held on April 23. Although it is not being held now, its proceeds will still go to Campus Chest.

STARK TO SPEAK

The appeal of this philosophy seems to be in humanity's longing for a world free from suffering and imperfection and in the hope of a personal redeemer who will bring salvation.

Mr. Stark was born in Marienbad, Czechoslovakia, and became a naturalized British subject in 1947. He has attended the Universities of Hamburg, Prague, London, and Geneva. He has been a lecturer at the Prague School of Political Science, the University of Cambridge, the University of Edinburgh, the University of Basle, and reader at the University of Manchester.

He has published approximately 50 works, including "The Sociology of Catholicism," "Blackfriars," "Capitalism, Calvinism, and the Rise of Modern Science," and "The Ideal Foundations of Economic Thought."

Sticklers!

WHAT IS THE MAN WHO KEEPS THE
CIGARETTE MACHINES
FILLED WITH LUCKIES?
(SEE PARAGRAPH AT RIGHT)

THE REALLY GREAT MEN of history are forgotten men. Who did throw the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder? Is Kilroy still here? Does anyone remember Dear John's last name? No, friends, they're all (Sob!) forgotten. So right now, let's pay homage to the greatest of them all—the man who keeps the cigarette machine filled with Luckies! Let's honor the guy who supplies the one cigarette that's packed end to end with fine, light, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. Let's salute (Fanfare!) the Vender Tender! Touching, isn't it?

START STICKLING!
MAKE $25

We'll pay $25 for every Stickler we print—and for hundreds more that never get used! So start Stickling—they're so easy you can think of dozens in seconds! Sticklers are simple riddles with two-word rhyming answers. Both words must have the same number of syllables. (Don't do drawings.) Send 'em all with your name, address, college and class to Happy-Joe-Lucky, Box 67A, Mount Vernon, N. Y.
