A booklet, Colby, with illustrative material, has been prepared for prospective students and may be obtained from the dean of admissions.

Colby College is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, which accredits schools and colleges in the six New England states. Membership in one of the six regional accrediting associations in the United States indicates that the school or college has been carefully evaluated and found to meet standards agreed upon by qualified educators. Colleges support the efforts of public school and community officials to have their secondary school meet the standards of membership.

Colby College admits qualified students of any race, religion, or national or ethnic origin without regard to sex or handicapped status. It does not discriminate on the basis of such criteria in its educational or employment policies, or in its athletic, scholarship, loan, or other college-administered programs. Colby is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and operates in accordance with federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination.

In 1813, when Maine was still a part of Massachusetts, a group of Baptists secured a charter for the Maine Literary and Theological Institution, and in 1815 received a grant of land on the Penobscot River. Permitted subsequently to erect the institution on a site other than the land grant, they chose a tract in Waterville on the west bank of the Kennebec, where in 1818 the Reverend Jeremiah Chaplin began instruction of seven theological students.

The first legislature of Maine in 1820 granted the institution the right to confer degrees, and in 1821 changed the name to Waterville College, with Jeremiah Chaplin as the first president. William King, Maine's first governor, had been instrumental in securing the original charter, and was himself for many years a member of the board of trustees.

Though founded by Baptists, the college, even in its earliest days, was not narrowly sectarian. The Maine charter decreed that no applicant should be denied admission on grounds of religious belief. By 1830 the theological course had been abandoned, and the institution became, and remains today, distinctly a nonsectarian college of liberal arts. Though without official ties to any denomination, the college is proud of its Baptist heritage and support.

When the Civil War threatened to force closing of the college, the struggling institution was saved by a generous gift from Gardner Colby, a prominent Baptist layman of Newton Centre, Massachusetts, and in 1867 the grateful trustees changed the name to Colby University. In 1899, sensing that the college had never become a university in fact, the board changed the name to Colby College.

In the first class receiving degrees in 1822 was George Dana Boardman, pioneer of a long line of Colby missionaries to foreign lands. A graduate in 1826 was Elijah Parish Lovejoy, who suffered martyrdom for the cause of freedom of the press when his persistent antislavery articles led to his death at the hands of a mob in Alton, Illinois, at the age of thirty-four.

Colby first admitted women in 1871, when Mary Low was the lone female student. By 1890 the number had so increased that President Albion Woodbury Small proposed, and the trustees adopted, a system of coordination, providing for men's and women's divisions with separate classes. In time coordination changed to coeducation, and Colby is now officially a coeducational college.

After the First World War, Colby found its campus confined to thirty crowded acres hemmed in by the tracks of the Maine Central Railroad. On the campus were ten buildings, while six others sprawled into the downtown area. In 1930 the trustees voted that "as soon as feasible" the college must move to a new site.

For twenty anxious years after this decision, President Franklin Winslow Johnson led a valiant and finally successful campaign to move the college, despite the obstacles of a great depression and the Second World War. Colby was gradually transferred, between 1943 and 1952, to its new site on Mayflower Hill, on land given by the citizens of Waterville.

In 1942 Dr. Johnson was succeeded by President J. Seelye Bixler, who for eighteen years extended and solidified the program on the new campus, securing national acclaim. Since 1960 President Robert E. L. Strider has brought Colby further renown, both for its physical plant and the significant strengthening of faculty and program.

The growth of Colby since the transfer to Mayflower Hill has been striking. On 900 acres there are now forty-one buildings and several playing fields. Enrollment has risen from 600 to 1,600, and students come from two thirds of the states and many foreign countries. The faculty, numbering fifty-six in 1940, now is 147. Endowment has increased from three million to twenty-six million dollars. The physical expansion has been accompanied by growth in variety and quality of the curriculum.

In 1963 Colby College observed its 150th anniversary with a series of events emphasizing the college's heritage and its responsibility for the future. That academic year was a milestone, but no event had more significance for the college than its selection by the Ford Foundation for development as a "regional center of excellence." Colby received in June 1962 a challenge grant of $1.8 million in the foundation's Special Program in Education, which was successfully matched on a two-to-one basis in three years. Officials of the Ford Foundation chose a select number of liberal arts colleges to be included in the program "because of the importance of the liberal arts—the humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences—in cultivating the thoughtful leadership and independent opinion essential in a free society.” Colby has continued to explore the possibilities of the liberal arts, experimenting with educational innovations—enriching the traditional liberal arts program while remaining responsive to a changing universe.

COLBY TODAY

Colby is a coeducational undergraduate college of liberal arts committed to the belief that the best preparation for life in our world, and especially toward the professions that require further specialized study, is a broad acquaintance with human knowledge rather than narrowly concentrated training in limited areas. It is the pursuit of truth, free and unrestricted, for truth itself is almost infinitely various.

In addition to a comprehensive investigation of our heritage, the Colby student is given an opportunity to explore thoroughly a major field of study.

Consistent with the philosophy of the college, responsibility is given each student in the determination of the academic program and in the regulation of social life and daily living. Toward this end, advising, guidance, and counseling are available. The recommendations of the Constitutional Convention in 1969, adopted by the board of trustees, and of a similar convention reconvened in the spring of 1972, revised the governmental structure of the college to make possible a productive sharing of responsibility in the reaching of decisions. Through work on committees at both the faculty and board levels, this process involves students, faculty, and alumni, as well as the administration and trustees.

Emphasis on independent thought and enterprise by students is nothing new. Colby’s January Program of Independent Study, initiated in 1962, encourages the student to acquire the habit and the methods of exploring a particular field of knowledge on his own, which can be carried over beyond graduation and through life.

Students are strongly advised to consider graduate study in further preparation for the professions. Each year a number of Colby graduates enter divinity, law, and medical schools, and graduate schools of arts and sciences, business, education, and engineering.

On the occasion of the college’s 150th anniversary, in connection with a convocation dedicated to the general subject The Heritage of Mind in a Civilization of Machines, President Strider wrote: “Colby and other colleges were founded upon ideals that have not changed. A center for sound learning in the quiet wilderness of Maine in 1813 was something to be desired. The quiet wilderness almost everywhere is gone, and the cacophonous megalopolis that stretches the length of our Atlantic coast has crept to the margins of the forests to the North. But the need for sound learning remains, and the human race, wherever it is found, still faces the fundamental questions that are prompted by man’s perennial curiosity.” In the 1970’s Colby College maintains this commitment.
The Campus

In 1977 Colby observed the twenty-fifth anniversary of the move from its original site in downtown Waterville to Mayflower Hill, two miles west of the city. Today forty-one buildings stand on a campus of 900 acres, one of the most modern and beautiful in the nation.

The first building was Lorimer Chapel. The main chapel, in early New England style, contains an organ built in the classical tradition by Walcker of Ludwigsburg, Germany. Its specifications were drawn up by Albert Schweitzer. The Rose Chapel adjoins the main building.

At the center of the campus is Miller Library, described in a section that follows.

The science center consists of three buildings connected as a unit: the new Seeley G. Mudd Science Building, which opened for the second semester in 1978 for physics, geology, and mathematics; the Keyes Building for chemistry; and the David Kenneth Arey Life Sciences Building for biology and psychology. The science library for the center is in Keyes. Extensive renovations of the Keyes and Arey buildings are expected to be completed by the fall of 1978.

The humanities and social sciences are centered in the Elijah Parish Lovejoy Building, named for the Colby graduate who was one of America's earliest martyrs for freedom of the press. Here are classrooms, faculty offices, laboratories for modern languages and psychology, and an auditorium.

Administration offices are housed in the Eustis Building.

The Bixler Art and Music Center has classrooms, studios, an art and music library, auditorium, rehearsal hall, and practice and listening rooms. The Museum of Art, with the Jetté Galleries and the Marin Gallery, is a major segment of the center. The Lenk Building houses studios for painting and design as well as workshops for wood and metal sculpture. Emphasis in the college's permanent collection is clearly in the American field, but the British Isles and Europe are represented by paintings, sculpture, prints, and drawings.

Colby is a residential college where students are expected to live and eat on campus. Classes are distributed equally through all eighteen dormitories, some of which are coeducational. In addition to these dormitories, there are eight fraternity houses, where students live but not dine. In special circumstances, some students have the option of living off campus.

Set into a hillside, the Garrison-Foster Health Center opened in the fall of 1976. The first floor is devoted to outpatient treatment and service rooms. The second floor has inpatient facilities: a twenty-four-bed infirmary, first aid room, lounge, study carrels, kitchen, and dining area.

Roberts Union, completely renovated in 1977, serves as a student center. The facility has two dining halls, the Seaverns bookstore, a post office, and the student spa and pub. In addition to numerous meeting rooms for campus organizations, the center also has a pottery workshop and is headquarters for the outing club and all student publications, as well as the campus radio station, WMHB.

Completed in 1976, the Performing Arts Center in the Ninetta M. Runnals Union features the 274-seat Strider Theater, with orchestra pit and balcony. Above the balcony are control booths for lighting, sound, and projection. Workshop-storage areas and, on two levels, dressing rooms are behind the stage. The second floor has a studio equipped for dance.

Indoor sports facilities are in the physical education and athletic complex and consist of the Wadsworth Gymnasium (badminton, volleyball, and four basketball courts), Alfond Ice Arena, the fieldhouse (an eighth-of-a-mile track, a baseball diamond, and four tennis courts), the Dunaway Squash and Handball Courts (consisting of seven singles and one doubles), the swimming pool, saunas, and a weight training room.

Outdoors there are some fifty acres of playing areas: two football fields, two baseball diamonds, two soccer fields, fourteen tennis courts, fields for field hockey, intramural competition, and recreation, a quarter-mile track, as well as cross-country courses for running and skiing. Community facilities include bowling lanes and riding stables.

The entire Mayflower Hill campus has been designated by the Maine legislature as a State Wildlife Management Area. Part of the woodland has been set aside as a wildlife sanctuary, The Perkins Arboretum and Bird Sanctuary, and includes 128 acres.

In the Belgrade Lakes area, near Waterville, the college owns the Colby-Marston Preserve, a thirty-four-acre tract containing a kettle-hole bog. The preserve, which is considered a classic example of a northern sphagnum bog, has been classified a Registered Natural Landmark by the United States National Park Service. It is used for teaching and research in the fields of biology, ecology, and geology.

Near the coast, at Head Tide, the college owns the birthplace of Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Edwin Arlington Robinson. Maintained as a memorial, the house is open on specified days each summer for visitors.
The Library

The Miller Library, at the center of the campus, furnishes printed and audiovisual material for assigned and recreational reading, reference, research, and independent study. Reading rooms and individual carrels in the main library and in departmental libraries provide study areas for approximately one third of the students. The library is a member of the New England Library Network and The Center for Research Libraries. The main building is open from early morning until late at night during the academic year, and mornings and afternoons each weekday in summer. Miller Library houses the humanities and social science collections, college archives, and special collections.

An open-stack system allows browsing through the collection of 340,000 volumes. The library has 1,150 current periodicals, with strong retrospective runs, and daily newspapers from this country and abroad. In addition, on file are specialized types of material such as microfilms of newspapers, periodicals, and documents, a spoken-record collection, some films, and video tapes. Miller Library is a selective depository for United States government documents.

There are two libraries devoted to departmental collections. The Bixler Center has the Ambrose Coghill Cramer Room for the library of fine arts and music. The science collections are housed in the newly renovated Keyes Building.

Special collections of first editions and manuscripts in Miller Library have achieved international recognition. The Edwin Arlington Robinson Memorial Room, named for the famous Pulitzer Prize-winning Maine poet, contains his books, manuscripts, letters, and memorabilia. The Thomas Hardy Collection is one of the most extensive in the country. Other authors represented in the Robinson Room include A. E. Housman, Sarah Orne Jewett, Kenneth Roberts, Henry James, Willa Cather, John Masefield, William Dean Howells, and Thomas Mann.

The John and Catherine Healy Memorial Room contains the James Augustine Healy Collection of Modern Irish Literature, with numerous inscribed copies, manuscripts, and holograph letters of William Butler Yeats, Sean O'Casey, James Joyce, George Bernard Shaw, and many others. The Healy Collection has 7,000 primary and critical sources representing the Irish Literary Renaissance, 1880-1940.
The Alfred King Chapman Room houses the college archives, which hold over 4,000 manuscript files pertaining to Colby graduates, faculty, and staff dating from 1813 to the present. Also included is an extensive collection of books by Colby graduates and faculty.

The Academy of New England Journalists has established its archives in Miller Library.

The Colby Library Associates, founded in 1935, is an organization of friends of the library, many of long standing. Dues are used to purchase books, manuscripts, and letters that the library could not otherwise acquire. Members receive the Colby Library Quarterly.
The Academic Program

DIVISIONS OF INSTRUCTION

The courses in the curriculum are classified under four divisions. In the Division of Humanities are art, classics, English, modern foreign languages, performing arts, and music. The Division of Social Sciences includes administrative science, economics, education, government, history, philosophy, psychology, religion, and sociology. In the Division of Natural Sciences are astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, and physics. The Division of Physical Education and Athletics, besides offering courses, administers the intercollegiate athletic and intramural sports programs.

Certain interdepartmental courses take content and staff from more than one department, and sometimes from more than one division.

THE STUDENT'S PROGRAM

The student at Colby normally takes from twelve to eighteen credit hours in each semester.

To assure distribution among the divisions mentioned above, students must include English composition and literature, a foreign language (unless exempted by examination), and courses to meet "area" requirements in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. Programs are usually planned so that the majority of these requirements are met within the first two years, leaving the junior and senior years for "major" concentration and for free electives.

Each freshman is assigned to a member of the faculty who advises him during the first year; at the end of that year he is assigned a new adviser from the department in which he has declared his major.

Prospective students frequently ask what subjects they will study—especially in the freshman year. It would be misleading to present any specific pattern of courses for either of the first two years. The programs of individual students may vary widely because there is considerable latitude within the requirements. The student preparing for a scientific career or the study of medicine will begin electing scientific subjects at once. Many major departments in both the natural and social sciences recommend mathematics for the freshman year. Each student should discuss his prospective program with his adviser, noting carefully the recommendations and requirements of areas in which he might later wish to major.
To qualify for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a candidate must meet specific requirements in quantity, quality, distribution, and concentration, and must also complete a January program for every first semester in residence to a maximum of four.

Quantity

A minimum of 120 semester credit hours, at least 105 of which (hereafter called "basic credits"), including, effective with the class of 1981, all distribution requirements, must be earned in conventionally graded academic courses or specifically designated nongraded courses (see also Flexible Credits, Residence).

Quality

A minimum of 210 quality points in 105 basic credit hours. For each credit hour, a mark of A entitles the student to four points, a mark of B to three points, a mark of C to two points, and a mark of D to one point. No points are given for marks below D. Two points are awarded for each hour of Cr in basic nongraded courses.

DISTRIBUTION REQUIREMENTS

A. English Composition and Literature: Six credit hours. This requirement will be met by English 115 and 152.

B. Foreign Language: A basic knowledge of one ancient or modern foreign language. This requirement may be met in one of five ways:

1. Giving evidence of satisfactory achievement in a foreign language taught at Colby by attaining before entrance a score of sixty in a College Entrance Examination Board foreign language achievement test.
2. Successful completion of three hours in courses numbered above 123 in a modern foreign language, with the exception of Spanish 127, by enrolling in 121, 122, 123, 131, or 141 as determined by the score on the appropriate placement examination, and pursuing courses in sequence until the requirement is fulfilled.
3. Successful completion of a classical language sequence terminating with either Greek 131 or Latin 232.
4. For a transfer student who has studied a foreign language not taught at Colby, the requirement will be fulfilled if he has completed at an accredited institution the equivalent of a second year of that language at the college level with marks high enough to make the work acceptable toward the Colby degree.
(5) For a foreign student whose native language is not English, knowledge of his native language will be recognized as fulfillment of the language requirement, subject to the approval of, and possible testing by, the department of modern foreign languages.

II AREA REQUIREMENTS
A minimum of six credit hours in each of the areas described in III below. Three of the credit hours in the natural sciences must involve laboratory experience.

C. SOCIAL SCIENCES
   Administrative Science
   Ancient History Economics
   Education
   Government History
Philosophy and Religion (except courses listed among the humanities)
Psychology
Sociology

PHYSICAL EDUCATION
Completion of freshman physical education requirements are required for graduation.

RESIDENCE
Candidates for the degree must earn in residence at least sixty credit hours, including fifty-three basic credits with a 2.0 cumulative average. They must be resident students at Colby for at least four semesters, including the last two semesters before graduation. A resident student is defined as a full-time student taking at least twelve credit hours.

Credits earned at another institution while concurrently registered at Colby may not be applied toward graduation requirements.

EXEMPTION BY EXAMINATION
When appropriate, either all college or area requirements, as well as certain requirements for the major, may be absolved by examination without course enrollment, at the discretion of the department concerned. Credit hours can be earned under specified conditions.

OPTION FOR CERTAIN STUDENTS
A student returning to college after an absence must meet any new requirements for graduation if he still needs more than one half of the total number of credit hours required for graduation. If he still needs no more than one half of the total number, he may meet either the new requirements or those in effect when he first enrolled.

MAJOR
Near the end of the freshman year, each student elects a tentative major in which he wishes to concentrate. The major may be chosen in a single subject, in one of a number of designated combinations, or in a specially designed independent major.

The respective academic departments and programs specify the courses constituting a major in each department or program. Before selecting a major, the student should acquaint himself thoroughly with the requirements detailed in the section on Divisions, Departments, and Courses of Study.

With the consent of the departments or programs concerned, a student may change his major. Forms for officially effecting such change must be obtained from and returned to the registrar’s office.

Any student whose cumulative points in courses completed toward the major fall below a certain scale loses his right to continue with that major. The required scale is as follows:
1.5 grade point average for the first two courses; two points for each credit hour thereafter.

Each department or program designates the courses to which the point scale applies for its major. A student below the point scale may, with the consent of the department or program concerned, be accepted or retained for one semester as a probationary major.

A student may change his major at the end of the junior year if he has completed, with the required points, the equivalent of at least twelve credit hours toward the fulfillment of the new major. If, at the end of his junior year, a student finds no department or program in which he can be accepted as a major, he cannot continue in college. If, in the senior year, the cumulative points in courses completed toward the major fall below the required number, the major requirement is not fulfilled, and the degree cannot be awarded.

A student may design an independent major by presenting a detailed written proposal prepared with the support of an adviser who agrees to assume responsibility for the program throughout its course. Normally there will be at least one other adviser who will help to shape and direct the program. The program must include integrated course work representing from one quarter to one third of the total credit hours required for graduation. Implementation requires the written approval of the independent major board, which is made up of the dean of the faculty, two faculty members elected from each division, and two students appointed by the Student Association. An annual report is required from each independent major and his adviser, which will include any minor changes in the program; substantial changes, or a change of adviser, must be referred to the board.

READING PERIOD

During the two weeks preceding the final examinations at the close of the second semester, a special reading period is scheduled for many courses numbered in the 300's and 400's. Not a time for review, this period frees the student from the routine of class meetings so that he may devote full time to independent study of freshly assigned reading or laboratory work. Although classes do not meet, instructors are available for consultation. Reading-period assignments are tested in the final examinations to a maximum of one third of the examination time.

Whether to have a reading period is decided by each instructor, who informs students whether classes are to continue meeting during the two weeks. Reading periods are not held in courses exempted from final examinations.

JANUARY PROGRAM OF INDEPENDENT STUDY

The January Program of Independent Study, introduced in 1961-62, grew from a desire to extend to students a greater measure of academic responsibility. Formal coursework of the first semester begins immediately after Labor Day and extends to the start of the Christmas holiday; this includes semester examinations. The second semester starts in February, freeing January for projects distinct from regular class meetings. January is a period during which topics may be pursued single-mindedly, free from the competing demands of an orthodox curriculum.

Great diversity is evident in the nature and conduct of the projects, which may be undertaken with a group or independently. Students may work on campus or away, in laboratories, museums, libraries, hospitals, professional offices, government agencies, and the like. The college does not impose restrictions on the subject matter nor on the method of research, but each project must have demonstrable academic or creative merit and be conducted through direct supervision by the faculty sponsor or an off-campus supervisor working with the sponsor.

Because the January program assures most students considerable flexibility in use of their time, it offers a chance to participate fully in extracurricular activities, including athletics, drama, and music. During January the college maintains a schedule of lectures, seminars, concerts, and art exhibitions.

The concept of January as a period of study or field experience extends to faculty as well. At least half serve as program sponsors; the others, relieved of teaching, have an opportunity for writing, reading, and research.

To be eligible for graduation, each student must successfully complete one January program for each first semester in residence.

Registration for the program takes place during the first semester, when descriptions of group projects and a list of faculty available during January are published. Three options are offered:

(1) Group plans, designed primarily for freshmen and sophomores.
(2) Individual plans outside the major for upperclass students. These projects must be approved by the January program committee.
(3) Individual plans in the major. These require approval by the student's major department or interdisciplinary program. Most majors require that one independent (nongroup) January program be done in the major. Each student is responsible for knowing the January program requirements of the major.

A fine of $5 per day is charged for late registration, to a maximum of $15 beginning with the final day of the change-of-plan period in December. A student failing to register for a program by the end of the third day of the January program will be considered to have failed the program for that year. A student may not register for two concurrent January programs.

January programs are graded honors, pass, or fail. Marks of Abs (absent from final examination) or Inc (work otherwise incomplete) may be given only in cases where the student has an excuse from the dean of students. A grade of CF (conditional failure) may be reported if the sponsor judges the work generally creditable but flawed by errors or inadequacies which may be corrected by the student. Projects receiving grades of Abs, Inc, or CF must be completed by the end of spring vacation.

Make-up of a deficiency is arranged in consultation with the faculty adviser and the director of the January program. Make-up proposals must be registered by the third Monday in April. Departments may permit not more than one January program deficiency to be made up by successful completion of a summer school course approved in advance for this purpose by the department. Students may not, at any time, apply credits thus earned toward any other requirement for the degree, nor may they register for more than one make-up January program during any semester.

A student whose record shows two January program deficiencies will be placed on probation by the committee on standing.

FOREIGN STUDY

Since 1970-71 Colby has had a Junior Year Abroad program in France, established in cooperation with the Université de Caen. Enrollment is limited to Colby students. Details of the program are available from the department of modern foreign languages.

Colby is a member of the Associated Kyoto Program, which makes possible a year of study in Kyoto, Japan. In addition, Kansai Gaikokugo Daigaku of Osaka annually makes a tuition scholarship available to a selected Colby student.

By agreement with Manchester College, Oxford, and with the universities of Glasgow and Aberdeen, limited numbers of Colby nominees are accepted for a year of study at these institutions.

Opportunities for study abroad in these and other countries are available through the programs of other institutions or by independent arrangement.

Permission to study abroad during the junior year is given by the committee on foreign study and student exchange programs. Credit for such study is guaranteed only if the student follows a program approved in advance by the major department and the committee. Application must be made by November 15 for spring-semester study abroad and by April 15 for fall-semester; forms can be obtained from members of the committee. Approved applicants must notify the dean of students office of their plans by December 15 for a second semester abroad or by May 1 for a first semester abroad.

Committee approval presupposes an academic record for the first three semesters sufficient to give promise that the student will complete his program of foreign study with credit to himself and to the college.

The committee administers the Harold D. Walker Scholarship Grants for study and travel in Latin America and the French Government Scholarship Fund for study abroad in French language and literature.
EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

Colby participates in student exchange programs with Fisk University in Tennessee and Pitzer and Pomona colleges in California. Ordinarily, exchanges are arranged for a single semester of the junior year. Each student pays tuition, board, and room charges at the home institution; travel is at the student’s expense.

A course exchange program is in effect with Thomas College (Waterville). Students may obtain information about exchange programs from the committee on foreign study and student exchange.

OFF-CAMPUS PROGRAMS

A limited number of qualified students may earn up to fifteen hours of academic credit by one or more off-campus field experiences which have a direct, demonstrated relationship to their major field of interest. Such field experiences may be done while in residence at the college, concurrent with regular course work, or away from campus while on a leave of absence. Students must submit a formal proposal, to be approved by the appropriate academic department in advance of the start of the field experience. Each student earning Colby credits in this program is charged an administrative fee.

An opportunity is provided for a limited number of Colby students in their sophomore and junior years to participate in the various Washington Semester Programs organized by The American University in Washington, D.C. Through these programs, students can obtain firsthand knowledge of the national government as it deals with the crucial problems of cities, foreign policy, economic development, and scientific advancement.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Colby has traditionally encouraged the enrollment of students from other countries and is actively engaged in programs of international cooperation and exchange.

Students from foreign countries other than Canada should write to the dean of admissions for a preliminary application form. Upon its receipt, the college will determine whether or not the candidate has the potential for completing the requirements for a Colby degree. If the decision is affirmative, application material will be forwarded.
Applicants should be aware that financial aid for foreign students is extremely limited.

All foreign applicants are encouraged to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) if it is offered in a student's home country. In addition, applicants who have attended a school in which the medium of instruction is not English are required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The college has no program to teach English as a foreign language.

The adviser to foreign students is Assistant Professor Jonathan M. Weiss of the department of modern foreign languages.

REGISTRATION

Students must register for courses of each semester on the regularly assigned days. A fine of $5 for each day of delay is charged on the student's semester bill for registration later than the date specified.

No student will be permitted to register later than the seventh class day of the semester, unless the dean of students certifies in writing that exceptional circumstances justify such action.

The treasurer is not authorized to permit deferred payment of any fees that the board of trustees requires to be paid in advance of registration. It is important that students understand the distinction between payment of fees and registration. Each student must complete the financial procedures specified by the treasurer before he can register.

ELECTION OF COURSES

Each semester, with the approval of their advisers, students elect programs of study for the following semester; these elections, with approved revisions, are confirmed during the registration period at the beginning of each semester. A student's academic program must bear his adviser's approval and be properly filed with the registrar; no credit will be granted for work in a course for which a student is not correctly registered.

With the approval of the adviser, voluntary changes in a student's program may be made during the first eight class days of a semester, the first day of classes being considered the first day of the semester. After the eighth day, no changes may be made voluntarily from one course or section to another.
Changes of section within a course must be approved by the department or course chairman. Unless otherwise stated in the course description, no course may be repeated for additional credit. A student may not register for two courses scheduled to meet concurrently.

FLEXIBLE CREDITS

Fifteen of the 120 hours required for graduation (called “flexible credits”) can be earned in any combination of the following: (1) additional basic credits, (2) courses taken on a pass/fail basis, (3) courses specifically designated as carrying flexible credit, or (4) independent, noncurricular field experience that has a direct, demonstrated relationship to the student’s curricular program and which has been approved in advance by the appropriate departmental or program committee. Details about field experience can be obtained from the assistant to the dean of faculty.

PASS/FAIL

Students may elect a limited number of courses on a pass/fail basis (see FLEXIBLE CREDITS); beginning with the class of 1981, these cannot include distribution requirements. Departments may specify that major courses must be taken on a conventionally graded basis; it is the student’s responsibility to be aware of the policy of his department.

Forms for declaring pass/fail options can be obtained at the registrar’s office. The form must be completed and returned no later than ten days after the end of the change of course period of the semester in which the course is to be taken. Once submitted, a pass/fail election may not be voluntarily revoked. Letter grades submitted by instructors will be converted to P (for grades A through D) or NP before being posted on permanent record cards. No information about the “quality” of a P will be released by the registrar’s office, even upon request of the student himself.

AUDITING COURSES

A Colby student may register to audit courses (not for credit) by obtaining written consent of the instructor and his adviser. He is not charged an auditing fee, nor is the audit recorded on the student’s permanent record.

Adults who are not students of the college may register to audit courses at a fee of $5 each semester for each credit hour, provided they obtain written consent of the instructor and of the dean of admissions; the fee is waived for persons sixty-five years of age or older. Members of the college staff and their spouses may register without charge to audit courses or to take courses for credit; the necessary forms can be obtained from the registrar. Permission to audit will be withheld if the class is already too large and if auditing applications for it are numerous.

An auditor is not permitted to submit papers or perform any other function for which course credit is usually given. For this reason, auditing is seldom permitted in courses where the method of instruction involves significant individual attention and criticism. Under no circumstances can academic credit be given an auditor, nor can he later convert an audited course into an accredited course merely by paying the regular course fee. The decision whether the course is to be audited or taken for credit must be made at entry.

At the close of each semester, a period of six days is set aside for examinations in all courses except those which are specifically exempted by the chairman of the department concerned. The time and place of semester examinations are fixed by the registrar. The mark for the examination may constitute up to half of the total course mark.

No student may be excused from any semester examination except for illness or emergency so grave as to justify excuse in the judgment of the dean of students, or unless he has filed with the registrar a valid conflict-of-exams form based on his having scheduled three examinations in a single day or any four consecutive examinations. A student excused because of an examination conflict may be examined at a later date convenient to the instructor during the examination period or during a make-up date scheduled the day after the end of the regular examination period. Under no circumstances may a student be permitted to take a semester examination earlier than the date on which it is scheduled. A student is entitled to only one semester examination in any course; failed examinations cannot be repeated.

With the consent of the dean of students, a student may for unusual reason accept, in lieu of semester examination, a mark for the course equal to seventy-five percent of his average without examination. Because this procedure is costly in reduction of final mark, few request it.

Hour examinations and shorter quizzes are given as the individual instructor decides. Short quizzes may be scheduled without notice, but each instructor is expected to give one week's notice of any hour examination.

Plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty are serious offenses. The instructor may dismiss the offender from the course with a mark of F and may also report the case to the department chairman and the dean of students, who may impose other or additional penalties. A student is entitled to appeal charges of academic dishonesty to the faculty appeals board, which shall recommend action to the president of the college.

A student's class standing is determined by the number of credit hours he has passed. Freshman standing, fewer than twenty-four credit hours; sophomore, from twenty-four to fifty-three; junior, from fifty-four to eighty-three; senior, eighty-four or more.

Throughout the semester, at the discretion of the professor, warnings are sent to students. A major warning means that a student's standing at that time is below passing; a minor warning that, though passing, standing is so low that failure of the course is likely.

Official marks are issued in duplicate to students at the end of each semester. The college does not send grades directly to parents. In practice, a student often obtains his mark directly from the instructor, but the only official record is that in the registrar's office. Normally, grades are posted as A, B, C, D, E, F; courses described as "nongraded" are marked Cr (credit) or NC (no credit). If a course has been elected to be taken on a pass/fail basis, the registrar will convert the letter grade to P or NP before recording and releasing it.

In a course designated as a year course, the tentative mark, showing progress at the end of the first semester, carries no credit toward graduation; for such courses, no credit is given until the completion of the full year's work. A student who has failed a year course may not secure credit by repeating merely the second semester even if his tentative mark at the end of the first semester is passing; he must repeat the entire year to obtain credit.

A mark below $D$, except in courses referred to in the next paragraph, indicates that a course has been failed and that credit thus lost must be made up by an additional course taken subsequently. If the failed course is specifically required for graduation, it must be repeated.

A mark of $E$ is given only in specifically designated first semester courses. The mark $E$ signifies temporary failure, which may be made up by improved work in the sequentially related course during the second semester. Passing the second semester in such a course entitles the student to a change of the first semester mark from $E$ to $D$.

A mark of $Abs$ indicates that a student has been absent from the final examination (see Examinations). A mark of $Inc$ indicates a course not finished for some reason other than failure to take the final examinations. Grades of $Abs$ or $Inc$ must be made up within limits set by the instructor, and not later than January 15 for the first semester and August 30 for the second semester. After these dates, any remaining mark of $Abs$ or $Inc$ will be changed to an $F$. The dean of students may give limited extensions for the completion of work without penalty but only for excuses similar to those acceptable for missing a final exam.

Marks of $W$ and $WF$ indicate withdrawal from course, and represent the student's standing at the time of withdrawal. $WF$ indicates that the student was failing; $W$ indicates either passing or no basis for judgment. These marks are excluded from computation of all averages except that $WF$'s incurred within the last thirty calendar days of the semester are treated as $F$'s in averages. Withdrawal is permitted through the final class day of the semester.

For abandoning a course without permission the student shall receive an $F$.

The letter $R$ is used together with an appropriate mark when a student has repeated a course previously passed, and in such a case there can be no additional credit in terms of credit hours.

When a student's academic record is seriously deficient, the decision to retain or dismiss him from college or to place him on probation is made by the committee on standing. The committee considers both quantity and quality of work in determining progress. The faculty has endowed this committee with full power to deal with these matters.

WITHDRAWAL, LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Students who leave Colby while a semester is in progress are required to withdraw, as are students who leave at the end of a semester with no definite plans for return. Students who withdraw are not permitted to return without special approval. Students who withdraw for medical reasons must have the permission of the college physician in order to apply for readmission. Eligibility for initial or continued financial assistance from the college will be subject to review and action by the financial aid committee.

Students who leave to participate in college-approved student programs elsewhere or who leave at the end of a semester for a specified period may take a leave of absence and are not required to obtain special permission in order to return. Those who do poorly in study programs elsewhere are, however, subject to review and action by the committee on academic standing.

Such withdrawals or leaves must be officially accomplished by filing the appropriate form, which must be obtained from and signed by the dean of students. The proper exit procedure, which includes the surrendering of the student's identification card and dormitory keys, must be followed to be eligible for any refunds that may be due (see REFUNDS). A student who leaves without official notification is not eligible for refunds, which are computed from the date on the approved notice.

TRANSFERRED CREDITS

Courses taken at other institutions may be credited toward the Colby degree under the conditions and circumstances listed below. In addition to the conditions listed on these pages, restrictions detailed in the section on RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS (q.v.) should be read with care.

1. When students are admitted by transfer, their records are tentatively evaluated by the registrar to determine the transferable equivalent in Colby courses. These courses are credited subject to confirmation through satisfactory progress at Colby College.

(2) College level courses taken by freshmen prior to matriculation are evaluated on the same basis as courses presented by new transfer students.

(3) Students on approved foreign study or student exchange programs will receive credit under terms specified by the committee on foreign study and student exchange programs. Credits earned in summer school may be transferred if approved by the appropriate Colby department; forms for this purpose can be obtained at the registrar's office and should be filed prior to taking the course. No student may receive credit toward graduation for more than fourteen credit hours taken in summer school for the purpose of making up deficiencies incurred at Colby.

(4) When a student who has been dropped from the college applies for readmission, courses taken during the period of separation are examined for transferable credit on the same basis as courses presented by new transfer students.
Admission

Colby College admits students as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Admission is selective, and evaluation includes data concerning academic achievement and ability, as well as qualities of intellectual promise, interest and excitement in learning, character, and maturity.

The college actively seeks applicants who have special qualities or talents to contribute to the Colby community, as well as those who represent diverse geographical, racial, and economic backgrounds. Such candidates are expected to be within acceptable ranges of academic ability and preparation.

The quality of a candidate's preparation is judged by the academic record, the recommendations of school authorities, and results of tests administered by the College Entrance Examination Board.

To ensure a common educational base, a minimum of sixteen academic preparatory units is recommended, including: English 4, foreign language 2, college preparatory mathematics 3, history or social studies 1, science (laboratory) 1, college preparatory electives 5.

(1) Candidates submit applications provided by the admissions office prior to February 1 of the year admission is desired. A nonrefundable fee of $20 accompanies each application.

(2) Colby grants early decision to well-qualified candidates who have made the college their first choice. Applicants submit application forms, junior or senior SAT's, and three achievement tests prior to January 15, and include the printed form requesting early decision. Early decision candidates may file regular applications to other colleges with the understanding that these will be withdrawn if the candidate is accepted on an early decision basis at Colby.

College notification of action is normally given within four weeks of the receipt of the completed application. Candidates who have not been approved for early decision are deferred to the college's regular admission plan and are reviewed without prejudice at the usual time in the spring.

The schedule for admissions applicants is:
Lorimer Chapel

Award-winning dormitory complex
Championship meet, Fieldhouse
Across Johnson Pond
January 15: Deadline for filing for early decision and financial aid for early decision applicants.

February 1: Deadline for filing applications for regular admission and financial aid.

Mid-April: Notification of action by admissions committee to regular applicants.

May 1: Accepted regular applicants confirm intention to attend Colby by payment of an advance tuition deposit of $200.

INTERVIEWS

Individual interviews, though not required, may be scheduled weekdays throughout the year at the admissions office except during the months of February, March, and April. Interviews may also be scheduled on Saturday mornings during the academic year when the college is in session. A group informational session is held at 10:30 on these Saturday mornings to accommodate visitors who were unable to obtain individual appointments.

Alumni interviews can be arranged for students who cannot visit the campus and would like some additional personal contact and information about the college.

CAMPUS VISITS

A visit to the campus is encouraged. Guides are normally available at the admissions office weekdays throughout the year and on Saturday mornings by appointment when the college is in session. Colby does not have overnight guest accommodations. Students occasionally make their own arrangements for lodging with a Colby friend or acquaintance. There are a number of motels near the campus, including a Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge and a Holiday Inn.

Colby is reached by auto from the Maine Turnpike and I-95; Waterville is serviced by Greyhound Bus and Air New England.

TESTS

All candidates are asked to submit the results of the Scholastic Aptitude Test and three achievement tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. The Scholastic Aptitude Test should be taken no later than December or January of the senior year. The achievement tests should include English composition; the others may be of the candidate's choice. A language achievement test for placement purposes may be submitted any time prior to registration in September. A score of sixty on the language test meets the college language graduation requirement.

ADVANCED STANDING

Colby participates in the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board, providing academic credit for students qualified for advanced standing. Those interested take CEEB advanced placement tests and have them submitted to Colby for evaluation. Students scoring four or five receive automatic placement and credit from the college. Scores of three and below are evaluated by the academic department concerned.

In addition to earning advanced placement credits, regularly enrolled students may earn credit by examination in freshman- or sophomore-level courses to a maximum of twelve hours. Departmental examinations or external examinations approved by the department may be used, with credit given for the equivalent of at least C-level work. The cost of each examination is borne by the student.

EARLY ADMISSION

A small number of students are admitted without completing the senior year of secondary school. This is done only upon the recommendation of the secondary school and when a candidate has exhausted the educational opportunities at the school. Considerations of academic and personal maturity are important to the candidate and to the college in earlier-than-usual admission.

TRANSFER STUDENTS AND VETERANS

First consideration in admission is for freshmen, but some transfer students are accepted each year. Admission by transfer is normally limited to those with satisfactory academic and personal records from accredited colleges or universities.

Transfer application forms, including a special recommendation form, may be obtained from the admissions office. Credits from accredited institutions are generally accepted for courses comparable to ones offered at Colby in which grades of C or better are received. No more than sixty transferred credit hours may be applied toward a Colby degree.

Veterans may request advanced standing consideration for completion of service schools or USAFI courses in advance of matriculation. Credit is not granted for military service or College Level General Educational Development Tests.
Subject to limitation of enrollment in individual courses and the consent of the instructors, the college permits adults to enroll as nonmatriculated students. Such persons must present evidence that they are qualified to pursue the intended courses and pay the fee of $165 per credit hour. Individuals sixty-five or older may audit a course without charge. Admission of nonmatriculated students is the responsibility of the dean of admissions.

Before matriculation, each student must present a health certificate, to be obtained from Colby and signed by a physician, including evidence of tetanus toxoid immunization within the last three years. A chest X ray and/or current Tine Test is also required. It is recommended that polio immunization be completed prior to entrance. Preregistration cannot be guaranteed unless all required forms are received two weeks prior to registration.
Orientation

An orientation program for freshmen and other new students is held each fall for several days before the beginning of classes. Designed to acquaint students with the intellectual and social life of the college, the program includes meetings with faculty and staff advisers, and placement examinations. A few days in advance of the orientation, a limited number of freshmen may participate in Maine wilderness trips conducted by upperclassmen and faculty members.

| PLACEMENT IN FOREIGN LANGUAGES | The college language requirement for 1978-79 is met at entrance by a score of sixty or more on the CEEB language achievement test.
Students continuing a foreign language at Colby are placed on the basis of the CEEB achievement test in that language. They are expected to take that test in their senior year or the last year of study of the language at the secondary-school level. If they have not taken this test, or if more than one year has elapsed since the test was taken, and they wish to continue the study of the language, they must take the language placement test during the freshman orientation program. Those presenting two or more units for entrance continue in courses above the 121, 122 level, with the following exceptions:
(1) If the last year of a student’s study of the language was the sophomore year in high school, regardless of the number of years of previous study, he may enroll in 121, 122 for credit.
(2) If a student has had two or more years of language work that terminated in the junior or senior year, he may repeat the language with credit only if the department determines, on the basis of the CEEB placement test, that the preparation received is not adequate for the 123, 124 level. |

PAYMENTS MUST BE MADE IN ACCORDANCE WITH THIS CALENDAR OF PAYMENTS WHETHER OR NOT REMINDER NOTICES ARE RECEIVED FROM THE COLLEGE.
The dormitory damage deposit does not apply to residents of fraternity houses.

Increases in costs may necessitate an adjustment in charges.

Students who are permitted to eat or live off campus may deduct $485 for board or $365 for room and dormitory damage deposit from the amount due in advance of the first semester.

Students who are permitted to eat or live off campus may deduct $485 for board or $350 for room from the amount due in advance of the second semester.

DEPOSITS

Admission Deposit—Freshmen: A nonrefundable deposit of $200 is due on or before the date for confirmation of intention to attend. This deposit is deductible from the first semester payment due August 15.

Room Deposit: All upperclass students must, in order to reserve a room for the first semester of the following college year, make a $100 deposit on or before April 4. This deposit will be forfeited if the student does not return to college unless the room reservation is withdrawn on or before July 1.

Attendance Deposit for First Semester: A nonrefundable deposit of $200 is required of all upperclass students on or before June 15 each year. Room reservations and places in their respective classes will not be held for students failing to make this deposit. For entering students, the $200 admission deposit satisfies this requirement.

Attendance Deposit for Second Semester: A nonrefundable deposit of $200 is required of all students on or before November 15 each year. Room reservations and places in their respective classes will not be held for students failing to make this deposit. The attendance deposit of a student who does not return to Colby will be retained as a credit on the student's account for one year. If the student does not return the following year, the deposit will be forfeited.

ADVANCE PAYMENTS

Tuition: The tuition charge is $2,150 per semester and must be paid prior to each semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. For schedules of fewer than nine hours, the tuition charge is $165 per credit hour. Nonmatriculating students will be charged at the rate of $165 per credit hour.
Board: Board in college dining halls is charged at the rate of $485 per semester. (Increases in food costs may necessitate an adjustment in the board charge.) Payment must be made prior to each semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. All students living on campus are required to pay the board charge to the college.

Room: The room charge in college dormitories is $350 per semester, payable prior to each semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. Students are expected to occupy college housing facilities to the full extent of their availability. Other arrangements may be made only with specific approval of the dean of students. Dormitory reservations are made through the office of the dean.

Dormitory Damage Deposit: All students living in college dormitories must pay a $15 deposit prior to the first semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. All expenses resulting from damage to or loss of college property in the public areas of the dormitories (lounges, hallways, etc.) will be charged against these deposits except in cases where the responsible students can be identified. The unused portion of these deposits is refunded on a prorated basis at the end of the year. Liability for damage to or loss of college property located within individual dormitory rooms lies with the resident(s) of that room. Students living in college dormitories are required to enter into a room contract covering this liability.

General Fee: The general fee (compulsory for all students) is $225 for the year and is payable in full prior to the first semester in accordance with the calendar of payments.

Student Activities: Included in the general fee is a sum allocated for the Student Association and such student organizations as it chooses to support.

Health Services: The general fee also supports the college health services. No additional fee is required for staff services in the student health center. Included in the general fee is sickness and accident insurance, which the college covers by separate contract with an insurance carrier. Nonboarding students are charged $6 per day for meals in the infirmary. There may be additional charges for special diets ordered by the college physician.
SEMESTER STATEMENTS Charges for miscellaneous items not paid prior to registration are included on semester statements issued November 15 and April 4.

MISCELLANEOUS Chemistry Laboratory: A fee of $20 per course is charged. Students enrolled in chemistry courses are also required to pay for excessive breakage or loss of apparatus.

Fraternity Fee: Fraternity members are charged a fee in excess of the room rent established for college dormitories. The fee, determined by each fraternity, applies whether or not the student resides in the fraternity house.

Applied Music: Students receiving musical instruction for academic credit under the applied-music program are charged a fee of $70 for a one-credit course and $120 for a two-credit course.

Developmental Reading: A $25 fee is charged for the developmental reading course.

Telephone: Telephones are located in each room of the following dormitories and fraternity: Dana, Taylor, Sturtevant, and KDR. Each student living in these housing facilities is charged a fee of $9.25 per semester for use of these telephones.

All students other than transfer and accelerating students are required to have paid to the college the equivalent of eight semesters full tuition before being granted a degree.

Students may have official transcripts mailed to other institutions, prospective employers, or other authorized agencies by completing the transcript request form available at the registrar’s office. The fee for this service is $1 for each transcript after the first. Official college transcripts are not delivered to students. A student may have an unofficial transcript upon request; the same regulations and fee apply.

PAYMENT OF BILLS Tuition, board, room, dormitory damage deposit, general fee, and any other financial obligation to the college must be paid in full in accordance with the Calendar of Payments (see previous pages) before a student is permitted to register or attend classes. Students excluded from classes under this rule for longer than ten days may be suspended from college for the remainder of the semester.

Plans providing for monthly payments at moderate cost are available through the Insured Tuition Payment Plan, 53 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02108, and Academic Management Services, Inc., P.O. Box 1000, Pawtucket, Rhode Island 02860.

The business office cannot permit deferred payment of any portion of the charges due prior to registration. Students and parents must deal directly with the assistant treasurer or treasurer concerning college bills. No other officers of the college have authority over their collection.

REFUNDS

In case of voluntary withdrawal, refund may be made of the balance of a student's account in excess of charges. The general fee is not refundable. Tuition, board, and room rent are charged according to the following schedule:

- During first two weeks of classes: 20% charged
- During third and fourth weeks of classes: 40% charged
- During fifth and sixth weeks of classes: 60% charged
- During seventh and eighth weeks of classes: 80% charged
- Thereafter: 100% charged

A prorata charge for tuition, room, and board will be made to students who withdraw upon advice from the college physician.

Revised charges for students withdrawing from college will be paid from the following sources in this order: (1) from payments made by the student or the student's parents, (2) from outside scholarships and loans, if any, (3) from Colby loans and National Direct Student Loans, if any, (4) from Colby financial aid, if any. Any Colby aid not needed to cover revised charges will be removed from the student's account and not refunded.

Refunds of federally insured loans and Basic Educational Opportunity Grants are made in accordance with government regulations.

Whenever a student is required to withdraw because of unsatisfactory conduct, no refund will be made.

No refunds will be made to withdrawing students until the withdrawal process is completed.

OVERPAYMENTS

Credit balances on semester statements are ordinarily carried forward to the student's account for the following semester.
After semester statements have been issued, requests for refund of credit balances will be honored promptly. Participants in tuition payment plans may make special arrangements for earlier refund at the business office. Credit balances on the accounts of graduating seniors will be refunded automatically.

Refund is made directly to a student only upon written authorization directed through the mails to the business office by the person responsible for payment of the account.

Information concerning the status of a student's account may be obtained from the business office upon request.

Colby awards over two million dollars annually in scholarships, loans, and campus employment to students having financial need. A member institution of the College Scholarship Service (Princeton, New Jersey), Colby requires each financial aid applicant to submit a Financial Aid Form, the analysis of which determines student need within the context of the college's financial aid policy and schedule of student fees. Most accredited colleges and universities utilize the College Scholarship Service method of need analysis. Accordingly, the amount of expected parental contribution does not vary appreciably among colleges.

The primary obligation of financing a college education rests with the family of the student. Assistance is extended by the college to augment the family resources and ease the burden of the needy student. Because of fund limitations and Colby's commitment to meet the need of upperclass students, it may not be possible to extend offers of financial aid to all entering needy freshmen. The financial aid committee selects freshman aid recipients on the basis of need and academic and personal potential. Financial aid is renewable and is contingent upon continuing financial need as determined by analysis of the Financial Aid Form submitted each spring. Students who do not receive aid as freshmen should not assume that they can or will be aided during their upperclass years. While the college will attempt to assist students with need, fund limitations may preclude those not initially awarded aid. The college will not extend financial assistance in any form for more than eight semesters. No applicant is denied aid on the basis of race, religion, national or ethnic origin, sex, or handicapped status. An applicant must first be admitted before his/her financial aid application is considered.

Colby’s financial aid policy is determined by the financial aid committee of the college.

Financial aid at Colby, as at most colleges and universities, combines gift scholarships, loans, and jobs. Loans and jobs are termed “self-help.”

Gift Scholarships  Gift scholarships, in the form of grants, total over $1,500,000 and are derived from endowment income, gifts made possible by the generosity of alumni, trustees, friends, and foundations, as well as current income and federal government Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants. (Only Kling scholarships for male descendants of Colonial America require special application beyond the Financial Aid Form, although Kling applicants must qualify on the basis of need, as well as verifiable ancestry.)

Basic Grants  Students applying for financial aid are also required to apply for a federal Basic Educational Opportunity Grant by checking the appropriate box on the Financial Aid Form. Application for a Basic Grant is free. If a student is eligible, the Basic Grant will be used as the foundation of any financial aid awarded by Colby.

Travel Assistance  Travel assistance is awarded to financial aid recipients, the amount to be established by the financial aid committee according to available funds. Travel assistance is credited directly to the student’s account and may not be disbursed as cash unless a surplus remains in the student’s account after all college bills are paid. Travel assistance is intended to release family funds normally allocated for college expenses, making those funds available for student travel expenditures.

Self-Help, Campus Employment  Self-help consists of low-interest student loans and/or campus work opportunities. Current financial aid policy describes freshman self-help as the first $1,050 of total need. For upper-classmen, the first $1,050 of need is self-help, and approximately $75 in additional self-help is required for each $250 of remaining need, to a possible maximum self-help of $1,650.
A minimum need of $1,250 is required for Colby gift-scholarship-award eligibility.

Financial aid recipients with larger self-help responsibility are offered one of 325 campus jobs assigned through the financial aid office. Campus student-work positions ordinarily do not exceed ten hours per week and, in any case, are governed by available hours in the employing department and the student's academic schedule. Freshmen are not offered campus jobs at any time during the freshman year. The freshman self-help requirement is purposely kept low to reduce the necessity for a job, thus permitting more time for study and adjustment to college life.

COLLEGE WORK-STUDY PROGRAM

While a student may earn up to $650 per year, the average is usually about $550. As part of its student work opportunities, Colby administers a limited federal College Work-Study Program with funds appropriated to the college by the federal government. Pay for work-study jobs with nonprofit institutions, including the college and off-campus agencies, varies according to the skill and experience of the employee but is never less than the legal minimum wage.

SUMMER SAVINGS

Earnings from summer jobs do not qualify as self-help but are considered a part of the annually evaluated family contribution. Students are expected to make every reasonable effort to secure summer employment for the purpose of defraying college costs. The following savings are expected: prefreshman, $650; sophomore, $750; junior and senior, $800. Unless extenuating circumstances exist, the college will not adjust financial aid awards for shortfalls in student summer savings.

LOANS

Loans are becoming a significant part of educational financing. Most financial aid recipients will need to borrow under one of several generous loan programs.

Many states administer guaranteed loans for students. Application is normally made through the applicant's hometown bank. Guaranteed Student Loans, which are federally insured and bear seven percent simple interest, have lenient repayment schedules, beginning ten months after termination of college. For students with lower adjusted family incomes, interest is paid by the federal government until postcollege repayment begins.
National Direct Student Loans, administered by the financial aid office, are designed to help students with a higher level of financial need. Available loan monies are contingent upon existing repayment experience and federal fund allocations. NDSL loans accrue three percent simple interest and have many of the same repayment features as the Guaranteed Student Loans described above. Repayment is deferred while the student is a full-time undergraduate or graduate student.

The college also administers a limited Colby Student Loan Program, designed to assist students with unusual circumstances. Questions on this or any other loan program should be directed to the financial aid office.

Failure to remit payments on educational loans administered by the college may result in the immediate suspension of administrative services by the college, including release of transcripts, recommendations, or other information not already prohibited by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974.

Applicants for admission and financial aid should arrange to have a completed Financial Aid Form (obtainable at most high school guidance offices) mailed to the College Scholarship Service, Princeton, New Jersey, by February 1 of the academic year preceding admission. Students applying for early decision and financial aid should have their Financial Aid Form filed as early as possible in the fall of the academic year preceding admission. Upperclass students file the Financial Aid Form annually in March.

Students applying for Colby College financial assistance should request the pamphlet Student Financial Assistance at Colby College, 1978-1979. In compliance with section 493A of the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, Colby College will forward information dealing with program eligibility and selection criteria, loan information, and employment guidelines.

Students and parents are encouraged to contact the financial aid office at any time with questions.
Religion

Colby College was founded by New England Baptists, and although it does not now maintain a formal relationship with any denomination, the college supports and encourages an ecumenical ministry on the campus.

The college chaplain acts as coordinator for the activities of a number of religious associations: Newman Club (Catholic), Hillel (Jewish), Canterbury Club (Episcopal), Colby Christian Fellowship (Evangelical Protestant), and Christian Science Organization. All of these groups use the sanctuary and social lounge of Lorimer Chapel. An interfaith committee organizes services and activities for Catholic and Protestant students. The Roman Catholic diocese of Portland provides the services of a chaplain for Catholic students, and the local rabbi and the rector of the Episcopal parish also carry on a campus ministry.

Each Sunday morning a student group, under the direction of the college chaplain, conducts an all-college worship service in the chapel. Music for this service and for special concerts is performed by the students of the chapel choir under the leadership of Adel Heinrich, associate professor of music.

The director of student activities sponsors a student volunteer corps whose members give time each week to work as Big Brothers and Big Sisters with children in Waterville and neighboring communities.

Many Colby graduates have entered the ministry, and the list of missionaries is especially impressive. The missionary tablet in the Rose Chapel testifies to the participation of Colby men and women in home and foreign missions for a century and a half.

Lectures

Throughout the year, outstanding scholars, musicians, and artists visit the campus. The Winthrop H. Smith Visiting Scholars Program brings a speaker for two days to lecture, to talk in classes, and to meet informally with students and faculty. The Spencer Lecture, established in 1973, focuses on topics relating to world unity. The Clara M. Southworth Lecture considers subjects in environmental design. The Lovejoy Convocation annually honors a member of the newspaper profession “who has contributed to the nation's journalistic achievement.” In addition to these established lectures, speakers are invited by the Friends of Art at Colby, by student organizations, and by learned societies.

Among speakers in 1977-78 were Heather McHugh, poet and author; Thomas Williams, professor of English and novelist, University of New Hampshire; Marion Johnson, Center of West African studies, Birmingham University; John B. Carman, professor of comparative religion and director of The Center of the Study of World Religions, Harvard University; Hugo Adam Bedau, Austin B. Fletcher Professor of Philosophy, Tufts University; Will Hussung, actor, artist-in-residence, Colby; Norman Thomas di Giovanni, lecturer, University of Maryland, novelist; John Cole, editor; Maynard Thompson, Avalon Visiting Professor of Mathematics, Colby; Edwin Meadows, environmental coordinator; Arild J. Miller, Institute of Paper Chemistry; James Tate, poet; Robert W. Greene, Suffolk editor, Newsday; Alan S. Meltzer, associate professor of astronomy, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute; Richard Wilson, professor of physics, Harvard University; Richard Hill, professor of mechanical engineering, University of Maine at Orono; Ward Halverson, senior staff scientist, Francis Bitter National Magnet Laboratory, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Akira Matsui, teacher of Noh theater of Japan; Vishwanath Naravane, visiting professor of philosophy, Colby; David Braybrooke, professor of philosophy and politics, Dalhousie University; James Buchanan, University Distinguished Professor and general director, Center for Study of Public Choice, Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University; Alan Gewirth, Edward Carson Waller Distinguished Service Professor of Philosophy, University of Chicago; Roger Howell, Jr., president, Bowdoin College; Ruth Adams, visiting Phi Beta Kappa lecturer, professor of English, Dartmouth College; Gary S. Becker, University Professor of Economics, University of Chicago; John Ashbery, poet.

Musical activities converge in the Bixler Art and Music Center, which contains rehearsal and practice rooms as well as the 400-seat Given Auditorium. Additional facilities for musical theater and opera are provided in the new Performing Arts Center, while the Alma Morrissette McPartland Music Shell permits the adaptation of Wadsworth Gymnasium for large-scale choral and orchestral concerts. The Gould Music Shell, placed in a natural bowl on the northeast corner of the campus, is available for summer concerts.

Students are invited to participate (with or without academic credit) in the Colby Band, the Colby Community Symphony Orchestra, the Colby Glee Club, and the Lorimer Chapel Choir, all under faculty direction.

The Colby Trio, a professional chamber ensemble sponsored by the college, presents concerts on and off campus. There are also informal student groups: the Colby Eight, the Colbyettes, and others. A student chapter of the American Guild of Organists was formed in 1972.

Concerts by visiting artists are presented by the music department, by the Student Association, and by the Colby Music Associates, a student-college-community group, which arranges the Colby Music Series and contributes to musical life on the campus. In 1977-78 the series included performances by the Tokyo String Quartet, Ruth Laredo (pianist), the New Black Eagle Jazz Band, and Ani Kavafian (violinist).

Among other programs were concerts by John Tilbury (pianist), the Clarion Brass Ensemble, Oat Willy, Nils Lofgren, and Do’A. The Sunday Chapel Vesper Concerts offered recitals on the Walcker organ in Lorimer Chapel by the college organist and visiting artists. Several concerts were given by college musical organizations, faculty, and students at Friday Noonday Recitals and on other occasions.

ART

The Bixler Art and Music Center is the focal point for the college’s art program. Continuous exhibitions of works selected from the permanent collection, as well as original and traveling shows, are to be seen in the Jette Galleries of the Colby Museum of Art. The permanent collection features American and European painting, sculpture, and graphic art. Special collections are the Harold Trowbridge Pulsifer Collection of Winslow Homer Paintings and Drawings, the American Heritage Collection and the American Painters of the Impressionist Period Collection of Edith Kemper Jetté and Ellerton Marcel Jetté, the Helen Warren and Willard Howe Cummings Collection of American Art, the John Marin Collection, the Adelaide Pearson Collection, the Bernat Collection of Oriental Ceramics and Bronzes, the Langenbach-Pepper Collection of Watercolors by Charles Hovey Pepper, the Weiss Collection of Jack Levine Graphics, and the William J. Pollock Collection of American Indian Rugs and Jewelry (Navaho and Zuni).

The 1977 loan exhibitions were Paintings by Lois Dodd, the work of Colby’s visiting artist during the January program; the annual Student Arts Festival Exhibition; the Faculty Exhibition, showing paintings by Thomas Higgins and sculpture by Harriett Matthews; The W. H. Coverdale Collection of Canadian, an exhibition of paintings, drawings, and watercolors prepared and circulated by the Public Archives of Canada; Cesar Domela, which consisted of wall reliefs and watercolors by this twentieth-century French artist; and Fairfield Porter’s Maine, including paintings, watercolors, and drawings done between 1955 and 1975.

The Friends of Art at Colby, organized in 1959, make substantial contributions to the overall art program throughout the year.

The Archives of Maine Art, located at the Bixler Center, is a repository of information and documents about artists in Maine from the eighteenth century to the present.

In addition to the studio courses in the regular curriculum, workshops are maintained for extracurricular activities in ceramics, typography, weaving, and bookbinding.

In September 1973 a wing to the Bixler Center was opened. Built in response to the growing interest in art and music among students, alumni, and Friends of Art, it contains painting and sculpture studios and gallery space for exhibitions in the Museum of Art. Expansion into the wing made possible enlarged classrooms for art and music, and a library shared by both departments.

DANCE

Dance facilities are provided in Dunn Studio of the new Performing Arts Center. Guest artists during the 1977-78 season were the Pilobolus Dance Theatre group.

In residence for a week, sponsored by the Student Arts Festival, was Jody Oberfelder of the Phyllis Lamhut Dance Company. Ms. Oberfelder worked in conjunction with senior-scholar art-major Lee Roberts on his production of Landscapes, an evening concert of original music and choral scores, paintings, and dance with Ms. Oberfelder as guest artist.

The Colby Dancers instituted a fall concert for the first time in the 1977-78 season, with Assistant Professor Christine Mitchell-Wentzel performing Daniel Nagrin’s reconstruction of his 1948 piece Spanish Dance: An Impression of Flamenco Dance. The dancers also gave their fifth annual concert in the spring.

PERFORMING ARTS

In addition to the courses in dramatic literature offered by the departments of classics, English, and modern languages, Colby provides courses and opportunities for practical experience in all the areas of theatrical production, as well as dance and music. The new Strider Theater and the Dunn Dance Studio serve as drama laboratories and performance centers.

The Strider Theater has a full stage, shop, makeup rooms, and rehearsal space; light and sound booths over the balcony command a full view of the stage.

Under the auspices of the performing arts program, three or four productions, with faculty supervision, are presented each year. The 1977-78 season offered Desire Under the Elms, with a professional actor-in-residence, three chamber plays by William Butler Yeats (At the Hawk’s Well, The Only Jealousy of Emer, and The Dreaming of the Bones), The Lady’s Not for Burning, and The Three Penny Opera.

Two dance concerts were also given by Colby students, and a performance by the Pilobolus Dance Theatre.

The student-directed drama club, Powder and Wig, presents each year a variety of productions. In 1977-78 these included Adaptations, Plaza Suite, Birdbath, Sticks and Bones, Steam bath, Stop the World; I Want to Get Off, The Bald Soprano, and Crawling Arnold.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

A tradition of public speaking has resulted in the endowment of awards for oratory, public reading, and debate. Supplementing the course offerings in public speaking and oral reading, prizes are awarded annually in all the areas of the forensic arts. The program in debate places emphasis on current topics in on-campus competition.
FILMS

Film Direction brings films of high quality in various film genres. In addition, there are movies shown by the Student Association and films brought by other student organizations and departments.

RADIO COLBY

WMHB-FM is a student-operated station with a Class D non-commercial license from the Federal Communications Commission. With studios in Roberts Union, the station broadcasts throughout the day and evening.

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES

There are chapters of nine fraternities and two national sororities. Eight of the fraternities occupy separate houses on the campus, controlled by the administration and their prudential committees.

In order of founding, the fraternities are Delta Kappa Epsilon, Zeta Psi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Delta Rho, Tau Delta Phi, and Pi Lambda Phi. The sororities, Sigma Kappa (founded at Colby) and Chi Omega, maintain chapter rooms in Runnals Union.

The board of trustees requires that fraternities and sororities select members without regard to race, religion, or national origin. Hazing of any kind is prohibited.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

More than fifty student organizations are chartered by the college. Academic societies are Sigma Delta Pi (Spanish honor society), Chi Epsilon Mu (chemistry), Delta Phi Alpha (German), and Pi Sigma Alpha (political science). Student publications include the weekly newspaper, The Colby Echo; the yearbook, The Oracle; as well as occasional journals devoted to art, literature, and photography.

Service organizations are the Big Brother/Big Sister Program and the Panhellenic Council.

Other groups include the Chess Club, Colby Outdoor Orientation Trips, Colby Photographers, Dance Group, Deutschklub, Environmental Council, French Club, International Relations Club, Karate Club, Los Subrosa (Spanish club), Outing Club, Rugby Club, Ski Patrol, Student Organization for Black Unity, Women’s Organization, and Yachting Council.
There are other clubs and societies described under appropriate catalogue headings. In addition, each class acts as an organization, with elected officials. All organizations and clubs, and many of the campus activities, including film, lecture, and concert series, are funded through the Student Association. In addition, students are appointed by the Student Association to serve on college committees.
General Regulations

All students are responsible for knowledge of the regulations in the Student Handbook and in the annual catalogue. The handbook covers academic, administrative, and social regulations.

The college reserves the right to dismiss any student whose presence its officers believe to be detrimental to its general welfare.

Although authority regarding discipline is the ultimate responsibility of the dean of students, most cases requiring discipline of students are turned over by him to the proper judicial board. A student judiciary board consisting of twelve members assists in the enforcement of nonacademic rules and regulations of the college. A student may appeal a finding of the student judiciary board to a faculty appeals board, which also hears appeals stemming from disciplinary action for academic infractions.

Students are expected to attend classes regularly and are held responsible for all work done in any class from which they are absent. Each student is, however, permitted at least two unexcused absences from each course in any semester. The maximum number allowed, if beyond two, is determined by individual instructors. Each instructor explains at the first meeting of every semester what constitutes unsatisfactory attendance in his class. Any student whose attendance the instructor judges to be unsatisfactory is warned by the dean of students. Flagrant repetitions may lead to dismissal from the course without credit. For abandoning a course without permission, the student shall receive an F.

Official excuses for absence are granted only by the deans of students, and only for (1) critical emergencies, (2) athletic or other organizational trips, or (3) illness certified by the college physician or his authorized representative.

Medical excuses are issued only to students who fall within one of three classifications: (1) those confined to the college infirmary or hospital because of illness or surgery, (2) students treated by the medical staff at the infirmary or hospital, (3) students visited by the college physician in dormitories or other places of residence. Medical excuses are not granted on a retroactive basis unless one of these classifications is satisfied.

All excuses from hour exams must come from the infirmary or, in cases of critical emergency, from the deans of students.

Absences caused by exclusion from classes because of non-payment of college bills are treated in the same manner as other absences, except that the dean of students has the authority to issue an official excuse when convinced that no fault lies with the student.

No student on academic probation may be excused from any class because of extracurricular or athletic activities.

BEHAVIOR

The administrative officers of the college have a responsibility for maintaining and encouraging an atmosphere on campus consonant with the college's function as a community of students and teachers.

The trustees have delegated to various sectors of the college, including the Student Association, extensive autonomy in the conduct of student affairs. Colby College assumes that those who accept admission to the student body are able and willing to conduct themselves with the maturity consistent with this responsibility. Each student retains the right to organize his own personal life and behavior within the standards agreed upon by the college community, so long as he does not interfere with the rights of others or with the educational process.

The college respects the laws and ordinances of the civil jurisdictions within which it lies. It does not stand in loco parentis for its students, nor is the campus to be considered a sanctuary from civil law.

The college has always encouraged temperance in the use of alcoholic beverages. The laws of the State of Maine forbid possession of alcoholic beverages by any person under the age of twenty. Where drinking leads to disruptive behavior, a student faces sanctions.

The college does not tolerate violations of federal or state drug laws. Such violations may result in dismissal.

HEALTH POLICY

Physicians in the Colby College health services treat students on the same basis as community physicians treat the patients under their care.
The college feels that the best interests of students are served by having full medical counseling and treatment from physicians thoroughly informed about personal medical history.

The college respects the rights of these physicians to use their professional judgment in meeting the health needs of students.

Upon recommendation of the college physician, the college reserves the right to require a student to withdraw for medical reasons. If, in the doctor's opinion, a student becomes unable to carry on normal student functions, or when his presence is or may become a hazard to himself or others, withdrawal will be required. Following any medical withdrawal, recommendations from an attending physician may be required before the student is readmitted to the college.

The officers, faculty, and medical staff of the college reserve the right to refuse to divulge information regarding a student's psychological or psychiatric condition or matters of an intimate nature without the student's authorization.

SPECIAL DIETS

Short-term arrangements are made for special diets at the request of the college physician. A meatless substitute is provided at all meals.

AUTOMOBILES

For a number of reasons, including the desire to preserve the natural quality of the campus environment, parking lots are limited in number and size. Having a car at Colby therefore has its inconveniences as well as conveniences.

Students, faculty, and staff are assigned lots according to their place of residence or work, and are discouraged from using their cars simply to move about campus.

Penalties for illegal parking or operation on campus are necessarily severe, and, after a small number of violations, a student may lose his privilege to have a car on campus. The annual registration fee for a car is $20. An adjustment is made in the financial aid package of aid recipients who choose to register a car on campus.

Details of rules relating to the use of motor vehicles may be found in the Student Handbook.
Students are housed in twenty-six living units: eighteen college residences (some of them coeducational) and eight fraternity houses. All freshmen not living at home or with relatives are required to live in college housing as assigned by the dean of students office. Individual dormitories have broad social autonomy, including control over such matters as parietal hours and quiet hours. These regulations are reviewed by each residence unit in the fall. The college has charge of the maintenance and security of its buildings.

In special circumstances, limited numbers of upperclass students are permitted to live off campus, with permission from the dean of students.

Colby complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, which establishes the right of students to inspect and review their education records and provides guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data. Complete guidelines used by the college for compliance with the act are printed in the Student Handbook and may be obtained at the dean of students office.

Division of Humanities

Chairman, Professor Holland

Interdepartmental majors are offered in classics-English and classics-philosophy. Attention is also called to interdisciplinary majors in American studies, East Asian studies, and studies in western civilization.

Requirements for the major in classics-English:
In classics: either three years of Latin in courses numbered 200 or higher or three years of Greek.
In English: six semester courses approved by the departments.

Requirements for the major in classics-philosophy:
In classics: either three years of Latin in courses numbered 200 or higher or three years of Greek, subject to departmental approval.
In philosophy: Philosophy 112; 133 or 211; 331, 332; 491 or 492.

For each of the above majors, at least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. For the major in classics-philosophy, a second Independent Study 491 or 492, of at least three hours credit, may be substituted for this requirement but cannot be used to satisfy course requirements for the major.

The point scale for retention of each of the above majors applies to all courses that may be credited toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Chairman, Professor Carpenter
Professors Carpenter and W. Miller; Associate Professor Matthews; Assistant Professor Higgins; Instructor M. Miller.

Requirements for the major in art:
Art 121, 122, 161; at least nine credit hours chosen from 271, 311, 312, 314, 316, 317, 352, 356, 358; additional courses in art to bring the total to 29 semester hours; at least six semester hours chosen from other fields of study related to the individual student's interests within the major (e.g., history, philosophy, music, English). These courses should be selected with the advice and approval of the student's adviser in the sophomore or junior year.

At least one January program is required to be taken in art, either as a group or an individual topic.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to courses taken in the department. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses. A departmental examination is to be passed in the senior year.

Attention is called to the interdisciplinary major in American studies and studies in western civilization.

Chairman, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR WESTERVELT
Associate Professors Westervelt and D. Koonce; Taylor Lecturer Lupher.

Requirements for the major in classics:
Two courses numbered 200 or higher in Greek or Latin. Six additional courses selected from at least two of the following categories: two or more courses numbered 300 or higher in the ancient language elected above; two or more courses in ancient history; two or more courses numbered 200 or higher in the other ancient language; two or more courses elected from Classics 232, Classics 234, Art 311, Philosophy 331, or the equivalent.

Attention is called to interdepartmental majors in classics-English and classics-philosophy, and to the interdisciplinary major in studies in western civilization.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in the department. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

¹On leave second semester.

Chairman, PROFESSOR ARCHIBALD
Professors Strider, Benbow, Sutherland, Curran, MacKay, Suss¹, and Archibald; Associate Professors Witham, Brancaccio¹, H. Koonce¹, Sweney, C. W. Bassett, E. Kenney, and Mizner; Assistant Professors S. Kenney², Harris, Mannocchi, Maramarco, and Sadoff; Instructor G. Johnson; Lecturers Onion², Sanborn³, Walker², Sewell, and Neinstein².

Requirements for the major in English and American literature:
English 221, 222, 251, and eight courses numbered 300 or higher. At least three of these must be courses in which the major focus is upon literature written before 1800, and at least three must be courses in which the major focus is upon literature written after 1800.

At least one January program must be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.
The point scale for retention of the major applies to all English courses that may be used to fulfill major requirements. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Students planning to continue the study of English in graduate school should confer with their advisers to be sure that they have planned a substantial and adequate curriculum. They should be proficient in at least one foreign language. Most universities require two languages, and some require a classical language as well. Work in classical or foreign literature, history, philosophy, art, music, and some of the social sciences reinforces preparation in the major and enhances one's chances of success in graduate study.

The department encourages interdepartmental and interdisciplinary studies, and supports programs in American studies, Black studies, performing arts, and studies in western civilization.

2Part-time.
3Part-time second semester.

MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Professors Bundy, Holland, Schmidt, and Cauz1; Associate Professors Kueter, Filosof, Ferguson, and Labat; Assistant Professors P. Doel, Weiss, Sherard, McIntyre, Oudin, Reiter, Ramirez, and Snyder; Instructor Plasencia; Lecturers Jackson2 and Doan3.

Achievement test: If a student offers a foreign language for entrance credit and wishes to continue it in college, he must either have taken the CEEB achievement test in the language or take the placement test during freshman orientation.

Note: In addition to the following major programs, the department also offers instruction in Chinese, Japanese, Portuguese, and Russian.

Requirements for the major in French:
OPTION 1, French literature: French 231 and at least seven additional semester French courses numbered above 142.
OPTION 2, French language, history, and culture: French 231 and at least four additional semester French courses numbered above 142 and four semester courses to be selected from one of the following areas. Area 1, social sciences: History 137, 138, 245, 246, 352, 355, 358; Government 234, 321, 322, 357; Economics 333, 372, 381, 382, 392. Area 2, humanities: Art 314, 316, 317; History 352; Music 231, 235; Philosophy 236, 374. It is recommended that French 223, 224 (required) be taken during the sophomore year.

Requirements for the major in German:
Eight semester courses numbered above 124.
Requirements for the major in Spanish:
Spanish 232 and at least seven additional semester Spanish courses numbered above 128.

The following statements apply to the majors in French, German, and Spanish.
(1) The point scale for retention of any major within the department is based on courses in the major language only.
(2) No more than the equivalent of four semester courses of foreign study or transfer credit may be counted toward the major.
(3) All majors in the department, including students returning from foreign study, must take at least one course in the major, approved by his adviser, each semester until graduation.
(4) Courses numbered 499 may not be counted toward the major.

Teacher certification: Students desiring certification for teaching any of the above languages must take Modern Foreign Languages 411, and may in some cases be required to take other specified courses.

1On leave second semester.
2Part-time.
3Part-time first semester only.

MUSIC

Chairman, Professor Armstrong
Professors Ré¹ and Armstrong²; Associate Professor Heinrich; Assistant Professors D. Reuman³ and Machlin.

Requirements for the major in music:
Music 171, 172, 211, 216, 217, 271; at least nine additional basic credit hours in music courses, of which at least three hours must be in courses numbered 400 or higher. Majors are urged to complete Music 172 not later than the end of the sophomore year. Some skill at the keyboard is required of all majors; consult the department. Students wishing to pursue graduate study in musicology are advised that a reading knowledge of French and German is a general requirement for such study.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in music history and theory. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdisciplinary majors in American studies and studies in western civilization, and to the program in performing arts.

¹Acting chairman second semester.
Interdepartmental majors are offered in administrative science-mathematics, economics-mathematics, philosophy-mathematics, and psychology-mathematics. Attention is called also to interdisciplinary majors in American studies, East Asian studies, studies in human development, and studies in western civilization.

Requirements for the major in administrative science-mathematics:
In administrative science: 221, 222, 321, 322, 352, 413, 494; and Economics 131, 132.
In mathematics: at least 18 credit hours, including 221, 222; either 241, 242 or 381, 382; at least six hours must be at the 300 or 400 level.
Psychology 111, 211, and Sociology 121, 122 are recommended but not required.
At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. At least one junior or senior January program must be approved by the mathematics department.

Requirements for the major in economics-mathematics:
In economics: 131, 132, 233, 234, 394, and three additional semester courses numbered 300 or higher. Also required is a satisfactory percentile rating in the undergraduate-program field test in economics, given in the spring of the senior year.
In mathematics: 221, 222, 381, 382, and two additional courses numbered 300 or higher.
At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. At least one junior or senior January program must be approved by the mathematics department.

Requirements for the major in philosophy-mathematics:
In philosophy: 112 and either 133 or 211; 258, 331, 332; and one further course in the department.
In mathematics: at least 18 credit hours, including 221, 222, 361.
At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. At least one junior or senior January program must be approved by the mathematics department. Philosophy 491 or 492, of at least three hours credit, may with approval be substituted for a January program but cannot also be used to satisfy course requirements for the major.

Requirements for the major in psychology-mathematics:
In psychology: 111, 371, 479, and nine additional hours, to include at least two of the following courses: 231, 232, 272, 273, 274.

In mathematics: 241, 242 or 381, 382; at least 12 additional credit hours, of which six must be at the 300 or 400 level.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. At least one junior or senior January program must be approved by the mathematics department.

The point scale for retention of each mathematics combination major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Students should consult one of the advisers before planning to enter one of these majors and should register for the first course in mathematics in the freshman year.

Chairman, PROFESSOR W. ZUKOWSKI
Professor W. Zukowski; Associate Professor Knight; Assistant Professor Clarey; Instructor Samuel.

Requirements for the major in administrative science:
Administrative Science 221, 222, 321, 322, 413, 494; two semesters of mathematics; Economics 131, 132; two semesters of psychology or Sociology 121, 122 (although only one of the latter two course sequences is required, it is recommended that both be completed); and two semester courses selected from the following: Mathematics 241, 242, 243, 244; Economics 233, 234; or any additional courses in administrative science.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all administrative science courses taken and to Mathematics 241, 242, 243, 244, and Economics 233, 234, where these courses are used to satisfy major requirements. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Students planning graduate work in administration should consult the chairman of the department early in their college career.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in administrative science-mathematics.
ECONOMICS

Chairman, PROFESSOR HOGENDORN
Professors Pullen, Hogendorn, and Gemery; Associate Professors Meehan and Tietenberg; Assistant Professor Hagens; Instructor Dooley; Lecturers Joseph¹ and R. Parker².

Requirements for the major in economics:
Economics 131, 132, and 30 additional credit hours in economics, including Economics 233 (for class of 1980 and subsequent classes) and 234. Also required is a satisfactory percentile rating in the undergraduate-program field test in economics, given in the spring of the senior year. Administrative Science 221, 222 or 321, 322, and Mathematics 241, 242 or 381, 382 may be substituted for 12 of the 30 credit hours in advanced economics required for the major.

Students who wish to be recommended for graduate work in economics are urged to elect Economics 394 and 431. A knowledge of mathematics through calculus and statistics is essential.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies only to courses in economics, except that Administrative Science 221, 222 or 321, 322 and Mathematics 241, 242 or 381, 382 will be counted if substituted for courses in advanced economics in fulfilling the major requirement. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in economics-mathematics, and to the honors program (see description under Economics 491, 492).

¹Part-time second semester only.
²Part-time second semester.

Director, PROFESSOR JACOBSON
Professor Jacobson; Assistant Professor M. Mavrinac¹.

Colby offers a three-year interdepartmental program of courses and field experiences that meets the minimal requirements for secondary-school-teacher certification in the fields of English, social studies, science, mathematics, Latin, American studies, environmental studies, and modern foreign languages. For those students interested in elementary-school-teacher or special-education certification, the sophomore and junior courses may be taken at Colby, and the balance of the program completed elsewhere. For those students who wish to defer their education courses, many graduate schools offer the Master of Arts in Teaching program, which includes a paid teaching internship and regular courses leading to not only the M.A.T. degree but a teaching certificate in the state.

Required program of studies:
Sophomore year: Education 213 and either 253 or 254; Psychology 252. Junior year: Philosophy 333; Education 336 and either 353 or 354. Senior year: Education 441, 442, 453, and full-time teaching during January. (English 411 or Modern Foreign Languages 411 is required of students who desire to teach those subjects.)

Guidance and counseling services are available in the office of education, 114 Lovejoy Building.

Chairman, PROFESSOR A. MAVRINAC
Professors A. Mavrinac, Gillum, Raymond, and Weissberg; Associate Professors Berschneider and Bridgman; Assistant Professors Kany, Maisel, and Hauss; Instructors Feigon, Haley, and Kirkpatrick.

The department offers majors both in history and in government.

Requirements for the major in history:
Twelve semester courses in history, of which up to two may be in ancient history. Majors in history planning to do professional work in history are encouraged to enroll in a senior seminar, but this is not required. A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year, given on a major field in which the student has taken at least four semester courses, at least two of which are at the 300 or 400 level, and a minor field of two different subjects, at least one of which is at the 300 or 400 level. 100-level courses may not be offered for the comprehensive examination; a two-semester sequence may be offered only in its entirety. The fields of history from which a major or minor field may be chosen are American, Afro-American, English, European, and East Asian.

At least one January program is required to be taken in the major.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in history. With the exception of History 111, 112, all requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Requirements for the major in government:
Ten semester courses in government. Students are expected to take at least one semester course in government numbered in the 400’s. A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in government. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.
PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION

Chairman, Professor R. Reuman

Professors R. Reuman, Todrank, F. Parker¹, and Hudson; Visiting Professor Naravane²; Associate Professor McArthur; Assistant Professors Thorwaldsen and Longstaff³; Instructor Williams.

Requirements for the major in philosophy:
Philosophy 112, 211, 331, 332, 353, and 12 additional hours in philosophy, only six of which may be in 100-level courses.

Requirements for the major in philosophy and religion:

Requirements for the major in religion:
Religion 121, 122, 223, 224, 311, 312, 316, and two additional courses in religion, at least one of which must be at the 300 level or higher.

While Philosophy 372 and 373 are not required, they are highly recommended and may be used to satisfy the requirement of two additional courses in religion.

For each of the above majors, at least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. Philosophy or Religion 491 or 492, of at least three hours credit, may be substituted for this requirement but cannot also be used to satisfy course requirements for the major.

A maximum of two courses may be taken on a pass/fail basis in partial satisfaction of the requirements of any of the above majors. Effective with the class of 1981, no specifically prescribed course may be taken on a pass/fail basis to satisfy major requirements. The point scale for retention of each of the above majors applies to all other courses that count toward the major.

Attention is called to interdepartmental majors in philosophy-mathematics and classics-philosophy (see list of requirements under Division of Humanities), and to the interdisciplinary majors in studies in human development and studies in western civilization.

¹On leave second semester.
²Second semester only.
³On leave full year.

PSYCHOLOGY

Chairman, Professor Rohrman

Professors E. P. Johnson, Gillespie, Jenson, Perez, and Rohrman; Associate Professor Zohner; Assistant Professors Lester and Skowbo.

Requirements for the major in psychology:
Biology 121, 122; Psychology 111, 214, 479, 494, and 20 additional hours in psychology.
The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major, as prescribed above. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in psychology-mathematics and to the interdisciplinary major in studies in human development.

SOCIOMETRY

Chairman, PROFESSOR BIRGE

Professors Birge and Geib; Associate Professor Rosenthal; Assistant Professors R. Doel, Morrione; Rose, and Rysman.

Requirements for the major in sociology:
Sociology 121, 122, and 24 additional hours in sociology, including Sociology 311 and one course selected from 313, 318, 338; any combination of four courses selected from history, government, psychology, and economics. A written or oral comprehensive examination is to be passed by majors who do not take Sociology 401, 402.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in sociology. At least 30 hours of sociology credit must be earned in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdisciplinary major in studies in human development.

1On leave first semester.
2On leave full year.

Division of Natural Sciences

Chairman, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR SMALL

INTERDEPARTMENTAL MAJORS

Interdepartmental majors are offered in geology-biology and geology-chemistry. Attention is also called to the interdisciplinary major in environmental studies.

Requirements for the major in geology-biology:
In geology: 141, 142; 215, 311; six additional credit hours numbered 200 or higher.
In biology: 121, 122, 271; 12 additional credit hours.
Other courses: Chemistry 141, 142; Mathematics 121 and one additional mathematics course numbered above 121. Physics 121, 122 is recommended.

A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year in either geology or biology.
At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in geology and biology.

Requirements for the major in geology-chemistry:
In geology: beginning in the sophomore year, 215, 241, 242, 381, 382.
In chemistry: 141, 142, 331, 332, 341, 342; Physics 121, 122; Mathematics 121, 122.
Students should consult one of the major advisers regarding election of languages and other required courses in the freshman and sophomore years.
The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in geology and chemistry.

Requirements for the major in physics-mathematics (discontinued effective with the class of 1981):
In physics: 121, 122, and four additional semester courses as approved. Most physics courses have prerequisites or corequisites in mathematics.
In mathematics: 121, 122, 221, 222, 311, and one additional semester course as approved.

Note: If advanced placement or credit is given in either department, additional courses must be selected from that department to a total of 18 credit hours or more.
The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in physics and mathematics.

Chairman, Professor Bennett
Professors Terry and Bennett; Associate Professors Easton and Fowles; Assistant Professors Champlin, Firmage, Muller, and Cole.

Requirements for the major in biology:
Two semesters of mathematics, including 121 (students who enter with Mathematics 121 or equivalent are required to take one semester of mathematics); Chemistry 141, 142; 32 hours in biology, including 121, 122, 271, 272, 301, 302 (substitutions may be made with departmental approval); one additional year of science other than biology. Chemistry 447 or 467 may be credited towards the biology major. The comprehensive examination in the major is to be passed in the senior year.
The point scale for retention of the major applies to Chemistry 141, 142, the required course(s) in college mathematics, and all courses in biology. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.
Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272 constitute a core program and are normally prerequisite to all higher-numbered biology courses. With special permission of the department, a student may arrange to take Biology 271 or 272 and higher-numbered biology courses concurrently.

The inclusion of geology is advised for majors preparing for teaching or for work in the field aspects of biology. Students preparing for dental, medical, or veterinary schools should take Mathematics 122, and must take Physics 121, 122, and Organic Chemistry; students preparing for graduate study in the biological sciences should also elect these courses. For most of these students, at least one further course in mathematics should be elected with the advice of the major department. Requirements for the Ph.D. degree in areas of biological science may include a reading knowledge of two modern foreign languages.

Students are encouraged to take courses at approved summer laboratories, and such courses may be approved for credit toward the major requirement.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in geology-biology and the interdisciplinary majors in environmental studies and studies in human development.

Chairman, PROFESSOR REID

Professors Reid and Machemer; Associate Professors Maier and W. Smith; Assistant Professor Shattuck.

The department offers two major programs for the liberal arts student: the basic major and the ACS major (accredited by the American Chemical Society). Both majors involve the same core curriculum, but the basic allows more opportunity for study outside the chemistry department. The ACS major is more sharply focused toward further work in university graduate schools; a student graduating in this program receives official certification from the American Chemical Society.

Requirements for the basic major in chemistry:
Chemistry 141, 142, 241, 242, 331, 341, 342; Mathematics 121, 122; Physics 121, 122. Other courses or substitutions should be selected in consultation with the chairman of the chemistry department.

Requirements for the ACS accredited major in chemistry:
All courses required for the basic major, plus Chemistry 332, 411, 431. Two other semester courses may be taken as electives.

Both junior and senior January programs should be taken in the major.
The point scale for retention of the major applies to all chemistry courses. All prospective chemistry majors should meet with the chairman as early as possible during the freshman year in order to plan their full chemistry programs. With the exception of Chemistry 432 and 434, all requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

It should be noted that recently the ACS accredited program has been modified by the American Chemical Society, with the elimination of any particular required modern foreign language.

A sound program in the basic major meets most of the objectives of the ACS accredited one and will prepare a student to enter many professional or graduate schools, e.g., dental, medical, or veterinary schools (for these, certain biology courses should be included in the students' programs), as well as law, biochemistry, chemistry, environmental science, oceanography, and other schools. Students who plan careers in high-school science teaching should add courses in education.

Completion of either chemistry major with Biochemistry provides an excellent basis for graduate work in biochemistry, the medical sciences, and pharmacology.

At the end of their junior year, chemistry majors are encouraged to obtain summer employment in industrial or professional laboratories.

Seminars for the chemistry department are held on Tuesday evenings. Important topics are developed and discussed; chemistry majors are expected to attend, and seniors are required to participate.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental geology-chemistry major.

Chairman, PROFESSOR KOONS
Professor Koons†; Associate Professors Pestana and Allen; Lecturers Keene, Pollock, and W. Thompson.

Requirements for the major in geology:
Geology 141, 142, 215, 242, 251, 311, 323 or 371, 381, 452; one year of college mathematics; and Chemistry 141, 142. Geology 382 and one semester of Geology 491, 492 are recommended for professional preparation.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year.

Students planning to teach in the secondary schools may select the earth science option; the requirements are: Geology 141, 142, 215, 251, 292, 311, 323, 324, 381; Chemistry 141. A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses taken in the department. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Students planning professional careers in geology should remember that graduate schools will require for admission a summer field course or its equivalent, at least one year in physics and biology, and, frequently, additional mathematics; and that candidates for the doctorate must demonstrate a reading knowledge of two foreign languages.

Attention is also called to interdepartmental majors in geology-biology and geology-chemistry and the interdisciplinary major in environmental studies.

1On leave first semester.
2Acting chairman first semester.
3Part-time.
4Part-time first semester only.

Chairman, PROFESSOR L. ZUKOWSKI
Professors Combellack and L. Zukowski; Visiting Professor M. Thompson; Associate Professor Small; Assistant Professors Hayslett, Shepardson, and J. Goulet; Instructor C. H. Bassett.

Requirements for the major in mathematics:
Mathematics 121, 122, 221, 222, 361, 362, 401, 402, 421, 431, and 12 additional hours in mathematics selected from the following: 311, 312, 332, 352, 372, 381, 382, 422, 432.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses taken in the department. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses with the exception of Mathematics 401, 402, which will be nongraded.

Freshmen planning to major in mathematics or the physical sciences should elect in the sequence Mathematics 121, 122, 221, 222. Advanced placement or high school background would determine exactly where a student should enter the sequence.

Freshmen planning to major in the life sciences or social sciences might plan to elect from the set Mathematics 113 (Linear Algebra); Mathematics 121, 122 (Calculus); Mathematics 241 (Elementary Statistics); Mathematics 243 (Finite Mathematics).
Statistics has a prerequisite of Mathematics 121 or equivalent. Mathematics 243 is offered in alternate years and has a prerequisite of 113 or 121, or equivalent.

A brief introduction to the use of the computer terminals will be required in all 100- and 200-level mathematics courses. For students electing more than one such course, the work will be graduated accordingly.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental majors in administrative science-mathematics, economics-mathematics, philosophy-mathematics, and psychology-mathematics.

1First semester only.
2Part-time.

PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY

Chairman, Assistant Professor Metz

Associate Professor Dudley; Assistant Professors Metz, Briggs, and Chodrow.

The department seeks to train students to think analytically in terms of the fundamental principles of physics. Subject matter in courses is selected to illustrate basic laws with wide applicability. The course offerings provide excellent background for graduate study in physics, astronomy, and some areas of engineering. Moreover, analytical training is often profitable to students who intend to pursue other professions, such as medicine, law, or business.

Requirements for the major in physics:

Twenty-eight credit hours in physics, including 121, 122, 211, 232, 321; Mathematics 121, 122, 221, 222. A comprehensive examination is normally required in the senior year.

Students preparing for graduate work in physics, a related science, or engineering should plan to elect eight additional hours of physics, including Physics 441, and six additional hours of mathematics, including Mathematics 311. Mathematics 121, 122 should be taken during the freshman year. It is recommended that Chemistry 141, 142 be taken during the sophomore year, and that the college language requirement be fulfilled in French, German, or Russian.

Students seeking advanced standing in physics should consult the chairman of the department before electing courses.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses taken in the Division of Natural Sciences. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

On leave full year.
Interdisciplinary Studies

Interdisciplinary studies at Colby are coordinated through the interdisciplinary studies council, composed of the director, or a representative, from each interdisciplinary area plus three students and a member of the administration:

Chairman, Professor D. Koonce

Members: Professors Bassett (American Studies), Brancaccio (Black Studies), Easton (Human Development), Koonce (Western Civilization), Pestana (Environmental Studies), Sherard (East Asian Studies), and Witham (Performing Arts).

Interdisciplinary majors are offered in American studies, East Asian studies, environmental studies, studies in human development, and studies in western civilization. In addition, there are courses in Black studies and the performing arts. Each area is administered by an advisory committee and utilizes courses in several departments of the college.

Director, Professor Bassett

Advisory Committee: Professors Bassett (English), Brancaccio (English), Bridgman (History), Cocks (Special Collections), Geib (Sociology), Gemery (Economics), Haley (History), Harris (English), Hudson (Philosophy), Johnson (English), Longstaff (Religion), Machlin (Music), Maisel (Government), W. Miller (Art), Morrione (Sociology), and Weiss (French); and six students majoring in American studies elected by fellow majors.

A student majoring in American studies at Colby is taught—in single courses and through a combination of courses—the subject matter of America's past and present, with special effort devoted to the integration and knowledge of more than one academic discipline. Built around a core of courses in American history and American literature, the American studies program strives for genuinely interdisciplinary insights into the complexities of American thought and culture.

Requirements for the major in American studies:

Five courses, to include a senior seminar, in an area of concentration in either American literature or American history. These courses must demonstrate adequate chronological breadth, and include offerings at the 200, 300, and 400 levels.

Three courses in the area, American literature or history, not chosen as the area of concentration.
Note: All majors are strongly advised to complete English 253 in the sophomore year.

One senior seminar or independent study course with an American emphasis in a department other than the area of concentration.

Additional courses with an American emphasis to bring the total to at least 14 courses. These may be selected from a list available from the major adviser, and include offerings in administrative science, American studies, art, biology, economics, education, geology, government, music, philosophy, psychology, religion, and sociology.

An interdisciplinary oral or written comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the sophomore, junior, or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Courses approved for the major:

Administrative Science: 354 Law.

American Studies: -97, -98 Selected Topics (except at the 100 level); 274 Women's Studies: The Female Experience in America; 276 Black Culture in America; 491, 492 Independent Study.

Art: 271 American Art; 356 Twentieth-Century Art; 491, 492 Independent Study.

Biology: 352 Ecological Theory.

Education: 336 History of the American School.

English: 251d Major American Writers I; 252d Major American Writers II; 253d Introduction to American Studies; 351 The American Renaissance I; 352 The American Renaissance II; 353 American Realism and Naturalism; 355d2 Black American Literature; 356 Modern American Fiction; 357 American Poetry; 358 Contemporary American Poetry; 375 Modern Drama I; 376 Modern Drama II; 491, 492 Independent Study; 493, 494 Seminars in British and American Literature (when appropriate).

Geology: 323, 324 Map Interpretation and Geomorphology of the United States.

PSYCHOLOGY: 253 Social Psychology; 491, 492 Independent Study.

RELIGION: *217 Religion in America; 281 Cultural Euthenics; *316 Contemporary Western Theology; 491, 492 Independent Study.

SOCIOLOGY: 211, 212 Short Courses in Sociology; 231 Contemporary Social Issues; *233 Criminology; 252 Race and Minorities; †[274] Social Stratification; 318 Contemporary Theory; *353 Urban Sociology; †[361, 362] Cultural Anthropology; *391 Social Change; *394 Collective Behavior; 491, 492 Independent Study.

Director, Professor Brancaccio

Advisory Committee: Professors Brancaccio (English), Gemery (Economics), Haley (History), Johnson (English), and Johnson (Psychology); and three students.

Activities in the area of Black studies began in 1969 with the formation of a Black studies subcommittee of the educational policy committee. The work of this committee has involved the encouragement of curriculum development, scholarly exchanges through visiting lecturers, faculty attendance at professional meetings such as the one held annually in Atlanta at the Center for Afro-American Studies, exchanges of students, and faculty visits to other colleges to keep abreast of developing programs. The committee also encourages the development of January program topics in this area. The history courses listed below may be offered as a field of concentration within the history major.

Courses offered in Black studies include:

AMERICAN STUDIES: 276 Black Culture in America.

ENGLISH: 355d2 Black American Literature; *436 African Prose.

HISTORY: 277 Black History I; 278 Black History II; 379 Black History III; 432 Seminar in Black History.

Students interested in Black studies should also note the following courses, which deal with various American minority and third-world concerns.

ECONOMICS: †[333] Economic Development.

GOVERNMENT: 332 Political Development in the Third World.

RELIGION: [319] Primitive Religion.

SOCIOLOGY: 231 Contemporary Social Issues; 252 Race and Minorities; *353 Urban Sociology.

EAST ASIAN STUDIES

Director, Professor Sherard

Advisory Committee: Professors Carpenter (Art), Feigon (History), Kirkpatrick (Government), Reuman (Philosophy and Religion), Sherard (Modern Foreign Languages), and Thorwaldsen (Philosophy and Religion).

The program of East Asian studies contributes a new dimension to the traditional liberal arts curriculum by exposing the student to rich cultures beyond the scope of western civilization. Study abroad during the junior year is encouraged; see Foreign Study section for information about Colby's participation in the Associated Kyoto Program and exchange agreement with Kansai University of Foreign Studies in Japan. Other foreign study possibilities include Hong Kong and Taiwan.

Requirements for the major in East Asian studies: A minimum of two years of training in an East Asian language, and 21 additional credit hours obtained from courses in East Asian studies, selected with the approval of the program director.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Courses approved for the major:
EAST ASIAN STUDIES: 491, 492 Independent Study.
HISTORY: 151 East Asian Civilization to 1600; 152 East Asian Civilization from 1600 to the Present; 215 America and Asia: Attitudes and Relationships; 216 The Chinese Revolution; 317d2 The Introduction of Marxism into China; †[318] The People's Republic of China; 457 Seminar in Modern Chinese History.
PHILOSOPHY: 391, [392] Philosophy Seminar (when appropriate).
RELIGION: 311 Indian Religions and Islam; 312 East Asian Religions; †[391], 392 Religion Seminar (when appropriate).

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

Acting Director 1977-78, Professor Pestana

STEERING COMMITTEE: Professors Bennett (Biology), Dudley (Physics), Vice-President Jenson (Dean of Faculty), Professors Koons (Geology), Pestana (Geology), Reid (Chemistry), and Zukowski (Mathematics).

ADVISORY COMMITTEE: Professors Clarey (Administrative Science), Firmage (Biology), Koons (Geology), Pestana (Geology); two students representing the Colby Environmental Council; Mr. T. Gordon (Cobossee Watershed District); Mr. E. Keene (North Kennebec Regional Planning Commission); Mrs. R. Strider (Waterville Conservation Commission); and Mr. M. Wiebe (Keep Maine Scenic Committee).

A multidisciplinary major in environmental studies, based primarily on the natural sciences, was instituted in March 1971. Academic aims are to provide an understanding of ecosystems, an appreciation for contributions which different disciplines make to the field, an awareness about the roles of institutions that affect the environment, and a working experience with some aspect of the local, regional, or state environment.

Requirements for the major in environmental studies:

In biology: one semester course selected from 117, 138, or 271; one semester course selected from 118 or 121; and 352.

In chemistry: two semester courses selected from 111, 112 or 121, 122 or 141, 142.

In geology: two semester courses selected from 141, 142 or 161, 162; either 172 or 292; and 483, 484.

In mathematics: 241 or 381.

In physics: Physics 121 or Astronomy 131.
From the science areas, a student is urged to take at least two courses with laboratory.

An additional seven credit hours from the approved list of courses in astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, and physics. Attention is called to a four-credit summer course in Applied Marine Ecology, offered in conjunction with TRIGOM.

Nine credit hours selected from the approved list of courses in administrative science, economics, government, and sociology.

At least one January program in environmental studies.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Courses approved for the major:

Astronomy: 131 Introductory Astronomy.

Biology: 117 Ecology and Field Biology; 118 Ecology and Population; 121 Introduction to Biology; 138 Plant Biology; 271 Introduction to Ecology, Introduction to Evolution; 352 Ecological Theory.

Chemistry: 111 Studies in Environmental Biochemistry; 112 Topics in Chemistry; 121, 122 General Chemistry; 141, 142 General Chemistry and Elementary Analysis.

Geology: 141, 142 Introduction to Geological Science; 161, 162 Problems in Geology; 172 Oceanography Laboratory; *292 Meteorology; 483, 484 Environmental Geology.

Mathematics: 241d Elementary Statistics; 381 Mathematical Statistics.

Physics: 121 General Physics.

Approved courses from the Division of Natural Sciences include those listed above and the following:

Biology: *311 Plant Classification; 313 Invertebrate Zoology; 318 Microbiology; *319 Biology of the Lower Plants; 333 Chordate Evolution; †[354] Marine Ecology; *356 Inland Ecology; 358 Ecological Field Study; 376 Problems in Comparative Animal Physiology; 378 Animal Behavior.

Chemistry: 241, 242 Organic Chemistry.

Geology: [234] Rocks in Hand Specimen; 241, 242 Field Methods and Structural Geology; 251 Invertebrate Paleontology; 252 Micropaleontology; 254 Advanced Invertebrate Paleontology; 311 Sedimentation; †[323, 324] Map Interpretation and Geomorphology of the United States.

Mathematics: 242 Elementary Statistics; 382 Mathematical Statistics.

Physics: 122 General Physics.
Approved courses from the Division of Social Sciences:

Administrative Science: 354 Law; 413 Organizational Behavior.

Economics: 131d Principles of Macroeconomics; 132d Principles of Microeconomics; *374 American Economic History.

Government: *314 American Constitutional Law; †[338] International Law; [395] State and Local Government.

Sociology: 232 Human Ecology; *353 Urban Sociology; [395] Complex Social Organizations.

Coordinator, Professor Witham

Advisory Committee: Professors Machlin (Music), Mitchell-Wentzel (Performing Arts), Sewell (Performing Arts), Suss (English), Witham (English), and Woody (Performing Arts).

The program in the performing arts enlarges existing patterns of academic concentration through credited work in theater, musical performance, and dance. The program is founded on two premises: first, that performance is essential to a full understanding of the art form; second, that all the arts share significant modes of thought and expression, and that a knowledge of one art form will contribute to an understanding of all the arts. In addition to traditional lecture/discussion courses, the program includes frequent opportunities for practical experience in the theater.

Courses offered in the performing arts include:

Music: 191, 192 Applied Music: Individual Study; 193, 194 Applied Music: Ensemble; †[278] Opera as Theater; 372 Composition I; 374 Composition II; *378 Conducting; 491, 492 Independent Study in Music.

Performing Arts: 121, 122 Theater Production; 171 Acting I; 221, †[222] Theater History; 231 Stage Lighting; †[241, 242] Introduction to the Art of Dance; 251 Stage Movement; †[272] Acting II; *274 Performing the Classics; *341, 342 Modern Dance Composition and Theory; 491, 492 Independent Study in Theater.

Courses in the literature of the performing arts, which provide the liberal arts context for the program, include:

Classics: *232 Greek Tragedy.

English: 171 Speech; 275d2 The Art of the Narrative Film; [373, 374] The Development of Dramatic Art; *375, 376 Modern Drama; 383, 384 Studies in Shakespeare; †[472] Oral Interpretation.

Music: *134d1 The Symphony; *231d2 Chansons and Lieder; *235 Chamber Music; *332 Studies in Operatic Style; †[376] Counterpoint.

Spanish: †[351] El Siglo de Oro.
STUDIES IN HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

Director, Professor Easton

Steering Committee: Professors Bennett (Biology), Geib (Sociology), Gillespie (Psychology), and Parker (Philosophy).

Advisory Committee: Professors Birge (Sociology), Easton (Biology), Jacobson (Education), Perez (Psychology), Reuman (Philosophy), Rosenthal (Sociology), Skowbo (Psychology), and Todrank (Philosophy).

A multidisciplinary study of the origin and development of man. Academic aims of the program are to provide an understanding of the development of man as a biological and psychological organism; an appreciation of the relationship between the individual and his social environment; an opportunity to consider possible future directions for both the individual and society; and working experience with a local, state, or regional agency involved in some aspect of human development.

Requirements for the major in studies in human development:

In biology: 121 and either 122 or 134.
In human development: 393d, 493d.
In philosophy: one semester course selected from 211, 236, 281, 372.
In psychology: 111 and two semester courses selected from 132, 211, 252, 261, 262, 291.
In sociology: 121, 122 and two semester courses selected from 232, 233, 237, 273, 274, 353, 361, 362, 391, 394.

An additional nine credit hours above the introductory level in biology, economics, English or American literature, government, history, philosophy, psychology, religion, and sociology.

At least one January program in human development.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in basic credits.

STUDIES IN WESTERN CIVILIZATION

Director, Professor D. Koonce

Advisory Committee: Professors Benbow (English), Berschneider (History), Bundy (Modern Foreign Languages), Carpenter (Art), Koonce (Classics), Koonce (English), Parker (Philosophy and Religion), and Westervelt (Classics).

Each student majoring in studies in western civilization will draw up a provisional plan of study with his major adviser before choosing courses. This plan will be reviewed and can be revised by the adviser and the student before registration each semester. Since in a civilization program it is desirable to respond to a culture in its own terms, students in the western civilization major will be expected to pursue at least one classical or modern language for at least one year beyond the all-college language requirement. The exact extent of this requirement, and the language involved, will be part of the plan agreed on by the student and his adviser. The advisory committee for the studies in western civilization major encourgees students to take advantage of opportunities for off-campus study currently available through the committee on foreign study and student exchange and the committee on special programs. Plans for off-campus study, which include provisions for meeting the requirements for the major, will be accepted in lieu of portions of the requirements below.

Requirements for the major in studies in western civilization:
Eighteen hours from courses listed in and counting toward a major in one of the following disciplines: art, classics, English, history, modern foreign languages, philosophy, religion. Nine of these credit hours must be concentrated in no more than two of the following periods of western culture: Greece, Rome, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, the Enlightenment.

At least six hours in courses in two other disciplines that are in the same period(s) of concentration selected above, and which appear in the list of approved courses below.

Western Civilization 493 and 494. Western Civilization 297, 298, 397, and 398—one-credit coordinating seminars led by instructors who are advisers for the major.

Eight additional credit hours selected from the list of approved courses below.

Courses approved for the major:
ANCIENT HISTORY: 151 Introduction to Greek Civilization; *252 Greek History; †[254] Roman History; †[352] Athens in the Fifth Century; †[353] Greece in the Fourth Century.
ART: 121, 122 Introduction to Art; †[311] The Art of Ancient Greece; *312 Art of the Renaissance in Italy; †[314] Baroque Art; †[316] Art of the Renaissance in Northern Europe; *358
Medieval Art.
CLASSICS: 133 Myth and Literature; *232 Greek Tragedy; *234
The Heroic Ideal in Early Greek Poetry.
ENGLISH: 221, 222 Major British Writers; †[276] Dante in Translation; †[331] The Middle Ages; †[332] The Renaissance; *333 The Seventeenth Century; 384d The Eighteenth Century; *351 The American Renaissance I; †[352] The American Renaissance II; 371 Eighteenth-Century British Fiction; [373] The Development of Dramatic Art I; [374] The Development of Dramatic Art II; 378 History of the English Language; 383, 384 Studies in Shakespeare; 391d2 Chaucer; *392d1 Sidney and Spenser; †[394] Milton; 433d2 Restoration Literature; 493, 494 Seminar in English Literature (when appropriate).

GERMAN: 223, 224 German Cultural Traditions.

GOVERNMENT: 321 Political Theory.

GREEK: all courses listed.

LATIN: all courses numbered above 112.

PHILOSOPHY: 331 History of Ancient Philosophy; 332 History of Modern Philosophy; *373 History of Medieval Philosophy; [392] Philosophy Seminar.

Division of Physical Education and Athletics

Chairman, Assistant Professor McGee

Professor Bither†; Assistant Professors McGee, Covell, Nelson, Hodges, Whitmore, and Taylor; Instructors McConnell, DeLorenzo, M. Goulet, and Leary.

The department of physical education and athletics offers required and voluntary physical education classes, intramural sports, intercollegiate athletics (varsity and junior varsity), and informal recreational activities.

†On leave second semester.

Coordinator, Professor Bither

Physical Education 1, 2: two semesters of physical education are required of all Colby students for graduation. Waivers are available for members of varsity or junior varsity teams.

A program of instruction in a wide variety of activities is offered on a coeducational basis. Activities presently in the program are aquatics: swimming, life saving, water-safety instructors' course, canoeing, scuba; leisure-time sports: tennis, racquetball, golf, squash, skating, figure skating, bicycling, skiing, cross-country skiing, fencing, badminton, riding; dance: modern, folk, ballet, ballroom; team sports: volleyball; other activities: yoga, conditioning, hiking.

INTRAMURALS

Coordinator, Mr. Delorenzo

Programs in intramurals are on a coeducational basis; each student is free to engage in the activities of his choice. Competition is organized in touch football, soccer, basketball, ice hockey, volleyball, chess, table tennis, skiing, track, squash, swimming, softball, tennis, cross-country, marathon run, and basketball free-throw. Teams are divided into fraternity and independent divisions, with a point system determining winners of each divisional trophy. Participation by all members of the college community is encouraged.

INTERCOLLEGIAL ATHLETICS

Athletics for men include varsity teams in golf, lacrosse, tennis, indoor and outdoor track, skiing, and squash, and both varsity and junior varsity teams in football, soccer, basketball, hockey, and baseball.

Coed varsity teams are in cross-country and swimming.

Varsity teams for women are in field hockey, tennis, ice hockey, basketball, skiing, softball, and lacrosse.

The rules that govern intercollegiate sports are those adopted by the athletic conferences in which Colby holds membership. Colby is a member of the New England Small College Athletic Conference, which also includes Amherst, Bates, Bowdoin, Hamilton, Middlebury, Trinity, Tufts, Union, Wesleyan, and Williams. The college is also a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Eastern College Athletic Conference, the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, the Eastern Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, and the Maine Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women.
Division of Special Programs

Recognizing the fact that diverse interests exist in every community, and that even the most professionally trained individual has a need to continue his education, Colby College maintains a division of special programs with a full-time director.

Each summer nearly 5,000 individuals from throughout the nation and other countries are on campus for courses, conferences, seminars, and institutes ranging from Great Books to the Maine Special Olympics. Continuing-education programs in medicine and allied health fields constitute a significant portion of summer activities. Approximately 150 doctors enroll in the 10-week Lancaster Course in Ophthalmology. Three- to five-day seminars in Allergy and Immunology, Dermatology, Emergency Care, Epilepsy, Forensic Medicine, Neurosurgery, Nuclear Medicine, Obstetrics-Gynecology, Ophthalmology, Otolaryngology, Pediatrics, Pulmonary Disease, and Surgery are offered annually.

Colby medical programs are fully accredited by the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Education. For courses designed for primary-care physicians, the American Academy of Family Practice credit is generally available. In addition, some of the medical seminars are cosponsored by nationally recognized organizations, such as the American Society of Ophthalmic and Reconstructive Surgery, the American Thoracic Society, and the American Association of Dermatology.

There are various other summer programs, including the Estate Planning and Tax Institute, Advanced Audiology, Church Music Institute, New England School of Accounting, as well as youth cheerleader, basketball, and football clinics.

During the academic year, the division arranges such annual conferences as the Colby Institute for Management. Adult courses and noncredit courses for which the continuing-education unit may be earned are also structured and evaluated through special programs.

The use of Colby's facilities by outside groups is coordinated through the division of special programs. This past year, some of the groups holding conferences on campus included the Geological Society of Maine, Maine Council of Canadian Studies, New England Association of Schools and Colleges, Foreign Press Association, Maine State Association of Financial Aid, and others.

Information may be obtained by writing to the director, Robert H. Kany.
Courses of Study

Each course is known by a title and also, for convenience of reference and ease in record keeping, by subject and number: American Art is also Art 271.

The first digit indicates the class or classes eligible to take the course:
100 — open to freshmen;
200 — ordinarily open to sophomores, and classes above;
300 — ordinarily open only to juniors and seniors;
400 — ordinarily restricted to seniors.

The second digit may be:
zero — either semester of a year course, with credit given only on completion of the two semesters;
an even number — either member of a pair of closely related semester courses (special permission of the department is required to take the second without the first);
an odd number — an independent semester course.

The last digit shows the semester in which the course is offered. Courses ending in odd numbers are first-semester (fall) courses, while those ending in even numbers are given in the second semester.

Thus Art 271 may be elected no earlier than the sophomore year (as it is a 200 course); it is an independent one-semester course (shown by the 7, an odd number); and it is given in the first semester (since the final digit is also odd).

The letter d after a course number indicates that the course is repeated each semester. The d followed by the number 1 or 2 is used to designate a course being given out of its usual semester. Geology 313d2 would be an independent semester course for juniors or seniors ordinarily given in the fall but this year being presented in the spring instead.

The letter e after a number indicates an E course, the first of two closely related semester courses. When so designated, a mark of E may be given for the first. E designates provisional failure, but the deficiency may be made up by satisfactory completion of the sequentially related course in the immediately following semester. When thus made up, the first-semester mark is changed to D. An E course finally carries a separate permanent mark for each semester.

A year course (with zero its second digit) may not be dropped at midyear without loss of credit; nor may it be entered except at the beginning of the year. In a year course, the mark at midyear merely indicates the student's standing at that time. The end-of-year mark is the only finally recorded mark for the course, and no credit is given until that mark is recorded.
[ ] Brackets indicate that the course will not be offered in 1978-79.
† A dagger indicates that the course will probably be offered in 1979-80.
* An asterisk indicates that the course will probably not be offered in 1979-80.

A schedule of hours and rooms for courses listed in this catalogue is available at the registrar’s office at registration periods.

Courses listed are subject to withdrawal at the discretion of the college administration.

Credit hours shown are per semester unless otherwise noted. Courses listing variable credit are offered primarily for the smaller number of credits. Students can earn augmented credit in these courses by completing such extra work as the instructor may specify.

Unless otherwise stated or taken pass/fail, courses carry basic credit.
Administrative Science

111
THE COMPUTER AND DECISION MAKING
MR. SAMUEL

An introduction to the potential uses of the computer as a device in the solution of a variety of management problems. Three credit hours.

221e, 222
ACCOUNTING
MRS. KINIGHT

The underlying theory and analytical aspects of accounting as a control device and tool of management, including an examination of the role of accounting in modern society—its relationship to law, economics, and social policy. Three credit hours.

321, 322
FINANCE
MR. ZUKOWSKI

An analytically structured approach to decision making in the financial area. Money and capital markets are considered.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222 and Economics 131, 132 or special permission. Three or four credit hours.

MARKETING
MR. CLAREY

Development of the broad concept of marketing as an all-pervasive organizational and societal function, both domestically and internationally.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222 or Economics 131, 132. Four credit hours.

ADMINISTRATION OF PUBLIC AND SOCIAL SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS
MRS. KINIGHT

An introduction to the theories and methodologies utilized in the administration of public and social service organizations: federal, state, and local government units, health care and educational institutions. Emphasis placed on the management tools and skills that best enable the organization to perform its function efficiently and effectively in an environment of constantly changing social and economic values.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

ADVANCED ACCOUNTING
MR. SAMUEL

Advanced study of accounting theory, with stress on analytical, interpretative, and managerial aspects of the subject. Concepts relating to major current accounting questions are examined.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222. Three credit hours.

MANAGERIAL ECONOMICS
MR. SAMUEL

The decision-making process examined in an economic context.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222 and Economics 131, 132 or special permission. Three credit hours.

341, 342
Advanced Painting

* MR. HIGGINS

A tutorial painting situation. Enrollment limited.

Prerequisite: Art 242 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

*352
The Graphic Arts

* MR. CARPENTER

History and criticism of drawing and print making, with emphasis on European art since the Renaissance.

Prerequisite: Art 121, 122 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

356
Twentieth-Century Art

* MR. MILLER, MR. CARPENTER, AND INSTRUCTOR

The architecture, painting, and sculpture of the present century in Europe and America. Attention to particular problems in the art of the past 50 years will take precedence over a survey-like approach.

Prerequisite: Three semesters of art, including Art 121, 122. Two or three credit hours.

*358
Medieval Art

* MRS. MILLER

Architecture, sculpture, and painting of western Europe from the mid-sixth to the mid-thirteenth centuries.

Prerequisite: Art 121. Three credit hours.

361, 362
Advanced Sculpture

* MISS MATTHEWS

Further use of the techniques acquired in Art 261, 262 in developing the student’s own visual ideas. Enrollment limited.

Prerequisite: Art 261, 262. Three credit hours.

491, 492
Independent Study

* STAFF

Individual study of special problems in the practice, history, or theory of the visual arts.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. One to four credit hours.

493
Seminar in Art Criticism

* MR. CARPENTER

Primarily for senior art majors. Individual reports and discussion based on reading (psychology of perception, critical methods, art theory, etc.) and on examination of original works. Nongraded. Three credit hours.

499d
Art Teaching

* STAFF

Directed practice in conduct of discussion sections in art history. Open to a limited number of upperclass art majors. Nongraded.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department chairman. Flexible credit. Two credit hours.
Astronomy

IN THE DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY

[112] World Systems

Major turning points in the history of man's understanding of his world. An examination of the relationships and content of revolutionary changes of thought about motion from Copernicus to Einstein, illustrated primarily by astronomical examples. Occasional laboratory work is designed to illuminate the concepts discussed. Permission of the instructor required for students who have completed Physics 121. Lecture and laboratory. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

131 Introductory Astronomy

Mr. Briggs

A study of the universe from a physical point of view, including a discussion of the earth, the solar system, the stars and their evolution, the galaxy and some of the newly-discovered peculiar objects within it (e.g., pulsars, black holes), and cosmology. Three credit hours.

Biology

115, 116 Concepts in Biology

Staff

Primarily designed for students majoring in the social sciences or humanities. Each course examines a few biological concepts in some depth. The relative amounts of time spent in the field, in the laboratory, or in discussion of theory vary according to the topic covered. Satisfies the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

117 Ecology and Field Biology

Mr. Cole

Lectures and laboratories utilize an ecosystem approach to emphasize ecological principles and their relevance to current environmental problems. Field trips examine various terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems and introduce techniques of field biology. Satisfies the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

118 Ecology and Population

Mr. Cole

An introduction to natural history and the regulation of natural populations, interactions among populations, influence of man upon populations of other species, and the relevance of ecological principles to the environmental crisis. Does not satisfy the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Enrollment limited. \textit{Three credit hours.}

\begin{verbatim}
121, 122
\textbf{Introduction to Biology}
\textit{Staff}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
First semester: the form, function, and behavior of selected organisms. Second semester: the biology of reproduction, inheritance, and development. Illustrative examples will be drawn from a variety of organisms. Lecture and laboratory. \textit{Four credit hours.}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
134
\textbf{Human Evolution}
\textit{Mr. Easton}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
The evolutionary origin of Man through study of selected original papers and short publications. Attention is given to the basic theory of evolution and the forces that are effective in the process. Does not satisfy the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major.

\textit{Prerequisite:} Permission of the instructor. \textit{Three credit hours.}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
136
\textbf{Horticulture}
\textit{Mr. Firmage}
\end{verbatim}

Basic principles in the areas of plant structure and function will be covered and related to plant cultivation. Practical application of these principles will be discussed in areas such as lighting, propagation, pruning, and floriculture. Some laboratory work will be required, and one field trip will be taken. Satisfies the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Credit may not be obtained for both Biology 136 and 138. Enrollment limited. \textit{Three credit hours.}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
138
\textbf{Plant Biology}
\textit{Mr. Fowles}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
An introduction to the principles of biology as illustrated by plants, with emphasis on structure, activities, and reproduction of green plants. Satisfies the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Credit may not be obtained for both Biology 136 and 138. Enrollment limited. \textit{Three credit hours.}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
271
\textbf{Introduction to Ecology; Introduction to Evolution}
\textit{Mr. Fowles, Mr. Firmage, and Mr. Cole}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
Part I: introduction to ecological principles: structure and function of natural ecosystems, patterns of distribution, energy flow, nutrient cycling, and population dynamics. Field trips are taken to sites representative of terrestrial, fresh-water, and marine habitats. Part II: introduction to the scope, significance, and mechanisms of evolution. Lecture and laboratory.

\textit{Prerequisite:} Biology 121, 122 or equivalent. \textit{Four credit hours.}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
272
\textbf{Cell Biology}
\textit{Mr. Champlin}
\end{verbatim}

\begin{verbatim}
An introduction to the study of cellular and molecular biology: an examination of the structure and function of nuclear and cytoplasmic components, with emphasis on experimental findings. Instruction in basic histological and cytochemical techniques is included, in addition to studies of selected cellular properties. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122 or equivalent and Chemistry 141, 142 (may be taken concurrently), or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

301, 302
Biology Seminar
staff

Discussion of contemporary topics in biology. Nongraded.

Prerequisite: Junior standing as a biology or geology-biology major. One credit hour for the year.

Plant Classification
mr. firmage

Methods and principles of classification, including the use of keys, nomenclature, collection techniques, and plant structural characteristics. Major plant families and the local flora will be stressed. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121 or 138, and 271 (may be concurrent) or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

Invertebrate Zoology
miss bennett

The morphology, physiology, and classification of the invertebrates. Lecture and laboratory. Beginning in 1979-80, will be offered in second semester.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

Plant Physiology
mr. fowles

The essential mechanisms of plant functions. Lectures only. Augmented credit of one hour based on the addition of laboratory studies emphasizing the methods of plant physiology.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

Cellular Physiology
mr. terry

An introduction to physiological processes, with emphasis on the functional organization of the cell, the cellular environment, membrane exchange mechanisms, excitability, and contractility. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

Animal Histology
mr. easton

The structure of cells, tissues, and organs, principally of vertebrates, with aspects of function. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.
318Microbiology
Mr. Terry
The biology of bacteria and viruses. The aims of the course are to develop general knowledge in this area and to give practical experience in techniques. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

*319Biology of the Lower Plants
Mr. Fowles
Comparative studies of the morphology, development, physiology, and significance of algae, fungi, and bryophytes. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

332Developmental Biology
Miss Bennett, Mr. Champlin, and Mr. Fowles
A study of development, with emphasis on the experimental findings that have led to present ideas of the morphological and chemical processes underlying the development and growth of organisms. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of an instructor. Four credit hours.

333Chordate Evolution
Mr. Easton
Origin of vertebrate form through consideration of homologies in extinct and living organisms. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

†[335]Biosystematics
A theoretical view of the taxonomic aspects of biological variation, with emphasis on the processes and mechanisms of variation and evolution at the species level. Research methods will also be considered. Augmented credit of one hour based on a laboratory project using one of the avenues of research discussed in class.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272. Three or four credit hours.

352Ecological Theory
Mr. Firmage and Mr. Cole
An examination of population and community ecology, emphasizing population regulation, demography, trophic relationships and community structure, and development. Coevolutionary interactions among plants and animals will be considered. Relevance of ecological theory to our environmental crisis will be discussed. Lecture and discussion.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructors. Three credit hours.
†[354]
MARINE ECOLOGY
Field and laboratory studies of marine ecosystems, with emphasis on estuarine and coastal communities; quantitative sampling methods and data analysis will be undertaken in group and individual projects. Occasional weekend trips to the coast. Lecture, laboratory, and discussion.

Prerequisite: Biology 352 (may be taken concurrently). Two credit hours.

*356
INLAND ECOLOGY
MR. FIRMAGE AND MR. COLE
Field and laboratory studies of terrestrial and fresh-water communities; quantitative sampling methods and analysis of data will be accomplished through group and individual projects. Lecture, laboratory, and discussion. Occasional weekend field trips.

Prerequisite: Biology 352 (may be taken concurrently). Two credit hours.

358
ECOLOGICAL FIELD STUDY
STAFF
A trip to a south temperate or tropical area during the spring recess. Students must cover expenses.

Prerequisite: Biology 352 (may be taken concurrently) or permission of the instructor. One credit hour.

GENETICS
MR. CHAMPLIN
The mechanisms of inheritance, with emphasis on experimental findings. The physical and chemical bases for the behavior of genes in individuals and populations are examined.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Lecture only: three credit hours; lecture and laboratory: four credit hours.

376
PROBLEMS IN COMPARATIVE ANIMAL PHYSIOLOGY
MISS BENNETT
Studies of the manners in which animals of major phyla cope with their functional problems. Both ecological and evolutionary correlations are stressed. Lectures only. Augmented credit of one hour based on the addition of laboratory studies emphasizing the methods of comparative physiology. Beginning in 1979-80, will be offered in first semester.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

377
TOPICS IN NEUROBIOLOGY
MR. MULLER
Lectures, discussions, and readings on the functional organization of nervous systems, and on how nervous information is received, coded, stored, and transmitted by living organisms. Augmented credit of one hour based on addition of laboratory work.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.
378
Animal Behavior
Mr. Muller

An examination of animal behavior from a biological viewpoint. Topics will include the control, development, function, and evolution of behavior. Lectures only. Augmented credit of one hour based on the addition of an independent research problem.

Prerequisite: Two courses in biology and permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

491, 492
Independent Study
Staff

Normally open only to senior biology majors whose work in the department has been of better-than-average quality.

Chemistry

111
Studies in Environmental Biochemistry
Mr. Maier

A few situations in which polluting and ultimately toxic chemicals intrude upon the proper functioning of biochemical systems will be studied in great detail. Intended for environmental studies majors or as a nonlaboratory course for nonscience majors. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

112
Topics in Chemistry
Mr. Smith

Both the philosophical and technological aspects of chemistry are considered in an essentially phenomenological approach. Topics covered include atomic structure, radioactivity, nuclear energy, energy relationships in chemical systems, environmental problems, and industrial applications of chemistry. Intended for environmental studies majors or as a nonlaboratory course for nonscience majors. Three credit hours.

121e, 122
General Chemistry
Mr. Machemer

Fundamental principles, with examples selected from inorganic chemistry; stoichiometry; atomic theory; chemical bonding; thermochemistry; gases, liquids, and solids; solutions; chemical equilibria; electrochemistry; chemistry of certain important elements; radioactivity. Lecture. Three credit hours.

141e, 142
General Chemistry and Elementary Analysis
Mr. Machemer

Lectures and text the same as 121e, 122 but with four hours of discussion-laboratory added. The first-semester laboratory is concerned with gravimetric analysis, the second with volumetric analysis and qualitative analysis. Four credit hours.

Chinese

IN THE DEPARTMENT OF MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES

121, 122
Elementary Chinese
instructor

Introduction to spoken and written Mandarin Chinese, to provide a thorough grounding in all the language skills: speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Four credit hours.

123, 124
Intermediate Chinese
instructor

A continuation of Chinese 122, with greater emphasis on written Chinese.
Prerequisite: Chinese 122. Four credit hours.

321, 322
Advanced Chinese
instructor

Advanced readings in Chinese. Designed primarily for those students who have had substantial experience in a Chinese-speaking setting.
Prerequisite: Chinese 124 or permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

491, 492
Independent Study
instructor

Individual projects in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Two to four credit hours.

Classics (IN TRANSLATION)

IN THE DEPARTMENT OF CLASSICS

These courses require no knowledge of Latin or Greek. Attention is called also to courses in ancient history.

133
Myth and Literature
Mr. Westervelt

While the plots and characters of Greek literature are from the beginning drawn almost invariably from the realm of Greek mythology, the treatment of mythic material depends on the literary form to which it is adapted and the age for which it is written. Readings will focus on the development of a few well-known myths from the archaic age through the fifth century, and will include Homer’s Odyssey, selections from the lyric poets, Pindar, and Bacchylides, and representative tragedies of Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides. Three or four credit hours.

*232
Greek Tragedy
Mr. Westervelt

The development of tragedy as a dramatic form and its relationship to the contemporary changes in Athenian democracy. Readings will include major plays of Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides, and the parody of tragedy in the Frogs of Aristophanes. Three or four credit hours.

<td>131, 132</td>
<td>An introduction to thought about the art and science of politics and to the study of diverse forms of political action. Each instructor approaches politics in terms of a different problem. A description of the work for each section is available at registration. Students may not study with the same instructor more than one semester. Open to freshmen only. Three credit hours.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>135</td>
<td>International politics in East Asia, with emphasis on imperialist expansion by Japan and western powers (including the United States) and on the emergence of Asian nationalism. Designed to provide a perspective for understanding contemporary international activity in Asia. Attention given to theories of imperialism and to the realities of political and economic expansion. Three credit hours.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>138</td>
<td>A survey of relations between Japan and the United States from the Pacific war to the present. Emphasis will be on the consequences for Japan of American policies in the Pacific, particularly those changes growing out of reform programs designed and implemented by the postwar Allied occupation. Three credit hours.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
| 211 | A systematic introduction to the ideas, practices, and experiences which shape modern polities, focusing on the evolution of the American system beginning with the constitutional period. Underlying philosophies and operational assumptions of other complex political systems are considered in order to provide perspective. The goal is to strengthen the student’s overall model of the American political system and to help develop an appreciation of contemporary approaches of political scientists to political phenomena. Particularly intended as an introduction to American political thought, and as a foundation for further work in American government and politics, the political systems of other developed societies, and political theory. Designed for students from a variety of majors, including American studies, history, and government. Four credit hours.

215
Transnational Relations in the Modern World
Mr. Weisberg

The basic actors, theories, and systematic elements of international politics and their relationship in the fluidity of the modern world. Emphasis is placed on the search for a structure of international security, and on such subjects as transnational power politics (including the role both of traditional states and of contemporary nonstate movements), comparative conceptions of diplomacy and war as instruments of goal achievement, and institutions of collective security. Intended both for students planning further study in international relations and for those who will not have other occasion in college to study the shape of the international system. Three credit hours.

231
Contemporary Japanese Politics
instructor

A survey of the political process in postwar Japan, with emphasis on some of the major institutions of political life. Japan is considered as a political system comparable to those of other industrial democracies, in spite of marked differences in social and cultural values. Three credit hours.

234
European Politics
Mr. Hauss

An introduction to comparative political analysis and to the politics of Great Britain, France, Italy, and the Federal Republic of Germany. Three credit hours.

258
American Government and Politics: The Executive-Legislative Conflict
instructor

The relationship between the executive and legislative branches from theoretical and historical perspectives as well as in the light of current discussion, centering around assertions of presidential powers and prerogatives and congressional efforts to exercise effective control over governmental decision making. Familiarity with material covered in Government 211 is assumed. Three or four credit hours.

271
Asian Revolutionary Movements
instructor

An examination of revolutionary political change in India, China, and Vietnam. The social forces making for revolution, the characteristics of revolutionary leadership, and the problems of mobilization and organization in revolutionary struggles. Three credit hours.

Government and the Press

Instructor

Problems vary from year to year, but the general orientation is to a theoretical consideration of the local government process as a part of the general political process in a society. Generally, the constitutional society is the point of reference, and the comparative experience of America, England, and France is emphasized. From time to time, consideration is given to the analogous problem in the totalitarian society. Three credit hours.

[377]

Special Problems in Local Government

The context within which the professionals staffing the executive branch of the American national government work: personnel policies, operating codes, and operating techniques in the national bureaucracy. An analysis will be made within an understanding of the bureaucratic phenomenon as such. Three credit hours.

IN THE DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY AND GOVERNMENT

THE RISE OF EUROPE
MR. GILLUM

A survey of principal developments and trends in European history from about 1450 to about 1890. The expansion of Europe, Renaissance, Reformation, Age of Reason, Revolutionary Epoch, romanticism, liberalism, nationalism, socialism, and imperialism are all given brief attention in an introductory course designed for students who have not already studied this subject. Enrollment is restricted to freshmen and may be limited. Three credit hours.

112
THE DECLINE OF EUROPE
MR. GILLUM

The diplomatic backgrounds of World War I and World War II and the period of the cold war, with some attention to the causes and consequences of the Suez crisis of 1956, the conflict in Indo-China, and the wars in the Middle East. Enrollment is restricted to freshmen and may be limited. Three credit hours.

137
MEDIEVAL HISTORY, 476-1300
MR. BERSCHNEIDER

A historical survey of the “first Europe” of Christendom from the time of the fall of Rome and the establishment of the Christian church to the beginnings of the Renaissance. Emphasis will be on western (Latin and Germanic) and nonwestern (Byzantine and Moslem) influences. Primarily for freshmen but open to sophomores; a limited number of upperclassmen admitted by special permission. Three or four credit hours.

138
MR. BERSCHNEIDER

Independent Study
staff
Independent study in an area of mathematics of particular interest to the student.
Prerequisite: Mathematics major and permission of the department. Two to four credit hours.

Modern Foreign Languages

411
Teaching of Modern Foreign Languages
Mr. Bundy
Problems and methods of teaching modern foreign languages. Readings, discussions, practice work, and criticism. Some attention is also directed to the FLES program. Counts as three hours in education toward the Maine secondary-school-teaching certificate. Conducted in English. Nongraded.
Prerequisite: Two 200-level modern foreign literature courses. Three credit hours.

491, 492
Independent Topics in Modern Foreign Languages
staff
Individual projects in language or literature in which the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.
Prerequisite: Permission of the department chairman. Two to four credit hours.

Music

111d
Introduction to Music
staff
Introduction to the western musical tradition and development of perceptive listening through the study of selected works from the Middle Ages to the present. No previous knowledge of music assumed. Cannot be counted toward the music major. Three credit hours.

†[131]
Studies in American Music
Aspects of American music, examined from historical and critical perspectives. Areas to be studied may include topics in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, the works of important contemporary composers, or music in popular culture. A description of specific topics to be covered will be published before registration.
Prerequisite: Music 111 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.
134d
The Symphony
Mr. Armstrong

Representative symphonies from the eighteenth century to the present. Primarily for students not intending to major in music.

Prerequisite: Music 111 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

151
Music in the Liberal Arts

An exploration of relationships between the art of music and other areas within the liberal arts. Such areas might include physics, mathematics, physiology and psychology, philosophy and aesthetics, the visual arts, anthropology and sociology, language and literature, historical or area studies, theater and dance, and religion. A description of specific topics to be studied will be published before registration; the choice of topics will depend in part on the background of prospective registrants and on the availability of guest lecturers. Three credit hours.

153d
Introduction to Music Theory
Miss Heinrich and Mr. Armstrong

An introductory survey of the main aspects of music theory, including intervallic, melodic, and rhythmic dictation, creative writing, and analytical studies of representative compositions from various historical periods. Primarily for students not intending to major in music. Formerly listed as Music 163, 164. Three credit hours.

171
Music Theory I
Mrs. Reuman

Within a sequence of courses designed to present analytical skills for understanding the elements and structure of tonal music, Music Theory I covers skills pertaining to notation, intervals, scales, tonality, and melodic construction. Includes ear training and sight singing. Primarily for music majors.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

172
Music Theory II
Mrs. Reuman

A continuation of Music Theory I, covering skills pertaining to further melodic analysis, two- and three-part writing, and basic chord structure. Primarily for music majors.

Prerequisite: Music 171 and keyboard proficiency test. Four credit hours.

191, 192
Applied Music: Individual Study
Staff

Instruction in voice and instruments for qualified students. Possible offerings in 1978-79, depending upon demand, include flute, guitar, harpsichord, organ, piano, trombone, trumpet, viola, violin, violoncello, and voice. For additional information concerning fees and related matters, see the applied music statement following Music 499. Interested students should consult the department before registering. 235

Chamber Music
MRS. REUMAN

The development of chamber music written for various groups, with emphasis on representative composers and works. Augmented credit of one hour based on participation in a performance laboratory.

Prerequisite: A college-level course in music history or theory.
Three or four credit hours.

271

Music Theory III
MR. RÉ

A continuation of Music Theory II, covering the elements of harmony, including an introduction to chromatic harmony. Primarily for music majors.

Prerequisite: Music 172.
Four credit hours.

---

†[278]

Opera as Theater

A historical study of principles of opera production, with laboratory experience in staging scenes from several periods.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor.
Four credit hours.

---

332

Studies in Operatic Style
MR. MACHLIN

Representative operas will be examined in detail, noting the individual stylistic tendencies of the composer, as well as the various ways in which the music reflects aesthetic trends of the age in which it was composed.

Prerequisite: Music 172 and one college-level course in music history, or permission of the instructor.
Four credit hours.

372

Composition I
MR. RÉ

Creative writing for students prepared to undertake original work in composition.

Prerequisite: Music 271 and permission of the instructor.
Three or four credit hours.

374

Composition II

378

Conducting
MR. RÉ

Score reading, studies in basic baton technique. Analysis of works of various periods and application of conducting techniques to stylistic interpretation.

Prerequisite: Music 271 and permission of the instructor.
Three credit hours.
491, 492
Independent Study
STAFF
Individual topics in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work. Primarily for senior music majors.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department. One to four credit hours.

493, [494]
Seminar in Music
MR. MACHLIN
Topics will change each semester; a complete description will be available before registration. Primarily for senior music majors.

Prerequisite: Music 271 and permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

499d
Music Teaching
STAFF
Directed practice in conduct of introductory music courses. Open to a limited number of upperclass music majors. Nongraded.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department. Flexible credit. Two credit hours.

Applied Music
Private lessons in voice and a variety of instruments are available, with or without academic credit, at additional cost. Students of applied music are invited to participate in the college band, chapel choir, glee club, and symphony orchestra, with or without academic credit; small ensembles are also formed from time to time. For information concerning academic credit, see the statements for Music 191, 192 and 193, 194. In the case of Music 191, 192, a fee of $120 is charged for each semester of instruction in a two-credit course; for a one-credit course the fee is $70. Fees are payable on the semester bill. Students are not charged for membership in musical organizations or small ensembles.

All majors are expected to demonstrate some skill at the keyboard; consult the department. Students not already proficient are urged to remedy this deficiency as soon as possible by enrolling for piano study.

The department reserves some scholarship money to aid talented students of applied music; consult the chairman.

Performing Arts

121, 122

Performing Arts Program

For additional offerings in the performing arts, see section on Interdisciplinary Studies.

Philosophy

In the Department of Philosophy and Religion

112d
Logic

Instructor

The techniques of formal reasoning and their application to argumentation in ordinary language. Three credit hours.

133
Introduction to Western Philosophy I

Mr. Hudson and Others

Some typical problems in western philosophy: ethics, sociopolitical philosophy, and philosophy of religion. Three credit hours.

134
Introduction to Western Philosophy II

Mr. Hudson and Others

Some typical problems in western philosophy: theory of knowledge, metaphysics, and philosophy of science. Three credit hours.

211
Moral Philosophy

Mr. Reuman

The bases of judgment on questions of good and bad, right and wrong; the application of ethical principles to problem cases. Three credit hours.

†[236]
Social Philosophy

Readings from Plato, Locke, Rousseau, Marx, and others; their relevance to contemporary problems. Three credit hours.

*258
Intermediate Logic

Instructor

A treatment of philosophical problems arising from logic and mathematics, e.g., the nature of axiomatic theories, the limitations of the axiomatic method, the nature of logical and mathematical truth, nominalism and realism, and the relation of logic to philosophy.
Prerequisite: Philosophy 112 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

[277], 278
Philosophical Perspectives
Mr. Hudson

Interdisciplinary considerations of various topics, involving lecturers from several departments. In the spring of 1979: "Philosophical Perspectives on Death." Reading and discussion of material from the writings of philosophers, psychologists, literary figures, and scientists. Topics will include death and dying, suicide, euthanasia, legal and medical issues, and the question of immortality. Three credit hours.

281, 282
Cultural Euthenics: A New Adam and a New Eden
Mr. Tordrank

Listed as Religion 281, 282 (q.v.). Three or four credit hours.

[313]
Aesthetics

Problems that arise in analyses and criticisms of the arts.

Prerequisite: Three hours of philosophy or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

†[316]
Metaphysics

A contemporary approach to the problem of reality or being and such metaphysical topics as time, space, substance, and causality. Attention also to methods for dealing with metaphysical problems and of validating metaphysical claims. Three credit hours.

†[317]
Philosophy of Science

Inductive logic and problems in the philosophy of science. Observation, law, explanation, theory, and associated concepts in the social and natural sciences will be considered. Three credit hours.

†[318]
Ethics and General Theory of Value

Philosophic approaches to the nature of value, especially ethical judgments. Among the views considered will be intuitionism, emotivism, "good reasons" theory, and those relating to scientific findings.

Prerequisite: Philosophy 211 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

331
History of Ancient Philosophy
Mr. Parker

Comparative study of the philosophical systems of Plato and Aristotle, with secondary attention to the pre-Socratics, Socrates, Epicurus, the Stoics, and Plotinus. Three or four credit hours.

332
History of Modern Philosophy
Mr. Parker

European philosophy from Descartes to the nineteenth century, with special attention to the works of Descartes, Spinoza, Leibniz, Locke, Berkeley, Hume, and Kant. Four credit hours.

EXISTENTIALISM AND PHENOMENOLOGY

A survey of the principal thinkers of twentieth-century existential philosophy, with minor attention to phenomenology. Readings will be from some of the following: Heidegger, Sartre, Jaspers, Marcel, Buber, and Merleau-Ponty. Philosophy 359 is a desirable background but is not required.

Prerequisite: Two semester courses in philosophy or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

PHILOSOPHY SEMINAR
MR. HUDSON

Seminars in selected areas of philosophy. In 1978-79 the topic will be “Philosophical Anthropology.” Studies in the nature and destiny of man. Open to majors and nonmajors.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

491, 492
INDEPENDENT STUDY

Individual projects in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. One to four credit hours.

Physical Education

311, 312
COACHING OF TEAM SPORTS AND ADMINISTRATION OF ATHLETICS
MR. MCGEE AND MR. NELSON

Principles and methods of coaching team sports. Policies and practices in organization and administration of athletic programs. Brief exposure to physiology of exercises and care and prevention of athletic injuries.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

323, 324
PRINCIPLES AND METHODS OF
MRS. BITHER, MR. NELSON, AND INSTRUCTOR

Policies, practices, standards, and educational methods of secondary school physical education and coaching of individual sports. Physiology of exercise, prevention and care of athletic injuries. May be coordinated with education courses to include practice teaching.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

Physics

112
ENERGY AND THE ENVIRONMENT
MR. DUDLEY

An analytical treatment of systems and their interactions, demonstrating the central role of energy conversion processes in the environment. Satisfies the laboratory science requirement. Three credit hours.
121, 122
General Physics
Mr. Metz and Mr. Briggs

A quantitative introduction to the interpretation of theoretical and experimental problems in the fields of mechanics, thermodynamics, electricity and magnetism, relativity, and quantum physics. Physics 211 may serve as a prerequisite for Physics 122. Fall enrollment in Mathematics 121 or prior equivalent is recommended. Lecture and laboratory. Four credit hours.

152
Essential Electronics
Mr. Briggs

An introduction to modern electronics, including theory, experimentation, problem solving, and circuit design. The course starts by considering simple direct-current devices, and progresses to examining operational amplifiers, digital integrated circuits, and modern instrumentation. At each step, the significance of general concepts, such as regulation or feedback, is stressed. Self-paced. Lecture, discussion, and laboratory. Enrollment open to the limit of available equipment. Four credit hours.

211
Intermediate Mechanics
Mr. Dudley

Newtonian mechanics in theory and experiment: moving coordinate systems, momentum and energy, gravitation and Kepler’s laws, forced and damped harmonic motion. Special emphasis is placed on the analysis of data obtained in the laboratory, including extensive use of the computer. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Physics 121 or permission of the department, and Mathematics 122 (may be taken concurrently). Open to freshmen with advanced standing in calculus who have had a strong preparation in physics. Four credit hours.

232
Atomic and Nuclear Physics
Mr. Metz

An intermediate treatment of quantum physics, illustrated by topics in atomic, nuclear, and solid-state physics, and emphasizing the experimental evidence for modern theories of the structure of matter. Lecture and discussion.

Prerequisite: Physics 122 and Mathematics 122. Four credit hours.

251d
Independent Electronics
Mr. Briggs

An independent, self-paced course in electronics. May be taken as a sequel to Physics 151 for the further study of digital electronics and instrumentation. It is also intended for an advanced science student who desires to do the material of Physics 151 independently. Enrollment limited. One to three credit hours.

311
Advanced Mechanics
Mr. Dudley

Lagrangian and Hamiltonian dynamics, the dynamics of rigid bodies, and systems with many degrees of freedom. The techniques of linear algebra and of differential equations will be applied. Lecture and discussion.

Attention is called to the major in studies in western civilization, incorporating courses from several departments. Courses approved for this major are listed in the section on Interdisciplinary Studies (q.v.).
Career Planning

Colby College is committed to a comprehensive program that encourages and assists students in career preparation and decision making. Working in partnership with the staff, students assess career interests and abilities, examine and identify occupations in accordance with defined values, and develop techniques for a search. Colby does not offer a job placement service but rather strives to endow students with knowledge and skills that will result in satisfactory employment.

Career counselors are available to discuss concerns, and a large network of alumni has expressed willingness to talk with Colby graduates about opportunities. The career planning library offers occupational literature, gathered each year from corporations, agencies, professional associations, and the Department of Labor.

National recruitment and salary data are available, along with state and federal hiring information, armed service brochures, social service and teaching publications, graduate catalogues, and manuals for developing job search skills.

Additionally, Colby makes extensive use of the System of Interactive Guidance and Information (SIGI), a computer-based response system created by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N.J., designed to help students make career decisions. SIGI assists in narrowing values, locating suitable occupations to match them, comparing data between occupations, and planning a strategy for employment. Colby is one of 15 colleges currently providing this resource.

The office makes available applications and testing information for the Graduate Record Examination, Professional and Administrative Career Examination, National Teacher's Examination, Law School Aptitude Test, Miller's Analogy Test, and others. Reference files may be established in the senior year for the collection and distribution of letters of recommendation. Colby is a member of the College Placement Council and complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 to insure that students have the right of access to and review of their references.

The staff organizes vocational interest seminars designed to relate information about employment experiences, training requirements, hiring outlook, and rewards in given professions. Colby also conducts workshops in interviewing and résumé-writing skills.

Each fall, representatives from graduate schools visit to talk with prospective applicants. Interviewers from industry visit in the spring to speak with candidates who are seeking positions. Over 30 companies and agencies sent individuals for this purpose in 1977.
Every year, Colby graduates enter many different graduate schools to work toward advanced degrees in art, music, history, classics, English, economics, modern languages, sociology, psychology, philosophy, or the natural sciences. Interested students should confer with the chairmen of their departments and their major advisers.

Graduate programs in administrative science at such institutions as Harvard, Chicago, Cornell, the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, and the Amos Tuck School at Dartmouth continue to attract many Colby graduates. Early in their college careers, interested students should seek counsel from members of the department of administrative science. Seniors are urged to take the graduate management admission test.

Colby College and the University of Rochester are affiliated in a joint program whereby a student may acquire an education in the liberal arts and also in engineering in a five-year period, with three years spent at Colby and two at Rochester. On successful completion of the program, the student may be awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree from Colby and a Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree from Rochester.

While at Colby, the engineering student must attain mastery of the necessary mathematics and science to support him in the intensive study of engineering that will follow. In his Colby program, however, he is assured a broad grounding in the humanities and social sciences as well.

Students graduating in this program are exempt from Colby’s usual requirement of residence during the senior year, but all other graduation requirements must be met.

A member of the physics department serves as adviser to students intending to enter the joint program. He should be consulted early in a student’s Colby career to plan for meeting Rochester’s requirements.

Another option for the student who wants ultimately to be an engineer but also wants a liberal arts college education is a regular physics or chemistry major at Colby, followed by engineering studies in a graduate school. Members of those departments are prepared to advise students who make this choice.

The committee on professional preparation for law and government service advises students preparing for careers in these areas. The prelaw student may major in almost any field, but the student who has a specific goal in mind will profit from early consultation with members of the committee. The law-school admission test is given at the college each year.

MEDICINE AND DENTISTRY

Medical schools do not require a particular major but do require high standing and the inclusion of biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, English, and foreign languages in the student's college program. It is strongly advised that mathematics be pursued at least through the first year of calculus. Organic and general chemistry are required.

The medical-college admission test is ordinarily taken in the spring of the student's junior year.

Although some dental schools admit applicants after three years, and sometimes after only two years, of college work, the leading schools prefer students with a college degree. Each applicant, regardless of his major, must meet the specific requirements in biology, chemistry, physics, and English, which vary with different dental schools.

The dental-college admission test is ordinarily taken in the spring of the junior or fall of the senior year.

TEACHING

Students contemplating teaching in secondary schools are offered a minimal program that meets certification requirements. For those interested in teaching at the elementary school level and in special education, foundation courses are available that prepare for graduate school where they may complete certification requirements.

Career guidance and counseling are available from the director in the office of education.

THEOLOGY

Colby has a long tradition of preparing graduates for the ministry. There are representatives of Colby alumni among the clergy of many denominations, and over the years a considerable number have done missionary work.

The theological preparation committee, in cooperation with the college chaplain, serves as adviser to students who plan to enter seminaries.

Students preparing for the ministry are assisted in attending seminary conferences by grants from the Clarence R. Johnson Conference Fund.

Degrees and Honors

The degree of Bachelor of Arts with honors is awarded in three grades: summa cum laude to those who obtain a 3.75 grade point average; magna cum laude to those with a 3.50 grade point average; cum laude to those with a 3.25 grade point average.

A second category of honors, entitled distinction in the major, is awarded to a student on the specific recommendation of the department. To be eligible, the student must have at least an average of 3.25 in the major and recommendation of the major department. The department recommends distinction in the major only for those very few students who, in the opinion of the department, merit special recognition.

In American colleges, it is generally considered that the highest honor an undergraduate can receive is election to Phi Beta Kappa. This society, founded in 1776, restricts its chapters to leading colleges and universities, and maintains high scholastic standards. The Beta Chapter of Maine was organized at Colby in 1895.

Each spring, the college recognizes student achievement with the announcement of various honors and awards. Among those recognized are: members of Phi Beta Kappa; Senior Scholars for the ensuing year; winners of college prizes; and recipients of Phi Beta Kappa certificates, awarded to members of the three lower classes for distinction in scholarship.

Academic excellence is also recognized at a convocation each fall for the Julius Seelye Bixler and Charles A. Dana scholars. Bixler Scholars are the top-ranking students as determined by the academic records of the preceding year. Dana Scholars are selected on the basis of a strong academic performance and potential leadership.

The Dean’s List, recognizing high academic standing, and announced at the conclusion of each semester, includes the name of every student whose average of all marks in the previous semester has been at least 3.2 in a minimum of twelve basic credit hours for upperclassmen, 3.0 in a minimum of twelve basic credit hours for freshmen.
