9-21-1890

Violet Paget (Venice, Italy) to Matilda Paget (Florence, Italy)

Vernon Lee (Violet Paget)

Matilda Paget

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.colby.edu/letters_home

Recommended Citation
Lee, Vernon (Violet Paget) and Paget, Matilda, "Violet Paget (Venice, Italy) to Matilda Paget (Florence, Italy)" (1890). Vernon Lee: Letters Home. 479. http://digitalcommons.colby.edu/letters_home/479
La Calina Florence 27 21 Sept Zalute Venice Sunday

Dearest Mamma — I am immensely surprised to hear morning your very kind present. I fear that What I said about the scenery of the Restaurant at St. Mark's, may have made you think we were either dancing
or getting ruined, but that my misfortune have
distressed myself of me,
can really pass far
money apart from you

Palmerino (Maiano)
ability (otherwise you must at most 1/2 an [lat] day) accept or with gratitude and respect.

With much
love to stay another week in Venice, which I want to do greatly,
partly because Maria
P. won’t be at Innsbruck with Dec. 15, partly because the winter
are don’t me so much good; partly also Because, so far as R. is concerned, his past week has been utterly wasted. I can't conceive what has caused it, for the heart, S. did not seem to hurt hers. But ever since we went up into the cold she has been getting ill. The woman has become quite weak. She is now quite thin. Her White, etc., has not returned to nothing, and complains of constant weariness of the head. She has no shawl on. She is out of all store, but has not an fit of nausea, pain on improving in Bologna, I was actually swallowed eyes, all with extreme pain.

She says at times when she's in too inspiring above. But now she has got a very bad throat.

Jack Prin: I am very much alarmed, as her eldest brother, who more resembles so much
died of consumption.

This account to him, has been treated lightly,
and she herself was Palmerino (Maiano)
Florence

Supposed to be going there way
When a young girl.

Unfortunately she is too far to take care of, which might do her good. I ply her with Guinantea. Vino amato.

We have found a cheap restaurant tell us at the following rate,

Very cheap considering we have no bedrooms 1 alarge

 Argentine a Terraza.
A day for 2 persons for lodging & service 5 liras Breakfast candle, oil
1  fiera  boat
Dinner luneh

or 7 a head. My lido 14 litar Cost 2 pence including journey, swimming.
Upon I believe I
should learn quickly,
if only I had more muscle in my legs. As it is, I can barely
keep up any movement
for more than a minute or two. I find that Ane Turton really taught me a lot at that tank
of theirs.
Where my car win a prize! except from the station. I wish Schuster, to I don't count the pence being over the canal.
But this evening, in honour of your munificence, we will have a real row,
as people have a drink.
With love.
Yours
W.C.
Paris Paget
D. Palmerino
Firenze per Mariano