

2-1-1855

The Eastern Mail (Vol. 08, No. 29): February 1, 1855

Ephraim Maxham

Daniel Ripley Wing

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.colby.edu/eastern_mail

Part of the Agriculture Commons, American Popular Culture Commons, Journalism Studies Commons, and the United States History Commons

Recommended Citation

Maxham, Ephraim and Wing, Daniel Ripley, "The Eastern Mail (Vol. 08, No. 29): February 1, 1855" (1855). The Eastern Mail (Waterville, Maine). 392.
https://digitalcommons.colby.edu/eastern_mail/392

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Waterville Materials at Digital Commons @ Colby. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Eastern Mail (Waterville, Maine) by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Colby.

THE EASTERN MAIL,
AN INDEPENDENT FAMILY NEWSPAPER,
Published every Thursday by MAXHAM AND WING,
EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS,
At No. 34, Boulevarde, Main Street.
R.F. MAXHAM. DAN'L R. WING.

TERMS.
If paid in advance, of which one month, $1.50 paid within six months, 1.75 paid within the year, 2.00

Most kinds of Country Produce taken in payment.

No paper discontinued until all arrears are paid, except at the option of the publishers.

FACT, FUN, AND FANOK.

REASON ENOUGH.—The Belfast Journal gives a very significant paragraph accounting for the bad condition of a certain boat. It says: "The boat was built for a man who had to own the best watch, the fastest horse, and the nicest furniture; besides 'raining a large and fashionable church; all on a moderate salary.'"

A LUCKY QUESTION.—Two preachers school boys were talking over the top of a celebratory line. "Whatever is it, right?" says Richard. "I don't know," says that Pope is correct. "Of course, and I don't know," says that Pope is correct. "Of course, and I don't know," says that Pope is correct.

MURDERED IN CALIFORNIA.—Stephen B. Robinson of Palmyra, in this State was shot dead in California, last month, by a Mexican with whom he had trouble about a claim they owned together.

THE POST OFFICE IN ANSON. has been re-established, and Ephraim Head, Esq., appointed Post Master.

We are glad to be able to assure our country friends that the small post has disappeared from Anson.

A PATRIOTIC TOAST.—The following is one of the toasts offered at a supper of the friends of Lowell.

THE POTATO ROT.—The cause at last discovered.

DURATION OF VIOLENCE IN AFRICA.—Lord Lindsay states that in the course of his wanderings among the pyramids of Egypt, he stumbled on a mummy, proved by his hieroglyphics to be at least 2000 years of age.

ANECDOTE.—It is often made a subject of complaint that ministers of the Gospel participate in politics.

PHOTOGRAPHY IN COUNTERFEITING.—A correspondent of the Tribune says:

NEW COLLEGE.—The Banner says that a new University College is to be built in Westport, and located at Danbury, Ill.

POZZING.—Wiggins informed us that a person met a boy in the street and said to him, "What do you want?"

OLD AGENT.—John J. Taylor was bang at Galena, last Friday, for the murder of his wife.

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

OLD KENTUCKY.—"Some folks think I was born a poet," said the old Kentucky, "and I should like to see you try to do better than I." "Well, I don't know," said the other, "but I think you are a poet."

Saunders vs. Money.
I once knew a man—in the days of my good friend William Dyer—who occasionally, say ten or a dozen times a day, slipped into the apothecary shop of friend William, for the purpose of extracting from a stone jar, placed on the counter, a pinch of Macaboy's.

Said partner, for meanness or some other cause, never was known to enter the shop like other snuffers, with box and one red in hand, but was always violating all rules of decency and cleanliness by plunging his hand into the jar.

Friend Dyer was not the man to be grudge a fellow a pinch of snuff, yet he was the one who enjoyed a little fun and a harmless joke occasionally. He thought of setting a trap for Snuffee to spring, but waited till the jar was nearly empty that Snuffee (being a short man) had to stand on tip-toe when gathering a pinch.

The right time arrived. William caused a snuff jar to be well cleaned, then filled it about two-thirds full of fine strained flint. On seeing Snuffee approaching, he exchanged jars. Snuffee entered the shop and made for the jar, of course, reared high and plunged deep.

"Oh! thunder!!" was the exclamation of Snuffee, as he drew his arm from the jar, encompassed by three or four pounds of honey. "What are you doing there?" said W. who was, at the time, quite busy at his desk, rumbling over some old papers.

"I've made a mistake!" said Snuffee. "I should think so," said William, examining Snuffee's coat sleeve, which was covered with honey, quite up to the elbow. [In a cross mood.] "Who'll want that honey after you've been puddling about in it?"

"I'll—yes—I'll—yes—I'll pay for the honey, and promise never to take snuff again," said Snuffee. "If you'll not tell,"

Snuffee paid for the honey, but the affair leaked out. As William's extended countenance exhibited to John K., who soon after entered the shop, that something was lodged in

I am told that Snuffee has lodged in but two pipses, since, and those were extracted from a paste-board box, so shallow that the naked eye could penetrate the bottom. [Dem. Clarion.]

KEEP DOWN THE GRASS.—The earliest converts to christianity in Africa were very regular and earnest in their private devotions. They had no closets to go to, but each had his separate spot in the thicket, where they used to pour out their hearts to God.

The several paths to these little hermits became distinctly marked, and when any one of those African Christians began to decline in the ways of God, it was soon manifest to his fellows, and they would kindly remind him of his duty by saying, "Brother, do grass grow on your path?"

"If any heart cares less for the Savior's cause than it used to do, we may be sure the grass is growing on the path to our closet."

PHOTOGRAPHY IN COUNTERFEITING.—A correspondent of the Tribune says: "I have just witnessed some illustrations of the art of Photographic Counterfeiting, which I deem highly important, not only to bank officers, but to the public at large."

Mr. Fontaine, of this city, one of the best daguerrotypists in the world, has recently made several photographic copies of bank notes, which far surpass, in the perfection of their details, anything which has ever been done in the old way of counterfeiting.

When these photographs are carefully taken on the proper bank note paper, they defy detection either by the unaided eye or by microscopic inspection.

One of the photographs, from a $10 bill, was deposited by Mr. S. with other bills, in the Life and Trust Company, and was received without suspicion. He then informed them that there was a bad bill among them; the money was re-inspected, and he was positively assured that it was all good, and requested to point out the defective bill; he did so, and after a general examination by the officers present, the bill was again pronounced good.

Fatal Accident on the K. & P. RAILROAD.
Two Men Killed. On Monday morning last, as the train on the Kennebec & Portland Railroad was leaving Falmouth, on its way to this city, the engine ran off the track, causing the most serious accident that has ever happened on this road since its opening.

The particulars, as we learn them, are as follows: After leaving the Falmouth station, and before the train was under full headway, the engine was thrown from the track by some ice that had formed upon the rails. It ran along for some rods clear of the track, and then plunged over an embankment about forty feet in height, turning completely over in its descent, and burying the engineer and fireman under the ruins.

The baggage car was thrown from the track, receiving but little damage, however, and stood up and down at right angles with the track. None of the passengers were injured. The fireman was found under the locomotive dead, and was probably killed immediately. His chest and the side of his head were crushed in. The engineer lay under the locomotive, the boiler and driving wheel resting upon his body. His head and shoulders were clear of the wreck, and he was in full possession of his faculties, though doubtless fatally injured.

All endeavors to raise the heavy locomotive sufficiently to get him out were fruitless, and the wreck damming up the stream into which it had fallen so that the water rose about him rapidly, those who were trying to release him, after sustaining his head above water as long as possible, were compelled to see him drown before their eyes.

The name of the engineer was Joseph Small. He had a wife in Portland, where his body was carried. The fireman's name was Charles Ames. He was a young man, recently married, and resided in this city.

The engine, John D. Lang, is represented as very much broken up. It was a new machine, and had been on the road but a few weeks.

The blame of this accident we will not attempt to fix upon any one. A coroner's inquest will be held upon the bodies, and from their verdict we shall probably learn the cause of the accident, and to whom, if any one, the fault is to be attributed. This is the second fatal accident that has ever happened on this road.

The first was the running over of a woman at the crossing in Brunswick, for which the road was held blameless. We hope we shall never be called upon to chronicle the third.

ACCIDENT. One of the stage coaches to Pittsburgh was overtaken on Wednesday morning, the 24th, when about five miles from Bangor, by the dog of the braketraining in the railroad track of the Penobscot & Kennebec Railroad, which crosses the road at that point.

The driver Mr. Stephen Seavey, was severely and perhaps fatally injured, and Jonathan Young, Esq., of Bangor, one of the passengers, was somewhat bruised. To-day (Thursday), we hear that Mr. Young is quite comfortable, and is not so severely hurt as at first supposed.

The stage, (a sleigh coach), was going down hill at the time of the accident, and was thrown over with great violence, and the driver was hurled upon a pile of timber near by. He was helped on to the box, and drove the team into Carmel, seven miles, but was so weak when he got there that he had to be lifted from the box. His physicians have not permitted him to sleep or to lie down since. Seavey was esteemed one of the best and most careful drivers in the State, and many who have ridden with him during the short time the stage connection to Pittsburgh has been established, will regret that he has met with so untimely an accident.

FRENCH SPOILIATION BILL.—The passage of this bill by both branches of Congress, cannot but be gratifying to every one who values honor or justice. We do not believe that President Pierce will veto it, and if not, the claimants will be in a way of receiving something at last, although but partial and tardy justice.

POSTSCRIPT.—By a private telegraphic despatch from Boston, through the kindness of Mr. H. K. Ellis, the Telegraphic Operator, we have news of the election of Wilson, to the U. S. Senate, from Massachusetts. The vote is not stated.

A most Wonderful Discovery has recently been made by Dr. Curtis, for the cure of Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, and all Lung Complaints, by medicinal and vegetable means. Dr. Curtis's Remedy, or Inhaler Vapor and Cherry Syrup, has accomplished the most wonderful cures of Asthma and Consumption in the city of New York, and vicinity for the last thirty years. The last discovery, in the production of an inhaler, has been sufficient to evaporate the fluid supplying the lungs, and thus to supply the lungs with a healing and agreeable vapor, passing into all the air cells and passages of the lungs, and thus to be reached by any other medicine.

Markets.
Waterbury Retail Prices.
Flour 10 00
Wheat 10 00
Corn 10 00
Oats 10 00
Beans 10 00
Rice 10 00
Sugar 10 00
Tea 10 00
Coffee 10 00
Spices 10 00
Fruit 10 00
Vegetables 10 00
Meat 10 00
Poultry 10 00
Fish 10 00

LARGEST AND CHEAPEST!

HAVING OPENED OF C. TOZIER, 1870
 Having added a good selection of CLOTHING AND
GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHING GOODS
 To his Stock, invites those wishing to purchase, to give him a call at the old Stand,
OPPOSITE THE WILLIAMS HOUSE.
 And examine for themselves, the Goods, which consist of Over Coats
 MANUFACTURED FROM
 Beaver Cloth, Lion Skin, Cassimere, &c. &c. Pilot Cloth, Doakins.

Vests.
 Velvet, Satin, Silk & Plush; Lining, Mechanic's, Doakins. Good
 Styles and serviceable.
Pantaloons,
 We have a great variety of different Styles and qualities, too numerous to mention.

Furnishing Goods.
 Such as
 GRAYATS, HANDBERHS, COLLARS
 GLAZES, SHIRTS, WAISTS
 DRAWERS, UNDERSHIRTS, ETC.

All of the above Goods which are made up in
THE LATEST STYLE,
 AND IN A WORKMANLIKE MANNER
 Buffalo and Long Bore, Stough Blankets, Horse do,
 Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises, Carpet Bags, Rubber Cases,
 Short Jackets, are for SALE and will be sold at a small advance above the Original Cost:
 The underscriber proposes to have Waterville, these items be required to pay the same by the first of January, and thus save cost.
 O. C. TOZIER

CELEBRATED
SHIRLEY'S FURNITURE
POLISH.

FOR Housekeepers, Furniture Dealers, &c. for sale by Belting.

A NEW article, made from the best of southern Oak Tanned Leather, from 1 to 9 1/2 inches in width, at manufacturers' prices. For sale by DUNN, ELDEN & CO., Agents.

FOR THE CURE OF Liver Complaint
Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism,
Indigestion, Colic, Diarrhoea, Bilious Disorders of the Kidneys and Bladder, Erysipelas and all Diseases of the Skin, Scurvy, Typhoid and Influenza, Fever, Sore Throat, Headache, Stomach Pain, Dropsy, Bruises,
Scurvy, Rashes, Itch, Swellings, Burns, Scalds, Neck and Limbs, Eruptions of the Skin, etc.

the heart, female Complaints, and all Diseases arising from an Impure state of the Blood.

These Invaluable Pills have been used with unparalleled success in private practice, and in the most severe cases, and are now offered to the public, with the fullest conviction that they will prove themselves a public benefit.

They possess the power of purging the depravate organs throughout the body to a healthy action, thus assisting nature to subvert disease after their own manner. Prepared only by

1246 D TAYLOR, JR., & Co., 25 Hanover st., Boston

Dunn, Elden & Co.,
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in BAR, IRON, AND STEEL,
of all descriptions, also,
Amalgam Vases, &c.

UNITED STATES
Life Insurance, Annuity and Trust Company
 OF PENNSYLVANIA.
CAPITAL, $50,000 DOLLARS.
 CASH PAYMENTS EXCLUSIVELY.
 NO PREMIUM NOTES, AND NO ASSESSMENTS.
 STEPHEN R. CRAWFORD, Pres't.
 CHARLES C. LILLY, Sec'y. PLINT FISK, Actuary.
 Local Board of Reference.—Messrs. Enoch Train & Co.
 J. C. Howe & Co. of New York; J. C. Wash, Callender
 & Co., J. B. GILMAN & Co., George H. Gray & Co.

[illegible]

INVESTORS AND SOLE MANUFACTURERS OF
LEVER SPRINGS FOR CARRIAGES
 (Patent applied for.)
 OUR SPRINGS weigh but half as much as the common Springs
 The bearings on the sill are much better. They are adapted to heavy or light loads, are easily applied to all sizes and kinds of carriages, and the larger sizes are much cheaper.
 There are two or three hundred sales to make in the year, which we confidently refer all who wish to examine. Every letter is answered, and the largest share of the trade is secured.
 Attention to the most accommodating terms. For sales price we desire generally.
 PRESLEY, FARMAN & CO.
 WASHINGTON, D. C.
 Feb. 16, 1858. 311

[illegible]

separate the impurities from blood. This Wine and Pills never cost any more, but give strength and animation to both body and mind. It is a medicine of the most delicate and agreeable nature, and is so well adapted to the constitution of the sick and afflicted have induced thousands to commend them to their friends and the public. Individuals of the highest intelligence have voluntarily testified to the world in favor of their extraordinary virtues.

DR. J. A. STANLEY.

A celebrated physician, in a letter from Princeton, New Jersey, dated November 10, 1856, says: "I have used the Wine and Pills for many years, and have never seen anything to compare with it. All the physicians in this country, and in Europe, have used it, and Pills, at the same time relating several cases of constitutional disease, and the various diseases which it cured in an incredible short time. Among the most remarkable cases, I mention New York, who have witnessed the great results of the Purge. I have used the Wine and Pills in numerous cases of the most violent, and the celebrated Dr. J. A. Stanley, will be found the

Dr. Wm. Brown, Dr. Martin, Jr., J. M. Morrill & others.
TESTIMONY.
 Of Sir John Bland, a highly respectable citizen of Waverly Place, New York:
 Dr. G. W. HALSEY—Dear Sir, I esteem the Power With which the King of Medicine has Done for me in five weeks what three months of the most skillful Physicians would have been unable to do for me. I have been afflicted with the violent of the Heart, Disease and Nervous affections which have been growing on me ever since, until I procured your medicine and used it for a few days. I have now paid you $100 dollars for medical attendance. During the last two years I was obliged to keep my house nearly all the time and gave up all my business. I have now, I thank God, I have now all hopes of recovery, my complaint was of that class under which "nature sinks and it becomes a burden." Seeing that I have been cured of my complaint, I have no objection before finishing the third bottle I felt like a different person.

and was able to resume business again, entirely cured by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He is now perfectly satisfied with his complaints you are at liberty to publish this.

Yours, etc, JOHNSON BULK, Waverly Place, N. Y.

TO THE LADIES.

True beauty and health are inseparably the highest perfection of health, which again invariably follows the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. What artificial appliances equal that vivid expression of color which animates from health? What wants can compare with the brilliant complexion which these pills impart? The sense here through the transparent texture of the skin? What color more captivating than that of those of nature. In her perfect condition, the complexion is the most beautiful of all. The use of this excellent "Woman's health" time restores, rich blood, which nourishes through the veins, penetrates the pores of the skin, and gives it a healthy, glowing appearance, causing all unhealthy humors etc. to disappear, imparting a

Dr. G. W. HALEY, my father from his infancy, was born in a very defective health, soon pining frequently at work, and in the day of his death, he was so weak, that he could not get much more than 700 lbs. of weight, and he was unable to get along with my medicines, she had not been able to get out of bed for some time, and she was greatly emaciated, and very weak. Her face and limbs were greatly wasted, and she pined, and very much runken, and her cough farther increased, and she every appearance of soon becoming an invalid, by virtue of some of the medicines, which she had taken for some of your Forest Vile and Pills, which she commenced to followed up the use of them. His general appearance of (recently) was an uncommonly good appetite, his face finally became clear and his cheeks rosy. His strength had been altogether restored. She also had been cured of her chronic rheumatism and was in a state of health I never witnessed.

JOHN S. MAXWELL

Dr. Halsey's Gum-Coated Forest Pills.

Prescribed on the same principle as the Green Wine, it is which is the only medicine that will cure the Green Wine Gum Gravel, an important invasion, for which Dr. Halsey has received the only testimonials granted on Pills by the Government of the United States.

Dr. Halsey's Forest Wine and Gum-Coated Forest Pills, sold in accomplishing the same great end, Xun Francisco to the United States Government, and to the Government of the United States.

The life principle of man is in the blood, he suffers from the er-

[illegible]