Gabrielson Series Begin; Topic: Labor Relations

Beginning on February 7th, the department of History and Government initiated for the fifteenth consecutive year the Gabrielson Lecture Series. Provided through the generosity of Guy G. Gabrielson, former chairman of the Republican National Committee and an honorary graduate of Colby and a member of the Board of Trustees of the college, these lectures deal with national or world affairs in politics and economics. The title of this year's series is "American Labor and Management in the 1960's."

Professor Mavrinac, organizer of this year's series, said that the relationship between labor and management in the 1960's is one that will be of primary importance throughout the decade. Strikes such as the recent steel and railroad strikes point up the problems in labor and management relations. Automation and new techniques have changed the relationship between management and labor substantially since the 1930's and the post war period.

John T. Dunlop, professor of Economics at Harvard University, initiated the series last Tuesday speaking on "Labor and Management in the 1960's", a sort of prelude to the future lectures. A lecture scheduled for February 14 by Archibald Cox, Royal Professor of Law at Harvard Law School, has been cancelled. Mr. Cox has been appointed Solicitor General of the United States and cannot now comment on that topic. The speaker for this date is subsequently still to be announced. On February 28 Stanislaw Wellisz, Professor at the Graduate School of Business of the University of Chicago, will speak on "The Impact of the International Economy on American Labor and Management in the 1960's." Mark Starr, the Educational Director of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union, will speak on March 7. His topic will be "A Labor Leader looks at the 1960's." Management will have a chance to present its views on March 14. Charles A. Kothe, Vice President of the Industrial Relations Division of the National Association of Manufacturers, will speak on "Labor, Management and Automation in the

The Gabrielson Lectures, unlike lectures put on at most other colleges, are conceived without definite speakers in mind. The Department of History and Government selects the area of concentration and the lecture topics and, then finds distinguished men in the field to discuss these topics. In the past such distinguished Americans as James M. Landis, recently appointed to a presidential task force by Federal Regulatory agencies, the late senator Robert Taft, Senator Margaret Chase Smith, columnist Max Lerner, diplomat Ralph Bunche, Senator Muskie, and Paul Ward, president of Sarah Lawrence College, have come to Colby to lecture. Themes in the past have been Political and Moral Arguments for the Welfare State, in which two lectures were delivered by Presidential Advisor Arthur Schlesinger, United Nations and World Affairs, Contemporary Crises Centers, Underdeveloped Centers of the World, Issues Facing American Voters, and Political Problems of the Middle East.

Associate Professor Rothchild, organizer of the series given on Africa last year, said that "Student interest was one of the best features of the series." Several of the speakers

Science & Religion To Be Theme For Feb. Convocation

From Sunday, February 19, through Tuesday, February 21, the Annual Religious Convocation will be the major intellectual event about Colby. This year's speakers will be discussing the relationships between religion and science. Key-noting the Convocation will be the Director of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Dr. William G. Pollard. Dr. Pollard, who is also an active Episcopal parish priest, will speak of "Invalid Contrasts of Science and Religion" on Monday, February 20, at 11:00 a.m., in Lorimer Chapel. Speaking in Lovejoy Auditorium at 4:00 p.m. that same afternoon, will be Dr. Everett S. Wellis, Professor of Chemistry at Princeton University, and a Quaker. His topic will be, "A Chemist Seeks Religion." Finishing the busy day, Dr. James W. Steehan, a Jesuit priest and Professor of Geology at Boston College, will speak on "Comparisons of Science With Religion," at 7:15 p.m., in Given Auditorium. Following Dr. Steehan's talk, refreshments will be served. On Tuesday, February 21, Dr. Paul A. Moody, a Professor of Zoology at the University of Vermont, will speak at 4:00 p.m. in Given Auditorium on "Evolution and Religion." Dr. Moody is a Congregationalist. At 7:15 p.m. Tuesday, Drs. Steehan, Moody, and Wellis will participate in a colloquium on the theme of the convocation. To be held in Given Auditorium, the colloquium will be followed by refreshments.

On Sunday, February 19, the President's House will be open to students. Drs. Pollard and Wellis will be present, and the faculty will be on hand to participate in the discussion as well. All students are cordially invited to attend.

Concerned with one of the most vital areas of modern philosophical and theological thought, all the speakers should prove more than interesting to those of us concerned with gaining rational meanings for our lives. This convocation should prove to be for all of us a truly liberalizing educational experience.

Allen Lightner Retires After Excellent Career

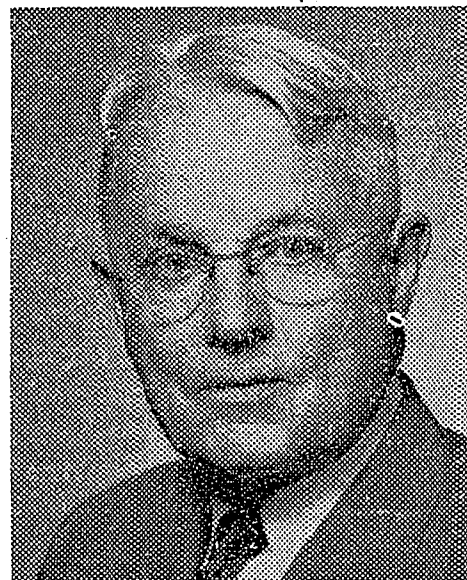

by William Pollock

At the conclusion of the annual winter meeting of the board of trustees, President Strider announced the retirement of E. Allen Lightner, Colby's roving good-will ambassador and fund-raiser.

Lightner, who celebrated his 80th birthday two weeks ago, is a 25 year veteran of Colby's administrative staff. As assistant to three presidents, he has been a key figure in the move from the downtown campus to Mayflower Hill.

A back issue of the Echo (April 16, 1947) revealed that at that time Lightner had convinced, personally, 3500 people to become "stockholders" in the "Venture of Faith." Shortly before this date he had returned from the Pacific Coast where, as chairman of the Lovejoy Memorial Committee, he called on 65 publishers of leading daily newspapers. This resulted in a drive to commemorate "freedom of the press" and the Lovejoy Building.

In 1951, the college awarded Lightner an honorary master of arts degree with a citation which praised him as "apostle for Colby. . . tireless traveler, undaunted seeker, bearer of good will, and constant messenger of cheer." In presenting the degree President Bixler referred to Lightner's career as an undergraduate at Oberlin College "Having sung first bass for the Oberlin glee club and played second bass for the Oberlin team, you have rounded third base for Colby and are received with hearty applause at home."

In 1958, the Alumni Council awarded him a Colby Brick. "Your days and nights have belonged to Colby, and your buoyant spirit made duty a joy," he was told.

President Strider credits Lightner with "one of the most remarkable records of funds-raising and salesmanship in the annals of American education."

The President stated further: "This college has been blessed with men and women who have had unswerving faith in its mission and in the inevitability of achieving its goals. None has served with more loyalty and thoroughness than Allen Lightner. He is a man of great energy and of great convictions. In representing Colby he has told its story with unusual skill."

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Lightner had an extensive business career prior to coming to Colby. He was Connecticut manager of B. F. Goodrich Co. (1920-23), vice president in charge of sales of Republic Rubber Co. of New York (1923-26); and financial expert on the International Committee of the YMCA (1935).

Mrs. Lightner is also a graduate of Oberlin College.

Miles, Gleason & Weller Are New Leaders of Colby Echo For 1961

The Editorial Board of the Colby ECHO announced Tuesday night the 1961 staff of the ECHO which will take over at the beginning of second semester. ECHO Editor Dan Hodges said, "We have increased the staff by four members and have included more sophomores and freshmen. The new editor of the ECHO is Gary Miles, a member of the class of 1962. Gary is a Classics-English major, and expects to teach Classics in college following graduate school. As a freshman, he was a member of the Debating Team, and at last year's Honor Assembly was awarded the Sigma Theta Psi Scholarship Trophy. This year, he was the originator of the unofficial publication, LOGIOS. Gary is from Needham, Massachusetts.

Ann Gleason is the new Managing Editor of the ECHO, and in this capacity will also be serving on the Editorial Board. Our Make-up Editor last year, Ann is a math major from Penacook, N.H., and is a Junior Advisor.

Colby Hoopsters Split In Weekend Contests

Colby's improving basketball team gained a split in two contests on their home court last week. The Mules walloped Trinity College 84-59 on Friday night, but then were edged 74-69 the following night by a very fine Springfield College five.

The Trinity contest proved to be easy pudding for Lee Williams' crew as they posted their highest score of the season. Colby started slow as they have a habit of doing, but after the five minute mark they poured it on, outscoring the Bantams 35-20 in the remainder of the half. Following in the tradition of previous games, the Mules scoring was well distributed with all five starters hitting for double figures. Captain Charlie Swensen had one of his best nights of the campaign, as he popped in 22 points hitting on 8 of 14 shots from the floor. Of the other starters Dave Thaxter chipped in 17. John Kelly totaled 12 and Dennis Kinne scored 14.

The Springfield game featured exciting and well played basketball.

The Gymnasts brought to Colby one of the better teams in New England, having previously posted victories over Dartmouth, Brown, American International, and Bridgeport. Colby stayed on even terms with the taller Gymnasts through most of the game but were unable to stop Springfield from scoring at the crucial moments.

The number one nemesis to the Colby cause was Springfield guard Joe Dichiaro who tallied 27 points. Dichiaro was one of the smoothest and fastest players seen on Mayflower Hill in the past couple of years. He seemed to have an uncanny knack for cashing in on three point plays. The other big guns in the Springfield attack were Gordon Merten and Ray Marinko who added 18 and 17 points respectively.

For the Mules 4 of the starters again hit double figures. Colby's record now stands at a deceptive 7-10. There is still a good chance that the Mules will finish over the .500 mark.

Nimzo Indians Win Chess Club Clubs Waterville Experts

The Colby Chess Club defeated the Waterville City Club by a 3½-2½ in a match held Sunday, Jan. 29. Colby had won a previous match 4½-3½. This result is quite impressive in view of the fact that Waterville defeated Portland, 5½-1½, and Rumford, 6½-½, in matches held recently.

On Feb. 26 the club plans to have, as its guest, International Grandmaster William Lombardy who will give a lecture and simultaneous exhibition at Roberts Union.

Pucksters' Hopes Drop After Setback At B. C.

First string goalie Frank Stevenson was lost for the remainder of the season as the Colby Mules suffered a serious setback to their N.C.A.A. hopes for this year when they lost to Boston College 8 to 2 one week ago tonight. The game was played at Boston and marked the fourth loss of the season for the Mules against 23 wins. In other recent N.C.A.A. play, Colby has knocked off Bowdoin, 9-1 (1/11/61), Norwich Academy, 7-1 (1/14/61), and Merrimack, 11-1 (1/28/61). During this period, the production line of Ronnie Ryan, John Maguire, and Sandy Boardman accounted for 17 goals and a total of 41 points.

Stevenson dislocated his shoulder with about five minutes remaining in the first period, then reinjured it just before the start of the second period. He was then forced to leave the game and Al Carville took over in the nets. Stevenson originally injured his shoulder as he moved rapidly from his right to his left and caught the glove of his left hand on the upper, horizontal bar of the goal cage. As he continued to his left, he dislocated the shoulder, but it went back into place by itself. Just before the start of the second period, Frank placed his left arm on top of the bar and by some freak accident, the shoulder popped out again. This time the trainer had to tend to it, and Stevenson had to be removed from the game.

This indeed is alone a serious blow to Colby's hockey hopes for this season. However, a bright spot appears with the return to the Mules' cage of Dave Seddon. Seddon, now in his senior year, played 17:47 as he banged home a slap goal in his frosh year here at Colby and he was undefeated in 13 games. Not until the 6:37 mark of the finale did the Mules break into the scoring column. Ryan took a beautiful pass from Sandy Boardman across the full width of the ice and broke in all alone on the goalie to net the score. Don Young also picked up an assist on the play. Boardman closed out the scoring at don, now in his senior year, played 17:47 as he banged home a slap goal in his frosh year here at Colby and he was undefeated in 13 games. Seddon shot on a pas from Harry Wilmer and he was undefeated in 13 games. ending on a power play.

The trustees continue to believe that the planning of each Foundation program should take into account the problems confronting education."

President Strider has stated the funds will be applied to a program which seeks to develop the physical resources of the college library and to enlarge scientific laboratory facilities. Colby has received awards annually since the Foundation was established in 1955 by the Standard Oil Company.

UNIVERSITY OF MAINE WINTER CARNIVAL
The annual Maine Winter Carnival will be held on the 17-19th of February at the Orono campus. This year Maine would like to enlarge the weekend by inviting college men and women from other state schools.

The big band sounds of Ronnie Drumm will start the weekend off on Friday evening. He has not played the New England area to a great extent, but is well known in other sections of the country. A combination concert on Saturday will feature the uptempo Dixieland of the Salt City Six and the witty, satirical, folk-singing of the Limelinters, recent conquerors of the "Hungary." Skating, skiing, many fraternity parties, and a variety show will round out the weekend.

ALL COLLEGE ASSEMBLY

Colby is embarking on a campaign to raise twenty million dollars. This money is needed for faculty salaries, the scholarship fund, and to enhance our physical plan. Buildings needed by the campus are dormitories, an auditorium which will seat two thousand, physical education facilities, a swimming pool, a new infirmary, a student union, and of course, class buildings.

President Strider ended the convocation with some pleasing and surprising news. President Emeritus Bixler will be the guest speaker at the Recognition Assembly in May.

"IT'S HERE-IF YOU WANT TO WORK FOR IT"

Even before Ron Spetrino received his engineering degree from Case he had good job offers from six companies.

He joined The Ohio Bell Telephone Company—his reason: "I was convinced an engineer could go further here—if he was willing to work for it."

As soon as Ron got his feet on the ground in telephone engineering, he was tapped for a tough assignment. The job—to engineer switching equipment modifications needed to prepare Cleveland for nationwide customer dialing of long distance calls.

Ron wrapped it up in five months, and found he had earned a shot at another tough assignment. In this job Ron helped engineer a completely new long distance switching center for Cleveland. This switching center connected Cleveland with the nationwide customer dialing network. It was about a year later that Ron put the finishing touches on the specs for this $1,600,000 project.

Today, as a Supervising Engineer, Ron heads a staff of five engineers and is responsible for telephone switching in much of the greater Cleveland area.

He supervises the design and purchase of $3 million worth of equipment a year. And even more important, he is charged with developing the technical and managerial skills of his staff.

Ron knows what he's talking about when he says, "In this business you have to do more than a good job. We expect a man to be a self-developer. We expect him to take responsibility from his first day on the job and think for himself. You don't get ahead around here by just doing time."

If you want a job in which you're given every chance to prove yourself, and real responsibility right from the start—you'll want to see your Placement Office for further information.

"Our number one aim is to have in all management jobs the most vital, intelligent, positive and imaginative men we can possibly find."
