A booklet, Colby, with illustrative material, has been prepared for prospective students and may be obtained from the dean of admissions.

The New England Association of Schools and Colleges accredits schools and colleges in the six New England states. Membership in one of the six regional accrediting associations in the United States indicates that the school or college has been carefully evaluated and found to meet standards agreed upon by qualified educators. Colleges support the efforts of public school and community officials to have their secondary school meet the standards of membership.

Colby College is an equal opportunity employer with an affirmative action program.

The Colby College Bulletin is published nine times yearly: in February, March, twice in May, June, twice in September, November, and December. Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office at Waterville, Maine, under the Act of August 24, 1912. Acceptance for mailing at special rates of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized March 20, 1919. Postmaster, send Form 3579 to the Colby College Bulletin, Colby College, Waterville, Maine 04901.

The President and Trustees of Colby College.

CORPORATE NAME

Colby College

LEGAL BASIS

Chartered as Maine Literary and Theological Institution by the General Court of Massachusetts, February 27, 1813. First classes, 1818. Authorized to confer degrees by the first legislature of Maine, June 19, 1820. First Commencement, 1822. Name changed to Waterville College, February 5, 1821; changed to Colby University, January 23, 1867; changed to Colby College, January 25, 1899.

FUNCTION

Independent college of liberal arts for men and women (women first admitted, 1871); nonsectarian, founded under Baptist auspices.

DEGREE CONFERRED

Bachelor of Arts.

ENROLLMENT

1,607 (opening, 1975).

FACULTY

140 full- and part-time.

ENDOWMENT

LIBRARY

330,000 volumes and 28,800 microtexts; 1,100 current subscriptions to periodicals.

ACCREDITATION AND MEMBERSHIPS

Accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges and the American Chemical Society. Member of the College Entrance Examination Board, the Association of American Colleges, the American Council on Education, and The Research Institute of the Gulf of Maine. Colby is a corporate member of the American Association of University Women and has a campus chapter of the American Association of University Professors. The Colby chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was founded in 1895.

LOCATION

Colby Yesterday and Today

In 1813, when Maine was still a part of Massachusetts, a group of Baptists secured a charter for the Maine Literary and Theological Institution, and in 1815 received a grant of land on the Penobscot River. Permitted subsequently to erect the institution on a site other than the land grant, they chose a tract in Waterville on the west bank of the Kennebec, where in 1818 the Reverend Jeremiah Chaplin began instruction of seven theological students.

The first legislature of Maine in 1820 granted the institution the right to confer degrees, and in 1821 changed the name to Waterville College, with Jeremiah Chaplin as the first president. William King, Maine’s first governor, had been instrumental in securing the original charter, and was himself for many years a member of the board of trustees.

Though founded by Baptists, the college, even in its earliest days, was not narrowly sectarian. The Maine charter decreed that no applicant should be denied admission on grounds of religious belief. By 1830 the theological course had been abandoned, and the institution became, and remains today, distinctly a nonsectarian college of liberal arts. Though without official ties to any denomination, the college is proud of its Baptist heritage and support.

When the Civil War threatened to force closing of the college, the struggling institution was saved by a generous gift from Gardner Colby, a prominent Baptist layman of Newton Centre, Massachusetts, and in 1867 the grateful trustees changed the name to Colby University. In 1899, sensing that the college had never become a university in fact, the board changed the name to Colby College.

In the first class receiving degrees in 1822 was George Dana Boardman, pioneer of a long line of Colby missionaries to foreign lands. A graduate in 1826 was Elijah Parish Lovejoy, who suffered martyrdom for the cause of freedom of the press when his persistent antislavery articles led to his death at the hands of a mob in Alton, Illinois, at the age of thirty-four.

Colby first admitted women in 1871, when Mary Low was the lone female student. By 1890 the number had so increased that President Albion Woodbury Small proposed, and the trustees adopted, a system of coordination, providing for men’s and women’s divisions with separate classes. In time coordination changed to coeducation, and Colby is now officially a coeducational college.

After the First World War, Colby found its campus confined to thirty crowded acres hemmed in by the tracks of the Maine Central Railroad. On the campus were ten buildings, while six others sprawled into the downtown area. In 1930 the trustees voted that “as soon as feasible” the college must move to a new site.

For twenty anxious years after this decision, President Franklin Winslow Johnson led a valiant and finally successful campaign to move the college, despite the obstacles of a great depression and the Second World War. Colby was gradually transferred, between 1943 and 1952, to its new site on Mayflower Hill, on land given by the citizens of Waterville.

In 1942 Dr. Johnson was succeeded by President J. Seelye Bixler, who for eighteen years extended and solidified the program on the new campus, securing national acclaim. Since 1960 President Robert E. L. Strider has brought Colby further renown, both for its physical plant and the significant strengthening of faculty and program.

The growth of Colby since the transfer to Mayflower Hill has been striking. On 900 acres there are now forty buildings and several playing fields. Enrollment has risen from 600 to 1,600, and students come from two thirds of the states and many foreign countries. The faculty, numbering fifty-six in 1940, now is 140. Endowment has increased from three million to twenty-eight million dollars. The physical expansion has been accompanied by growth in variety and quality of the curriculum.

In 1963 Colby College observed its 150th anniversary with a series of events emphasizing the college’s heritage and its responsibility for the future. That academic year was a milestone, but no event had more significance for the college than its selection by the Ford Foundation for development as a “regional center of excellence.” Colby received in June 1962 a challenge grant of $1.8 million in the foundation’s Special Program in Education, which was successfully matched on a two-to-one basis in three years. Officials of the Ford Foundation chose a select number of liberal arts colleges to be included in the program “because of the importance of the
The Campus

In 1952 Colby completed the move from its original campus in downtown Waterville to Mayflower Hill, two miles west of the city. Today forty buildings stand on a campus of 900 acres, one of the most modern and beautiful in the nation.

The first building was Lorimer Chapel. The main chapel, in early New England style, contains an organ built in the classical tradition by Walcker of Ludwigsburg, Germany. Its specifications were drawn up by Albert Schweitzer. The Rose Chapel adjoins the main building.

At the center of the campus is Miller Library, described on following pages.

The Keyes and Life Sciences buildings provide facilities for science programs, with special collections, a seismograph, reference libraries, laboratories, and conference rooms. Complete renovation of these two buildings, along with construction of a new science building, will support a program commensurate with the growing student enrollments in science at Colby. The Webster Chester Teaching Museum contains collections of birds, shells, mammalian skulls, and various invertebrates and plants.

The humanities and social sciences are centered in the Elijah Parish Lovejoy Building, named for the Colby graduate who was one of America's earliest martyrs for freedom of the press. Here are classrooms, faculty offices, laboratories for modern languages and psychology, and an auditorium.

Administration offices are housed in the Eustis Building.

The Bixler Art and Music Center has classrooms, studios, an art and music library, auditorium, rehearsal hall, and practice and listening rooms. The center was expanded in 1973 with the opening of a new Museum of Art and the Lenk Building, housing studios for painting and design as well as workshops for wood and metal sculpture. Emphasis in the college's permanent collection is clearly in the American field, but the British Isles and Europe are represented by paintings, sculpture, prints, and drawings.

Colby is a residential college where students are expected to live on campus. Classes are distributed equally through all eighteen dormitories, some of which are coeducational (men and women on separate corridors). In addition to these dormitories, there are eight fraternity houses on campus. In special circumstances, some students have the option of living off campus. There are four coeducational dining halls.

A new student health center opens in the fall of 1976, which will permit the closing of an infirmary in Roberts Union so that building may be renovated to become a complete student center.

The Ninetta M. Runnals Union is undergoing a major renovation to provide a center for the performing arts. In addition to a 268-seat theatre, the center will include workshops, dressing rooms, a greenroom, and a studio for the dance.

Indoor sports facilities are contained in the new physical education and athletic complex and consist of the Wadsworth Gymnasium (badminton, volleyball, and four basketball courts), Alfond Ice Arena, the fieldhouse (an eighth-of-a-mile track, a baseball diamond, and three tennis courts), the Dunaway Squash and Handball Courts (consisting of seven singles and one doubles), the swimming pool, and a weight training room.

Outdoors there are some fifty acres of playing fields: two football fields, two baseball diamonds, two soccer fields, fourteen tennis courts, and space for field hockey, archery, and informal games. Community facilities include bowling lanes and riding stables. Approximately three miles from campus, the college owns a ski area, which has a T-bar lift, lighted slope, jump, lodge, and snowmaking equipment.

The entire Mayflower Hill campus has been designated by the Maine legislature as a State Wildlife Management Area.

Part of the woodland surrounding the campus has been set aside as a wildlife sanctuary, The Perkins Arboretum and Bird Sanctuary, and includes 128 acres.

In the Belgrade Lakes area, near Waterville, the college owns the Colby-Marston Preserve, a thirty-four-acre tract containing a kettle-hole bog. The preserve, which is considered a classic example of a northern sphagnum bog, has been classified a Registered Natural Landmark by the United States National Park Service. It is used for teaching and research in the fields of biology, ecology, and geology.
The Library

The Miller Library, focal point of the campus, furnishes printed and audiovisual materials for assigned and recreational reading, reference, research, and independent study. Reading rooms and individual carrels provide study areas for more than a quarter of the student body. The building is open from early morning until late at night each day during the academic year.

An open-stack system allows browsing through the collection of 330,000 volumes. The microfilm collection is extensive, and the library has subscriptions to more than 1,100 journals. The federal government supplies many of its publications, and a regional document library provides easy access to other government publications. The library is a member of the New England Library Information Network and is affiliated with the Health Services Library Cooperative of Maine.

Special collections of first editions and manuscripts in the Colby library have achieved international recognition. The Edwin Arlington Robinson Memorial Room, named for the famous Maine poet, contains his books, manuscripts, letters, and memorabilia. The Thomas Hardy collection, also in the room, is the most extensive in this country. Other authors represented in the Robinson Room include E. A. Housman, Sarah Orne Jewett, Kenneth Roberts, Henry James, Willa Cather, John Masefield, William Dean Howells, and Thomas Mann. The John and Catherine Healy Memorial Room contains the James Augustine Healy Collection of Modern Irish Literature. This includes numerous inscribed copies, manuscripts, and holograph letters of William Butler Yeats, Sean O’Casey, James Joyce, George Bernard Shaw, and many others.

The Academy of New England Journalists has established its archives in Miller Library. The Academy Room also contains current issues of some thirty-five daily newspapers.

The Colby Library Associates is an organization of friends of the library, many of long standing, representing both students and faculty. Dues are used to purchase books and manuscripts that the library could not otherwise acquire. Members receive the Colby Library Quarterly.
The Academic Program

DIVISIONS OF INSTRUCTION

The courses in the curriculum are classified under four divisions. In the Division of Humanities are art, classics, English, modern foreign languages, and music. The Division of Social Sciences includes administrative science, economics, education, government, history, philosophy, psychology, religion, and sociology. In the Division of Natural Sciences are astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, and physics. The Division of Physical Education and Athletics, besides offering courses, administers the intercollegiate athletic and intramural sports programs.

Certain interdepartmental courses take content and staff from more than one department, and sometimes from more than one division.

THE STUDENT'S PROGRAM

The student at Colby normally takes from twelve to eighteen credit hours in each semester.

To assure distribution among the divisions mentioned above, students must include English composition and literature, a foreign language (unless exempted by examination), and courses to meet "area" requirements in the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences. Programs are usually planned so that the majority of these requirements are met within the first two years, leaving the junior and senior years for "major" concentration and for free electives.

Each freshman is assigned to a member of the faculty who advises him during the first year; at the end of that year he is assigned a new adviser from the department in which he has declared his major.

Prospective students frequently ask what subjects they will study—especially in the freshman year. It would be misleading to present any specific pattern of courses for either of the first two years. The programs of individual students may vary widely because there is considerable latitude within the requirements. The student preparing for a scientific career or the study of medicine will begin electing scientific subjects at once. Many major departments in both the natural and social sciences recommend mathematics for the freshman year. Whatever his inclinations, each student should discuss his prospective program with his adviser, noting carefully the recommen-
To qualify for the degree of Bachelor of Arts, a candidate must meet specific requirements in quantity, quality, distribution, and concentration, and must also complete a January program for every first semester in residence to a maximum of four.

QUANTITY
A minimum of 120 semester credit hours, at least 105 of which (hereafter called "basic credits") must be earned in conventionally graded academic courses or specifically designated non-graded courses (see also FLEXIBLE CREDITS, below).

QUALITY
A minimum of 210 quality points in 105 basic credit hours. For each credit hour, a mark of A entitles the student to four points, a mark of B to three points, a mark of C to two points, and a mark of D to one point. No points are given for marks below D. Two points are awarded for each hour of Cr. in basic nongraded courses.

DISTRIBUTION TO ALL COLLEGE REQUIREMENTS

A. English Composition and Literature: Six credit hours. This requirement will be met by English 115 and English 152.

B. Foreign Language: A basic knowledge of one ancient or modern foreign language. This requirement may be met in one of four ways:
(1) Giving evidence of satisfactory achievement in a foreign language taught at Colby by attaining before entrance a score of sixty in a College Entrance Examination Board foreign language achievement test.
(2) Successful completion of three credit hours in courses numbered above 113 in an ancient or modern foreign language offered at Colby College, with the exception of critical language courses numbered 191, 192, 193, German 117, and Spanish 117.
(3) For a transfer student who has studied a foreign language not taught at Colby, the requirement will be fulfilled if he has completed at an accredited institution the equivalent of a second year of that language at the college level with marks high enough to make the work acceptable toward the Colby degree.
(4) For a foreign student whose native language is not English, knowledge of his native language will be recognized as fulfillment of the language requirement, subject to the approval of, and possible testing by, the department of modern foreign languages.

II AREA REQUIREMENTS
A minimum of six credit hours in each of the areas described in III below. Three of the credit hours in the natural sciences must involve laboratory experience.

III AREAS
A. HUMANITIES
   Art
   Classics (except Ancient History)
   English (except 111, 112, 115, 152, and 171)
   Greek Latin
   Modern Foreign Languages (above the intermediate level)
   Music
   Philosophy and Religion (certain courses: Religion 223, 224, 321, 322, 351, 352, 353, and 358; Philosophy 313, 355, 356, and 372; philosophy and religion seminars when topics are relevant)
   Physical Education 241, 242
B. NATURAL SCIENCES
   Astronomy
   Biology
   Chemistry
   Geology
   Mathematics
   Physics
C. SOCIAL SCIENCES
   Administrative Science
   Ancient History
   Economics
   Education
   Government History
   Philosophy and Religion (except courses listed among the humanities)
Psychology
Sociology

PHYSICAL EDUCATION Completion of freshman physical education requirements are required for graduation.

RESIDENCE Candidates for the degree must earn in residence at least sixty credit hours, including fifty-three basic credits. They must be resident students at Colby for at least four semesters, including the last two semesters before graduation. A resident student is defined as a full-time student taking at least twelve credit hours.

Credits earned at another institution while concurrently registered at Colby may not be applied toward graduation requirements.

EXEMPTION BY EXAMINATION When appropriate, either all college or area requirements, as well as certain requirements for the major, may be absolved by examination without course enrollment, at the discretion of the department concerned. No credit hours accrue from such examinations.

OPTION FOR CERTAIN STUDENTS A student returning to college after an absence must meet any new requirements for graduation if he still needs more than one half of the total number of credit hours required for graduation. If he still needs no more than one half of the total number, he may meet either the new requirements or those in effect when he first enrolled.

MAJOR Near the end of the freshman year, each student elects a tentative major in which he wishes to concentrate. The major may be chosen in a single subject, in one of a number of designated combinations, or in a specially designed independent major.

The respective academic departments and programs specify the courses constituting a major in each department or program. Before selecting a major, the student should acquaint himself thoroughly with the requirements detailed in the section on Divisions, Departments, and Courses of Study.

With the consent of the departments or programs concerned, a student may change his major. Forms for officially effecting such change must be obtained from and returned to the registrar’s office.

Any student whose cumulative points in courses completed toward the major fall below a certain scale loses his right to continue with that major. The required scale is as follows: 1.5 grade point average for the first two courses; two points for each credit hour thereafter.

Each department or program designates the courses to which the point scale applies for its major. A student below the point scale may, with the consent of the department or program concerned, be accepted or retained for one semester as a probationary major.

A student may change his major at the end of the junior year if he has completed, with the required points, the equivalent of at least twelve credit hours toward the fulfillment of the new major. If, at the end of his junior year, a student finds no department or program in which he can be accepted as a major, he cannot continue in college. If, in the senior year, the cumulative points in courses completed toward the major fall below the required number, the major requirement is not fulfilled, and the degree cannot be awarded.

INTERDEPARTMENTAL MAJORS

Approved interdisciplinary majors are offered in the following areas:

INDEPENDENT MAJORS

A student may design an independent major by presenting a detailed written proposal prepared with the support of an adviser who agrees to assume responsibility for the program throughout its course. Normally there will be at least one other adviser who will help to shape and direct the program. The program must include integrated course work representing from one quarter to one third of the total credit hours required for graduation. Implementation requires the written approval of the independent major board, which is made up of the dean of the faculty, two faculty members elected from each division, and two students appointed by the Student Association. An annual report is required from each independent major and his adviser, which will include any minor changes in the program; substantial changes, or a change of adviser, must be referred to the board.

Reading Period

During the two weeks preceding the final examinations at the close of the second semester, a special reading period is scheduled for many courses numbered in the 300's and 400's. Not a time for review, this period frees the student from the routine of class meetings so that he may devote full time to independent study of freshly assigned reading or laboratory work. Although classes do not meet, instructors are available for consultation. Reading-period assignments are tested in the final examinations to a maximum of one third of the examination time.

Whether to have a reading period is decided by each instructor, who informs students whether classes are to continue meeting during the two weeks. Reading periods are not held in courses exempted from final examinations.

January Program of Independent Study

In the academic year 1961-62, Colby introduced an educational experiment with its January Program of Independent Study. Course work of the first semester takes place entirely between Labor Day and the beginning of Christmas vacation, and January is devoted to work distinct from the formal course of study of the first and second semesters.

Students from all four classes may enroll in “group” projects. Methods of conducting these programs differ from instructor to instructor, but each student works on a single project or problem throughout the period. Free from the conflicting demands of the usual schedule, he may pursue his thoughts and research single-mindedly, or at least with a minimum of interference. Every attempt is made to assign students in accordance with their choices from among the topics or problems available.

Freshmen wishing to undertake an individualistic January topic outside the regular group offerings may do so provided their topics are accepted for direction by a faculty member who will be “on” in the January period when it is to be carried out, and provided that the topics are approved by the January program committee.

Individual January programs for sophomores, juniors, and seniors follow a different procedure. If a student chooses to work within his major, his program is registered with the assistant to the dean of faculty, who administers the January program, but details are arranged through the major department. For projects carried on outside the major subject area, approval by the January program committee is required in the same manner as for freshman individual plans.

Some projects may be carried on away from the campus, using facilities available at other centers, at laboratories, museums, or libraries. Each project, on or away from campus, must have departmental or committee approval, and each student is wholly responsible for meeting his obligations.

This is, in effect, not one program but many. Individual departments and instructors have a free hand to explore types of programs and methods of presentation.

Work carried out in January is graded “honors,” “pass,” or “fail.” To be eligible for graduation, each student must successfully complete one January program for every first semester in residence, to a maximum of four. A student deficient two January programs will be placed on probation by the committee on standing.

SENIOR SCHOLARS

A limited number of senior scholars, selected by a faculty committee, devote a major part of their time to approved scholarly subjects. Each senior scholar pursues this work under the guidance of a faculty member, and a scholar may earn six credit hours per semester.

CENTER FOR COORDINATED STUDIES

The Center for Coordinated Studies is an experimentally active unit whose existence at Colby dates from 1969. It has three declared objectives: (1) to create, through interdepart mental programs of study, more coherent patterns for a liberal arts education, (2) to create and sustain a greater degree of responsiveness between students and faculty in the design and conduct of the curriculum, and (3) to create a more pervasive learning environment for students.

The center is not a "college within a college" with its own distinctive program and student body. It tries, rather, to function as a testing ground for approaches that may help the student break down walls between life and learning, and bridge the gaps among the islands of knowledge.

Located in coeducationally grouped residence halls, the center provides classrooms, offices, and living and dining areas. Students and faculty members shape and combine courses of study within areas of common interest. Thus, groups have focused, at various times, on such cross-departmental topics as: Studies in Behavior (biology and psychology); Literature and Politics; Homer and History; The Concept of Evolution—Its Impact on Thought and History; Bilingual and Bicultural Studies; Existential Thought and Literature. Areas, and the courses within them, undergo continuous modification and change. A student, whether he elects to continue his college program within one of the traditional disciplines, pursues an interdisciplinary major (a frequent choice of center students), or exercises Colby's new independent major option, should, after enrollment in the center, proceed with a richer understanding of the interrelatedness of all of man's endeavors.

Students who join the center should plan to devote a good portion of their academic schedules and their energies to its activities, and demonstrate a continuing, active concern for both the living arrangements and the educational programs.

Colby has a PDP-11/50 computer housed in the computing center in the Lovejoy Building. Time-sharing terminals are provided at several locations on the campus. These facilities are available for student use. Those who elect elementary mathematics courses are required to use the computer as a problem-solving tool. Many courses in the natural and social sciences make use of the computing facilities for a wide range of applications. Orientation sessions in the use of the terminals and general programming are available to all interested students.

FOREIGN STUDY

Since 1970-71 Colby has had a Junior Year Abroad program in France, established in cooperation with the Université de Caen. Enrollment is limited to Colby students. Details of the program are available from the department of modern foreign languages.

Colby is a member of the Associated Kyoto Program, which makes possible a year of study in Kyoto, Japan. In addition, Kansai Gaikokugo Daigaku of Osaka annually makes a tuition scholarship available to a selected Colby student.

By agreement with Manchester College, Oxford, and with the universities of Glasgow and Aberdeen, limited numbers of Colby nominees are accepted for a year of study at these institutions.

Opportunities for study abroad in these and other countries are available through the programs of other institutions or by independent arrangement.

Permission to study abroad during the junior year is given by the committee on foreign study and student exchange programs. Credit for such study is guaranteed only if the student follows a program approved in advance by the major department and the committee. Application must be made by November 15 for spring-semester study abroad and by April 15 for fall-semester; forms can be obtained from members of the committee. Approved applicants must notify the dean of students’ office of their plans by December 15 for a second semester abroad or by May 1 for a first semester abroad.

Committee approval presupposes an academic record for the first three semesters sufficient to give promise that the student will complete his program of foreign study with credit to himself and to the college.

The committee administers the Harold D. Walker Scholarship Grants for study and travel in Latin America and the French Government Scholarship Fund for study abroad in French language and literature.
EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

A student exchange program was begun in 1960-61 between Colby and Fisk University. Each student pays regular tuition and board-and-room charges at his home college, though residing and studying at the other institution. The only major added expense is for travel. A similar exchange program is conducted with Pomona College in California. Ordinarily, exchanges are arranged for a single semester of the junior year. A course exchange program is in effect with Thomas College in Waterville. Students may obtain information from the committee on foreign study and student exchange programs.

OFF-CAMPUS PROGRAMS

Colby is a member institution in the Institute for Off-Campus Experience and Cooperative Education, which administers the College Venture Program. This program is designed to give a limited number of qualified students work experience in their major field of interest prior to graduation. Students approved for the program take a leave of absence for the period of the off-campus experience and may, with prior approval by a college department, receive academic credit. Each student earning Colby credits in this or an independently developed field-experience program is charged an administrative fee.

An opportunity is provided for a limited number of Colby students in their sophomore and junior years to participate in the various Washington Semester Programs organized by The American University in Washington, D.C. Through these programs, students can obtain firsthand knowledge of the national government as it deals with the crucial problems of cities, foreign policy, economic development, and scientific advancement.

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Colby has traditionally encouraged the enrollment of students from other countries and is actively engaged in programs of international cooperation and exchange.

Students from foreign countries other than Canada should apply for admission and financial aid through the Institute of International Education office in their country. Students from countries not served by IIE should apply directly to the dean of admissions at Colby.
Applicants whose mother tongue is not English will usually be required to take the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). The foreign student adviser at Colby is Jonathan Weiss of the department of modern foreign languages.

REGISTRATION

Students must register for courses of each semester on the regularly assigned days. A fine of $5 for each day of delay is charged on the student’s semester bill for registration later than the date specified.

No student will be permitted to register later than the seventh class day of the semester, unless the dean of students certifies in writing that exceptional circumstances justify such action.

Before registration for any semester, each student must secure from the treasurer’s office a receipt for the tuition fee and any other required advance payments and present these at the registrar’s office.

The treasurer is not authorized to permit deferred payment of any fees that the board of trustees requires to be paid in advance of registration. It is important that students understand the distinction between payment of fees and registration. Each student must complete the financial procedures specified by the treasurer before he can register.

ELECTION OF COURSES

Each spring, with the approval of their advisers, students elect programs of study for the ensuing year; these elections, with approved revisions, are confirmed during the fall registration period. A student’s academic program must bear his adviser’s approval and be properly filed with the registrar; no credit will be granted for work in a course for which a student is not correctly registered. A continuing student registering in the fall is fined $2 per credit hour if he fails to make spring election.

With the approval of the adviser, voluntary changes in a student’s program may be made during the first eight class days of a semester, the first day of classes being considered the first day of the semester. After the eighth day, no changes may be made voluntarily from one course or section to another.
Changes of section within a course must be approved by the department or course chairman. Unless otherwise stated in the course description, no course may be repeated for additional credit. A student may not register for two courses scheduled to meet concurrently.

No student may elect more than eighteen hours unless a six-course program exceeds this total. No student whose overall grade-point average in all courses taken in the previous semester is below 1.8 may elect more than fifteen hours unless a five-course program exceeds this total. The only exception is that a student who is not eligible by this rule, but who must have the extra credit hours to complete his degree requirements, may elect in one semester of his senior year one course in excess of these limitations.

FLEXIBLE CREDITS

Fifteen of the 120 hours required for graduation (called “flexible credits”) can be earned in any combination of the following: (1) additional basic credits, (2) courses taken on a pass/fail basis, (3) courses specifically designated as carrying flexible credit, or (4) independent, noncurricular field experience that has a direct, demonstrated relationship to the student's curricular program and which has been approved in advance by the appropriate departmental or program committee. Details about field experience can be obtained from the assistant to the dean of faculty.

PASS/FAIL

Students may elect to take a limited number of courses on a pass/fail basis (see FLEXIBLE CREDITS, above). Departments may specify that major courses must be taken on a conventionally graded basis; it is the student’s responsibility to be aware of the policy of his department.

Students graduating under the 105-credit-hour and eight-semester-residence requirement must meet all graduation requirements in conventionally graded courses; only electives beyond 105 credit hours may be taken pass/fail.

Forms for declaring pass/fail options can be obtained at the registrar's office. The form must be completed and returned no later than ten days after the end of the change of course period of the semester in which the course is to be taken. Once submitted, a pass/fail election may not be volun-
Letter grades submitted by instructors will be converted to P (for grades A through D) or NP before being posted on permanent record cards. No information about the "quality" of a P will be released by the registrar's office, even upon request of the student himself.

| AUDITING COURSES | A Colby student may register to audit courses (not for credit) by obtaining written consent of the instructor and his adviser. He is not charged an auditing fee, nor is the audit recorded on the student's permanent record. Adults who are not students of the college may register to audit courses at a fee of $5 each semester for each credit hour, provided they obtain written consent of the instructor and of the dean of admissions. Members of the college staff and their spouses may register with the approval of the dean of the faculty to audit courses, and take for credit one course without charge. Permission to audit will be withheld if the class is already too large and if auditing applications for it are numerous. An auditor is not permitted to submit papers or perform any other function for which course credit is usually given. For this reason, auditing is seldom permitted in courses where the method of instruction involves significant individual attention and criticism. Under no circumstances can academic credit be given an auditor, nor can he later convert an audited course into an accredited course merely by paying the regular course fee. The decision whether the course is to be audited or taken for credit must be made at entry. |
| EXAMINATIONS | At the close of each semester, a period of days is set aside for examinations in all courses except those which are specifically exempted by the chairman of the department concerned. The time and place of semester examinations are fixed by the registrar. The mark for the examination may constitute up to half of the total course mark. No student may be excused from any semester examination except for illness or emergency so grave as to justify excuse in the judgment of the dean of students, or unless he has filed with the registrar a valid conflict-of-exams form based on his having scheduled three examinations in a single day or | any four consecutive examinations. An excused student may be examined at a later date convenient to the instructor but not later than January 15 for the first semester and August 30 for the second semester. Under no circumstances may a student be permitted to take a semester examination earlier than the date on which it is scheduled. A student is entitled to only one semester examination in any course; failed examinations cannot be repeated.

With the consent of the dean of students, a student may for unusual reason accept, in lieu of semester examination, a mark for the course equal to seventy-five percent of his average without examination. Because this procedure is costly in reduction of final mark, few request it.

Hour examinations and shorter quizzes are given as the individual instructor decides. Short quizzes may be scheduled without notice, but each instructor is expected to give one week's notice of any hour examination.

Plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic dishonesty are serious offenses. The instructor may dismiss the offender from the course with a mark of $F$ and may also report the case to the department chairman and the dean of students, who may impose other or additional penalties. A student is entitled to appeal charges of academic dishonesty to the faculty appeals board, which shall recommend action to the president of the college.

ACADEMIC STANDING

A student's class standing is determined by the number of credit hours he has passed. Freshman standing, fewer than twenty-four credit hours; sophomore, from twenty-four to fifty-three; junior, from fifty-four to eighty-four; senior, more than eighty-four.

Throughout the semester, at the discretion of the professor, warnings are sent to students. A major warning means that a student's standing at that time is below passing; a minor warning that, though passing, standing is so low that failure of the course is likely.

Official marks in letter grades of $A$, $B$, $C$, $D$, $E$, $F$ are issued in duplicate to students at the end of each semester. The college does not send grades directly to parents. In practice, a student often obtains his mark directly from the instructor, but the only official record is that in the registrar's office. If a course has been elected to be taken on a pass/fail basis, the registrar will convert the letter grade to $P$ or $NP$ before recording and releasing it.

In a course designated as a year course, the tentative mark, showing progress at the end of the first semester, carries no credit toward graduation. For such year courses, no credit is given until the completion of the full year's work. A student who has failed a year course may not secure credit by repeating merely the second semester even if his tentative mark at the end of the first semester is passing; he must repeat the entire year to obtain credit.

A mark below $D$, except in courses referred to in the next paragraph, indicates that a course has been failed and that credit thus lost must be made up by an additional course taken subsequently. If the failed course is specifically required for graduation, it must be repeated.

A mark of $E$ is given only in specifically designated first semester courses. The mark $E$ signifies temporary failure, which may be made up by improved work in the sequentially related course during the second semester. Passing the second semester in such a course entitles the student to a change of the first semester mark from an $E$ to a passing mark, as determined by the department concerned.

A mark of $Abs.$ indicates that a student has been absent from final examinations. A mark of $Inc.$ indicates a course not finished for some reason other than failure to take the final examinations. Grades of $Abs.$ or $Inc.$ must be made up within limits set by the instructor, and not later than January 15 for the first semester and August 30 for the second semester. After these dates, any remaining mark of $Abs.$ or $Inc.$ will be changed to an $F$. The dean of students may give limited extensions for the completion of work without penalty but only for excuses similar to those acceptable for missing a final exam.

A mark of $Cr.$ indicates that a student has been awarded credit but no specific mark for a course. Such courses are identified in the description as "nongraded."

Marks of $W$ and $WF$ indicate withdrawal from course, and represent the student's standing at the time of withdrawal.
WF indicates that the student was failing; W indicates either passing or no basis for judgment. These marks are excluded from computation of all averages except that WF's incurred within the last thirty calendar days of the semester are treated as F's in averages. Withdrawal is permitted through the final class day of the semester.

For abandoning a course without permission the student shall receive an F.

The letter R is used together with an appropriate mark when a student has repeated a course previously passed, and in such a case there can be no additional credit in terms of credit hours.

When a student's academic record is seriously deficient, the decision to retain or dismiss him from college or to place him on probation is made by the committee on standing. The committee considers both quantity and quality of work in determining whether progress is satisfactory. The faculty has endowed this committee with full power to deal with these matters.

Voluntary withdrawal from the college may be effected officially by filing a notice of withdrawal properly approved by the treasurer and the dean of students; the official form may be obtained from the dean. The date on the approved notice of withdrawal is the basis for computing any refunds that may be due. A student who leaves the college and neglects to effect official withdrawal until later cannot collect a refund for the elapsed interval.

Courses taken at other institutions may be credited toward the Colby degree under the conditions and circumstances listed below. In addition to the conditions listed on these pages, there are restrictions detailed in the section on the residence requirements (q.v.) that should be read with care.

(1) When students are admitted by transfer, their records are tentatively evaluated by the registrar to determine the transferable equivalent in Colby courses. These courses are credited subject to confirmation through satisfactory progress at Colby College.

(2) Students on approved foreign study or student exchange programs will receive credit under terms specified by the committee on foreign study and student exchange programs. Credits earned in summer school may be transferred if approved by the appropriate Colby department; forms for this purpose can be obtained at the registrar's office and should be filed prior to taking the course. No student may receive credit toward graduation for more than fourteen credit hours taken in summer school for the purpose of making up deficiencies incurred at Colby.

(3) When a student who has been dropped from the college applies for readmission, courses taken during the period of separation are examined for transferable credit on the same basis as courses presented by new transfer students.
Admission

Colby College admits students as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Admission is selective, and evaluation includes data concerning academic achievement and ability, as well as qualities of intellectual promise, interest and excitement in learning, character, and maturity.

The college actively seeks applicants who have special qualities or talents to contribute to the Colby community, as well as those who represent diverse geographical, racial, and economic backgrounds. Such candidates are expected to be within acceptable ranges of academic ability and preparation.

The college admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the college. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other college-administered programs.

The quality of a candidate's preparation is judged by the academic record, the recommendations of school authorities, and results of tests administered by the College Entrance Examination Board.

To ensure a common educational base, a minimum of sixteen academic preparatory units is recommended, including: English 4, foreign language 2, college preparatory mathematics 3, history or social studies 1, science (laboratory) 1, college preparatory electives 5.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

(1) Candidates submit applications provided by the admissions office prior to February 1 of the year admission is desired. A nonrefundable fee of $20 accompanies each application.

(2) Colby grants early decision to well-qualified candidates under a common early-decision program subscribed to by a number of colleges. Applicants submit application papers, junior SAT’s, and three achievement tests prior to November 1, including a statement that Colby is the student's first choice, that early decision is requested, and that the candidate will enroll if admitted, provided that adequate financial aid as determined by the Parents' Confidential Statement is granted. Early decision candidates may file regular applications to other colleges with the understanding that these will be withdrawn if the candidate is accepted on an early decision basis by Colby.

College notification of action is normally given no later than December 15, and successful candidates are exempted from further admissions tests except for placement purposes. Successful applicants for financial aid are notified of the amount of the award at the time of acceptance, provided the financial aid forms are complete. Candidates who are not approved for early decision are deferred to the college's regular admission plan and are reviewed without prejudice at the usual time in the spring.

(3) Interviews are not required, although applicants who have not visited the campus are encouraged to do so, and guides are provided weekdays and on Saturday mornings when the college is in session. Opportunities to meet with representatives of the admissions office are available except during February, March, and April. Individual appointments may be made upon request except during the period noted above and should be scheduled well in advance. The college will provide the names of alumni representatives for applicants living some distance from Waterville.

(4) The schedule for admission applicants is:
November 1: Deadline for filing for early decision and financial aid for early decision applicants.
December 15: Notification of decisions on early decision applications.
February 1: Deadline for filing applications for regular admission and financial aid.
Mid-April: Notification of actions by admissions committee to regular applicants.
May 1: Accepted applicants confirm intention to attend Colby by payment of a nonrefundable advance tuition deposit of $100.

All candidates are asked to submit the results of the Scholastic Aptitude Test and three achievement tests of the College Entrance Examination Board. The Scholastic Aptitude Test should be taken no later than December or January of the
The achievement tests should include English composition; the others may be of the candidate's choice. A language achievement test for placement purposes may be submitted any time prior to registration in September. A score of sixty on the language test meets the college language graduation requirement.

ADVANCED STANDING

Colby participates in the Advanced Placement Program of the College Entrance Examination Board, providing academic credit for students qualified for advanced standing. Those interested take CEEB advanced placement tests and have them submitted to Colby for evaluation. Students scoring four or five receive automatic placement and credit from the college. Scores of three and below are evaluated by the academic department concerned.

EARLY ADMISSION

A small number of students are admitted each year without completing the senior year of secondary school. This is done only upon the recommendation of the secondary school and when a candidate has exhausted the educational opportunities at the school. Considerations of academic and personal maturity are important to the candidate and to the college in earlier-than-usual admission.

TRANSFER STUDENTS AND VETERANS

First consideration in admission is for freshmen, but some transfer students are accepted each year. Admission by transfer is normally limited to students with satisfactory academic and personal records from accredited colleges or universities.

Transfer application forms, including a special recommendation form, may be obtained from the admissions office. Credits from accredited institutions are generally accepted for courses comparable to ones offered at Colby in which grades of C or better are received. No more than sixty transferred credit hours may be applied toward a Colby degree.

Veterans may request advanced standing consideration for completion of service schools or USAFI courses in advance of matriculation. Credit is not granted for military service or College Level General Educational Development Tests.

Subject to limitation of enrollment in individual courses and the consent of the instructors, the college permits adults to enroll as nonmatriculated students. Such persons must present evidence that they are qualified to pursue the intended courses and pay the fee of $115 per credit hour. Admission of nonmatriculated students is the responsibility of the dean of admissions.

Before matriculation, each student must present a satisfactory health certificate signed by a physician, including evidence of tetanus toxoid immunization and chest X rays. It is recommended that polio immunization be completed prior to entrance. Preregistration cannot be guaranteed unless all required forms are received two weeks prior to registration.
Orientation for Freshmen

The freshman orientation program is planned with the aim of introducing students to the intellectual and social life of the college. Freshmen arrive a few days early for an orientation program. Meetings are arranged with advisers and representatives of student groups.

| PLACEMENT IN   | The college language requirement for 1976-77 is met at entrance by a score of sixty or more on the CEEB language achievement test. Students continuing a foreign language at Colby are placed on the basis of the CEEB achievement test in that language. They are expected to take that test in their senior year or the last year of study of the language at the secondary-school level. If they have not taken this test, and wish to continue the study of the language, they must take the language placement test during the freshman orientation program. Those presenting two or more units for entrance continue in courses above the 111, 112 level, with the following exceptions:
| FOREIGN LANGUAGES| (1) If the last year of a student's study of the language was the sophomore year in high school, regardless of the number of years of previous study, he may enroll in 111, 112 for credit.
|                | (2) If a student has had only two years of language work that terminated in the junior or senior year, he may repeat the language with credit if the department feels that the preparation received is not adequate for the 113, 114 level.
|                | (3) If the student has completed three years of the language, and the third year is either the junior or senior year in high school, he may not enroll in 111, 112 except with special permission of the department. |

Payments must be made in accordance with this calendar of payments whether or not reminder notices are received from the college.
The dormitory damage deposit does not apply to residents of fraternity houses.

Increases in costs may necessitate an adjustment in charges.

Students who are permitted to eat or live off campus may deduct $450 for board or $315 for room and dormitory damage deposit from the amount due in advance of the first semester.

Students who are permitted to eat or live off campus may deduct $450 for board or $300 for room from the amount due in advance of the second semester.

FEES AND CHARGES EXPLAINED

DEPOSITS

Admission Deposit—Freshmen: A nonrefundable deposit of $100 is due on or before the date for confirmation of intention to attend. This deposit is deductible from the first semester payment due August 31.

Room Deposit: All upperclass students must, in order to reserve a room for the first semester of the following college year, make a $50 deposit on or before April 15. This deposit will be forfeited if the student does not return to college, unless the room reservation is withdrawn on or before July 1.

Attendance Deposit for First Semester: A nonrefundable deposit of $200 is required of all upperclass students on or before July 1 each year. Room reservations and places in their respective classes will not be held for students failing to make this deposit. For entering students, the $100 admission deposit satisfies this requirement.

Attendance Deposit for Second Semester: A nonrefundable deposit of $100 is required of all students on or before December 1 each year. Room reservations and places in their respective classes will not be held for students failing to make this deposit. The attendance deposit of a student who does not return to Colby will be retained as a credit on the student's account for one year. If the student does not return the following year, the amount of the deposit will be forfeited.

ADVANCE PAYMENTS

Tuition: The tuition charge is $1,650 per semester and must be paid prior to each semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. For schedules of fewer than nine hours, the tuition charge is $125 per credit hour. Nonmatriculating students will be charged at the rate of $125 per credit hour.
Board: Board in college dining halls is charged at the rate of $450 per semester. (Increases in food costs may necessitate an adjustment in the board charge.) Payment must be made prior to each semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. All students living on campus are required to pay the board charge to the college.

Room: The room charge in college dormitories is $300 per semester, payable prior to each semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. Students are expected to occupy college housing facilities to the full extent of their availability. Other arrangements may be made only with specific approval of the dean of students. Dormitory reservations are made through the office of the dean.

Dormitory Damage Deposit: All students living in college dormitories must pay a $15 deposit prior to the first semester in accordance with the calendar of payments. All expenses resulting from damage to or loss of college property in the public areas of the dormitories (lounges, hallways, etc.) will be charged against these deposits except in cases where the responsible students can be identified. The unused portion of these deposits is refunded on a prorated basis at the end of the year. Liability for damage to or loss of college property located within individual dormitory rooms lies with the resident(s) of that room. Students living in college dormitories are required to enter into a room contract covering this liability.

General Fee: The general fee is $190 for the year and is payable in full prior to the first semester in accordance with the calendar of payments.

Student Activities: Included in the general fee is a sum allocated for the Student Association and such student organizations as it chooses to support.

Health Services: The general fee (compulsory for all students) also supports the college health services. Free service in the student health center is provided during the regular academic year. Included in the general fee is sickness and accident insurance, which the college covers by separate contract with an insurance carrier. Nonboarding students are charged $5 per day for meals in the infirmary. There may be additional charges for special diets ordered by the college physician.
SEMESTER STATEMENTS  Charges for miscellaneous items not paid prior to registration are included on semester statements issued December 1 and April 15. Included are charges for chemistry laboratory fee, fraternity fee, etc.

MISCELLANEOUS  Chemistry Laboratory: A fee of $20 per course is charged. Students enrolled in chemistry courses are also required to pay for excessive breakage or loss of apparatus.
Fraternity Fee: All fraternity men are charged a fee in excess of the room rent established for college dormitories. The fee applies whether the student resides in the fraternity house or not. The amount is determined by each fraternity.
Applied Music: All students receiving musical instruction for academic credit under the applied-music program are charged a fee of $60 for a one-credit course and $100 for a two-credit course.
Developmental Reading: A $25 fee is charged for the developmental reading course.
Telephone: Telephones are located in each room of the following dormitories and fraternity: Dana, Taylor, Sturtevant, and KDR. Each student living in these housing facilities is charged a fee of $8.75 for the first semester and $7 for the second semester for use of these telephones.

All students other than transfer and accelerating students are required to have paid to the college the equivalent of eight semesters full tuition before being granted a degree.

Students may have official transcripts mailed to other institutions, prospective employers, or other authorized agencies by completing the transcript request form available at the registrar’s office. The fee for this service is $1 for each transcript after the first. Official college transcripts are not delivered to students. A student may have an unofficial transcript upon request; the same regulations and fee apply.

PAYMENT OF BILLS  Tuition, board, room, dormitory damage deposit, general fee, and any other financial obligation to the college must be paid in full in accordance with the calendar of payments (see previous pages) before a student is permitted to register or attend classes. Students excluded from classes under this rule for longer than ten days may be suspended from college for the remainder of the semester.
Plans providing for monthly payments at moderate cost are available through the Insured Tuition Payment Plan, 53 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts 02108, and Academic Management Services, Inc., 170 Broadway, Pawtucket, Rhode Island 02860.

The treasurer cannot permit deferred payment of any portion of the charges due prior to registration. Concerning college bills, students and parents must deal directly with the treasurer, as no other officer of the college has authority over their collection.

REFUNDS

In case of voluntary withdrawal, refund may be made of the balance of a student's account in excess of charges. Tuition, board, and room rent are charged according to the following schedule:

- During first two weeks of classes: 20% charged
- During third and fourth weeks of classes: 40% charged
- During fifth and sixth weeks of classes: 60% charged
- During seventh and eighth weeks of classes: 80% charged
- Thereafter: 100% charged

A prorata charge for tuition, room, and board will be made to students who withdraw upon advice from the college physician.

Revised charges for students withdrawing from college will be paid from the following sources in this order: (1) from payments made by the student or the student's parents, (2) from outside scholarships and loans, if any, (3) from Colby loans and National Direct Student Loans, if any, (4) from Colby financial aid, if any. Any Colby aid not needed to cover revised charges will be removed from the student's account and not refunded.

Refunds of federally insured loans are made in accordance with government regulations.

Whenever a student is required to withdraw because of unsatisfactory conduct, no refund will be made.

No refunds will be made to withdrawing students until the withdrawal process is completed.

OVERPAYMENTS

Credit balances on semester statements are ordinarily carried forward to the student's account for the following semester. After semester statements have been issued, requests for refund of credit balances will be honored promptly. Participants in tuition payment plans may make special arrangements for earlier refund at the office of the treasurer. Credit balances on the accounts of graduating seniors will be refunded automatically.

Refund is made directly to a student only upon written authorization directed through the mails to the office of the treasurer by the person responsible for payment of the account.

Information concerning the status of a student's account may be obtained from the treasurer's office upon request.

Colby currently awards over one million dollars annually in the form of scholarships, loans, and campus employment to its students having financial need. A member institution of the College Scholarship Service (Princeton, New Jersey), Colby requires each financial aid applicant to submit a Parents' Confidential Statement, the analysis of which determines individual student need within the context of the college's financial aid policy and schedule of student fees. Most accredited colleges and universities utilize the College Scholarship Service method of need analysis. Accordingly, the amount of expected parental and student contribution does not vary appreciably among colleges.

The primary obligation of financing a college education rests with the family of the student. Assistance is extended by the college to augment the family resources and ease the burden of the needy student. Due to fund limitations, awards to entering freshmen are necessarily granted by the financial aid committee on a competitive basis. Financial aid is renewable and is contingent upon continuing financial need as determined by analysis of the Parents' Confidential Statement submitted each spring. Students who do not receive aid as freshmen should not assume that they can or will be aided during their upperclass years. While the college will attempt to assist students with need, fund limitations may preclude those students not initially awarded aid. No applicant is denied aid on the basis of race, religion, or sex. An applicant must first be admitted to Colby before his financial aid application is considered.
Colby's financial aid policy emanates from the financial aid committee of the college.

Financial aid at Colby, as at most colleges and universities, combines gift scholarships and self-help.

GIFT SCHOLARSHIPS Gift scholarships, in the form of grants, total over $900,000 and are derived from endowment income, gifts made possible by the generosity of alumni, trustees, friends of the college, and foundations, as well as current income and federal government Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants. (Only Kling scholarships for male descendants of Colonial America require special application beyond the Parents' Confidential Statement, although Kling applicants must qualify on the basis of need, as well as verifiable ancestry.)

TRAVEL ASSISTANCE Travel assistance is awarded to financial aid recipients, the amount to be established by the financial aid committee according to available funds. Travel assistance is credited directly to the student's account and may not be received as cash unless a surplus remains in the student's account after all college bills are paid. Travel assistance is intended to release family funds normally allocated for college expenses, making those funds available for student travel expenditures.

SELF-HELP, CAMPUS EMPLOYMENT Self-help consists of low-interest student loans and/or campus work opportunities. Current financial aid policy describes freshman self-help as the first $800 of total need. For upperclassmen, the first $800 of need is self-help, and approximately $75 in additional self-help is required for each $250 of remaining need, to a possible maximum self-help of $1,400. A minimum need of $1,000 is required for Colby gift scholarship award eligibility.

Financial aid recipients with larger self-help responsibility are offered the opportunity to assume one of the approximately 300 campus jobs assigned through the financial aid office. Campus student work positions ordinarily do not exceed ten hours per week and, in any case, are governed by available hours in the employing department and the student's academic schedule. Generally, freshmen are not offered campus jobs. The freshman self-help requirement is kept purposely low to reduce the necessity for a job, thus permitting more time for study and adjustment to college life.

WORK-STUDY PROGRAM While a student may earn up to $500 per year, the average is usually about $400. As part of its student work opportunities, Colby administers a limited federal work-study program with funds appropriated to the college by the federal government. Pay for work-study jobs with nonprofit institutions, including the college and off-campus agencies, varies according to the skill and experience of the employee but is never less than the legal minimum wage.

LOANS Loans are becoming a significant part of educational financing; most financial aid recipients will probably need to borrow under one of several excellent loan programs.

Many states administer guaranteed loans for students. Application is normally made through the applicant's hometown bank. Guaranteed Student Loans, which are federally insured and bear seven percent simple interest, have lenient repayment schedules, beginning nearly a year after the completion of college. For students with lower adjusted family incomes, interest is paid by the federal government until post-college repayment begins.

National Direct Student Loans, administered by the financial aid office, are designed to help students with a higher level of financial need. Available loan monies are contingent upon existing repayment experience and federal fund allocations. National Direct Student Loans accrue three percent simple interest and have many of the same repayment features as the Guaranteed Student Loans described above. Repayment is deferred while the student is a full-time undergraduate or graduate student.

Earnings from summer jobs do not qualify as self-help but are considered a part of the annually evaluated family contribution. Students are expected to use these earnings to defray college expenses as follows: prefreshman, $550; sophomore, $650; junior and senior, $750. Students experiencing shortfalls in expected summer earnings must meet this obligation through an additional loan or other form of assistance. The college will do all it can to assist students along these lines.
APPLICATIONS  Applicants for admission and financial aid arrange to have a completed Parents' Confidential Statement or, for qualifying independent students,\(^1\) the Student Financial Statement (obtainable at most high school guidance offices), mailed to the College Scholarship Service in Princeton, New Jersey, by January 1 of the academic year preceding admission. Students applying for early decision and financial aid should have their Parents' Confidential Statement form filed as early as possible in the fall of the academic year preceding admission. Upperclass students' parents file the PCS form annually in March.

\(^1\)Independent student status guidelines follow current federal regulations, available on request from the financial aid office.

RELIGION

Colby College was founded by New England Baptists, and although it does not now maintain a formal relationship with any denomination, the college supports and encourages an ecumenical ministry on the campus.

The college chaplain acts as coordinator for the activities of a number of religious associations: Newman Club (Catholic), Hillel (Jewish), Canterbury Club (Episcopal), Colby Christian Fellowship (Evangelical Protestant), and Christian Science Organization. All of these groups use the sanctuary and social lounge of Lorimer Chapel. The Roman Catholic diocese of Portland provides the services of a chaplain for Catholic students, and the local rabbi and the rector of the Episcopal parish also carry on a campus ministry.

Each Sunday morning a student group, under the direction of the college chaplain, conducts an all-college worship service in the chapel. Music for this service and for special concerts is performed by the students of the chapel choir under the leadership of a student majoring in music.

The director of student activities sponsors a student volunteer corps whose members give time each week to work as Big Brothers and Big Sisters with children in Waterville and neighboring communities.

Many Colby graduates have entered the ministry, and the list of missionaries is especially impressive. The missionary tablet in the Rose Chapel testifies to the participation of Colby men and women in home and foreign missions for a century and a half.

LECTURES

Throughout the year, outstanding scholars, musicians, and artists visit the campus. There are three lecture series—the Guy P. Gannett, Gabrielson, and Franklin J. Matchette—in addition to speakers invited by the Friends of Art at Colby, by student organizations, and by learned societies. The Gannett lectures are devoted to general subjects. The Gabrielson lectures are concerned with national and international affairs. Topics related to philosophy and to other areas of human concern are offered in the Matchette lectures.

The Winthrop H. Smith Visiting Scholars Program brings a distinguished speaker for two days to lecture, speak in classes, and meet informally with students and faculty. The Spencer Lecture, established in 1973, is devoted to world unity. The Clara M. Southworth Lecture presents a prominent speaker on a subject in environmental design. The Lovejoy Convocation annually honors a member of the newspaper profession.

Among the visiting speakers in 1975-76 were John Barth, American novelist and humorist; Daniel Berrigan, clergyman and author; Lord Caradon, former United Kingdom representative to the United Nations; Richard Ellmann, Goldsmith Professor of Modern Literature, Oxford University; Walter E. Fauntroy, congressman from Washington, D.C.; Eric Foner, professor of history, The City College of C.U.N.Y.; Arthur Goldschmidt, Jr., professor of history, Pennsylvania State University; Ralph E. Gomory, vice-president and director of research, T. J. Watson Center, I.B.M.; Robert T. Handy, professor of American church history, Union Theological Seminary; Janet Henry, Black artist; Jean Houston, director of the Foundation for Mind Research; John Kemeny, president, Dartmouth College; Jochen Lengemann, state legislator of Hesse, Germany; Paul Lovejoy, economic historian, York University; Francis T. P. Plimpton, member of the United Nations administrative tribunal and former ambassador and deputy representative to the United Nations; John Roche, Henry R. Luce Professor of Civilization and Foreign Affairs, Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University; Jerzy Soltan, chairman of Urban Design Program, Harvard University; Davis Taylor, publisher, The Boston Globe.

Musical activities converge in the Bixler Art and Music Center, which contains rehearsal and practice rooms as well as the 400-seat Given Auditorium. Students are invited to participate (with or without academic credit) in the band, the Colby Community Symphony Orchestra, and the glee club, all under faculty direction. There are also informal student groups: the Colby Eight, the Colbyettes, the Chapel Choir, the A Capella Singers, and others. The Colby College Trio presents chamber music on and off campus. A student chapter of the American Guild of Organists was formed in 1972.
Concerts by visiting artists are sponsored by the music department, by the Student Association, and by the Colby Music Associates, a student-college-community group, which arranges the Colby Music Series and contributes to musical life on the campus. In 1975-76 the Colby Music Series included performances by the Cleveland String Quartet, the Preservation Hall Jazz Band, Thomas Richner (pianist), and the Western Wind.

Among other concerts were performances by Helen Boatwright (soprano), Mark Schneider (pianist), Audley Green (harpsichordist), the Downeast Chamber Players, a Coffee House jazz series, the Mellon Organ Series on the well-known Walcker organ in Lorimer Chapel, several concerts by college musical organizations, faculty and student recitals, and informal weekly Friday Noonday Recitals.

The Bixler Art and Music Center is the focal point for the college’s art program. Continuous exhibitions featuring selections from the permanent collection, as well as original and traveling shows, are to be seen in the Jette Galleries of the newly enlarged Colby College Museum of Art. The permanent collection features American and European painting, sculpture, and graphic art. Special collections are the Harold T. Pulsifer Memorial Collection of Winslow Homers, the American Heritage Collection and the American Impressionists Collection of Edith Kemper Jetté and Ellerton Marcel Jetté, the Helen Warren and Willard Howe Cummings Collection of American Art, the John Marin Collection, the Adelaide Pearson Collection, the Bernat Collection of Oriental Ceramics and Bronzes, the Langenbach-Pepper Collection of Watercolors by Charles Hovey Pepper, the Weiss Collection of Jack Levine Graphics, and the William J. Pollock ’21 Collection of American Indian Rugs and Jewelry (Navaho/Zuni).

Among the 1975-76 special exhibitions were American Painters of the Impressionist Period Rediscovered, gift of Mr. and Mrs. Jetté to become part of the permanent collection; Painted in Boston, an exhibition of nine contemporary painters; Octet, the work of eight Maine artists in the first exhibition of the museum’s art rental gallery; Sculpture by Barbara Lekberg, work of Colby’s visiting sculptor; American Quilts; and the Student Arts Festival Exhibition.

The Friends of Art at Colby, organized in 1959, make substantial contributions to the overall art program throughout the year.

The Archives of Maine Art, located at the Bixler Center, is a repository of information and documents about artists in Maine from the eighteenth century to the present.

In addition to the studio courses in the regular curriculum, workshops are maintained for extracurricular activities in ceramics, typography, and weaving.

In September 1973 a wing to the Bixler Center was opened. Built in response to the growing interest in art and music among students, alumni, and Friends of Art, it contains painting and sculpture studios and greatly expanded gallery space for exhibitions in the Museum of Art. For the first time, both the permanent collection and temporary exhibitions can be on display simultaneously. Expansion into the wing makes possible enlarged classrooms for art and music, and a new library shared by both departments.

Dramatics

Powder and Wig, the dramatic society, has a distinguished record of productions under the supervision of the director of dramatics. Students act in plays, direct, build scenery, and supervise staging and lighting. Courses in drama are offered by the English, the modern languages, and the classics departments. The 1975-76 Powder and Wig productions included, among others, Sheridan’s A School for Scandal and Shakespeare’s Hamlet. Powder and Wig also acts as a “parent organization” for independent student productions. In 1975-76 these included The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds; a light-and-sound-show student adaptation of 1984; two Pintar one-act plays; and Pasiphæe, an original drama directed by the author.

Colby’s new theatre, complete with ample workshop and rehearsal facilities, will open in the fall of 1976.

Speech and Debate

A tradition of public speaking has resulted in the endowment of prizes for oratory, public reading, and debate. Speaking events with other colleges are also conducted.
AUDIOVISUAL

The audiovisual center in Miller Library has video-taping equipment, tape recorders, cameras, movie and slide projectors, and record players. These are available for use at the center or for loan to members of the college community.

Film Direction, formed in 1962 by students and faculty, brings films of high quality in various film genres. In addition, there are movies shown by the Student Association and films brought by other student organizations and departments.

RADIO COLBY

WMHB-FM is a student-operated station with a Class D non-commercial license from the Federal Communications Commission. With studios in Roberts Union, the station broadcasts throughout the day and evening.

FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES

The fraternity system is a cooperative feature of campus life at Colby. There are chapters of nine fraternities and two national sororities. Eight of the fraternities occupy separate houses on the campus, controlled by the administration and their prudential committees.

In order of founding, the fraternities are Delta Kappa Epsilon, Zeta Psi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Alpha Tau Omega, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Delta Rho, Tau Delta Phi, and Pi Lambda Phi. The sororities are Sigma Kappa (founded at Colby) and Chi Omega. The sororities maintain chapter rooms in Runnals Union.

The board of trustees requires that fraternities and sororities select members without regard to race, religion, or national origin. Hazing of any kind is prohibited.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

More than seventy student organizations are active on campus. Academic societies are Sigma Delta Pi (Spanish honor society), Chi Epsilon Mu (chemistry), Delta Phi Alpha (German), Pi Sigma Alpha (political science), and the Premedical Society. Student publications include the weekly newspaper, The Colby Echo; the yearbook, The Oracle; as well as occasional journals devoted to art, literature, and photography.
Service organizations are the Big Brother/Big Sister Program and the Panhellenic Council.

Other groups include the American Guild of Organists—student chapter, Archaeology Club, Baroque Society, Chess Club, Coffee House, Colby Environmental Council, Colby Graphic Arts Workshop, Colby Weaving Club, Crafts Shop, Eidos, Film Direction, Gymnastics Club, International Relations Club, Madrigal Singers, Modern Dance Club, Outing Club, Photography Club, Powder and Wig Dramatic Society, Public Interest Research Group (PIRG), Radio Colby (WMHB-FM), Student International Meditation Society, and Student Organization for Black Unity.

There are other clubs and societies described under appropriate catalogue headings. In addition, each class acts as an organization, with elected officials. All organizations and clubs, and many of the campus activities, including film, lecture, and concert series, are funded through the Student Association. In addition, students are appointed by the Student Association to serve on college committees.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

All students are responsible for knowledge of the regulations in the Student Handbook and in the annual catalogue. The handbook rules concern student residences, organizations, social activities, and intercollegiate athletics.

The college reserves the right to dismiss any student whose presence its officers believe to be detrimental to its general welfare.

Although authority regarding discipline is the ultimate responsibility of the dean of students, most cases requiring discipline of students are turned over by him to the proper judicial board. A student judiciary board consisting of twelve members, including a chief justice and subjudiciaries affiliated with the various living units, assists in the enforcement of nonacademic rules and regulations of the college. A student may appeal a finding of the student judiciary board to a faculty appeals board, which also hears appeals stemming from disciplinary action for academic infractions.

ATTENDANCE

Students are expected to attend classes regularly and are held responsible for all work done in any class from which they are absent. Each student is, however, permitted at least two unexcused absences from each course in any semester. The maximum number allowed, if beyond two, is determined by individual instructors. Each instructor explains at the first meeting of every semester what constitutes unsatisfactory attendance in his class. Any student whose attendance the instructor judges to be unsatisfactory is warned by the dean of students. Flagrant repetitions may lead to dismissal from the course without credit. For abandoning a course without permission, the student shall receive an F.

Official excuses for absence are granted only by the deans of students, and only for (1) critical emergencies, (2) athletic or other organizational trips, or (3) illness certified by the college physician or his authorized representative.

Medical excuses are issued only to students who fall within one of three classifications: (1) those confined to the college infirmary or hospital because of illness or surgery, (2) students treated by the medical staff at the dispensary, infirmary, or hospital, (3) students visited by the college physician in dormitories or other places of residence. Medical excuses are not granted on a retroactive basis unless one of these classifications is satisfied.

All excuses from hour exams must come from the infirmary or, in cases of critical emergency, from the deans of students.

Absences caused by exclusion from classes because of non-payment of college bills are treated in the same manner as other absences, except that the dean of students has the authority to issue an official excuse when convinced that no fault lies with the student.

No student on academic probation may be excused from any class because of extracurricular or athletic activities.

Behavior The administrative officers of the college have a responsibility for maintaining and encouraging an atmosphere on campus consonant with the college's function as a community of students and teachers.

The trustees have delegated to various sectors of the college, including the Student Association, extensive autonomy in the conduct of student affairs. Colby College assumes that those who accept admission to the student body are able an willing to conduct themselves with the maturity consistent with this responsibility. Each student retains the right to organize his own personal life and behavior within the standards agreed upon by the college community, so long as he does not interfere with the rights of others or with the educational process.

The college respects the laws and ordinances of the civil jurisdictions within which it lies. It does not stand in loco parentis for its students, nor is the campus to be considered a sanctuary from civil law.

The college has always encouraged temperance in the use of alcoholic beverages. The laws of the State of Maine forbid possession of alcoholic beverages by any person under the age of eighteen. Where drinking leads to disruptive behavior, a student faces sanctions.

The college does not tolerate violations of federal or state drug laws. Such violations may result in dismissal.

HEALTH POLICY

Physicians in the Colby College health services treat students on the same basis as community physicians treat the patients under their care.

The college feels that the best interests of students are served by having full medical counseling and treatment from physicians thoroughly informed about personal medical history.

The college respects the rights of these physicians to use their professional judgment in meeting the health needs of students.

Upon recommendation of the college physician, the college reserves the right to require a student to withdraw for medical reasons. If, in the doctor's opinion, a student becomes unable to carry on normal student functions, or when his presence is or may become a hazard to himself or others, withdrawal will be required. Following any medical withdrawal, recommendations from an attending physician may be required before the student is readmitted to the college.

The officers, faculty, and medical staff of the college reserve the right to refuse to divulge information regarding a student's psychological or psychiatric condition or matters of an intimate nature without the student's authorization.
SPECIAL DIETS  Short-term arrangements are made for special diets at the request of the college physician. A vegetarian alternate is available at all meals.

AUTOMOBILES  For a number of reasons, including the desire to preserve the natural quality of the campus environment, parking lots are limited in number and size. Having a car at Colby therefore has its inconveniences as well as conveniences.

Students, faculty, and staff are assigned lots according to their place of residence or work, and are discouraged from using their cars simply to move about campus.

Penalties for illegal parking or operation on campus are necessarily severe, and, after a small number of violations, a student may lose his privilege to have a car on campus. The annual registration fee for a car is $10. An adjustment is made in the financial aid package of aid recipients who choose to register a car on campus.

Details of rules relating to the use of motor vehicles may be found in the Student Handbook.

HOUSING AND STUDENT LIVING  Students are housed in twenty-six living units: eighteen college residences (some of them coeducational) and eight fraternity houses. All freshmen not living at home or with relatives are required to live in college housing. Individual dormitories have broad social autonomy, including control over such matters as parietal hours, quiet hours, and judicial systems. These regulations are reviewed by each residence unit in the fall. The college has charge of the maintenance and security of its buildings.

In special circumstances, some upperclass students are permitted to live off campus, with permission from their parents and the dean of students.

In the departmental statements following, members of the active faculty for the academic year 1975-76 are listed.
Division of Humanities

Chairman, Professor Benbow

Interdepartmental majors are offered in classics-English and classics-philosophy. Attention is also called to interdisciplinary majors in American studies, East Asian studies, and studies in western civilization.

Requirements for the major in classics-English:
In classics: either three years of Latin in courses numbered 200 or higher or three years of Greek.
In English: six semester courses approved by the departments.

Requirements for the major in classics-philosophy:
In classics: either three years of Latin in courses numbered 200 or higher or three years of Greek, subject to departmental approval.
In philosophy: Philosophy 112; 133 or 211; 331, 332; 491 or 492.

For each of the above majors, at least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of each of the above majors applies to all courses that may be credited toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Chairman, Professor Carpenter
Professors Carpenter and W. Miller; Assistant Professors Matthews and Higgins; Mrs. M. Miller¹ and Ms. Lekberg².

Requirements for the major in art:
Art 121, 122, 161; at least nine credit hours chosen from 271, 311, 312, 314, 316, 317, 352, 356, 358; additional courses in art to bring the total to 29 semester hours; at least six semester hours chosen from other fields of study related to the individual student's interests within the major (e.g., history, philosophy, music, English). These courses should be selected with the advice and approval of the student's adviser in the sophomore or junior year.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to courses taken in the department. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses. A departmental examination is to be passed in the senior year.
Attention is called to the interdisciplinary major in American studies and studies in western civilization.

Part-time.
Visiting lecturer, January.

Chairman, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR D. KOONCE
Associate Professors D. Koonce and Westervelt; Ms. Snee.

Requirements for the major in classics:
Two courses numbered 200 or higher in Greek or Latin. Six additional courses selected from at least two of the following categories: two or more courses numbered 300 or higher in the ancient language elected above; two or more courses in ancient history; two or more courses numbered 200 or higher in the other ancient language; two or more courses elected from Classics 232, Classics 234, Art 311, Philosophy 331.

Attention is called to interdepartmental majors in classics-English and classics-philosophy, and to the interdisciplinary major in studies in western civilization.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in the department. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Chairman, PROFESSOR ARCHIBALD

Requirements for the major in English and American literature:
English 221, 222, 251, and eight courses numbered 300 or higher. At least three of these must be courses in which the major focus is upon literature written before 1800, and at least three must be courses in which the major focus is upon literature written after 1800.

At least one independent January program must be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all English courses that may be used to fulfill major requirements. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.
Students planning to continue the study of English in graduate school should confer with their advisers to be sure that they have planned a substantial and adequate curriculum. They should be proficient in at least one foreign language. Most universities require two languages, and some require a classical language as well. Work in classical or foreign literature, history, philosophy, art, music, and some of the social sciences reinforces preparation in the major and enhances one’s chances of success in graduate study.

The department encourages interdepartmental and interdisciplinary studies, offers some courses in conjunction with the Center for Coordinated Studies, and supports programs in American studies, Black studies, performing arts, and studies in western civilization.

1First semester only.
2On leave full year.
3Part-time.
4Part-time first semester only.
5Part-time second semester only.

Chairman, PROFESSOR HOLLAND
Professors Kellenberger, Bundy1, Holland2, Biron, and Schmidt; Associate Professors Kempers, Cauz3, Kueter, Filosof, and C. Ferguson; Assistant Professors F. Pérez, P. Doel, L. Ferguson, Hall4, Weiss, and Sherard; Messrs. Reiter and Oudin.

Achievement test: If a student offers a foreign language for entrance credit and wishes to continue it in college, he must either have taken the CEEB achievement test in the language or take the placement test during freshman orientation.

Note: In addition to the following major programs, the department also offers instruction in Chinese, Japanese, Portuguese, and Russian. Work can be done in some of the less commonly taught languages through the critical language program.

Requirements for the major in French:

Option 1, French literature: a minimum of eight semester French courses numbered above 126. French 131 (required unless exempted) and French 499 may not be counted toward the major.

Option 2, French language, history, and culture: a minimum of five semester French courses numbered above 126 and four semester courses to be selected from one of the following areas. Area 1, social sciences: History 231, 232, 323, 324, 351, 353, 355; Government 234, 321, 322, 357; Economics 333, 372, 381, 382, 392. Area 2, humanities: Art 314, 316, 317; History 351; Music 213, 231, 232; Philosophy 236, 374. It is recommended that French 223, 224 (re-required) be taken during the sophomore year. French 131 (required unless exempted) and French 499 may not be counted toward the major.

Requirements for the major in German:
Eight semester courses numbered above 118.

Requirements for the major in Spanish:
Eight semester Spanish courses numbered above 118 with the exception of Spanish 131 (required unless exempted) and 499.

The following statements apply to the majors in French, German, and Spanish.
(1) A maximum of six hours of pass/fail course work in courses numbered below 300 may be counted toward the major requirement.
(2) The point scale for retention of any major within the department is based on courses in the major language only.
(3) No more than the equivalent of four semester courses of foreign study or transfer credit may be counted toward the major.
(4) A student returning from foreign study must take at least one course in the major numbered 300 or above each semester until graduation.

Teacher certification: Students desiring certification for teaching any of the above languages must take Modern Foreign Languages 411, and may in some cases be required to take other specified courses.

*On leave full year.
*On leave second semester.
*Acting chairman second semester.
*Part-time first semester only.

Chairman, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR ARMSTRONG
Professor Reè¹; Associate Professor Armstrong; Assistant Professors Heinrich, D. Reuman², and Machlin.

Requirements for the major in music:
Music 171, 172, 211, 216, 217, 271; at least nine additional basic credit hours in music courses, of which at least three hours must be in courses numbered 400 or higher. Majors are urged to complete Music 172 not later than the end of the sophomore year. Some skill at the keyboard is required of all majors; consult the department. Students wishing to pursue graduate study in musicology are advised that a reading knowledge of French and German is a general requirement for such study.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.
The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in music history and theory. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdisciplinary majors in American studies and studies in western civilization.

1On leave second semester.
2Part-time.

Division of Social Sciences

Chairman, Professor R. Reuman

Interdepartmental majors are offered in administrative science-mathematics, economics-mathematics, philosophy-mathematics, and psychology-mathematics. Attention is called also to interdisciplinary majors in American studies, East Asian studies, studies in human development, and studies in western civilization.

Requirements for the major in administrative science-mathematics:

In administrative science: 221, 222, 321, 322, 353, 413, 494; and Economics 141, 142.

In mathematics: at least 18 credit hours, including 113, 212; either 241, 242 or 381, 382; at least six hours must be at the 300 or 400 level. Effective with the class of 1978: 221, 222 will be required instead of 113, 212.

Psychology 111, 291, and Sociology 121, 122 are recommended but not required.

Requirements for the major in economics-mathematics:

In economics: 141, 142, 233, 234, 378, 394, 411, and one additional semester course.

In mathematics: 113, 212; 241 or 381; at least six hours elected from 311, 361, 362, 382, 421; additional hours to bring the mathematics total to a minimum of 18 credit hours. Effective with the class of 1978: 221, 222 will be required instead of 113, 212.

Requirements for the major in philosophy-mathematics:

In philosophy: 112 and either 133 or 211; 257, 331, 332; and one further course in the department.

In mathematics: at least 18 credit hours, including 113, 212, 361. Effective with the class of 1978: at least 18 credit hours, including 221, 222, 361.

Requirements for the major in psychology-mathematics:

In psychology: 111, 271, 391, and nine additional hours, to include at least one of the following courses: 234, 272, 273, 314, 332.
In mathematics: 241, 242 or 381, 382; at least 12 additional credit hours, of which six must be at the 300 or 400 level.

For each of the above majors, at least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of each mathematics combination major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Students should consult one of the advisers before planning to enter one of these majors and should register for the first course in mathematics in the freshman year.

Chairman, PROFESSOR W. ZUKOWSKI
Professor W. Zukowski; Associate Professor Knight; Assistant Professor Clarey; Mr. Samuel.

Requirements for the major in administrative science:
Administrative Science 221, 222, 321, 322, 413, 494; two semesters of mathematics; Economics 141, 142; Psychology 111, 291 or Sociology 121, 122 (although only one of the latter two course sequences is required, it is recommended that both be completed); and two semester courses selected from the following: Mathematics 241, 242, 243, 244; Economics 233, 234; or any additional courses in administrative science.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to administrative science courses and to Mathematics 241, 242, 243, 244, and Economics 233, 234, where these courses are used to satisfy major requirements. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Students planning graduate work in administration should consult the chairman of the department early in their college career.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in administrative science-mathematics.

Chairman, ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR HOGENDORN
Professor Pullen; Associate Professors Hogendorn and Gemery; Assistant Professors Cox, Hanna, Meehan, Leet, and Hagens; Mr. Joseph.

Requirements for the major in economics:
Economics 141, 142, and 30 additional credit hours in economics, including Economics 233 (for class of 1980 and subsequent classes), 234, and 431. Also required is a satisfactory percentile rating in the undergraduate-program field test in economics, given in the spring of the senior year. Administrative Science 221, 222 or 321, 322, and Mathematics 241, 242 or 381, 382 may be substituted for 12 of the 30 credit hours in advanced economics required for the major.

Students who wish to be recommended for graduate work in economics are urged to elect Economics 233, 234, 338, 393, 394, 431, and 494. A knowledge of mathematics through calculus and elementary statistics is essential. If a student intends to be a candidate for the Ph.D. degree, he should also acquire a reading knowledge of at least one of the following languages: French, German, or Russian.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies only to courses in economics, except that Administrative Science 221, 222 or 321, 322 and Mathematics 241, 242 or 381, 382 will be counted if substituted for courses in advanced economics in fulfilling the major requirement. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in economics-mathematics, and to the honors program (see description under Economics 491, 492).

1On leave full year.
2Part-time.

EDUCATION

Director, Associate Professor Jacobson
Associate Professor Jacobson; Assistant Professor E. Pestana1.

Colby offers a three-year interdepartmental program of courses and field experiences that meets the minimal requirements for secondary-school-teacher certification in the fields of English, social studies, science, mathematics, Latin, American studies, environmental studies, and modern foreign languages2. Because requirements vary from state to state, however, each student must assume responsibility for obtaining the pertinent information needed3. For those students who wish to defer their education courses, many graduate schools offer the Master of Arts in Teaching program, which includes a paid teaching internship and regular courses leading to not only the M.A.T. degree but a teaching certificate in the state.

Program of studies:
Sophomore year: Education 213, 253, 254; Psychology 252. Junior year: Philosophy 333; Education 336, 353, 354. Senior year: Education 441, 442, 453, 454, and full-time teaching internship during January. English 411 or Modern Foreign Languages 411 may be required of students who desire to teach those subjects.

Every prospective teacher must consult with Professor Jacobson during the freshman year. A brochure is available from the dean of admissions or from the office of education, Room 114, Lovejoy Building.

1Part-time.
2For those students interested in elementary-school-teacher or special-education certification, the sophomore and junior courses may be taken at Colby, and the balance of the program completed elsewhere.
3Most states require a concentration of 30 hours or more in a major (a commonly taught secondary-school subject) and 18 hours or more in education courses including student teaching. (N.B.) Some states, including Maine and New Hampshire, also require a concentration of 18 hours or more in a minor (a commonly taught secondary-school subject).

Chairman, PROFESSOR MAVRINAC

Professors Mavrinc, Gillum, Raymond, Weissberg, and Foner; Associate Professors Benschneider and Bridgman1; Assistant Professors Kany2, Maisel, and Horwitz; Messrs. Kodama, Farr3, Hauss, Burkman, and Samkange4.

The department offers majors both in history and in government.

Requirements for the major in history:

Twelve semester courses in history, of which up to two may be in ancient history. Majors in history planning to do professional work in history are encouraged to enroll in a senior seminar, but this is not required. A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year, given on a major field in which the student has taken at least four semester courses, at least two of which are at the 300 or 400 level, and a minor field of two different subjects, at least one of which is at the 300 or 400 level. 100-level courses may not be offered for the comprehensive examination; a two-semester sequence may be offered only in its entirety. The fields of history from which a major or minor field may be chosen are American, Afro-American, English, European, and East Asian.

At least one January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in history and government. With the exception of History 111, 112, all requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Requirements for the major in government:

Ten semester courses in government. Students are expected to take at least one semester course in government numbered in the 400's. A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in government. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

On leave second semester.

On leave first semester.

Part-time lecturer.

Visiting lecturer, January.

PHILOSOPHY AND RELIGION

Chairman, Professor Parker

Professors R. Reuman, Todrank, and Parker; Associate Professor Hudson; Assistant Professors Thorwaldsen, McArthur, and Longstaff; Ms. Stameshkin and Mr. Jacob.

Requirements for the major in philosophy:

Philosophy 112, 211, 331, 332, 353, and 12 additional hours in philosophy, only six of which may be in 100-level courses.

Requirements for the major in philosophy and religion:

Requirements for the major in religion:

Religion 121, 122, 223, 224, 316, 321, 322, and two additional courses in religion, at least one of which must be at the 300 level or above.

While Philosophy 372 and 373 are not required, they are highly recommended and may be used to satisfy the requirement of two additional courses in religion.

For each of the above majors, at least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. Philosophy or Religion 491 or 492, of at least three hours credit, may be substituted for this requirement but cannot also be used to satisfy course requirements for the major.

A maximum of two courses may be taken on a pass/fail basis in partial satisfaction of the requirements of any of the above majors. The point scale for retention of each of the above majors applies to all other courses that count toward the major.

Attention is called to interdepartmental majors in philosophy-mathematics and classics-philosophy (see list of requirements under Division of Humanities), and to the interdisciplinary majors in studies in human development and studies in western civilization.

On leave second semester.

On leave full year.

Visiting lecturer second semester.

Chairman, Professor J. Gillespie

Professors Johnson, J. Gillespie, Jenson, and P. Perez; Associate Professor Zohner; Assistant Professors Lester, Skowbo, and Abbati.

Requirements for the major in psychology:

Biology 121, 122; Psychology 111, 114, 271, 391, and 12 additional hours in psychology, to include at least one of the following courses: 234, 272, 273, 314, 332.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major, as prescribed above. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in psychology-mathematics and to the interdisciplinary major in studies in human development.

Sociology

Chairman, Professor Geib

Professors Birge and Geib; Associate Professor Rosenthal; Assistant Professors R. Doel, Morrione, and Kingdon.

Requirements for the major in sociology:

Sociology 121, 122, and 24 additional hours in sociology, including Sociology 311 and one course selected from 313, 318, 338; any combination of four courses selected from history, government, psychology, and economics. A written or oral comprehensive examination is to be passed.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in sociology. At least 30 hours of sociology credit must be earned in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdisciplinary major in studies in human development.

Division of Natural Sciences

Chairman, Professor Terry

Interdepartmental majors are offered in geology-biology, geology-chemistry, and physics-mathematics. Attention is also called to the interdisciplinary major in environmental studies.

Requirements for the major in geology-biology:

In geology: 121, 122 or 141, 142; 211, 281; six additional credit hours numbered 200 or higher.

In biology: 121, 122, 271; 12 additional credit hours.
Other courses: Chemistry 141, 142; Mathematics 121 and one additional mathematics course numbered above 121. Physics 121, 122 is recommended.

A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year in either geology or biology.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in geology and biology.

Requirements for the major in geology-chemistry:
In geology: beginning in the sophomore year, 241, 242, 281, 282, 321, 322.

In chemistry: 141, 142, 331, 332, 341, 342; Physics 121, 122; Mathematics 121, 122.

Students should consult one of the major advisers regarding election of languages and other required courses in the freshman and sophomore years.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in geology and chemistry.

Requirements for the major in physics-mathematics:
In physics: 121, 122, and four additional semester courses as approved. Most physics courses have prerequisites or corequisites in mathematics.

In mathematics: 113, 121, 122, 212, 311, and one additional semester course as approved. Effective with the class of 1978: 221, 222 will be required instead of 113, 212.

Note: If advanced placement or credit is given in either department, additional courses must be selected from that department to a total of 18 credit hours or more.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses in physics and mathematics.

Chairman, Professor Bennett
Professors Terry and Bennett; Associate Professor Easton; Assistant Professors Fowles, Gilbert, Champlin, Firmage, and Muller.

Requirements for the major in biology:
Two semesters of mathematics, including 121 (students who enter with Mathematics 121 or equivalent are required to take on semester of mathematics); Chemistry 141, 142; 32 hours in biology including 121, 122, 271, 272, 301, 302 (substitutions may be made with departmental approval); one additional year of science other than biology. Chemistry 447 or 467 may be credited towards th biology major. The comprehensive examination in the major is administered near the middle of the senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to Chemistry 141, 142, the required course(s) in college mathematics, and all courses in biology. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272 constitute a core program and are normally prerequisite to all higher-numbered biology courses. With special permission of the department, a student may arrange to take Biology 271 or 272 and higher-numbered biology courses concurrently.

The inclusion of geology is advised for majors preparing for teaching or for work in the field aspects of biology. Students preparing for dental, medical, or veterinary schools must take Mathematics 122, Physics 121, 122, and Organic Chemistry; students preparing for graduate study in the biological sciences should also elect these courses. For most of these students, at least one further course in mathematics should be elected with the advice of the major department. Requirements for the Ph.D. degree in areas of biological science usually include a reading knowledge of two modern foreign languages.

Students are encouraged to take courses at approved summer laboratories, and such courses may be approved for credit toward the major requirement.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in geology-biology and the interdisciplinary majors in environmental studies and studies in human development.

Chairman, Professor Reid

Professors Reid, Machemer, and Ray; Associate Professor Maier; Assistant Professor Smith.

The department offers two major programs for the liberal arts student: the basic major and the ACS major (accredited by the American Chemical Society). Both majors involve the same core curriculum, but the basic allows more opportunity for study outside the chemistry department. The ACS major is more sharply focused toward further work in university graduate schools; a student graduating in this program receives official certification from the American Chemical Society.

Requirements for the basic major in chemistry:
Chemistry 141, 142, 241, 242, 331, 341, 342; Mathematics 121, 122; Physics 121, 122. Other courses or substitutions should be selected in consultation with the chairman of the chemistry department.

Requirements for the ACS accredited major in chemistry:
All courses required for the basic major, plus Chemistry 332, 411, 431. Two other semester courses may be taken as electives.

Both junior and senior January programs should be taken in the major.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all chemistry courses. All prospective chemistry majors should meet with the chairman as early as possible during the freshman year in order to plan their full chemistry programs. With the exception of Chemistry 432 and 434, all requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

It should be noted that recently the ACS accredited program has been modified by the American Chemical Society, with the elimination of any particular required modern foreign language.

A sound program in the basic major meets most of the objectives of the ACS accredited one and will prepare a student to enter many professional or graduate schools, e.g., dental, medical, or veterinary schools (for these, certain biology courses should be included in the students' programs), as well as law, biochemistry, chemistry, environmental science, oceanography, and other schools. Students who plan careers in high-school science teaching should add courses in education.

Completion of either chemistry major with Biochemistry provides an excellent basis for graduate work in biochemistry, the medical sciences, and pharmacology.

At the end of their junior year, chemistry majors are encouraged to obtain summer employment in industrial or professional laboratories.

Seminars for the chemistry department are held on Tuesday evenings. Important topics are developed and discussed; chemistry majors are expected to attend, and seniors are required to participate.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental geology-chemistry major.

GEOLOGY

Chairman, Professor Koons
Professor Koons; Associate Professor H. Pestana*; Assistant Professors Coleman and Allen*.

Requirements for the major in geology:
Geology 121, 122 or 141, 142 (the preferred sequence); 211; 214
221 or 271; 242; 251; 281; 352; one year of college mathematics and Chemistry 141, 142. Geology 321, 322 may be substituted for 214, and are recommended for professional preparation, as is one semester of Geology 491, 492.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year.

Students planning to teach in the secondary schools may select the earth science option; the requirements are: Geology 141, 142, 211, 214, 221, 222, 251, 281, 292; Chemistry 141. A comprehensive examination is to be passed in the senior year.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses taken in the department. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Students planning professional careers in geology should remember that graduate schools will require for admission a summer field course or its equivalent, at least one year in physics and biology, and, frequently, additional mathematics; and that candidates for the doctorate must demonstrate a reading knowledge of two foreign languages.

Attention is also called to interdepartmental majors in geology-biology and geology-chemistry and the interdisciplinary major in environmental studies.

1On leave second semester.
2On leave first semester.

Chairman, PROFESSOR L. ZUKOWSKI
Professors Combrellack and L. Zukowski; Associate Professor Small;
Assistant Professors Hayslett, Lieberman, and Shepardson; Mrs. Bassett1.

Requirements for the major in mathematics:
Class of 1977: Mathematics 113, 121, 122, 212, 361, 362, 421, 431, and 12 credit hours selected from the following: 311, 314, 316, 332, 352, 372, 381, 382, 422, 432. Mathematics 221, 222 may be substituted for 113, 212.

Effective with the class of 1978: Mathematics 121, 122, 221, 222, 361, 362, 401, 402, 421, 431, and 12 additional hours in mathematics selected from the following: 332, 352, 372, 381, 382, 422, 432.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year. All majors are required to take the Educational Testing Service undergraduate field test in mathematics, given in the spring semester of the senior year.

1MATHEMATICS
The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses taken in the department. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses with the exception of Mathematics 401, 402, which will be nongraded.

Freshmen planning to major in mathematics or the physical sciences should elect in the sequence Mathematics 121, 122, 221, 222. Advanced placement or high school background would determine exactly where a student should enter the sequence.

Freshmen planning to major in the life sciences or social sciences might plan to elect from the set Mathematics 113 (Linear Algebra); Mathematics 121, 122 (Calculus); Mathematics 241 (Elementary Statistics); Mathematics 243 (Finite Mathematics). Elementary Statistics has a prerequisite of Mathematics 121 or equivalent. Mathematics 243 is offered in alternate years and has a prerequisite of 113 or 121, or equivalent.

A brief introduction to the use of the computer terminals will be required in all 100- and 200-level mathematics courses. For students electing more than one such course, the work will be graduated accordingly.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental majors in administrative science-mathematics, economics-mathematics, philosophy-mathematics, physics-mathematics, and psychology-mathematics.

1 Part-time.

Chairman, Assistant Professor Metz
Associate Professor Dudley; Assistant Professors Metz and Briggs.

The department seeks to train students to think analytically in terms of the fundamental principles of physics. Subject matter in courses is selected to illustrate basic laws with wide applicability. The course offerings provide excellent background for graduate study in physics, astronomy, or the other natural sciences.

Requirements for the major in physics:
Twenty-four credit hours in physics, including 121, 122, 211, 232, 321; Mathematics 121, 122, 221, 222; three additional credit hours in natural science. A comprehensive examination is normally required in the senior year.

Students preparing for graduate work in physics, a related science, or engineering should plan to elect eight additional hours of physics, including Physics 441, and six additional hours of mathematics, including Mathematics 311. Mathematics 121, 122 should be taken during the freshman year. It is strongly recommended that Chemistry 141, 142 be taken during the sophomore year, and that the college language requirement be fulfilled in French, German, or Russian.

Students seeking advanced standing in physics should consult the chairman of the department before electing courses.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses taken in the Division of Natural Sciences. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Attention is called to the interdepartmental major in physics-mathematics.

Interdisciplinary Studies

Interdisciplinary studies at Colby are coordinated through the interdisciplinary studies council, composed of the director, or a representative, from each interdisciplinary area plus three students and a member of the administration:

Chairman, Professor D. Koonce

Members: Professors Brancaccio, Foner, Gilbert, Johnson, Kingdon, D. Koonce, and Sherard; three students.

Interdisciplinary majors are offered in American studies, East Asian studies, environmental studies, studies in human development, and studies in western civilization. In addition, there are courses in Black studies and the performing arts, and coordinated courses. Each area is administered by an advisory committee and utilizes courses in several departments of the college.

Director, Professor Bassett

Acting Director 1975-76, Professor Brancaccio

Advisory Committee: Professors Bassett (English), Brancaccio (English), Bridgman (History), Cocks (Special Collections), Foner (History), Geib (Sociology), Gemery (Economics), Gherman (English), Harris (English), Horwitz (History), Hudson (Philosophy and Religion), Longstaff (Philosophy and Religion), Maisel (Government), W. Miller (Art), Morrione (Sociology), and Neinstein (English); six students majoring in American studies elected by fellow majors.

A student majoring in American studies at Colby is taught—in single courses and through a combination of courses—the subject matter of America’s past and present, with special effort devoted to the integration and knowledge of more than one academic discipline. Built around a core of courses in American history and American literature, the American studies program strives for genuinely interdisciplinary insights into the complexities of American thought and culture.

Requirements for the major in American studies:

Five courses, to include a senior seminar, in an area of concentration in either American literature or American history. These courses must demonstrate adequate chronological breadth, and include offerings at the 200, 300, and 400 levels.

Three courses in the area, American literature or history, not chosen as the area of concentration.

One senior seminar or independent study course with an American emphasis in a department other than the area of concentration.

Additional courses with an American emphasis to bring the total to at least 14 courses. These may be selected from a list available from the major adviser, and include offerings in art, biology, economics, education, geology, government, music, philosophy, psychology, religion, and sociology.

An interdisciplinary oral or written comprehensive examination to be passed in the senior year.

At least one independent January program is required to be taken in the major during the junior or senior year.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Courses approved for the major:

American Studies: 97, 98 Selected Topics (except at the 100 level); 491, 492 Independent Study.

Art: 271d2 American Art; 356 Twentieth-Century Art; 491, 492 Independent Study.

Biology: 352 Ecological Theory.

Economics: 331 Industrial Organization and Antitrust Economics; 332 Regulated Industries; 338 Money, Banking, and Monetary Policy; 351 Public Finance; 352 Fiscal Policy; 353 Public Labor Relations and Manpower Policy; *374 American Economic History; 411 History of Economic Thought; 491, 492 Independent Study.

Education: 336 History of American Education.

English: 251d Major American Authors; 252d Introduction to American Studies; 338 Contemporary Poetry; 351d2 Early American Authors; 352 The American Renaissance; 353 Realism and Naturalism; 354d1 Modern American Literature; 355 Black American Literature; 356 Contemporary American Literature; *375 Modern Drama I; *376 Modern Drama II; 491, 492 Independent Study; 493, 494 Seminars in British and American Literature (when appropriate).
GEOLOGY: [221, 222] Map Interpretation and Geomorphology of the United States.

PHILOSOPHY: 352 American Philosophy; 353 Contemporary Analytic Philosophy; 491, 492 Independent Study.

PSYCHOLOGY: 291d Social Psychology; 491, 492 Independent Study.

RELIGION: *217 Religion in America; 281 Cultural Euthenics; [316] Contemporary Western Theology; 491, 492 Independent Study.

SOCIOLOGY: 212 Short Courses in Sociology; 231 Contemporary Social Problems; *233 Delinquency and Crime; 252 Race and Minorities; 274 Social Stratification; 318 Contemporary Theory; *353 Urban Sociology; [361, 362] Cultural Anthropology; [391] Social Change; *394 Collective Behavior; 491, 492 Independent Study.

DIRECTOR, PROFESSOR FONER

ADVISORY COMMITTEE: Professors Brancaccio (English), Foner (History), Gemery (Economics), Johnson (Psychology), and W. Wyman (English).

Activities in the area of Black studies began in 1969 with the formation of a Black studies subcommittee of the educational policy committee. The work of this committee has involved the encouragement of curriculum development, scholarly exchanges through visiting lecturers, faculty attendance at professional meetings such as the one held annually in Atlanta at the Center for Afro-American Studies, exchanges of students, and faculty visits to other colleges to keep abreast of developing programs. The committee also encourages the development of January program topics in this area. The history courses listed below may be offered as a field of concentration within the history major.

Courses offered in Black studies include:

ENGLISH: 355 Black American Literature.

HISTORY: 277 Black History I; 278 Black History II; 379 Black History III; 432 Seminar in Black History.

Students interested in Black studies should also note the following courses, which deal with various American minority and third-world concerns.

ECONOMICS: 333 Economic Development.

GOVERNMENT: 332 Political Development.

HISTORY: 276 History of Ethnic Groups in America.

RELIGION: 319 Primitive Religion.

SOCIOLOGY: 231 Contemporary Social Problems; 252 Race and Minorities; *353 Urban Sociology.

CENTER FOR COORDINATED STUDIES

Director, Professor Johnson

Faculty Chairman, Professor Gilbert

Faculty Associates: Professors Bratt (Consultant to the President), Easton (Biology), Gilbert (Biology), Johnson (Psychology), E. Kenney (English), D. Koonce (Classics), H. Koonce (English), and Westervelt (Classics).

Faculty Affiliates: Professors Benbow (English), Bennett (Biology), Carpenter (Art), Easton (Biology), Hudson (Philosophy), Johnson (Psychology), D. Koonce (Classics), H. Koonce (English), MacKay (English), Maisel (Government), Morrione (Sociology), Parker (Philosophy), Sweney (English), and Westervelt (Classics).

The Center for Coordinated Studies is described earlier in this catalogue. The center works in close liaison with other interdisciplinary programs. Its offerings, reflecting the needs and experience of the participants, are subject to frequent modification. A separate brochure, outlining the center's function in greater detail and describing current programs, is available on request.

Director, Professor Sherard

Advisory Committee: Professors Burkman (History), Carpenter (Art), Holland (Modern Foreign Languages), Kodama (Government).
Mavrinac (History and Government), Sherard (Modern Foreign Languages), and Thorwaldsen (Philosophy and Religion).

The program of East Asian studies contributes a new dimension to the traditional liberal arts curriculum by exposing the student to rich cultures beyond the scope of western civilization. Study abroad during the junior year is encouraged; see FOREIGN STUDY section for information about Colby’s participation in the Associated Kyoto Program and exchange agreement with Kansai University of Foreign Studies. Other foreign study possibilities include Hong Kong and Taiwan.

Requirements for the major in East Asian studies:
A minimum of two years of training in an East Asian language, and 21 additional credit hours obtained from courses in East Asian studies, selected with the approval of the program director.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Courses approved for the major:
EAST ASIAN LANGUAGES: 111, 112 Languages and Civilization of East Asia; 213, 214 Japanese Language and Culture; 215, 216 Chinese Language and Culture; 311 East Asian Linguistics; 312 Classical Written Languages of East Asia; 491, 492 Independent Study.

EAST ASIAN STUDIES: 491, 492 Independent Study.

GOVERNMENT: 135 Imperialism and Nationalism in East Asia; 138 Japan and the United States in East Asia; 231 Contemporary Japanese Politics; 271 Asian Revolutionary Movements; 478 Seminar in Japanese Politics.

RELIGION: 321, 322 East Asian and Indian Religions; [391, 392] Religion Seminars (when appropriate).
see Watershed District); Mr. E. Keene (North Kennebec Regional Planning Commission); Mrs. R. Strider (Waterville Conservation Commission); and Mr. M. Wiebe (Keep Maine Scenic Committee).

A multidisciplinary major in environmental studies, based primarily on the natural sciences, was instituted in March 1971. Academic aims are to provide an understanding of ecosystems, an appreciation for contributions which different disciplines make to the field, an awareness about the roles of institutions that affect the environment, and a working experience with some aspect of the local, regional, or state environment.

Requirements for the major in environmental studies:
In biology: one semester course selected from 117, 138, or 271; one semester course selected from 118 or 121; and 352.
In chemistry: two semester courses selected from 111, 112 or 121, 122 or 141, 142.
In geology: two semester courses selected from 121, 122 or 141, 142 or 161, 162; either 172 or 292; and 483, 484.
In mathematics: 241 or 381.
In physics: Physics 121 or Astronomy 131.

From the science areas, a student is urged to take at least two courses with laboratory.

An additional seven credit hours from the approved list of courses in astronomy, biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, and physics. Attention is called to a four-credit summer course in Applied Marine Ecology, offered in conjunction with TRIGOM.

Nine credit hours selected from the approved list of courses in administrative science, economics, government, and sociology.

At least one January program in environmental studies.

The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in conventionally graded courses.

Courses approved for the major:
ASTRONOMY: 131 Descriptive Astronomy.
CHEMISTRY: 111 Studies in Environmental Biochemistry; 112 Topics in Chemistry; 121, 122 General Chemistry; 141, 142 General Chemistry and Elementary Analysis.
GEOLOGY: 121, 122 Introduction to Geological Science I; 141, 142 Introduction to Geological Science II (with laboratory); 161, 162 Problems in Geology; 172 Oceanography; *292 Meteorology; 483, 484 Environmental Geology.

Physics: 121 General Physics.

Approved courses from the Division of Natural Sciences include those listed above and the following:

Biology: 311 Plant Classification; 313 Invertebrate Zoology; 318 Microbiology; 319 Biology of the Lower Plants; 333 Chordate Evolution; 354 Marine Ecology; 356 Inland Ecology; 358 Ecology Field Study; 376 Problems in Comparative Animal Physiology; 378 Animal Behavior.

Geology: 211 Sedimentation; 214 Rocks in Hand Specimen; 221, 222 Map Interpretation and Geomorphology of the United States; 241, 242 Geologic Structures and Field Methods; 251 Invertebrate Paleontology; 252 Micropaleontology; 254 Advanced Invertebrate Paleontology.

Physics: 122 General Physics.

Approved courses from the Division of Social Sciences:

Administrative Science: 354 Law; 413 Organizational Behavior.

Economics: 141, 142 Principles of Economics; 374 American Economic History.

Government: 314 American Constitutional Law; 338 International Law; 393 State and Local Government.

Sociology: 232 Human Ecology; 353 Urban Sociology; 393 Complex Social Organizations.

Performing Arts

Director, (to be announced)

Advisory Committee: (to be announced)

The program in the performing arts enlarges existing patterns of academic concentration through credited work in theatre, musical performance, and dance. The program is founded on two premises: first, that performance is essential to a full understanding of the art form; second, that the arts share significant modes of thought and expression, and that a knowledge of one art form will contribute to an understanding of all the arts.

Courses offered in the performing arts include:

Performing Arts: 121, 122 Theatre Production; 171 Acting I; 221, 222 Theatre History; 251 Stage Movement; 272 Acting II; 491, 492 Independent Study in Theatre.
PHYSICAL EDUCATION: †[241, 242] Introduction to the Art of Dance; *341, 342 Modern Dance Composition and Theory; 491, 492 Independent Study in Dance.

Courses in the literature of the performing arts, which provide the liberal arts context for the program, include:

ENGLISH: 171 Speech; 275 The Art of the Narrative Film; [373, 374] The Development of Dramatic Art; *375, 376 Modern Drama; 383, 384 Studies in Shakespeare; 472d Oral Interpretation.

FRENCH: 375 Topics in Twentieth-Century French Literature.

MUSIC: *134 The Symphony; *231 Chansons and Lieder; *235 Chamber Music; *332 Opera; †[376] Counterpoint.

STUDIES IN HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

Director, Mr. Kingdon

STEERING COMMITTEE: Professors Bennett (Biology), Geib (Sociology), J. Gillespie (Psychology), and Parker (Philosophy).

ADVISORY COMMITTEE: Professors Birge (Sociology), Easton (Biology), Jacobson (Education), Kingdon (Sociology), P. Perez (Psychology), R. Reuman (Philosophy), and Todrank (Philosophy).

A multidisciplinary study of the origin and development of man. Academic aims of the program are to provide an understanding of the development of man as a biological and psychological organism; an appreciation of the relationship between the individual and his social environment; an opportunity to consider possible future directions for both the individual and society; and working experience with a local, state, or regional agency involved in some aspect of human development.

Requirements for the major in studies in human development:

In biology: 121 and either 122 or 134.

In human development: 293, 294, 393, 394, 494.

In philosophy: one semester course selected from 211, 236, 281.

In psychology: 111 and two semester courses selected from 132, 213, 252, 261, 262, 291.

In sociology: 121, 122 and two semester courses selected from 232, 237, 273, 274, 353, 361, 362, 391.

An additional nine credit hours above the introductory level in biology, economics, English or American literature, government, history, philosophy, psychology, religion, and sociology.

At least one January program in human development.
The point scale for retention of the major applies to all courses offered toward the major. All requirements for the major must be met in basic credits.

Director, Professor D. Koonce

Advisory Committee: Professors Benbow (English), Berschneider (History), Bundy (Modern Foreign Languages), Carpenter (Art), H. Koonce (English), Parker (Philosophy and Religion), and Westervelt (Classics).

Each student majoring in studies in western civilization will draw up a provisional plan of study with his major adviser before choosing courses. This plan will be reviewed and can be revised by the adviser and the student before registration each semester. Since in a civilization program it is desirable to respond to a culture in its own terms, students in the western civilization major will be expected to pursue at least one classical or modern language for at least one year beyond the all-college language requirement. The exact extent of this requirement, and the language involved, will be part of the plan agreed on by the student and his adviser. As a major of this kind offers students a rich opportunity for contributing to the education of one another, residence in the Center for Coordinated Studies is strongly recommended, although not required.

The advisory committee for the studies in western civilization major encourages students to take advantage of opportunities for off-campus study currently available through the committee on foreign study and student exchange and the committee on special programs. Plans for off-campus study, which include provisions for meeting the requirements for the major, will be accepted in lieu of portions of the requirements below.

Requirements for the major in studies in western civilization:

Eighteen hours from courses listed in and counting toward a major in one of the following disciplines: art, classics, English, history, modern foreign languages, philosophy, religion. Nine of these credit hours must be concentrated in no more than two of the following periods of western culture: Greece, Rome, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, the Enlightenment.

At least six hours in courses in two other disciplines that are in the same period(s) of concentration selected above, and which appear in the list of approved courses below.

Western Civilization 493 and 494. Western Civilization 297, 298, 397, and 398—one-credit coordinating seminars led by instructors who are advisers for the major.
Eight additional credit hours selected from the list of approved courses below.

Courses approved for the major:

Ancient History: †[252] Greek History; *254 Roman History; *352 Athens in the Fifth Century; †[353] Greece in the Fourth Century.

Classics: 133 Myth and Literature; †[232] Greek Tragedy; *234 The Heroic Ideal in Early Greek Poetry.

Greek: all courses listed.

Latin: all courses numbered above 112.

Philosophy: 331 History of Ancient Philosophy; 332 History of Modern Philosophy; *373 History of Medieval Philosophy; 392 Philosophy Seminar.

Division of Physical Education and Athletics

Chairman, Assistant Professor McGee

Associate Professor Bither; Assistant Professors McGee, Covell, Nelson, Hodsdon, Hodges, and Whitmore; Mr. Mukai, Ms. Mitchell, Messrs. Dulac and McConnell.

The department of physical education and athletics offers required physical education classes, intramural sports, intercollegiate athletics (varsity and junior varsity), and informal recreational activities.

Physical Education

Coordinator, Associate Professor Bither

Physical Education 1, 2: one year of physical education is required of all Colby students for graduation. Waivers are available for skilled students who do well in the screening tests in leisure-time sports or who are members of varsity teams.

A program of instruction in a wide variety of activities is offered on a coeducational basis. Activities presently in the program are aquatics: swimming, life saving, water-safety instructors' course, synchronized swimming, recreational swimming, canoeing; leisure-time sports: tennis, golf, squash, skating, figure skating, hockey skills, archery, skiing, cross-country skiing, fencing, bicycling, badminton, riding; dance: modern, folk, ballet; team sports: touch football, basketball, volleyball, softball; other activities: judo, gymnastics, yoga, weight lifting, slimnastics.

Intramurals

Coordinator, Assistant Professor Covell

Programs in intramurals are on a coeducational basis; each student is free to engage in the activities of his choice. Competition is organized in touch football, soccer, basketball, ice hockey, volleyball, skiing, track, squash, swimming, softball, tennis, cross-country, golf, and basketball free-throw. Teams are divided into fraternity and independent divisions, with a point system determining winners of each divisional trophy.

Intercollegiate Athletics

Athletics for men include varsity teams in golf, lacrosse, tennis, skiing, and squash, and both varsity and junior varsity teams in football, soccer, basketball, hockey, and baseball.
Coed varsity teams are in indoor and outdoor track, cross-country, and swimming.

Varsity teams for women are in field hockey, tennis, gymnastics, ice hockey, basketball, skiing, and lacrosse.

The rules that govern intercollegiate sports are those adopted by the athletic conferences in which Colby holds membership. Colby is a member of the New England Small College Athletic Conference, which also includes Amherst, Bates, Bowdoin, Hamilton, Middlebury, Trinity, Tufts, Union, Wesleyan, and Williams. The college is also a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Eastern College Athletic Conference, the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, the Eastern Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women, and the Maine Association for Physical Education and Intercollegiate Athletics for Women.

Division of Special Programs

Recognizing the fact that diverse interests exist in every community, and that even the most technically trained individual has a need to continue his education, Colby College maintains a division of special programs with a full-time director.

Each summer nearly 3,000 individuals from throughout the nation and other countries are on campus for courses and seminars ranging from Great Books to Transactional Analysis. Continuing-education programs in medicine and allied health fields constitute a significant portion of summer activities. Approximately 150 doctors enroll in the 10-week Lancaster Course in Ophthalmology. Three-to-five-day seminars in Oncology, Ophthalmology, Nuclear Medicine, Neurosurgical Techniques, Otolaryngology, Hematology, Forensic Medicine, Pulmonary Diseases, and Surgical Techniques are offered annually.

Colby medical programs are fully accredited by the American Medical Association’s Council on Medical Education. In addition, some of the medical seminars are cosponsored by nationally recognized organizations, such as the American College of Physicians, the American Thoracic Society, the American Society of Hematology, and the American Association of Cancer Education.

There are various other summer programs, including the Estate Planning and Tax Institute, Advanced Audiology, Mental Health Workshops, Church Music, the Maine Methodist Conference, a Cheerleading Clinic, and youth retreats.

During the academic year, the division arranges such annual con ferences as the Colby Institute for Management. Continuing-education programs, adult courses, and Colby telecourses, although not offered every year, are maintained in special programs.

The use of Colby facilities by outside groups is coordinated through the division of special programs, too. This past year, some of the groups holding conferences on campus included the Clean Water Action Committee of the Natural Resources Council, the Maine Humanities Council, the State of Maine Conservation Commissioners, the Maine Council of Teachers of English, the Maine Section of the American Chemical Society, and the Maine State Spelling Bee.

Noncredit courses, for which the continuing-education unit may be earned, are also structured and evaluated through special programs. Information may be obtained by writing to the director, Robert H. Kany.
Courses of Study

KEY TO SYMBOLS AND METHODS OF COURSE DESIGNATION

Each course is known by a title and also, for convenience of reference and ease in record keeping, by subject and number: American Art is also Art 271.

The first digit indicates the class or classes eligible to take the course:
- 100 — open to freshmen;
- 200 — ordinarily open to sophomores, and classes above;
- 300 — ordinarily open only to juniors and seniors;
- 400 — ordinarily restricted to seniors.

The second digit may be:
- zero — either semester of a year course, with credit given only on completion of the two semesters;
- an even number — either member of a pair of closely related semester courses (special permission of the department is required to take the second without the first);
- an odd number — an independent semester course.

The last digit shows the semester in which the course is offered. Courses ending in odd numbers are first-semester (fall) courses, while those ending in even numbers are given in the second semester.

Thus Art 271 may be elected no earlier than the sophomore year (as it is a 200 course); it is an independent one-semester course (shown by the 7, an odd number); and it is given in the first semester (since the final digit is also odd).

The letter d after a course number indicates that the course is repeated each semester. The d followed by the number 1 or 2 is used to designate a course being given out of its usual semester. Geology 313d2 would be an independent semester course for juniors or seniors ordinarily given in the fall but this year being presented in the spring instead.

The letter e after a number indicates an E course, the first of two closely related semester courses. When so designated, a mark of E may be given for the first. E designates provisional failure, but the deficiency may be made up by satisfactory completion of the sequentially related course in the immediately following semester. When thus made up, the first-semester mark is changed to D. An E course finally carries a separate permanent mark for each semester.

A year course (with zero its second digit) may not be dropped at midyear without loss of credit; nor may it be entered except at the beginning of the year. In a year course, the mark at midyear merely indicates the student’s standing at that time. The end-of-year mark is the only finally recorded mark for the course, and no credit is given until that mark is recorded.
Brackets indicate that the course will not be offered in 1976-77.

† A dagger indicates that the course will probably be offered in 1977-78.

* An asterisk indicates that the course will probably not be offered in 1977-78.

A schedule of hours and rooms for courses listed in this catalogue is available at the registrar's office at registration periods.

Courses listed are subject to withdrawal at the discretion of the college administration.

Credit hours shown are per semester unless otherwise noted. Courses listing variable credit are offered basically for the smaller number of credits. Students can earn augmented credit in these courses by completing such extra work as the instructor may specify.

Unless otherwise stated or taken pass/fail, courses carry basic credit.
Administrative Science

221e, 222
Accounting
Mrs. Knight

The underlying theory and analytical aspects of accounting as a control device and tool of management, including an examination of the role of accounting in modern society—its relationship to law, economics, and social policy. Three credit hours.

321, 322
Finance
Mr. Zukowski

An analytically structured approach to decision making in the financial area. Money and capital markets are considered.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222 and Economics 141, 142 or special permission. Three or four credit hours.

341, 342
Advanced Accounting
Mr. Samuel

Advanced study of accounting theory, with stress on analytical, interpretative, and managerial aspects of the subject. Concepts relating to major current accounting questions are examined.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222. Three credit hours.

343, 344
Marketing
Mr. Clarey

Development of the broad concept of marketing as an all-pervasive organizational and societal function, both domestically and internationally.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222 or Economics 141, 142. Three credit hours.

Managerial Economics
Mr. Zukowski

The decision-making process examined in an economic context.

Prerequisite: Administrative Science 221, 222 and Economics 141, 142 or special permission. Three credit hours.

Law
Mr. Clarey

The processes of law that underlie personal and institutional relationships. Four credit hours.

361, 362
Operations Research
Mr. Samuel

The application of the scientific method, with emphasis on the use of mathematical and statistical techniques, to organizational problems to arrive at the "best" or optimal solution.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 113 or 121 or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

411
The Consumer in Society
Mrs. Knight

Consumer behavior is examined within the framework of the financial and social institutions that comprise our complex society. Emphasis is given to those aspects related to financial goals, alternatives, and decisions. Three credit hours.

Astronomy

IN THE DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS AND ASTRONOMY

World Systems

R. Dudley

Major turning points in the history of man's understanding of his world. An examination of the relationships and content of revolutionary changes of thought about motion from Copernicus to Einstein, illustrated primarily by astronomical examples. Occasional laboratory work is designed to illuminate the concepts discussed. Permission of the instructor required for students who have completed Physics 121. Lecture and laboratory. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

31

Descriptive Astronomy

R. Briggs

A study of the universe from a physical point of view, including a discussion of the earth, the solar system, the stars and their evolution, the galaxy and some of the newly-discovered peculiar objects within it (e.g., pulsars, black holes), and cosmology. Three credit hours.

Biology

15, 116

Concepts in Biology

Laff

Primarily designed for students majoring in the social sciences or humanities. Each course examines a few biological concepts in some depth. The relative amounts of time spent in the field, in the laboratory, or in discussion of theory vary according to the topic covered. Satisfies the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

17

Ecology and Field Biology

R. Gilbert

Natural patterns of the New England landscape are studied through field trips to selected habitats. Lectures relate these patterns to various environmental factors. Ecological concepts underlying the philosophy of "spaceship earth" are discussed. Satisfies the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

18

Ecology and Population

R. Gilbert

Population dynamics, topics in evolution, and animal behavior. The human "population bomb" and its ecological consequences are discussed. Does not satisfy the laboratory science distribution requirement. Cannot be counted toward the biology major. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

acteristics. Major plant families and the local flora will be stressed. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121 or 138, and 271 (may be concurrent) or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

The morphology, physiology, and classification of the invertebrates. Lecture and laboratory.

The essential mechanisms of plant functions. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

An introduction to physiological processes, with emphasis on the functional organization of the cell, the cellular environment, membrane exchange mechanisms, excitability, and contractility. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

The structure of cells, tissues, and organs, principally of vertebrates, with aspects of function. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

The biology of bacteria and viruses. The aims of the course are to develop general knowledge in this area and to give practical experience in techniques. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

Comparative studies of the morphology, development, physiology, and significance of algae, fungi, and bryophytes. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

A study of development, with emphasis on the experimental findings that have led to present ideas of the morphological and chemical processes underlying the development and growth of organisms. Lecture and laboratory.
Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

CHORDATE EVOLUTION
Mr. Easton
Origin of vertebrate form through consideration of homologies in extinct and living organisms. Lecture and laboratory.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

SYSTEMATICS
A theoretical view of the taxonomic aspects of biological variation, with emphasis on the processes and mechanisms of variation and evolution at the species level. Research methods will also be considered. Lectures only. Augmented credit of one hour based on a project using one of the avenues of research discussed in class.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272. Three or four credit hours.

ECOLOGICAL THEORY
Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Firmage
Opposing views regarding the regulation of population abundance and the nature of the biotic community; analyses of mathematical models of life tables, population dispersion, and species diversity; perspectives concerning the basis of our environmental crisis. Readings from contemporary sources will be discussed. Lecture only.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Two credit hours.

†[354]
MARINE ECOLOGY
Field and laboratory studies on estuarine and coastal organisms; quantitative sampling methods and analysis of data will be accomplished through group and individual projects that include occasional weekend trips to the coast. Laboratory and discussion.

INLAND ECOLOGY
Mr. Gilbert and Mr. Firmage
Field and laboratory studies on terrestrial and fresh-water organisms; quantitative sampling methods and analysis of data will be accomplished through group and individual projects. Laboratory and discussion.

Prerequisite: Biology 352 (may be taken concurrently). Two credit hours.

ECOLOGICAL FIELD STUDY
Staff
A trip to a south temperate or tropical area during the spring recess. Students must cover travel expenses.

Prerequisite: Biology 352 (may be taken concurrently) or permission of the instructor. One credit hour.
The mechanisms of inheritance, with emphasis on experimental findings. The physical and chemical bases for the behavior of genes in individuals and populations are examined.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Lecture only: three credit hours; lecture and laboratory: four credit hours.

Studies of the manners in which animals of major phyla cope with their functional problems. Both ecological and evolutionary correlations are stressed. Lectures only. Augmented credit of one hour based on the addition of laboratory studies emphasizing the methods of comparative physiology.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

Lectures, discussions, and readings on the functional organization of nervous systems, and on how nervous information is received, coded, stored, and transmitted by living organisms. Augmented credit of one hour based on addition of laboratory work.

Prerequisite: Biology 121, 122, 271, and 272, or permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

An examination of animal behavior from a biological viewpoint. Topics will include the control, development, function, and evolution of behavior. Lectures only. Augmented credit of one hour based on the addition of an independent research problem.

Prerequisite: Two courses in biology and permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

Normally open only to senior biology majors whose work in the department has been of better-than-average quality.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department. One to four credit hours.

Center for Coordinated Studies

Small seminars prearranged for freshmen or developed through student-faculty consultation at upperclass levels to explore topics of interest from the viewpoints of more than one academic discipline. Conducted by two or more members of the faculty. Students are ex-expected to have taken, or to be currently enrolled in, courses in the participating departments. One or two credit hours per seminar.

Chemistry

111 Studies in Environmental Biochemistry
Mr. Maier

A few situations in which polluting and ultimately toxic chemicals intrude upon the proper functioning of biochemical systems will be studied in great detail. Intended for environmental studies majors or as a nonlaboratory course for nonscience majors. Enrollment limited. Three credit hours.

112 Topics in Chemistry
Mr. Smith

Both the philosophical and technological aspects of chemistry are considered in an essentially phenomenological approach. Topics covered include atomic structure, radioactivity, nuclear energy, energy relationships in chemical systems, environmental problems, and industrial applications of chemistry. Intended for environmental studies majors or as a nonlaboratory course for nonscience majors. Three credit hours.

121e, 122 General Chemistry
Mr. Machemer

Fundamental principles, with examples selected from inorganic chemistry; stoichiometry; atomic theory; chemical bonding; thermochemistry; gases, liquids, and solids; solutions; chemical equilibria; electrochemistry; chemistry of certain important elements; radioactivity. Lecture. Three credit hours.

141e, 142 General Chemistry and Elementary Analysis
Mr. Machemer

Lectures and text the same as 121e, 122 but with four hours of discussion-laboratory added. The first-semester laboratory is concerned with gravimetric analysis, the second with volumetric analysis and qualitative analysis. Four credit hours.

221e, 222 Organic Chemistry
Mr. Reid

The chemistry of carbon compounds, aliphatic, aromatic, and heterocyclic, from the point of view of synthesis, structure, properties, and uses. Lecture. Prerequisite: Chemistry 122. Three credit hours.

241e, 242 Organic Chemistry
Mr. Reid

Lecture and text material the same as 221e, 222 but with laboratory sessions added: separations, purifications, syntheses, determination of important properties, elementary analysis. Lecture, discussion, and laboratory. Prerequisite: Chemistry 142. Five credit hours.

| 11 12       | Quantitative Analysis                | A theoretical and practical study of fundamentals of gravimetric and volumetric methods of analysis. Laboratory work emphasizes the acquisition of manipulative skills. Lectures are devoted to principles underlying chemical analysis, literature of analytical chemistry, precision, and sources of error. Lecture and laboratory.
  Prerequisite: Chemistry 142. Four credit hours. |
| 11 342      | Instrumental Analytical Chemistry    | Theoretical and practical instruction in special instrumental methods. Laboratory work involves potentiometric determinations, atomic, ultra-violet, infra-red, and nuclear magnetic resonance studies, polarography, gas chromatography, and radio chemistry. Lecture, discussion, and laboratory.
  Prerequisite: Chemistry 331, 342, and Mathematics 122 (may be taken concurrently with Chemistry 342). Four credit hours. |
| 11          | Physical Chemistry                    | The laws governing the physical and chemical behavior of substances, emphasizing the theories and methods of physical chemistry and the application of physical chemical principles to the solution of problems. Lecture, discussion, and laboratory.
  Prerequisite: Chemistry 331, Mathematics 122 (may be taken concurrently with Chemistry 341), and Physics 122. Five credit hours. |
| 11          | Inorganic Chemistry                   | Current models and concepts of inorganic chemistry, with emphasis on both structural and reaction aspects. Topics include bonding and structure, periodic properties, acid-base theories, nonaqueous solvents, applications of thermodynamics, coordination compounds, and selected areas of descriptive chemistry of current interest. Lecture and discussion.
  Prerequisite: Chemistry 342. Four credit hours. |
| 11          | Qualitative Organic Analysis          | The systematic identification of organic compounds. Lecture and laboratory.
  Prerequisite: Chemistry 332 and 342. Four credit hours. |
| 11          | Advanced Organic Chemistry            | Advanced topics, varied to suit the needs of the students: alicyclics, heterocyclics, natural products, reaction mechanisms, molecular rearrangements. Lecture.
  Prerequisite: Chemistry 242. Two credit hours. |
| 14          | Advanced Physical Chemistry           | Important topics in molecular structure and behavior are discussed from a semirigorous point of view. The material can be varied to suit the needs of the student in areas of elementary quantum me-
Chemistry, symmetry and group theory, molecular spectroscopy, and statistical mechanics. Lecture.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 342. Three credit hours.

| 447, 448 | Biochemistry | Chemical components of living matter and of the major processes of cellular metabolism, including the fundamental chemical characteristics of biological compounds and enzymatic reactions. Biology 121, 122 are recommended as preparation. Lecture.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 242. Four credit hours. |
| MR. MAIER | |

| 467, 468 | Biochemistry | Lecture and text material the same as 447, 448 but with laboratory sessions added.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 242. Five credit hours. |
| MR. MAIER | |

| 491, 492 | Independent Study | Laboratory work of a special (semiresearch) nature may be arranged with the instructor. Three to nine hours per week. One to three credit hours. |
| STAFF | |

| 494 | Seminar in Biochemistry | Reading and discussion of current literature, emphasizing a common theme in an emerging area of biochemistry.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 447 or 467 or permission of the department. Two credit hours. |
| MR. MAIER | |

Classics (IN TRANSLATION)

These courses require no knowledge of Latin or Greek. Attention is called also to courses in ancient history.

| 133 | Myth and Literature | While the plots and characters of Greek literature are from the beginning drawn almost invariably from the realm of Greek mythology, the treatment of mythic material depends on the literary form to which it is adapted and the age for which it is written. Readings will focus on the development of a few well-known myths from the archaic age through the fifth century, and will include Homer’s Odyssey, selections from the lyric poets, Pindar, and Bacchylides, and representative tragedies of Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides. Three or four credit hours. |
| MR. WESTERVELT | |

†[232] | Greek Tragedy | The development of tragedy as a dramatic form and its relationship to the contemporary changes in Athenian democracy. Read | ings will include major plays of Aeschylus, Sophocles, and Euripides, and the parody of tragedy in the Frogs of Aristophanes. Three or four credit hours.

234

The Heroic Ideal in Early Greek Poetry

Instructor

Particular emphasis on Homer's Iliad and the odes of Pindar, with some attention to modifications of the heroic ideal that appear in Attic tragedy. Three or four credit hours.

91, 492

Independent Study

Staff

Individual projects in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. One to three credit hours.

East Asian Languages

In the Department of Modern Foreign Languages

11, 112

Languages and Civilization of East Asia

R. Sherard

Designed to give the student both an appreciation and a practical knowledge of important aspects of East Asian culture. Course material will be eclectic and will cover such topics as Zen, Taoism, history, cuisine, literature, calligraphy, martial arts, family life, etiquette, and language. Students will be expected to master basic practical skills in both spoken and written Chinese and Japanese, plus specialized knowledge in one or more of the above-mentioned topics. The fall semester will focus on Japan, the spring semester on the Asian mainland, primarily China. This course, plus a subsequent full-year course of study in either Chinese or Japanese language and culture, is intended to prepare the student for a year's study in Japan, Hong Kong, or Taiwan.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

13, 214

Japanese Language and Culture

R. Sherard

A continuation of 112 for those students wishing to specialize in Japanese.

Prerequisite: East Asian Languages 112 and permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.

15, 216

Chinese Language and Culture

R. Sherard

A continuation of 112 for those students wishing to specialize in Chinese.

Prerequisite: East Asian Languages 112 and permission of the instructor. Four credit hours.
311
East Asian Linguistics
Mr. Sherard

Linguistic history and structure of the languages of East Asia.

Prerequisite: East Asian Languages 214 or 216, and permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

Classical Written Languages of East Asia
Mr. Sherard

Classical Chinese (wen yan) or Japanese (buno, kanbun), depending on the interests and abilities of the student.

Prerequisite: East Asian Languages 311 and permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

491, 492
Independent Study
Mr. Sherard

Individual projects in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Two to four credit hours.

East Asian Studies

491, 492
Independent Study
Staff

Individual study of special problems in East Asian civilization, offered in the departments which participate in the program.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor and the program director. One to four credit hours.

Economics

141, 142
Principles of Economics
Staff

233
Macroeconomic Theory
Mr. Hanna and Mr. Hagens

Analysis of the theories of national income determination, the factors affecting employment and the price level. The basic Keynesian model will be studied in depth.

Prerequisite: Economics 141, 142. Three credit hours.

234
Microeconomic Theory
Mr. Meehan and Instructor

The theory of the pricing, distribution, and allocation of resources in a market economy. Emphasis will be placed on the various meanings of economic efficiency.

Prerequisite: Economics 141, 142. Three credit hours.

| 311d   | Seminars: Economic Analysis and Policy | The methods of economic analysis studied in Economics 141, 142 will be applied to various matters of current economic policy. Each section will consider different policy problems, examples of which might include the economics of warfare, welfare, the mystique of growth, law and economics, energy problems, economics of transport and location, poverty and discrimination, the economics of education and medicine, and radical economics, including a critique of "orthodox" economic theory and an extensive reading of the current literature in radical economics. A description of the topics offered by section will be available at registration.
Prerequisite: Economics 141, 142. Three credit hours. |
| 313    | Economic Demography | Application of an economic framework to demographic areas of study: fertility, mortality, and migration. Investigation of the interrelations of economics and population in lesser-developed as well as developed countries.
Prerequisite: Economics 141, 142. Three or four credit hours. |
| 331    | Industrial Organization and Antitrust Economics | An examination of the structure, conduct, and performance of American industries to determine if the market process efficiently allocates resources to meet consumer demand. An economic analysis of the antitrust laws and an evaluation of their performances. Reference will be made to specific industries and cases. Formerly listed as Economics 321.
Prerequisite: Economics 141, 142. Three or four credit hours. |
| 332    | Regulated Industries | An examination of specific regulated markets and the rationale for regulation in each. The economic effects of regulation on price, cost of production, and quality of product or service will be explored. The success of regulation will be evaluated relative to the market outcome that would be expected in the absence of regulation. Formerly listed as Economics 322.
Prerequisite: Economics 141, 142. Three or four credit hours. |
| 333    | Economic Development | The developing areas and their prospects for economic betterment. Analysis of the techniques involved and the problems to be encountered in the growth process.
Prerequisite: Economics 141, 142. Three or four credit hours. |
| 334    | Urban and Regional Economics | Analysis of problems of urban resource allocation and regional growth. Topics include the use of space, housing, traffic, the environment, and urban poverty.

- 331 Medieval Literature: Beowulf and other Old English elegiac and heroic poetry, Sir Gawain and the Green Knight, Old and Middle English religious and secular lyrics, and The Canterbury Tales. Three credit hours.
- 332 The Renaissance: The influence of Renaissance and Reformation thought on the literature of the English Renaissance. Readings will be drawn from the intellectual backgrounds, Spenser, selected plays of the early sixteenth century and of Marlowe, Kyd, Shakespeare, Tourner, and Webster. Three credit hours.
- 333 The Seventeenth Century: Poetic and intellectual traditions in the late sixteenth and seventeenth centuries as represented by Shakespeare, Donne, Milton, Dryden, and selected minor poets. Three or four credit hours.
- 334 The Eighteenth Century: Selected works by Pope, Swift, Johnson, Blake, and other poets, essayists, novelists, and dramatists of the century. Three credit hours.
- 335 The Romantic Period: Representative poems of the major romantic poets, with ancillary readings in the novel and the drama designed to explore and test the political, conceptual, and imaginative coherence of romanticism and its relationship to earlier literature. Three or four credit hours.
- 336d1 The Victorian Period: The world of early and mid-Victorian England—roughly 1832-70—and of the poetry, fiction, and nonfiction through which it reflected and interpreted itself. Authors will include Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, Thackeray, Dickens, and Arnold. Three or four credit hours.
- 337 Modern British Literature: The origins, nature, and achievements of the modern movement in England and Ireland. The major authors in 1976-77 will be Yeats, Eliot, and Joyce. Three credit hours.
- 338 Contemporary Poetry: A survey of poetry written in English from 1940 to the present, emphasizing poets who best represent the kinds of poetry of the period—objectivism, projectivism, confessional poetry, the deep image, etc. Three credit hours.
- 339d2 Modern British Fiction: Representative British novels of the twentieth century by such writers as Conrad, Ford, Lawrence, Woolf, Forster, Waugh, Greene, and Lessing. Three or four credit hours.

Introduction to the Study of the Political Order
Staff

An introduction to thought about the art and science of politics and to diverse forms of political action. Each instructor approaches politics in terms of a different problem. A description of the work for each section is available at registration. Students may not study with the same instructor more than one semester. Open to freshmen only. Three credit hours.

35
Imperialism and Nationalism in East Asia
Mr. Kodama

Nineteenth- and twentieth-century international activity in East Asia and the Pacific basin. Particular attention is given to relations between China, Japan, and the United States, and to an understanding of these relationships in terms of the concepts of imperialism and nationalism. Three credit hours.
138
Japan and the United States in East Asia
Mr. Kodama

United States-Japan relations from the Meiji restoration to the present. Emphasis will be on the consequences for Japan of American policies in the Pacific, especially in terms of political reforms designed and implemented by the Allied occupation. Three credit hours.

211
The American System and the Shaping of the Modern Polity
Mr. Mavrinc

A systematic introduction to the ideas, practices, and experiences which shape modern polities, focusing on the evolution of the American system beginning with the constitutional period. Underlying philosophies and operational assumptions of other complex political systems are considered in order to provide perspective. The goal is to strengthen the student's overall model of the American political system and to develop an appreciation of contemporary approaches of political scientists to political phenomena. Particularly intended as an introduction to American political thought, and to serve as a foundation for further work in American government and politics, the political systems of other developed societies, and political theory. Intended for sophomores from a variety of majors, including American studies and government. Four credit hours.

215
Transnational Politics in the Modern World
Mr. Weissberg

The basic actors, theories, and systematic elements of international politics and their relationship in the fluidity of the modern world. Emphasis is placed on the search for a structure of international security, and on such subjects as transnational power politics (including the role both of traditional states and of contemporary nonstate movements), comparative conceptions of diplomacy and war as instruments of goal achievement, and institutions of collective security. Intended both for students planning further study in international relations and for those who will not have other occasion in college to study the shape of the international system. Three credit hours.

231
Contemporary Japanese Politics
Mr. Kodama

A survey of the political process in postwar Japan, with emphasis on some of the major institutions of political life. Three credit hours.

234
European Politics
Mr. Hauss

An introduction to comparative political analysis and to the politics of Great Britain, France, Italy, and the Federal Republic of Germany. Three credit hours.

258
American Government and Politics: The Executive-Legislative Conflict
Mr. Maisel

The relationship between the executive and legislative branches from theoretical and historical perspectives as well as in the light of current discussion, centering around assertions of presidential powers and prerogatives and congressional efforts to exercise effective control over governmental decision making. Beginning in 1976-
77, familiarity with material covered in Government 211 will be assumed. Formerly listed as Government 257. Three or four credit hours.

Asian Revolutionary Movements
Mr. Kodama

An examination of revolutionary political change in India, China, and Vietnam. The social forces making for revolution, the characteristics of revolutionary leadership, and the problems of mobilization and organization in revolutionary struggles. Three credit hours.

314
American Constitutional Law
Mr. Mavrinac

The United States Supreme Court and constitutional litigation as part of the American political process. Four credit hours.

321, 322
Political Theory
Mr. Mavrinac

Some of the principal western approaches to the nature of the political order, with emphasis on the historical delineation of the fundamentals of constitutional theory. Beginning in 1977-78, familiarity with material covered in Government 211 will be assumed. Three credit hours.

332
Political Development
Mr. Kodama

The process of political change and modernization in the Third World. The course will include an introduction to contemporary theories of political development, followed by an examination of the problems of integration, leadership, and stability. Three credit hours.

333
Totalitarian Government and Politics

The ideological framework, organization, operation, and evolution of such political institutions as those of the Communist world, Nazi Germany, and Fascist Italy, with major attention given to the USSR. Three credit hours.

334
Contemporary Forms of Political Analysis
Mr. Hauss

The principal approaches to political analysis used by contemporary political scientists. Particular attention is given to the application of these approaches to the study of comparative political institutions. Government 321 is recommended as a preliminary to this course. Three credit hours.

336
International Organization
Mr. Weissberg

The structure, politics, and current operation of international organizations within the nation-state system, with particular emphasis on the United Nations. Three credit hours.

338 International Law
Mr. Weissberg

The body of rules and principles of behavior that govern states in their relations with each other, as illustrated in cases and texts. Three credit hours.

Modern Foreign Languages

191, 192
Independent Study in Critical Languages

Independent study of a critical language, involving weekly tutorial sessions with a native speaker of the language. Final course evaluation made by resident faculty member or by visiting faculty member from a college or university where the language is taught regularly. In 1975-76 Swahili was offered.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department chairman. Three credit hours.

193, 194
Critical Languages: Second Level

The continued independent study of one of the critical languages as described above. The successful completion of 194 satisfies the college requirement in foreign language. Credit varies depending on level of attainment.

Prerequisite: Modern Foreign Languages 191, 192 and permission of the department chairman. Three or four credit hours.

111
Teaching of Modern Foreign Languages

Problems and methods of teaching modern foreign languages. Readings, discussions, practice work, and criticism. Some attention is also directed to the FLES program. Counts as three hours in education toward the Maine secondary-school-teaching certificate. Conducted in English. Nongraded.

Prerequisite: Two 200-level modern foreign literature courses. Three credit hours.

491, 492
Independent Topics in Modern Foreign Languages

Individual projects in language or literature in which the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department chairman. Two to four credit hours.

Directed practice in conduct of introductory music courses. Open to a limited number of upperclass music majors. Flexible credit. Nongraded.

Prerequisite: Permission of the department. Two credit hours.

APPLIED MUSIC

Private lessons in voice and a variety of instruments are available, with or without academic credit, at additional cost. Students of applied music are invited to participate in the college band, glee club, and symphony orchestra, with or without academic credit; small ensembles are also formed from time to time. For information concerning academic credit, see the statements for Music 191, 192 and 193, 194. In the case of Music 191, 192, a fee of $100 is charged for each semester of instruction in a two-credit course; for a one-credit course the fee is $60. Fees are payable on the semester bill. Students are not charged for membership in musical organizations or small ensembles.

All majors are expected to demonstrate some skill at the keyboard; consult the department. Students not already proficient are urged to remedy this deficiency as soon as possible by enrolling for piano study.

The department reserves some scholarship money to aid talented students of applied music; consult the chairman.

Performing Arts

OFFERED BY THE DEPARTMENTS OF ENGLISH, MUSIC, AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

NINETEENTH-CENTURY PHILOSOPHY

R. REUMAN

Post-Kantian thinkers such as Hegel, Kierkegaard, Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, and Bergson. Special attention to the revolt against reason, evolution, and alienation.

Prerequisite: Philosophy 331 and 332, or permission of the instructor. Three or four credit hours.

PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION

Some of the principal philosophical problems concerning the nature and justification of religious belief and experience, problems such as the nature of God, arguments for the existence of God, the problem of evil, mysticism, and the relation of faith and reason.

Prerequisite: One course in philosophy and one course in religion, or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

HISTORY OF MEDIEVAL PHILOSOPHY

R. THORWALDSEN

History of philosophy from Augustine to Ockham. The principal issue studied is the problem of the reconciliation of faith and reason in the work of the scholastics.

Prerequisite: Philosophy 331. Three or four credit hours.

374

EXISTENTIALISM AND

PHENOMENOLOGY

A survey of the principal thinkers of twentieth-century existential philosophy, with minor attention to phenomenology. Readings will be from some of the following: Heidegger, Sartre, Jaspers, Marcel, Buber, and Merleau-Ponty. Philosophy 359 is a desirable background but is not required.

Prerequisite: Two semester courses in philosophy or permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

PHILOSOPHY SEMINAR

Seminars in selected areas of philosophy. In 1976-77 the topics will be: 392A, "Comparative Social Systems" (Mr. Reuman—enrollment limited); 392B, "Philosophy of Language" (Mr. McArthur). Open to majors and nonmajors.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

DEPENDENT STUDY

Individual projects in areas where the student has demonstrated the interest and competence necessary for independent work.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. One to four credit hours.

Physical Education

An historic survey of the art of dance from its primitive ritual beginnings to its development as an art form in western civilization. The course includes lectures, films, an introduction to basic theory, composition, and movement experience. No dance experience necessary.

Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. Three credit hours.

Prerequisite: Physics 121 or permission of the department, and Mathematics 122 (may be taken concurrently). Open to freshmen with advanced standing in calculus who have had a strong preparation in physics. Four credit hours.

32

ATOMIC AND NUCLEAR PHYSICS
IR. METZ

An intermediate treatment of quantum physics, illustrated by topics in atomic, nuclear, and solid-state physics, and emphasizing the experimental evidence for modern theories of the structure of matter. Lecture and discussion.

Prerequisite: Physics 122 and Mathematics 122. Four credit hours.

ELECTRONICS
STAFF

A semi-independent-study laboratory course in electronic principles, circuits, and instrumentation. Open to the limit of available equipment.

Prerequisite: Physics 122, Mathematics 121, and permission of the department. Two or three credit hours.

ADVANCED MECHANICS
R. DUDLEY

Lagrangian and Hamiltonian dynamics, the dynamics of rigid bodies, and systems with many degrees of freedom. The techniques of linear algebra and of differential equations will be applied. Lecture and discussion.

Prerequisite: Physics 211 and Mathematics 311 (may be taken concurrently). Four credit hours.

21, 322

ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM
R. BRIGGS

Prerequisite: For 321, Physics 122 and Mathematics 221 (may be taken concurrently); for 322, Mathematics 222 (may be taken concurrently). Four credit hours.

42

THERMODYNAMICS
IR. METZ

Concepts of temperature, energy, entropy, heat, and work, and their thermodynamic relations as developed from a microscopic point of view. Single and multicomponent systems are discussed, using both classical and quantum statistics. Lecture and discussion.

Prerequisite: Physics 211, 232, and Mathematics 222 (may be taken concurrently). Four credit hours.
441, 442
Theoretical Physics
Mr. Metz and Mr. Dudley

First semester: an introduction to the mathematical formulations of nonrelativistic quantum mechanics, including Schroedinger wave mechanics, operator algebra, perturbation techniques, and electron spin. Applications to one-dimensional and simple three-dimensional systems are developed. Second semester: a continuation of the first semester, with applications to selected topics in solid-state physics, nuclear physics, and quantum optics, as interests dictate. Lecture.
Prerequisite: Physics 232 and 311 or permission of the department. Three credit hours.

451, 452
Senior Laboratory
Mr. Metz and Mr. Briggs

Experiments drawn from classical and modern physics, with emphasis on precision and experimental technique.

Preparation for Graduate and Professional Schools

The staff of the office of career counseling advise on matters related to graduate study; information on graduate programs is available in the office. They work closely with department chairmen, major advisers, and members of faculty committees to inform students of opportunities for fellowships and scholarships in graduate schools. From this office, students may obtain information on admission tests for prospective applicants to graduate schools of arts and sciences, law, medicine, and business administration.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

Every year, Colby graduates enter many different graduate schools to work toward advanced degrees in art, music, history, classics, English, economics, modern languages, sociology, psychology, philosophy, or the natural sciences. Interested students should confer with the chairmen of their departments and their major advisers.

LAW AND GOVERNMENT SERVICE

The committee on professional preparation for law and government service advises students preparing for careers in these areas. The prelaw student may major in almost any field, but the student who has a specific goal in mind will profit from early consultation with members of the committee. The law-school admission test is given at the college each year.

MEDICINE AND DENTISTRY

Medical schools do not require a particular major but do require high standing and the inclusion of biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, English, and foreign languages in the student’s college program. It is strongly advised that mathematics be pursued at least through the first year of calculus. Organic and general chemistry are required.

The medical-college admission test is ordinarily taken in the spring of the student’s junior year.

Although some dental schools admit applicants after three years, and sometimes after only two years, of college work, the leading schools prefer students with a college degree. Each applicant, regardless of his major, must meet the specific requirements in biology, chemistry, physics, and English, which differ with different dental schools.

The dental-college admission test is ordinarily taken in the spring of the junior or fall of the senior year.

Each interested student should consult a member of the committee on professional preparation for medicine and dentistry early in his freshman year.
ENGINEERING

Colby College and the University of Rochester are affiliated in a joint program whereby a student may acquire an education in the liberal arts and also in engineering in a five-year period, with three years spent at Colby and two at Rochester. On successful completion of the program, the student may be awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree from Colby and a Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree from Rochester.

While at Colby, the engineering student must attain mastery of the necessary mathematics and science to support him in the intensive study of engineering that will follow. In his Colby program, however, he is assured a broad grounding in the humanities and social sciences as well.

Students graduating in this program are exempt from Colby's usual requirement of residence during the senior year.

A member of the physics department serves as adviser to students intending to enter the joint program. He should be consulted early in a student's Colby career to plan for meeting Rochester's requirements.

Another option for the student who wants ultimately to be an engineer but also wants a liberal arts college education is a regular physics or chemistry major at Colby, followed by engineering studies in a graduate school. Members of those departments are prepared to advise students who make this choice.

THEOLOGY

Colby has a long tradition of preparing graduates for the ministry. There are representatives of Colby alumni among the clergy of many denominations, and over the years a considerable number have done missionary work.

The theological preparation committee, in cooperation with the college chaplain, serves as adviser to students who plan to enter seminaries.

Students preparing for the ministry are assisted in attending seminary conferences by grants from the Clarence R. Johnson Conference Fund.

SECONDARY SCHOOL TEACHING

Because education is an eclectic, interdisciplinary study that draws heavily upon philosophy, history, sociology, and psychology, Colby does not offer a major in education per se. Instead, relevant subjects are offered by appropriate departments to enable the student to qualify for regular secondary-school-teacher certification in Maine and most other states in the fields of English, social studies, science, mathematics, Latin, American studies, environmental studies, and commonly taught modern foreign languages. Because certification requirements are in a state of flux, the student must assume the responsibility for obtaining the necessary information and planning a program with the office of education.

Candidates for preschool and elementary teaching, special education, guidance, administration, and special subjects such as art and music may take the sophomore- and junior-level courses only and complete their certification requirements elsewhere.

Students are urged to take all the field experiences open to them in the program.

Graduate programs in the administrative sciences at such schools as Harvard, Chicago, Cornell, the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, and the Amos Tuck School of Dartmouth College continue to attract many Colby College graduates. Interested students should, early in their college careers, seek counsel from members of the department of administrative science. Seniors are urged to take the admissions test for graduate study in business.

Degrees and Honors

The degree of Bachelor of Arts with honors is awarded in three grades: summa cum laude to those who obtain a 3.75 grade point average; magna cum laude to those with a 3.50 grade point average; cum laude to those with a 3.25 grade point average.

A second category of honors, entitled distinction in the major, is awarded to a student on the specific recommendation of the department. To be eligible, the student must have at least an average of 3.25 in the major and recommendation of the major department. The department recommends distinction in the major only for those very few students who, in the opinion of the department, merit special recognition.

In American colleges, it is generally considered that the highest honor an undergraduate can receive is election to Phi Beta Kappa. This society, founded in 1776, restricts its chapters to leading colleges and universities, and maintains high scholastic standards. The Beta Chapter of Maine was organized at Colby in 1895.

Each spring, the college recognizes student achievement with the announcement of various honors and awards. Among those recognized are: members of Phi Beta Kappa; Senior Scholars for the ensuing year; winners of college prizes; and recipients of Phi Beta Kappa certificates, awarded to members of the three lower classes for distinction in scholarship.

Academic excellence is also recognized at a convocation each fall for the Julius Seelye Bixler and Charles A. Dana scholars. Bixler Scholars are the top-ranking students as determined by the academic records of the preceding year. Dana Scholars are selected on the basis of a strong academic performance and potential leadership.

The Dean’s List, recognizing high academic standing, and announced at the conclusion of each semester, includes the name of every student whose average of all marks in the previous semester has been at least 3.2 in a minimum of twelve basic credit hours for upperclassmen, 3.0 in a minimum of twelve basic credit hours for freshmen.

The Research Institute of the Gulf of Maine (TRIGOM)

Colby College is a charter member of The Research Institute of the Gulf of Maine. This is a nonprofit corporation established as a consortium to conduct research and to provide educational and informative services relative to oceanography. TRIGOM carries out projects that involve faculty members and students, as well as the physical facilities of institutional members.

Academic members of TRIGOM, apart from Colby College, are Bates and Bowdoin colleges, Cornell University, Maine Maritime Academy, Nasson College, Southern Maine Vocational Technical Institute, St. Francis College, and the University of Maine at Farmington, at Orono, and at Portland-Gorham.

In recent years a limited-enrollment summer course in applied marine ecology, carrying college credit, has been offered. Information is available from TRIGOM, Box 2320, South Portland, Maine 04106, or from Professor Miriam Bennett, Colby's academic representative to TRIGOM.
WCBB-TV

WCBB-TV, a public television station, is licensed to the Colby-Bates-Bowdoin Educational Telecasting Corporation, formed by the three colleges in 1961. Offices and studios are in Lewiston. At the time of its founding, WCBB-TV was the first educational television station in Maine, the third in New England, and the sixth in the nation.
