A new day brought new ideas to the Leather Shoe Workers Union. They would discuss the future of their industry and the challenges ahead.

Mrs. Charlotte MacKinnon of Waterville informed the workers of a new strategy for organizing the labor force. She discussed the importance of solidarity and the need for unity in the face of opposition from the management. The discussion continued into the night, with many workers remaining long after the formal meeting adjourned.

TO SEE THE SHOW

Thousands of People Came to Waterville for the Ringling Bros.

AN EXCELLENT EXHIBITION.

No Stages of Transportation Problems For the Big Game.

The weather has been kind to the Ringling Bros. show. The town of Waterville has been bustling with activity. People from all over the area have come to see the show.

George York was seen to be going. An explanation of the moccasins was made and the agent took occasion to ask the man where he got his boots. He was told they were his own. Everyone in the audience was on edge.

The Baptist parsonage will probably be occupied by one of the new pastors in the middle of September.

PETTY POLITICS.

Alfred Gove fired an ex-Deer Park. But that, as usual, was no great issue.

A recent meeting of the city's High School Board was held on Thursday evening in the city's Administration Building.

The committee on street lights to the common council had the following to say:

A petition was received from Mr. Lewis that a new sewer be laid along the north side of the railroad. The petition was referred to the committee on new streets on account of the fact that the railroad company had refused to have the sewer laid.

let not the Sentinel be too hard in his language. The popular verdict will be that the Democratic press would not carry on the liquor business merely because of its desire to make Democracy votes out of the situation. Any attempt to do this would bring about a more temperate community than ours it would be more orderly. The situation and now that there is a more temperate traffic, but the situation controlling the traffic, but the situation.

LIVER AND KIDNEYS

It is highly important that these organs should receive proper care. Prevention is far better than cure. A balanced diet, moderate exercise, and proper hygiene are essential for their health. Avoiding excessive intake of alcohol and tobacco is also crucial.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Known for its many beneficial properties, Hood's Sarsaparilla is used to improve digestion, detoxify the body, and promote overall health. It's a classic remedy that is still widely used today.

The Story of a Visit to Germany

Among the many amusing things that I have experienced, one was this: A German-American named Fowler, who was a most unusual character, and of course was popular. He was a great favorite with the German authorities. He was a man of intense vitality, and was always on the go. He was a great friend of the Kaiser, and was always in high favor.
