The National Biscuit Company has brought the science of baking close to the point of perfection, practically revolutionizing the baking of biscuit, crackers and wafer.

It makes them better than they have ever been made before; it keeps them fresh in moisture proof packages, as they have never been kept before, and all this goodness it guarantees by placing a trade mark in red and white on each end of the package, so that even the toddler peeping eagerly over the counter's edge, may buy as safely as the thoughtful housewife.

If every woman in the land could actually know the high quality, the never-ending care, the infinite skill, the absolute cleanliness by every package bearing this trade mark of the National Biscuit Company, it is certain that there will be no other biscuit, cracker or wafer sold in a common paper bag.

That this happy consumption may come to pass, the National Biscuit Company will invite the ladies of this city to join them in pleasant entertainment and thus become acquainted in a really delightful way with the most delicious baking in the world.

MAGIC IN TIBET.

The wand of the Wonder Workers of the old and the new is a powerful tool, and the country and cities are not the only places where they are active. In the center of the citadel, in the house of the master, the presence of the Wonder Worker is always felt. The wand is regarded as a symbol of his power and authority, and it is used to perform various magical feats, such as conjuring and exorcising evil spirits. The wand is made of various materials, such as wood, bone, or metal, and it is often decorated with symbols and inscriptions. The wand is held by the master in their right hand, and it is used to focus their energy and direct it towards the object or person they wish to affect. The wand is also used to channel the magical energy of the surroundings, such as the sun, moon, and stars, and to create magical sigils and talismans. The wand is considered to be a sacred object, and it is treated with great respect and care. It is kept in a special place, away from the reach of ordinary people, and it is used only by the master and their students. The wand is considered to be a bridge between the tangible world and the spiritual realm, and it is used to communicate with the unseen forces and entities. The wand is also used to bless and protect the master and their students, and it is considered to be a symbol of their power and authority. The wand is an integral part of the magical practices and rituals, and it is used to perform various magical feats, such as conjuring, divination, and exorcising evil spirits. The wand is also used to focus and channel the magical energy of the surroundings, such as the sun, moon, and stars, and to create magical sigils and talismans.
STILL WATER EXPLODES.

Fire Company Called Out This Morning.

A destructive explosion occurred in the small town of Stillwater, some twenty miles from this place, Tuesday morning, at 9 o'clock. The explosion took place in a still water pump, located in the village of Stillwater. The explosion was caused by the explosion of a gas tank, which was filled with gas and exploded, causing serious damage to the building in which the tank was located.

The explosion caused considerable damage to the building and left the water pump completely destroyed. The authorities were called to investigate the cause of the explosion and to determine the extent of the damage caused.

The residents of Stillwater were deeply shocked by the explosion and were left without a source of water for some time. The authorities were quick to react and were able to provide alternative sources of water to the residents.

The cause of the explosion is still under investigation, and the authorities are working to determine the extent of the damage caused. The residents are being provided with water from alternative sources until the pump is repaired.

The explosion in the Stillwater pump serves as a reminder of the importance of proper maintenance and safety measures in the storage and handling of gas tanks. The authorities are urging residents to take necessary precautions to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.

The explosion in Stillwater has raised concerns about the safety of gas tanks and the need for proper maintenance and inspection. The authorities are working to ensure that appropriate measures are in place to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.

The explosion in Stillwater has sparked a debate about the safety of gas tanks and the need for proper maintenance and inspection. The authorities are working to ensure that appropriate measures are in place to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.
