Campus Chest Will Include Fraternity Star Hockey Game

Campus Chest has recently announced that the program for this year will include a hockey game between the Fraternity All-stars and the winning fraternity team in the Bixler Bowl League on Thursday, March 19. The game will start at 4:15 p.m. Admission is $5.00, and the proceeds will go to Campus Chest.

Of the money received in this year's drive, fifty per cent will go to the World University Service, twenty-five per cent to the New England Home for Little Wanderers, and the remaining twenty-five per cent to the Colby College Scholarship Fund.

Skit Night will be held on Saturday, April 11, with fraternities and sororities competing respectively. Due to incidents in past years, a rehearsal of all skits will be held on Friday night, April 10 before a board composed of members of Interfraternity Council, Panhellenic Council, and Deans Seaman and Nickerson. Any fraternity or sorority which deviates from the standards for the skit will be severely penalized.

Bixler Bowl points will be awarded to the fraternities as follows: twenty points for entering skit night, fifteen points for the winner and ten points for the fraternity that places second. It is hoped that Bixler Bowl points will be awarded also this year to the fraternity which does the most in raising money for Campus Chest.

Murray Debate Is Presented April 6

"Resolve: that Colby College should refuse to participate in the Defense Education Act of 1958, unless, or until the disclaimer affidavit clause has been repealed by Congress." This is the controversial issue to be discussed by the participants in the Murray Prize Debate, first started by George E. Murray in 1879. This debate provides for the "annual award of prizes for the best arguments presented at a public exhibition." It is to be held this year on Monday April 6.

Of the four to be on the panel, three have been chosen: Frank Wiswall, Frank Wallace, and Dorothy Dorman. Each person in the Colby College Debate Club, the Forensic Society, who wishes to take part in the Debate must submit a brief on the topic to be discussed. The six best briefs are chosen, and these six people must give a ten minute persuasive speech. The four who are chosen draw sides in an arbitrary manner, unless there is a particular preference expressed for one side of the issue. The judges of the Murray Prize Debate are not connected with Colby College.

The winner will be announced at the Recognition Assembly in the spring. The prizes are $60 to the winning team, $20 to the best speaker, and $20 to the losing team. The winners last year were Dee Dorman and Frank Wallace.

Applications for financial aid for the year 1959-60 are now available in the offices of the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women.

All students interested in filing applications are urged to pick up the forms in the Deans' offices before spring vacation.

Applications should be returned to the respective Deans ON OR BEFORE APRIL 10th.

Students are reminded that all financial aid grants are made on the basis of one year and that applications for aid must be filed annually.

Student League Board And Judiciary Installed

Student League and Judiciary Installation took place on Sunday, March 8, at 1:45 p.m. The highlight of the ceremony was a talk on "Leadership," given by Dean Strider. His main point was that the members should not let the details of administration obscure the real objectives of the office, but to think in terms of the results of the work done by these student boards and how they will effect the future and development of the college.

Biology Conf'nce Planned by Spiegel

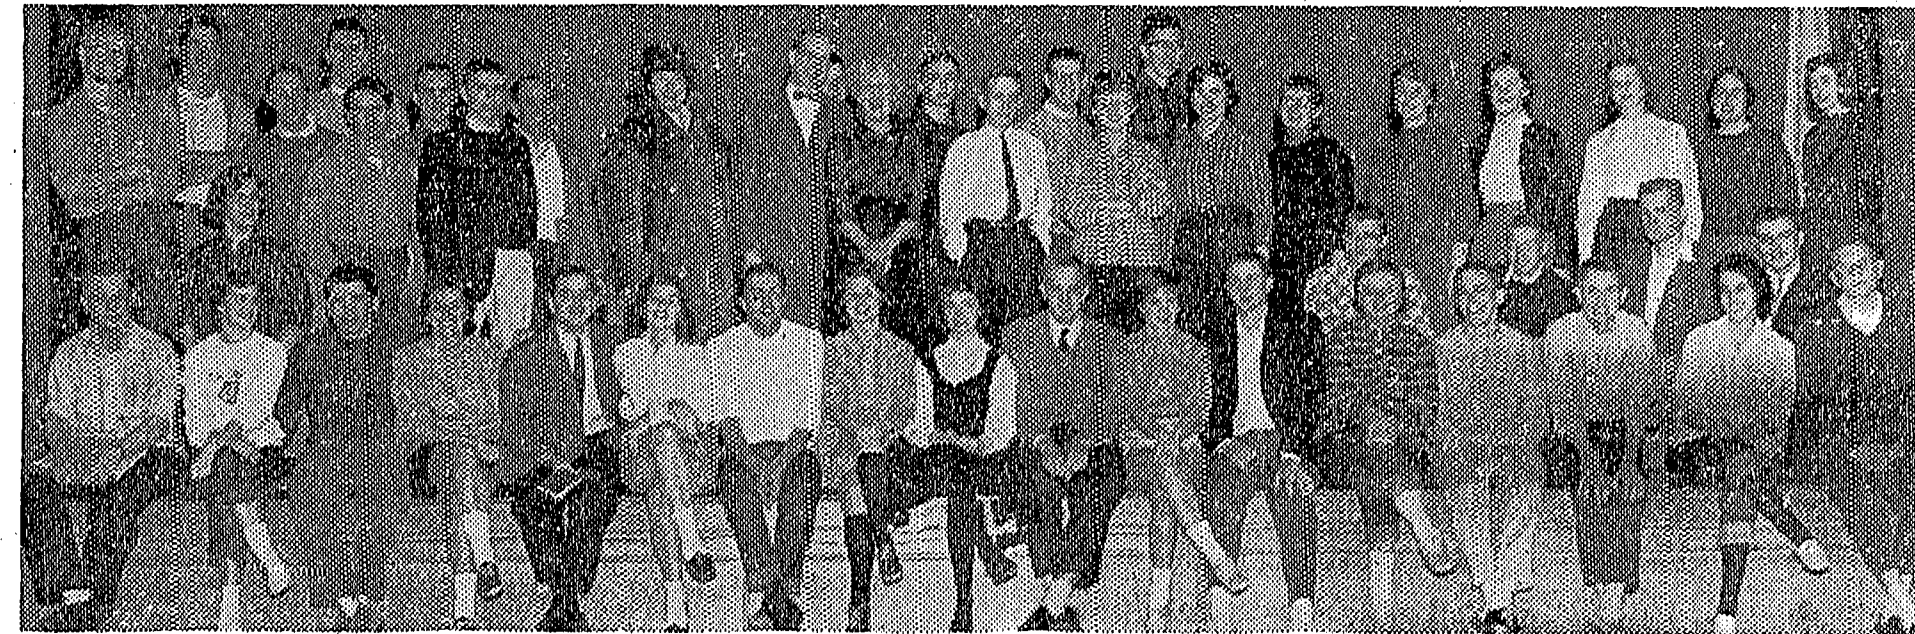

A conference on Developmental Biology will be held at Colby on March 23 and 24. This conference has been arranged by Dr. Spiegel at the request of the American Society of Zoologists. Its purpose is to provide an opportunity for the embryologists of New England to become acquainted and to share their recent findings. Morning, afternoon and evening forums will be held. Over thirty reports will be given on specialized subjects at these forums. Although the meetings will occur during spring vacation, the attendance of interested undergraduates will be welcomed.

Student Government

Student Government elections will be held soon after Spring vacation. At this moment parties are being formed and platforms decided upon. The ECHO does not know who the candidates will be, but we do know this — there is a definite need for continued leadership in this organization. Careful consideration should be made in regard to the capabilities of the candidates. A great deal of time and energy is necessitated if this group is to attain true leadership.

But, regardless of who wins the election, undesirable attitudes may remain. We often speak of the need for closer faculty-student relations. The Student Government is the organization which can best serve this end. It would be wise for students to restrain from debunking the Council long enough to give it a chance to attain something along this line. In other areas as well, the group should be encouraged and supported. If the Council is to be a truly representative one then it should work in the interests of the students. This cannot be accomplished if students are unwilling to place any faith in its activities.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

At Monday's meeting of Student Government, a student suggested the following: Any student who achieves Dean's List standing and so desires, should be permitted to take a sixth course free of charge. This suggestion has definite possibilities. It would serve to increase initiative on the part of the better student. It would also enable a student to take a course which he might not otherwise do because of the expense.

An Unnecessary Conflict

It has been brought to the attention of the ECHO that a gentleman's agreement has been broken. There appeared to be an understanding among faculty members that hour examinations would not be scheduled over the period of time from March 11 to March 13 during the Academic Convocation. The purpose for this was to allow conscientious students to substitute time ordinarily used for study to attend the various discussions and lectures. Many faculty members have tried to avoid giving hour exams and are giving quizzes instead. The fact remains that students feel compelled to spend as much time in preparation for this "quiz", which, in many cases, becomes a convenient term for an hour exam. Apparently, the weekend does supply a good time for grading the quizzes, but could not the faculty sacrifice this time to give a few more students an opportunity to attend the convocation?

Letter to Editor

On behalf of the entire varsity and freshman basketball squads, I want to thank all of the students and faculty for their spirited support, last Wednesday evening, when both squads met the University of Maine in the Fieldhouse. It again is ample display that success by any organization is the direct result of support from all sides.

Our students were most generous with their vocal support and I have a feeling that our varsity basketball team played as well as they did

Marxian Review of Stu G Letter Is Sent March 6 Editorial To President, Trustees

by Leslie Colitt

A specter is haunting Colby — the specter of the excluded minority group. All the powers of old Colby have entered into a holy alliance to exercise this specter: President and Board of Trustees, Director of Development and Curator of Rare Books, Director of Admissions and campus cop.

The history of all hitherto existing Colbianna is the history of minority group exclusion. The modern bourgeois Colby that has sprouted from the ruins of feudal Colby, has not done away with class antagonisms. It has but established new classes, new conditions of oppression, new forms of struggle in place of the old ones.

Our campus, the campus of the bourgeois suburbanite, possesses, however, this distinctive feature: it has simplified the class antagonisms. Colby as a whole is more and more splitting up into two hostile camps, into two classes directly facing each other — nice, well-rounded, neutral, suburban bourgeoisie and oppressed minority group. In short, boobs and non-boobs (Lumpenradikalen).

The modern bourgeois suburban Colby student is the product of a long course of development, of a series of revolutions in the modes of metropolitan-suburban commutation and split-level home construction.

The following measures are essential for the "invigorating and diversifying" of the student body of Colby College.

1. Recruiting among proletarian minority groups from teeming cities. Special attention to be paid to hot-eyed radical children of the industrial reserve army, Usbeki, and Kurdish children.

2. Contact to be made with mid-West "fire-ball (supply your own term)" peasants. These traditionally revolutionary elements of the American population will inject new vitality into our academic life. Witness democratic universities of Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Kansas, all heavily attended by mid-West peasants.

Let the suburbanites and exurbanites tremble at the entrance of the classless class of 1963 — the "minority group" class. The excluded minorities have nothing to lose but their education. They have Colby to win.

Prospective minority-group students of the cities, and peasants of the mid-West, apply!

The ECHO ideally is the voice of student opinion. It is a means whereby student expression can be brought to the attention of both the faculty and the administration. Since the editorials of last week's issue were supposedly of a controversial nature, it is strange that we received no letters to the editor. Are we to assume that the student body is in complete accord with our thoughts? If this is not the case, we hope that students will be prompted to comment on issues in the future.

because they were so thankful to each person who came to the game in their behalf.

Again, we want to personally thank all who helped our squad successfully conclude another fine season.

Director of Athletics

March 10, 1959

Dear President Bixler and Trustees of Colby College,

The purpose of Colby Student Government is to work for the betterment of Colby College by providing student participation with the administration in the formulation and execution of policies which pertain to student life and activities. It is in this light that this letter has been formulated and written. The ideas incorporated here have come from many sources and each point has been discussed thoroughly and decisively in Student Government. Our aim is to provide a solid foundation of student opinion in assisting you with a decision in which we are vitally interested.

Upon any person or group advocating a change in the status quo, falls the burden of proving that the present situation is inadequate. We feel this is the case for the following reasons. First, and most important, it is the atmosphere produced by the discrepancy between the drinking rule as stated by the College and the actual situation. It is plain that this inconsistency does not contribute to the sharing of responsibility among student, faculty, and administration that Colby should strive for. The effect of the present situation is to separate the College and its students. The second factor is the amount of drinking that occurs away from the Colby campus. This does not pertain to drinking at various establishments in Waterville, but specifically to the parties that are organized away from the College in order to evade the drinking rule. We have been extremely fortunate that there have been no serious auto accidents due to driving back to Colby after an off-campus party. Chaperons at Colby parties is a third problem that cries for a solution. Some faculty and administrative members refuse to act as chaperones because of the circumstances. Others consent to be chaperones only to find themselves ushered into a secluded room away from the party. Still others take part in the party because what they see is consistent with their principles and beliefs. As a result of this situation it is nearly impossible for fraternities to obtain the required number of chaperones for social weekends, and of those that do attend, only a few ever enjoy it.

The three factors mentioned above are only some of the disadvantages of the present situation. There are other factors, on the positive side, that encourage a change. Most important of these is the encouragement of student responsibility that a change would produce. Only when students are treated as adults will they behave as adults in taking responsibility for their own actions. Giving the obligation of handling drinking to the undergraduates of Colby can help bring them a step further in their maturity. Unless student responsibility is developed, Colby can never hope to develop any effective honor system.

In light of the reasons given above, Student Government believes that there should be a change in the rule to allow drinking under certain conditions. These conditions are based on extensive thought and discussion which began formally almost a year ago in the student body. Drinking should be allowed in the fraternities, men's dormitories and Roberts Union on occasions approved by the Social Committee. This explicitly forbids drinking in the women's dormitories, on any grounds of the College, and at any sports event.

As with any law or restriction set up by a society, there will be those that violate the rule. Whether the violation occurs in an unauthorized area or against the standards of good conduct, a workable system enforcement must be present. In the men's dormitories the proctor on each floor will be responsible for reporting conduct that requires discipline. In the fraternities the fraternity president will be responsible for his house. In addition, at each social function one man will be given the responsibility for the conduct of the party. If a chaperon happen to see any situation that requires action he will refer it to the fraternity member in charge. If it should happen that the fraternity does not uphold its obligation it will be the duty of the chaperon to report the individual or fraternity at fault. Individual cases will be dealt with by the Men's or Women's Judiciary in conjunction with the Interfraternity Council with the Dean of Men as advisor. Violators will be dealt with justly and strictly. In the future, incoming freshmen classes can be made aware of the standards through upperclass organizations such as Blue Key and Cap and Gown, as well as administration and faculty.

In this letter we have covered the important and crucial factors of what we believe to be the best solution. We, the students of Colby, can accept this responsibility. With the confidence shown in your decision we can work with all those on Mayflower Hill toward making Colby the finest college possible.

The Student Government

The above letter has been sent to President Bixler and the trustees in regard to the drinking situation on campus. It is hoped that this letter will adequately explain the students' position in regard to the present problem at Colby. This letter was compiled after a thorough study had been made in regard to what the students themselves desired and what they felt could be successfully enforced.

Dance Club Recital 4 Sororities Have Depicted Moods of Elected '59 Slate Modern Americana

The Colby Modern Dance Club presented its annual production last Friday night in the Women's Union. The theme this year was MODERN AMERICANA IN DANCE, portrayed in four geographical areas. With effective costuming and lighting the program was enthusiastically received by an audience of approximately two hundred.

Pamela Hage, the student dance instructor from Bennington College, planned the choreography. The program opened with a prologue, "Moods of the Modern American Dancer", by Miss Hage. Her professional dancing set the tempo for the entire production.

"The Prairie", "The Wild West", and "San Francisco" were the dances representing the West. "San Francisco" was one of the most colorful, with three groups of dancers: Orientals — Margaret Chamberlain, Louise Feng, and Roberta Loveland; Beatniks — Elizabeth Chamberlain and Katherine Custer; and Sophisticates — Dawne Christie, Patricia Jack, and Judith Webb. The original music was by Pamela Hage and Robert McLellan, who is percussion man of the Colby Community Orchestra. Each group had a distinctive theme, all three of which were intermingled at the conclusion of the dance. "The Wild West", a favorite with the audience, was performed by Gillian Lamb and Donna Lambson, to the music of Tom Lerher.

English Folk Mass Presented April 6

Rev. Peter MacLean of Brunswick, Maine, will come to Colby on Monday, April 6, with a record of a Twentieth Century Folk Mass. Students are invited to hear the recording of the Mass and to listen to the comments of the Rev. MacLean.

This folk Mass was started in England by an Anglican priest, Father Beaumont. He felt that his modern day congregation was not finding a real meaning to the classical music of the Mass. Father Beaumont therefore set the words of the Mass to folk and popular tunes. With this arrangement the congregation participates in the singing. Father Beaumont found that his parish responded with enthusiasm to the folk Mass.

Hangout Sponsors Dissatisfaction In The Pajama Game Regard To Dining Appears Universal

There is still time to get a date for tonight's dance, "The Pajama Game", which will be held in Smith and Dunn Lounges, W. U. The fun will begin at 8:00 p.m. sharp and dancing will continue until 11:30. Tickets are a modest $1.00 per couple and refreshments will be served.

Ed Tomey and his group will provide music for dancing. Bob North is in charge of the decorations and will provide a casual setting for the evening's fun. Just a reminder — All who attend are required to wear the proper dress — pajamas!

by Jackie Nunez

Complaints and suggestions about dining facilities are often heard on both sides of the Colby campus, ranging from complaints about food to co-ed dining plans. That this pre-occupation with matters concerning the stomach is not purely local can be seen by reading newspapers from other campuses.

At Middlebury, next year's Freshman class will be privileged to have co-ed dining, either cafeteria style or with table service. Advantages to the system were listed by the CAMPUS as enabling the entire class to eat together as a group, promoting class unity, reducing expenses, and adding flexibility to meal hours. An added feature in the new Student Center is an enlarged snack bar, opening onto the terrace.

Speaking of snack bars, the University of Massachusetts has an extremely extensive Vending Machine Program. There are approximately 250 vending machines on the campus, selling such things as milk, Coca-Cola, coffee, hot chocolate, ice cream, potato chips, sandwiches, pastry, candy, orange juice, cigarettes, soups, hot foods, and crackers. There are a few problems involved, such as occasional mechanical failures, but apparently the movement has been overwhelmingly successful. In Baker Dormitory, the first dormitory automatic feeding station in New England was recently installed. Incidentally, all profits from the machines revert to the students in scholarship funds.

Regulations (Gray Book, page 6) states: "Any student absent without excuse from (the last meeting of any class after a vacation) shall receive a vacation warning for each such class absence. If any such warning shall constitute a second vacation warning in any course, the student shall be dropped from that course with no credit and with a mark of F Each vacation cut shall count as one of the minimum cuts allowed, and a vacation warning shall constitute also an attendance warning if allowed cuts have all been taken before the vacation absence occurs."

A survey at Howard University revealed many typical complaints. Prices are considered too high, being higher than those at many local upper-class boys a little less so, and restaurants. In terms of satisfaction, freshmen were quite satisfied, upper-class co-eds decidedly unsatisfied. The cafeteria management had a few rival complaints to make, mainly regarding indecision on the part of the students, which resulted in holding up the line.

All this sounds very familiar, echoing perhaps the main conversational item here at Colby.

Fraternities Vie For Bixler Bowl

Fraternities are organized for reasons other than to provide places for Colby men to live and have parties. There is a competition among the fraternities based on their contribution to the overall work of the college program. In 1956 this Colby Fraternity Competition was started as a program and since then an award has been made in the form of the Bixler Bowl.

The Bixler Bowl is awarded on the basis of competition in the following areas of fraternity activity: administration, scholarship, special events, athletic contests and leadership.

The winner of the award is determined by which fraternity earns the highest number of points in the above areas. The competition is supervised by the Dean of Men, a selected alumni Prudential Committee member, a recording member and the president of the Interfraternity Council.

In the spring, the award will be made at the Recognition Assembly. The 1957-58 award went to Delta Upsilon, first place; and Lambda Chi Alpha, second place.

10 Colby Girls To Spend Vacation In Coaching School in Bermuda this Year Atlantic City, N.J.

Ten Colby girls will spend a busy week in Bermuda during spring vacation. They will see Bermuda under the College Week plan. The plan is a division of Hit Tours which is arranged in this area by the Raymond Whitcomb Co. of Wellesley, Mass. Groups from Colleges in many parts of the United States participate in this program. The girls will leave by plane from Boston on March 20 and will stay at Harmony Hall in Bermuda until March 28. While there, they will be free to take advantage of all the activities and interests which are available to college students. One of the highlights of the week is College Day at the beach when a queen is selected from among the many visiting co-eds. Entertainment is to be provided by singing groups from some of the colleges. The Colby Eight will be there during the latter part of the week.

Coach Clifford and Coach Simpson will attend the National Football Coaching School from March 16-19. The clinic, held at Convention Hall, Atlantic City, New Jersey, is the foremost of its type. The outstanding faculty is composed of Jack Curtice, Stamford University; Woody Hayes, Ohio State; Bill Meek, Southern Methodist; Paul Dietzel, Louisiana State; Lew Agase, Michigan State; Dan Devine, University of Missouri; Dallas Wood, University of Colorado; and Eddie LeBaron of the Washington Red Skins.

MULE KICKS

by Don Freedman SPORTS EDITOR

As the sport seasons change there is a need to reflect on sports just ending and to anticipate those upcoming.

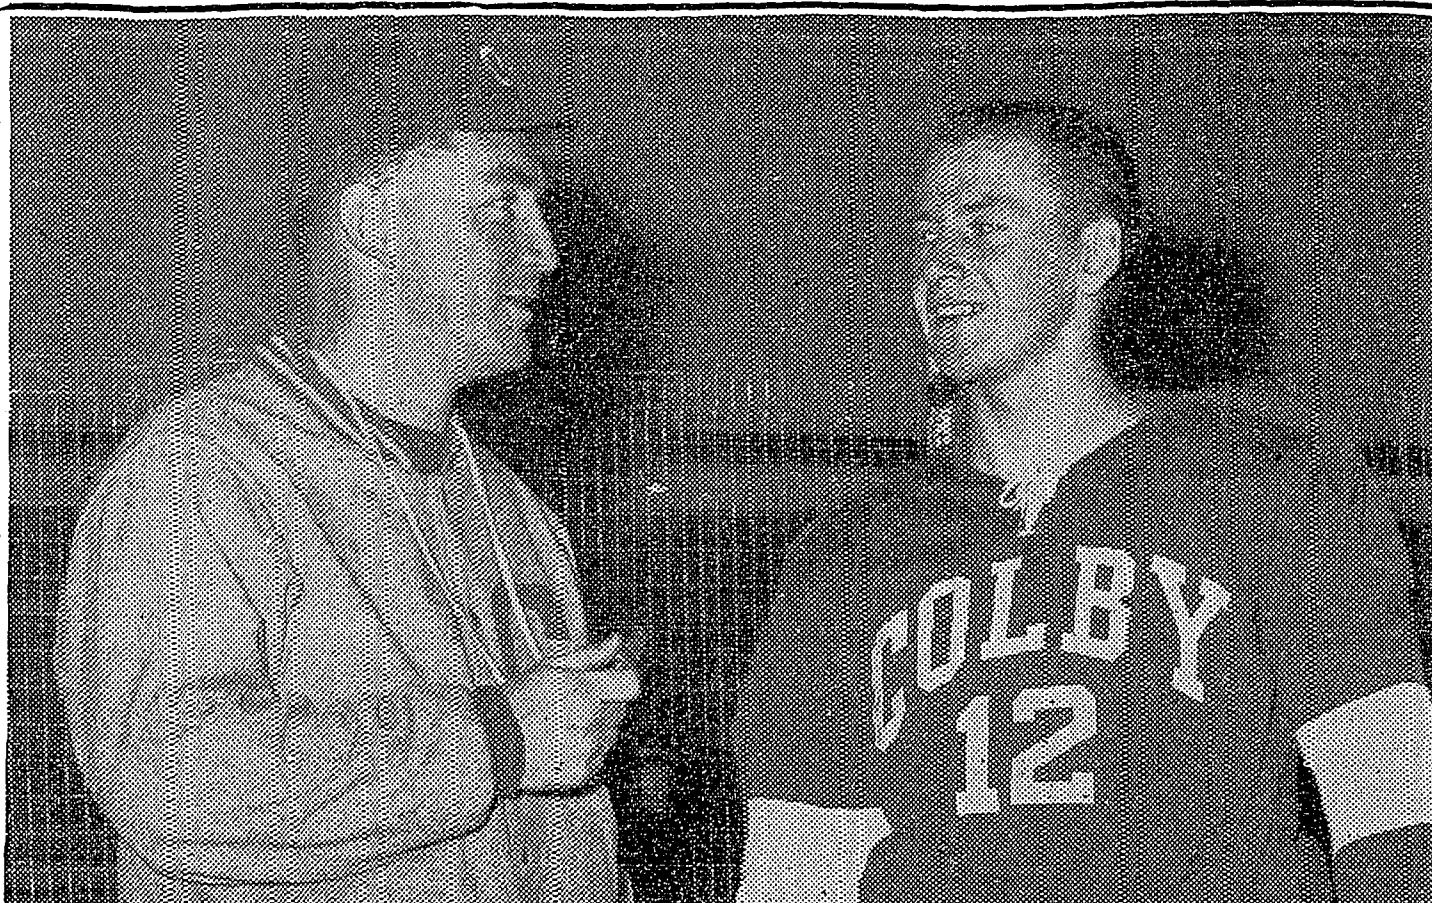

The Colby varsity hockey team ran up an 11-8-1 record for the season. Since the Mules were playing a schedule comparable to most of the other top powers in the East, it might be interesting to compare their record with some of their opponents. Boston University's record was 13-8-2. Middlebury's was 12-7-1, Northeastern 12-10, Norwich 8-18, Hamilton 8-9-1, Tufts 1-7-1, and Bowdoin 6-11-1. Many of the other teams had not yet completed their seasons, but near-the-close records ran somewhat as follows: Amherst 9-7, Army 9-9-1, Boston College 18-7, Dartmouth 15-7, Harvard 11-10-3, New Hampshire 13-5, Providence 8-11-1, R.P.I. 13-7, and Williams 8-9-1. The varsity basketball team posted a 13-10 record, quite commendable for any team. There were times in the season when it seemed it would turn out poorly, but a strong finish made the difference. The frosh hockey club posted a 10-0 record, which was not the best in recent years on paper but to most who have observed the teams in recent years, it seemed the finest club and one most likely to help the varsity in the future. The frosh hoopsters made their's a 15-2 season. The two lost games came at the hands of the Maine frosh, led by Skip Chapelle who has proven the nemesis of the Colby frosh, while at Old Town High School, M.C.I. and finally Maine. The ski team took a second and a third place in its two meets. The over-all winter sports tabulation comes to a torrid 49-20-1.

The next thought, then, is a look toward the coming season. I would like to devote the forward glance to baseball at this time and save golf, tennis, and track for other articles in the future.

Baseball has long been a bright spot in Colby athletics. Since the days of "Colby" Jack Coombs, the sport has continued to hold a prominent spot on the Mule sport scene. Coombs went on to hurl for the Philadelphia Athletics where he set a World Series pitching record and after which he was elected to the Baseball Hall of Fame. Ed Roundy had coached Colby to many wins and established a coveted record, but it took a fiery yet coolly efficient young John Winkins to put the Mules where they are now and to give them the bright future that they now have. The team has won two consecutive state titles under Coach Winkin in his three years here.

Even more encouraging, however, is the fact that only two men from last year's team have graduated. Returning starters are Ed Burke at first base; Tony Zash, state batting champion, at second; George Roden at short; Lloyd Cohen at third; Captain Lee Oberparleiter in right field; and Pete Cavari in center. The returning pitchers are John Roberts, Ray Berberian, Charlie Leuthke, Joe Grimm, and Tony Ruvo. New pitchers are Dave Long and Elden French. Dave Seddon and John Rafferty will join Don Burgess behind the plate, while Cal Pingree will add fielding strength to the team.

If Seddon makes the grade as catcher, Burgess may be patrolling left field. Luethke is also available for the outfield.

Basketball Season Very Successful; Team Garners Ninth Straight Title

The varsity basketball team, although it had to come from behind to capture the 1959 State Series Championship, nonetheless had one of its better seasons, compiling a 13 wins-10 loss record.

The team started out taking a 65-56 decision from Bates with Ed Marchetti leading the scoring, hitting for 24 points. Dartmouth, highly ranked in New England and Ivy League champions, knocked off the Mules in a defensive battle, 52-33. Marchetti held Rudy La Russo to six points, while being the only double figure scorer for Colby. The Big Green went on to post a 19-5 record in lie Swenson and Marchetti combining for 34 points. Brandeis lost only eight other games while winning ten over the course of the season.

top-flight competition. Maine followed up with a 75-72 win over the Mules. Leon Nelson led the Mules with 17 points in the losing cause. The game heralded the Black Bears as the team to beat in state series competition. Bowdoin fell prey to the Mules in the next tilt, 60-55, with Nelson picking up scoring laurels by hitting 18. Colby played its last game before Christmas vacation against the Braideis Judges and downed them 74-70, with Char-

The club is an outstanding fielding team and is strong in the batting department. The pitching had to prove itself because, in spite of the seeming veterancy of the staff, Warren Judd bore much of the brunt of the hurling chores. His eight games won set an all-time Colby mark and his absence will force the staff to come up with a few stalwarts.

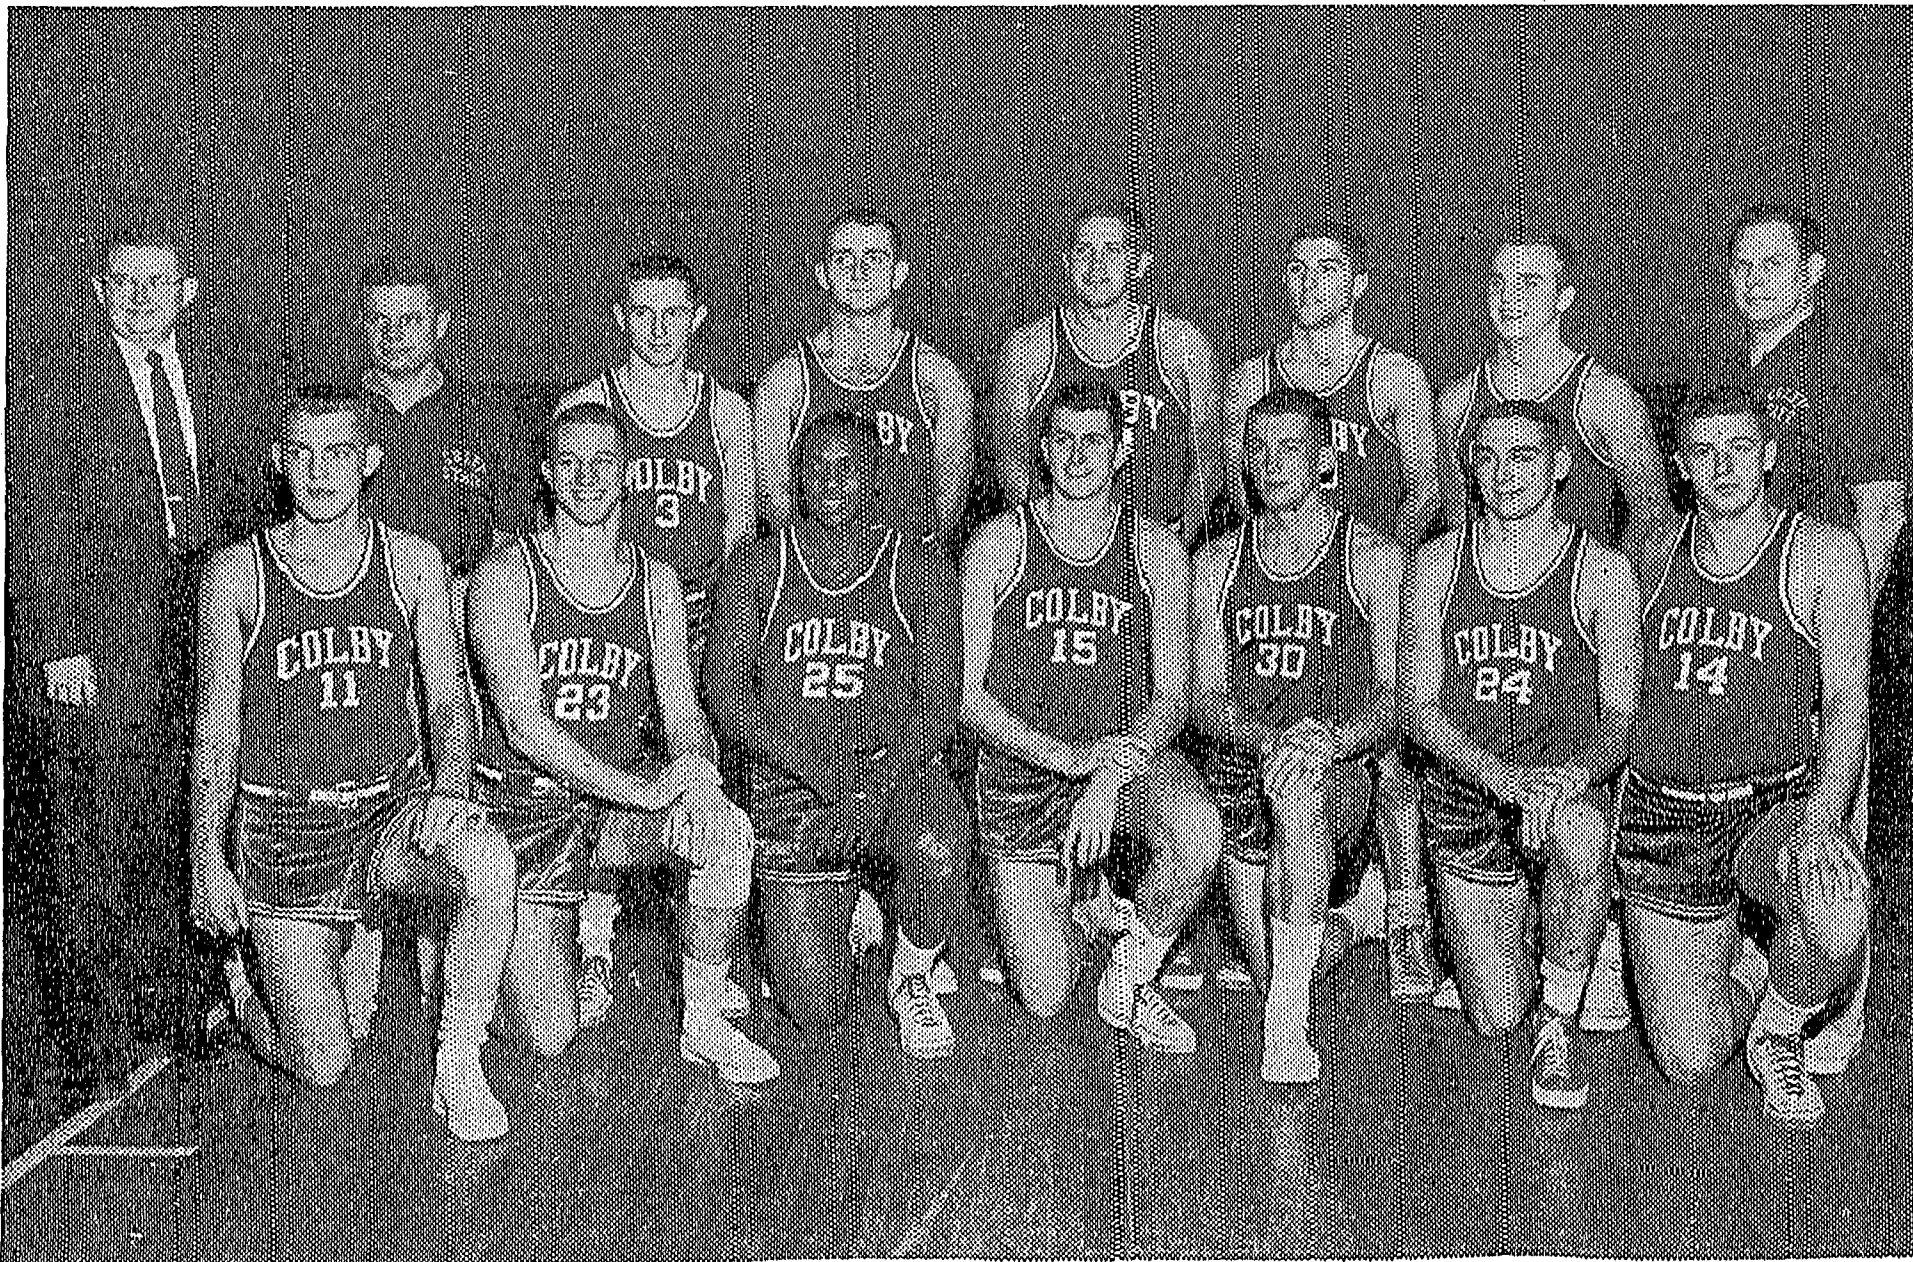

Captain Lloyd Cohen tallied 15 points in a losing cause as Iona defeated Colby 59-52 in the first vacation clash. The Down East Classics Tournament at Bangor featured the four Maine colleges plus Rutgers, Tufts, Wesleyan and St. Michael's. Cohen led the Mules to a 64-45 win over Tufts in the Jumbos' first tournament game with 22 points. Colby's other senior guard, Tony Ruvo, led the Mules over Bowdoin with 16 points, the final score being 60-54. St. Michael's edged the Mules 58-53 in the finale, although Nelson banged home 20. The New England small college champs posted a 13-4 mark for the season with their star, Tony Nicodemus, making small college All-American.

Marchetti then hit for 16 points and the Mules came back on the winning trail in downing Bates 60-43. Colby lost straight games to Amherst and Williams by six points each, although Marchetti tallied 23 in the first, and the two starting guards netting 38 between them in the second. In one of the biggest nights in recent years at Orono, the University of Maine edged Colby 69-65. Cohen scored 20 points with the boos of the partisan fans ringing in his ears. Finding themselves in the losing column, the Mules smashed out a victory over Springfield, 77-67, while Marchetti took scoring honors again with 20 points. The Gymnasts were 13-10 on the season. St. Michael's handled the Mules with ease winning 87-79, going away as Ruvo posted 23 points. He was again high scorer with 13 in a 77-63 route of Trinity, as nearly everyone on the team got into the scoring. Tufts fell prey by a booming 68-37 as Cohen, Swenson, Marchetti and Paul Neri all hit double figures. Bowdoin made the third straight win for the Mules by a 76-58 score as Cohen and Marchetti combined for 34 points.

The two drastic drubbings came at the hands of Boston University and Providence College in consecutive games. B.U. was 79-44 victors with Nelson netting 10, and Providence bombed the Mules 68-39 while Marchetti scored 12. Each of the Boston area schools lost six games while they won 18 and 16 respectively.

The final four games were about the best of the season. They enabled Colby to finish strongly. Bowdoin lost 84-71 behind Marchetti's 27 point sharpshooting. Cohen hit for 19 in the 96-73 drubbing of Bates. Boston College managed to get by Colby 77-73, but the Mules almost pulled one of the biggest upsets of the year in pressing the winners toward the finish of the game. Cohen did well in scoring 16 points against the fabulous Chevalier. The climax of the season was a 65-62 victory over Maine. Marchetti garnered 20 to lead the victors to their ninth consecutive state title. Maine nonetheless came up with its finest season in many years, compiling a 13-5 record.

Colby Outing Club Sponsors Ski Trip

The Colby Outing Club will sponsor another ski trip to Sugarloaf this Sunday, March 15. The interest shown in the recent trip on February 22 has encouraged another, although there will only be one bus on this expedition. Breakfast will be served to the skiers in Roberts Union and the Foss dining room at 7 a.m., and the bus will leave from the front of the Women's Union at 7:30.

The Outing Club will hold a supper meeting on Tuesday, March 17, at the Lodge on the Belgrades. Chairman Paula Chamberland has promised a good meal for those attending. A further discussion of the May canoe trip will be the big discussion topic of the meeting.

Colby Cadets Take Instruction Course

After minimum dual instruction, senior advanced course Cadets Alden Belcher, Michael Farren and Douglas Merrick have soloed in the 'Heart of Maine Flying Service' Taylorcraft. These cadets are enrolled in the new Flight Instruction Plan, which encourages cadets to enroll as pilot training candidates. Flight Instruction provides the Air Force with means of identifying, before graduation from college, AFOTC Cadets who have the aptitude and ability to become military pilots.

The three cadets will get 36½ hours of flying time — 20 dual hours, 15 solo hours, and a 1½ hour final check flight. They also go to ground school for thirty-five

The second half of the program commenced with two numbers representing the North. "Snow" effectively featured dancers dressed in white, and "Religion" portrayed Saint Anthony and four tempters clad in black. This latter was backed by the music of Paul Hindemith's "The Temptation of Saint Anthony".

The final selection was the South. It opened with the "St. Louis Blues" and was followed by a number danced by Jo Gantt and Jan Grescak to George Gershwin's "Summertime". A gay "Mardi Gras" preceded the finale, "Segregation". In this last dance Diane Sadler was the "rejected one". Miss Hage, the leader, and "the group" consisted of Gillian Lamb, Donna Lambson, and Jo Gantt.

The whole production was under the direction of Jo Gantt and Janet Grescak. Judy Hoffman and Marion Porter supervised the making of costumes and Daniel van Heeckeren was in charge of the lighting. Carlene Perry was responsible for the music. Janet Haskins acted as stage manager, and Lucinda Paddock was house manager.
